Recommendations of the Legislative Commission on Recodification to the General Assembly of North Carolina

The undersigned members of the Legislative Commission on Recodification, appointed by Joint Resolution No. 33 of the General Assembly of 1941, respectfully make herewith their report and recommendations to the General Assembly of 1943:

Shortly after the adjournment of the 1941 Session of the General Assembly, the members of the Commission met at the office of the Attorney General and organized by electing F. E. Wallace as Chairman. The Commission has worked in close cooperation with the Attorney General and the Division of Legislative Drafting and Codification of Statutes of the Department of Justice. At the first and subsequent meetings of the Commission, full and detailed consideration was given to the problems presented in the recodification work and to the means which should be employed to meet those problems.

The initial task of the Commission was the consideration and approval of a contract with a publisher for the publication of a legislative edition of the code. It was clear that the recodification work could not adequately be presented to the General Assembly without the publication of a legislative edition in accordance with the practice followed with respect to prior North Carolina codes. After a consideration of the elements of cost involved and of estimates by other publishers, it appeared to the Commission that the proposed contract with The Michie Company was fair and reasonable and to the best interest of the State and it was therefore approved.

The Commission then gave careful attention to the plan for the final code. Questions of methods of the legal work of revision, number of volumes, size, type, paper, chapter arrangement, annotations, numbering system and index were considered in detail and approved by the Commission. The use of type of the same size used in the current Michie's unofficial code is necessitated by the limitations of the legislative act authorizing the recodification. Special attention was given to the methods of meeting the need for an effective index and it is believed that the index of the final code will be found satisfactory. A detailed explanation of the methods of work, the arrangement and the mechanical features of the new code, and the reasons for many of the decisions reached may be found in the preface to this edition.

The text of all the statutes contained in the legislative edition together with the explanatory statements prepared by the Codification Division have been submitted to the Commission. The statutes and the work thereon have been examined and studied by the Commission. After the making of various changes and suggestions, the work reached its present form and is found by the Commission to be a true and correct statement of the general and public statutes of this State.

The Commission, therefore, recommends that the statutes embodied in this legislative edition of the proposed code be adopted as the official code of North Carolina, and that the session laws of a general and public nature enacted by the General Assembly of 1943 be codified and included in the first edition of the official code to be printed under the agreement with the publisher as soon as possible after the adjournment of the 1943 Session of the General Assembly.

Preface

The Act of the General Assembly creating the North Carolina Department of Justice, Ch. 315, P. L. 1939, authorized the Attorney General to set up therein a division to be designated as the Division of Legislative Drafting and Codification of Statutes.

This Division was assigned two principal duties by the statute: (1) to prepare bills to be presented to the General Assembly at the request of the Governor, state officials and departments, and members of the General Assembly, and to advise and assist counties, cities and towns in drafting legislation to be submitted to the General Assembly; (2) to supervise the recodification of the general public statutes and to keep such recodification current.

With respect to the latter duty, the General Assembly authorized the division "to make an arrangement with any publisher or publishers for doing the necessary editorial work and publication of the recodification, annotation, appendixes thereto, and indexing of such recodification of the Statute Law of North Carolina and all Acts of the General Assembly thereafter passed, which arrangement will provide that all of such work shall be done by such publisher or publishers without cost to the State, but shall be done under the supervision and direction of the said division and subject to the final approval and acceptance by the General Assembly of North Carolina by such laws as may hereafter be passed with respect thereto, and if such recodification is adopted by the General Assembly, the same may be adopted and given such legal effect and legal status and character as may be determined and fixed by the General Assembly."

This division was set up on July 1, 1939, with W. J. Adams, Jr., as the director of the staff employed to carry on the work.

At the request of the Attorney General, Honorable Kingsland Van Winkle, President of the North Carolina Bar Association, and Honorable Fred S. Hutchins, President of the North Carolina State Bar, appointed a committee of able lawyers to assist in planning the new code. For the North Carolina Bar Association the following were named: Bennett H. Perry, Henderson; H. G. Hedrick, Durham; H. Gardner Hudson, Winston-Salem; Clifford Frazier, Greensboro; and Bryan Grimes, Washington. For the North Carolina State Bar the following were named: C. W. Tillett, Charlotte; Jack Joyner, Statesville; H. J. Hatcher, Morganton; Frank E. Winslow, Rocky Mount; and William T. Joyner, Raleigh.

At the request of the Attorney General, the following named persons also served as a part of this committee: Honorable A. A. F. Seawell, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; Dean M. T. Van Hecke, of the University Law School; Dean H. C. Horack, of the Duke University Law School; Dean Dale F. Stansbury, of the Wake Forest Law School; and Dillard S. Gardner, Raleigh, Supreme Court Marshal and Librarian.

Full acknowledgment is made of the valuable assistance given by this strong committee in making out the plans for the new code. The members of this committee very generously responded to the call for this service giving a great deal of their valuable time to it without compensation or even reimbursement for their travel expenses.

The General Assembly of 1941 (Public Laws, Chapter 35) authorized the preparation and printing of this Legislative Edition of the proposed code to be submitted to the General Assembly of 1943. This Act provided, in part, "Such legislative edition shall set forth all the general public laws of North Carolina found by the division to be intended to be in effect, together with any supplemental or implementing legislation recommended by the division as essential to make a complete and clear statement of said laws, in such form and with such arrangement, numbering system, etc., as said division shall determine. . . ."

The General Assembly of 1941 also adopted Joint Resolution No. 33, providing for a Commission on Recodification to cooperate with the Attorney General and the Division of Legislative Drafting and Codification of Statutes, naming on this Commission the following persons:

Representatives F. E. Wallace, J. A. Pritchett, Hubert C. Jarvis, Irving Carlyle, Rupert T. Pickens, Julian R. Allsbrook, J. Q. LeGrand, O. L. Richardson, Arch T. Allen, John Kerr, Jr., George R. Uzzell, W. Frank Taylor, S. O. Worthington, J. T. Pritchett, Forrest A. Pollard, and T. E. Story; Senators Jeff D. Johnson, Jr., E. T. Sanders, J. C. Pittman, Wade B. Matheny, John W. Wallace, John D. Larkins, Jr., Thomas J. Gold, Archie C. Gay, Herbert Leary, and Hugh G. Horton.

The Commission organized shortly after the adjournment of the Legislature and elected Mr. F. E. Wallace as Chairman.

The members of this Commission have cooperated to the fullest possible extent in the manner provided by the Statute. Every chapter and every section of the new code has been checked and approved by the Commission. This has involved an enormous amount of work as must be evident. The cooperation and approval of this Commission affords assurance that the work has been properly done and errors reduced to a minimum.

Plans for the Publication of the Official Code

It is proposed that the official code will be published in four volumes. A one-volume work is no longer practicable because of the increase in the volume of legislation, the great increase in the size of the index, the use of much heavier paper, the inclusion of frontal tables, and the addition of supplemental material, such as State Bar regulations, etc., and additional comparative tables translating section numbers of prior codes to the new code numbers.

The type of the statutes and annotations will be the same size as that of the publisher's 1939 code. Since no money was appropriated for the publication, the publisher's offer was based on a use of its standing type. The index type will be eight point. Fifty pound paper will be used instead of the thirty pound paper used in the publisher's 1939 code. The code will be bound in a durable keratol binding.

The code will be kept current for at least six years by pocket supplements. Annotation supplements will be issued at intervals of six months.

Volume and Chapter Arrangement of Final Code

The arrangement of chapters in the proposed code has proceeded on the basis that such code will in its final form, together with annotations and other supplementary materials, be printed in four volumes. Once the idea of a one-volume final code was abandoned it became necessary to devise a new classification and arrangement of statutes since a purely alphabetical arrangement of chapters would be most inconvenient in that all too frequently it would be necessary to resort to all volumes in order to consult several related sections appearing in different chapters. Therefore, an effort was made to group related chapters in larger "divisions" and to place related divisions together in each volume. At the same time it was necessary to maintain a balance so that all four volumes will be as nearly uniform in size as is conveniently possible. Within each division the chapters are arranged alphabetically. Under present plans Volume I will contain the Chapters on Civil Procedure, Courts, and related matters, Motor Vehicles, and Commercial Laws. Volume II will contain the divisions relating to Decedents' Estates, Real and Personal Property, Domestic Relations, Corporations and Associations, Regulations in the Exercise of the Police Power, Occupations, Employer and Employee, Taxation and a few miscellaneous chapters. Volume III will consist exclusively of divisions containing the chapters relating to State Government and Agencies, County and City Government, and Election Laws. Volume IV will contain the index, appendixes, and other supplementary materials. The Legislative Commission on Recodification has approved this chapter arrangement.

The space required for printing the index will be much greater than that used for this purpose at present because (1) the index is being expanded considerably as to number of titles and index lines; (2) the size of the type in which it is to be printed will be increased from 6-point to 8-point; and (3) it will be printed two columns to the page instead of three.

Numbering System

The enactment of thousands of new laws since adoption of the Consolidated Statutes of 1919 made it necessary to change the section numbers in the new code unless the present very unsatisfactory plan used in the unofficial code is to be perpetuated.

The choice of a satisfactory numbering system for the new code was carefully studied. The following systems were considered: (1) a decimal numbering system, (2) a purely consecutive numbering system, and (3) a modified form of the consecutive numbering system. It was thought that the decimal system of numbering, although in use in the newer codes, would cause entirely too much confusion, outweighing any theoretical advantage with respect to unlimited expansion. On the other hand, consecutive numbering throughout from section one to the end of the code, as practiced in many older codes, would be open to the objection that it is cumbersome and permits of no addition of new sections without immediately introducing variations in the numbering scheme, resulting ultimately in such a number as "6055(a27½)" or "7880(156)uuu," appearing in the present unofficial code.

It was finally decided that a modified form of consecutive numbering would be the most satisfactory system to adopt, and such a system was approved by the Legislative Commission on Recodification. This system consists of: (1) numbering the chapters of the code consecutively, (2) using the chapter number as the first part of each code section number, and (3) numbering the sections in each chapter consecutively from "one" on through the end of the chapter. The code section number consists of the chapter number, a dash, and the number of the section in the chapter. Thus, the sections in Chapter One are numbered "1-1, 1-2, 1-3, 1-4, etc.;" the sections in Chapter Two are numbered "2-1, 2-2, 2-3, 2-4, etc.;" the sections in Chapter Three, "3-1, 3-2, 3-3, 3-4, etc." To illustrate further, Section 27 of Chapter Nine will be "9-27." This system will have two advantages. New sections may be added indefinitely at the end of each chapter without necessitating subnumbering and disturbing the numbering system. This numbering system will readily permit the insertions of new chapters with a minimum of inconvenience and confusion in the numbering of the new sections. The old Consolidated Statutes section number has been carried forward in the section history as has been the practice heretofore in placing prior official code references in section histories. Comparative tables translating the Consolidated Statutes and Michie Code section numbers to the new code numbers are being included in an appendix.

Method of Work

Chapter 35 of the Public Laws of 1941 directed that in the Legislative Edition there should be incorporated such changes as were desirable for codification purposes without changing the substance or effect of any law. Resolution 33 of the 1941 General Assembly in creating the Commission on Recodification referred to above provided that ". . . the commission shall review and examine the recodification work and consult with and advise the Attorney General and the Division in the revision of the statutes. . . ."

The Division has worked closely with the Legislative Commission and every matter of policy such as the terms of the contract for the Legislative Edition, the chapter arrangement of the code, the numbering system, as well as every change made in any section for the Legislative Edition, has been approved by the Commission.

Certain changes which could not possibly affect the meaning of the statutes have been made without making detailed explanations, such as: (1) conforming the proof to the Consolidated Statutes or to session laws appearing since; (2) correcting section histories; (3) improving section catch-lines so that they will more accurately indicate the contents of the sections; (4) correcting spelling and faulty punctuation; and, (5) making purely formal changes for recodification purposes such as changing "act" to "section" or to specifically inclusive sections or to "article" or "chapter" as might be appropriate under the different circumstances.

Explanatory Reports

Any changes in any law beyond those of the purely formal nature described above are carefully explained in a detailed section-by-section report. Even in this field no change has been made which it is thought would change existing law, but only such changes have been made as were necessary to set forth the laws "found by the Division to be intended to be in effect, together with any supplemental or implementing legislation . . . essential to make a complete and clear statement of said laws . . ." These changes are illustrated in some detail below. There are no hidden or buried changes. Every alteration is spotlighted with an explanation calling attention to the specific change made and setting forth the reasons for it. In view of the length and great number of these explanations it has not been feasible to print them but several copies will be available for consideration by all interested persons: one set will be placed at the disposal of the House, one at the disposal of the Senate and a third will be on file in the Attorney General's office. This will afford an opportunity to any interested person to study each change in such detail as he may choose.

These changes which are accompanied by explanatory remarks consist of those made:

(1) To modernize references.

To illustrate: There are frequently references in the Code to "the preceding section." But since the enactment of the original section a new section has been inserted between the section containing the reference and the section to which reference is made, thus rendering the reference inaccurate. Such a reference is corrected to refer to the proper section (e. g., Section 427 where the correct reference therein is Section 425 instead of "the preceding section").

(2) To correct improper wording resulting from clerical errors or inadvertence.

To illustrate: "Affected" is often used when "effected" is obviously intended, and vice-versa. Such wording is corrected. To illustrate further, in Section 7150, second paragraph, line five, the word "pilotage" is used when "postage" was obviously intended. Here, the correct word is substituted.

(3) To delete statutes expressly repealed.

(4) To delete superseded statutes.

(5) To delete statutes having only a temporary usefulness, and being without prospective significance.

To illustrate: Section 4269(a) providing for certain types of refunds by the Governor and Council of State directs that the power granted therein to make such refunds shall not be exercised after July 1, 1927.

(6) To delete statutes unconstitutional under the decisions of the North Carolina Supreme Court.

To illustrate: Section 218(v) purports to authorize depositors in banks in certain enumerated counties to assign their claims to debtors of the banks and to permit such debtors to set off such assigned claims against the debts owed by them to the banks. This statute was held unconstitutional in Edgerton v. Hood, 205 N. C. 816.

(7) To delete statutes unconstitutional under the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

To illustrate: The Alien Registration Act, Sections 193(a)-193(h), required aliens to register with the Clerk of the Superior Court of the counties where they resided. Under the decision of Hines v. Davidowitz, 312 U. S. 52 (1940) such a statute is clearly unenforceable.

(8) To incorporate in the Code hitherto uncodified statutes which should be codified.

To illustrate: Chapter 155 of the Public Laws of 1925, the "World War Veterans Loan Act of 1925" is being codified as an article in the chapter dealing with State Departments, Institutions and Commissions.

(9) To restore to the Code in proper form statutes erroneously deleted.

To illustrate: Section 3891 prescribed solicitors' fees. Chapter 157 of the Public Laws of 1923 placed solicitors on a salary basis exclusively. Section 3891 subsequently was deleted from the code. This was erroneous in that the same Chapter 157 of the Public Laws of 1923 did not abolish the solicitors' fees but merely diverted them, with certain exceptions, to certain county purposes. Therefore, the section should be restored to furnish the list of fees and to indicate proper application.

(10) To redraft sections to eliminate obsolete or superseded provisions in the sections.

(11) To redraft a section where imperfect expression and ungrammatical construction render sections or portions of sections awkward although there is no ambiguity and the meaning intended can be perceived.

(12) To redraft and consolidate related sections or parts of sections dealing with the same aspects of the same subjects.

To illustrate: Sections 1112(n) and 1112(z), both relating to the adoption and use of a seal by the Utilities Commission, have been combined into a single section.

In codifying the statutes it was necessary to determine what disposition should be made of certain standard provisions or parts of statutes. After a study of codes of other states and other research the following policies were adopted:

(1) Preambles, enacting clauses, repeal provisions and "taking effect" provisions are not codified.

(2) Clauses purporting to exempt pending litigation from the operation of the law are not codified. Their presence in many cases needlessly pads the statutes, and they have no proper function in a permanent code. Their omission from the code will not effect their repeal.

(3) Constitutionality, partial invalidity, or separability clauses, which have become increasingly popular in the enactment of session laws in recent years, have not been codified. It is believed that such provisions serve no useful function inasmuch as the presence of such a provision would be unlikely to preserve any portion of an act held unconstitutional in part which would not remain valid even in the absence of such a provision. The omission of such construction sections does not effect their repeal.

(4) Validating acts, which by reason of the date of validation or the nature of the validating act have in some instances been deleted as obsolete and having no place in a permanent code.

(5) Many state bond acts are not codified. The sections authorizing a specific issue of bonds or notes for specific purposes provide in what amount the bonds or notes shall be issued when they shall mature, the rate of interest they shall bear, and denomination, and the machinery in general for their disposition. Statutes authorizing the specific issuance of bonds or notes, only rarely referred to, soon become obsolete for all practical purposes, and their limited use does not justify the space required to set them out in full in the code. Instead, a synopsis of the purpose for which the bonds or notes are to be issued, together with the citation to the Consolidated Statutes (when the acts appeared therein) and the session laws will be inserted at the end of the appropriate sections. This will afford a convenient reference to these acts. Bond sections have also been noted in this fashion in the Chapters, State Debt and Roads and Highways. The status of the state bond laws will not be changed by reason of their omission from the code. A saving clause in the sections dealing with the effect of the adoption of the new code will save these bond sections from repeal.

Local Laws

The recodification has been made of the "general public statutes." North Carolina has enacted a great volume of private, special and local legislation. Prior codifications have included many local laws for convenience or to fill some gap in the general laws. However, with the great increase in the volume and complexity of legislation it was clearly apparent that to continue to include in the code statutes which are essentially local in nature (except for necessary exceptions) would result in an over-bulky code and greatly complicate the search of the general laws.

The last official revision of the statutes was that embodied in the two volumes of the Consolidated Statutes of 1919, as brought forward by the third volume in 1924. Thus the basis for the present work is that revision and subsequent public session laws. The inclusion of a law in the "public laws" volume of the session laws is, of course, not controlling on the question of whether the statute is public or private, general or special, as regards a constitutional limitation, but for purposes of codification the statutes set forth in the "public laws" volumes form the basis of the work.

The immediate task of examining the statutes in the "public laws" volumes alone involved a review of more than 4,500 statutes which have been enacted since 1919. These statutes, when added to laws appearing in the Consolidated Statutes, presented a total in the neighborhood of 14,000 sections that had to be studied.

In many instances public-local laws have altered or suspended for particular communities the operation of the general statutes. The question of the treatment of local legislation was one of the most vexing problems encountered in the work of recodification and seems to be more serious in North Carolina than in most of the states. It is impossible to reflect all local variations of the law in a general code.

It was necessary to make a decision as to which statutes should be codified. It was finally decided that any statute or portion of a statute which did not affect at least 10 or more counties would not be placed in the code. All portions of statutes or direct amendments to statutes affecting 9 counties or less have merely been cited in the first annotation paragraph following the statute and entitled "Local Modification". Under this heading the affected counties together with the appropriate session law or Consolidated Statutes citation have been listed alphabetically without any attempt to summarize the provisions of the local laws modifying the general law. It was believed that any attempt to analyze the exact effect of particular local provisions would often be not only misleading but inaccurate in the absence of a comprehensive study of all the vast body of local legislation appearing in the Public-Local and Private Law volumes since many, in fact the vast majority of local laws, do alter the general law without making direct references.

Annotations

Although annotations form no part of the revised code as such and require no legislative action, nevertheless, it seems not inappropriate to describe the nature of the revision of the annotations which is being prepared for inclusion in the new four-volume code.

The editorial staff of the publisher has made a preliminary revision of the annotations based on a check of the following sources, which revision is in turn being examined and improved by the Codification Division:

(1) Shepard's Citators for cases citing specific statutes; (2) the annotations of the Consolidated Statutes of 1919; (3) the annotations in Pell's Revisal of 1908 for earlier cases; and, (4) the North Carolina Law Review.

References to standard treatises are also planned; and many cross references are being made to link related statutes.

The material thus gathered must be assorted, classified, weighed and edited. An effort has been made to avoid annotations which are not helpful to a present understanding of the statutes. It is believed that the proper function of code annotations is to illuminate the statutes, and that the annotations should not take the scope of a general digest of case law.

Index

Although practically all work has been completed on the index, it was impossible to print the index in the Legislative Edition in that it is contemplated that the 1943 session laws will be incorporated in the code as finally printed which will, of course, necessitate weaving into the index full index references to the 1943 laws. However, a few sample pages are being printed to indicate the form, style, size of type, etc., in which the index will eventually appear.

The index type will be increased from six point to eight point. There will be a two-column page. Deeper indentations will be made for the secondary indented index lines in order to clarify the relation of the references.

The demand for a satisfactory index is widespread and urgent. Before entering upon the indexing work, helpful reference works were sought in vain. It became necessary to rely largely on the experience gained by law publishers, on a study of other indexes, and on the experience of the staff as the work progressed. A few fundamentals soon became clear. Indexing is not an exact science, and code indexing is particularly intricate. An index must be constructed not by a mere mechanical listing of definite titles, but by a collection of ideas logically associated with the statutes, and since individuals do not uniformly share the same ideas, the effectiveness with which any given point is indexed will vary. The work is extremely technical and calls for a high degree of imagination and a retentive memory. An easy pitfall is to index part of a subject in one place and part in another. Consistency is a prime goal. It is not practicable to follow the frequently offered suggestion to dispense with cross references and reprint all the material wherever there is a reference to any part of it. Such an index would run into many volumes.

The index is constructed from a careful section-by-section reading of the statutes. As each statute was studied, indexing ideas were written down. These were passed along to the member of the staff who specialized in the indexing work. After supplementing the list with his own ideas, he referred to a card file prepared by the publisher which showed in detail how each section in the publisher's 1939 code is indexed. By comparing the list of ideas prepared by the staff with the indexing of the 1939 code, the accuracy and effectiveness of the present indexing was weighed and rounded out wherever necessary by the addition of other references.

An effort is being made to make the index as effective as possible for use in North Carolina. Such references as "Martin Act" and "Connor Act" are being added.

A great deal of attention has been devoted to the index in a section-by-section analysis, designed (1) to delete inapplicable index references, (2) to correct inaccurate index references, and (3) to add new index references where sections or portions of sections are found to be indexed inadequately or not at all. At the same time, index lines are being repeated as often as the limitations of space and utility permit to the end that "Cross References" or "See" references may be reduced to a minimum, and where they cannot be entirely eliminated, the inclusive section numbers are also being listed along with the Cross Reference.

Additional Features of New Code

A complete table of contents is inserted at the beginning of the code and will be of considerable assistance in locating any chapter immediately. Frontal tables, listing the catch lines of each section in a chapter, are being placed at the beginning of each chapter and should be of great assistance in locating any section desired. Comparative tables are planned for the final code to include not only the one appearing in this Legislative Edition, but also tables translating section numbers of codes prior to the Consolidated Statutes to the numbers of this code.

Recommendations

In addition to making the types of changes listed above for the purpose of the Legislative Edition, the work of recodification has uncovered a variety of situations which should be improved by express legislative action but which are beyond the authority of the Division to incorporate in the proposed code since they would effect changes in the law. They include generally such matters as the necessity for express repeal of outmoded statutes, redrafting to clarify ambiguity and to resolve conflicts between different sections, and the enactment of implementing or supplemental legislation. In all cases the defects in the statutes have been pointed out in some detail, but it has not always been possible to make a recommendation as to the specific action which should be taken. When a statute is ambiguous and there is no means of determining which possible meaning expresses the legislative intent, or even where the more likely intended meaning is clear, it has been felt that it was beyond the scope of the power of the Division to choose under such circumstances and to incorporate such choice in the Legislative Edition, but, rather, it was thought desirable to set out the problem and to indicate which course seemed advisable along with the reasons therefor. Therefore, these recommendations along with the explanatory reports described above have also in every case been submitted to the Legislative Commission on Recodification for approval, and it is hoped that they will furnish the basis for the drafting of supplemental legislation, amending the official code, in order to produce the most effective final code. A copy of these recommendations will be available for study in the House, the Senate and the Attorney General's office.

Whether or not the recommendations are acted on by the 1943 General Assembly, the material will be available for consideration at some future date, and failure to act on these recommendations will not affect the adoption of the official code.

The Codification Staff

The staff of the Division has consisted of five lawyers, including the director, and one secretary. The calls of the military and naval services and the opportunities for advancement elsewhere have resulted in many changes in personnel since the work was first begun. During this time the following persons have served on the legal staff: Moses B. Gillam, Jr., Cornelia McKimmon, James E. Tucker, Carmon Stuart, John Lawrence, Harry W. McGalliard, James B. McMillan, Kemp Yarborough, J. B. Bilisoly, Sarah Starr, Junius D. Grimes, Jr., Joseph B. Cheshire, IV and Catherine Paschal; and the following persons have served as secretaries: Minerva Coppage, Marjorie Mann and Effie McLean English. All of them have given loyal and diligent service. Grateful acknowledgment is made to them for their labors which were both extensive and difficult.

When W. J. Adams, Jr., was named Assistant Attorney General in October, 1941, Harry W. McGalliard was appointed Director of the Division. Mr. Adams continued to assist in the supervision of the recodification work. Mr. McGalliard has continued to serve as Director until the present. He has personally done the important job of revamping the index.

Use of Legislative Edition

A full table of contents at the beginning of this volume lists all the chapters of the code. A comparative table in the back of the volume translates the Consolidated Statutes and Michie Code section numbers into the new section numbers of this edition. A frontal table at the beginning of each chapter furnishes an analysis of the sections contained in the chapter, listing the catch lines of all the sections of the chapter. Through the use of these editorial aids it should prove relatively simple to locate any section. In addition, the Division of Legislative Drafting and Codification of Statutes will be glad to assist anyone in every way possible in the study and examination of the code.

Effect to Be Given New Code

It is recommended that the code when adopted be made the official code of North Carolina as was done with the Consolidated Statutes of 1919 and previous compilations of our laws.

HARRY MCMULLAN,
Attorney General.

SUBCHAPTER I. DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Art. 1. Definitions.

§ 1-1. Remedies.—Remedies in the courts of justice are divided into—

1. Actions.
2. Special proceedings.

(Rev., s. 346; Code, s. 125; C. C. P., s. 1; C. S. 391.)

§ 1-2. Actions.—An action is an ordinary proceeding in a court of justice, by which a party prosecutes another party for the enforcement or protection of a right, the redress or prevention of a wrong, or the punishment or prevention of a public offense. (Rev., s. 347; Code, s. 126; C. C. P., s. 2; 1868-9, c. 277, s. 2; C. S. 392.)

§ 1-3. Special proceedings.—Every other remedy is a special proceeding. (Rev., s. 348; Code, s. 127; C. C. P., s. 3; C. S. 393.)

§ 1-4. Kinds of actions.—Actions are of two kinds—

1. Civil.
2. Criminal.

(Rev., s. 349; Code, s. 128; C. C. P., s. 4; C. S. 394.)

§ 1-5. Criminal action.—A criminal action is—

1. An action prosecuted by the state as a party, against a person charged with a public offense, for the punishment thereof.

2. An action prosecuted by the state, at the instance of an individual, to prevent an apprehended crime against his person or property. (Rev., s. 350; Code, s. 129; C. C. P., s. 5; Const., Art. IV, s. 1; C. S. 395.)

§ 1-6. Civil action.—Every other is a civil action. (Rev., s. 351; Code, s. 130; C. C. P., s. 6; C. S. 396.)

§ 1-7. When court means clerk.—In the following sections which confer jurisdiction or power, or impose duties, where the words "superior court," or "court," in reference to a superior court are used, they mean the clerk of the superior court, unless otherwise specially stated, or unless reference is made to a regular term of the court, in which cases the judge of the court alone is meant. (Rev., s. 352; Code, s. 132; C. C. P., s. 9; C. S. 397.)

Art. 2. General Provisions.

§ 1-8. Remedies not merged.—Where the violation of a right admits both of a civil and a criminal remedy, the right to prosecute the one is not merged in the other. (Rev., s. 353; Code, s. 131; C. C. P., s. 7; C. S. 398.)

§ 1-9. One form of action.—The distinction between actions at law and suits in equity and the forms of such actions and suits are abolished, and there is but one form of action for the enforcement or protection of private rights and the redress of private wrongs, which is denominated a civil action. (Rev., s. 354; Code, s. 133; C. C. P., s. 12; Const., Art. IV, s. 1; C. S. 399.)

§ 1-10. Plaintiff and defendant.—In civil actions the party complaining is the plaintiff, and the adverse party the defendant. (Rev., s. 355; Code, s. 134; C. C. P., s. 13; C. S. 400.)

§ 1-11. How party may appear.—A party may appear either in person or by attorney in actions or proceedings in which he is interested. (Rev., s. 356; Code, s. 109; C. C. P., s. 423; C. S. 401.)

§ 1-12. Feigned issues abolished and substituted.—Feigned issues are abolished, and instead thereof, in the cases where the power formerly existed to order a feigned issue, or when a question of fact not put in issue by the pleadings is to be tried by a jury, an order for the trial may be made by the judge, stating distinctly and plainly the question of fact to be tried; and this order is the only authority necessary for a trial. (Rev., s. 357; Code, s. 135; C. C. P., s. 15; C. S. 402.)

§ 1-13. Jurisdiction of clerk.—The clerk of the superior court has jurisdiction to hear and decide all questions of practice and procedure and all other matters over which jurisdiction is given to the superior court, unless the judge of the court or the court at a regular term is expressly referred to. (Rev., s. 358; Code, s. 251; C. C. P., s. 108; C. S. 403.)

SUBCHAPTER II. LIMITATIONS.

Art. 3. Limitations, General Provisions.

§ 1-14. When action commenced.—An action is commenced as to each defendant when the summons is issued against him. (Rev., s. 359; Code, s. 161; C. C. P., s. 40; C. S. 404.)

§ 1-15. Statute runs from accrual of action; pleading.—Civil actions can only be commenced within the periods prescribed in this chapter, after the cause of action has accrued, except where in special cases a different limitation is prescribed by statute. The objection that the action was not commenced within the time limited can only be taken by answer. (Rev., s. 360; Code, s. 138; C. C. P., s. 17; C. S. 405.)

§ 1-16. Defenses deemed pleaded by insane party.—On the trial of any action or special proceeding to which an insane person is a party, such insane person is deemed to have pleaded specially any defense, and shall on trial have the benefit of any defense, whether pleaded or not, that might have been made for him by his guardian or attorney under the provisions of this chapter. The court, at any time before the action or proceeding is finally disposed of, may order the bringing in, by proper notice, of one or more of the near relatives or friends of the insane person, and may make such other order as it deems necessary for his proper defense. (Rev., s. 361; 1889, c. 89, s. 2; C. S. 406.)

§ 1-17. Disabilities.—A person entitled to commence an action, except for a penalty or forfeiture, or against a sheriff or other officer for an escape, who is at the time the cause of action accrued either—

1. Within the age of twenty-one years; or
2. Insane; or
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution under sentence for a criminal offense; may bring his action within the times herein limited, after the disability is removed, except in an action for the recovery of real property, or to make an entry or defense founded on the title to real property, or to rents and services out of the same, when he must commence his action, or make his entry, within three years next after the removal of the disability, and at no time thereafter. (Rev., s. 362; Code, ss. 148, 163; C. C. P., ss. 27, 142; 1899, c. 78; C. S. 407.)

§ 1-18. Disability of marriage.—In any action in which the defense of adverse possession is relied upon, the time computed as constituting such adverse possession shall not include any possession had against a feme covert during coverture prior to February thirteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety nine. (Rev., s. 363; 1899, c. 78, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 408.)

§ 1-19. Cumulative disabilities.—When two or more disabilities coexist at the time the right of action accrues, or when one disability supervenes an existing one, the limitation does not attach until they all are removed. (Rev., s. 364; Code, ss. 149, 170; C. C. P., ss. 28, 49; C. S. 409.)

§ 1-20. Disability must exist when right of action accrues.—No person may avail himself of a disability except as authorized in § 1-19, unless it existed when his right of action accrued. (Rev., s. 365; Code, s. 169; C. C. P., s. 48; C. S. 410.)

§ 1-21. Defendant out of state; when action begun or judgment enforced.—If, when the cause of action accrues or judgment is rendered or docketed against a person, he is out of the state, action may be commenced, or judgment enforced, within the times herein limited, after the return of the person into this state, and if, after such cause of action accrues or judgment is rendered or docketed, such person departs from and resides out of this state, or remains continuously absent therefrom for one year or more, the time of his absence shall not be a part of the time limited for the commencement of the action, or the enforcement of the judgment. (Rev., s. 366; Code, s. 162; C. C. P., s. 41; 1881, c. 258, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 411.)

§ 1-22. Death before limitation expires; action by or against executor.—If a person entitled to bring an action dies before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced by his representatives after the expiration of that time, and within one year from his death. If a person against whom an action may be brought dies before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced against his personal representative after the expiration of that time, and within one year after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration, provided the letters are issued within ten years of the death of such person. If the claim upon which the cause of action is based is filed with the personal representative within the time above specified, and admitted by him, it is not necessary to bring an action upon such claim to prevent the bar, but no action shall be brought against the personal representative upon such claim after his final settlement. (Rev., s. 367; Code, s. 164; C. C. P., s. 43; 1881, c. 80; C. S. 412.)

§ 1-23. Time of stay by injunction or prohibition.—When the commencement of an action is stayed by injunction or statutory prohibition, the time of the continuance of the injunction or prohibition is not part of the time limited for the commencement of the action. (Rev., s. 368; Code, s. 167; C. C. P., s. 46; C. S. 413.)

§ 1-24. Time during controversy on probate of will or granting letters.—In reckoning time when pleaded as a bar to actions, that period shall not be counted which elapses during any controversy on the probate of a will or granting letters of administration, unless there is an administrator appointed during the pendency of the action, and it is provided that an action may be brought against him. (Rev., s. 369; Code, s. 168; C. C. P., s. 47; C. S. 414.)

§ 1-25. New action within one year after nonsuit, etc.—If an action is commenced within the time prescribed therefor, and the plaintiff is nonsuited, or a judgment therein reversed on appeal, or is arrested, the plaintiff or, if he dies and the cause of action survives, his heir or representative may commence a new action within one year after such nonsuit, reversal, or arrest of judgment, if the costs in the original action have been paid by the plaintiff before the commencement of the new suit, unless the original suit was brought in forma pauperis. (Rev., s. 370; Code, ss. 142, 166; C. C. P., ss. 21, 45; 1915, c. 211, s. 1; C. S. 415.)

acknowledgment or promise is evidence of a new or continuing contract, from which the statutes of limitations run, unless it is contained in some writing signed by the party to be charged thereby; but this section does not alter the effect of any payment of principal or interest. (Rev., s. 371; Code, s. 172; C. C. P., s. 51; C. S. 416.)

§ 1-27. Admission by partner or comaker.—No act, admission or acknowledgment by any partner after the dissolution of the copartnership, or by any of the makers of a promissory note or bond after the statute of limitations has barred the same, is evidence to repel the statute, except against the partner or maker of the promissory note or bond doing the act or making the admission or acknowledgment. (Rev., s. 372; Code, s. 171; C. C. P., s. 50; C. S. 417.)

§ 1-28. Undisclosed partner.—The statutes of limitations apply to a civil action brought against an undisclosed partner only from the time the partnership became known to the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 373; 1893, c. 151; C. S. 418.)

§ 1-29. Cotenants.—If in actions by tenants in common or joint tenants of personal property, to recover the same, or damages for its detention or injury, any of them are barred of their recovery by limitation of time, the rights of the others are not affected thereby, but they may recover according to their right and interest, notwithstanding such bar. (Rev., s. 374; Code, s. 173; C. C. P., s. 52; 1921, c. 106; C. S. 419.)

§ 1-30. Applicable to actions by state.—The limitations prescribed by law apply to civil actions brought in the name of the state, or for its benefit, in the same manner as to actions by or for the benefit of private parties. (Rev., s. 375; Code, s. 159; C. C. P., s. 38; C. S. 420.)

§ 1-31. Action on open account.—In an action brought to recover a balance due upon a mutual, open and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties, the cause of action accrues from the time of the latest item proved in the account on either side. (Rev., s. 376; Code, s. 160; C. C. P., s. 39; C. S. 421.)

§ 1-32. Not applicable to bank bills.—The limitations prescribed by law do not affect actions to enforce the payment of bills, notes or other evidences of debt, issued or put in circulation as money by banking corporations incorporated under the laws of this state. (Rev., s. 377; Code, s. 174; C. C. P., s. 53; 1874-5, c. 170; C. S. 422.)

§ 1-33. Actions against bank directors or stockholders. — The limitations prescribed by law do not affect actions against directors or stockholders of any banking association incorporated under the laws of this state, to recover a penalty or forfeiture imposed, or to enforce a liability created by law; but such actions must be brought within three years after the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts upon which the penalty or forfeiture attached, or the liability was created. (Rev., s. 378; Code, s. 175; C. C. P., s. 54; C. S. 423.)

§ 1-34. Aliens in time of war.—When a person is an alien subject, or a citizen of a country at war with the United States, the time of the continuance of the war is not a part of the period limited for the commencement of the action. (Rev., s. 379; Code, s. 165; C. C. P., s. 44; C. S. 424.)

Art. 4. Limitations, Real Property.

§ 1-35. Title against state.—The state will not sue any person for, or in respect of, any real property, or the issue or profits thereof, by reason of the right or title of the state to the same—

1. When the person in possession thereof, or those under whom he claims, has been in the adverse possession thereof for thirty years, this possession having been ascertained and identified under known and visible lines or boundaries; which shall give a title in fee to the possessor.

2. When the person in possession thereof, or those under whom he claims, has been in possession under color of title for twenty-one years, this possession having been ascertained and identified under known and visible lines or boundaries. (Rev., s. 380; Code, s. 139; C. C. P., s. 18; R. C., c. 65, s. 2; C. S. 425.)

§ 1-36. Title presumed out of state.—In all actions involving the title to real property title is conclusively deemed to be out of the state unless it is a party to the action, but this section does not apply to the trials of protested entries laid for the purpose of obtaining grants, nor to actions instituted prior to May 1, 1917. (1917, c. 195; C. S. 426.)

§ 1-37. Such possession valid against claimants under state.—All such possession as is described in § 1-35, under such title as is therein described, is hereby ratified and confirmed, and declared to be a good and legal bar against the entry or suit of any person, under the right or claim of the state. (Rev., s. 381; Code, s. 140; C. C. P., s. 19; C. S. 427.)

§ 1-38. Seven years possession under color of title.—When a person or those under whom he claims is and has been in possession of any real property, under known and visible lines and boundaries and under color of title, for seven years, no entry shall be made or action sustained against such possessor by a person having any right or title to the same, except during the seven years next after his right or title has descended or accrued, who in default of suing within that time shall be excluded from any claim thereafter made; and such possession, so held, is a perpetual bar against all persons not under disability. (Rev., s. 382; Code, s. 141; C. C. P., s. 20; C. S. 428.)

§ 1-39. Seizin within twenty years necessary.—No action for the recovery or possession of real property shall be maintained, unless it appears that the plaintiff, or those under whom he claims, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within twenty years before the commencement of the action, unless he was under the disabilities prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 383; Code, s. 143; C. C. P., s. 22; C. S. 429.)

§ 1-40. Twenty years adverse possession.—No action for the recovery or possession of real property, or the issues and profits thereof, shall be maintained when the person in possession thereof, or defendant in the action, or those under whom he claims, has possessed the property under known and visible lines and boundaries adversely to all other persons for twenty years; and such possession so held gives a title in fee to the possessor, in such property, against all persons not under disability. (Rev., s. 384; Code, s. 144; C. C. P., s. 23; C. S. 430.)

§ 1-41. Action after entry.—No entry upon real estate shall be deemed sufficient or valid, as a claim, unless an action is commenced thereupon within one year after the making of the entry, and within the time prescribed in this chapter. (Rev., s. 385; Code, s. 145; C. C. P., s. 24; C. S. 431.)

§ 1-42. Possession follows legal title.—In every action for the recovery or possession of real property, or damages for a trespass on such possession, the person establishing a legal title to the premises is presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time required by law; and the occupation of such premises by any other person is deemed to have been under, and in subordination to, the legal title, unless it appears that the premises have been held and possessed adversely to the legal title for the time prescribed by law before the commencement of the action. (Rev., s. 386; Code, s. 146; C. C. P., s. 25; C. S. 432.)

§ 1-43. Tenant's possession is landlord's.—When the relation of landlord and tenant has existed, the possession of the tenant is deemed the possession of the landlord, until the expiration of twenty years from the termination of the tenancy; or where there has been no written lease, until the expiration of twenty years from the time of the last payment of rent, notwithstanding that the tenant may have acquired another title, or may have claimed to hold adversely to his landlord. But such presumptions shall not be made after the periods herein limited. (Rev., s. 387; Code, s. 147; C. C. P., s. 26; C. S. 433.)

§ 1-44. No title by possession of right of way.—No railroad, plank road, turnpike or canal company may be barred of, or presumed to have conveyed, any real estate, right of way, easement, leasehold, or other interest in the soil which has been condemned, or otherwise obtained for its use, as a right of way, depot, stationhouse or place of landing, by any statute of limitation or by occupation of the same by any person whatever. (Rev., s. 388; Code, s. 150; C. C. P., s. 29; R. C., c. 65, s. 23; C. S. 434.)

§ 1-45. No title by possession of public ways.—No person or corporation shall ever acquire any exclusive right to any part of a public road, street, lane, alley, square or public way of any kind by reason of any occupancy thereof or by encroaching upon or obstructing the same in any way, and in all actions, whether civil or criminal, against any person or corporation on account of an encroachment upon or obstruction or occupancy of any public way it shall not be competent for a court to hold that such action is barred by any statute of limitations. (Rev., s. 389; 1891, c. 224; C. S. 435.)

Art. 5. Limitations, Other than Real Property.

§ 1-46. Periods prescribed.—The periods prescribed for the commencement of actions, other than for the recovery of real property, are as set forth in this article. (Rev., s. 390; Code, s. 151; C. C. P., s. 30; C. S. 436.)

§ 1-47. Ten years.—Within ten years an action—

1. Upon a judgment or decree of any court of the United States, or of any state or territory thereof, from the date of its rendition. No such action may be brought more than once, or have the effect to continue the lien of the original judgment.

2. Upon a sealed instrument against the principal thereto.

3. For the foreclosure of a mortgage, or deed in trust for creditors with a power of sale, of real property, where the mortgagor or grantor has been in possession of the property, within ten years after the forfeiture of the mortgage, or after the power of sale became absolute, or within ten years after the last payment on the same.

4. For the redemption of a mortgage, where the mortgagee has been in possession, or for a residuary interest under a deed in trust for creditors, where the trustee or those holding under him has been in possession, within ten years after the right of action accrued.

5. For the allotment of dower upon lands not in the actual possession of the widow following the death of her husband. (Rev., s. 391; Code, s. 152; C. C. P., ss. 14, 31; 1937, c. 368; C. S. 437.)

§ 1-48. Actions to recover deficiency judgments limited to within one year of foreclosure.—No action shall be maintained on any promissory note, bond, evidence of indebtedness or debt secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on real estate after the foreclosure of the mortgage or deed of trust securing the same, except within one year from the date of sale under such foreclosure; but this section shall not extend the time of limitation on any such action. (1933, c. 529, s. 1.)

§ 1-49. Seven years.—Within seven years an action—

1. On a judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, from its date.

2. By a creditor of a deceased person against his personal or real representative, within seven years next after the qualification of the executor or administrator and his making the advertisement required by law for creditors of the deceased to present their claims, where no personal service of such notice in writing is made upon the creditor. A creditor thus barred of a recovery against the representative of any principal debtor is also barred of a recovery against any surety to the debt. (Rev., s. 392; Code, s. 153; C. C. P., s. 32; C. S. 438.)

§ 1-50. Six years.—Within six years an action—

1. Upon the official bond of a public officer.

2. Against an executor, administrator, collector, or guardian on his official bond, within six years after the auditing of his final account by the proper officer, and the filing of the audited account as required by law.

3. For injury to any incorporeal hereditament.

4. Against a corporation, or the holder of a certificate or duplicate certificate of stock in the corporation, on account of any dividend, either a cash or stock dividend, paid or allotted by the corporation to the holder of the certificate or duplicate certificate of stock in the corporation. (Rev., s. 393; Code, s. 154; C. C. P., s. 33; 1931, c. 169; C. S. 439.)

§ 1-51. Five years.—Within five years—

1. No suit, action or proceeding shall be brought or maintained against a railroad company owning or operating a railroad for damages or compensation for right of way or use and occupancy of any lands by the company for use of its railroad unless the action or proceeding is commenced within five years after the lands have been entered upon for the purpose of constructing the road, or within two years after it is in operation.

2. No suit, action or proceeding shall be brought or maintained against a railroad company for damages caused by the construction of the road, or the repairs thereto, unless such suit, action or proceeding is commenced within five years after the cause of action accrues, and the jury shall assess the entire amount of damages which the party aggrieved is entitled to recover by reason of the trespass on his property. (Rev., s. 394; 1893, c. 152; 1895, c. 224; 1897, c. 339; C. S. 440.)

Local Modification.—Burke, McDowell: Pub. Loc., 1925, c. 535; Caldwell: Pub. Loc., 1927, c. 119; Haywood, Mitchell, Yancey: Pub. Loc., 1923, c. 433.

§ 1-52. Three Years.—Within three years an action—

1. Upon a contract, obligation or liability arising out of a contract, express or implied, except those mentioned in the preceding sections.

2. Upon a liability created by statute, other than a penalty or forfeiture, unless some other time is mentioned in the statute creating it.

3. For trespass upon real property. When the trespass is a continuing one, the action shall be commenced within three years from the original trespass, and not thereafter.

4. For taking, detaining, converting or injuring any goods or chattels, including action for their specific recovery.

5. For criminal conversation, or for any other injury to the person or rights of another, not arising on contract and not hereinafter enumerated.

6. Against the sureties of any executor, administrator, collector or guardian on the official bond of their principal; within three years after the breach thereof complained of.

7. Against bail; within three years after judgment against the principal; but bail may discharge himself by a surrender of the principal, at any time before final judgment against the bail.

8. For fees due to a clerk, sheriff or other officer, by the judgment of a court; within three years from the rendition of the judgment, or the issuing of the last execution thereon.

9. For relief on the ground of fraud or mistake; the cause of action shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud or mistake.

10. For the recovery of real property sold for the nonpayment of taxes, within three years after the execution of the sheriff's deed. (Rev., s. 395; Code, s. 155; C. C. P., s. 34; 1895, c. 165; 1889, cc. 269, 218; 1899, c. 15, s. 71; 1901, c. 558, s. 23; 1913, c. 147, s. 4; C. S. 441.)

§ 1-53. Two years.—Within two years—

1. All claims against counties, cities and towns of this state shall be presented to the chairman of the board of county commissioners, or to the chief officers of the cities and towns, within two years after the maturity of such claims, or the holders shall be forever barred from a recovery thereon; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to claims based upon bonds, notes and interest coupons.

2. An action to recover the penalty for usury.

3. The forfeiture of all interest for usury. (Rev., s. 396; Code, ss. 756, 3836; 1874-5, c. 243; 1876-7, c. 91, s. 3; 1895, c. 69; 1931, c. 231; 1937, c. 359; C. S. 442.)

Local Modification.—Cartaret, Haywood: 1933, c. 386; Cherokee, Clay: 1933, c. 318.

§ 1-54. One year.—Within one year an action—

1. Against a public officer, for a trespass under color of his office.

2. Upon a statute, for a penalty or forfeiture, where the action is given to the state alone, or in whole or in part to the party aggrieved, or to a common informer, except where the statute imposing it prescribes a different limitation.

3. For libel, assault, battery, or false imprisonment.

4. Against a public officer, for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned on civil process.

5. An application for a widow's year's allowance. (Rev., s. 397; Code, s. 156; C. C. P., s. 35; 1885, c. 96; C. S. 443.)

§ 1-55. Six months.—Within six months an action—

1. For slander.

2. Upon a contract, transfer, assignment, power of attorney or other instrument transferring or affecting unearned salaries or wages, or future earnings, or any interest therein, whether said instrument be under seal or not under seal. The above period of limitation shall commence from the date of the execution of such instrument. (Rev., s. 398; Code, s. 157; C. C. P., s. 36; 1931, c. 168; C. S. 444.)

Local Modification.—Cleveland, Rutherford: 1933, c. 167.

§ 1-56. All other actions, ten years.—An action for relief not herein provided for must be commenced within ten years after the cause of action has accrued. (Rev., s. 399; Code, s. 158; C. C. P., s. 37; C. S. 445.)

SUBCHAPTER III. PARTIES.

Art. 6. Parties.

§ 1-57. Real party in interest; grantees and assignees.—Every action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except as otherwise provided; but this section does not authorize the assignment of a thing in action not arising out of contract. An action may be maintained by a grantee of real estate in his own name, when he or any grantor or other person through whom he derives title might maintain such action, notwithstanding the conveyance of the grantor is void, by reason of the actual possession of a person claiming under a title adverse to that of the grantor, or other person, at the time of the delivery of the conveyance. In case of an assignment of a thing in action the action by the assignee is without prejudice to any set-off or other defense, existing at the time of, or before notice of, the assignment; but this does not apply to a negotiable promissory note or bill of exchange, transferred in good faith, upon good consideration, and before maturity. (Rev., s. 400; Code, s. 177; C. C. P., s. 55; 1874-5, c. 256; C. S. 446.)

§ 1-58. Suits for penalties.—Where a penalty is imposed by any law, and it is not provided to what person the penalty is given, it may be recovered, for his own use, by any one who sues for it. When a penalty is allowed by statute, and it is not prescribed in whose name suit therefor may be commenced, suit must be brought in the name of the state. (Rev., ss. 401, 402; Code, ss. 1212, 1213; R. C., c. 35, ss. 47, 48; C. S. 447.)

§ 1-59. Suit for penalty, plaintiff may reply fraud to plea of release.—If an action be brought in good faith by any person to recover a penalty under a law of this state, or of the United States, and the defendant shall set up in bar thereto a former judgment recovered by or against him in a former action brought by any other person for the same cause, then the plaintiff in such action, brought in good faith, may reply that the said former judgment was obtained by covin; and if the collusion or covin so averred be found, the plaintiff in the action sued with good faith shall have recovery; and no release made by such party suing in covin, whether before action brought or after, shall be in anywise available or effectual. (Code, s. 932; R. C., c. 31, s. 100; 4 Hen. VII, c. 20; Rev., s. 1521; 1925, c. 21; C. S. 447(a).)

§ 1-60. Suit on bonds; defendant may plead satisfaction. — When an action shall be brought on any single bill or on any judgment, if the defendant had paid the money due upon such bill or judgment before action brought, or where the defendant hath made satisfaction to the plaintiff of the money due on such bill or judgment in other manner than by payment thereof, such payment or satisfaction may be pleaded in bar of such action; and where only part of the money due on such single bill or judgment hath been paid by the defendant, or satisfied in other manner than by payment of money, such part payment or part satisfaction may be pleaded in bar of so much of the money due on such single bill or judgment, as the same may amount to; and where an action is brought on any bond which hath a condition or defeasance to make void the same upon the payment of a lesser sum at a day or place certain, if the obligor, his heirs, executors or administrators have, before the action brought, paid to the obligee, his executor or administrator, the principal and interest due by the condition or defeasance of such bond, though such payments were not made strictly according to the condition or defeasance; or if such obligor, his heirs, executors or administrators have before action brought made satisfaction to the plaintiff of the principal and interest due by the condition or defeasance of such bond, in other manner than by payment thereof, yet the said payment or satisfaction may be pleaded in bar of such action, and shall be effectual as a bar thereof, in like manner as if the money had been paid at the day and place, according to the condition or defeasance, and so pleaded. (Rev., s. 1522; Code, s. 933; R. C., c. 31, s. 101; 4 Hen. VII, c. 20; 1925, c. 21; C. S. 447(b).)

§ 1-61. Payment into court of sum due discharges penalty of bonds.—If at any time, pending an action on any bond with a penalty, the defendant shall bring into court, where the action shall be pending, all the principal money and interest due, and also all such costs as have been expended in any suit upon such bond, the said money shall be deemed and taken to be in full satisfaction and discharge of said bond, and the court shall give judgment accordingly. (Rev., s. 1523; Code, s. 934; R. C., c. 31, s. 102; 4 Anne, c. 16; 1925, c. 21; C. S. 447(c).)

§ 1-62. Action by purchaser under judicial sale. —Any one given possession under a judicial sale confirmed, where the title is retained as a security for the price, is the legal owner of the property for all purposes of bringing suits for injuries thereto, after the day of sale, by trespass or wrongful possession, in the same manner as if the title had been conveyed to him on day of sale, unless restrained by some order of the court directing the sale; and the suit brought is under the control of the court ordering the sale. (Rev., s. 403; Code, s. 942; 1858-9, c. 50; C. S. 448.)

§ 1-63. Action by executor or trustee.—An executor or administrator, a trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, may sue without joining with him the person for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. A trustee of an express trust, within the meaning of this section, includes a person with whom, or in whose name, a contract is made for the benefit of another. (Rev., s. 404; Code, s. 179; C. C. P., s. 57; C. S. 449.)

§ 1-64. Infants, etc., sue by guardian or next friend.—In actions and special proceedings when any of the parties plaintiff are infants, idiots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis, whether residents or nonresidents of this state, they must appear by their general or testamentary guardian, if they have any within the state; but if the action or proceeding is against such guardian, or if there is no such guardian, then said persons may appear by their next friend. The duty of the state solicitors to prosecute in the cases specified in chapter entitled Guardian and Ward is not affected by this section. (Rev., s. 405; Code, s. 180; 1893, c. 5; C. C. P., s. 58; 1870-1, c. 233; 1871-2, c. 95; C. S. 450.)

§ 1-65. Infants, etc., defend by guardian ad litem. — In all actions and special proceedings when any of the defendants are infants, idiots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis, whether residents or nonresidents of this state, they must defend by their general or testamentary guardian, if they have one within this state; and if they have no general or testamentary guardian in the state, and any of them has been summoned, the court in which said action or special proceeding is pending, upon motion of any of the parties, may appoint some discreet person to act as guardian ad litem, to defend in behalf of such infants, idots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis. The guardian so appointed shall, if the cause is a civil action file his answer to the complaint within the time required for other defendants, unless the time is extended by the court; and if the cause is a special proceeding, a copy of the complaint, with the summons, must be served on him. After twenty days notice of the summons and complaint in the special proceeding, and after answer filed as above prescribed in the civil action, the court may proceed to final judgment as effectually and in the same manner as if there had been personal service upon the said infant, idiot, lunatic, or person non compos mentis, defendants. (Rev., s. 406; Code, s. 181; C. C. P., s. 59; 1870-1, c. 233, s. 5; 1871-2, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 451.)

§ 1-66. Appointment of guardian ad litem in actions begun by publication.—In all actions and special proceedings wherever any of the defendants are infants, idiots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis, and it shall become necessary to serve the summons on said infants, idiots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis by publication, it shall not be necessary to await the completion of the service of summons by publication before moving for the appointment of a guardian ad litem for said infants, idiots, lunatics, or persons non compos mentis, but a guardian ad litem may be appointed on motion at the time of the issuance of the order of publication; and the service of a summons, with a copy of the complaint or petition, can be made on the guardian ad litem returnable on the same date as the infant defendants are required to appear in the notice of publication; and after ten days notice of said summons and complaint in special proceedings and after answer filed as prescribed in § 1-65 under this article, the court may proceed in the same cause to final judgment and decree therein, in the same manner as if there had been personal service upon the said infant, idiot, lunatic, or person non compos mentis, defendants, and any decree or judgment in the cause shall conclude the infant, idiot, lunatic, or person non compos mentis, defendants, as effectually as if he, or they, had been personally summoned. (1919, c. 246; C. S. 452.)

§ 1-67. Guardian ad litem to file answer.—When a guardian ad litem is appointed, he shall file an answer in the action or special proceeding, admitting or denying the allegations thereof. The costs and expenses of the answer, in all applications to sell or divide the real estate of said infants, shall be paid out of the proceeds of the property, or in case of division shall be charged upon the land if the sale or division is ordered by the court, and, if not ordered, in any other manner the court directs. (Rev., s. 407; Code, s. 182; 1870-1, c. 233, s. 4; C. S. 453.)

§ 1-68. Who may be plaintiffs.—All persons having an interest in the subject of the action and in obtaining the relief demanded may be joined as plaintiffs, either jointly, severally, or in the alternative, except as otherwise provided. If, upon the application of any party, it shall appear that such joinder may embarrass or delay the trial, the court may order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient. (Rev., s. 409; Code, s. 183; C. C. P., s. 60; 1931, c. 344, s. 1; C. S. 455.)

§ 1-69. Who may be defendants.—All persons may be made defendants, jointly, severally, or in the alternative, who have, or claim, an interest in the controversy adverse to the plaintiff, or who are necessary parties to a complete determination or settlement of the questions involved. In an action to recover the possession of real estate, the landlord and tenant may be joined as defendants. Any person claiming title or right of possession to real estate may be made a party plaintiff or defendant, as the case requires, in such action. If the plaintiff is in doubt as to the persons from whom he is entitled to redress, he may join two or more defendants, to determine which is liable. (Rev., s. 410; Code, s. 184; C. C. P., s. 61; 1931, c. 344, s. 2; C. S. 456.)

§ 1-70. Joinder of parties; action by or against one for benefit of a class.—Of the parties to the action, those who are united in interest must be joined as plaintiffs or defendants; but if the consent of any one who should have been joined as plaintiff cannot be obtained, he may be made a defendant, the reason thereof being stated in the complaint. When the question is one of a common or general interest of many persons, or where the parties are so numerous that it is impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the benefit of all. Any and/or all unincorporated, beneficial organizations, fraternal benefit orders, associations and/or societies, or voluntary fraternal beneficial organizations, orders, associations and/or societies issuing certificates and/or policies of insurance, foreign or domestic, now or hereafter doing business in this state, shall have the power to sue and/or be sued in the name commonly known and/or used by them in the conduct of their business to the same extent as any other legal entity established by law, and without naming any of the individual members composing it: Provided, however, this section shall apply only in actions concerning such certificates and/or policies of insurance. (Rev., s. 411; Code, s. 185; C. C. P., s. 62; 1933, c. 182; C. S. 457.)

§ 1-71. Persons severally liable.—Persons severally liable upon the same obligation, including the parties to bills of exchange and promissory notes, may all or any of them be included in the same action at the option of the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 412; Code, s. 186; C. C. P., s. 63; C. S. 458.)

§ 1-72. Persons jointly liable.—In all cases of joint contracts of partners in trade or others, suit may be brought and prosecuted against all or any number of the persons making such contracts. (Rev., s. 413; Code, s. 187; R. C., c. 31, s. 84; 1871-2, c. 24, s. 1; C. S. 459.)

§ 1-73. New parties by order of court.—The court either between the terms, or at a regular term, according to the nature of the controversy, may determine any controversy before it, when it can be done without prejudice to the right of others, but when a complete determination of the controversy cannot be made without the presence of other parties, the court must cause them to be brought in. When in an action for the recovery of real or personal property, a person not a party to the action, but having an interest in its subject matter, applies to the court to be made a party, it may order him to be brought in by the proper amendment. A defendant against whom an action is pending upon a contract or for specific real or personal property, upon proof by affidavit that a person not a party to the action makes a demand against him for the same debt or property without collusion with him, may at any time before answer apply to the court, upon notice to that person and the adverse party, for an order to substitute that person in his place, and to discharge him from liability to either, on his paying into court the amount of the debt, or delivering the possession of the property or its value to such person as the court directs. The court may make such an order. (Rev., s. 414; Code, s. 189; C. C. P., s. 65; C. S. 460.)

§ 1-74. Abatement of actions.—1. No action abates by the death, or disability of a party, or by the transfer of any interest therein, if the cause of action survives, or continues. In case of death, except in suits for penalties and for damages merely vindictive, or in case of the disability of a party, the court, on motion at any time within one year thereafter, or afterwards on a supplemental complaint, may allow the action to be continued, by, or against, his representative or successor in interest. In case of any other transfer of interest, the action shall be continued in the name of the original party, or the court may allow the person to whom the transfer is made to be substituted in the action.

2. After a verdict is rendered in any action for a wrong, the action does not abate by the death of a party.

3. At any time after the death or disability of the party plaintiff, the court in which an action is pending, upon notice to such persons as it directs and upon application of any person aggrieved, may order that the action be abated, unless it is continued by the proper parties, within a time to be fixed by the court, not less than six nor more than twelve months from the granting of the order.

4. No action against a receiver of a corporation abates by reason of his death, but, upon suggestion of the facts on the record, it continues against his successor, or against the corporation in case a new receiver is not appointed. (Rev., s. 415; Code, s. 188; 1901, c. 2, s. 85; C. C. P., s. 64; R. C., c. 1, s. 4; c. 46, s. 43; C. S. 461.)

§ 1-75. Procedure on death of party.—When a party to an action in the superior court dies pending the action, his death may be suggested before the clerk of the court where the action is pending, during vacation. It is then the duty of the clerk to issue a summons to the party who succeeds to the rights or liabilities of a deceased defendant, commanding him to appear before him on a day named in the summons, which must be at least twenty days after its service, and answer the complaint, and the issue joined by the filing of the answer stands for trial at the succeeding term of the superior court. It is the duty of the clerk to issue a notice to the party succeeding to the rights of a deceased party who will be necessary to the prosecution of the action to final judgment to appear and become party plaintiff; and if the party made plaintiff files an amended complaint, the defendant has twenty days after notice of same in which to file an answer thereto, and the issue thus made up stands for trial at the succeeding term. (Rev., ss. 416, 417, 418; 1887, c. 389; C. S. 462.)

SUBCHAPTER IV. VENUE.

Art. 7. Venue.

§ 1-76. Where subject of action situated.—Actions for the following causes must be tried in the county in which the subject of the action, or some part thereof, is situated, subject to the power to the court to change the place of trial, in the cases provided by law:

1. Recovery of real property, or of an estate or interest therein, or for the determination in any form of such right or interest, and for injuries to real property.

2. Partition of real property.

3. Foreclosure of a mortgage of real property.

4. Recovery of personal property. (Rev., s. 419; Code, s. 190; 1889, c. 219; C. C. P., s. 66; C. S. 463.)

§ 1-77. Where cause of action arose.—Actions for the following causes must be tried in the county where the cause, or some part thereof, arose, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial, in the cases provided by law:

1. Recovery of a penalty or forfeiture, imposed by statute; except that, when it is imposed for an offense committed on a sound, bay, river, or other body of water, situated in two or more counties, the action may be brought in any county bordering on such body of water, and opposite to the place where the offense was committed.

2. Against a public officer or person especially appointed to execute his duties, for an act done by him by virtue of his office; or against a person who by his command or in his aid does anything touching the duties of such officer. (Rev., s. 420; Code, s. 191; C. C. P., s. 67; C. S. 464.)

§ 1-78. Official bonds, executors and administrators.—All actions against executors and administrators in their official capacity, except where otherwise provided by statute, and all actions upon official bonds must be instituted in the county where the bonds were given, if the principal or any surety on the bond is in the county; if not, then in the plaintiff's county. (Rev., s. 421; Code, s. 193; 1868-9, c. 258; C. S. 465.)

§ 1-79. Domestic corporations.—For the purpose of suing and being sued the principal place of business of a domestic corporation is its residence. (Rev., s. 422; 1903, c. 806; C. S. 466.)

§ 1-80. Foreign corporations.—An action against a corporation created by or under the law of any other state or government may be brought in the superior court of any county in which the cause of action arose, or in which the corporation usually did business, or has property, or in which the plaintiffs, or either of them, reside, in the following cases:

1. By a resident of this state, for any cause of action.

2. By a nonresident of this state in any county where he or they are regularly engaged in carrying on business.

3. By a plaintiff, not a resident of this state, when the cause of action arose or the subject of the action is situated in this state. (Rev., s. 423; Code, s. 194; C. C. P., s. 361; 1876-7, c. 170; 1907, c. 460; C. S. 467.)

§ 1-81. Actions against railroads.—In all actions against railroads the action must be tried either in the county where the cause of action arose or where the plaintiff resided at that time, or in some county adjoining that in which the cause of action arose, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial as provided by statute. (Rev., s. 424; C. S. 468.)

§ 1-82. Venue in all other cases.—In all other cases the action must be tried in the county in which the plaintiffs or the defendants, or any of them, reside at its commencement; or if none of the defendants reside in the state, then in the county in which the plaintiffs, or any of them, reside; and if none of the parties reside in the state, then the action may be tried in any county which the plaintiff designates in his summons and complaint, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial, in the cases provided by statute. (Rev., s. 424; Code, s. 192; C. C. P., s. 68; 1868-9, cc. 59, 277; 1905, c. 367; C. S. 469.)

§ 1-83. Change of venue.—If the county designated for that purpose in the summons and complaint is not the proper one, the action may, however, be tried therein, unless the defendant, before the time of answering expires, demands in writing that the trial be conducted in the proper county, and the place of trial is thereupon changed by consent of parties, or by order of the court.

The court may change the place of trial in the following cases:

1. When the county designated for that purpose is not the proper one.

2. When the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change.

3. When the judge has, at any time, been interested as party or counsel. (Rev., s. 425; Code, s. 195; C. C. P., s. 69; R. C., c. 31, ss. 115, 118; 1870-1, c. 20; C. S. 470.)

§ 1-84. Removal for fair trial.—In all civil and criminal actions in the superior and criminal courts, when it is suggested on oath or affirmation, on behalf of the state or the traverser of the bill of indictment, or of the plaintiff or defendant, that there are probable grounds to believe that a fair and impartial trial cannot be obtained in the county in which the action is pending, the judge may order a copy of the record of the action removed to some adjacent county for trial, if he is of the opinion that a fair trial cannot be had in said county, after hearing all the testimony offered on either side by affidavits. The county from which the cause is removed must pay to the county in which the cause has been tried the full amount paid by the trial county for jurors' fees, and the full costs in the cause which are not taxable against or cannot be recovered from a party to the action, and for which the trial county is liable. (Rev., s. 426; Code, s. 196; 1879, c. 45; 1899, cc. 104, 508; 1806, c. 693, s. 12; 1917, c. 44; C. S. 471.)

§ 1-85. Affidavits on hearing for removal; when removal ordered. — No action, civil or criminal, shall be removed, unless the affidavit sets forth particularly and in detail the ground of the application. It is competent for the other side to controvert the allegations of fact in the application, and to offer counter affidavits to that end. The judge shall order the removal of the action, if he is satisfied after thorough examination of the evidence as aforesaid that the ends of justice demand it. (Rev., s. 427; Code, s. 197; 1879, c. 45; 1899, c. 104, s. 2; C. S. 472.)

§ 1-86. Additional jurors from other counties instead of removal.—Upon suggestion made as provided by § 1-84 or on his own motion, the presiding judge, instead of making order of removal may cause as many jurors as he deems necessary to be summoned from any county in the same judicial district or in an adjoining district by the sheriff or other proper officer thereof, to attend, at such time as the judge designates, and serve as jurors in said action. The judge may direct the required number of names to be drawn from the jury box in said county in such manner as he may direct, and a list of the same to be delivered to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county, who shall at once summon the jurors so drawn to appear at the time and place specified in the order. In case a jury is not obtained from those so summoned the judge may, in like manner, from time to time, order additional jurors summoned from any county in the same judicial district or in an adjoining district, or from the county where the trial is being held, until a jury is obtained. These jurors are subject to challenge for cause as other jurors, but not for nonresidence in the county of trial, or service within two years, or not being freeholders, and all jurors so summoned are entitled to compensation for mileage and time, to be paid by the county to which they are summoned, at the rate now provided by law for regular jurors in the county of their residence. Provided, that when the judge shall determine that it is necessary to have a special venire drawn from an adjoining county, instead of directing the jurors to appear at the courthouse in the county where the trial is pending, he may order them to appear at the courthouse of their own county and in lieu of their receiving mileage in going from their own county to the county in which the trial is held, it shall be optional with the county where the trial is held to provide transportation to said jurors from their own county seat to the place of trial and return instead of paying mileage to the jurors in going from their county seat to the place of trial. (1913, c. 4, ss. 1, 2; 1931, c. 308; 1933, c. 248; C. S. 473.)

Local Modification.—Ashe, Durham: 1933, c. 248.

§ 1-87. Transcript of removal; subsequent proceedings. — When a cause is directed to be removed, the clerk shall transmit to the court to which it is removed a transcript of the record of the case, with the prosecution bond, bail bond, and the depositions, and all other written evidences filed therein; and all other proceedings shall be had in the county to which the place of trial is changed, unless otherwise provided by the consent of the parties in writing duly filed, or by order of court. (Rev., s. 428; Code, ss. 195, 198; R. C., c. 31, s. 118; 1806, c. 694, s. 12; 1810, c. 787; C. C. P., s. 69; C. S. 474.)

SUBCHAPTER V. COMMENCEMENT OF ACTIONS.

Art. 8. Summons.

§ 1-88. Civil actions commenced by.—Civil actions shall be commenced by issuing a summons; but no summons need issue in controversies submitted without action, and in confessions of judgment without action. (Rev., s. 429; Code, s. 199; C. C. P., s. 70; C. S. 475.)

§ 1-89. Contents, return, seal.—The summons must run in the name of the State, be signed by the Clerk of the Superior Court having jurisdiction to try the action, and be directed to the sheriff or other proper officers of the county or counties in which the defendants or any of them reside or may be found. It must be returnable before the clerk and must command the sheriff or other proper officer to summon the defendant, or defendants, to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff within thirty (30) days after its service upon defendant, or defendants; and must contain a notice stating in substance that if the defendant or defendants fail to answer the complaint within the time specified the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint; and must be dated on the date of its issue. Every summons addressed to the sheriff or other officer of a county, other than that from which it issued, must be attested by the seal of the court; but when addressed to the sheriff or other officer of the county in which it issued, such seal is unnecessary. Summons must be served by the sheriff to whom it is addressed for service within ten (10) days after the date of its issue; and upon serving the same, the officer shall note in writing upon the copy thereof, delivered to the defendant, the date of service, but failure to comply with this requirement shall not invalidate the service, and, if not served within ten (10) days after the date of its issue upon every defendant, must be returned by the officer holding the same for service, to the clerk of the court issuing the summons, with notation thereon of its non-service and the reasons therefor as to every defendant not served. In all cases where service of summons is made by publication, such service by publication shall be completed within fifty days from the order of publication. Provided, that in all actions for tax foreclosures, street assessment foreclosures and sidewalk assessment foreclosures, summons must be served by the sheriff to whom it is addressed for service within sixty (60) days after the date of its issue; and upon serving the same, the officer shall note in writing upon the copy thereof, delivered to the defendant, the date of service, but failure to comply with this requirement shall not invalidate the service, and, if not served within sixty (60) days after the date of its issue upon every defendant, must be returned by the officer holding the same for service, to the clerk of the court issuing the summons, with notation thereon of its non-service and the reasons therefor as to every defendant not served. (Rev., ss. 430, 431; Code, ss. 200, 203, 213; C. C. P., s. 74; 1876-7, cc. 85, 241; 1919, c. 304, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 96, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 1; 1927, c. 66, s. 1; 1927, c. 132; 1929, c. 237, s. 1; 1935, c. 343; 1939, c. 15; C. S. 476.)

Local Modification.—Beaufort: 1937, c. 65.

§ 1-90. Issued to several counties.—The plaintiff may issue a summons, directed to the sheriff of any county where a defendant is most likely to be found, noting on each summons that it is issued in the same action. When the summons is returned, it shall be docketed as if only one had issued, and if any defendant is not served with such process, the same proceeding shall be had as in other cases of similar process not executed. (Rev., s. 432; Code, s. 204; R. C., c. 31, s. 44; 1789, c. 314, ss. 1, 2; 1831, c. 14, s. 2; C. S. 477.)

§ 1-91. When directed to officer of adjoining county.—If at any time there is not in the county a proper officer to whom summons or other process of a court of record is or ought to be directed, who can lawfully execute it; or if such officer refuses or neglects to execute the same, the clerk of the court from which it has issued or shall issue, upon the facts being verified before him by written affidavit, subscribed by the plaintiff or his agent, shall issue such summons or process to the sheriff of any adjoining county, who has power to and shall execute the same in like manner as if he were sheriff of the county. In all cases where the sheriff of any county is interested, if there is no coroner in the county, process may be issued to and shall be executed by the sheriff of any adjoining county. (Rev., ss. 1530, 1531; Code, ss. 929, 930; R. C., c. 31, s. 55; 1779, c. 156; 1821, c. 1080; 1882, c. 1132; 1846, c. 61; 1869-70, c. 175; C. S. 478.)

§ 1-92. Uniform pleading and practice in inferior courts where summons issued to run outside of county.—In all cases in which any court in North Carolina inferior to the Superior Court, except courts of Justices of the Peace, shall issue any summons to run outside the county of such inferior court, the case in which such summons is issued shall, as to the summons and the filing of all pleadings, be subject to, and governed by, the laws and rules applicable to actions in the Superior Court of North Carolina. (1931, c. 420.)

§ 1-93. Amount requisite for summons to run outside of county.—No summons in civil suits or civil proceedings shall run outside the county where issued, unless the amount involved in the litigation is more than two hundred dollars in matters arising out of contract and more than fifty dollars in matters arising in tort: Provided, that this section shall not affect or limit the provisions of §§ 7-138, 7-140 to 7-143. (1939, c. 81.)

§ 1-94. When officer must execute and return.—The officer to whom the summons is addressed must note on it the day of its delivery to him and serve it by delivering a copy thereof to each of the defendants. In all cases when a summons is issued by any court of this state, and the officer to whom said summons is directed shall find that the person or persons against whom said summons is issued cannot be served without danger of injury to said person or persons on account of the condition of said person or persons arising from illness, accident or otherwise, the officer shall file with his returns a certificate from a reputable physician certifying to this fact, and said returns shall relieve the said officer from any liability by reason of failure to actually serve the summons. The said officer shall as soon as possible make actual service of said summons, and when actually served the cause of action shall be deemed to have been commenced as of the date of the original summons, and the defendant shall have twenty days from the date of actual service within which to demur, answer or otherwise plead. (Rev., s. 433; Code, s. 200; 1876-7, c. 85; 1919, c. 304, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 1; 1923, c. 62; C. S. 479.)

§ 1-95. Alias and pluries.—When the defendant in a civil action or special proceeding is not served with summons within ten days, the plaintiff may sue out an alias or pluries summons, returnable in the same manner as original process. An alias or pluries summons may be sued out at any time within ninety (90) days after the date of issue of the next preceding summons in the chain of summonses. Provided, however, that in case of tax suits brought under the provisions of § 105-391, as amended, an alias or pluries summons may be sued out at any time within two years after the issuance of the original summons, whether any intervening alias or pluries summons has heretofore been issued or not, and after the issuance of such alias or pluries summons, the chain of summonses may be kept up as in any other action. (Rev., s. 437; Code, s. 205; R. C., c. 31, s. 52; 1777, c. 115, ss. 23, 71; 1929, c. 237, s. 2; 1931, c. 264; C. S. 480.)

§ 1-96. Discontinuance.—A failure to keep up the chain of summonses issued against a party, but not served, by means of an alias or pluries summons, is a discontinuance as to such party; and if a summons is served after a break in the chain, it is a new action as to such party, begun when the summons was issued. (Rev., s. 438; C. S. 481.)

§ 1-97. Service by copy.—The manner of delivering summons in the following cases shall be as hereinafter stated:

1. If the action is against a corporation, to the president or other head of the corporation, secretary, cashier, treasurer, director, managing or local agent thereof. Any person receiving or collecting money in this state for a corporation of this or any other state or government is a local agent for the purpose of this section. Such service can be made in respect to a foreign corporation only when it has property, or the cause of action arose, or the plaintiff resides, in this state, or when it can be made personally within the state upon the president, treasurer or secretary thereof.

2. If against a minor under the age of fourteen years, to the minor personally, and also to his father, mother or guardian, or if there are none within the state, to any person having the care and control of the minor, or with whom he resides, or in whose service he is employed.

3. If against a person judicially declared of unsound mind, or incapable of conducting his own affairs in consequence of habitual drunkenness, and for whom a committee or guardian has been appointed, to such committee or guardian, and to the defendant personally. If the superintendent or acting superintendent of an insane asylum informs the sheriff or other officer who is charged with the duty of serving a summons or other judicial process, or notice, on an insane person confined in such asylum, that the summons, or process, or notice, cannot be served without danger of injury to the insane person, it is sufficient for the officer to return the same without actual service, but with an endorsement that it was not personally served because of such information; and when an insane person is confined in a common jail it is sufficient for an officer charged with service of a notice, summons, or other judicial process, to return the same with the endorsement that it was not served because of similar information as to the danger of service on such insane person given by the physician of the county in which the jail is situated.

4. Every unincorporated, fraternal, beneficial organization, fraternal benefit order, association and/or society issuing certificates and/or policies of insurance, whether foreign or domestic, now or hereafter doing business in this state, shall be subject to service of process, in the same manner as is now or hereafter provided for service of process on corporations: Provided, this paragraph shall only apply in actions concerning such certificates and/or policies of insurance.

5. Every nonresident individual who is engaged in business in this state and who conducts such business through an agent, employee, trustee, or other representative in this state, or who is a member of a partnership, firm, or unincorporated organization or association, or beneficiary or shareholder in a business trust doing business in this state, shall be subject to process in any action or proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state arising out of or connected with such business in this state, and such process may be served upon such agent, employee, trustee, or other representative or upon any person in this state receiving or collecting money with respect to such business, or upon any member of such partnership, firm, organization or association residing in this state or upon any person residing in this state who is authorized to act or contract for or collect or receive money on behalf of such partnership, firm, organization, association, or business trust with respect to its business in this state. Within five days after such service the plaintiff or petitioner or his attorney shall send by registered mail to said nonresident individual at his last address, if known, a copy of the summons and a copy of the complaint or petition with a statement calling attention to the provisions hereof and of the expiration of the time to answer or demur. Such service shall bind such individual as fully and effectually as if it had been made upon him personally. (Rev., s. 440; Code, s. 217; C. C. P., s. 82; 1874-5, c. 168; 1889, c. 89; 1933, c. 24; 1941, c. 256; C. S. 483.)

§ 1-98. Service by publication.—Where the person on whom the service of the summons is to be made cannot, after due diligence, be found in the state, and that fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court, or a judge thereof and it in like manner appears that a cause of action exists against the defendant in respect to whom service is to be made, or that he is a proper party to an action relating to real property in this state, such court or judge may grant an order that the service be made by publication of a notice in either of the following cases:

1. Where the defendant is a foreign corporation and has property, or the cause of action arose, in the state.

2. Where the defendant, a resident of this state, has departed therefrom or keeps himself concealed therein with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid the service of a summons.

3. Where he is not a resident, but has property in this state, and the court has jurisdiction of the subject of the action.

4. Where the subject of the action is real or personal property in this state, and the defendant has, or claims, or the relief demanded consists wholly or partly in excluding him from any actual or contingent lien or interest therein.

5. Where the action is for divorce.

6. Where the stockholders of a corporation are deemed to be necessary parties to an action and their names or residences are unknown; or where the names or residences of parties interested in real estate the subject of an action are unknown, if the name of at least one of the parties to the action and interested in the subject matter thereof is known, and he is a resident of the state, the court having jurisdiction may, upon affidavit that after due diligence the names or residences of such parties cannot be ascertained, authorize service by publication.

7. Where in actions for the foreclosure of mortgages on real estate, if any party having any interest in, or lien upon, such mortgaged premises, is unknown to the plaintiff, and his residence cannot, with reasonable diligence, be ascertained, and such fact is made to appear by affidavit.

8. Where no officer or agent of a domestic corporation upon whom service can be made can, after due diligence, be found in the state, and such facts are made to appear by affidavit. This subsection also applies to all summonses, orders to show cause, orders and notices issued by any board of aldermen, board of town or county commissioners, or by individuals. (Rev., s. 442; Code, ss. 218, 221; 1885, c. 380; 1889, cc. 108, 263; 1895, c. 334; C. S. 484.)

§ 1-99. Manner of publication. — The order must direct the publication in one or two newspapers to be designated as most likely to give notice to the person to be served, and for such length of time as is deemed reasonable, not less than once a week for four successive weeks, of a notice, giving the title and purpose of the action, and requiring the defendant to appear and answer, or demur to the complaint at a time and place therein mentioned; and no publication of the summons, or mailing of the summons and complaint, is necessary. The cost of publishing in a newspaper shall not exceed one dollar and fifty cents an inch of solid type, and shall in no case exceed six dollars for the notice. (Rev., s. 443; Code, s. 219; 1903, c. 134; C. C. P., c. 84; 1876-7, c. 241, s. 3; C. S. 485.)

§ 1-100. When service by publication complete.—In the cases in which service by publication is allowed, the summons is deemed served at the expiration of the time prescribed by the order of publication, and the party is then in court; and the defendant shall have twenty days thereafter in civil actions and ten days in special proceedings in which to answer or demur. (Rev., s. 444; Code, s. 227; C. C. P., s. 88; 1939, c. 49, s. 1; C. S. 487.)

§ 1-101. Jurisdiction acquired from service.—From the time of service of the summons, in a civil action, or the allowance of a provisional remedy, the court is deemed to have acquired jurisdiction, and to have control of all subsequent proceedings. (Rev., s. 445; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; C. S. 488.)

§ 1-102. Proof of service.—Proof of the service of the summons or notice must be—

1. By the certificate of the sheriff or other proper officer.

2. In case of publication, the affidavit of the printer, or of his foreman or principal clerk, showing the same.

3. The written admission of the defendant. (Rev., s. 446; Code, s. 228; C. C. P., s. 89; C. S. 489.)

§ 1-103. Voluntary appearance by defendant.—A voluntary appearance of a defendant is equivalent to personal service of the summons upon him. (Rev., s. 447; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; C. S. 490.)

§ 1-104. Personal service on nonresident.—When the place of residence of a person out of the state is known and the same is made to appear by affidavit, in lieu of publication in a newspaper it is sufficient to mail a copy of the summons, notice or other process, accompanied by a statement as to the nature of the action or proceeding, to the sheriff or other process officer of the county and state where the defendant resides, who shall serve same according to its tenor. The process officer who serves the paper shall, in making his return, use a form of certificate substantially as follows:

State of .....

County of .....

I, ..., clerk of the ..... court of ..... county, in the state of ....., which court is a court of record having a seal, which is hereto attached, do certify that ....., to me well known as the sheriff of said county of ....., who being by me duly sworn, says that as such sheriff he has full power to serve any and all legal processes issuing from the courts of said state, and that on the ..... day of ....., 19...., he served the summons hereto attached by reading and delivering a copy of same to ....., the defendant therein named.

....., Sheriff,
..... County,
State of .....

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this .... day of ....., 19....

....., Clerk ..... Court,
County of .....

(Rev., s. 448; 1891, c. 120; C. S. 491.)

§ 1-105. Service upon non-resident drivers of motor vehicles.—The acceptance by a non-resident of the rights and privileges conferred by the laws now or hereafter in force in this state permitting the operation of motor vehicles, as evidenced by the operation of a motor vehicle by such non-resident on the public highways of this state, or the operation by such non-resident of a motor vehicle on the public highways of the state other than as so permitted or regulated, shall be deemed equivalent to the appointment by such non-resident of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, or of his successor in office, to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all summonses or other lawful process in any action or proceeding against him, growing out of any accident or collision in which said non-resident may be involved by reason of the operation by him, for him, or under his control or direction, express or implied, of a motor vehicle on such public highway of this State, and said acceptance or operation shall be a signification of his agreement that any such process against him shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served on him personally. Service of such process shall be made by leaving a copy thereof, with a fee of one dollar, in the hands of said Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, or in his office, and such service shall be sufficient service upon the said non-resident: Provided, that notice of such service and a copy of the process are forthwith sent by registered mail by the plaintiff or the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to the defendant and the defendant's return receipt and the plaintiff's affidavit of compliance herewith are appended to the summons or other process and filed with said summons, complaint and other papers in the cause. The court in which the action is pending shall order such continuance as may be necessary to afford the defendant reasonable opportunity to defend the action. (1929, c. 75, s. 1; 1941, c. 36, s. 4.)

§ 1-106. Record of such processes; delivery of return.—The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles shall keep a record of all such processes, which shall show the day and hour of service upon him. When the registry return receipt shall be returned to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, he shall deliver it to the plaintiff on request and keep a record showing the date of its receipt by him and its delivery to the plaintiff. (1929, c. 75, s. 2; 1941, c. 36, s. 4.)

§ 1-107. Alternative method of service upon non-resident defendants.—In addition to the method provided in §§ 1-105 and 1-106, the plaintiff may adopt the following method of giving notice to a non-resident defendant or defendants:

When the place of residence of the defendant or defendants in the action described in §§ 1-105 and 1-106 is made to appear by affidavit filed with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and the plaintiff files with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles at least five ($5.00) dollars to pay the costs of the service hereinafter provided for, then it shall be sufficient for the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to mail a copy of the summons, together with a statement sufficient to show the nature of the action or proceedings, accompanied by his certificate that the summons and complaint had been served on him, to the sheriff or other process officer of the county and state where the defendant or defendants reside. This sheriff or other process officer, authorized to serve process in the state to which it is sent, shall serve the same according to its tenor. This sheriff or process officer, who serves the papers, shall, in making his return, use a form of certificate substantially as follows; and this form of certificate shall accompany the other papers in the case:

STATE OF .....
COUNTY OF .....

I, ..., Clerk of the ..... Court of ..... County in the State of ....., which court is a court of record, having a seal, which is hereto attached, do certify that ....., to me well known as a proper process officer of said county of ....., who being by me duly sworn, says that as such process officer he has full power to serve any and all legal processes, issued from the courts of said State, and that on the ..... day of ....., 19....., he served the summons and accompanying statement hereto attached, by reading and delivering a copy of the same to the defendant therein named (if more than one defendant, copies to each of them).

SIGNED.....
Process Officer.
.....County
.....State

Sworn to and subscribed before me this..... day of ....., 19....., ..., Clerk..... Court, county of ....., or city of ..... (SEAL)

Said sheriff or process officer shall immediately upon the execution of this evidence of service, return the same with the original papers in the cause to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Raleigh, North Carolina. When the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles shall receive these papers, thus served, he shall deliver the same to the plaintiff on request, and keep a record showing the date of their receipt by him and their delivery to the plaintiff. Upon the filing of these papers in the court where the action is pending, accompanied by evidence of service upon the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, as required by § 1-105, that shall constitute presumptive evidence of actual notice to the defendant or defendants of the pendency of the action and of its nature and effect. (1931, c. 33, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 1-108. Defense after judgment on substituted service. — The defendant against whom publication is ordered, or who is served under the provisions of § 1-104, or his representatives, on application and sufficient cause shown at any time before judgment, must be allowed to defend the action; and, except in an action for divorce, the defendant against whom publication is ordered, or his representatives, may in like manner, upon good cause shown, be allowed to defend after judgment, or at any time within one year after notice thereof, and within five years after its rendition, on such terms as are just; and if the defense is successful and the judgment or any part thereof has been collected or otherwise enforced, such restitution may be compelled as the court directs. Title to property sold under such judgment to a purchaser in good faith is not thereby affected. No fiduciary officer or trustee who has made distribution of a fund under such judgment in good faith is personally liable if the judgment is changed by reason of such defense made after its rendition; nor in case the judgment was rendered for the partition of land, and any persons receiving any of the land in such partition sell it to a third person; the title of such third person is not affected if such defense is successful, but the redress of the person so defending after judgment shall be had by proper judgment against the parties to the original judgment and their heirs and personal representatives, and in no case affects persons who in good faith have dealt with such parties or their heirs or personal representatives on the basis of such judgment being permanent. (Rev., s. 449; Code, s. 220; C. C. P., s. 85; 1917, c. 68; C. S. 492.)

Art. 9. Prosecution Bonds.

§ 1-109. Plaintiff's, for costs.—Before issuing the summons the clerk shall require the plaintiff to do one of the following:

1. Give an undertaking with sufficient surety in the sum of two hundred dollars, with the condition that it will be void if the plaintiff pays the defendant all costs which the latter recovers of him in the action.

2. Deposit two hundred dollars with him as security to the defendant for these costs, in which event the clerk must give to the plaintiff and defendant a certificate to that effect.

3. File with him a written authority from a judge or clerk of a superior court, authorizing the plaintiff to sue as a pauper: Provided, however, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to cities and towns; provided, further, that cities and towns may institute civil actions and special proceedings without being required to give a prosecution bond or make deposit in lieu of bond. (Rev., s. 450; Code, s. 209; R. C., c. 31, s. 40; C. C. P., s. 71; 1935, c. 398; C. S. 493.)

§ 1-110. Suit as a pauper; counsel.—Any judge or clerk of the superior court may authorize a person to sue as a pauper in their respective courts when he proves, by one or more witnesses, that he has a good cause of action, and makes affidavit that he is unable to comply with the preceding section. The court to which such summons is returnable may assign to the person suing as a pauper learned counsel, who shall prosecute his action. (Rev., ss. 451, 452; Code, ss. 210, 211; C. C. P., s. 72; 1868-9, c. 96, s. 2; C. S. 494.)

Local Modification.—Durham, Forsyth, Nash, Northampton: 1937, c. 381.

§ 1-111. Defendant's, for costs and damages in actions for land.—In all actions for the recovery or possession of real property, the defendant, before he is permitted to plead, must execute and file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the suit is pending an undertaking with sufficient surety, in an amount fixed by the court, not less than two hundred dollars, to be void on condition that the defendant pays to the plaintiff all costs and damages which the latter recovers in the action, including damages for the loss of rents and profits. (Rev., s. 453; Code, s. 237; 1869-70, c. 193; C. S. 495.)

§ 1-112. Defense without bond.—The undertaking prescribed in the preceding section is not necessary if an attorney practicing in the court where the action is pending certifies to the court in writing that he has examined the case of the defendant and is of the opinion that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover; and if the defendant also files an affidavit stating that he is unable to give and is not worth the amount of the undertaking in any property whatsoever. (Rev., s. 454; Code, s. 237; 1869-70, c. 193; C. S. 496.)

Art. 10. Joint and Several Debtors.

§ 1-113. Defendants jointly or severally liable.—Where the action is against two or more defendants, and the summons is served on one or more, but not on all of them, the plaintiff may proceed as follows:

1. If the action is against defendants jointly indebted upon contract, he may proceed against the defendants served, unless the court otherwise directs, and if he recovers judgment it may be entered against all the defendants thus jointly indebted, so far only as that it may be enforced against the joint property of all and the separate property of the defendants served, and if they are subject to arrest, against the persons of the defendants served.

2. If the action is against defendants severally liable, he may proceed against the defendants served, in the same manner as if they were the only defendants.

3. If all the defendants have been served, judgment may be taken against any or either of them severally, when the plaintiff would be entitled to judgment against such defendant or defendants if the action had been against them or any of them alone.

4. If the name of one or more partners has, for any cause, been omitted in an action in which judgment has been rendered against the defendants named in the summons, and the omission was not pleaded in the action, the plaintiff, in case the judgment remains unsatisfied, may by action recover of such partner separately, upon proving his joint liability, notwithstanding he was not named in the original action; but the plaintiff may have satisfaction of only one judgment rendered for the same cause of action. (Rev., s. 455; Code, s. 222; C. C. P., s. 87; C. S. 497.)

§ 1-114. Summoned after judgment; defense.—When a judgment is recovered against one or more of several persons jointly indebted upon a contract in accordance with the preceding section, those who were not originally summoned to answer the complaint may be summoned to show cause why they should not be bound by the judgment, in the same manner as if they had been originally summoned. A party so summoned may answer within the time specified denying the judgment, or setting up any defense thereto which has arisen subsequent to such judgment; and may make any defense which he might have made to the action if the summons had been served on him originally. (Rev., ss. 456, 457; Code, ss. 223, 224; C. C. P., ss. 318, 322; C. S. 498.)

§ 1-115. Pleadings and proceedings same as in action.—The party issuing the summons may demur or reply to the answer, and the party summoned may demur to the reply. The answer and reply must be verified in like cases and manner and be subject to the same rules that apply in an action, and the issues may be tried and judgment given in the same manner as in action and enforced by execution if necessary. (Rev., ss. 458, 459; Code, ss. 225, 226; C. C. P., ss. 323, 324; C. S. 499.)

Art. 11. Lis Pendens.

§ 1-116. Filing of notice of suit.—In action affecting the title to real property, the plaintiff, at or any time after the time of filing the complaint or when or any time after a warrant of attachment is issued, or a defendant when he sets up an affirmative cause of action in his answer and demands substantive relief, at or any time after the time of filing his answer, if it is intended to affect real estate, may file with the clerk of each county in which the property is situated a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action, and the description of the property in that county affected thereby. (Rev., s. 460; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; 1917, c. 106; C. S. 500.)

§ 1-117. Cross-index of lis pendens.—Any party to an action desiring to claim the benefit of a notice of lis pendens, whether given formally under this article or in the pleadings filed in the case, shall cause such notice to be cross-indexed by the clerk of the superior court in a docket to be kept by him, to be called Record of Lis Pendens, which index shall contain the names of the parties to the action, where such notice (whether formal or in the pleadings) is filed, the object of the action, the date of indexing, and sufficient description of the land to be affected to enable any person to locate said lands. The clerk shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents for indexing said notice, to be paid as are other costs in the pending action. (Rev., s. 464; 1903, c. 472; 1919, c. 31; C. S. 501.)

§ 1-118. Effect on subsequent purchasers.—From the cross-indexing of the notice of lis pendens only is the pendency of the action constructive notice to a purchaser or incumbrancer of the property affected thereby; and every person whose conveyance or incumbrance is subsequently executed or subsequently registered is a subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer, and is bound by all proceedings taken after the cross-indexing of the notice to the same extent as if he were made a party to the action. For the purposes of this section an action is pending from the time of cross-indexing the notice. (Rev., s. 462; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; 1919, c. 31; C. S. 502.)

§ 1-119. Notice void unless action prosecuted.—The notice of lis pendens is of no avail unless it is followed by the first publication of notice of the summons or by an order therefor, or by the personal service on the defendant within sixty days after the cross-indexing. (Rev., s. 461; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; 1919, c. 31; C. S. 503.)

§ 1-120. Cancellation of notice.—The court in which the said action was commenced may, at any time after it is settled, discontinued or abated, on application of any person aggrieved, on good cause shown, and on such notice as is directed or approved by the court, order the notice authorized by this article to be canceled of record, by the clerk of any county in whose office the same has been filed or recorded; and this cancellation must be made by an endorsement to that effect on the margin of the record, which shall refer to the order. (Rev., s. 463; Code, s. 229; C. C. P., s. 90; C. S. 504.)

SUBCHAPTER VI. PLEADINGS.

Art. 12. Complaint.

§ 1-121. First pleading and its filing.—The first pleading on the part of the plaintiff is the complaint. It must be filed in the clerk's office at or before the time of the issuance of summons and a copy thereof delivered to the defendant, or defendants, at the time of the service of summons; provided, that the clerk may at the time of the issuance of summons on application of plaintiff by written order extend the time for filing complaint to a day certain not to exceed twenty (20) days, and a copy of such order shall be delivered to the defendant, or defendants, at the time of the service of summons in lieu of a copy of the complaint: Provided further, said application and order shall state the nature and purpose of the suit. The clerk shall not extend the time for filing complaint beyond the time specified in such order; except that when application is made to the court, under article forty-six of this chapter, for leave to examine the defendant prior to filing complaint, and it shall be made to appear to the court that such examination of defendant is necessary to enable the plaintiff to file his complaint, and such examination is allowed, the clerk shall extend the time for filing complaint until twenty (20) days after the report of the examination is filed as required by § 1-571. When the complaint is not filed at the time of the issuance of the summons, the plaintiff shall, when he files complaint, likewise file at least one copy thereof for the use of the defendant and his attorney. When there are more than one defendant, the clerk, may, by written notice to the plaintiff, require the filing of additional (not to exceed six) copies of the complaint within the time specified in such notice, not to exceed ten days. Such notice may be served by mailing to the plaintiff or his attorney of record. (Rev., ss. 465, 466; Code, ss. 206, 232, 238; C. C. P., s. 92; 1868-9, c. 76, s. 3; 1870-1, c. 42, s. 3; 1919, c. 304, s. 2; 1927, c. 66, s. 3; C. S. 505.)

§ 1-122. Contents.—The complaint must contain—

1. The title of the cause, specifying the name of the court in which the action is brought, the name of the county in which the trial is required to be had, and the names of the parties to the action, plaintiff and defendant.

2. A plain and concise statement of the facts constituting a cause of action, without unnecessary repetition; and each material allegation must be distinctly numbered.

3. A demand for the relief to which the plaintiff supposes himself entitled. If the recovery of money is demanded, the amount must be stated.

4. In actions for the recovery of a debt contracted for the purchase of land, a statement that the consideration of the debt was the purchase money of certain land, describing the land in an intelligible manner, such as the location, boundaries, and acreage. (Rev., ss. 467-8; Code, ss. 233-4; C. C. P., s. 93; 1879, c. 217; C. S. 506.)

§ 1-123. What causes of action may be joined.—The plaintiff may unite in the same complaint several causes of action, of legal or equitable nature, or both, where they all arise out of—

1. The same transaction, or transaction connected with the same subject of action.

2. Contract, express or implied.

3. Injuries with or without force to person or property.

4. Injuries to character.

5. Claims to recover real property, with or without damages for the withholding thereof, and the rents and profits of the same.

6. Claims to recover personal property, with or without damages for the withholding thereof; or,

7. Claims against a trustee, by virtue of a contract, or by operation of law. But the causes of action so united must all belong to one of these classes, and, except in actions for the foreclosure of mortgages, must affect all the parties to the action, and not require different places of trial, and must be separately stated.

In actions to foreclose mortgages, the court may adjudge and direct the payment by the mortgagor of any residue of the mortgage debt that remains unsatisfied after a sale of the mortgaged premises, in cases in which the mortgagor is personally liable for the debt secured; and if the mortgage debt is secured by the covenant or obligation of any person other than the mortgagor, the plaintiff may make that person a party to the action, and the court may adjudge payment of the residue of the debt remaining unsatisfied after a sale of the mortgaged premises, against the other person, and may enforce such judgment as in other cases. (Rev., s. 469; Code, s. 267; C. C. P., s. 126; C. S. 507.)

Art. 13. Defendant's Pleadings.

§ 1-124. Demurrer and answer. — The only pleading on the part of the defendant is either a demurrer or an answer. He may demur to one or more of several causes of action stated in the complaint, and answer to the residue. (Rev., ss. 470, 471; Code, ss. 238, 246; C. C. P., ss. 94, 103; C. S. 508.)

§ 1-125. When defendant appears and pleads; extension of time; clerk to mail answer to plaintiff.—The defendant must appear and demur or answer within thirty (30) days after the service of summons upon him, or within thirty (30) days after the final determination of a motion to remove as a matter of right, or after the final determination of a motion to dismiss upon a special appearance, or after the final determination of any other motion required to be made prior to the filing of the answer, or after final judgment overruling demurrer, or after the final determination of a motion to set aside a judgment by default under § 1-220, or to set aside a judgment under § 1-108. If the time is extended for filing complaint, then the defendant shall have thirty (30) days after the final day fixed by such extension in which to plead. The clerk shall not extend the time for filing answer or demurrer more than once nor for a period of time exceeding twenty days except by consent of parties. The defendant shall, when he files answer, likewise file at least one copy thereof for the use of the plaintiff, and his attorney; and the clerk shall not receive and file any answer until and unless such copy is filed therewith. The clerk shall forthwith mail the copy of answer filed to the plaintiff or his attorney of record. This section shall also apply to all courts of record inferior to the superior court, where any defendant resides out of the county from which the summons is issued and no court of record inferior to the superior court shall fix such return date at less than thirty (30) days. (Rev., s. 473; Code, 207; 1870-1, c. 42, s. 4; 1919, c. 304, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1919, c. 92, s. 3; 1927, c. 66, s. 4; 1935, c. 267; C. S. 509.)

§ 1-126. Sham and irrelevant defenses.—Sham and irrelevant answers and defenses may be stricken out on motion, upon such terms as the court may in its discretion impose. (Rev., s. 472; Code, s. 247; C. C. P., s. 104; C. S. 510.)

Art. 14. Demurrer.

§ 1-127. Grounds for.—The defendant may demur to the complaint when it appears upon the face thereof, either that:

1. The court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant, or of the subject of the action; or,
2. The plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue; or,
3. There is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause; or,
4. There is a defect of parties plaintiff or defendant; or,
5. Several causes of action have been improperly united; or,
6. The complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. (Rev., s. 474; Code, s. 239; C. C. P., s. 95; C. S. 511.)

§ 1-128. Must specify grounds.—The demurrer must distinctly specify the grounds of objection to the complaint, or it may be disregarded. It may be taken to the whole complaint, or to any of the alleged causes of action stated therein. (Rev., s. 475; Code, s. 240; C. C. P., s. 96; C. S. 512.)

§ 1-129. Amendment; hearing.—If a demurrer is filed the plaintiff may be allowed to amend. If plaintiff fail to amend within five days after notice, the parties may agree to a time and place of hearing the same before some judge of the superior court, and upon such agreement it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court forthwith to send the complaint and demurrer to the judge holding the courts of the district, or to the resident judge of the district, who shall hear and pass upon the demurrer: Provided, if there be no agreement between the parties as to the time and place of hearing the same before the judge of the superior court, then it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to send the complaint and demurrer to the judge holding the next term of the superior court in the county where the action is pending, who shall hear and pass upon the demurrer at that term of the court. (1919, c. 304, s. 4; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 5; C. S. 513.)

§ 1-130. Appeals.—Upon the rendering of the decision upon the demurrer, if either party desires to appeal, notice shall be given and the appeal perfected as is now provided in case of appeals from decisions in term time. (1919, c. 304, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 6; C. S. 514.)

§ 1-131. Procedure after return of judgment.—Within ten days after the return of the judgment upon the demurrer, if there is no appeal, or within ten days after the receipt of the certificate from the supreme court, if there is an appeal, if the demurrer is sustained the plaintiff may move, upon three days notice, for leave to amend the complaint. If this is not granted, judgment shall be entered dismissing the action. If the demurrer is overruled the answer shall be filed within ten days after the receipt of the judgment, if there is no appeal, or within ten days after the receipt of the certificate of the supreme court, if there is an appeal. Otherwise the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment by default final or by default and inquiry according to the course and practice of the court. (1919, c. 304, ss. 6, 7; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, ss. 7, 8; C. S. 515.)

§ 1-132. Division of actions when misjoinder.—If the demurrer is sustained for the reason that several causes of action have been improperly united, the judge shall, upon such terms as are just, order the action to be divided into as many actions as are necessary for the proper determination of the causes of the action therein mentioned. (Rev., s. 476; Code, s. 272; C. C. P., s. 131; C. S. 516.)

plaint, the objection may be taken by answer. (Rev., s. 477; Code, s. 241; C. C. P., s. 98; C. S. 517.)

§ 1-134. Objection waived.—If objection is not taken either by demurrer or answer, the defendant waives the same, except the objections to the jurisdiction of the court and that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. (Rev., s. 478; Code, s. 242; C. C. P., s. 99; C. S. 518.)

Art. 15. Answer.

§ 1-135. Contents.—The answer of the defendant must contain—

1. A general or specific denial of each material allegation of the complaint controverted by the defendant, or of any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief.

2. A statement of any new matter constituting a defense or counterclaim, in ordinary and concise language, without repetition. (Rev., s. 479; Code, s. 243; C. C. P., s. 100; C. S. 519.)

§ 1-136. Debt for purchase money of land denied.—If the defendant shall deny in his answer that the obligation sued on was for the purchase money of the land described in the complaint, it shall be the duty of the court to submit the issue so joined to the jury. (Rev., s. 480; Code, s. 235; 1879, c. 217; 1921, c. 45; C. S. 520.)

§ 1-137. Counterclaim.—The counterclaim mentioned in this article must be one existing in favor of a defendant and against a plaintiff between whom a several judgment might be had in the action, and arising out of one of the following causes of action:

1. A cause of action arising out of the contract or transaction set forth in the complaint as the foundation of the plaintiff's claim, or connected with the subject of the action.

2. In an action arising on contract, any other cause of action arising also on contract, and existing at the commencement of the action. (Rev., s. 481; Code, s. 244; C. C. P., s. 101; C. S. 521.)

§ 1-138. Several defenses.—The defendant may set forth by answer as many defenses and counterclaims as he has, whether they are of a legal or equitable nature, or both. They must be separately stated and numbered, and refer to the cause of action which they are intended to answer in such manner that they may be intelligibly distinguished. (Rev., s. 482; Code, s. 245; C. C. P., s. 102; C. S. 522.)

§ 1-139. Contributory negligence pleaded and proved.—In all actions to recover damages by reason of the negligence of the defendant, where contributory negligence is relied upon as a defense, it must be set up in the answer and proved on the trial. (Rev., s. 483; 1887, c. 33; C. S. 523.)

Art. 16. Reply.

§ 1-140. Demurrer or reply to answer; where answer contains a counterclaim.—If the answer contains a counterclaim against the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or any of them, such answer shall be served upon the plaintiff or plaintiffs against whom such counterclaim is plead, or against the attorney or attorneys of record of such plaintiff or plaintiffs; the plaintiff or plaintiffs against whom such counterclaim shall be plead shall have twenty (20) days after the service thereof within which to answer or reply to such counterclaim: Provided, for good cause shown, the clerk may extend the time of filing such answer or reply to a day certain. If a counterclaim is plead against any of the plaintiffs and no copy of the answer containing such counterclaim shall be served upon the plaintiff or plaintiffs or his or their attorneys of record, such counterclaim shall be deemed to be denied as fully as if the plaintiff or plaintiffs had filed an answer or reply denying the same. All other replies, if any, shall be filed within twenty (20) days from the filing of the answer: Provided, for good cause shown, the clerk or judge, in the event the cause shall have been transferred to the civil issue docket, may extend the time to a day certain. (Rev., s. 484; Code, s. 208; 1870-71, c. 42, s. 5; 1919, c. 304; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 18; C. S. 524.)

§ 1-141. Content; demurrer to answer.—When the answer contains new matter constituting a counterclaim, the plaintiff may reply to the new matter, denying generally or specifically each allegation controverted by him or any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief; and he may allege in ordinary and concise language, without repetition, any new matter not inconsistent with the complaint, constituting a defense to the new matter in the answer. The plaintiff may in all cases demur to an answer containing new matter, where, upon its face, it does not constitute a counterclaim or defense; and he may demur to one or more of such defenses or counterclaims, and reply to the residue. Such demurrer shall be heard and determined as provided for demurrers to the complaint. In other cases, when an answer contains new matter constituting a defense by way of avoidance, the court may in its discretion, on the defendant's motion, require a reply to such new matter, and such reply shall be subject to the same rules as a reply to a counterclaim. (Rev., s. 485; Code, s. 248; C. C. P., s. 105; 1919, c. 304; C. S. 525.)

§ 1-142. Demurrer to reply.—If a reply of the plaintiff to a defense set up by the answer of the defendant is insufficient, the defendant may demur thereto, and must state the grounds thereof. (Rev., s. 486; Code, s. 250; C. C. P., s. 107; C. S. 526.)

Art. 17. Pleadings, General Provisions.

§ 1-143. Forms of pleading.—The forms of pleading in civil actions in courts of record, and the rules by which the sufficiency of the pleadings is to be determined, are those prescribed by this chapter. (Rev., s. 487; Code, s. 231; C. C. P., s. 91; C. S. 527.)

§ 1-144. Subscription and verification of pleading.—Every pleading in a court of record must be subscribed by the party or his attorney, and when any pleading is verified, every subsequent pleading, except a demurrer, must be verified also. (Rev., s. 488; Code, s. 257; C. C. P., s. 116; C. S. 528.)

§ 1-145. Form of verification.—The verification must be in substance that the same is true to the knowledge of the person making it, except as to those matters stated on information and belief, and as to those matters he believes it to be true; and must be by affidavit of the party, or if there are several parties united in interest and pleading together, by one at least of such parties acquainted with the facts, if the party is in the county where the attorney resides and is capable of making the affidavit. (Rev., s. 489; Code, s. 258; C. C. P., s. 117; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 7; C. S. 529.)

§ 1-146. Verification by agent or attorney.—The affidavit may also be made by the agent or attorney, if the action or defense is founded upon a written instrument for the payment of money only and the instrument is in the possession of the agent or attorney, or if all the material allegations of the pleadings are within the personal knowledge of the agent or attorney. When the pleading is verified by any other person than the party, he shall set forth in the affidavit his knowledge or the grounds of his belief on the subject, and the reasons why it is not made by the party. (Rev., s. 490; Code, s. 258; C. C. P., s. 117; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 7; C. S. 530.)

§ 1-147. Verification by corporation or the state.—When a corporation is a party the verification may be made by any officer, or managing or local agent thereof upon whom summons might be served; and when the state or any officer thereof in its behalf is a party, the verification may be made by any person acquainted with the facts. (Rev., s. 491; Code, s. 258; 1901, c. 610; C. C. P., s. 117; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 7; C. S. 531.)

§ 1-148. Verification before what officer.—Any officer competent to take the acknowledgment of deeds, and any judge or clerk of the superior court, notary public, in or out of the state, or justice of the peace, is competent to take affidavits for the verification of pleadings, in any court or county in the state, and for general purposes. (Rev., s. 492; Code, s. 258; 1891, c. 140; C. C. P., s. 117; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 7; C. S. 532.)

§ 1-149. When verification omitted; use in criminal prosecutions.—The verification may be omitted when an admission of the truth of the allegation might subject the party to prosecution for felony. No pleading can be used in a criminal prosecution against the party as proof of a fact admitted or alleged in it. (Rev., s. 493; Code, s. 258; C. C. P., s. 117; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 7; C. S. 533.)

§ 1-150. Items of account; bill of particulars.—It is not necessary for a party to set forth in a pleading the items of an account alleged in it; but he must deliver to the adverse party, within ten days after a demand therefor in writing, a copy of the account, which, if the pleading is verified, must be verified by his own oath or that of his agent or attorney if within the personal knowledge of the agent or attorney, to the effect that he believes it to be true, or be precluded from giving evidence thereof. The court or judge may order a further account when the one delivered is defective, and may, in all cases, order a bill of particulars of the claim of either party to be furnished. (Rev., s. 494; Code, s. 259; C. C. P., s. 118; C. S. 534.)

§ 1-151. Pleadings construed liberally.—In the construction of a pleading for the purpose of determining its effect its allegations shall be liberally construed with a view to substantial justice between the parties. (Rev., s. 495; Code, s. 260; C. C. P., s. 119; C. S. 535.)

§ 1-152. Time for pleading enlarged. — The judge may likewise, in his discretion, and upon such terms as may be just, allow an answer or reply to be made, or other act to be done, after the time limited, or by an order may enlarge the time. (Rev., s. 512; Code, s. 274; C. C. P., s. 133; C. S. 536.)

§ 1-153. Irrelevant, redundant, indefinite pleadings.—If irrelevant or redundant matter is inserted in a pleading, it may be stricken out on motion of any person aggrieved thereby, but this motion must be made before answer or demurrer, or before an extension of time to plead is granted. When the allegations of a pleading are so indefinite or uncertain that the precise nature of the charge or defense is not apparent, the court may require the pleading to be made definite and certain by amendment. (Rev., s. 496; Code, s. 261; C. C. P., s. 120; C. S. 537.)

§ 1-154. Pleading judgments. — In pleading a judgment or other determination of a court or of an officer of special jurisdiction, it is not necessary to state the facts conferring jurisdiction, but the judgment or determination may be stated to have been duly given or made. If this allegation is controverted, the party pleading must establish, on the trial, the facts conferring jurisdiction. (Rev., s. 497; Code, s. 262; C. C. P., s. 121; C. S. 538.)

§ 1-155. How conditions precedent pleaded.—In pleading the performance of conditions precedent in a contract, it is not necessary to state the facts showing performance, but it may be stated generally that the party duly performed all the conditions on his part. If this allegation is controverted, the party pleading must establish, on the trial, the facts showing performance. (Rev., s. 498; Code, s. 263; C. C. P., s. 122; C. S. 539.)

§ 1-156. How instrument for payment of money pleaded.—In an action or defense founded upon an instrument for the payment of money only, it is sufficient for the party pleading to give a copy of the instrument, and to state that there is due to him thereon, from the adverse party, a specified sum which he claims. (Rev., s. 499; Code, s. 263; C. C. P., s. 122; C. S. 540.)

§ 1-157. How private statutes pleaded. — In pleading a private statute or right derived therefrom it is sufficient to refer to the statute by its title or the day of its ratification, and the court shall thereupon take judicial notice of it. (Rev., s. 500; Code, s. 264; C. C. P., s. 123; C. S. 541.)

§ 1-158. Pleadings in libel and slander.—In an action for libel or slander it is not necessary to state in the complaint any extrinsic facts for the purpose of showing the application to the plaintiff of the defamatory matter out of which the cause of action arose, but it is sufficient to state generally that the same was published or spoken concerning the plaintiff; and if such allegation is controverted, the plaintiff is bound to establish on trial that it was so published or spoken.

The defendant may in his answer allege both the truth of the matter charged as defamatory, and any mitigating circumstances to reduce the amount of damages; and whether he proves the justification or not, he may give in evidence the mitigating circumstances. (Rev., ss. 501, 502; Code, ss. 265, 266; C. C. P., ss. 124, 125; C. S. 542.)

§ 1-159. Allegations not denied, deemed true.—Every material allegation of the complaint not controverted by the answer, and every material allegation of new matter in the answer, constituting a counterclaim, not controverted by the reply is, for the purposes of the action, taken as true. But the allegation of new matter in the answer, not relating to a counterclaim, or of new matter in reply, is to be deemed controverted by the adverse party as upon a direct denial or avoidance, as the case requires. (Rev., s. 503; Code, s. 268; C. C. P., s. 127; C. S. 543.)

§ 1-160. Pleading lost, copy used.—If an original pleading or paper is lost or withheld by any person, the court may authorize a copy to be filed and used instead of the original. (Rev., s. 504; Code, s. 600; C. C. P., s. 357; C. S. 544.)

Art. 18. Amendments.

§ 1-161. Amendment as of course.—Any pleading may be once amended of course, without costs, and without prejudice to the proceedings already had, at any time before the period for answering it expires; or it can be so amended at any time, unless it is made to appear to the court that it was done for the purpose of delay, and the plaintiff or defendant will thereby lose the benefit of a term for which the cause is, or may be, docketed for trial; and if it appears to the court or judge that the amendment was made for that purpose, it may be stricken out, and such terms imposed as seem just to the court or judge. (Rev., s. 505; Code, s. 272; C. C. P., s. 131; C. S. 545.)

§ 1-162. Pleading over after demurrer.—After the decision on a demurrer, the judge shall, if it appear that the demurrer was interposed in good faith, allow the party to plead over upon such terms as may be just. (Rev., s. 506; Code, s. 272; C. C. P., s. 131; 1871-2, c. 173; C. S. 546.)

§ 1-163. Amendments in discretion of court.—The judge or court may, before and after judgment, in furtherance of justice, and on such terms as may be proper, amend any pleading, process or proceeding, by adding or striking out the name of any party; by correcting a mistake in the name of a party, or a mistake in any other respect; by inserting other allegations material to the case; or when the amendment does not change substantially the claim or defense, by conforming the pleading or proceeding to the fact proved. When a proceeding taken by a party fails to conform to law in any respect, the trial judge may permit an amendment of the proceeding so as to make it conformable thereto. (Rev., ss. 507, 512; Code, ss. 273, 274; C. C. P., ss. 132, 133; C. S. 547.)

§ 1-164. Amendment changing nature of action or relief; effect.—When the complaint is so amended as to change the nature of the action and the character of the relief demanded, the judgment rendered does not operate as an estoppel upon any person acquiring an interest in the property in controversy prior to the allowance of the amendment. (Rev., s. 508; 1901, c. 486; C. S. 548.)

§ 1-165. Unsubstantial defects disregarded.—The court or judge shall, in every stage of the action, disregard any error or defect in the pleadings or proceedings which do not affect the substantial rights of the adverse party; and no judgment may be reversed or affected by reason of such error or defect. (Rev., s. 509; Code, s. 276; R. C., c. 3, ss. 5, 6; C. C. P., s. 135; C. S. 549.)

§ 1-166. Defendant sued in fictitious name; amendment.—When the plaintiff is ignorant of the name of a defendant the latter may be designated in a pleading or proceeding by any name; and when his true name is discovered, the pleading or proceeding may be amended accordingly. (Rev., s. 510; Code, s. 275; C. C. P., s. 134; C. S. 550.)

§ 1-167. Supplemental pleadings.—The plaintiff or defendant respectively may be allowed on motion to make a supplemental complaint, answer or reply, alleging facts material to the case occurring after, or of which the party was ignorant when his former pleading was filed. Either party may set up by a supplemental pleading, the judgment or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, rendered since the commencement of an action, determining all or any part of the matter in controversy in said action, and if the judgment is set up by the plaintiff, it shall be without prejudice to any provisional remedy theretofore issued or other proceedings had in the action on his behalf. Such motions may be made before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the action is pending, by filing with the clerk the original and one copy of the proposed amended pleading and motion, which copy shall be forwarded to the opposing party or counsel and in which motion the clerk shall name a day and time of not less than ten days, unless by consent, to hear any objection to same; from the determination of the clerk, either party may have the matter sent to the judge of, or holding courts in the judicial district in which the matter is pending, by giving notice thereof to the clerk and opposing party or counsel within ten days from such date of hearing by the clerk: Provided, such motion shall be made at least thirty days before the convening of a term of court at which the cause may be calendared for trial. (Rev., s. 511; Code, s. 277; C. C. P., s. 136; 1929, c. 95; C. S. 551.)

§ 1-168. Variance, material and immaterial.—1. No variance between the allegation in a pleading and the proof shall be deemed material, unless it has actually misled the adverse party to his prejudice in maintaining his action upon the merits. Whenever it is alleged that a party has been so misled, that fact and in what respect he has been misled must be proved to the satisfaction of the court; and thereupon the judge may order the pleading to be amended upon such terms as shall be just.

2. Where the variance is not material as herein provided, the judge may direct the fact to be found according to the evidence, or may order an immediate amendment without costs. (Rev., ss. 515, 516; Code, ss. 269, 270; C. C. P., ss. 128, 129; C. S. 552.)

§ 1-169. Total failure of proof.—Where the allegation of the cause of action or defense to which the proof is directed is unproved, not in some particular or particulars only, but in its entire scope and meaning, it is not deemed a case of variance, but a failure of proof. (Rev., s. 517; Code, s. 397; C. C. P., s. 223; C. S. 553.)

SUBCHAPTER VII. TRIAL AND ITS INCIDENTS.

Art. 19. Trial.

§ 1-170. Defined.—A trial is the judicial examination of the issues between the parties, whether they be issues of law or of fact. (Rev., s. 526; Code, s. 397; C. C. P., s. 223; C. S. 554.)

§ 1-171. Joinder of issue and trial.—Pleadings shall be made up and issues joined before the clerk. After pleadings have been so made up and issues joined, the clerk shall forthwith transmit the original papers in the cause to the court at term for trial upon the issues, when the case shall be proceeded with according to the course and practice of the court, and on appeal with the same procedure as is now in force. (1919, c. 304, s. 8; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 13; C. S. 555.)

§ 1-172. How issue tried.—An issue of law must be tried by the judge or court, unless it is referred. An issue of fact must be tried by a jury, unless a trial by jury is waived or a reference ordered. Every other issue is triable by the court, or judge, who, however, may order the whole issue, or any specific question of fact involved therein, to be tried by a jury, or may refer it. (Rev., s. 527; Code, ss. 398, 399; C. C. P., ss. 224, 225; C. S. 556.)

§ 1-173. Issues of fact.—Every issue of fact joined on the pleadings, and inquiry of damages ordered to be tried by a jury, must be tried at the term of the court next ensuing the joinder of issue or order for inquiry, if the issue was joined or order made more than ten days before such term, but if not, they may be tried at the second term after the joinder or order. (Rev., s. 528; Code, s. 400; C. C. P., s. 226; 1923, c. 54; 1925, c. 5; C. S. 557.)

§ 1-174. Issues of fact before the clerk.—All issues of fact joined before the clerk shall be transferred to the superior court for trial at the next succeeding term, and in case of such transfer neither party is required to give an undertaking for costs. (Rev., s. 529; C. S. 558.)

§ 1-175. Continuance before term; affidavit.—A party to an action may apply to the court in which it is pending, or to the judge thereof, by affidavit, thirty days before the trial term, and after three days notice in writing to the adverse party, to have the trial continued to a term subsequent to that in which it is regularly triable. The court or judge may continue the trial as asked for, on such terms as may be just, if satisfied—

1. That the applicant has used due diligence to have his case ready for trial.

2. That by reason of circumstances beyond his control, which he must set forth, he cannot have a fair trial at the regular trial term. If the application is made by reason of the expected absence of a witness, it must state the name and residence of the witness, the facts expected to be proved by him, the grounds for the expectation of his nonattendance, and that the applicant expects to procure his evidence at or before some named subsequent term. The applicant must in all cases pay the costs of the application. (Rev., s. 530; Code, 401; C. C. P., s. 227; C. S. 559.)

§ 1-176. Continuance during term.—The judge at any time during the term at which an action is triable may continue the trial on the application of either party, and on such terms as shall be just, if satisfied—

1. That the applicant has used due diligence to be ready for trial.

2. That he cannot have a fair trial at that term, by reason of circumstances stated, and if the ground of application is the nonattendance of a witness, the affidavit must contain the particulars required by subdivision two of § 1-175. Unless the applicant also sets forth in his affidavit that the facts upon which his application is grounded occurred or came to his knowledge too late to allow him to apply as prescribed in § 1-175, and that his application is made as soon as it reasonably could be after the knowledge of those facts, the continuance shall not be granted, except on the payment of the costs in the action for the term. (Rev., s. 531; Code, s. 402; C. C. P., s. 228; R. C., c. 31, s. 57; C. S. 560.)

§ 1-177. Counter affidavits as to continuance.—It is competent in all civil cases only for the opposing side to controvert the allegations of fact in applications for continuance, and to offer counter affidavits to that end. The judge shall not allow the continuance unless satisfied, after thorough examination of the evidence aforesaid, that the ends of justice demand it. (Rev., s. 532; 1885, c 394; C. S. 561.)

§ 1-178. Order of business.—The criminal calendar must be first disposed of, unless, by consent of counsel, or for reasons satisfactory to the judge, particular criminal actions may be deferred. The issue on the civil calendar must be disposed of in the following order, unless, for the convenience of parties or the dispatch of business, the court otherwise directs:

1. Issues of fact to be tried by a jury.
2. Issues of fact to be tried by the court.
3. Issues of law.

§ 1-179. Separate trials.—A separate trial between a plaintiff and any of several defendants may be allowed by the court when, in its opinion, justice will thereby be promoted. (Rev., s. 534; Code, s. 407; C. C. P., s. 230; C. S. 563.)

§ 1-180. Judge to explain law, but give no opinion on facts.—No judge, in giving a charge to the petit jury, either in a civil or criminal action, shall give an opinion whether a fact is fully or sufficiently proven, that being the true office and province of the jury; but he shall state in a plain and correct manner the evidence given in the case and declare and explain the law arising thereon. (Rev., s. 535; Code, s. 413; C. C. P., s. 237; R. C., c. 31, s. 130; 1796, c. 452; C. S. 564.)

§ 1-181. Request for instructions.—Counsel praying of the judge instructions to the jury, must put their requests in writing entitled of the cause, and sign them; otherwise the judge may disregard them. They must be filed with the clerk as a part of the record. (Rev., s. 538; Code, s. 415; C. C. P., s. 239; C. S. 565.)

§ 1-182. Instructions in writing; when to be taken to jury room.—The judge, at the request of any party to an action on trial, made at or before the close of the evidence, before instructing the jury on the law, must put his instructions in writing and read them to the jury. He shall then sign and file them with the clerk as a part of the record of the action.

When a judge puts his instructions in writing either of his own will or at the request of a party to the action, he must, at the request of either party to the action, allow the jury to take his instructions with them on their retirement, and the jury must return the instructions with their verdict to the court. (Rev., ss. 536, 537; Code, s. 414; C. C. P., s. 238; 1885, c. 137; C. S. 566.)

§ 1-183. Motion for nonsuit.—When on trial of an issue of fact in a civil action or special proceeding, the plaintiff has introduced his evidence and rested his case, the defendant may move to dismiss the action, or for judgment as in case of nonsuit. If the motion is allowed the plaintiff may except and appeal to the supreme court. If the motion is refused the defendant may except, and if the defendant introduces no evidence the jury shall pass upon the issues in the action, and the defendant has the benefit of his exception on appeal to the supreme court. After the motion is refused he may waive his exception and introduce his evidence just as if he had not made the motion, and he may again move to dismiss after all the evidence on both sides is in. If the motion is then refused, upon consideration of all the evidence, he may except, and after the jury has rendered its verdict, he has the benefit of the latter exception on appeal to the supreme court. (Rev., s. 539; 1897, c. 109; 1899, c. 131; 1901, c. 594; C. S. 567.)

§ 1-184. Waiver of jury trial.—Trial by jury may be waived by the several parties to an issue of fact, in actions on contract, and with the assent of the court in other actions, in the manner following:

1. By failing to appear at the trial.
2. By written consent, in person or by attorney, filed with the clerk.
3. By oral consent, entered in the minutes. (Rev., s. 540; Code, s. 416; C. C. P., s. 240; C. S. 568.)

§ 1-185. Findings of fact and conclusions of law by judge.—Upon trial of an issue of fact by the court, its decision shall be given in writing, and shall contain a statement of the facts found, and the conclusions of law separately. Upon trial of an issue of law, the decision shall be made in the same manner, stating the conclusions of law. Such decision must be filed with the clerk during the court at which the trial takes place, and judgment upon it shall be entered accordingly. (Rev., s. 541; Code, s. 417; C. C. P., s. 241; C. S. 569.)

§ 1-186. Exceptions to decision of court. — 1. For the purposes of an appeal, either party may except to a decision on a matter of law arising upon a trial by the court within ten days after the judgment, in the same manner and with the same effect as upon a trial by jury. Where the decision does not authorize a final judgment, but directs further proceedings before a referee or otherwise, either party may except thereto, and make a case or exception as above provided in case of an appeal.

2. Either party desiring a review, upon the evidence appearing on the trial of the questions of law, may at any time within ten days after the judgment, or within such time as is prescribed by the rules of the court, make a case or exceptions in like manner as upon a trial by jury, except that the judge in settling the case must briefly specify the facts found by him, and his conclusions of law. (Rev., s. 542; Code, s. 418; C. C. P., s. 242; C. S. 570.)

§ 1-187. Proceedings upon judgment on issue of law.—On a judgment for the plaintiff upon an issue of law, he may proceed in the manner prescribed by the first two subdivisions of section 1-211 herein upon failure of the defendant to answer, where the summons was personally served. If judgment is for the defendant, upon an issue of law, and if taking of an account or the proof of any fact is necessary to enable the court to complete the judgment, a reference or assessment by jury may be ordered, as provided in section 1-212 herein. (Rev., s. 543; Code, s. 419; C. C. P., s. 243; C. S. 571.)

Art. 20. Reference.

§ 1-188. By consent.—Any or all of the issues in an action, whether of fact or law, may be referred, upon the written consent of the parties, except in actions to annul a marriage, or for divorce and separation. (Rev., s. 518; Code, s. 420; C. C. P., s. 244; C. S. 572.)

§ 1-189. Compulsory.—Where the parties do not consent, the court may, upon the application of either, or of its own motion, direct a reference in the following cases:

1. Where the trial of an issue of fact requires the examination of a long account on either side; in which case the referee may be directed to hear and decide the whole issue, or to report upon any specific question of fact involved therein.
2. Where the taking of an account is necessary for the information of the court, before judgment, or for carrying a judgment or order into effect.
3. Where the case involves a complicated question of boundary, or one which requires a personal view of the premises.
4. Where a question of fact other than upon the pleadings arises upon motion or otherwise, in any stage of the action.
5. Where the issues of fact and questions of fact arise in an action of which the courts of equity of the state had exclusive jurisdiction prior to the adoption of the constitution of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and in which the matter or amount in dispute is not less than the sum or value of five hundred dollars.

The compulsory reference under this section does not deprive either party of his constitutional right to a trial by jury of the issues of fact arising on the pleadings, but such trial shall be only upon the written evidence taken before the referee. (Rev., s. 519; Code, s. 421; 1897, c. 237, ss. 1, 2; C. C. P., s. 245; 1917, c. 280; 1919, c. 7; C. S. 573.)

§ 1-190. How referee chosen or appointed.—In all cases of reference the parties as to whom issues are joined in the action (except when the defendant is an infant or an absentee) may agree in writing upon a person or persons, not exceeding three, and a reference shall be ordered to him or them, and to no other person or persons. And if such parties do not agree, the court shall appoint one or more referees, not more than three, who are free from exception. No person may be appointed referee to whom all parties in the action object. No judge or justice of any court may sit as referee in action pending in the court of which he is judge or justice, and not already referred, unless the parties otherwise stipulate. (Rev., s. 520; Code, s. 423; C. C. P., s. 247; C. S. 574.)

§ 1-191. Referees may administer oaths.—Every referee has power to administer oaths in any proceeding before him, and has generally the power vested in a referee by law. (Rev., s. 521; Code, s. 599; C. C. P., s. 356; C. S. 575.)

§ 1-192. Powers of referee of trial.—The trial by referees shall be conducted in the same manner as a trial by the court. Referees have the same power to grant adjournments and to allow amendments to pleadings and to the summons as the court upon such trial, upon the same terms and with like effect. They shall have the same power to preserve order and punish all violations thereof upon such trial, and to compel the attendance of witnesses before them by attachment and to punish them as for contempt for nonattendance or refusal to be sworn or to testify, as is possessed by the court. (Rev., s. 522; Code, s. 422; C. C. P., s. 246; C. S. 576.)

§ 1-193. Testimony reduced to writing.—The testimony of all witnesses on both sides must be reduced to writing by the referee, or under his direction, and signed by the witnesses, and the evidence so taken and signed shall be filed in the cause, and constitute a part of the record. (Rev., s. 523; 1897, c. 237, s. 3; C. S. 577.)

§ 1-194. Report; review and judgment.—The referee shall make and deliver a report, within the time ordered by the court, to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending. Either party, during the term or upon ten days notice to the adverse party out of term, may move the judge to review the report, and set aside, modify or confirm it in whole or in part, and no judgment may be entered on any reference except by order of the judge. (Rev., s. 524; Code, s. 423; C. C. P., s. 247; C. S. 578.)

§ 1-195. Report, contents and effect.—The referee must state the facts found and the conclusions of law separately. His decision must be given, and may be excepted to and reviewed in like manner and with like effect in all respects as in cases of appeal; and he may in like manner settle a case or exceptions. The report of the referee upon the whole issue stands as the decision of the court, and judgment may be entered thereon upon application to the judge. When the reference is to report the facts, the report has the effect of a special verdict. (Rev., s. 525; Code, s. 422; C. C. P., s. 246; C. S. 579.)

Art. 21. Issues.

§ 1-196. Defined.—Issues arise upon the pleadings, when a material fact or conclusion of law is maintained by one party and controverted by the other. They are of two kinds:

1. Of law.
2. Of fact.

(Rev., s. 544; Code, s. 391; C. C. P., s. 219; C. S. 580.)

§ 1-197. Of law.—An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint, answer or reply, or to some part thereof. (Rev., s. 545; Code, s. 392; C. C. P., s. 220; C. S. 581.)

§ 1-198. Of fact.—An issue of fact arises—

1. Upon a material allegation in the complaint controverted by the answer; or,
2. Upon new matter in the answer, controverted by the reply; or,
3. Upon new matter in the reply, unless an issue of law is joined thereon. (Rev., s. 546; Code, s. 393; C. C. P., s. 221; C. S. 582.)

§ 1-199. Order of trial.—Issues both of law and of fact may arise upon different parts of the pleadings in the same action. In these cases the issues of law must be first tried, unless the court otherwise directs. (Rev., s. 547; Code, s. 394; C. C. P., s. 222; C. S. 583.)

§ 1-200. Form and preparation.—Issues shall be framed in concise and direct terms, and prolixity and confusion must be avoided by not having too many issues. The issues arising upon the pleadings, material to be tried, must be made up by the attorneys appearing in the action, or by the judge presiding, and reduced to writing, before or during the trial. (Rev., ss. 548, 549; Code, ss. 395, 396; C. S. 584.)

Art. 22. Verdict.

§ 1-201. General and special.—A general verdict is that by which the jury pronounce generally upon all or any of the issues, either in favor of the plaintiff or defendant. A special verdict is that by which the jury finds the facts only, leaving the judgment to the court. (Rev., s. 550; Code, s. 408; C. C. P., s. 232; C. S. 585.)

§ 1-202. Special controls general.—Where a special finding of facts is inconsistent with the general verdict, the former controls, and the court shall give judgment accordingly. (Rev., s. 552; Code, s. 410; C. C. P., s. 234; C. S. 586.)

§ 1-203. Character of, for different actions.—In an action for the recovery of specific personal property, if the property has not been delivered to the plaintiff, or the defendant by his answer claims a return thereof, the jury shall assess the value of the property, if their verdict is in favor of the plaintiff; or if they find in favor of the defendant, and that he is entitled to a return thereof, they may at the same time assess the damages, if any are claimed in the complaint or answer, which the prevailing party has sustained by reason of the detention or taking and withholding the property. In every action for the recovery of money only, or specific real property, the jury, in their discretion, may render a general or special verdict. In all other cases, the court may direct the jury to find a special verdict in writing, upon all or any of the issues; and in all cases may instruct them, if they render a general verdict, to find upon particular questions of fact, to be stated in writing, and may direct a written finding thereon. The special verdict or finding shall be filed with the clerk, and entered upon the minutes. (Rev., s. 551; Code, s. 409; C. C. P., s. 233; C. S. 587.)

§ 1-204. Jury to assess damages; counterclaim.—When a verdict is found for the plaintiff in an action for the recovery of money, or for the defendant when a counterclaim for the recovery of money is established beyond the amount of the plaintiff's claim as established, the jury must also assess the amount of the recovery; they may also, under the direction of the court, assess the amount of the recovery when the court gives judgment for the plaintiff on the answer. If a counterclaim, established at the trial, exceeds the plaintiff's demand so established, judgment for the defendant must be given for the excess; or if it appears that the defendant is entitled to any other affirmative relief, judgment must be given accordingly. (Rev., s. 553; Code, s. 411; C. C. P., s. 235; C. S. 588.)

§ 1-205. Entry of verdict and judgment.—Upon receiving a verdict, the clerk shall make an entry in his minutes, specifying the time and place of the trial, the names of the jurors and witnesses, the verdict, and either the judgment rendered thereon or an order that the cause be reserved for argument or further consideration. If a different direction is not given by the court, the clerk must enter judgment in conformity with the verdict. (Rev., s. 554; Code, s. 412; C. C. P., s. 236; C. S. 589.)

§ 1-206. Exceptions.—1. If an exception is taken upon the trial, it must be reduced to writing at the time with so much of the evidence or subject matter as may be material to the exception taken; the same must be entered in the judge's minutes and filed with the clerk as a part of the case upon appeal.

2. If there is error, either in the refusal of the judge to grant a prayer for instructions, or in granting a prayer, or in his instructions generally, the same is deemed excepted to without the filing of any formal objections. (Rev., s. 554; Code, s. 412; C. C. P., s. 236; C. S. 590.)

§ 1-207. Motion to set aside.—The judge who tries the cause may, in his discretion, entertain a motion, to be made on his minutes, to set aside a verdict and grant a new trial upon exceptions, or for insufficient evidence, or for excessive damages; but such motion can only be heard at the same term at which the trial is had. When the motion is heard and decided upon the minutes of the judge, and an appeal is taken from the decision, a case or exceptions must be settled in the usual form, upon which the argument of the appeal must be had. (Rev., s. 554; Code, s. 412; C. C. P., s. 236; C. S. 591.)

SUBCHAPTER VIII. JUDGMENT.

Art. 23. Judgment.

§ 1-208. Defined.—A judgment is either interlocutory or the final determination of the rights of the parties in the action. (Rev., s. 555; Code, s. 384; C. C. P., s. 216; C. S. 592.)

§ 1-209. Judgments authorized to be entered by clerk; sale of property; continuance pending sale; writs of assistance and possession.—The clerks of the superior courts are authorized to enter the following judgments: (a) All judgments of voluntary nonsuit. (b) All consent judgments (judgments coming within the meaning of (a) and (b) may be entered at any time). (c) In all actions upon notes, bills, bonds, stated accounts, balances struck, and other evidences of indebtedness within the jurisdiction of the superior court. (d) All judgments by default final and default and inquiry as are authorized by §§ 1-211, 1-212, 1-213, and in this section provided. (e) In all cases where the clerks of the superior court enter judgment by default final upon any debt secured by mortgage, deed of trust, conditional sale contract or other conveyance of any kind, either real or personal property, or by a pledge of property, the said clerks of the superior court are authorized and empowered to order a foreclosure of such mortgage, deed of trust, conditional sale contract, or other conveyance, and order a sale of the property so conveyed or pledged upon such terms as appear to be just; and the said clerks of the superior court shall have all the power and authority now exercised by the judges of the superior court to appoint commissioners to make such sales, to receive the reports thereof, and to confirm the report of sale or to order a resale, and to that end they are authorized to continue such causes from time to time as may be required to complete the sale, and in the final judgment in said causes they shall order the execution and delivery of all necessary deeds and make all necessary orders disbursing the funds arising from the sale, and may issue writs of assistance and possession upon ten days notice to parties in possession. The commissioners appointed to make foreclosure sales, as herein authorized, may proceed to advertise such sales immediately after the date of entering judgment and order of foreclosure, unless otherwise provided in said judgment and order.

In any tax foreclosure action pending on March 15, 1939 or thereafter brought under the provisions of § 105-414 in which there is filed no answer which seeks to prevent entry of judgment of sale, the clerk of the superior court may render judgment of sale and make all necessary subsequent orders and judgments to the same extent as permitted by this section in actions brought to foreclose a mortgage. All such judgments and orders heretofore rendered or made by a clerk of the superior court in such tax foreclosure actions are hereby, as to the authority of said clerk, ratified and confirmed. (1919, c. 156; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 12; 1929, cc. 35, 49; 1939, c. 107; C. S. 593.)

Local Modification.—Vance: 1941, c. 139, s. 1.

§ 1-210. Return of execution; order for disbursement of proceeds.—In all executions issued by the clerk of the Superior Court upon judgment before the clerk of the Superior Court, under § 1-209, and execution issued thereon, the sheriff shall make his return to the clerk of the Superior Court, who shall make the final order directing the sheriff to disburse the proceeds received by him under said execution: Provided, that any interested party may appeal to the Superior Court, where the matter shall be heard de novo. (1925, c. 222, s. 1.)

§ 1-211. By default final.—Judgment by default final may be had on failure of defendant to answer—

1. Where the complaint sets forth one or more causes of action, each consisting of the breach of an express or implied contract to pay, absolutely or upon a contingency, a sum or sums of money fixed by the terms of the contract, or capable of being ascertained therefrom by computation. Upon proof of personal service of summons, or of service of summons by publication, on one or more of the defendants, and upon the complaint being verified, judgment shall be entered for the amount mentioned in the complaint, against the defendant or defendants, or against one or more of several defendants.

2. Where the defendant, by his answer in such action, does not deny the plaintiff's claim, but sets up a counterclaim, amounting to less than the plaintiff's claim, judgment may be had by the plaintiff for the excess of his claim over the counterclaim, in like manner in any such action, upon the plaintiff's filing with the court a statement admitting the counterclaim, which statement must be annexed to and be a part of the judgment roll. Or the court may in its discretion, order the pleadings to be so amended and the action severed as to entitle the plaintiff to judgment upon all of the claims admitted over and above the setoff or counterclaim pleaded by the defendant; and, upon application of the plaintiff, shall enter judgment for the plaintiff for so much of the claim as is admitted. The action shall thereupon be continued as to subsequent proceedings, as if it had been brought for the remainder of the claim, and the counterclaim or setoff as pleaded by the defendant shall apply thereto. Said remainder of the claim shall in any event be sufficient to cover the full amount of the principal and interest set up by the defendant in the counterclaim or setoff, and an amount in excess thereof, if in the discretion of the court the same is necessary, the court being empowered to designate and determine what part of the plaintiff's claim shall be held for the subsequent proceedings herein referred to.

3. In actions where the service of the summons was by publication, the plaintiff may, in like manner, apply for judgment, and the court must thereupon require proof to be made of the demand mentioned in the complaint, and if the defendant is not a resident of the state, must require the plaintiff or his agent to be examined on oath respecting any payments that have been made to the plaintiff, or to any one for his use on account of such demand, and may render judgment for the amount which he is entitled to recover. Before rendering judgment the court may in its discretion require the plaintiff to cause to be filed satisfactory security to abide the order of the court touching the restitution of any estate or effects which may be directed by such judgment to be transferred or delivered, or the restitution of any money that may be collected under and by virtue of said judgment, in case the defendant or his representatives apply and are admitted to defend the action, and succeed in such defense.

4. In actions for the recovery of real property, or for the possession thereof, upon the failure of the defendant to file the undertaking required by law, or upon failure of his sureties to justify according to law, unless the defendant is excused from giving such undertaking before answering.

5. In actions for the recovery of personal property, or for the possession thereof, or to have the plaintiff or plaintiffs adjudged the owner or owners thereof, if the complaint be verified. (Rev., s. 556; Code, ss. 385, 390; C. C. P., s. 217; 1870-1, c. 42; 1869-70, c. 193, s. 4; 1919, c. 26; 1929, c. 66; C. S. 595.)

§ 1-212. By default and inquiry.—In all other actions, except those mentioned in § 1-211, when the defendant fails to answer and upon a like proof, judgment by default and inquiry may be had, and inquiry shall be executed at the next succeeding term. If the taking of an intricate or long account is necessary to execute properly the inquiry, the court, at the return term, may order the account to be taken by the clerk of the court or some other fit person, and the referee shall make his report at the next succeeding term; in all other cases the inquiry shall be executed by a jury, unless by consent the court is to try the facts as well as the law. (Rev., s. 557; Code, s. 386; C. S. 596.)

§ 1-213. By default for defendant.—If the answer contains a statement of new matter constituting a counterclaim, and the plaintiff fails to reply or demur thereto, the defendant may move for such judgment as he is entitled to upon such statement; and if the case requires it, an order for an inquiry of damages by a jury may be made. (Rev., s. 558; Code, s. 249; C. C. P., s. 106; C. S. 597.)

§ 1-214. Judgment by default where no answer filed; record; force; docket.—If no answer is filed, the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment by default final or default and inquiry as authorized by §§ 1-211, 1-212, and 1-213, and all present or future amendments of the said sections; and all judgments by default final shall be duly recorded by the clerk and be docketed and indexed in the same manner as judgments rendered in term, and in all respects be and become judgments of the superior court and be of the same force and effect as if rendered in term and before a judge of the superior court; and in all cases of judgment by default and inquiry rendered by the clerk, the clerk shall docket the case in the superior court at term time for trial upon the issues raised before a jury, or otherwise, as provided by law, and all judgments by default and inquiry shall be of the same force and effect as if rendered in term and before a judge of the superior court. (Ex. Sess., 1921, c. 92, s. 9; C. S. 597(a).)

§ 1-215. Time for entering judgments; liens.— No judgment shall be entered by the clerk except as herein otherwise provided, except on every Monday of each month. The liens of all judgments rendered on the same Mondays shall each be of equal priority, and each Monday shall be held and construed, in determining the priority of judgment liens, as a term of court, and the first day thereof. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 10; 1923, c. 68; C. S. 597(b).)

Local Modification.—Vance: 1941, c. 139, s. 2.

§ 1-216. Time for entering judgment where copy of complaint served on defendant. — If the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall cause a copy of the complaint to be served upon any of the defendants, either at the time of issuing summons or thereafter, then judgment shall be entered by the clerk as to the defendants served on any Monday after the expiration of time to answer. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 11; 1925, c. 16; C. S. 597(c).)

Local Modification.—Vance: 1941, c. 139, s. 3.

§ 1-217. Certain default judgments validated.— In every case where, prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, a judgment by default final has been entered by the clerk of the Superior Court of any county in this state on a day other than Monday, contrary to §§ 1-215 and 1-216, such judgment shall be deemed to have been entered as of the first Monday immediately following the default and is hereby to all intents and purposes validated; provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the rights of any interested party, as provided in section 1-220 other than for irregularity as to date of entry of the judgment by the clerk of the court. (1927, c. 187.)

§ 1-218. Rendered in vacation; confirmation of judicial sales.—In all cases where the superior court in vacation has jurisdiction, and all of the parties unite in the proceedings, they may apply for relief to the superior court in vacation, or in term time, at their election.

Sales made by receivers or commissioners appointed by the superior court, unless governed by the provisions of § 45-28, as amended, may after ten days from the date of sale, in the absence of objection or raise in bid, be confirmed, or in case of objection or raise in bid, resales may be ordered, without notice, in chambers in any county in the judicial district, in which the proceedings are pending, by the resident judge or the judge holding the courts of said district; but this shall not diminish the power of the court in term time to act in such matters as now provided by law where no order has been made under this section. (Rev., s. 559; Code, s. 230; 1871-2, c. 3; 1937, c. 361; C. S. 598.)

§ 1-219. On frivolous pleading.—If a demurrer, answer or reply is frivolous, the party prejudiced thereby may apply to the court or judge for judgment thereon, which may be given accordingly. (Rev., s. 560; Code, s. 388; C. C. P., s. 218; C. S. 599.)

§ 1-220. Mistake, surprise, excusable neglect.— The judge shall, upon such terms as may be just, at any time within one year after notice thereof, relieve a party from a judgment, order, verdict or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, and may supply an omission in any proceeding. The clerk may hear and pass upon motions to set aside judgments rendered by him, whether for irregularity or under this section, and an appeal from his order on such motion shall lie to the judge at the next term, who shall hear and pass upon such motion de novo: Provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the rights of innocent purchasers for value in foreclosure proceedings where personal service is obtained. (Rev., s. 513; Code, s. 274; 1893, c. 81; C. C. P., s. 133; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 14; C. S. 600.)

§ 1-221. Stands until reversed.—Every judgment given in a court of record having jurisdiction of the subject is, and continues to be, in force until reversed according to law. (Rev., s. 561; Code, s. 935; R. C., c. 31, s. 103; 4 Hen. IV, c. 23; C. S. 601.)

§ 1-222. For and against whom given; failure to prosecute.—1. Judgment may be given for or against one or more of several plaintiffs, and for or against one or more of several defendants; and it may determine the ultimate rights of the parties on each side, as between themselves.

2. It may grant to the defendant any affirmative relief to which he may be entitled.

3. In an action against several defendants, the court may, in its discretion, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the others, whenever a several judgment is proper.

4. The court may also dismiss the complaint, with costs in favor of one or more defendants, in case of unreasonable neglect on the part of the plaintiff to serve the summons on other defendants, or to proceed in the cause against the defendant or defendants served. (Rev., s. 563; Code, s. 424; C. C. P., s. 248; C. S. 602.)

§ 1-223. Against married women.—In an action brought by or against a married woman, judgment may be given against her for costs or damages or both, in the same manner as against other persons, to be levied and collected solely out of her separate estate. (Rev., 563; C. S. 603.)

§ 1-224. Nonsuit not allowed after verdict.—In actions where a verdict passes against the plaintiff, judgment shall be entered against him. (Rev., s. 1520; Code, s. 936; R. C., c. 31, s. 110; 2 Hen. IV, c. 7; C. S. 604.)

§ 1-225. Party dying after verdict.—In no action shall the death of either party between the verdict and the judgment be alleged for error, if the judgment is entered within two terms after the verdict. (Rev., s. 564; Code, s. 938; R. C., c. 31, s. 112; 17 Charles II, c. 8; C. S. 605.)

§ 1-226. When limited by demand in complaint. —The relief granted to the plaintiff, if there is no answer, cannot exceed that demanded in his complaint; but in any other case the court may grant him any relief consistent with the case made by the complaint and embraced within the issue. (Rev., s. 565; Code, s. 425; C. C. P., s. 249; C. S. 606.)

wherein the court declares a party entitled to the possession of real or personal property, the legal title of which is in another party to the suit, and the court orders a conveyance of such legal title to him so declared to be entitled, or where, for any cause, the court orders that one of the parties holding property in trust shall convey the legal title to be held in trust to another person although not a party, the court, after declaring the right and ordering the conveyance, has power also, to be used in its discretion, to declare in the order then made, or in any made in the progress of the cause, that the effect thereof is to transfer to the party to whom the conveyance is directed to be made the legal title of the said property, to be held in the same plight, condition and estate as though the conveyance ordered were in fact executed; and shall bind and entitle the parties ordered to execute or to take benefit of the conveyance, in and to all such provisions, conditions and covenants as are adjudged to attend the conveyance, in the same manner and to the same extent as the conveyance would if the same were executed according to the order. A party taking benefit under the judgment has the same redress at law on account of the matter adjudged as he might on the conveyance, if the same had been executed. (Rev., s. 566; Code, s. 426; R. C., c. 32, s. 24; 1850, c. 107; 1874-5, c. 17; C. S. 607.)

§ 1-228. Regarded as a deed and registered.—Every judgment, in which the transfer of title is so declared, shall be regarded as a deed of conveyance, executed in due form and by capable persons, notwithstanding the want of capacity in any person ordered to convey, and shall be registered in the proper county, under the rules and regulations prescribed for conveyances of similar property executed by the party. The party desiring registration of such judgment must produce to the register a copy thereof, certified by the clerk of the court in which it is enrolled, under the seal of the court, and the register shall record both the judgment and certificate. All laws which are passed for extending the time for registration of deeds include such judgments, provided the conveyance, if actually executed, would be so included. (Rev., ss. 567, 568; Code, ss. 427, 429; R. C., c. 32, ss. 25, 27; 1850, c. 107, ss. 2, 4; 1874-5, c. 17, ss. 2, 4; C. S. 608.)

§ 1-229. Certified registered copy evidence.—In all legal proceedings, touching the right of parties derived under such judgment, a certified copy from the register's books is evidence of its existence and of the matters therein contained, as fully as if proved by a perfect transcript of the whole case. (Rev., s. 569; Code, s. 428; R. C., c. 32, s. 26; 1850, c. 107, s. 3; 1874-5, c. 17, s. 3; C. S. 609.)

§ 1-230. In action for recovery of personal property.—In an action to recover the possession of personal property, judgment for the plaintiff may be for the possession, or for the recovery of possession, or for the value thereof in case a delivery cannot be had, and damages for the detention. If the property has been delivered to the plaintiff, and the defendant claims a return thereof, judgment for the defendant may be for a return of the property, or for the value thereof in case a return cannot be had, and damages for taking and withholding the same. (Rev., s. 570; Code, s. 431; C. C. P., s. 251; C. S. 610.)

§ 1-231. What judge approves judgments.—In all cases where a judgment, decree or order of the superior court is required to be approved by a judge, it shall be approved by the judge having jurisdiction of receivers and injunctions. (Rev., s. 571; Code, s. 432; 1876-7, c. 223, s. 3; 1879, c. 63; 1881, c. 51; C. S. 611.)

§ 1-232. Judgment roll.—Unless the party or his attorney furnishes a judgment roll, the clerk, immediately after entering the judgment, shall attach together and file the following papers which constitute the judgment roll:

1. In case the complaint is not answered by any defendant, the summons and complaint, or copies thereof, proof of service, and that no answer has been received, the report, if any, and a copy of the judgment.

2. In all other cases, the summons, pleadings, or copies thereof, and a copy of the judgment, with any verdict or report, the offer of the defendant, exceptions, case, and all orders and papers in any way involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment. (Rev., s. 572; Code, s. 434; C. C. P., s. 253; C. S. 612.)

§ 1-233. Docketed and indexed; held as of first day of term.—Every judgment of the superior court, affecting the right to real property, or requiring in whole or in part the payment of money, shall be entered by the clerk of said superior court on the judgment docket of the court. The entry must contain the names of the parties, and the relief granted, date of judgment and date of docketing; and the clerk shall keep a cross-index of the whole, with the dates and numbers thereof. In all cases affecting the title to real property the clerk shall enter upon the judgment docket the number and page of the minute docket where the judgment is recorded, and if the judgment does not contain particular description of the lands, but refers to a description contained in the pleadings, the clerk shall enter upon the minute docket, immediately following the judgment, the description so referred to.

All judgments rendered in any county by the superior court, during a term of the court, and docketed during the same term, or within ten days thereafter, are held and deemed to have been rendered and docketed on the first day of said term, for the purpose only of establishing equality of priority as among such judgments. (Rev., c. 573; Code, s. 433; C. C. P., s. 252; Supr. Ct. Rule VIII; 1909, c. 709; 1929, c. 183; C. S. 613.)

Local Modification.—Durham: 1929, c. 88.

§ 1-234. Where and how docketed; lien.—Upon filing a judgment roll upon a judgment affecting the title of real property, or directing in whole or in part the payment of money, it shall be docketed on the judgment docket of the superior court of the county where the judgment roll was filed, and may be docketed on the judgment docket of the superior court of any other county upon the filing with the clerk thereof of a transcript of the original docket, and is a lien on the real property in the county where the same is docketed of every person against whom any such judgment is rendered, and which he has at the time of the docketing thereof in the county in which such real property is situated, or which he acquires at any time thereafter, for ten years from the date of the rendition of the judgment. But the time during which the party recovering or owning such judgment shall be, or shall have been, restrained from proceeding thereon by an order of injunction, or other order, or by the operation of any appeal, or by a statutory prohibition, does not constitute any part of the ten years aforesaid, as against the defendant in such judgment, or the party obtaining such orders or making such appeal, or any other person who is not a purchaser, creditor or mortgagee in good faith. (Rev., s. 574; Code, s. 435; C. C. P., s. 254; C. S. 614.)

§ 1-235. Of supreme court docketed in superior court; lien.—It is the duty of the clerk of the supreme court, on application of the party obtaining judgment in that court, directing in whole or in part the payment of money, or affecting the title to real estate, or on the like application of the attorney of record of said party, to certify under his hand and the seal of said court a transcript of the judgment, setting forth the title of the court, the names of the parties thereto, the relief granted, that the judgment was so rendered by said court, the amount and date of the judgment, what part thereof bears interest and from what time; and said clerk shall send such certificate and transcript to the clerk of the superior court of such counties as he is directed; and the clerk of the superior court receiving the certificate and transcript shall docket them in like manner as judgment rolls of the superior court are docketed. And when so docketed, the lien of said judgment is the same in all respects, subject to the same restrictions and qualifications, and the time shall be reckoned as is provided and prescribed in the preceding sections for judgments of the superior court, so far as the same are applicable. The party desiring the certificate and transcript provided for in this section may obtain them at any time after such judgment has been rendered, unless the supreme court otherwise directs. (Rev., s. 575; Code, s. 436; 1881, c. 75, ss. 1, 4; C. S. 615.)

§ 1-236. Fees for filing transcripts of judgments by clerks of superior courts.—The fee for filing, docketing and indexing transcripts of judgments in the offices of the several clerks of the superior court in North Carolina shall be the same fee charged for filing, docketing and indexing transcripts of judgments in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county from which the transcript of judgment is sent to said county. (1933, c. 435, s. 1.)

§ 1-237. Of federal court docketed; lien.—Judgments and decrees rendered in the circuit and district courts of the United States within this state may be docketed on the judgment dockets of the superior courts in the several counties of this state for the purpose of creating liens of such judgments and decrees upon property within the county where the same are so docketed in like manner as judgments of superior courts for the purpose of creating liens upon property, but in no other manner, extent or order than as contemplated, provided and intended by the act of Congress entitled "An act to regulate the liens of judgments and decrees of the courts of the United States," approved August first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight. And it is the duty of the clerk of the superior court, when a judgment roll of said circuit and district courts is filed with him, to docket it as judgments of the said superior courts are required to be docketed. (Rev., s. 576; 1889, c. 439; C. S. 616.)

§ 1-238. On what property judgment of federal court constitutes a lien; recordation.—Judgments and decrees rendered in a circuit or district court of the United States within this State shall be a lien on property in this State and its various subdivisions in the same manner and to the same extent and under the same conditions when the same shall be registered, recorded, docketed and indexed as is required of a judgment or decree of the courts of this State, in the same way and manner and to the same extent as the same judgment rendered in a court of this State and so registered, recorded, docketed and indexed would become a lien when so registered, recorded, docketed and indexed, and such judgments shall then have all the rights, and force, and effect, as judgments of the Superior Court of said county. Such decrees and judgments of a circuit court or a district court of the United States within this State when authenticated in the same way and manner as required of judgments and decrees of courts of this State are authorized to be registered, recorded and indexed exactly under the same conditions and circumstances and in the same offices and in the same way and manner and with the same effect as judgments of courts of this State are authorized to be.

It is the intent and purpose of this section to conform the State law to the requirements of the act of Congress entitled "An Act to Regulate the Liens on Judgments and Decrees of the Courts of the United States" being the act of August first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, chapter seven hundred and twenty-nine, twenty-five Statutes at large, page three hundred fifty-seven. (1929, c. 310, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 1-239. Paid to clerk; docket credited; transcript to other counties.—The party against whom a judgment for the payment of money is rendered, by any court of record, may pay the whole, or any part thereof, to the clerk of the court in which the same was rendered, at any time thereafter, although no execution has issued on such judgment; and this payment of money is good and available to the party making it, and the clerk shall enter the payment on the judgment docket of the court, and immediately forward a certificate thereof to the clerk of the superior court of each county to whom a transcript of said judgment has been sent, and the clerk of such superior court shall enter the same on the judgment docket of such court and file the original with the judgment roll in the action. Entries of payment or satisfaction on the judgment dockets in the office of the clerk of the superior court, by any person other than the clerk, shall be made in the presence of the clerk or his deputy, who shall witness the same, and when entries of full payment or satisfaction have been made, the clerk or his deputy shall enter upon the judgment index kept by him, opposite and on a line with the names of the parties to the judgment, the words "Paid" or "Satisfied." (Rev., s. 577; Code, s. 438; R. C., c. 31, s. 127; 1823, c. 1212; 1911, c. 76; C. S. 617.)

§ 1-240. Payment by one of several; transfer to trustee for payor.—In all cases in the courts of this state wherein judgment has been, or may hereafter be, rendered against two or more persons or corporations, who are jointly and severally liable for its payment either as joint obligors or joint tort-feasors, and the same has not been paid by all the judgment debtors by each paying his proportionate part thereof, if one of the judgment debtors shall pay the judgment creditor, either before or after execution has been issued, the amount due on said judgment, and shall, at the time of paying the same, demand that said judgment be transferred to a trustee for his benefit, it shall be the duty of the judgment creditor or his attorney to transfer without recourse such judgment to a trustee for the benefit of the judgment debtor paying the same; and a transfer of such judgment as herein contemplated shall have the effect of preserving the lien of the judgment and of keeping the same in full force as against any judgment debtor who does not pay his proportionate part thereof to the extent of his liability thereunder in law and in equity, and in the event the judgment was obtained in an action arising out of a joint tort, and only one, or not all of the joint tort-feasors, were made parties defendant, those tort-feasors made parties defendant, and against whom judgment was obtained, may, in an action therefor, enforce contribution from the other joint tort-feasors; or at any time before judgment is obtained, the joint tort-feasors made parties defendant may, upon motion, have the other joint tort-feasors made parties defendant.

If the judgment debtors do not agree as to their proportionate liability, and it be alleged in such action by petition that any judgment debtor is insolvent or is a nonresident of the state and cannot be forced under the execution of the court to contribute to the payment of the judgment, the court shall, in the action in which the judgment was rendered, after notice to the defendants or such of them as may be within the jurisdiction of the court, submit proper issues to a jury to find the facts arising on such petition and any answer that may be filed thereto, and shall, upon such verdict and any admissions in the petition and answer, enter judgment declaring the proportionate part each judgment debtor shall pay.

Any judgment creditor who refuses to transfer a judgment in his favor to a trustee for the benefit of a judgment debtor who shall tender payment and demand in writing a transfer thereof to a trustee to preserve his rights in the same action, as contemplated by this section, shall not thereafter be entitled to an execution against the judgment debtor so tendering payment. (1919, c. 194, ss. 1, 2; 1929, c. 68; C. S. 618.)

§ 1-241. Clerk to pay money to party entitled.—The clerk, to whom money is paid as aforesaid, shall pay it to the party entitled to receive it, under the same rules and penalties as if the money had been paid into his office by virtue of an execution. (Rev., s. 578; Code, s. 439; R. C., c. 31, s. 128; 1823, c. 1212, s. 2; C. S. 619.)

§ 1-242. Credits upon judgments.—Where a payment has been made on a judgment docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court, and no entry made on the judgment docket, or where any docketed judgment appealed from has been reversed or modified on appeal and no entry made on such docket, any person interested therein may move in the cause before the clerk, upon affidavit after notice to all persons interested, to have such credit, reversal or modification entered; and upon the hearing before the clerk he may hear affidavits, oral testimony, depositions and any other competent evidence, and shall render his judgment, from which any party may appeal in the same manner as in appeals in special proceedings. On the trial of any issue of fact on the appeal either party may demand a jury trial, which shall be had upon the evidence before the clerk, which he shall reduce to writing. On a final judgment ordering any such credit, reversal or modification, a transcript thereof shall be sent by the clerk of the superior court to each county in which the original judgment has been docketed, and the clerk of such county shall enter the same on the judgment docket of his county opposite such judgment and file the transcript. No final process shall issue on any such judgment after affidavit filed in the cause until the motion for credit, reversal or modification has been finally disposed of. (Rev., s. 579; 1903, c. 558; C. S. 620.)

§ 1-243. For money due on judicial sale.—The supreme and other courts ordering a judicial sale, or having possession of bonds taken on such sale, may, on motion, after ten days notice thereof in writing, enter judgment as soon as the money becomes due against the debtors or any of them, unless for good cause shown the court directs some other mode of collection. (Rev., s. 1524; Code, s. 941; R. C., c. 31, s. 129; C. S. 621.)

§ 1-245. Cancellation of judgments discharged through bankruptcy proceedings.—When a referee in bankruptcy furnishes the clerk of the superior court of any county in this state a written statement or certificate to the effect that a bankrupt has been discharged, indicating in said certificate that the plaintiff or judgment creditor in whose favor judgments against the defendant bankrupt are docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court have received due notice as provided by law from the said referee, and that said judgments have been discharged, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to file said certificate and enter a notation thereof on the margin of said judgments.

This section shall apply to judgments of this kind already docketed as well as to future judgments of the same kind.

For the filing of said instrument or certificate and making new notations the clerk of the superior court shall be paid a fee of one dollar ($1.00). (1937, c. 234, ss. 1-4.)

§ 1-246. Assignment of judgment to be entered on judgment docket, signed and witnessed.—No assignment of judgment shall be valid at law to pass any property as against creditors or purchasers for a valuable consideration from the donor, bargainor, or assignor, but from the entry of such assignment on the margin of the judgment docket opposite the said judgment, signed by the owner of said judgment, or his attorney under power of attorney or his attorney of record, and witnessed by the clerk or the deputy clerk of the superior court of the county in which said judgment is docketed. (1941, c. 61.)

Art. 24. Confession of Judgment.

§ 1-247. When and for what.—A judgment by confession may be entered without action either in or out of term, either for money due or to become due, or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant, or both, in the manner prescribed by this article. (Rev., s. 580; Code, s. 570; C. C. P., s. 325; C. S. 623.)

§ 1-248. Debtor to make verified statement.—A statement in writing must be made, signed, and verified by the defendant, to the following effect:

1. It must state the amount for which judgment may be entered, and authorize the entry of judgment therefor.

2. If it is for money due, or to become due, it must state concisely the facts out of which it arose, and must show that the sum confessed is justly due, or to become due.

3. If it is for the purpose of securing the plaintiff against a contingent liability, it must state concisely the facts constituting the liability, and must show that the sum confessed does not exceed the same. (Rev., s. 581; Code, s. 571; C. C. P., s. 326; C. S. 624.)

§ 1-249. Judgment; execution; installment debt.—The statement may be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the defendant resides, or if he does not reside in the state, of some county in which he has property. The clerk shall indorse upon it and enter on his judgment docket a judgment of the court for the amount confessed, with three dollars costs, together with disbursements. The statement and affidavit, with the judgment indorsed, thenceforth become the judgment roll. Executions may be issued and enforced thereon in the same manner as upon judgments in other cases in such courts. When the debt for which the judgment is recovered is not all due, or is payable in installments, and the installments are not all due, the execution may issue upon such judgment for the collection of such installments as have become due, and shall be in the usual form; but must have indorsed thereon, by the attorney or person issuing it, a direction to the sheriff to collect the amount due on such judgment, with interest and costs, which amount shall be stated, with interest thereon, and costs of said judgment. Notwithstanding the issue and collection of such execution, the judgment remains as security for the installments thereafter to become due; and whenever any further installment becomes due, execution may, in like manner, be issued for its collection and enforcement. (Rev., s. 582; Code, s. 572; C. C. P., s. 327; C. S. 625.)

Art. 25. Submission of Controversy without Action.

§ 1-250. Submission, affidavit, and judgment.—Parties to a question in difference which might be the subject of a civil action may, without action, agree upon a case containing the facts upon which the controversy depends, and present a submission of the same to any court which would have jurisdiction if an action had been brought. But it must appear by affidavit that the controversy is real, and the proceedings in good faith to determine the rights of the parties. The judge shall hear and determine the case, and render judgment thereon as if an action were pending. (Rev., s. 803; Code, s. 567; C. C. P., s. 315; C. S. 626.)

§ 1-251. Judgment roll.—Judgment shall be entered on the judgment docket, as in other cases, but without cost for any proceedings prior to trial. The case, the submission, and a copy of the judgment, constitute the judgment roll. (Rev., s. 804; Code, s. 568; C. C. P., s. 316; C. S. 627.)

§ 1-252. Judgment enforced; appeal.—The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as if it had been rendered in an action, and is subject to appeal in like manner. (Rev., s. 805; Code, s. 569; C. C. P., s. 317; C. S. 628.)

Art. 26. Declaratory Judgments.

§ 1-253. Courts of record permitted to enter declaratory judgments of rights, status and other legal relations.—Courts of record within their respective jurisdictions shall have power to declare rights, status, and other legal relations, whether or not further relief is or could be claimed. No action or proceeding shall be open to objection on the ground that a declaratory judgment or decree is prayed for. The declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect; and such declarations shall have the force and effect of a final judgment or decree. (1931, c. 102, s. 1.)

§ 1-254. Courts given power of construction of all instruments.—Any person interested under a deed, will, written contract or other writings constituting a contract, or whose rights, status or other legal relations are affected by a statute, municipal ordinance, contract or franchise, may have determined any question of construction or validity arising under the instrument, statute, ordinance, contract, or franchise, and obtain a declaration of rights, status, or other legal relations thereunder. A contract may be construed either before or after there has been a breach thereof. (1931, c. 102, s. 2.)

§ 1-255. Who may apply for a declaration.—Any person interested as or through an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee, legatee, heir, next of kin, or cestui que trust, in the administration of a trust, or of the estate of a decedent, an infant, lunatic, or insolvent, may have a declaration of rights or legal relations in respect thereto: (a) To ascertain any class of creditors, devisees, legatees, heirs, next of kin or others; or (b) To direct the executors, administrators, or trustees to do or abstain from doing any particular act in their fiduciary capacity; or (c) To determine any question arising in the administration of the estate or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings. (1931, c. 102, s. 3.)

§ 1-256. Enumeration of declarations not exclusive.—The enumeration in sections 1-254 and 1-255 does not limit or restrict the exercise of the general powers conferred in section 1-253 in any proceedings where declaratory relief is sought, in which a judgment or decree will terminate the controversy or remove an uncertainty. (1931, c. 102, s. 4.)

§ 1-257. Discretion of court.—The court may refuse to render or enter a declaratory judgment or decree where such judgment or decree, if rendered or entered, would not terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding. (1931, c. 102, s. 5.)

§ 1-258. Review.—All orders, judgments and decrees under this article may be reviewed as other orders, judgments and decrees. (1931, c. 102, s. 6.)

§ 1-259. Supplemental relief. — Further relief based on a declaratory judgment or decree may be granted whenever necessary or proper. The application therefor shall be by petition to a court having jurisdiction to grant the relief. If the application be deemed sufficient, the court shall, on reasonable notice, require any adverse party whose rights have been adjudicated by the declaratory judgment or decree, to show cause why further relief should not be granted forthwith. (1931, c. 102, s. 7.)

§ 1-260. Parties.—When declaratory relief is sought, all persons shall be made parties who have or claim any interest which would be affected by the declaration, and no declaration shall prejudice the rights of persons not parties to the proceedings. In any proceeding which involves the validity of a municipal ordinance or franchise, such municipality shall be made a party, and shall be entitled to be heard, and if the statute, ordinance or franchise is alleged to be unconstitutional, the attorney general of the State shall also be served with a copy of the proceeding and be entitled to be heard. (1931, c. 102, s. 8.)

§ 1-261. Jury trial.—When a proceeding under this article involves the determination of an issue of fact, such issue may be determined in the same manner as issues of fact are tried and determined in other civil actions in the court in which the proceeding is pending. (1931, c. 102, s. 9.)

§ 1-262. Hearing before judge where no issues of fact raised or jury trial waived; what judge may hear.—Proceedings under this article shall stand for trial at a term of court, as in other civil actions. If no issues of fact are raised, or if such issues are raised and the parties waive a jury trial, by agreement of the parties the proceedings may be heard before any judge of the Superior Court. If in such case the parties do not agree upon a judge for the hearing, then upon motion of the plaintiff the proceeding may be heard by the resident judge of the district, or the judge holding the courts of the district, or by any judge holding a term of the Superior Court within the district. Such motion shall be in writing, with ten days notice to the defendant, and the judge so designated shall fix a time and place for the hearing and notify the parties. Upon notice given, the Clerk of the Superior Court in which the action is pending shall forward the papers in the proceeding to the judge designated. The hearing by the judge shall be governed by the practice for hearing in other civil actions before a judge without a jury. The term "Superior Court Judge" used in this section shall include emergency and special judges of the Superior Court. (1931, c. 102, s. 10.)

§ 1-263. Costs.—In any proceeding under this article the court may make such award of costs as may seem equitable and just. (1931, c. 102, s. 11.)

§ 1-264. Liberal construction and administration.—This article is declared to be remedial; its purpose is to settle and to afford relief from uncertainty and insecurity with respect to rights, status, and other legal relations, and it is to be liberally construed and administered. (1931, c. 102, s. 12.)

§ 1-265. Word "person" construed.—The word "person" wherever used in this article, shall be construed to mean any person, partnership, joint stock company, unincorporated association, or society, or municipal corporation or other corporation of any character whatsoever. (1931, c. 102, s. 13.)

§ 1-266. Uniformity of interpretation. — This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it, and to harmonize, as far as possible, with Federal laws and regulations on the subject of declaratory judgments and decrees. (1931, c. 102, s. 15.)

§ 1-267. Short title.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Declaratory Judgment Act. (1931, c. 102, s. 16.)

SUBCHAPTER IX. APPEAL.

Art. 27. Appeal.

§ 1-268. Writs of error abolished.—Writs of error in civil actions are abolished, and the only mode of reviewing a judgment, or order, in a civil action, is that prescribed by this chapter. (Rev., s. 583; Code, s. 544; C. C. P., s. 296; C. S. 629.)

§ 1-269. Certiorari, recordari, and supersedeas.—Writs of certiorari, recordari, and supersedeas are authorized as heretofore in use The writs of certiorari and recordari, when used as substitutes for an appeal, may issue when ordered upon the applicant filing a written undertaking for the costs only; but the supersedeas, to suspend execution, shall not issue until an undertaking is filed or a deposit made to secure the judgment sought to be vacated, as in cases of appeal where execution is stayed. (Rev., s. 584; Code, s. 545; 1874-5, c. 109; C. S. 630.)

§ 1-270. Appeal to supreme court; security on appeal; stay.—Cases shall be taken to the supreme court by appeal, as provided by law. All provisions in this article as to the security to be given upon appeals and as to the stay of proceedings apply to appeals taken to the supreme court. (Rev., ss. 595, 1540; Code, ss. 561, 946; C. C. P., s. 312; C. S. 631.)

§ 1-271. Who may appeal.—Any party aggrieved may appeal in the cases prescribed in this chapter. (Rev., s. 585; Code, s. 547; C. C. P., s. 298; C. S. 632.)

§ 1-272. Appeal from clerk to judge.—Appeals lie to the judge of the superior court having jurisdiction, either in term time or vacation, from judgments of the clerk of the superior court in all matters of law or legal inference. In case of such transfer or appeal neither party need give an undertaking for costs; and the clerk shall transmit, on the transfer or appeal, to the superior court, or to the judge thereof, the pleadings, or other papers, on which the issues of fact or of law arise. An appeal must be taken within ten days after the entry of the order or judgment of the clerk upon due notice in writing to be served on the appellee and a copy of which shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court. But an appeal can only be taken by a party aggrieved, who appeared and moved for, or opposed, the order or judgment appealed from, or who, being entitled to be heard thereon, had no opportunity of being heard, which fact may be shown by affidavit or other proof. (Rev., ss. 586, 610, 611; Code, ss. 116, 252, 253; C. C. P., ss. 109, 492; 1927, c. 15; C. S. 633.)

§ 1-273. Clerk to transfer issues of fact to civil issue docket.—If issues of law and of fact, or of fact only, are raised before the clerk, he shall transfer the case to the civil issue docket for trial of the issues at the next ensuing term of the superior court. (Rev., s. 588; Code, s. 256; C. C. P., s. 115; C. S. 634.)

§ 1-274. Duty of clerk on appeal.—On such appeal the clerk, within three days thereafter, shall prepare and sign a statement of the case, of his decision and of the appeal, and exhibit such statement to the parties or their attorneys on request. If the statement is satisfactory, the parties or their attorneys must sign it. If either party objects to the statement as partial or erroneous, he may put his objections in writing, and the clerk shall attach the writing to his statement, and within two days thereafter he shall send such statement, together with the objections, and copies of all necessary papers, by mail or otherwise, to the judge residing in the district, or in his absence to the judge holding the courts of the district, for his decision. (Rev., s. 612; Code, s. 254; C. C. P., s. 110; C. S. 635.)

§ 1-275. Duty of judge on appeal.—It is the duty of the judge on receiving a statement of appeal from the clerk, or the copy of the record of an issue of law, to decide the questions presented within ten days. But if he has been informed in writing, by the attorney of either party, that he desires to be heard on the questions, the judge shall fix a time and place for the hearing, and give the attorneys of both parties reasonable notice. He must transmit his decision in writing, endorsed on or attached to the record, to the clerk of the court, who shall immediately acknowledge its receipt, and within three days after such receipt notify the attorneys of the parties of the decision and, on request and the payment of his legal fees, give them a copy thereof, and the parties receiving such notice may proceed thereafter according to law. (Rev., s. 613; Code, s. 255; C. C. P., s. 113; C. S. 636.)

§ 1-276. Judge determines entire controversy; may recommit. — Whenever a civil action or special proceeding begun before the clerk of a superior court is for any ground whatever sent to the superior court before the judge, the judge has jurisdiction; and it is his duty, upon the request of either party, to proceed to hear and determine all matters in controversy in such action, unless it appears to him that justice would be more cheaply and speedily administered by sending the action back to be proceeded in before the clerk, in which case he may do so. (Rev., s. 614; 1887, c. 276; C. S. 637.)

§ 1-277. Appeal from superior court judge.—An appeal may be taken from every judicial order or determination of a judge of a superior court, upon or involving a matter of law or legal inference, whether made in or out of term, which affects a substantial right claimed in any action or proceeding; or which in effect determines the action, and prevents a judgment from which an appeal might be taken; or discontinues the action, or grants or refuses a new trial. (Rev., s. 587; Code, s. 548; C. C. P., s. 299; 1818, c. 962, s. 4; C. S. 638.)

§ 1-278. Interlocutory orders reviewed on appeal from judgment.—Upon an appeal from a judgment, the court may review any intermediate order involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment. (Rev., s. 589; Code, s. 562; C. C. P., s. 313; C. S. 640.)

§ 1-280. Entry and notice of appeal.—Within the time prescribed in § 1-279, the appellant shall cause his appeal to be entered by the clerk on the judgment docket, and notice thereof to be given to the adverse party unless the record shows an appeal taken or prayed at the trial, which is sufficient. (Rev., s. 591; Code, s. 550; C. C. P., s. 301; C. S. 642.)

§ 1-281. Appeals from judgments not in term time.—When appeals are taken from judgments of the clerk or judge not made in term time, the clerk is authorized to make any and all necessary orders for the perfecting of such appeals. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 19a; C. S. 642(a).)

§ 1-282. Case on appeal; statement, service, and return.—The appellant shall cause to be prepared a concise statement of the case, embodying the instructions of the judge as signed by him, if there be an exception thereto, and the request of the counsel of the parties for instructions if there be any exception on account of the granting or withholding thereof, and stating separately, in articles numbered, the errors alleged. A copy of this statement shall be served on the respondent within fifteen days from the entry of the appeal taken; within ten days after such service the respondent shall return the copy with his approval or specific amendments indorsed or attached; if the case be approved by the respondent, it shall be filed with the clerk as a part of the record; if not returned with objections within the time prescribed, it shall be deemed approved: Provided, that the judge trying the case shall have the power, in the exercise of his discretion, to enlarge the time in which to serve statement of case on appeal and exceptions thereto or counter statement of case. (Rev., s. 591; Code, s. 550; C. C. P., s. 301; 1905, c. 448; 1921, c. 97; C. S. 643.)

§ 1-283. Settlement of case on appeal.—If the case on appeal is returned by the respondent with objections as prescribed, the appellant shall immediately request the judge to fix a time and place for settling the case before him. If the appellant delays longer than fifteen days after the respondent serves his countercase, or exceptions, to request the judge to settle the case on appeal, and delays for such period to mail the case and countercase or exceptions to the judge, then the exceptions filed by the respondent shall be allowed, or the countercase served by him shall constitute the case on appeal; but the time may be extended by agreement.

The judge shall forthwith notify the attorneys of the parties to appear before him for that purpose at a certain time and place, within the judicial district, which time shall not be more than twenty days from the receipt of the request. At the time and place stated, the judge shall settle and sign the case, and deliver a copy to the attorney of each party, or, if the attorneys are not present, file a copy in the office of the clerk of the court. If the judge has left the district before the notice of disagreement, he may settle the case without returning to the district.

In settling the case, the written instructions signed by the judge, and the written request for instructions signed by the counsel, and the written exceptions, are deemed conclusive as to what these instructions, requests, and exceptions were. If a copy of the case settled was delivered to the appellant, he shall within five days thereafter file it with the clerk, and if he fails to do so, the respondent may file his copy.

The judge shall settle the case on appeal within sixty days after the termination of a special term or after the courts of the districts have ended, and if the judge in the meantime has gone out of office, he shall settle the case as if he were still in office. Any judge failing to comply with this section is liable to a penalty of five hundred dollars, for the use of any person who sues for it. (Rev., s. 591; Code, s. 550; C. C. P., s. 301; 1889, c. 161; 1907, c. 312; C. S. 644.)

§ 1-284. Clerk to prepare transcript.—The clerk on receiving a copy of the case settled, as required in the preceding sections, shall make a copy of the judgment roll and of the case, and within twenty days transmit the same, duly certified, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk, except in cases where parties are allowed to appeal without giving an undertaking on appeal, shall not be required to make the copy of the record in the case for the supreme court until the appellant has given the undertaking on appeal or made the deposit required. (Rev., s. 592; Code, s. 551; 1889, c. 135; C. C. P., s. 302; C. S. 645.)

§ 1-285. Undertaking on appeal; filing; waiver.—To render an appeal effectual for any purpose in a civil cause or special proceeding, a written undertaking must be executed on the part of the appellant, with good and sufficient surety, in such sum as may be ordered by the court, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, to the effect that the appellant will pay all costs awarded against him on the appeal, and this undertaking must be filed with the clerk by whom the judgment or order was entered; or such sum as is ordered by the court must be deposited with the clerk by whom the judgment or order was entered, to abide the event of the appeal. The undertaking or deposit may be waived by a written consent on the part of the respondent. No appeal shall be dismissed in the supreme court on the ground that the undertaking on appeal was not filed, or deposit made, earlier, if the undertaking is filed or the deposit made before the record of the case is transmitted by the clerk of the superior court to the supreme court. When no undertaking on appeal has been filed, or deposit made before the record of the case is transmitted to the supreme court, the supreme court shall, upon good cause shown, on such terms as may be just, allow the appellant to file an undertaking or make the deposit. (Rev., ss. 593, 595; Code, ss. 552, 561; C. C. P., ss. 303, 312; 1889, c. 135, s. 2; 1871-2, c. 31; C. S. 646.)

§ 1-286. Justification of sureties.—The undertaking on appeal must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the sureties that he is worth double the amount specified therein. The respondent may except to the sufficiency of the sureties within ten days after the notice of appeal; and unless they or other sureties justify within ten days thereafter, the appeal shall be regarded as if no undertaking had been given. The justification must be upon a notice of not less than five days. (Rev., s. 594; Code, s. 560; C. C. P., s. 310; 1887, c. 121; C. S. 647.)

§ 1-287. Notice of motion to dismiss; new bond or deposit.—Before the appellee is permitted to move to dismiss an appeal, either for any irregularity in the undertaking on appeal or for failure of sureties to justify, he must give written notice to the appellant of such motion at least twenty days before the district from which the cause is sent up is called, and this notice must state the grounds upon which the motion is based. At least five days before the district from which the cause is sent up is called, the appellant may file with the clerk of the supreme court a new bond justified according to law and containing a penalty the same in amount as the penalty in the original bond, or he may deposit with the said clerk a sum of money equal to the penalty in the original bond. When a new bond has been thus filed or deposit made the cause stands as if the bond had been duly given or deposit duly made in the court below. (Rev., s. 596; 1887, c. 121; C. S. 648.)

§ 1-288. Appeals in forma pauperis; clerk's fees.—When any party to a civil action tried and determined in the superior court at the time of trial desires an appeal from the judgment rendered in the action to the supreme court, and is unable, by reason of his poverty, to make the deposit or to give the security required by law for said appeal, it shall be the duty of the judge or clerk of said superior court to make an order allowing said party to appeal from the judgment to the supreme court as in other cases of appeal, without giving security therefor. The party desiring to appeal from said judgment shall within five days make affidavit that he is unable by reason of his poverty to give the security required by law, and that he is advised by counsel learned in the law that there is error in matter of law in the decision of the superior court in said action. The affidavit must be accompanied by a written statement from a practicing attorney of said superior court that he has examined the affiant's case, and is of opinion that the decision of the superior court, in said action, is contrary to law. The appeal when passed upon and granted by the clerk shall be within ten days from the expiration by law of said term of court. The clerk of the superior court cannot demand his fees for the transcript of the record for the supreme court of a party appealing in forma pauperis, in case such appellant furnishes to the clerk two true and correctly typewritten copies of such records on appeal. Nothing contained in this section deprives the clerk of the superior court of his right to demand his fees for his certificate and seal as now allowed by law in such cases. Provided, that where the judge of the superior court or the clerk of the superior court has made an order allowing the appellant to appeal as a pauper and the appeal has been filed in the supreme court, and an error or omission has been made in the affidavit or certificate of counsel, and the error is called to the attention of the court before the hearing of the argument of the case, the court shall permit an amended affidavit or certificate to be filed correcting the error or omission. (Rev., s. 597; Code, s. 553; 1889, c. 161; 1873-4, c. 60; 1907, c. 878; 1937, c. 89; C. S. 649.)

§ 1-289. Undertaking to stay execution on money judgment.—If the appeal is from a judgment directing the payment of money, it does not stay the execution of the judgment unless a written undertaking is executed on the part of the appellant, by one or more sureties, to the effect that if the judgment appealed from, or any part thereof, is affirmed, or the appeal is dismissed, the appellant will pay the amount directed to be paid by the judgment, or the part of such amount as to which the judgment shall be affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages which shall be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal. Whenever it is satisfactorily made to appear to the court that since the execution of the undertaking the sureties have become insolvent, the court may, by rule or order, require the appellant to execute, file and serve a new undertaking, as above. In case of neglect to execute such undertaking within twenty days after the service of a copy of the rule or order requiring it, the appeal may, on motion to the court, be dismissed with costs. Whenever it is necessary for a party to an action or proceeding to give a bond or an undertaking with surety or sureties, he may, in lieu thereof, deposit with the officer into court money to the amount of the bond or undertaking to be given. The court in which the action or proceeding is pending may direct what disposition shall be made of such money pending the action or proceeding. In a case where, by this section, the money is to be deposited with an officer, a judge of the court, upon the application of either party, may, at any time before the deposit is made, order the money deposited in court instead of with the officer; and a deposit made pursuant to such order is of the same effect as if made with the officer. The perfecting of an appeal by giving the undertaking mentioned in this section stays proceedings in the court below upon the judgment appealed from; except when the sale of perishable property is directed, the court below may order the property to be sold and the proceeds thereof to be deposited or invested, to abide the judgment of the appellate court. (Rev., s. 598; Code, s. 554; C. C. P., ss. 304, 311; C. S. 650.)

§ 1-290. How judgment for personal property stayed.—If the judgment appealed from directs the assignment or delivery of documents or personal property, the execution of the judgment is not stayed by appeal, unless the things required to be assigned or delivered are brought into court, or placed in the custody of such officer or receiver as the court appoints, or unless an undertaking be entered into on the part of the appellant, by at least two sureties, and in such amount as the court or a judge thereof directs, to the effect that the appellant will obey the order of the appellate court upon the appeal. (Rev., s. 599; Code, s. 555; C. C. P., s. 305; C. S. 651.)

§ 1-291. How judgment directing conveyance stayed.—If the judgment appealed from directs the execution of a conveyance or other instrument, the execution of the judgment is not stayed by the appeal until the instrument has been executed and deposited with the clerk with whom the judgment is entered, to abide the judgment of the appellate court. (Rev., s. 600; Code, s. 556; C. C. P., s. 306; C. S. 652.)

§ 1-292. How judgment for real property stayed.—If the judgment appealed from directs the sale or delivery of possession of real property, the execution is not stayed, unless a bond is executed on the part of the appellant, with one or more sureties, to the effect that, during his possession of such property, he will not commit, or suffer to be committed, any waste thereon, and that if the judgment is affrmed he will pay the value of the use and occupation of the property, from the time of the appeal until the delivery of possession thereof pursuant to the judgment, not exceeding a sum to be fixed by a judge of the court by which judgment was rendered and which must be specified in the undertaking. When the judgment is for the sale of mortgaged premises, and the payment of a deficiency arising upon the sale, the undertaking must also provide for the payment of this deficiency. (Rev., s. 601; Code, s. 557; C. C. P., s. 307; C. S. 653.)

§ 1-293. Docket entry of stay.—When an appeal from a judgment is pending, and the undertaking requisite to stay execution on the judgment has been given, and the appeal perfected, the court in which the judgment was recovered may, on special motion, after notice to the person owning the judgment, on such terms as it sees fit, direct an entry to be made by the clerk on the docket of such judgment, that the same is secured on appeal, and no execution can issue upon such judgment during the pendency of the appeal. (Rev., s. 621; Code, s. 435; 1887, c. 192; C. C. P., s. 254; C. S. 654.)

§ 1-294. Scope of stay; security limited for fiduciaries.—When an appeal is perfected as provided by this article it stays all further proceedings in the court below upon the judgment appealed from, or upon the matter embraced therein; but the court below may proceed upon any other matter included in the action and not affected by the judgment appealed from. The court below may, in its discretion, dispense with or limit the security required, when the appellant is an executor, administrator, trustee, or other person acting in a fiduciary capacity. It may also limit such security to an amount not more than fifty thousand dollars, where it would otherwise exceed that sum. (Rev., s. 602; Code, s. 558; C. C. P., s. 308; C. S. 655.)

§ 1-295. Undertaking in one or more instruments; served on appellee.—The undertakings may be in one instrument or several, at the option of the appellant; and a copy, including the names and residences of the sureties, must be served on the adverse party, with the notice of appeal, unless the required deposit is made and notice thereof given. (Rev., s. 603; Code, s. 559; C. C. P., s. 309; C. S. 656.)

§ 1-296. Judgment not vacated by stay.—The stay of proceedings provided for in this article shall not be construed to vacate the judgment appealed from, but in all cases such judgment remains in full force and effect, and its lien remains unimpaired, notwithstanding the giving of the undertaking or making the deposit required in this chapter, until such judgment is reversed or modified by the supreme court. (Rev., s. 604; 1887, c. 192; C. S. 657.)

§ 1-297. Judgment on appeal and on undertakings; restitution.—Upon an appeal from a judgment or order, the appellate court may reverse, affirm or modify the judgment or order appealed from, in the respect mentioned in the notice of appeal, and as to any or all of the parties, and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial. When the judgment is reversed or modified, the appellate court may make complete restitution of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment. Undertakings for the prosecution of appeals and on writs of certiorari shall make a part of the record sent up to the supreme court on which judgment may be entered against the appellant or person prosecuting the writ of certiorari and his sureties, in all cases where judgment is rendered against the appellant or person prosecuting the writ. (Rev., s. 605; Code, s. 563; C. C. P., s. 314; R. C., c. 4, s. 10; 1785, c. 233, s. 2; 1810, c. 793; 1831, c. 46, s. 2; C. S. 658.)

§ 1-298. Procedure after determination of appeal.—In civil cases, at the first term of the superior court after a certificate of the determination of an appeal is received, if the judgment is affirmed the court below shall direct the execution thereof to proceed, and if the judgment is modified, shall direct its modification and performance. If a new trial is ordered the cause stands in its regular order on the docket for trial at such first term after the receipt of the certificate from the supreme court. (Rev., s. 1526; 1887, c. 192, s. 2; C. S. 659.)

§ 1-299. Appeal from justice heard de novo; judgment by default; appeal dismissed.—When an appeal is taken from the judgment of a justice of the peace to a superior court, it shall be therein reheard, on the original papers, and no copy thereof need be furnished for the use of the appellate court. An issue shall be made up and tried by a jury at the first term to which the case is returned, unless continued, and judgment shall be given against the party cast and his sureties. When the defendant defaults, the plaintiff in actions instituted on a single bond, a covenant for the payment of money, bill of exchange, promissory note, or a signed account, shall have judgment, and in other cases may have his inquiry of damages executed forthwith by a jury. If the appellant fails to have his appeal docketed as required by law, the appellee may, at the term of court next succeeding the term to which the appeal is taken, have the case placed upon the docket, and upon motion the judgment of the justice shall be affirmed and judgment rendered against the appellant, and for the costs of appeal and against his sureties upon the undertaking, if there are any, according to the conditions thereof. Nothing herein prevents the granting the writ of recordari in cases now allowed by law. (Rev., ss. 607, 609; Code, ss. 565, 881; C. C. P., s. 540; 1889, c. 443; R. C., c. 31, s. 105; 1777, c. 115, s. 63; 1794, c. 414; C. S. 660.)

Local Modification.—Transylvania: 1935, c. 32.

§ 1-300. Appeal from justice docketed for trial de novo.—When the return is made from the justice's court the clerk of the appellate court shall docket the case on his trial docket for a new trial of the whole matter at the ensuing term of said court. (Rev., s. 608; Code, s. 880; C. C. P., s. 539; 1876-7, c. 251, s. 8; C. S. 661.)

§ 1-301. Plaintiff's cost bond on appeal from justice.—When a defendant appeals from the judgment of a justice of the peace to the superior court, or when the judgment of the justice is removed by the defendant, by recordari or otherwise, to a superior court, the court having cognizance of the appeal or recordari may, upon sufficient cause shown by affidavit, compel the plaintiff to give an undertaking, with sufficient surety, for payment of the costs of the suit, in the event of his failing to prosecute the same with effect. (Rev., s. 606; Code, s. 564; R. C., c. 31, s. 104; 1831, c. 29; C. S. 662.)

SUBCHAPTER X. EXECUTION.

Art. 28. Execution.

§ 1-302. Judgment enforced by execution. — Where a judgment requires the payment of money or the delivery of real or personal property it may be enforced in those respects by execution, as provided in this article. Where it requires the performance of any other act a certified copy of the judgment may be served upon the party against whom it is given, or upon the person or officer who is required thereby or by law to obey the same, and his obedience thereto enforced. If he refuses, he may be punished by the court as for contempt. (Rev., s. 615; Code, s. 441; C. C. P., s. 257; C. S. 663.)

§ 1-303. Kinds of; signed by clerk; when sealed.—There are three kinds of execution: one against the property of the judgment debtor, another against his person, and the third for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, or such delivery with damages for withholding the same. They shall be deemed the process of the court, and shall be subscribed by the clerk, and when to run out of his county, must be sealed with the seal of his court. (Rev., s. 616; Code, s. 442; C. C. P., s. 258; C. S. 664.)

§ 1-304. Against married woman.—An execution may issue against a married woman, and it must direct the levy and collection of the amount of the judgment against her from her separate property, and not otherwise. (Rev., s. 617; Code, s. 443; C. C. P., s. 259; C. S. 665.)

§ 1-305. Clerk to issue, in six weeks; penalty.—The clerks of the superior court shall issue executions on all judgments rendered in their respective courts, unless otherwise directed by the plaintiff, within six weeks of the rendition of the judgment, and must endorse upon the record the date of such issue. If the executions issued are not returned satisfied to the courts to which they are made returnable, the clerks must issue alias executions, within six weeks thereafter, unless otherwise instructed as aforesaid. Every clerk who fails to comply with the requirements of this section is liable to be amerced in the sum of one hundred dollars for the benefit of the party aggrieved, under the same rules that are provided by law for amercing sheriffs, and is further liable to the party injured by suit upon his bond. (Rev., s. 618; Code, s. 470; R. C., c. 45, s. 29; 1850, c. 17, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 666.)

§ 1-306. Enforcement as of course. — The party in whose favor judgment is given, and in case of his death, his personal representatives duly appointed, may at any time after the entry of judgment proceed to enforce it by execution, as provided in this article; Provided, however, that no execution upon any judgment which requires the payment of money or the recovery of personal property may be issued at any time after ten years from the date of the rendition thereof; but this proviso shall not apply to any execution issued solely for the purpose of enforcing the lien of a judgment upon any homestead, which has or shall hereafter be allotted within the ten years from the date of rendition of judgment, or any judgment directing the payment of alimony. (Rev., s. 619; Code, s. 437; C. C. P., s. 255; 1927, c. 24; 1935, c. 98; C. S. 667.)

§ 1-307. Issued from and returned to court of rendition.—Executions and other process for the enforcement of judgments can issue only from the court in which the judgment for the enforcement of the execution or other final process was rendered; and the returns of executions or other final process shall be made to the court of the county from which it issued. (Rev., s. 623; Code, s. 444; 1871-2, c. 74; 1881, c. 75; C. S. 669.)

§ 1-308. To what counties issued.—When the execution is against the property of the judgment debtor it may be issued to the sheriff of any county where the judgment is docketed. No execution may issue from the superior court of any county upon a judgment until it is docketed in that county. When it requires the delivery of real or personal property it must be issued to the sheriff of the county where the property, or some part thereof, is situated. Executions may be issued at the same time to different counties. (Rev., s. 622; Code, s. 443; C. C. P., s. 259; 1871-2, c. 74; 1881, c. 75; 1905, c. 412; C. S. 670.)

§ 1-309. Sale of land under execution.—Real property adjudged to be sold must be sold in the county where it lies, by the sheriff of the county or by a referee appointed by the court for that purpose; and thereupon the sheriff or referee must execute a conveyance to the purchaser, which conveyance shall be effectual to pass the rights and interests of the parties adjudged to be sold. (Rev., s. 622; Code, s. 443; C. C. P., s. 259; C. S. 671.)

§ 1-310. When dated and returnable.—Executions shall be dated as of the day on which they were issued, and shall be returnable to the court from which they were issued not less than forty nor more than ninety days from said date, and no executions against property shall issue until the end of the term during which judgment was rendered. (Rev., s. 624; Code, s. 449; 1903, c. 544; 1870-1, c. 42, s. 7; 1873-4, c. 7; 1927, c. 110; 1931, c. 172; C. S. 672.)

§ 1-311. Against the person.—If the action is one in which the defendant might have been arrested, an execution against the person of the judgment debtor may be issued to any county within the state, after the return of an execution against his property wholly or partly unsatisfied. But no execution shall issue against the person of a judgment debtor, unless an order of arrest has been served, as provided in the article Arrest and Bail, or unless the complaint contains a statement of facts showing one or more of the causes of arrest required by law, whether such statement of facts is necessary to the cause of action or not. (Rev., s. 625; Code, s. 447; 1891, c. 541, s. 2; C. C. P., s. 260; C. S. 673.)

§ 1-312. Rights against property of defendant dying in execution.—Parties at whose suit the body of a person is taken in execution for a judgment recovered, their executors or administrators, may, after the death of the person so taken and dying in execution, have the same rights against the property of the person deceased, as they might have had if that person had never been in execution. (Rev., s. 626; Code, s. 469; R. C., c. 45, s. 28; 21 James I, s. 24; C. S. 674.)

§ 1-313. Form of execution.—The execution must be directed to the sheriff, or coroner when the sheriff is a party or interested, subscribed by the clerk of the court, and must intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the county where the judgment roll or transcript is filed, the names of the parties, the amount of the judgment, if it is for money, the amount actually due thereon, and the time of docketing in the county to which the execution is issued, and shall require the officer substantially as follows:

1. Against property—no lien on personal property until levy.—If it is against the property of the judgment debtor, it shall require the officer to satisfy the judgment out of his personal property; and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, out of the real property belonging to him on the day when the judgment was docketed in the county, or at any time thereafter; but no execution against the property of a judgment debtor is a lien on his personal property, as against any bona fide purchaser from him for value, or as against any other execution, except from the levy thereof.

2. Against property in hands of personal representative.—If it is against real or personal property in the hands of personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants of real property or trustees it shall require the officer to satisfy the judgment out of such property.

3. Against the person.—If it is against the person of the judgment debtor, it shall require the officer to arrest him, and commit him to the jail of the county until he pays the judgment or is discharged according to law.

4. For delivery of specific property.—If it is for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, it shall require the officer to deliver the possession of the same, particularly describing it, to the party entitled thereto, and may at the same time require the officer to satisfy any costs, damages, rents, or profits recovered by the same judgment, out of the personal property of the party against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was recovered, to be specified therein, if a delivery cannot be had; and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of the real property belonging to him on the day when the judgment was docketed, or at any time thereafter, and in that respect is deemed an execution against property.

5. For purchase money of land.—If the answer in an action for recovery of a debt contracted for the purchase of land does not deny, or if the jury finds, that the debt was so contracted, it is the duty of the court to have embodied in the judgment that the debt sued on was contracted for the purchase money of the land, describing it briefly; and it is also the duty of the clerk to set forth in the execution that the said debt was contracted for the purchase of the land, the description of which must be set out briefly as in the complaint. (Rev., s. 627; Code, ss. 234-236, 448; C. C. P., s. 261; 1868-9, c. 148; 1879, c. 217; C. S. 675.)

§ 1-314. Variance between judgment and execution.—When property has been sold by an officer by virtue of an execution or other process commanding sale, no variance between the execution and the judgment whereon it was issued, in the sum due, in the manner in which it is due, or in the time when it is due, invalidates or affects the title of the purchaser of such property. (Rev., s. 628; Code, s. 1347; R. C., c. 44, s. 13; 1848, c. 53; C. S. 676.)

§ 1-315. Property liable to sale under execution.—The property of the judgment debtor, not exempted from sale under the constitution and laws of this state, may be levied on and sold under execution as hereinafter prescribed:

1. Goods, chattels, and real property belonging to him.

2. All leasehold estates of three years duration or more, owned by him.

3. Equitable and legal rights of redemption in personal and real property pledged or mortgaged by him. But when the equity of redemption in personal property is sold under execution, notice of the time and place of said sale shall be given the mortgagee.

4. Real property or goods and chattels of which any person is seized or possessed in trust for him.

But no execution shall be levied on growing crops until they are matured. (Rev., ss. 629, 632; Code, ss. 450, 453; R. C., c. 45, ss. 1-5, 11; 5 Geo. II, c. 7, s. 4; 1777, c. 115, s. 29; 1812, c. 830, ss. 1, 2; 1822, c. 1172; 1844, c. 35; 1919, c. 30; C. S. 677.)

§ 1-316. Sale of trust estates; purchaser's title.—Upon the sale under execution of trust estates whereof the judgment debtor is beneficiary the sheriff shall execute a deed to the purchaser, and the purchaser thereof shall hold and enjoy the same freed and discharged from all encumbrances of the trustee. (Rev., s. 630; Code, s. 452; R. C., c. 45, s. 4; 1812, c. 830; C. S. 678.)

§ 1-317. Sheriff's deed on sale of equity of redemption.—The sheriff selling equitable and legal rights of redemption shall set forth in the deed to the purchaser thereof that the said estates were under mortgage at the time of judgment, or levy in the case of personal property and sale. (Rev., s. 631; Code, s. 451; R. C., c. 45, s. 5; 1812, c. 830, s. 2; 1822, c. 1172; C. S. 679.)

§ 1-318. Forthcoming bond for personal property.—If a sheriff or other officer who has levied an execution or other process upon personal property permits it to remain with the possessor, the officer may take a bond, attested by a credible witness, for the forthcoming thereof to answer the execution or process; but the officer remains, nevertheless, in all respects liable as heretofore to the plaintiff's claim. (Rev., 633; Code, 463; R. C., c. 45, s. 21; 1807, c. 731, s. 3; 1828, c. 12, s. 2; C. S. 680.)

§ 1-319. Procedure on giving bond; subsequent levies.—When the forthcoming bond is taken the officer must specify therein the property levied upon and furnish to the surety a list of the property in writing under his hand, attested by at least one credible witness, and stating therein the day of sale. The property levied upon is deemed in the custody of the surety, as the bailee of the officer. All other executions thereafter levied on this property create a lien on the same from and after the respectives levies, and shall be satisfied accordingly out of the proceeds of the sale of the property; but the officer thereafter levying shall not take the property out of the custody of the surety. But in all such cases sales of chattels shall take place within thirty days after the first levy; and if sale is not made within that time any other officer who has levied upon the property may seize and sell it. (Rev., 634; Code, s. 464; R. C., c. 45, s. 22; 1844, c. 34; 1846, c. 50; C. S. 682.)

§ 1-320. Summary remedy on forthcoming bond.—If the condition of such bond be broken, the sheriff or other officer, on giving ten days previous notice in writing to any obligor therein, may on motion have judgment against him in a summary manner, before the superior court or before a justice of the peace, as the case may be, of the county in which the officer resides, for all damages which the officer has sustained, or may be adjudged liable to sustain, not exceeding the penalty of the bond, to be ascertained by a jury, under the direction of the court or justice. (Rev., 635; Code, s. 465; R. C., c. 45, s. 23; 1822, c. 1141; C. S. 681.)

§ 1-321. Entry of returns on judgment docket; penalty.—When an execution is returned, the return of the sheriff or other officer must be noted by the clerk on the judgment docket; and when it is returned wholly or partially satisfied, it is the duty of the clerk of the court to which it is returned to send a copy of such last mentioned return, under his hand, to the clerk of the superior court of each county in which such judgment is docketed, who must note such copy in his judgment docket, opposite the judgment, and file the copy with the transcript of the docket of the judgment in his office. A clerk failing to send a copy of the payments on the execution or judgment to the clerks of the superior court of the counties wherein a transcript of the judgment has been docketed, and a clerk failing to note said payment on the judgment docket of his court, shall, on motion, be fined one hundred dollars nisi, and the judgment shall be made absolute upon notice to show cause at the succeeding term of the superior court of his county. (Rev., s. 636; Code, s. 445; 1871-2, c. 74, s. 2; 1881, c. 75; C. S. 683.)

§ 1-322. Cost of keeping livestock; officer's account.—The court or justice shall make a reasonable allowance to officers for keeping and maintaining horses, cattle, hogs, or sheep, and all other property taken into their custody under legal process, the keeping of which is chargeable to them; and this allowance may be retained by the officers out of the sales of the property, in preference to the satisfaction of the process under which the property was seized or sold. The officer must make out his account and, if required, give the debtor or his agent a copy of it, signed by his own hand, and must return the account with the execution or other process, under which the property has been seized or sold, to the justice or court to whom the excution or process is returnable, and shall swear to the correctness of the several items set forth; otherwise he shall not be permitted to retain the allowance. (Rev., ss. 637, 638; Code, ss. 466, 467; R. C., c. 45, ss. 25, 26; 1807, c. 731; C. S. 684.)

§ 1-323. Purchaser of defective title; remedy against defendant.—Where real or personal property is sold on any execution or decree, by any officer authorized to make the sale, and the sale is made legally and in good faith, and the property did not belong to the person against whose estate the execution or decree was issued, by reason of which the purchaser has been deprived of the property, or been compelled to pay damages in lieu thereof to the owner, the purchaser, his executors or administrators, may sue the person against whom such execution or decree was issued, or the person legally representing him, in a civil action, and recover such sum as he may have paid for the property, with interest from the time of payment; but the property, if personal, must be present at the sale and actually delivered to the purchaser. (Rev., s. 639; Code, s. 468; R. C., c. 45, s. 27; 1807, c. 723; C. S. 685.)

§ 1-324. Costs on execution paid to clerk; penalty.—The sheriff or other officer must pay the costs on all executions which are satisfied in whole or in part, to the clerk of the court from which the execution issued, and to no other person, on the second day of the term of the court; and any such officer making default herein shall forfeit and pay forty dollars for the benefit of the party aggrieved, under the same rules that are provided by law for amercing sheriffs. (Rev., s. 640; Code, s. 472; R. S., c. 76, s. 5; 1822, c. 1149; C. S. 686.)

Art. 29. Execution and Judicial Sales.

§ 1-325. How advertised.—No real property shall be sold under execution, deed of trust, mortgage or other contracts, except as provided in other sections of this article until notice of sale has been posted at the courthouse door in the county for thirty days immediately preceding the sale, and also published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, if a paper is published in the county: Provided, that if there be no newspaper published in said county the notice of such sale must be posted at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for thirty days immediately preceding the sale. (Rev., s. 641; Code, s. 456; 1885, c. 38; 1905, c. 147; 1868-9, c. 237, s. 10; R. C., c. 45, s. 16; 1881, c. 278; 1909, c. 705; 1927, c. 255, s. 1; C. S. 687.)

§ 1-326. Advertisement of resale.—No real property shall be sold under execution, deed of trust, mortgage or other contracts, except as provided in the following section until notice of sale has been posted at the courthouse door in the county for at least fifteen days and published at least once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper, if a paper is published in the county where the resale is made. (1913, c. 19; 1927, c. 255, s. 2; C. S. 688.)

§ 1-327. Judicial foreclosure; notice of sale and resale.—When any mortgage or deed of trust on real property shall be foreclosed by judicial proceedings it may be provided in the decree of foreclosure that the advertisement of the sale shall be begun at any time after the date of the decree of foreclosure, and such real property shall then be sold under judicial foreclosure proceedings only after notice of sale has been duly posted at the courthouse door in the county for thirty days immediately preceding the sale and also published at any time during such thirty day period once a week for four successive weeks of not less than twenty-one days in some newspaper published in the county if a newspaper is published in the county, but if there is no newspaper published in said county, the notice of such sale must be posted at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for thirty days immediately preceding the sale: Provided, however, that in case a resale of such real property shall become necessary under such judicial foreclosure proceedings, that such real property shall then be resold only after notice of resale has been duly posted at the courthouse door in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the resale and also published at any time during such fifteen day period once a week for two successive weeks of not less than seven days in some newspaper published in the county if a newspaper is published in the county, but if there be no newspaper published in said county, the notice of resale must be posted at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the resale. (1929, c. 44, s. 1; 1933, c. 96, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Stanley: Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 263.

§ 1-328. Notice defined.—In any sale of real property under execution, deed of trust, mortgage or other contracts, wherever any statute calls for publication of notice in a newspaper for four successive weeks or for two successive weeks, the duration of said period shall be not less than twenty-one days for the one period of publication and not less than seven days for the period of the other publication. (1929, c. 44, s. 2; 1933, c. 96, s. 2.)

§ 1-329. Validation of certain sales.—All sales of real property under execution, deed of trust, mortgage or other contracts made since February 21, 1929, where the original sale was published for four successive weeks, and any re-sale published for two successive weeks shall be and the same are in all respects validated as to publication of notice. (1933, c. 96, s. 3.)

§ 1-330. Notice served on defendant; when on governor and attorney general.—In addition to the advertisement above required, the sheriff shall in every case, at least ten days before a sale of real property under execution, serve a copy of so much of the advertisement as relates to the real property of any defendant on him personally if he is found in the county, or on his agent if he has a known agent therein, or if he cannot be found within the county and has no known agent therein, but his address is known, by mail to such address; and the date of service shall be ascertained by the usual course of the mail from the place where sent to the place of its address. In case of the sale under execution, or under the order of any court, of any real or personal property in which the state is interested as a stockholder or otherwise, notice in writing must be served upon the governor and attorney general, at least thirty days before the sale, of the time and place of sale, and under what process it is made, otherwise the sale is invalid. (Rev., s. 642; Code, s. 457; 1868-9, c. 237, s. 11; 1876-7, c. 224; C. S. 689.)

§ 1-331. Sale days; place of sale; ratification of prior sales.—All real property sold under execution shall be sold at the courthouse door of the county in which all or a part of the property is situated, on any day of the week or month except Sunday, after advertising as required by law. All sales of real property sold under order of court shall be sold at the courthouse door in the county in which all or any part of the property is situated on any day of the week or month except Sunday, unless in the order directing such sale some other place and time are designated and then it shall be sold as directed in such order on any day of the week or month except Sunday, after advertising as required by law.

Sales and resales of real property under execution, or by order of court, or under the power of foreclosure in any deed of trust or mortgage may be made on any day of any week or month, except Sunday.

All sales made prior to March 2, 1939, under execution or by order of court on any day other than the first Monday in any month, or the first three days of a term of the superior court of said county are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed.

All sales or resales of real property made prior to March 30, 1939, under order of court on the premises or at the courthouse door in the county in which all, or any part of the property, is situated, on any day other than Monday in any month, are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed. (Rev., s. 643; Code, s. 454; 1876-7, c. 216, ss. 2, 3; 1883, c. 94, ss. 1, 2; 1931, c. 23; 1937, c. 26; 1939, cc. 71, 256; C. S. 690.)

§ 1-332. Sales on other days validated.—All sales of real or personal property made prior to February 27, 1933, by a sheriff of any county in North Carolina, in the manner provided by law for sale of real or personal property under execution, on any day other than the day now provided by law are hereby validated.

All sales of real and personal property made prior to February 14, 1939, by a sheriff under execution, or by commissioner under order of court, in the manner provided by law for sale of real or personal property, on any day other than the days now provided by law are hereby validated.

All sales of real or personal property made prior to March 10, 1939, by a sheriff of any county in North Carolina, in the manner provided by law for sale of real or personal property under execution, on any day other than the day now provided by law, are hereby validated. (1933, c. 79; 1939, cc. 24, 94.)

§ 1-333. Sale hours.—No sale under an execution or decree shall commence before ten o'clock in the morning, or continue after four o'clock in the afternoon, of the day on which the sale is to be made, except that in towns or cities of more than five thousand inhabitants public sales of goods, wares and merchandise may be continued until ten o'clock p. m. Provided, a certain hour for such sales shall be named and the sale shall begin within one hour after the time fixed, unless postponed as provided by law, or delayed by other sales. (Rev., s. 644; Code, s. 459; R. C., c. 45, s. 17; 1794, c. 41; 1927, c. 19; C. S. 691.)

§ 1-334. Postponement.—The sheriff or other person making the sale, for the absence of bidders or any other just cause, may postpone the sale from day to day, but not for more than six days in all, and upon postponement he must post a notice thereof on the courthouse door of his county. (Rev., s. 645; Code, s. 455; 1868-9, c. 237, s. 9; C. S. 692.)

§ 1-335. Certain sales validated.—All sales of realty made under executions issued prior to March the fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and one, on judgments regularly obtained in courts of competent jurisdiction, are hereby validated, whether such sales were continued from day to day or for a longer period, not exceeding ten days: Provided, that such executions and sales are in all other respects regular: Provided further, that purchasers and their assigns shall have held continuous and adverse possession under a sheriff's deed for three years: Provided further, that the rights of minors and married women shall in nowise be prejudiced hereby. (Rev., s. 646; 1901, c. 742; C. S. 693.)

§ 1-336. Advertisement as to personal property.—No sale of personal property under execution may be made until it has been advertised for ten days at the door of the courthouse of the county in which it is to be sold, and at three other public places in the county, and the advertisement must designate the place and the time of sale. (Rev., s. 648; Code, s. 460; R. C., c. 45, s. 16; 1808, c. 753; 1820, c. 1066; C. S. 695.)

§ 1-337. Penalty for selling contrary to law.—A sheriff or other officer who makes any sale contrary to the true intent and meaning of this article shall forfeit two hundred dollars to any person suing for it, one-half for his own use and the other half to the use of the county where the offense is committed. (Rev., s. 649; Code, s. 461; R. C., c. 45, s. 18; 1820, c. 1066, s. 2; 1822, c. 1153, s. 3; C. S. 696.)

§ 1-338. Officer's return of no sale for want of bidders; penalty.—When a sheriff or other officer returns upon an execution that he has made no sale for want of bidders, he must state in his return the several places he has advertised and offered for sale the property levied on; and an officer failing to make such statement is on motion subject to a fine of forty dollars; and every constable, for a like omission of duty, is subject to a fine of ten dollars, for the use and benefit of the plaintiff in the execution; for which, on motion of the plaintiff, judgment shall be granted by the court to which, or by justice to whom, the execution shall be returned. Nothing in, nor any recovery under, this section is a bar to any action for a false return against the sheriff or other officer. (Rev., s. 650; Code, s. 462; R. C., c. 45, s. 19; 1815, c. 887; C. S. 697.)

§ 1-339. Officer to prepare deed for property sold.—Sheriffs or other officers selling lands by authority of any execution or process shall, upon payment of the price, prepare, execute and deliver to the purchaser a deed for the property purchased. The purchaser of land must furnish the officer with a description of it. (Rev., s. 651; Code, s. 471; R. C., c. 45, s. 30; 1848, c. 39; C. S. 698.)

Art. 30. Betterments.

§ 1-340. Petition by claimant; execution suspended; issues found. — A defendant against whom a judgment is rendered for land may, at any time before execution, present a petition to the court rendering the judgment, stating that he, or those under whom he claims, while holding the premises under a color of title believed to be good, have made permanent improvements thereon, and praying that he may be allowed for the improvements, over and above the value of the use and occupation of the land. The court may, if satisfied of the probable truth of the allegation, suspend the execution of the judgment and impanel a jury to assess the damages of the plaintiff and the allowance to the defendant for the improvements. In any such action this inquiry and assessment may be made upon the trial of the cause. (Rev., s. 652; Code, s. 473; 1871-2, c. 147; C. S. 699.)

§ 1-341. Annual value of land and waste charged against defendant.—The jury, in assessing the damages, shall estimate against the defendant the clear annual value of the premises during the time he was in possession, exclusive of the use of the improvements thereon made by himself or those under whom he claims, and also the damages for waste or other injury to the premises committed by the defendant. The defendant is not liable for the annual value or for damages for waste or other injury for any longer time than three years before the suit, unless he claims for improvements. (Rev., ss. 653, 654; Code, ss. 474, 475; 1871-2, c. 147, ss. 2-3; C. S. 700.)

§ 1-342. Value of improvements estimated.—If the jury is satisfied that the defendant, or those under whom he claims, made on the premises, at a time when there was reason to believe the title good under which he or they were holding the premises, permanent and valuable improvements, they shall estimate in his favor the value of the improvements made before notice, in writing, of the title under which the plaintiff claims, not exceeding the amount actually expended in making them and not exceeding the amount to which the value of the premises is actually increased thereby at the time of the assessment. (Rev., s. 655; Code, s. 476; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 4; C. S. 701.)

§ 1-343. Improvements to balance rents.—If the sum estimated for the improvements exceeds the damages estimated against the defendant as aforesaid, the jury shall then estimate against him for any time before the said three years the rents and profits accrued against or damages for waste or other injury done by him, or those under whom he claims, so far as is necessary to balance his claim for improvements; but the defendant in such case shall not be liable for the excess, if any, of such rents, profits, or damages beyond the value of improvements. (Rev., s. 656; Code, s. 477; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 5; C. S. 702.)

§ 1-344. Verdict, judgment, and lien.—After offsetting the damages assessed for the plaintiff, and the allowances to the defendant for any improvements, the jury shall find a verdict for the balance for the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, and judgment shall be entered therefor according to the verdict. Any such balance due to the defendant is a lien upon the land recovered by the plaintiff until it is paid. (Rev., ss. 657, 658; Code, ss. 478, 479; 1871-2, c. 147, ss. 6, 7; C. S. 703.)

§ 1-345. Life tenant recovers from remainderman.—If the plaintiff claims only an estate for life in the land recovered and pays any sum allowed to the defendant for improvements, he or his personal representative may recover at the determination of his estate from the remainderman or reversioner, the value of the said improvements as they then exist, not exceeding the amount as paid by him, and he has a lien therefor on the premises as if they had been mortgaged for the payment thereof, and may keep possession of said premises until it is paid. (Rev., s. 659; Code, s. 480; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 8; C. S. 704.)

§ 1-346. Value of premises without improvements.—When the defendant claims allowance for improvements, the plaintiff may by entry on the record require that the value of his estate in the premises without the improvements shall also be ascertained. The value of the premises in such cases shall be estimated as it would have been at the time of the inquiry, if no such improvements had been made by the tenant or any person under whom he claims, and shall be ascertained in the manner hereinbefore provided for estimating the value of improvements. (Rev., ss. 661, 662; Code, ss. 482, 483; 1871-2, c. 147, ss. 10-11; C. S. 705.)

§ 1-347. Plaintiff's election that defendant take premises.—The plaintiff in such case, if judgment is rendered for him, may, at any time during the same term, or before judgment is rendered on the assessment of the value of the improvements, in person or by his attorney in the cause, enter on the record his election to relinquish his estate in the premises to the defendant at the value as ascertained, and the defendant shall thenceforth hold all the estate that the plaintiff had therein at the commencement of the suit, if he pays therefor the said value with interest in the manner ordered by the court. (Rev., s. 663; Code, s. 484; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 12; C. S. 706.)

§ 1-348. Payment made to court; land sold on default.—The payment must be made to the plaintiff, or into court for his use, and the land is bound therefor, and if the defendant fails to make the payment within or at the times limited therefor, the court may order the land sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of said value and interest, and any surplus to be paid to the defendant; but if the net proceeds are insufficient to satisfy the said value and interest, the defendant is not bound for the deficiency. (Rev., s. 664; Code, s. 485; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 13; C. S. 707.)

§ 1-349. Procedure where plaintiff is under disability.—If the party by or for whom the land is claimed in the suit is a married woman, minor, or insane person, such value is deemed to be real estate, and shall be disposed of as the court considers proper for the benefit of the persons interested therein. (Rev., s. 665; Code, s. 486; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 14; C. S. 708.)

§ 1-350. Defendant evicted, may recover from plaintiff.—If the defendant, his heirs or assigns, after the premises are so relinquished to him, is evicted by force of a better title than that of the original plaintiff, the person so evicted may recover from the plaintiff or his representatives the amount paid for the premises, as so much money had and received by the plaintiff in his lifetime for the use of such person, with lawful interest thereon from the time of the payment. (Rev., s. 666; Code, s. 487; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 15; C. S. 709.)

§ 1-351. Not applicable to suit by mortgagee.—Nothing in this article applies to any suit brought by a mortgagee or his heirs or assigns against a mortgagor or his heirs or assigns for the recovery of the mortgaged premises. (Rev., s. 660; Code, s. 481; 1871-2, c. 147, s. 9; C. S. 710.)

Art. 31. Supplemental Proceedings.

§ 1-352. Execution unsatisfied, debtor ordered to answer.—When an execution against property of a judgment debtor, or any one of several debtors in the same judgment, issued to the sheriff of the county where he resides or has a place of business, or if he does not reside in the state, to the sheriff of the county where a judgment roll or a transcript of a justice's judgment is filed, is returned wholly or partially unsatisfied, the judgment creditor at any time after the return, and within three years from the time of issuing the execution, is entitled to an order from the court to which the execution is returned or from the judge thereof, requiring such debtor to appear and answer concerning his property before such court or judge, at a time and place specified in the order, within the county to which the execution was issued. (Rev., s. 667; Code, s. 488, subsec. 1; C. C. P., s. 264; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 711.)

§ 1-353. Property withheld from execution; proceedings.—After the issuing of an execution against property, and upon proof by affidavit of a party, his agent or attorney, to the satisfaction of the court or a judge thereof, that any judgment debtor residing in the judicial district where such judge or sheriff resides has property which he unjustly refuses to apply toward the satisfaction of the judgment, such court or judge may, by order, require the judgment debtor to appear at a specified time and place, to answer concerning the same; and proceedings may thereupon be had for the application of the property of the judgment debtor towards the satisfaction of the judgment as provided upon the return of an execution, and the judgment creditor is entitled to the order of examination under this and the preceding section, although the judgment debtor has an equitable estate in land subject to the lien of the judgment, or choses in action, or other things of value unaffected by the lien of the judgment and incapable of levy. (Rev., s. 668; Code, s. 488, subsec. 2; C. C. P., s. 264; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 712.)

§ 1-354. Proceedings against joint debtors.—Proceedings supplemental to execution may be taken upon the return of an execution unsatisfied, issued upon a judgment recovered in an action against joint debtors, in which some of the defendants have not been served with the summons by which the action was commenced, so far as relates to the joint property of such debtors; and all actions by creditors to obtain satisfaction of judgments out of the property of joint debtors are maintainable in like manner and to the like effect. These provisions apply to all proceedings and actions pending and to those terminated by final decree or judgment. (Rev., s. 669; Code, s. 490; C. C. P., s. 266; 1869-70, c. 79, s. 2; 1870-1, c. 245; C. S. 713.)

§ 1-355. Debtor leaving state, or concealing himself, arrested; bond.—Instead of the order requiring the attendance of the judgment debtor, the court or judge may, upon proof by affidavit or otherwise to his satisfaction that there is danger of the debtor leaving the state or concealing himself, and that there is reason to believe that he has property which he unjustly refuses to apply to the judgment, issue a warrant requiring the sheriff of any county where such debtor is to arrest him and bring him before the court or judge. Upon being brought before the court or judge, the debtor may be examined on oath, and, if it appears that there is danger of his leaving the state, and that he has property which he has unjustly refused to apply to the judgment, he shall be ordered to enter into an undertaking, with one or more sureties, that he will, from time to time, attend before the court or judge as directed, and that he will not, during the pendency of the proceedings, dispose of any property not exempt from execution. In default of entering into such undertaking, he may be committed to prison by warrant of the court or judge, as for contempt. (Rev., s. 671; Code, s. 488, subsec. 4; 1868-9, c. 148, s. 4; 1868-9, c. 277, s. 8; C. S. 714.)

§ 1-356. Examination of parties and witnesses.—On examination under this article either party may examine witnesses in his behalf, and the judgment debtor may be examined in the same manner as a witness; and the party or witnesses may be required to appear before the court or judge, or a referee appointed by either, and testify on any proceedings under this article in the same manner as upon the trial of an issue. If before a referee, the examination shall be taken by the referee, and certified to the court or judge. All examinations and answers before a court or judge or referee under this article must be on oath, except that when a corporation answers, the answer shall be on the oath of an officer thereof. (Rev., ss. 670, 676; Code, ss. 488 [subsec. 2], 491, 492; C. C. P., ss. 264, 267, 268; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 2; 1871-2, c. 245; C. S. 715.)

§ 1-357. Incriminating answers not privileged; not used in criminal proceedings.—No person, on examination pursuant to this article, is excused from answering any question on the ground that it will tend to convict him of the commission of a crime or that he has, before the examination, executed any conveyance, assignment or transfer of his property for any purpose, but his answer shall not be used as evidence against him in any criminal proceeding or prosecution. (Rev., s. 672; Code, s. 488, subsec. 5; C. C. P., s. 264; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 716.)

§ 1-358. Disposition of property forbidden.—The court or judge may, by order, forbid a transfer or other disposition of, or any interference with, the property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution. (Rev., s. 673; Code, ss. 488 [subsec. 6], 494; C. C. P., s. 264; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 717.)

§ 1-359. Debtors of judgment debtor may satisfy execution.—After the issuing of an execution against property, all persons indebted to the judgment debtor, or to any one of several debtors in the same judgment, may pay to the sheriff the amount of their debt, or as much thereof as is necessary to satisfy the execution; and the sheriff's receipt is a sufficient discharge for the amount paid. (Rev., s. 674; Code, s. 489; C. C. P., s. 265; C. S. 718.)

§ 1-360. Debtors of judgment debtor, summoned.—After the issuing or return of an execution against property of the judgment debtor, or of any one of several debtors in the same judgment, and upon affidavit that any person or corporation has property of said judgment debtor, or is indebted to him in an amount exceeding ten dollars, the court or judge may, by order, require such person or corporation, or any officer or members thereof, to appear at a specified time and place, and answer concerning the same. The court or judge may also, in its or his discretion, require notice of the proceeding to be given to any party to the action, in such manner as seems proper. (Rev., s. 675; Code, s. 490; C. C. P., s. 266; 1869-70, c. 79, s. 2; 1870-1, c. 245; C. S. 719.)

§ 1-361. Where proceedings instituted and defendant examined.—Proceedings supplemental to execution must be instituted in the county in which the judgment was rendered; but the place designated where the defendant must appear and answer must be within the county where he resides. (Rev., s. 677; C. S. 720.)

§ 1-362. Debtor's property ordered sold.—The court or judge may order any property, whether subject or not to be sold under execution (except the homestead and personal property exemptions of the judgment debtor), in the hands of the judgment debtor or of any other person, or due to the judgment debtor, to be applied towards the satisfaction of the judgment; except that the earnings of the debtor for his personal services, at any time within sixty days next preceding the order, cannot be so applied when it appears, by the debtor's affidavit or otherwise, that these earnings are necessary for the use of a family supported wholly or partly by his labor. (Rev., s. 678; Code, s. 493; C. C. P., s. 269; 1870-1, c. 245; C. S. 721.)

§ 1-363. Receiver appointed.—The court or judge having jurisdiction over the appointment of receivers may also by order in like manner, and with like authority, appoint a receiver in proceedings under this article of the property of the judgment debtor, whether subject or not to be sold under execution, except the homestead and personal property exemptions. But before the appointment of the receiver, the court or judge shall ascertain if practicable, by the oath of the party or otherwise, whether any other supplementary proceedings are pending against the judgment debtor, and if so, the plaintiff therein shall have notice to appear before him, and shall likewise have notice of all subsequent proceedings in relation to the receivership. No more than one receiver of the property of a judgment debtor shall be appointed. The title of the receiver relates back to the service of the restraining order, herein provided for. (Rev., s. 679; Code, s. 494; C. C. P., s. 270; 1870-1, c. 245; 1876-7, c. 223; 1879, c. 63; 1881, c. 51; C. S. 722.)

§ 1-364. Filing and record of appointment; property vests in receiver.—When the court or a judge grants an order for the appointment of a receiver of the property of the judgment debtor, it shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the judgment roll in the action or transcript from justice's judgment, upon which the proceedings are taken, is filed; and the clerk shall record the order in a book to be kept for that purpose in his office, to be called Book of Orders Appointing Receivers of Judgment Debtors, and shall note the time of its filing therein. A certified copy of the order shall be delivered to the receiver named therein, and he is vested with the property and effects of the judgment debtor from the time of the service of the restraining order, if such restraining order has been made, and if not, from the time of the filing and recording of the order for the appointment of a receiver. The receiver of the judgment debtor is subject to the direction and control of the court in which the judgment was obtained upon which the proceedings are founded. (Rev., s. 680; Code, s. 495; C. C. P., s. 270; 1870-1, c. 245; C. S. 723.)

§ 1-366. Receiver to sue debtors of judgment debtor.—If it appears that a person or corporation alleged to have property of the judgment debtor, or indebted to him, claims an interest in the property adverse to him, or denies the debt, such interest or debt is recoverable only in an action against such person or corporation by the receiver; but the court or judge may, by order, forbid a transfer or other disposition of such property or interest till a sufficient opportunity is given to the receiver to commence and prosecute the action to judgment and execution, but such order may at any time be modified or dissolved by the court or judge having jurisdiction on such security as he directs. (Rev., s. 682; Code, s. 497; C. C. P., s. 271; 1870-1, c. 245; C. S. 725.)

§ 1-367. Reference.—The court or judge may, in his discretion, order a reference to a referee agreed upon by the parties, or appointed by him, to report the evidence or the facts. The appointment of the referee may be made in the first order or at any time. (Rev., s. 683; Code, s. 498; C. C. P., s. 272; C. S. 726.)

§ 1-368. Disobedience of orders punished as for contempt.—Any person, party or witness, who disobeys an order of the court or judge or referee, duly served, may be punished by the judge as for a contempt. In all cases of commitment under this article the person committed may, in case of inability to perform the act required, or to endure the imprisonment, be discharged from imprisonment by the judge committing him, or the judge having jurisdiction, on such terms as are just. (Rev., s. 684; Code, s. 500; C. C. P., s. 274; 1869-70, c. 79, s. 3; C. S. 727.)

SUBCHAPTER XI. HOMESTEAD AND EXEMPTIONS.

Art. 32. Property Exempt from Execution.

§ 1-369. Property exempted. — The homestead and personal property exemptions as defined and declared by the article of the state constitution entitled Homesteads and Exemptions are exempt from sale under execution and other final process, as provided in the state constitution: Provided, the allotment of the homestead shall, as to all property therein embraced, suspend the running of the statute of limitations on all judgments against the homesteader during the continuance of the homestead. (Rev., s. 685; Code, s. 501; 1885, c. 359; 1887, c. 17; 1895, c. 397; 1901, c. 612; 1879, c. 256; R. C., c. 45, s. 7; 1848, c. 38; R. C., c. 45, s. 8; 1844, c. 32; 1846, c. 53: 1848, c. 38, s. 2; 1866-7, c. 61, s. 7; 1876-7, c. 263; C. S. 728.)

§ 1-370. Conveyed homestead not exempt.—The allotted homestead is exempt from levy so long as owned and occupied by the homesteader or by any one for him, but when conveyed by him in the mode authorized by the constitution, article ten, section eight, the exemption ceases as to liens attaching prior to the conveyance. The homesteader who has conveyed his allotted homestead may have another allotted, and as often as is necessary. This section shall not have any retroactive effect. (Rev., s. 686; 1905, c. 111; C. S. 729.)

§ 1-371. Sheriff to summon and swear appraisers.—Before levying upon the real estate of any resident of this state who is entitled to a homestead under this article, and the constitution of this state, the sheriff [or a deputy sheriff designated by the sheriff, and who shall be twenty-one years of age or over], or other officer charged with the levy shall summon three discreet persons qualified to act as jurors, to whom he shall administer the following oath: "I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have no interest in the homestead exemption of C. D., and that I will faithfully perform the duties of appraiser (or assessor, as the case may be), in valuing and laying off the same. So help me, God." In cases where he deems it necessary he may summon the county surveyor or some other competent surveyor to assist in laying off the homestead by metes and bounds. The portions of this section in brackets shall apply to the following counties only: Guilford, Mecklenburg, Ashe, Jackson, Alamance, Martin, Brunswick, Davidson, Sampson, Davie, Randolph, Lenoir, Durham, Wilson, Cumberland, Scotland, New Hanover, Vance, Rowan, Henderson, Cabarrus, Pitt, Rockingham, Chowan, Gates, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Camden, Currituck, Hertford, Edgecombe, Harnett, Forsyth, Iredell, Lincoln, Bertie, Caldwell, Wayne, Halifax, Buncombe, Johnston, Moore, Duplin, Graham, Martin, Onslow. (Rev., s. 687; Code, s. 502; 1893, c. 58; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 2; 1931, c. 58; 1933, cc. 37, 147; C. S. 730.)

§ 1-372. Duty of appraisers; proceedings on return.—The appraisers shall value the homestead with its dwelling and buildings thereon, and lay off to the owner or to any agent or attorney, in his behalf, such portion as he selects not exceeding in value one thousand dollars, and must fix and describe the same by metes and bounds. They must then make and sign in the presence of the officer a return of their proceedings, setting forth the property exempted, which shall be returned by the officer to the clerk of the court for the county in which the homestead is situated and filed with the judgment roll in the action, and a minute of the same entered on the judgment docket, and a certified copy thereof under the hand of the clerk shall be registered in the office of the register of deeds for the county. The officer must likewise make a transcript of the return over his hand and return it without delay to the clerk of the court of the county from whence the execution issued, and said clerk must likewise file and make minute of the same as above directed. In all judicial proceedings the original return or a certified copy may be read in evidence. (Rev., ss. 688, 689; Code, ss. 503-4; 1868-9, c. 137, ss. 3-4; 1877, c. 272; C. S. 731.)

§ 1-373. Reallotment for increase of value.—A judgment creditor of a debtor whose homestead has been allotted may apply in writing to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the homestead lies for an order for its reallotment, if there is in the hands of the sheriff of that county an execution issued from the proper court against said debtor. The application must be accompanied by the affidavits of three disinterested freeholders of the county in which the homestead lies, setting forth that, in their opinion, it has increased in value fifty per centum or more since the last allotment. Upon the filing of the application and affidavits the clerk shall issue notice to the judgment debtor to appear before him on a day not more than five days from the day of its service and show cause why his homestead should not be reallotted. The notice must state upon whose application it is issued. Upon the return day of the notice the clerk shall consider the affidavits filed, as heretofore required, and any additional affidavits filed by either party, and if he is of opinion that the homestead has probably appreciated in value fifty per centum or more since the last allotment, he shall command the sheriff to reallot to the judgment debtor his homestead, in the same manner as if no homestead had been allotted. If upon the reallotment any excess is found, it shall be disposed of by the sheriff as in ordinary cases of execution and levy. This section does not prevent the judgment creditor from resorting to the equity jurisdiction of the courts for a reallotment of the homestead of his judgment debtor in any case. (Rev., s. 691; 1893, c. 149; C. S. 732.)

§ 1-374. Appeal as to reallotment.—From the order of the clerk commanding or refusing a reallotment, either party may appeal to the judge resident in or holding the courts of the district, who shall hear the matter in chambers in any county of the judicial district to which belongs the county in which the proceedings were instituted. In other respects the proceedings upon such appeal are as now provided for appeals from the clerk on issues of law. (Rev., s. 691; 1893, c. 149; C. S. 733.)

§ 1-375. Levy on excess; return of officer.—The levy may be made upon the excess of the homestead, not laid off according to this chapter, and the officer shall make substantially the following return upon the execution: "A. B., C. D., and E. F., summoned and qualified as appraisers or assessors (as the case may be), who set off to X. Y. the homestead exempt by law. Levy made upon the excess." (Rev., s. 692; Code, s. 505; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 5; C. S. 734.)

§ 1-376. When appraisers select homestead.—If no selection is made by the owner, or any one acting in his behalf, of the homestead to be laid off as exempt, the appraisers shall make selection for him, including always the dwelling and buildings used therewith. (Rev., s. 693; Code, s. 506; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 6; C. S. 735.)

§ 1-377. Homestead in tracts not contiguous.—Different tracts of land not contiguous may be included in the same homestead, when a homestead of contiguous land is not of the value of one thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 694; Code, s. 509; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 15; C. S. 736.)

§ 1-378. Personal property appraised on demand.—When the personal property of any resident of this state is levied upon by virtue of an execution or other final process issued for the collection of a debt, and the owner or an agent, or attorney in his behalf, demands that the same, or any part thereof, be exempt from sale under such execution, the sheriff or other officer making the levy shall summon three appraisers, as heretofore provided, who, having been first duly sworn, shall appraise and lay off to the judgment debtor such articles of personal property as he or another in his behalf selects and to which he is entitled under this article and the constitution of the state, in no case to exceed in value five hundred dollars, which articles are exempt from said levy, and return thereof shall be made by the appraisers, as upon the laying off of a homestead exemption. (Rev., s. 695; Code, s. 507; 1868-9, c. 137, ss. 12, 13; C. S. 737.)

§ 1-379. Appraiser's oath and fees.—The persons summoned to appraise the personal property exemption must take the same oath and are entitled to the same fees as the appraisers of the homestead, and when both exemptions are claimed by the judgment debtor, at the same time, one board of appraisers must lay off both, and are entitled to but one fee. (Rev., s. 696; Code, s. 508; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 14; C. S. 738.)

§ 1-380. Returns registered.—It is the duty of the register of deeds to indorse on each of said returns the date when received for registration, and to cause the same to be registered without unnecessary delay. He shall receive for registering the returns the same fees allowed him by law for other similar or equivalent services, which fees shall be paid by said resident applicant, his agent or attorney, upon the reception of the returns by the register. (Rev., s. 698; Code, s. 513; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 9; C. S. 739.)

§ 1-381. Exceptions to valuation and allotment; procedure.—If the judgment creditor for whom levy is made, or judgment debtor or other person entitled to homestead and personal property exemption, is dissatisfied with the valuation and allotment of the appraisers or assessors, he, within ten days thereafter, or any other creditor within six months and before sale under execution of the excess, may notify the adverse party and the sheriff having the execution in hand, and file with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the allotment is made a transcript of the return of the appraisers or assessors which they or the sheriff shall allow to be made upon demand, together with his objections in writing to said return. Thereupon the said clerk shall put the same on the civil issue docket of the superior court for trial at the next term thereof as other civil actions, and such issue joined has precedence over all other issues at that term. The sheriff shall not sell the excess until after the determination of said action. The ten days and six months respectively begin to run from the date of the filing of the return of the valuation and allotment of the appraisers or assessors by the officer with the clerk of the superior court of the county from whence the execution issued. (Rev., s. 699; Code, s. 519; 1887, c. 272, s. 2; 1883, c. 357; C. S. 740.)

§ 1-382. Revaluation demanded; jury verdict; commissioners; report.—When an increase of the exemption or an allotment in property other than that set apart is demanded, the party demanding must in his exceptions specify the property from which the increase or reallotment is to be had. If the appraisal or assessment is reduced, the jury shall assess the value of the property embraced therein; if increased, the value of the property specified in the objections from which the increase is demanded shall also be assessed; but if the allotment is made in property other than that first set apart, the jury shall assess the value of the property so allotted. The court shall appoint three disinterested commissioners to lay off and set apart the homestead and personal property exemption in accordance with the verdict of the jury and the judgment of the court, and in the manner prescribed by law. The commissioners, who shall be summoned by the sheriff, must meet upon the premises and, after being sworn by the sheriff or a justice of the peace to faithfully perform the duties of appraisers or assessors in allotting and laying off the homestead or personal property exemption, or both, in accordance with the verdict and judgment aforesaid, must allot and lay off the same and file their report to the next term of the court, when it shall be heard by the court upon exceptions thereto. (Rev., s. 700; 1885, c. 347; C. S. 741.)

§ 1-383. Undertaking of objector.—The creditor, debtor, or claimant objecting to the allotment made by the appraisers or assessors under execution or petition must file with the clerk of the superior court an undertaking in the sum of one hundred dollars for the payment to the adverse party of such costs as are adjudged against him. (Rev., s. 701; Code, s. 522; C. S. 742.)

§ 1-384. Set aside for fraud, or irregularity.—An appraisal or allotment by appraisers or assessors may be set aside for fraud, complicity, or other irregularity; but after an allotment or assessment is made or confirmed by the superior court at term time, as hereinbefore provided, the homestead shall not thereafter be set aside or again laid off by any other creditor except for increase in value. (Rev., s. 702; Code, s. 523; C. S. 743.)

§ 1-385. Return registered; original or copy evidence.—When the homestead and personal property exemption is decided by the court at term time the clerk of the superior court shall immediately file with the register of deeds of the county a copy of the same, which shall be registered as deeds are registered; and in all judicial proceedings the original or a certified copy of the return may be introduced in evidence. (Rev., s. 703; Code, s. 524; C. S. 744.)

§ 1-386. Allotted on petition of owner.—When any resident of this state desires to take the benefit of the homestead and personal property exemption as guaranteed by article ten of the state constitution, or by this article, such resident, his agent or attorney, must apply to a justice of the peace of the county in which he resides, who shall appoint as assessors three disinterested persons, qualified to act as jurors, residing in said county. The jurors, on notice by the order of the justice, shall meet at the applicant's residence, and, after taking the oath prescribed for appraisers before some officer authorized to administer an oath, lay off and allot to the applicant a homestead with metes and bounds, according to the applicant's direction, not to exceed one thousand dollars in value, and make and sign a descriptive account of the same and return it to the office of the register of deeds.

Said assessors shall set apart of the personal property of said applicant, to be by him selected, articles of personalty to which he is entitled under this chapter, not exceeding in value the sum of five hundred dollars, and make, sign and return a descriptive list thereof to the register of deeds. (Rev., ss. 697, 704; Code, ss. 511, 512; 1868-9, c. 137, ss. 7, 8; C. S. 745.)

§ 1-387. Advertisement of petition; time of hearing.—When a person entitled to a homestead and personal property exemption files the petition before a justice of the peace to have the same laid off and set apart under the preceding sections, the justice shall make advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, for six successive weeks, and if there is no newspaper in the county, then at the courthouse door of the county in which the petition is filed, notifying all creditors of the applicant of the time and place for hearing the petition. The petition shall not be heard nor any decree made in the cause in less than six nor more than twelve months from the day of making advertisement as above required. (Rev., s. 705; Code, s. 515; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 11; C. S. 746.)

entitled thereto, any creditor may, within six months from the time of the assessment or appraisal, and upon ten days notice to the petitioner, file his objections with the register of deeds of the county in which the premises are situated, and the register of deeds shall return the same to the clerk of the superior court of that county, who shall place them on the civil issue docket, and they shall be tried as provided for homestead and personal property exemptions set off under execution. (Rev., s. 706; Code, s. 520; C. S. 747.)

§ 1-389. Allotted to widow or minor children on death of homesteader.—If a person entitled to a homestead exemption dies without the homestead having been set apart, his widow, if he leaves no children, or his child or children under the age of twenty-one years, if he leaves such, may proceed to have the homestead exemption laid off by petition. If the widow or children have failed to have the exemption set apart in the manner provided, then in an action brought by his personal representatives to subject the realty of the decedent to the payment of debts and charges of administration, it is the duty of the court to appoint three disinterested freeholders to set apart to such widow, child or children a homestead exemption under metes and bounds in the lands of the decedent. The freeholders shall under their hands and seals make return of the same to the court, which shall be registered in the same manner as homestead exemptions. (Rev., s. 707; Code, s. 514; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 10; 1893, c. 332; C. S. 748.)

§ 1-390. Liability of officer as to allotment, return and levy.—Any officer making a levy, who refuses or neglects to summon and qualify appraisers as heretofore provided, or fails to make due return of his proceedings, or levies upon the homestead set off by appraisers or assessors except as herein provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and he and his sureties are liable to the owner of the homestead for all costs and damages in a civil action. (Rev., ss. 708, 3584; Code, s. 516; 1868-9, c. 137, s. 17; C. S. 749.)

§ 1-391. Liability of officer, appraiser, or assessor, for conspiracy or fraud.—Any officer, appraiser, or assessor who willfully or corruptly conspires with a judgment debtor, judgment creditor, or other person, to undervalue or to overvalue the homestead or personal property exemption of a debtor, or applicant, or assigns false metes and bounds, or makes or procures to be made a false and fraudulent return thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to the party injured thereby for all costs and damages in a civil action. (Rev., ss. 690, 3585, 3586; Code, ss. 517, 518; 1868-9, c. 137, ss. 18, 19; C. S. 750.)

§ 1-392. Forms.—The following forms must be substantially followed in proceedings under this article:

SUBCHAPTER XII. SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

Art. 33. Special Proceedings.

§ 1-393. Chapter applicable to special proceedings.—The provisions of this chapter on civil procedure are applicable to special proceedings, except as otherwise provided. (Rev., s. 710; Code, s. 278; C. S. 752.)

§ 1-394. Contested special proceedings; commencement; summons. — Special proceedings against adverse parties shall be commenced as is prescribed for civil actions. The summons shall command the officer to summons the defendant or defendants to appear and answer the complaint, or petition, of the plaintiff within ten days after its service upon the defendant or defendants, and must contain a notice stating in substance that if the defendant or defendants fail to answer the complaint, or petition, within the time specified, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, or petition. The summons must run in the name of the state, be signed by the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction in the special proceeding, and be directed to the sheriff or other proper officers of the county, or counties, in which the defendant, or defendants, or any of them reside or may be found, and must be returnable before the clerk. The clerk shall indicate on the summons by appropriate words that the summons is issued in a special proceeding and not in a civil action. The manner of service, whether by the sheriff or by publication, shall be as is prescribed for summons in civil actions by § 1-89: Provided, however, that in special proceedings before the clerk, the plaintiff or petitioner shall not be required to serve a copy of the petition or complaint upon each of the defendants, as required in civil actions, but in lieu thereof such petitioner or petitioners may deliver to the clerk at the time of the issuance of the summons copies (not to exceed three) of the petition or complaint for the use of the defendants. Provided, further, where the defendant is an agency of the state the time for filing answer or other plea shall be not less than thirty (30) days after the date of service. (Rev., ss. 711, 712; Code, ss. 279, 287; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 4; 1927, c. 66, s. 5; 1929, cc. 50, 237, s. 3; 1939, c. 49, s. 2; 1939, c. 143; C. S. 753.)

§ 1-395. Return of summons.—The officer to whom the summons is addressed shall note on it the day of its delivery to him, and, if required by the plaintiff, shall execute it immediately. When executed, he shall immediately return the summons with the date and manner of its execution, by mail or otherwise, to the clerk of the court issuing it. (Rev., s. 713; Code, s. 280; C. C. P., s. 75; C. S. 754.)

§ 1-396. When complaint filed.—The plaintiff must file his complaint or petition with the clerk of the court to which the summons is returnable, at the time of issuing the summons or within ten days thereafter. (Rev., s. 714; Code, s. 281; C. C. P., s. 76; 1876-7, c. 241, s. 4; C. S. 755.)

§ 1-397. Nonsuit for failure to file.—If the plaintiff fails to file his complaint or petition within the time limited by the summons for the appearance and answer of the defendant, the defendant may demand judgment of nonsuit against the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 715; Code, s. 282; C. C. P., s. 78; C. S. 756.)

§ 1-398. Filing time enlarged.—The time for filing the complaint, petition, or any pleading may be enlarged by the court for good cause shown by affidavit, but may not be enlarged by more than ten additional days, nor more than once, unless the default was occasioned by accident over which the party applying had no control, or by the fraud of the opposing party. (Rev., s. 716; Code, s. 283; C. C. P., s. 79; C. S. 757.)

§ 1-399. Defenses pleaded; transferred to civil issue docket; amendments.—In special proceedings a defendant or other party thereto may plead any equitable or other defense, or ask any equitable or other relief in the pleadings which it would be competent to ask in a civil action; and when such pleas are filed the clerk shall transfer the cause to the civil issue docket for trial during term upon all issues raised by the pleadings. The trial judge may, with a view to substantial justice between the parties, allow amendments to the pleadings and interpleas in behalf of any person claiming an interest in the property. (Rev., s. 717; 1903, c. 566; C. S. 758.)

§ 1-400. Ex parte; commenced by petition.—If all the parties in interest join in the proceeding and ask the same relief, the commencement of the proceedings shall be by petition, setting forth the facts entitling the petitioners to relief, and the nature of the relief demanded. (Rev., s. 718; Code, s. 284; 1868-9, c. 93; C. S. 759.)

§ 1-401. Clerk acts summarily; authority from nonresident.—In cases under § 1-400, if all persons to be affected by the decree, or their attorney, have signed the petition and are of full age, the clerk of the superior court has power to hear and decide the petition summarily. If any of the petitioners reside out of the state, an authority from them, to the attorney, in writing, must be filed with the clerk before he may make any order or decree to prejudice their rights. (Rev., s. 719; Code, s. 285; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 2; C. S. 760.)

§ 1-402. Judge approves when petitioner is infant.—If any petitioner is an infant, or the guardian of an infant, acting for him, no final order or judgment of the clerk, affecting the merits of the case and capable of being prejudicial to the infant, is valid, unless submitted to and approved by the judge resident or holding court in the district. (Rev., s. 720; Code, s. 286; 1887, c. 61; C. C. P., s. 420; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 3; C. S. 761.)

§ 1-403. Orders signed by judge.—Every order or judgment in a special proceeding required to be made by a judge of the superior court, in or out of term, must be authenticated by his signature. (Rev., s. 722; Code, s. 288; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 5; 1872-3, c. 100; C. S. 762.)

§ 1-404. Reports of commissioners and jurors.—Every order or judgment in a special proceeding imposing a duty on commissioners or jurors must prescribe the time within which the duty must be performed, except in cases where the time is prescribed by statute. The commissioners or jurors shall within twenty days after the performance of the duty file their report with the clerk of the superior court, and if no exception is filed to it within twenty days, the court may proceed to confirm the same on motion of any party and without special notice to the other parties. (Rev., s. 723; 1893, c. 209; C. S. 763.)

§ 1-405. No report set aside for trivial defect.—No report or return made by any commissoners may be set aside and sent back to them or others for a new report because of any defect or omission not affecting the substantial rights of the parties, but the defect or omission may be amended by the court, or by the commissioners with permission of the court. (Rev., s. 724; Code, s. 289; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 7; C. S. 764.)

§ 1-406. Commissioner of sale to account in sixty days.—In all actions or special proceedings when a person is appointed commissioner to sell real or personal property, he shall, within sixty days after the maturity of the note or bond for the balance of the purchase money of said property, or the payment of the amount of the bid when the sale is for cash, file with the clerk of the superior court a final account of his receipts and disbursements on account of the sale; and the clerk must audit the account and record it in the book in which the final settlements of executors and administrators are recorded. If any commissioner appointed in any action or special proceeding before the clerk fails, refuses or omits to file a final account as prescribed in this section, or renders an insufficient or unsatisfactory account, the clerk of the superior court shall forthwith order such commissioner to render a full and true account, as required by law, within twenty days after service of the order. Upon return of the order, duly served, if such commissioner shall fail to appear or refuse to exhibit such account, the clerk of the superior court may issue an attachment against said commissioner for a contempt and commit him till he exhibits such account, or files a bond for the amount held or unaccounted for as is prescribed by law for administrators, the premium for which is to be deducted from the commissioner's fee, earned by said commissioner in said action or special proceeding. (Rev., s. 725; 1901, c. 614, ss. 1, 2; 1933, c. 98; C. S. 765.)

§ 1-407. Commissioners selling land for reinvestment, etc., to give bond.—Whenever in any cause or special proceeding there is a sale of real estate for the purpose of a reinvestment of the money arising from such sale or for any other purpose, and the proceeds from such sale are held by a commissioner or other officer designated by the court to receive such money, for purposes of reinvestment or otherwise, the commissioner or officer so receiving same shall execute a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the court, in an amount at least equal to the corpus of the fund, and payable to the state of North Carolina for the protection of the fund and the parties interested therein, and conditioned that such custodian of the money shall faithfully comply with all the orders of the court made or to be thereafter made concerning the handling of reinvestment of said funds and for the faithful and final accounting of the same to the parties interested; but the court in its discretion may waive the requirement of such bond in those cases where the court requires the funds or proceeds from such sale to be paid by the purchaser or purchasers direct to the court. The premium for any such bond shall be paid from the corpus of the fund intended to be thereby protected. (1919, c. 259; 1935, c. 45; C. S. 766.)

Local Modification.—Duplin: 1935, c. 45.

§ 1-408. Action in which clerk may allow fees of commissioners; fees taxed as costs.—In all civil actions and special proceedings instituted in the superior court in which a commissioner, or commissioners, are appointed under a judgment by the clerk of said court, said clerk shall have full power and authority and he is hereby authorized and empowered to fix and determine and allow to such commissioner or commissioners a reasonable fee for their services performed under such order, decree or judgment, which fee shall be taxed as a part of the costs in such action or proceeding, and any dissatisfied party shall have the right of appeal to the judge, who shall hear the same de novo. (1923, c. 66, s. 1; C. S. 766(a).)

SUBCHAPTER XIII. PROVISIONAL REMEDIES.

Art. 34. Arrest and Bail.

§ 1-409. Arrest only as herein prescribed.—No person may be arrested in a civil action except as prescribed by this article, but this provision shall not apply to proceedings for contempt. (Rev., s. 726; Code, s. 290; C. C. P., s. 148; C. S. 767.)

§ 1-410. In what cases arrest allowed.—The defendant may be arrested, as hereinafter prescribed, in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of damages on a cause of action not arising out of contract, where the defendant is not a resident of the state, or is about to remove therefrom, or where the action is for injury to person or character, or for injuring, or for wrongfully taking, detaining or converting real or personal property.

2. In an action for a fine or penalty, for seduction, for money received, for property embezzled or fraudulently misapplied by a public officer, attorney, solicitor, or officer or agent of a corporation or banking association in the course of his employment, or by any factor, agent, broker or other person in a fiduciary capacity, or for any misconduct or neglect in office, or in a professional employment.

3. In an action to recover the possession of personal property, unjustly detained, where all or any part of the property has been concealed, removed, or disposed of, so that it cannot be found or taken by the sheriff and with the intent that it should not be so found or taken, or with the intent to deprive the plaintiff of the benefit thereof.

4. When the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt or incurring the obligation for which the action is brought, in concealing or disposing of the property for the taking, detention or conversion of which the action is brought, or when the action is brought to recover damages for fraud or deceit.

5. When the defendant has removed, or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors.

No woman shall be arrested in any action except for a willful injury to person, character or property, and no person shall be arrested on Sunday. (Rev., s. 727; Code, s. 291; C. C. P., s. 149; 1869-70, c. 79; R. C., c. 31, s. 54; 1777, c. 118, s. 6; 1891, c. 541; C. S. 768.)

§ 1-411. Order and affidavit.—An order for the arrest of the defendant must be obtained from the court in which the action is brought or a judge thereof, and may be made where it appears to the court or judge, by affidavit of the plaintiff or of any other person, that a sufficient cause of action exists and that the case is one of those provided for in this article. (Rev., ss. 728, 729; Code, ss. 292, 293; C. C. P., ss. 150, 151; C. S. 769.)

§ 1-412. Undertaking before order. — Before making the order the court or judge shall require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff of at least one hundred dollars, with sufficient surety, payable to the defendant, to the effect that if the defendant recovers judgment the plaintiff will pay all damages which he sustains by reason of the arrest, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. (Rev., s. 730; Code, s. 294; C. C. P., s. 152; 1868-9, c. 277, s. 7; C. S. 770.)

§ 1-413. Issuance and form of order.—The order may be made to accompany the summons, or to issue at any time afterwards, before judgment. It shall require the sheriff of the county where the defendant may be found forthwith to arrest him and hold him to bail in a specified sum, and to return the order at a place and time therein mentioned to the clerk of the court in which the action is brought. Notice of the return must be served on the plaintiff or his attorney as prescribed by law for the service of other notices. (Rev., s. 731; Code, s. 295; C. C. P., s. 153; C. S. 771.)

§ 1-415. Execution of order.—The sheriff shall execute the order by arresting the defendant and keeping him in custody until discharged by law. The sheriff may call the power of the county to his aid in the execution of the arrest. (Rev., s. 733; Code, s. 297; C. C. P., s. 155; C. S. 773.)

§ 1-416. Vacation of order for failure to serve.—The order of arrest is of no avail, and shall be vacated or set aside on motion, unless it is served upon the defendant, as provided by law, before the docketing of any judgment in the action. (Rev., s. 734; Code, s. 295; C. C. P., s. 153; C. S. 774.)

§ 1-417. Motion to vacate order; jury trial.—A defendant arrested may at any time before judgment apply on motion to vacate the order of arrest or to reduce the amount of bail. He may deny upon oath the facts alleged in the affidavit of the plaintiff on which the order of arrest was granted, and demand that the issue so raised by the plaintiff's affidavit and the defendant's denial be submitted to the jury and tried in the same manner as other issues. If the issues are found by the jury in favor of the defendant, judgment shall be rendered discharging him from arrest and vacating the order of arrest, and he shall recover of the plaintiff all costs of the proceeding in such arrest incurred by him in defending the action. (Rev., s. 735; Code, s. 316; 1889, c. 497; C. C. P., s. 174; C. S. 775.)

§ 1-418. Counter affidavits by plaintiff.—If the motion is made upon affidavits on the part of the defendant, but not otherwise, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits, or other proof, in addition to those on which the order of arrest was made. (Rev., s. 736; Code, s. 317; C. C. P., s. 175; C. S. 776.)

§ 1-419. How defendant discharged.—The defendant, at any time before execution, shall be discharged from the arrest, either upon giving bail or upon depositing the amount mentioned in the order of arrest, as provided in this article. (Rev., s. 737; Code, s. 298; C. C. P., s. 156; C. S. 777.)

§ 1-420. Defendant's undertaking.—The defendant may give bail by causing a written undertaking, payable to the plaintiff, to be executed by sufficient surety to the effect that the defendant shall at all times render himself amenable to the process of the court, during the pendency of the action, and to such as may be issued to enforce the judgment therein, or if he is arrested in an action to recover the possession of personal property unjustly claimed, an undertaking to the same effect as that provided by law to be given by defendant for the retention of property, under the article entitled Claim and Delivery. (Rev., s. 738; Code, s. 299; C. C. P., s. 157; C. S. 778.)

§ 1-421. Defendant's undertaking delivered to clerk; exception.—Within the time limited for that purpose, the sheriff shall deliver the order of arrest to the clerk of the court in which the suit is brought, with his return endorsed, and a certified copy of the undertaking of the bail, and notify the plaintiff or his attorney thereof. The plaintiff, within ten days thereafter, may serve upon the sheriff a notice that he does not accept the bail, or he is deemed to have accepted it and the sheriff is exonerated from the liability. (Rev., s. 739; Code, s. 304; C. C. P., s. 162; C. S. 779.)

§ 1-422. Notice of justification; new bail.—On the receipt of notice of exception to the bail, the sheriff or defendant may, within ten days thereafter, give to the plaintiff or his attorney notice of the justification of the same or other bondsmen (specifying the places of residence and occupation of the latter) before the court, justice of the peace, or judge, at a specified time and place; the time to be not less than five nor more than ten days thereafter. In case other bondsmen are given, there must be a new bond, in the form hereinbefore prescribed. (Rev., s. 741; Code, s. 305; C. C. P., s. 163; C. S. 780.)

§ 1-423. Qualifications of bail.—The qualifications of bail must be as follows:

1. Each of them must be a resident and freeholder within the state.

2. They must each be worth the amount specified in the order of arrest, exclusive of property exempt from execution; but the judge, on justification, may allow more than two bail to justify severally in amounts less than that expressed in the order, if the whole justification is equivalent to that of two sufficient bail. (Rev., s. 740; Code, s. 306; C. C. P., s. 164; C. S. 781.)

§ 1-424. Justification of bail.—For the purpose of justification, each of the bail shall attend before the court or judge, or a justice of the peace, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, and may be examined on oath, on the part of the plaintiff, touching his sufficiency, in such manner as the court, judge or justice of the peace, in his discretion, may think proper. The examination must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the bail, if required by the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 742; Code, s. 307; C. C. P., s. 165; C. S. 782.)

§ 1-425. Allowance of bail.—If the court, judge or justice of the peace finds the bail sufficient, he shall annex the examination to the undertaking, endorse his allowance thereon, and cause them to be filed with the clerk. The sheriff is then exonerated from liability. (Rev., s. 743; Code, s. 308; C. C. P., s. 166; C. S. 783.)

§ 1-426. Deposit in lieu of bail.—The defendant may, at the time of his arrest, instead of giving bail, deposit with the sheriff the amount mentioned in the order. The sheriff shall then give a certificate of the deposit to the defendant, who shall be discharged from custody. (Rev., s. 744; Code, s. 309; C. C. P., s. 167; C. S. 784.)

§ 1-427. Deposit paid into court; liability on sheriff's bond.—Within four days after the deposit the sheriff must pay it into court, and take from the officer receiving it two certificates of such payment, one of which he must deliver to the plaintiff, and the other to the defendant. For any default in making such payment, the same proceedings may be had on the official bond of the sheriff, to collect the sum deposited, as in other cases of delinquency. (Rev., s. 745; Code, s. 310; C. C. P., s. 168; C. S. 785.)

§ 1-428. Bail substituted for deposit.—If money is deposited, as provided in §§ 1-426 and 1-427, bail may be given and justified upon notice according to law at any time before judgment. Thereupon the judge, court or justice of the peace shall direct, in the order of allowance, that the money deposited be refunded by the sheriff or other officer to the defendant, and it shall be refunded accordingly. (Rev., s. 746; Code, s. 311; C. C. P., s. 169; C. S. 786.)

§ 1-429. Deposit applied to plaintiff's judgment.—When money has been deposited, and remains on deposit at the time of an order or judgment for the payment of money to the plaintiff, the clerk or other officer shall, under the direction of the court, apply the same in satisfaction thereof, and after satisfying the judgment shall refund any surplus to the defendant. If the judgment is in favor of the defendant the clerk or other officer shall refund to him the whole sum deposited and remaining unapplied. (Rev., s. 747; Code, s. 312; C. C. P., s. 170; C. S. 787.)

§ 1-430. Defendant in jail, sheriff may take bail.—If a person for want of bail is lawfully committed to jail, at any time before final judgment, the sheriff, or other officer having him in custody, may take bail and discharge him; and the bail bond shall be regarded in every respect as other bail bonds, and shall be returned and sued on in like manner; and the officer taking it shall make special return thereof, with the bond, at the first court which is held after it is taken. (Rev., s. 748; Code, s. 318; R. C., c. 11, s. 8; C. S. 788.)

§ 1-431. When sheriff liable as bail.—If, after arrest, the defendant escapes, or is rescued, or bail is not given or justified, or a deposit is not made instead thereof, the sheriff is himself liable as bail. But he may discharge himself from such liability by the giving and justification of bail at any time before process against the person of the defendant to enforce an order or judgment in the action. (Rev., s. 749; Code, s. 313; C. C. P., s. 171; C. S. 789.)

§ 1-432. Action on sheriff's bond.—If a judgment is recovered against the sheriff, upon his liability as bail, and an execution thereon is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the same proceedings may be had on the official bond of the sheriff, to collect the deficiency, as in other cases of delinquency. (Rev., s. 750; Code, s. 314; C. C. P., s. 172; C. S. 790.)

§ 1-433. Bail exonerated.—At any time before final judgment against them, the bail may be exonerated, either by the death of the defendant or his imprisonment in a state prison, or by his legal discharge from the obligation to render himself amenable to the process, or by his surrender to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested, in execution of the judgment. (Rev., s. 751; Code, s. 303; C. C. P., s. 161; C. S. 791.)

§ 1-434. Surrender of defendant.—At any time before final judgment against them, the bail may surrender the defendant in their exoneration, or he may surrender himself to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested, in the following manner:

1. A certified copy of the undertaking of the bail shall be delivered to the sheriff, who shall detain the defendant in his custody thereon, as upon an order of arrest, and acknowledge the surrender by a certificate in writing.

2. Upon the production of a copy of the undertaking and sheriff's certificate, the court or judge may, upon a notice to the plaintiff of ten days, with a copy of the certificate, order that the bail be exonerated, and on filing the order and papers used on said application they shall be exonerated accordingly. But this section does not apply to an arrest in an action to recover the possession of personal property unjustly detained, so as to discharge the bail from an undertaking given to the effect provided by law to be given by defendant for the retention of property, under the article entitled Claim and Delivery. (Rev., s. 752; Code, s. 300; C. C. P., s. 158; C. S. 792.)

§ 1-435. Bail may arrest defendant.—For the purpose of surrendering the defendant, the bail, at any time or place, before they are finally charged, may themselves arrest him, or by a written authority endorsed on a certified copy of the undertaking may empower any person over twenty-one years of age to do so. (Rev., s. 753; Code, s. 301; C. C. P., s. 159; C. S. 793.)

§ 1-436. Proceedings against bail by motion.—In case of failure to comply with the undertaking the bail may be proceeded against by motion in the cause on ten days' notice to them. (Rev., s. 754; Code, s. 302; C. C. P., s. 160; C. S. 794.)

§ 1-437. Liability of bail to sheriff.—The bail taken upon the arrest are, unless they justify, or other bail are given or justified, liable to the sheriff by action for damages which he may sustain by reason of such omission. (Rev., s. 755; Code, s. 315; C. C. P., s. 173; C. S. 795.)

§ 1-438. When bail to pay costs.—When a notice issues against a person, as the bail of another, and the bail, at or before the term of the court at which he is bound to appear, or ought to plead, is not discharged from his liability by the death or surrender of his principal or otherwise, he is liable for all costs which accrue on said notice, notwithstanding he may be afterwards discharged, by the death or surrender of the principal, or otherwise. (Rev., s. 756; Code, s. 319; R. C., c. 11, s. 10; C. S. 796.)

§ 1-439. Bail not discharged by amendment.—No amendment of process or pleading discharges the bail of the party arrested thereon, unless it enlarges the sum demanded beyond the sum expressed in the bail bond. (Rev., s. 757; Code, s. 320; R. C., c. 11, s. 11; C. S. 797.)

Art. 35. Attachment.

§ 1-440. In what actions attachment granted.—A warrant of attachment against the property of one or more defendants in an action may be granted upon the application of the plaintiff, as specified in this article, when the action is to recover a sum of money only, or damages for one or more of the following causes:

1. Breach of contract, express or implied.
2. Wrongful conversion of personal property.
3. Any other injury to real or personal property, in consequence of negligence, fraud, or other wrongful act.
4. Any injury to the person, caused by negligence or wrongful act. (Rev., s. 758; Code, s. 347; C. C. P., s. 197; 1893, c. 77; 1901, c. 740; C. S. 798.)

§ 1-441. Affidavit must show what.—To entitle the plaintiff to a warrant of attachment he must show by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court as follows:

1. That one of the causes of action specified in § 1-440 exists against the defendant. If the action is to recover damages for breach of contract, the affidavit must show that the plaintiff is entitled to recover a sum stated therein, over and above all counterclaims known to him.

2. That the defendant is either a foreign corporation or a nonresident of the state, or a domestic corporation none of whose officers can be found in the state after due diligence; or, if he is a natural person and a resident of the state, that he has departed therefrom, or keeps himself concealed therein, with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid service of summons; or, if the defendant is a natural person or a domestic corporation, that he or it has removed, or is about to remove, property from the state, with intent to defraud his or its creditors; or has assigned, disposed of, or secreted, or is about to assign, dispose of, or secrete, property with like intent. (Rev., s. 759; Code, s. 349; C. C. P., s. 201; 1897, c. 476; C. S. 799.)

§ 1-442. Affidavit to be filed.—It is the duty of the plaintiff procuring a warrant of attachment, within ten days from its issuance, to file the affidavit on which it was granted in the office of the clerk of the superior court to which, or with the justice of the peace before whom, the process is returnable. (Rev., s. 760; Code, s. 355; C. C. P., s. 201; C. S. 800.)

§ 1-443. By whom granted.—If the action is not founded on a contract, or if founded on a contract and the sum demanded exceeds two hundred dollars, a warrant of attachment may be obtained from the judges of the district embracing the county in which the action was begun, or from the clerk of the superior court from which the summons in the action issued; and it may be issued to any county in the state where the defendant has property, money, effects, choses in action, or debts due him, and shall be made returnable before the clerk at the same time and place to which the summons is returnable. (Rev., s. 761; Code, s. 351; C. C. P., s. 199; 1869-70, c. 147; 1870-1, c. 166, ss. 1, 3; 1874-5, c. 111; 1876-7, c. 251; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 17; C. S. 801.)

§ 1-444. Time of issuance; service of summons.—The warrant of attachment may be granted to accompany the summons, or at any time thereafter. Personal service of the summons must be made upon the defendant against whose property the attachment is granted, within thirty days after its granting, or else, upon the expiration of the same time, service of summons by publication must be commenced pursuant to an order obtained therefor, and if publication has been or is thereafter commenced, the service must be made complete by the continuance thereof. (Rev., s. 762; Code, s. 348; C. C. P., s. 197; C. S. 802.)

§ 1-445. Undertaking.—The officer, before issuing the warrant, must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with sufficient surety, to the effect that if the defendant recovers judgment, or the attachment is set aside by order of the court, the plaintiff will pay all costs that are awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he sustains by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which must be at least two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 763; Code, s. 356; C. C. P., s. 202; C. S. 803.)

§ 1-446. Validity of undertaking.—It is not a defense to an action upon an undertaking, given upon granting a warrant of attachment, that the warrant was granted improperly, for want of jurisdiction, or for any other cause. (Rev., s. 764; Code, s. 358; C. S. 804.)

§ 1-447. To whom warrant directed; duty of officer.—The warrant shall be directed to the sheriff of any county in which the property of the defendant is located, or, in case it is issued by a justice of the peace, to the sheriff or any constable of such county, and shall require the sheriff or constable to attach and safely keep all the property of the defendant within his county, or so much thereof as is sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, the amount of which must be stated in conformity with the complaint, together with costs and expenses; it must also state when and where it shall be returned. Several warrants may be issued at the same time to the sheriffs of different counties, but where the warrant is issued by a justice of the peace to another county than his own, the clerk of the superior court of his county must certify that he is a justice of the peace and that the signature to the warrant is in the handwriting of the justice. (Rev., s. 765; Code, s. 357; 1895, c. 435, s. 1; C. C. P., s. 203; C. S. 805.)

§ 1-448. Notice; service and content.—When the warrant of attachment is taken out at the time of issuing the summons, and the summons is to be served by publication, the order shall direct that notice be given in the publication to the defendant of the issuing of the attachment. When the warrant of attachment is obtained after the issuing of the summons, the defendant must be notified by publication of the fact for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county to which it is returnable, or if none, then in one published in the judicial district including said county. The publication shall state the names of the parties, the amount of the claims, and in a brief way the nature of the demand and the time and place to which the warrant is returnable. In proceedings by attachment begun before justices of the peace, advertisement in a newspaper is not necessary, but advertisement at the courthouse door and four other public places in the county for four successive weeks is sufficient publication, both as to the summons and warrant of attachment. (Rev., s. 766; Code, s. 352; 1893, c. 363; 1870-1, c. 166, s. 3; 1874-5, c. 111, s. 2; C. S. 806.)

§ 1-449. Execution, levy, and lien.—The officer to whom the warrant of attachment is directed and delivered shall seize and take into his possession the tangible personal property of the defendant or so much as is necessary, and he is liable for the care and custody of such property, as if it had been seized under execution. He shall levy on the real estate of the defendant as prescribed for executions; he shall make and return with the warrant an inventory of the property seized or levied on, and, subject to the direction of the court, shall collect all debts owing to the defendant, and take such legal proceedings in his own name or in that of the defendant as are necessary for that purpose. Where the sheriff or other officer levies an attachment upon real estate, he must certify the levy to the clerk of the superior court of the county where the land lies, with the names of the parties, and the clerk must note the same on his judgment docket and index it on the index to judgments, and the levy is a lien only from the date of entry by the clerk, except that if it is so docketed and indexed within five days after being made it is a lien from the time it was made. (Rev., s. 767; Code, s. 359; 1895, c. 435, s. 2; C. C. P., s. 204; C. S. 807.)

§ 1-450. Return of warrant by sheriff.—The sheriff shall return the warrant of attachment, and the undertakings provided for in this article, with a statement of his proceedings thereon, at the time and place at which it is on its face returnable, and upon, or at any time after, the return, he may obtain from the court to which the warrant was returnable a certified copy thereof, which, for the purpose of giving him authority, is the same as the original, and when the warrant has been fully executed or discharged, the sheriff shall return it, with his proceedings, to said court. (Rev., s. 768; Code, s. 376; C. C. P., s. 214; C. S. 808.)

§ 1-451. When granted by justice of peace.—If the action is not founded on contract and the value of the property in controversy does not exceed the sum of fifty dollars, the warrant of attachment may, or if the action is founded on contract and the sum demanded does not exceed two hundred dollars, the warrant of attachment must be obtained from and made returnable before a justice of the peace of a county to the superior court of which it would have been returnable had the sum demanded exceeded two hundred dollars, or had the action not been founded on contract. (Rev., s. 769; Code, s. 353; C. C. P., s. 200; 1876-7, c. 251; C. S. 809.)

§ 1-452. Publication in justice's court.—The plaintiff, within thirty days after obtaining a warrant of attachment from a justice of the peace, must cause publication thereof to be made for four successive weeks at the courthouse door and four other public places in the county where the warrant is returnable. (Rev., s. 770; Code, s. 350;

C. C. P., s. 198; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 3; 1870-1, c. 166, s. 4; 1874-5, c. 111; C. S. 810.)

§ 1-453. Justice's attachment against land.—If the attachment is levied on real property, the justice shall proceed to try the action, but may not issue an execution to sell the real property, and shall return the papers in the case to the office of the clerk of the superior court of his county, where the judgment shall be docketed. The levy of the attachment, however, is a lien on the real estate, when the provisions of the section as to execution and levy of attachment are complied with. (Rev., s. 771; Code, s. 354; 1868-9, c. 95, s. 4; C. S. 811.)

§ 1-454. Sale of attached property pending litigation.—If any property seized under attachment is perishable, or of a character to materially deteriorate in value pending litigation, or of such character that the expense of keeping it until the determination of the suit would be likely to exceed one-fifth of its value, or if any part of it consists of a vessel, or of any share or interest therein, and the person to whom it belongs, or his agent, does not within ten days after the serving of the attachment reclaim the same, the sheriff or other officer having possession shall apply to the court for authority to sell the property, stating the circumstances. The property shall then be sold, under the order and direction of the court, and the proceeds are liable to the judgment obtained upon the attachment, and shall be retained by the sheriff or other officer to await the judgment. (Rev., 772; Code, s. 360; C. C. P., s. 205; R. C., c. 7, s. 6; 1777, c. 115, s. 28; C. S. 812.)

§ 1-455. Replevy by defendant; undertaking.—The person owning the property advertised to be sold according to the provisions of this article, or his agent or attorney, may, at any time before sale, replevy the same, by giving an undertaking in double the amount of the value of the property, with sufficient surety, to the effect that he will return the property to the sheriff or other officer, if its return is adjudged by the court, and pay all costs that are awarded against him; and if return of the property cannot be had, then that he will pay plaintiff its value, and all costs and damages that are awarded against him. Upon the execution of this undertaking, the sheriff, or other officer, shall deliver the property to the person owning it. (Rev., s. 773; Code, s. 361; R. C., c. 7, s. 5; 1777, c. 115, s. 28; C. S. 813.)

§ 1-456. Defendant may apply for discharge and delivery of property.—When the defendant has appeared in such action, he may apply to the court in which it is pending, or to the judge thereof, for an order to discharge the attachment; and if the order is granted, all the proceeds of sale, and moneys collected in the action, and all property attached remaining in the hands of any officer of the court, under any process or order in the action, shall be delivered or paid to the defendant or his agent, and released from the attachment. Where there is more than one defendant, and the several property of one of them has been seized by virtue of the order of attachment, the defendant whose several property was seized may apply in like manner for relief. (Rev., s. 774; Code, s. 373; C. C. P., s. 212; C. S. 814.)

§ 1-457. Defendant's undertaking. — Upon the application provided for in § 1-456 the defendant must deliver to the court an undertaking in at least double the amount claimed by the plaintiff in his complaint, executed by two sureties residing in this state, approved by the court, to the effect that the surety will, on demand, pay to the plaintiff the amount of judgment that may be recovered against the defendant in the action, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. If it appears by affidavit that the property attached is of less value than the amount claimed by the plaintiff, the court or judge may order it to be appraised, and the amount of the undertaking shall then be double the amount so appraised. Where there is more than one defendant, and the several property of one of them has been seized by virtue of the order of attachment, the defendant whose several property was seized may deliver to the court an undertaking, in accordance with this section, to the effect that he will, on demand, pay to the plaintiff the amount of judgment that may be recovered against him, and all of this section, applicable to such an undertaking, shall be applied thereto. (Rev., s. 775; Code, s. 374; C. C. P., s. 213; C. S. 815.)

§ 1-458. All property liable to attachment.—The rights or shares of the defendant in the stock of any association or corporation, with the interest and profits thereon, and all other property in this state of the defendant, are liable to be attached, levied on, and sold to satisfy the judgment and execution. (Rev., s. 776; Code, s. 362; C. C. P., s. 206; C. S. 816.)

§ 1-459. Levy on intangible property.—The execution of the attachment upon any such rights, shares, or any debts or other property incapable of manual delivery to the sheriff, shall be made by leaving a certified copy of the warrant of attachment with the president or other head of the association or corporation, or with the debtor or individual holding such property, with a notice showing the property levied on. This certified copy must be furnished to the sheriff by the plaintiff, and the certification must be by the clerk of the court from which the warrant was issued, or by the justice of the peace who issued it. A person receiving or collecting moneys within this state on behalf of any corporation of this or any other state or government is deemed a local agent for the purpose of this section. Such service can be made in respect to a foreign corporation only when it has property within this state, or the cause of action arose or the plaintiff resides in the state, or when the service can be made within the state personally upon the president, treasurer or secretary thereof. Whenever a writ of attachment may be sued out against a nonresident debtor owning shares of stock in a resident corporation, and no officer of said resident corporation may be found in the county of its principal office upon whom service of said attachment may be made, said writ may be served by leaving a certified copy of the warrant of attachment with the person in charge of the property of said corporation in said county, together with a notice showing the stock levied upon. Provided, however, no attachment or levy upon shares of stock for which a certificate is outstanding shall be valid until such certificate be actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy, or be surrendered to the corporation which issued it, or its transfer by the holder be enjoined. (Rev., s. 777; Code, s. 363; C. C. P., s. 207; 1905, c. 294; 1921, c. 94; 1941, c. 353, s. 24½; C. S. 817.)

§ 1-460. Certificate of defendant's interest to be furnished to sheriff.—When the sheriff or other officer, with a warrant of attachment or execution, applies to a president or other head or director, secretary, cashier or managing agent of any association or corporation, or to any debtor or individual, for the purpose of attaching or levying on the property of the defendant in such warrant, such officer, debtor or individual must furnish him with a certificate under his hand, designating the number of rights or shares of the defendant in the association or corporation, with any dividend or any incumbrance thereon, or the amount and description of the property held by such association, corporation, or individual, for the benefit of, or debt owing to, the defendant. If the officer, debtor or individual refuses to do so, he may be required by the court or judge to appear before him, and be examined on oath concerning the matter, and obedience to this order may be enforced by attachment. (Rev., s. 778; Code, s. 369; C. C. P., s. 208; C. S. 818.)

§ 1-461. Proceedings against garnishee.—When the sheriff or other officer serves an attachment on any person supposed to be indebted to, or to have any property of the defendant in the attachment, he shall at the same time summon in writing such person as a garnishee. The summons and notice shall be issued by the clerk of the superior court, or justice of the peace, at the request of the plaintiff, to appear at the court to which the attachment is returnable, or if issued by a justice of the peace, at a place and time named in the notice, not exceeding twenty days from date of notice, to answer upon oath what he owes to the defendant and what property of the defendant he has in his hand and had at the time of serving the attachment, and to his knowledge and belief what effects or debts of the defendant there are in the hands of any other, and what person. When an attachment is served on a garnishee in the above manner, upon his appearance and examination, judgment may be entered up and execution awarded for the plaintiff against the garnishee, for all sums of money due the defendant from him, and for all property of any kind belonging to the defendant, in his possession or custody, for the use of the plaintiff, or so much thereof as will satisfy the debt and costs and all charges incident to levying the same. All property whatsoever in the hands of any garnishee belonging to the defendant is liable to satisfy the plaintiff's judgment, and must be delivered to the sheriff or other officer serving the attachment. (Rev., s. 779; Code, s. 364; R. C., c. 7, s. 7; 1777, c. 115, s. 28; C. S. 819.)

§ 1-462. Failure of garnishee to appear.—When a garnishee is summoned and fails to appear and discover on oath as directed, the court, after solemnly calling the garnishee, shall enter a conditional judgment against him, and thereupon a notice shall issue against him returnable to the court having jurisdiction, to show cause why final judgment should not be entered against him. Upon due execution of the notice, if the garnishee fails to appear at the time and place named, and discover on oath in the manner aforesaid, the court shall confirm the judgment and award execution for the plaintiff's whole judgment and costs. Upon examination of the garnishee, if it appears to the court that there is any of the defendant's property in the hands of a person who has not been summoned, the court, upon motion of the plaintiff, shall grant a judicial attachment, to be levied in the hands of every such person having any of the property of the defendant in his custody or possession, who must appear and answer and be liable as other garnishees. (Rev., s. 780; Code, s. 365; R. C., c. 7, s. 8; 1777, c. 115, s. 28; 1838, c. 2; C. S. 820.)

§ 1-463. Garnishee denying debt; issue tried.—When a garnishee denies that he owes to, or has in his possession any property of, the defendant, and the plaintiff on oath suggests to the court the contrary, or when a garnishee makes such a statement of facts that the court cannot proceed to give judgment thereon, the court shall order an issue to be made up, which must be tried by a jury, and on their verdict judgment shall be rendered. In a court of a justice of the peace, he may try such issue, unless a jury is demanded, and then proceedings are to be conducted, in all respects, as in jury trials before justices of the peace. (Rev., s. 781; Code, s. 366; R. C., c. 7, s. 9; 1793, c. 389, s. 2; C. S. 821.)

§ 1-464. Property with garnishee valued; garnishee exonerated.—When a garnishee on oath confesses that he has in his hands any property of the defendant of a specific nature, or is indebted to him by any security or promise for the delivery of any specific article, except as hereinafter excepted, the court shall immediately order a jury to be impaneled and sworn to inquire into the value of such specific property, and the verdict of the jury subjects the garnishee to the payment of the valuation, or as much of it as is sufficient to satisfy the debt or damages and costs of the plaintiff. In a court of a justice of the peace, he may try such issue, unless a jury is demanded, and then proceedings are to be conducted in all respects as in jury trials before justices of the peace. If the garnishee states in his answer that the specific property was left with him by the defendant as a bailment, or that he has tendered said specific articles according to contract, and that they were refused by the defendant, and that he then was and always had been ready to deliver the same; or that he had such specific articles at the time and place specified in such covenant or agreement ready to be delivered, and is still ready to deliver them; and such statement is admitted by the plaintiff or found by a jury or the court, then in any such case the garnishee shall be exonerated by the delivery of such specific articles to the sheriff, who shall proceed as if the attachment had been orginally levied on the property. (Rev., s. 782; Code, s. 367; R. C., c. 7, s. 11; 1793, c. 389; 1794, c. 424; C. S. 822.)

swer that the money or specific article due by him will become payable or deliverable at a future day, and this is admitted by the plaintiff or found by a jury or the court, a conditional judgment shall be entered against the garnishee, and the plaintiff may obtain judgment against the defendant for his demand, but may not take final judgment against the garnishee without notice to show cause. (Rev., s. 783; Code, s. 368; R. C., c. 7, s. 12; 1794, c. 424, s. 2; C. S. 823.)

§ 1-466. Satisfaction of judgment.—If judgment is entered for the plaintiff in the action, the sheriff shall satisfy the same out of the property attached by him, if it is sufficient for that purpose—

1. By paying over to the plaintiff the proceeds of all property sold and debts or credits collected by him, or so much as is necessary to satisfy the judgment.

2. If any balance remains due, and an execution has been issued on the judgment, he shall sell under the execution as much of the attached real or personal property, except as provided in subdivision four of this section, as is necessary to satisfy the balance, if enough for that purpose remains in his hands. In case of the sale of any rights or shares in the stock of a corporation or association, the sheriff shall execute to the purchaser a certificate of sale, and the purchaser has all the rights and privileges in respect thereto which were had by the defendant.

3. If any of the attached property belonging to the defendant has passed out of the hands of the sheriff without having been sold or converted into money, he shall repossess himself of the same, and for that purpose has all the authority which he had to seize it under the attachment. A person who willfully conceals or withholds such property from the sheriff is liable to double damages at the suit of the party injured.

4. Until the judgment against the defendant is paid, the sheriff may collect the notes and other evidences of debt, and the debts that were seized or attached, under the warrant of attachment, and prosecute any bond he has taken in the course of such proceedings, and apply the proceeds to the payment of the judgment.

At the expiration of six months from the docketing of the judgment the court has power, upon petition of the plaintiff, accompanied by an affidavit setting forth fully all the proceedings which have been had by the sheriff since the service of the attachment, the property attached, and the disposition thereof, also the affidavit of the sheriff that he has used due diligence, and endeavored to collect the evidences of debt in his hands so attached, and that there remains uncollected of the same any part or portion thereof, to order the sheriff to sell the same upon such terms and in such manner as is deemed proper. Notice of this application must be given to the defendant or to his attorney, if the defendant has appeared in the action. If the summons has not been personally served on the defendant, the court shall make such rule or order, as to service of notice and time of service, as is deemed just. When the judgment and all costs of the proceedings have been paid, the sheriff, upon reasonable demand, shall deliver over to the defendant the residue of the attached property or the proceeds thereof. (Rev., s. 784; Code, s. 370; C. C. P., s. 209; C. S. 824.)

§ 1-467. Plaintiff may sue on defendant's bond.—The actions herein authorized to be brought by the sheriff may be prosecuted by the plaintiff, or under his direction, upon the delivery by him to the sheriff of an undertaking executed by two sufficient sureties, to the effect that the plaintiff will indemnify the sheriff from all damages, costs and expenses on account thereof, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars in any one action. The sureties must in all cases, when required by the sheriff, justify by making an affidavit that each is a freeholder, and worth double the amount of the penalty of the bond, over and above all demands, liabilities and exemptions. (Rev., s. 785; Code, s. 371; C. C. P., s. 210; C. S. 825.)

§ 1-468. On defendant's recovery, bonds and property delivered to him.—If the foreign corporation, or the absent, absconding, or concealed defendant, recovers judgment against the plaintiff in such action, any bond taken upon the issuing of the warrant of attachment, and any bond taken by the sheriff, except such as are mentioned in § 1-467, all the proceeds of sales and moneys collected by him, and all the property attached remaining in his hands, shall be delivered by him to the defendant or to his agent, on request, and the warrant shall be discharged and the property released. (Rev., s. 786; Code, s. 372; C. C. P., s. 211; C. S. 826.)

§ 1-469. Motion to vacate or increase security.—The defendant, or person who has acquired a lien upon, or interest in, his property before or after it was attached, may at any time before the actual application of the attached property, or the proceeds thereof, to the payment of a judgment recovered in the action, apply to the court having jurisdiction to vacate or modify the warrant, or to increase the security given by the plaintiff, or for one or more of those forms of relief, together or in the alternative, as in cases of other provisional remedies. (Rev., s. 787; Code, s. 377; C. S. 827.)

§ 1-470. Exceptions to and justification of sureties.—The sureties to all undertakings in all proceedings for attachment may be excepted to, and justified as prescribed in respect to bail upon an order of arrest. (Rev., s. 788; Code, s. 378; C. S. 828.)

§ 1-471. Intervention.—When the property attached is claimed by any other person, the claimant may intervene, as provided for intervention in claim and delivery. (Rev., s. 789; Code, s. 375; R. C., c. 7, s. 10; 1793, c. 389, s. 3; C. S. 829.)

Art. 36. Claim and Delivery.

§ 1-472. Claim for delivery of personal property.—The plaintiff in an action to recover the possession of personal property may, at the time of issuing the summons or at any time before answer, claim the immediate delivery of the property as provided in this article. (Rev., s. 790; Code, s. 321; C. C. P., s. 176; C. S. 830.)

§ 1-473. Affidavit and requisites.—Where a delivery is claimed, an affidavit must be made before the clerk of the court in which the action is required to be tried or before some person competent to administer oaths, by the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf, showing—

1. That the plaintiff is the owner of the property claimed (particularly describing it), or is lawfully entitled to its possession by virtue of a special property therein, the facts in respect to which must be set forth.

2. That the property is wrongfully detained by the defendant.

3. The alleged cause of the detention, according to his best knowledge, information and belief.

4. That the property has not been taken for tax, assessment or fine, pursuant to a statute; or seized under an execution or attachment against the property of the plaintiff; or, if so seized, that it is, by statute, exempt from such seizure; and,

5. The actual value of the property. (Rev., s. 791; Code, s. 322; C. C. P., s. 177; 1881, c. 134; C. S. 831.)

§ 1-474. Order of seizure and delivery to plaintiff.—The clerk of the court shall, thereupon, and upon the giving by the plaintiff of the undertaking prescribed in the succeeding section, by an indorsement in writing upon the affidavit, require the sheriff of the county where the property claimed is located, to take it from the defendant and deliver it to the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 792; Code, s. 323; C. C. P., s. 178; C. S. 832.)

§ 1-475. Plaintiff's undertaking. — The plaintiff must give a written undertaking payable to the defendant, executed by one or more sufficient sureties, approved by the sheriff, to the effect that they are bound in double the value of the property, as stated in the affidavit for the prosecution of the action, for the return of the property to the defendant, with damages for its deterioration and detention if return can be had, and if for any cause return cannot be had, for the payment to him of such sum as may be recovered against the plaintiff for the value of the property at the time of the seizure, with interest thereon as damages for such seizure and detention. (Rev., s. 793; Code, s. 324; 1885, c. 50; C. C. P., s. 179; C. S. 833.)

§ 1-476. Sheriff's duties.—Upon the receipt of the order from the clerk with the plaintiff's undertaking, the sheriff shall forthwith take the property described in the affidavit, if it is in the possession of the defendant or his agent, and retain it in his custody. He shall also, without delay, serve on the defendant a copy of the affidavit, notice, and undertaking, by delivering the same to him personally, if he can be found, or to his agent, from whose possession the property is taken; or, if neither can be found, by leaving them at the usual place of abode of either, with some person of suitable age and discretion. (Rev., s. 793; Code, s. 324; C. C. P., s. 179; 1885, c. 50; C. S. 834.)

§ 1-477. Exceptions to undertaking; liability of sheriff.—The defendant may, within three days after the service of a copy of the affidavit and undertaking, notify the sheriff personally, or by leaving a copy at his office in the county-seat of the county, that he excepts to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objection to them. When the defendant excepts, the sureties must justify on notice, in like manner as upon bail on arrest. The sheriff is responsible for the sufficiency of the sureties until the objection to them is either waived as above provided, or until they justify, or until new sureties are substituted and justify. If the defendant excepts to the sureties he cannot reclaim the property as provided in the succeeding section. (Rev., s. 794; Code, s. 325; C. C. P., s. 180; C. S. 835.)

§ 1-478. Defendant's undertaking for replevy.—At any time before the delivery of the property to the plaintiff, the defendant may, if he does not except to the sureties of the plaintiff, require the return thereof, upon giving to the sheriff a written undertaking, payable to the plaintiff, executed by one or more sufficient sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the value of the property, as stated in the affidavit of the plaintiff, for the delivery thereof to the plaintiff, with damages for its deterioration and detention, and the costs, if delivery can be had, and if delivery cannot be had, for the payment to him of such sum as may be recovered against the defendant for the value of the property at the time of the wrongful taking or detention, with interest thereon, as damages for such taking and detention, together with the costs of the action. If a return of the property is not so required, within three days after the taking and service of notice to the defendant, it must be delivered to the plaintiff, unless it is claimed by an interpleader.

The defendant's undertaking shall include liability for costs, as provided in this section, only where the undertaking is given in actions instituted in the superior court. (Rev., s. 795; Code, s. 326; 1885, c. 50, s. 2; C. C. P., s. 181; 1911, c. 17; C. S. 836.)

§ 1-479. Qualification and justification of defendant's sureties.—The qualification of the defendant's sureties, and their justification, is as prescribed in respect to bail upon an order of arrest. The defendant's sureties, upon notice to the plaintiff of not less than two nor more than six days, shall justify before the court, a judge or justice of the peace, and upon this justification the sheriff must deliver the property to the defendant. The sheriff is responsible for the defendant's sureties until justification is completed or expressly waived, and he may retain the property until that time; but if they, or others in their place, fail to justify at the time and place appointed, he must deliver the property to the plaintiff. (Rev., ss. 796, 797; Code, ss. 327, 328; C. C. P., ss. 182, 183; C. S. 837.)

§ 1-480. Property concealed in buildings.—If the property, or any part of it, is concealed in a building or enclosure, the sheriff shall publicly demand its delivery. If it is not delivered he must cause the building or enclosure to be broken open, and take the property into his possession. If necessary, he may call to his aid the power of his county, and if the property is upon the person the sheriff or other officer may seize the person, and search for and take it. (Rev., s. 798; Code, s. 329; C. C. P., s. 184; C. S. 838.)

§ 1-481. Care and delivery of seized property.—When the sheriff has taken property, as provided in this article, he must keep it in a secure place, and deliver it to the party entitled thereto, upon receiving his lawful fees for taking and his necessary expenses for keeping it. (Rev., s. 799; Code, s. 330; C. C. P., s. 185; C. S. 839.)

§ 1-482. Property claimed by third person; proceedings.—When the property taken by the sheriff is claimed by any person other than the plaintiff or defendant the claimant may intervene upon filing an affidavit of his title and right to the possession of the property, stating the grounds of such right and title, and upon his delivering to the sheriff an undertaking in an amount double the value of the property specified in his affidavit, for the delivery of the property to the person entitled to it, and for the payment of all such costs and damages as may be awarded against him, this undertaking to be executed by one or more sufficient sureties, accompanied by their affidavits that they are each worth double the value of the property. A copy of this undertaking and accompanying affidavit shall be served by the sheriff on the plaintiff and defendant at least ten days before the return day of the summons in the action, when the court trying it shall order a jury to be impaneled to inquire in whom is the right to the property specified in plaintiff's complaint. The finding of the jury is conclusive as to the parties then in court, and the court shall adjudge accordingly, unless it is reversed upon appeal. In a court of a justice of the peace he may try such issue unless a jury is demanded, and then proceedings are to be conducted in all respects as in jury trials before justices of the peace. In a court of a justice of the peace an intervener shall not be required to serve on the plaintiff and defendant the affidavits and bonds required by this section, ten days before return day; but if said bond and affidavit are filed by any person owning the property when such case is called for trial, he shall be allowed to intervene: Provided that this section shall not be construed to prevent any such intervener or third person from intervening and asserting his claim to the property, or any part thereof, without giving bond as herein required, where such intervener or other third person does not ask for possession of the property pending the trial of the issue. (Rev., s. 800; Code, s. 331; C. C. P., s. 186; R. C., c. 7, s. 10; 1793, c. 389, s. 3; 1913, c. 188; 1933, c. 131; C. S. 840.)

§ 1-483. Delivery of property to intervener.—Upon the filing by the claimant of the undertaking set forth in § 1-482, the sheriff is not bound to keep the property, or to deliver it to the plaintiff; but may deliver it to the claimant, unless the plaintiff executes and delivers to him a similar undertaking to that required of claimant; and notwithstanding such claim, when so made, the sheriff may retain the property a reasonable time to demand such indemnity. (Rev., s. 801; Code, s. 332; R. C., c. 7, s. 10; 1793, c. 389, s. 3; C. S. 841.)

§ 1-484. Sheriff to return papers in ten days.—The sheriff must return the undertaking, notice and affidavit, with his proceedings thereon, to the court in which the action is pending within ten days after taking the property mentioned therein. (Rev., s. 802; Code, s. 133; C. C. P., s. 187; C. S. 842.)

Art. 37. Injunction.

§ 1-485. When temporary injunction issued.—A temporary injunction may be issued by order in accordance with the provisions of this article. The order may be made by any judge of the superior court in the following cases, and shall be issued by the clerk of the court in which the action is required to be tried:

1. When it appears by the complaint that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief demanded, and this relief, or any part thereof, consists in restraining the commission or continuance of some act the commission or continuance of which, during the litigation, would produce injury to the plaintiff; or,

2. When, during the litigation, it appears by affidavit that a party thereto is doing, or threatens or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering some act to be done in violation of the rights of another party to the litigation respecting the subject of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual; or,

3. When, during the pendency of an action, it appears by affidavit of any person that the defendant threatens or is about to remove or dispose of his property, with intent to defraud the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 806; Code, ss. 334, 338; C. C. P., ss. 188, 189; C. S. 843.)

§ 1-486. When solvent defendant restrained.—In an application for an injunction to enjoin a trespass on land it is not necessary to allege the insolvency of the defendant when the trespass complained of is continuous in its nature, or is the cutting or destruction of timber trees. (Rev., s. 807; 1885, c. 401; C. S. 844.)

§ 1-487. Timber lands, trial of title to.—In all actions to try title to timber lands and for trespass thereon for cutting timber trees, when the court finds as a fact that there is a bona fide contention on both sides based upon evidence constituting a prima facie title, no order shall be made pending such action, permitting either party to cut said timber trees, except by consent, until the title to said land or timber trees is finally determined in the action. In all cases where the title to any timber or trees, or the right to cut and remove the same during a term of years, is claimed by any party to such action, and the fee of the soil or other estate in the land by another, whether party to the action or not, the time within which such timber or trees may be cut or removed by the party claiming the same, and all other rights acquired in connection therewith, shall not be affected or abridged, but the running of the term is suspended during the pendency of the action. (Rev., s. 808; 1901, c. 666, s. 1; 1903, c. 642; C. S. 845.)

§ 1-488. When timber may be cut.—In any action specified in § 1-487, when the judge finds as a fact that the contention of either party is not in good faith and is not based upon evidence constituting a prima facie title, upon motion of the other party, who may satisfy the court of the bona fides of his contention and who may produce evidence showing a prima facie title, the court may allow such party to cut the timber trees by giving bond as required by law. Nothing in this section affects the right of appeal, and when any party to such action has been enjoined, a sufficient bond must be required to cover all damages that may accrue to the party enjoined by reason of the injunction as now required by law. (Rev., s. 809; 1901, c. 666, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 846.)

§ 1-489. Time of issuing.—The injunction may be granted when or at any time after commencing the action, before judgment, upon its appearing satisfactorily to the judge, by affidavit of the plaintiff or of any other person, that sufficient grounds exist therefor. A copy of the affidavit must be served with the injunction. (Rev., s. 810; Code, s. 339; C. C. P., s. 190; C. S. 847.)

§ 1-490. Not issued for longer than twenty days without notice.—No restraining order, or order to stay proceedings, for a longer time than twenty days shall be granted by a judge out of court, except upon due notice to the adverse party; but the order shall continue and remain in force until vacated after notice, to be fixed by the court, of not less than two nor more than ten days. (Rev., s. 811; Code, s. 346; C. C. P., s. 345; 1905, c. 26; C. S. 848.)

§ 1-491. Issued after answer, only on notice.—An injunction shall not be allowed after the defendant has answered, except upon notice, or upon an order to show cause; but in such case the defendant may be restrained until the decision of the judge granting or refusing the injunction. (Rev., s. 812; Code, s. 340; C. C. P., s. 191; C. S. 849.)

§ 1-492. Order to show cause.—If the judge deems it proper that the defendant, or any of several defendants, should be heard before granting an injunction, an order may be made requiring cause to be shown, at a specified time and place, why the injunction should not be granted; and the defendant may, in the meantime, be restrained. (Rev., s. 813; Code, s. 342; C. C. P., s. 193; C. S. 850.)

§ 1-493. What judges have jurisdiction.—The judges of the superior court have jurisdiction to grant injunctions and issue restraining orders in all civil actions and proceedings. A judge holding a special term in any county may grant an injunction, or issue a restraining order, returnable before himself, in any case which he has jurisdiction to hear and determine under the commission issued to him, and the same is returnable as directed in the order. (Rev., s. 814; Code, s. 335; 1876-7, c. 223, ss. 1, 2; 1879, c. 63, ss. 1, 3; C. S. 851.)

§ 1-494. Before what judge returnable.—All restraining orders and injunctions granted by any of the judges of the superior court, except one holding a special term in any county, shall be made returnable before the resident judge of the district, or the judge assigned to the district, or holding by exchange the courts of the district where the civil action or special proceeding is pending, within twenty days from date of order. If the judge before whom the matter is returned fails, for any reason, to hear the motion and application, or to continue them to some other time and place, any judge resident in, or assigned to hold the courts of, some adjoining district may hear and determine the said motion and application, after giving ten days notice to the parties interested in the application or motion, upon its being satisfactorily shown to him by affidavit or otherwise that the judge before whom the matter was returnable failed to act upon or to continue the same to some other time and place. This removal continues in force the motion and application theretofore granted, till they can be heard and determined by the judge having jurisdiction. (Rev., s. 815; Code, s. 336; 1876, c. 223, s. 2; 1879, c. 63, ss. 2, 3; 1881, c. 51; C. S. 852.)

§ 1-495. Stipulation as to judge to hear.—By a stipulation in writing, signed by all the parties to an application for an injunction order, or their attorneys, to the effect that the matter may be heard before a judge designated in the stipulation, the judge before whom the restraining order is returnable by law, or who is by law the judge to hear the motion for an injunction order, shall, upon receipt of the stipulation forward it and all the papers to the judge designated, whose duty it then is to hear and decide the matter, and return all the papers to the court out of which they issued, the necessary postage or expressage money to be furnished to the judge. (Rev., s. 816; Code, s. 337; 1883, c. 33; C. S. 853.)

§ 1-496. Undertaking.—Upon granting a restraining order or an order for an injunction, the judge shall require as a condition precedent to the issuing thereof that the clerk shall take from the plaintiff a written undertaking, with sufficient sureties, to be justified before, and approved by, the clerk or judge, in an amount to be fixed by the judge, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay to the party enjoined such damages, not exceeding an amount to be specified, as he sustains by reason of the injunction, if the court finally decides that the plaintiff was not entitled to it. (Rev., s. 817; Code, s. 341; C. C. P., s. 192; C. S. 854.)

§ 1-497. Damages on dissolution.—A judgment dissolving an injunction carries with it judgment for damages against the party procuring it and the sureties on his undertaking without the requirement of malice or want of probable cause in procuring the injunction, which damages may be ascertained by a reference or otherwise, as the judge directs, and the decision of the court is conclusive as to the amount of damages upon all the persons who have an interest in the undertaking. (Rev., s. 818; Code, s. 341; 1893, c. 251; C. S. 855.)

§ 1-498. Issued without notice; application to vacate.—If the injunction is granted without notice, the defendant, at any time before the trial, may apply, upon notice to be fixed by the court of not less than two nor more than ten days, to the judge having jurisdiction, to vacate or modify the same, if he is within the district or in an adjoining district, but if out of the district and not in an adjoining district, then before any judge who is at the time in the district, and if there is no judge in the district, before any judge in an adjoining district. The application may be made upon the complaint and the affidavits on which the injunction was granted, or upon the affidavits on the part of the defendant, with or without answer. If no such application is made, the injunction continues in force until such application is made and determined by the judge, and a verified answer has the effect only of an affidavit. (Rev., s. 819; Code, s. 344; C. C. P., s. 195; 1905, c. 26; C. S. 856.)

§ 1-499. When opposing affidavits admitted.—If the application is made upon affidavits on the part of the defendant, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits or other proof, in addition to those on which the injunction was granted. (Rev., s. 820; Code, s. 345; C. C. P., s. 196; C. S. 857.)

§ 1-500. Restraining orders and injunctions in effect pending appeal; indemnifying bond.—Whenever a plaintiff shall appeal from a judgment rendered at chambers, or in term, either vacating a restraining order theretofore granted, or denying a perpetual injunction in any case where such injunction is the principal relief sought by the plaintiff, and where it shall appear that vacating said restraining order or denying said injunction will enable the defendant to consummate the threatened act, sought to be enjoined, before such appeal can be heard, so that the plaintiff will thereby be deprived of the benefits of any judgment of the supreme court, reversing the judgment of the lower court, then in such case the original restraining order granted in the case shall in the discretion of the trial judge be and remain in full force and effect until said appeal shall be finally disposed of: Provided, the plaintiff shall forthwith execute and deposit with the clerk a written undertaking with sufficient surety, approved by the clerk or judge, in an amount to be fixed by the judge to indemnify the party enjoined against all loss, not exceeding an amount to be specified, which he may suffer on account of continuing such restraining order as aforesaid, in the event that the judgment of the lower court is affirmed by the supreme court. (1921, c. 58; C. S. 858(a).)

Art. 38. Receivers.

§ 1-501. What judge appoints.—Any judge of the superior court with authority to grant restraining orders and injunctions has like jurisdiction in appointing receivers, and all motions to show cause are returnable as is provided for injunctions. (Rev., s. 846; Code, s. 379; C. C. P., s. 215; 1876-7, c. 223; 1879, c. 63; 1881, c. 51; C. S. 859.)

§ 1-502. In what cases appointed.—A receiver may be appointed—

1. Before judgment, on the application of either party, when he establishes an apparent right to property which is the subject of the action and in the possession of an adverse party, and the property or its rents and profits are in danger of being lost, or materially injured or impaired; except in cases where judgment upon failure to answer may be had on application to the court.

2. After judgment, to carry the judgment into effect.

3. After judgment, to dispose of the property according to the judgment, or to preserve it during the pendency of an appeal, or when an execution has been returned unsatisfied, and the judgment debtor refuses to apply his property in satisfaction of the judgment.

4. In cases provided in chapter entitled Corporations in the article Receivers; and in like cases, of the property within this state of foreign corporations.

The article Receivers, in the chapter entitled Corporations, is applicable, as near as may be, to receivers appointed hereunder. (Rev., s. 847; Code, c. 379; C. C. P., s. 215; 1876-7, c. 223; 1879, c. 63; 1881, c. 51; C. S. 860.)

§ 1-503. Appointment refused on bond's being given.—In all cases where there is an application for the appointment of a receiver, upon the ground that the property or its rents and profits are in danger of being lost, or materially injured or impaired, or that a corporation defendant is insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency, and the subject of the action is the recovery of a money demand, the judge before whom the application is made or pending shall have the discretionary power to refuse the appointment of a receiver if the party against whom such relief is asked, whether a person, partnership or corporation, tenders to the court an undertaking payable to the adverse party in an amount double the sum demanded by the plaintiff, with at least two sufficient and duly justified sureties, conditioned for the payment of such amount as may be recovered in the action, and summary judgment may be taken upon the undertaking. In the progress of the action the court may in its discretion require additional sureties on such undertaking. (Rev., s. 848; 1885, c. 94; C. S. 861.)

§ 1-504. Receiver's bond.—A receiver appointed in an action or special proceeding must, before entering upon his duties, execute and file with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending an undertaking payable to the adverse party with at least two sufficient sureties in a penalty fixed by the judge making the appointment, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties as receiver. And the judge having jurisdiction thereof may at any time remove the receiver, or direct him to give a new undertaking, with new sureties, and on the like condition. This section does not apply to a case where special provision is made by law for the security to be given by a receiver, or for increasing the same, or for removing a receiver. (Rev., s. 849; Code, s. 383; C. S. 862.)

§ 1-505. Sale of property in hands of receiver.—The resident judge or the judge assigned to hold any of the courts in any judicial district of North Carolina shall have power and authority to order a sale of any property, real or personal, in the hands of a receiver duly and regularly appointed by the Superior Court of North Carolina upon such terms as appear to be to the best interests of the creditors affected by said receivership. (1931, c. 123, s. 1.)

§ 1-506. Confirmation of sales outside county of action; notice to creditors.—Any sale made by a receiver may be confirmed outside of the county in which said action is pending, either by the resident judge or the judge assigned to hold any of the courts of the district in which said sale is made, upon proof of written notice to each creditor who has filed his claim with said receiver of at least ten days prior to the date of confirmation. The said notice shall specify the time and place when application for confirmation shall be made, and an affidavit of the receiver showing that notice was mailed to each creditor at his last known post office address shall be sufficient proof of notice to said creditors. (1931, c. 123, s. 2; c. 267.)

§ 1-507. Validation of sales made outside county of action.—All receiver's sales made prior to March 16, 1931, where orders were made and confirmation decreed or where either orders were made or confirmation decreed outside the county in which said actions were pending by a resident judge or the judge assigned to hold the courts of the district are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed. (1931, c. 123, s. 3.)

Art. 39. Deposit or Delivery of Money or Other Property.

§ 1-508. Ordered paid into court.—When it is admitted by the pleading or examination of a party that he has in his possession or under his control any money or other thing capable of delivery, which, being the subject of the litigation, is held by him as trustee for another party, or which belongs or is due to another party, the judge may order it deposited in court, or delivered to such party with or without security, subject to the further direction of the judge. (Rev., s. 850; Code, s. 380; C. C. P., s. 215; C. S. 863.)

§ 1-509. Ordered seized by sheriff.—When, in the exercise of his authority, a judge has ordered the deposit, delivery or conveyance of money or other property, and the order is disobeyed, the judge, besides punishing the disobedience as for contempt, may make an order requiring the sheriff to take the money or property, and deposit, deliver, or convey it, in conformity with the direction of the judge. (Rev., s. 851; Code, s. 381; C. C. P., s. 215; C. S. 864.)

§ 1-510. Defendant ordered to satisfy admitted sum.—When the answer of the defendant expressly, or by not denying, admits part of the plaintiff's claim to be just, the judge, on motion, may order the defendant to satisfy that part of the claim, and may enforce the order as it enforces a judgment or provisional remedy. (Rev., s. 852; Code, s. 382; C. C. P., s. 215; C. S. 865.)

SUBCHAPTER XIV. ACTIONS IN PARTICULAR CASES.

Art. 40. Mandamus.

§ 1-511. Begun by summons and verified complaint.—All applications for writs of mandamus must be made by summons and complaint, which must be duly verified. (Rev., s. 822; Code, s. 622; 1871-2, c. 75; C. S. 866.)

§ 1-512. For money demand.—In applications for a writ of mandamus when the plaintiff seeks to enforce a money demand, the summons, pleadings and practice are the same as prescribed for civil actions. Provided that in all applications seeking a writ of mandamus to enforce a money demand on actions ex contractu against any county, city, town or taxing district within the state, the applicant shall allege and show in the complaint that the claim or debt has been reduced to a final judgment establishing what part of said judgment, if any, remains unpaid, what resources, if any, are available for the satisfaction of the judgment, including the actual value of all property sought to be subjected to additional taxation and the necessity for the issuing of such writ. (Rev., s. 823; Code, s. 623; 1871-2, c. 75, s. 2; 1933, c. 349; C. S. 867.)

§ 1-513. For other relief returnable in vacation; issues of fact.—When the plaintiff seeks relief other than the enforcement of a money demand, the summons must be made returnable before a judge of the superior court at chambers, or in term at a day specified in the summons, not less than ten days after the service of the summons and complaint upon the defendant; at which time the court, except for good cause shown, shall hear and determine the action, both as to law and fact. However, when an issue of fact is raised by the pleading, it is the duty of the court, upon the motion of either party, to continue the action until the issue of fact can be decided by a jury at the next regular term of the court. (Rev., s. 824; Code, s. 623; 1871-2, c. 75, s. 3; C. S. 868.)

Art. 41. Quo Warranto.

§ 1-514. Writs of sci. fa. and quo warranto abolished.—The writs of scire facias and of quo warranto, and proceedings by information in the nature of quo warranto, are abolished; and the remedies obtainable in those forms may be obtained by civil actions under this article. (Rev., s. 826; Code, s. 603; C. C. P., s. 362; R. C., c. 26, ss. 5, 25; C. S. 869.)

§ 1-515. Action by attorney-general.—An action may be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the state, upon his own information or upon the complaint of a private party, against the parties offending, in the following cases:

1. When a person usurps, intrudes into, or unlawfully holds or exercises any public office, civil or military, or any franchise within this state, or any office in a corporation created by the authority of this state; or,

2. When a public officer, civil or military, has done or suffered an act which, by law, makes a forfeiture of his office.

3. When any person, natural or corporate, has or claims to have or hold any rights or franchises by reason of a grant or otherwise, in violation of the provisions of § 146-14. (Rev., s. 827; Code, s. 607; C. C. P., s. 366; 1911, cc. 195, 201; C. S. 870.)

§ 1-516. Action by private person with leave.—When application is made to the attorney-general by a private relator to bring such an action, he shall grant leave that it may be brought in the name of the state, upon the relation of such applicant, upon the applicant tendering to the attorney-general satisfactory security to indemnify the state against all costs and expenses which may accrue in consequence of the action. (Rev., s. 828; Code, s. 608; 1874-5, c. 76; 1881, c. 330; C. S. 871.)

§ 1-517. Solvent sureties required.—The attorney-general, before granting leave to a private relator to bring a suit to try the title to an office, may require two sureties to the bond required by law to be filed to indemnify the state against costs and expenses, and require such sureties to justify, and may require such proof and evidence of the solvency of the sureties as is satisfactory to him. (Rev., s. 829; 1901, c. 595, s. 2; C. S. 872.)

§ 1-518. Leave withdrawn and action dismissed for insufficient bond.—When the attorney-general has granted leave to a private relator to bring an action in the name of the state to try the title to an office, and it afterwards is shown to the satisfaction of the attorney-general that the bond filed by the private relator is insufficient, or that the sureties are insolvent, the attorney-general may recall and revoke such leave, and upon a certificate of the withdrawal and revocation by the attorney-general to the clerk of the court of the county where the action is pending, it is the duty of the presiding judge, upon motion of the defendant, to dismiss the action. (Rev., s. 830; 1891, c. 595; C. S. 873.)

§ 1-519. Arrest and bail of defendant usurping office.—When action is brought against a person for usurping an office, the attorney-general, in addition to the statement of the cause of action, may set forth in the complaint the name of the person rightfully entitled to the office, with a statement of his right thereto; and in such case, upon proof by affidavit that the defendant has received fees or emoluments belonging to and by means of his usurpation of the office, an order shall be granted by a judge of the superior court for the arrest of the defendant, and holding him to bail; and thereupon he shall be arrested and held to bail in the same manner, and with the same effect, and subject to the same rights and liabilities, as in other civil actions where the defendant is subject to arrest. (Rev., s. 831; Code, s. 609; C. C. P., s. 369; 1883, c. 102; C. S. 874.)

§ 1-520. Several claims tried in one action.—Where several persons claim to be entitled to the same office or franchise, one action may be brought against all of them, in order to try their respective rights to the office or franchise. (Rev., s. 832; Code, s. 614; C. C. P., s. 374; C. S. 875.)

§ 1-521. Trials expedited.—All actions to try the title or right to any state, county or municipal office stand for trial at the return term of the summons, if a copy of the complaint was served with the summons at least thirty days before the return day thereof; and it is the duty of the judges to expedite the trial of these actions, and to give them precedence over all others, civil or criminal. It is unlawful to appropriate any public funds to the payment of counsel fees in any such action. (Rev., s. 833; Code, s. 616; 1901, c. 42; 1874-5, c. 173; C. S. 876.)

§ 1-522. Time for bringing action.—All actions brought by a private relator, upon the leave of the attorney-general, to try the title to an office must be brought, and a copy of the complaint served on the defendant, within ninety days after his induction into the office to which the title is to be tried; and when it appears from the papers in the cause, or is otherwise shown to the satisfaction of the court, that the summons and complaint have not been served within ninety days, it is the duty of the judge upon motion of defendant to dismiss the action at any time before the trial, at the cost of the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 834; 1901, c. 519; 1903, c. 556; C. S. 877.)

§ 1-523. Defendant's undertaking before answer.—Before the defendant may answer or demur to the complaint he must execute and file in the superior court clerk's office of the county wherein the suit is pending, an undertaking, with good and sufficient surety, in the sum of two hundred dollars, which may be increased from time to time in the discretion of the judge, to be void upon condition that the defendant pays to the plaintiff all such costs and damages, including damages for the loss of such fees and emoluments as may or ought to have come into the hands of the defendant, as the plaintiff may recover. (Rev., s. 835; 1895, c. 105; C. S. 878.)

§ 1-524. Possession of office not disturbed pending trial.—In any civil action pending in any of the courts of this state in which the title to an office is involved, the defendant being in the possession of the office and discharging the duties thereof shall continue therein pending the action, and no judge shall make a restraining order interfering with or enjoining such officer in the premises. The officer shall, notwithstanding any such order, continue to exercise the duties of the office pending the litigation, and receive the emoluments thereof. (Rev., s. 836; 1899, c. 33; C. S. 879.)

§ 1-525. Judgment by default and inquiry on failure of defendant to give bond.—At any time after a duly verified complaint is filed alleging facts sufficient to entitle plaintiff to the office, whether this complaint is filed at the beginning of the action or later, the plaintiff may, upon ten days notice to the defendant or his attorney of record, move before the judge resident in or riding the district, at chambers, to require the defendant to give the undertaking specified in § 1-523. It is the duty of the judge to require the defendant to give the undertaking within ten days, and if it is not so given, the judge shall render judgment in favor of plaintiff and against defendant for the recovery of the office and the costs, and a judgment by default and inquiry to be executed at a term for damages, including loss of fees and salary. Upon the filing of the judgment for the recovery of such office with the clerk, it is his duty to issue and the sheriff's duty to serve the necessary process to put the plaintiff into possession of the office. If the defendant shall give the undertaking, the court, if judgment is rendered for plaintiff, shall render judgment against the defendant and his sureties for costs and damages, including loss of fees and salary. Nothing herein prevents the judge's extending, for cause, the time in which to give the undertaking. (Rev., s. 837; 1899, c. 49; 1895, c. 105, s. 2; C. S. 880.)

§ 1-526. Service of summons and complaint.—The service of the summons and complaint as hereinbefore provided may be made by leaving a copy at the last residence or business office of the defendant or defendants, and service so made shall be deemed a legal service. (Rev., s. 838; 1899, c. 126; C. S. 881.)

§ 1-527. Judgment in such actions.—In every such case judgment shall be rendered upon the right of the defendant, and also upon the right of the party alleged to be entitled, or only upon the right of the defendant, as justice requires. When the defendant, whether a natural person or corporation, against whom the action has been brought, is adjudged guilty of usurping or intruding into, or unlawfully holding or exercising any office, franchise or privilege, judgment shall be rendered that the defendant be excluded from such office, franchise or privilege, and also that the plaintiff recover costs against him. The court may also, in its discretion, fine the defendant a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars. (Rev., ss. 839, 840; Code, ss. 610, 615; R. C., c. 95; C. C. P., ss. 370, 375; Const., Art. IX, s. 5; C. S. 882.)

§ 1-528. Mandamus to aid relator.—In any civil action brought to try the title or right to hold any office, when the judgment of the court is in favor of the relator in the action, it is the duty of the court to issue a writ of mandamus or such other process as is necessary and proper to carry the judgment into effect, and to induct the party entitled into office. (Rev., s. 841; 1885, c. 406, s. 1; C. S. 883.)

§ 1-529. Appeal; bonds of parties.—No appeal by the defendant to the supreme court from the judgment of the superior court in such action shall stay the execution of the judgment, unless a justified undertaking is executed on the part of the appellant by one or more sureties, in a sum to be fixed by the court, conditioned that the appellant will pay to the party entitled to the same the salary, fees, emoluments and all moneys whatsoever received by the appellant by virtue or under color of the office. In no event shall the judgment be executed pending appeal, unless a justified undertaking is executed on the part of the appellee by one or more persons in a sum to be fixed by the court, conditioned that the appellee will pay to the party entitled to the same the salary, fees, emoluments and all moneys whatsoever received by the appellee by virtue or under color of office during his occupancy thereof. (Rev., s. 842; 1885, c. 406, s. 2; C. S. 884.)

§ 1-530. Relator inducted into office; duty.—If the judgment is rendered in favor of the person alleged to be entitled, he shall be entitled, after taking the oath of office and executing such official bond as may be required by law, to take upon himself the execution of the office. It is his duty, immediately thereafter, to demand of the defendant in the action all the books and papers in his custody, or within his power, belonging to the office from which he has been excluded. (Rev., ss. 843, 844; Code, ss. 611, 613; C. C. P., ss. 371, 373; C. S. 885.)

§ 1-531. Refusal to surrender official papers misdemeanor.—If a person against whom a judgment has been rendered in an action brought to recover a public office shall fail or refuse to turn over, on demand, to the person adjudged to be entitled to such office, all papers, documents and books belonging to such office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3601; Code, s. 612; C. C. P., 372; C. S. 886.)

§ 1-532. Action to recover property forfeited to state.—When any property, real or personal, is forfeited to the state, or to any officer for its use, an action for the recovery of such property, alleging the grounds of the forfeiture, may be brought by the proper officer in any superior court. (Rev., s. 845; Code, s. 621; C. C. P., s. 381; C. S. 887.)

Art. 42. Waste.

§ 1-533. Remedy and judgment.—Wrongs, remediable by the old action of waste, are subjects of action as other wrongs; and the judgment may be for damages, forfeiture of the estate of the party offending, and eviction from the premises. (Rev., s. 853; Code, s. 624; C. C. P., s. 383; C. S. 888.)

§ 1-534. For and against whom action lies.—In all cases of waste, an action lies in the superior court at the instance of him in whom the right is, against all persons committing the waste, as well tenant for term of life as tenant for term of years and guardians. (Rev., s. 854; Code, s. 625; R. C., c. 116, s. 1; 52 Hen. III, c. 23; 6 Edw. I, c. 5; 20 Edw. I, st. 2; 11 Hen. VI, c. 5; C. S. 889.)

§ 1-535. Tenant in possession liable.—Where a tenant for life or years grants his estate to another, and still continues in the possession of the lands, tenements, or hereditaments, an action lies against the said tenant for life or years. (Rev., s. 855; Code, s. 626; R. C., c. 116, s. 2; 11 Hen. VI, c. 5; C. S. 890.)

§ 1-536. Action by tenant against cotenant.—Where a joint tenant or a tenant in common commits waste, an action lies against him at the instance of his cotenant or joint tenant. (Rev., s. 856; Code, s. 627; R. C., c. 116, s. 4; 13 Edw. I, c. 22; C. S. 891.)

§ 1-537. Action by heirs.—Every heir may bring action for waste committed on lands, tenements, or hereditaments of his own inheritance, as well in the time of his ancestor as in his own. (Rev., s. 857; Code, s. 628; R. C., c. 116, s. 5; 6 Edw. I, c. 5; 20 Edw. I, st. 2; 11 Hen. VI, c. 5; C. S. 892.)

§ 1-538. Judgment for treble damages and possession.—In all cases of waste, when judgment is against the defendant, the court may give judgment for treble the amount of the damages assessed by the jury, and also that the plaintiff recover the place wasted, if the damages are not paid on or before a day to be named in the judgment. (Rev., s. 858; Code, s. 629; R. C., c. 116, s. 3; 6 Edw. I, c. 5; 20 Edw. I, st. 2; C. S. 893.)

Art. 43. Nuisance.

§ 1-539. Remedy for nuisance.—Injuries remediable by the old writ of nuisance are subjects of action as other injuries; and in such action there may be judgment for damages, or for the removal of the nuisance, or both. (Rev., s. 825; Code, s. 630; C. C. P., s. 387; C. S. 894.)

SUBCHAPTER XV. INCIDENTAL PROCEDURE IN CIVIL ACTIONS.

Art. 44. Compromise.

§ 1-540. By agreement receipt of less sum is discharge.—In all claims, or money demands, of whatever kind, and howsoever due, where an agreement is made and accepted for a less amount than that demanded or claimed to be due, in satisfaction thereof, the payment of the less amount according to such agreement in compromise of the whole is a full and complete discharge of the same. (Rev., s. 859; Code, s. 574; 1874-5, c. 178; C. S. 895.)

§ 1-541. Tender of judgment.—The defendant, at any time before the trial or verdict, may serve upon the plaintiff an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken against him for the sum or property, or to the effect therein specified, with costs. If the plaintiff accepts the offer, and gives notice thereof in writing within ten days, he may file the summons, complaint, and offer, with an affidavit of notice of acceptance, and the clerk must thereupon enter judgment accordingly. If the notice of acceptance is not given, the offer is deemed withdrawn, and cannot be given in evidence; and if the plaintiff fails to obtain a more favorable judgment he cannot recover costs, but must pay the defendant's costs from the time of the offer. If the defendant sets up a counterclaim in his answer to an amount greater than the plaintiff's claim, or sufficient to reduce the plaintiff's recovery below fifty dollars, then the plaintiff may serve upon the defendant an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken against him for the amount specified, or to allow the counterclaim to the amount specified, with costs. If the defendant accepts the offer, and gives notice thereof in writing within ten days, he may enter judgment as above for the amount specified, if the offer entitles him to judgment, or if the amount specified in the offer is allowed him in the trial of the action. If the notice of acceptance is not given, the offer is deemed withdrawn, and cannot be given in evidence; and if the defendant fails to recover a more favorable judgment, or to establish his counterclaim for a greater amount than is specified in the offer, he cannot recover costs, but must pay the plaintiff's costs from the time of the offer. (Rev., s. 860; Code, s. 573; C. C. P., s. 328; C. S. 896.)

§ 1-542. Conditional tender of judgment for damages.—In an action arising on contract, the defendant may, with his answer, serve upon the plaintiff an offer in writing, that if he fails in his defense, the damages be assessed at a specified sum; and if the plaintiff signifies his acceptance thereof in writing, ten days before the trial, and on the trial has a verdict, the damages shall be assessed accordingly. If the plaintiff does not accept the offer, he must prove his damages, as if it had not been made, and may not introduce it in evidence. If the damages assessed in his favor do not exceed the sum mentioned in the offer, the defendant shall recover his expenses incurred in consequence of any necessary preparation or defense in respect to the question of damages. This expense shall be ascertained at the trial. (Rev., ss. 861, 862; Code, ss. 575, 576; C. C. P., ss. 329, 330; C. S. 897.)

§ 1-543. Disclaimer of title in trespass; tender of judgment.—In actions of trespass upon real estate, the defendant in his answer may disclaim any title or claim to the lands on which the trespass is alleged by the complaint to be done, may allege that the trespass was by negligence or involuntary, and may make a tender or offer of sufficient amends for the trespass. If the plaintiff controverts such answer or a part thereof, and at the trial verdict is found for the defendant, or if the plaintiff is nonsuited, he is barred from the said action and all other suits concerning the same. (Rev., s. 863; Code, s. 577; Rev. Code, c. 31, s. 79; 1715, c. 2, s. 7; C. S. 898.)

Art. 45. Arbitration and Award.

§ 1-544. Agreement for arbitration.—Two or more parties may agree in writing to submit to arbitration, in conformity with the provisions of this article, any controversy existing between them at the time of the agreement to submit. Such an agreement shall be valid and enforceable, and neither party shall have the power to revoke the submission without the consent of the other party or parties to the submission save upon such grounds as exist in law or equity for the rescission or revocation of any contract. (1927, c. 94, s. 1.)

§ 1-545. Statement of questions in controversy.—The arbitration agreement must state the question or questions in controversy with sufficient definiteness to present one or more issues or questions upon which an award may be based. (1927, c. 94, s. 2.)

§ 1-546. "Court" defined.—The term "court" when used in this article means a court having jurisdiction of the parties and of the subject matter. (1927, c. 94, s. 3.)

§ 1-547. Cases where court may appoint arbitrator; number of arbitrators.—Upon the application in writing of any party to the arbitration agreement and upon notice to the other parties thereto, the court shall appoint an arbitrator or arbitrators in any of the following cases:

(a) When the arbitration agreement does not prescribe a method for the appointment of arbitrators, in which case the arbitration shall be by three arbitrators.

(b) When the arbitration agreement does prescribe a method for the appointment of arbitrators, and the arbitrators, or any of them, have not been appointed and the time within which they should have been appointed has expired.

(c) When any arbitrator fails or is otherwise unable to act, and his successor has not been appointed in the manner in which he was appointed.

Arbitrators appointed by the court shall have the same power as though their appointment had been made in accordance with the agreement to arbitrate. (1927, c. 94, s. 4.)

§ 1-548. Application in writing; hearing.—Any application made under authority of this article shall be made in writing and heard in a summary way in the manner and upon the notice provided by law or rules of court for the making and hearing of motions, except as otherwise herein expressly provided. (1927, c. 94, s. 5.)

§ 1-549. Notice of time and place of hearing.—The arbitrators shall appoint a time and place for the hearing, and notify the parties thereof, and may adjourn the hearing from time to time as may be necessary, and, on application of either party, and for good cause, may postpone the hearing to a time not extending beyond the date fixed for making the award. (1927, c. 94, s. 6.)

§ 1-550. Hearing if party fails to appear.—If any party neglects to appear before the arbitrators after reasonable notice the arbitrators may nevertheless proceed to hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence which is produced before them. (1927, c. 94, s. 7.)

§ 1-551. Award within sixty days.—If the time within which the award shall be made is not fixed in the arbitration agreement, the award must be made within sixty days from the time of the appointment of the arbitrators, and an award made after the lapse of sixty days shall have no legal effect unless the parties extend the time in which said award may be made, which extension or ratification shall be in writing. (1927, c. 94, s. 8.)

§ 1-552. Representation before arbitrators.—No one other than a party to said arbitration, or a person regularly employed by such party for other purposes, or a practicing attorney-at-law, shall be permitted by the arbitrator or arbitrators to represent before him or them any party to the arbitration. (1927, c. 94, s. 9.)

§ 1-553. Requirement of attendance of witnesses.—The arbitrator or arbitrators, or a majority of them, may require any person to attend before him or them as a witness, and to bring with him any book or writing or other evidence.

The fees for such attendance shall be the same as the fees of witnesses in the Superior Court.

Subpœnas shall issue in the name of the arbitrator or arbitrators, or a majority of them, and shall be signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators, or a majority of them, and shall be directed to the person and shall be served in the same manner as subpœnas to testify before a court of record in this State; if any person so summoned to testify shall refuse or neglect to obey such subpœnas, upon petition the court may compel the attendance of such person before the said arbitrator or arbitrators, or punish said person for contempt in the same manner now provided for the attendance of witnesses or the punishment of them in the courts of this State. (1927, c. 94, s. 10.)

§ 1-554. Depositions. — Depositions may be taken with or without a commission in the same manner and for the same reasons as provided by law for the taking of depositions in suits pending in the courts of record in this State. (1927, c. 94, s. 11.)

§ 1-555. Orders for preservation of property. —At any time before final determination of the arbitration the court may upon application of a party to the submission make such order or decree or take such proceeding as it may deem necessary for the preservation of the property or for securing satisfaction of the award. (1927, c. 94, s. 12.)

§ 1-556. Questions of law submitted to court; form of award.—The arbitrators may, on their own motion, and shall by request of a party to the arbitration,

(a) At any stage of the proceedings submit any question of law arising in the course of the hearing for the opinion of the court, stating the facts upon which the question arises, and such opinion when given shall bind the arbitrators in the making of their award:

(b) State their final award in the form of a conclusion of fact for the opinion of the court on the questions of law arising on the hearing. (1927, c. 94, s. 13.)

§ 1-557. Award in writing and signed by arbitrators.—The award of the arbitrators, or a majority of them, shall be drawn up in writing and signed by the arbitrators or a majority of them; the award shall definitely deal with all matters of difference in the submission requiring settlement, but the arbitrators may, in their discretion, first make a partial award which shall be enforceable in the same manner as the final award; upon the making of an award, the arbitrators shall deliver a true copy thereof to each of the parties thereto, or their attorneys, without delay. (1927, c. 94, s. 14.)

§ 1-558. Time for application for confirmation. —At any time within three months after the award is made, unless the parties shall extend the time in writing, any party to the arbitration may apply to the court for an order confirming the award, and the court shall grant such an order unless the award is vacated, modified, or corrected, as provided in §§ 1-559 and 1-560. Notice in writing of the motion must be served upon the adverse party, or his attorney, five days before the hearing thereof. (1927, c. 94, s. 15.)

§ 1-559. Order vacating award. — In any of the following cases the court shall after notice and hearing make an order vacating the award, upon the application of any party to the arbitration:

(a) Where the award was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means.

(b) Where there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators, or either of them.

(c) Where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct, in refusing to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy; or of any other misbehavior, by which the rights of any party have been prejudiced.

(d) Where the arbitrators exceeded their powers or so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made.

Where an award is vacated and the time, within which the agreement required the award to be made, has not expired, the court may, in its discretion, direct a rehearing by the arbitrators. (1927, c. 94, s. 16.)

§ 1-560. Order modifying or correcting award. —In any of the following cases the court shall, after notice and hearing make an order modifying or correcting the award, upon the application of any party to the arbitration:

(a) Where there was an evident miscalculation of figures, or an evident mistake in the description of any person, thing or property, referred to in the award.

(b) Where the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them.

(c) Where the award is imperfect in a matter of form, not affecting the merits of the controversy.

The order must modify and correct the award, so as to effect the intent thereof. (1927, c. 94, s. 17.)

§ 1-561. Notice of motion to vacate, modify or correct award within three months.—Notice of a motion to vacate, modify or correct an award shall be served upon the adverse party, or his attorney, within three months after an award is filed or delivered, as prescribed by law for service of notice of a motion in an action. For the purposes of the motion any judge who might make an order to stay the proceedings, in an action brought in the same court, may make an order to be served with the notice of motion, staying the proceedings of the adverse party to enforce the award. (1927, c. 94, s. 18.)

§ 1-562. Judgment or decree entered. — Upon the granting of an order, confirming, modifying, correcting or vacating an award, judgment or decree shall be entered in conformity therewith. (1927, c. 94, s. 19.)

§ 1-563. Papers to be filed on motion relating to award.—The party moving for an order confirming, modifying, correcting or vacating an award, shall at the time such motion is filed with the clerk, file, unless the same have theretofore been filed, the following papers with the clerk:

(a) The written contract or a verified copy thereof containing the agreement for the submission; the selection or appointment of the arbitrator or arbitrators, and each written extension of the time, if any within which to make the award.

(b) The award.

(c) Every notice, affidavit and other paper used upon an application to confirm, modify, correct or vacate the award, and each order made upon such an application.

The judgment or decree shall be entered (or docketed) as if it were rendered in an action. (1927, c. 94, s. 20.)

§ 1-564. Force and effect of judgment or decree.—The judgment or decree so entered (or docketed) shall have the same force and effect, in all respects, as, and be subject to all the provisions of law relating to a judgment or decree; and it may be enforced, as if it had been rendered in the court in which it is entered. (1927, c. 94, s. 21.)

§ 1-565. Appeal.—An appeal may be taken from the final judgment or decree entered by the court. (1927, c. 94, s. 22.)

§ 1-566. Uniformity of interpretation — Interpretation of article.—This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1927, c. 94, s. 23.)

§ 1-567. Citation of article.—This article may be cited as the uniform arbitration act. (1927, c. 94, s. 24.)

Art. 46. Examination of Parties.

§ 1-568. Action for discovery abolished.—No action to obtain discovery under oath, in aid of the prosecution or defense of another action, shall be allowed, nor shall any examination of a party be had on behalf of the adverse party, except in the manner prescribed by this article. (Rev., s. 864; Code, s. 579; C. C. P., s. 332; C. S. 899.)

§ 1-569. Adverse party examined.—A party to an action may be examined as a witness at the instance of any adverse party, and for that purpose may be compelled, in the same manner and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness, to testify, either at the trial or conditionally or upon commission. Where a corporation is a party to the action, this examination may be made of any of its officers or agents. (Rev., s. 865; Code, s. 580; C. C. P., s. 333; 1907, c. 799; C. S. 900.)

§ 1-570. Before trial in his own county.—The examination, instead of being had at the trial, as provided in § 1-569, may be had at any time before the trial, at the option of the party claiming it, before a judge, commissioner duly appointed to take depositions, or clerk of the court, on a previous notice to the party to be examined, and any other adverse party, of at least five days, unless for good cause shown the judge or court orders otherwise. (Rev., s. 866; Code, s. 581; 1893, c. 114; C. C. P., s. 334; 1899, c. 65, s. 1; C. S. 901.)

§ 1-571. Compelling attendance of party for examination before trial.—The party to be examined, as provided in § 1-570, may be compelled to attend in the same manner as a witness who is to be examined conditionally; but he shall not be compelled to attend in any county other than that of his residence or where he may be served with a summons for his attendance. The examination shall be taken and filed by the judge, clerk or commissioner, as in case of witnesses examined conditionally, and may be read by either party on the trial. (Rev., ss. 866, 867; Code, ss. 581, 582; C. C. P., ss. 334, 335; 1899, c. 65, s. 2; C. S. 902.)

§ 1-572. Party's refusal to testify; penalty.—If a party refuses to attend and testify, as provided in the preceding sections, he may be punished as for a contempt, and his pleadings may be stricken out. (Rev., s. 869; Code, s. 584; C. C. P., s. 337; C. S. 903.)

§ 1-573. Rebuttal of party's testimony.—The examination of the party thus taken may be rebutted by adverse testimony. (Rev., s. 868; Code, s. 583; C. C. P., s. 336; C. S. 904.)

§ 1-574. Irresponsive answers may be met by party's own testimony.—A party examined by an adverse party, as provided in this article, may be examined in his own behalf, subject to the same rules of examination as other witnesses. But if he testifies to any new matter, not responsive to the inquiries put to him by the adverse party, or necessary to explain or qualify his answers thereto or to discharge himself when his answers would charge himself, the adverse party may offer himself and must be received as a witness in his own behalf in respect to the new matter, subject to the same rules of examination as other witnesses. (Rev., s. 870; Code, ss. 583, 585; C. C. P., ss. 336, 338; C. S. 905.)

§ 1-575. Real party in interest examined.—A person for whose immediate benefit the action is prosecuted or defended, though not a party to the action, may be examined as a witness, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules of examination, as if he was named as a party. (Rev., s. 871; Code, s. 586; C. C. P., s. 339; C. S. 906.)

§ 1-576. Examination of coplaintiff or codefendant.—A party may be examined on behalf of his coplaintiff or codefendant as to any matter in which he is not jointly interested or liable with such coplaintiff or codefendant, and as to which a separate and not joint verdict or judgment can be rendered. He may be compelled to attend in the same manner as at the instance of an adverse party; but the examination thus taken cannot be used in behalf of the party examined. When one of several plaintiffs or defendants who are joint contractors, or are united in interest, is examined by the adverse party, the other of such plaintiffs or defendants may offer himself, and must be received, as a witness to the same cause of action or defense. (Rev., s. 872; Code, s. 587; C. C. P., s. 340; C. S. 907.)

Art. 47. Motions and Orders.

§ 1-577. Definition of order.—Every direction of a court or judge, made or entered in writing, and not included in a judgment, is an order. (Rev., s. 873; Code, s. 594; C. C. P., ss. 344, 345; C. S. 908.)

§ 1-578. Motions; when and where made.—An application for an order is a motion. Motions may be made to a clerk of a superior court, or to a judge out of court, except for a new trial on the merits. Motions must be made within the district in which the action is triable. A motion to vacate or modify a provisional remedy, and an appeal from an order allowing a provisional remedy, have preference over all other motions. (Rev., s. 874; Code, s. 594; C. C. P., ss. 344, 345; C. S. 909.)

§ 1-579. Affidavit for or against, compelled.—When a party intends to make or oppose a motion in a court of record, and it is necessary for him to have the affidavit of any person who has refused to make it, the court may, by order, appoint a referee to take the affidavit or deposition of such person. The person may be subpoenaed and compelled to attend and make an affidavit before such referee, as before a referee to whom an issue is referred for trial. (Rev., s. 875; Code, s. 594; C. C. P., ss. 344, 345; C. S. 910.)

§ 1-580. Motions determined in ten days.—When a motion is made in a cause or proceeding in any of the courts to obtain an injunction order, order of arrest, or warrant of attachment, granted in any such case or proceeding, or to vacate or modify the same, it is the duty of the judge before whom the motion is made to render his decision within ten days after the day on which the motion was submitted to him for decision. (Rev., s. 876; Code, s. 594; C. C. P., ss. 344, 345; C. S. 911.)

§ 1-581. Notice of motion.—When notice of a motion is necessary, it must be served ten days before the time appointed for the hearing; but the court or judge may, by an order to show cause, prescribe a shorter time. (Rev., s. 877; Code, s. 595; C. C. P., s. 346; C. S. 912.)

§ 1-582. Orders without notice, vacated.—An order made out of court, without notice to the adverse party, may be vacated or modified without notice by the judge who made it, or may be vacated or modified on notice, in the manner in which other motions are made. (Rev., s. 514; Code, s. 546; C. C. P., s. 297; C. S. 913.)

§ 1-583. Orders by clerk on motion to remove; right of appeal; notice.—All motions to remove as a matter of right shall be made before the clerk, who is authorized to make all necessary orders, and an appeal shall lie from such order upon such motion to the judge at chambers, or at the next term, who shall hear and pass upon such motion de novo. But no such motion shall be heard until ten days notice thereof shall first have been given to the opposing party or his attorney. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 15; 1925, c. 282, s. 1; C. S. 913(a).)

§ 1-584. Motions to remove to federal court; notice.—Motions to remove to the federal court shall be made before the clerk, and an appeal shall lie from his order to the judge at chambers, or at the next term, who shall hear and pass upon such motion de novo. But no such motion shall be heard until ten days notice thereof shall first have been given to the opposing party or his attorney. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 16; 1925, c. 282, s. 2; C. S. 913(b).)

Art. 48. Notices.

§ 1-585. Form and service.—All notices must be in writing, and notices and other papers may be served on the party or his attorney personally, where not otherwise provided in this chapter. (Rev., ss. 878, 879; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 914.)

§ 1-586. Service upon attorney.—Notice upon an attorney may be served during his absence from his office, by leaving a copy of the paper with his clerk, or a person having charge of the office; or, when there is no person in the office, by leaving it, between the hours of six a. m. and nine p. m., in a conspicuous place in the office; or, if it is not open so as to admit of such service, then by leaving it at the attorney's residence with some person of suitable age and discretion. (Rev., s. 880; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 915.)

§ 1-587. Service upon a party.—Notice upon a party may be served by leaving a copy of the paper at his residence, between the hours of six a. m. and nine p. m., with some person of suitable age and discretion. (Rev., s. 881; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 916.)

§ 1-588. Service by publication.—Notice upon a person who cannot be found after due diligence, or who is not a resident of this state, may be served by its publication once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county from which the notice is issued; and if no newspaper is published therein, then in some newspaper published within the judicial district; and the proof of service is the same as is required by law in the case of service of summons by publication. (Rev., s. 882; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 917.)

§ 1-589. Service by telephone or registered mail on witnesses and jurors.—Sheriffs, constables and other officers charged with service of such process may serve subpoenas for witnesses and summonses for jurors by telephone or by registered mail, and such service shall be valid and binding on the person served. When such process is served by telephone the return of the officer serving it shall state it is served by telephone. When served by registered mail a copy shall be mailed and a written receipt demanded and such receipt shall be filed with the return and be a necessary part thereof. (1915, c. 48; 1925, c. 98; C. S. 918.)

§ 1-590. Subpoena, service and signature. — Service of a subpoena for witnesses may be made by a sheriff, coroner or constable, and proved by the return of such officer, or the service may be made by any person not a party to the action, and proved by his oath. A subpœna for witnesses need not be signed by the clerk of the court, and is sufficient if subscribed by the party or by his attorney. (Rev., s. 884; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 919.)

§ 1-591. Application of this article.—This article does not apply to the service of a summons, or other process (except summonses for jurors, as provided in § 1-589), or of any paper to bring a party into contempt. (Rev., s. 885; Code, s. 597; C. C. P., ss. 349, 353; C. S. 920.)

§ 1-592. Officer's return evidence of service.—When a notice issues to the sheriff, his return thereon that the same has been executed is sufficient evidence of its service. (Rev., ss. 886, 1529; Code, s. 940; R. C., c. 31, s. 123; 1799, c. 537; C. S. 921.)

Art. 49. Time.

§ 1-593. How computed. — The time within which an act is to be done, as provided by law, shall be computed by excluding the first and including the last day. If the last day is Sunday or a legal holiday, it must be excluded. (Rev., s. 887; Code, s. 596; C. C. P., s. 348; C. S. 922.)

§ 1-594. Computation in publication.—The time for publication of legal notices shall be computed so as to exclude the first day of publication and include the day on which the act or event of which notice is given is to happen, or which completes the full period required for publication. (Rev., s. 888; Code, s. 602; C. C. P., s. 359; C. S. 923.)

Art. 50. General Provisions as to Legal Advertising.

§ 1-595. Advertisement of public sales.—When a statute or written instrument stipulates that an advertisement of a sale shall be made for any certain number of weeks, a publication once a week for the number of weeks so indicated is a sufficient compliance with the requirement, unless contrary provision is expressly made by the terms of the instrument. (1909, cc. 794, 875; C. S. 924.)

§ 1-596. Charges for legal advertising. — The publication of all advertising required by law to be made in newspapers in this state shall be paid for at not to exceed the local commercial rate of the newspaper selected. Any public or municipal officer of board created by or existing under the laws of this state that is now or may hereafter be authorized by law to enter into contracts for the publication of legal advertisements is hereby authorized to pay therefor prices not exceeding said rates. Nothing herein shall apply to contracts or agreements for legal advertising in this state existing at the time this section takes effect.

No newspaper in this state shall accept or print any legal advertising until said newspaper shall have first filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which it is published a sworn statement of its current commercial rate for the several classes of advertising regularly carried by said publication, and any owner or manager of a newspaper violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1919, c. 45, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2586.)

§ 1-597. Regulations for newspaper publication of legal notices, advertisements, etc.—Whenever a notice or any other paper, document or legal advertisement of any kind or description shall be authorized or required by any of the laws of the state of North Carolina, heretofore or hereafter enacted, or by any order or judgment of any court of this state to be published or advertised in a newspaper, such publication, advertisement or notice shall be of no force and effect unless it shall be published in a newspaper with a general circulation to actual paid subscribers which newspaper at the time of such publication, advertisement or notice, shall have been admitted to the United States mails as second class matter in the county or political subdivision where such publication, advertisement or notice is required to be published, and which shall have been regularly and continuously issued in the county in which the publication, advertisement or notice is authorized or required to be published, at least one day in each calendar week for at least twenty-five of the twenty-six consecutive weeks immediately preceding the date of the first publication of such advertisement, publication or notice; provided that in the event that a newspaper otherwise meeting the qualifications and having the characteristics prescribed by §§ 1-597 to 1-599, should fail for a period not exceeding four weeks in any calendar year to publish one or more of its issues such newspaper shall nevertheless be deemed to have complied with the requirements of regularity and continuity of publication prescribed herein. Provided further, that where any city or town is located in two or more adjoining counties, any newspaper published in such city or town shall, for the purposes of §§ 1-597 to 1-599, be deemed to be admitted to the mails, issued and published in all such counties in which such town or city of publication is located, and every publication, advertisement or notice required to be published in any such city or town or in any of the counties where such city or town is located shall be valid if published in a newspaper published, issued and admitted to the mails anywhere within any such city or town, regardless of whether the newspaper's plant or the post office where the newspaper is admitted to the mails is in such county or not, if the newspaper otherwise meets the qualifications and requirements of §§ 1-597 to 1-599. This provision shall be retroactive to May first, one thousand nine hundred and forty, and all publications, advertisements and notices published in accordance with this provision since May first, one thousand nine hundred and forty, are hereby validated. (1939, c. 170, s. 1; 1941, c. 96.)

§ 1-598. Annual statements filed with clerk; violation a misdemeanor.—Every newspaper in this state which shall publish any such legal notice or other legal advertisement, as mentioned in § 1-597, shall, in each calendar year, file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which it is published a sworn statement that such newspaper is a newspaper meeting the qualifications of §§ 1-597 to 1-599, which sworn statement, when filed, shall be prima facie evidence of the qualification of such newspaper under §§ 1-597 to 1-599 during such calendar year, and any such legal notice or other legal advertisement published in any such newspaper filing such sworn statement as herein provided shall be valid; and any owner, publisher or manager of a newspaper who shall violate the provisions of this section, or any person who shall make or file a statement as required by this section which shall be false at the time of such statement, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1939, c. 170, s. 1½.)

§ 1-599. Application of two preceding sections. —The provisions of §§ 1-597 to 1-599 shall not apply in counties wherein only one newspaper is published, although it may not be a newspaper having the qualifications prescribed by § 1-597; nor shall the provisions of §§ 1-597 to 1-599 apply in any county wherein none of the newspapers published in such county has the qualifications and characteristics prescribed by § 1-597. (1939, c. 170, ss. 2, 4½; 1941, c. 49.)

Art. 1. The Office.

§ 2-1. Judge of probate abolished; clerk acts as judge.—The office of probate judge is abolished, and the duties heretofore pertaining to clerks of the superior court as judges of probate shall be performed by the clerks of the superior court as clerks of said court. (Rev., s. 889; Code, s. 102; C. S. 925.)

§ 2-2. Election; term of office.—A clerk of the superior court for each county shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at the time and in the manner prescribed by law for the election of members of the general assembly. Clerks of the superior court shall hold office for four years. (Rev., s. 890; Const., Art. 4, ss. 16, 17; C. S. 926.)

§ 2-3. Clerk's bond.—At the first meeting of the board of commissioners of each county after the election or appointment of any clerk of a superior court it is the duty of the clerk to deliver to such commissioners a bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by them, in a penalty of not less than ten thousand dollars, and not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, payable to the state of North Carolina, and with a condition to be void if he shall account for and pay over, according to law, all moneys and effects which have come or may come into his hands, by virtue or color of his office, or under an order or decree of a judge, even though such order or decree be void for want of jurisdiction or other irregularities, and shall diligently preserve and take care of all books, records, papers and property which have come or may come into his possession, by virtue or color of his office, and shall in all things faithfully perform the duties of his office as they are or thereafter shall be prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 295; Code, s. 72; C. C. P., s. 137; 1889, c. 7; 1891, c. 385; 1895, cc. 270, 271; 1899, c. 54, s. 52; 1901, c. 32; 1903, c. 747; 1931, c. 170; C. S. 927.)

Local Modification.—Camden, Hyde, Tyrrell: 1939, c. 30; Carteret, Currituck, Pamlico: C. S. 929; Chowan: 1939, c. 299; Jones: 1925, c. 10; Mecklenburg: 1925, c. 184; Washington: Pub. Loc. 1935, c. 6.

§ 2-4. Clerk's bond; approval, acknowledgments and custody.—The approval of said bond by the board of commissioners, or a majority of them, shall be recorded by their clerk. The said bond shall be acknowledged by the parties thereto, or proved by a subscribing witness, before the clerk of said board of commissioners, or their presiding officer, registered in the register's office in a separate book to be kept by him for the registration of official bonds; and the original, with the approval thereof endorsed, deposited with the register for safe keeping. The like remedies shall be had upon said bond as are or may be given by law on official bonds. (Rev., s. 296; Code, s. 73; C. C. P., s. 138; C. S. 928.)

§ 2-5. Oath of office.—The clerks of the superior court, before entering on the duties of their office, shall take and subscribe before some officer authorized by law to administer an oath, the oaths prescribed by law, and file such oaths with the register of deeds for the county. (Rev., 891; Code, s. 74; C. C. P., s. 139; C. S. 930.)

§ 2-6. Vacancy; judge of district fills.—1. Otherwise than by expiration. In case the office of clerk of a superior court for a county becomes vacant otherwise than by the expiration of the term, and in case of a failure by the people to elect, the judge of the superior court for the county shall appoint to fill the vacancy until an election can be regularly held.

2. Failure to qualify. In case any clerk fails to give bond and qualify as required by law, the presiding officer of the board of commissioners of his county shall immediately inform the resident judge of the judicial district thereof, who shall thereupon declare the office vacant and fill the same, and the appointee shall give bond and qualify.

3. Resignations. Any clerk of the superior court may resign his office to the judge of the superior court residing in the district in which is situated the county of which he is clerk, and said judge shall fill the vacancy. (Rev., ss. 892, 893, 895; Code, ss. 76, 78; C. C. P., s. 140; Const., Art. 4, s. 29; C. S. 931.)

§ 2-7. Removal for cause.—Upon the conviction of any clerk of the superior court of an infamous crime, or of corruption and malpractice in office, he shall be removed from office, and he shall be disqualified from holding or enjoying any office of honor, trust or profit under this state. (Rev., s. 894; Code, s. 123; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 53; C. S. 932.)

§ 2-8. Office and equipment furnished.—The requisite stationery, records, furniture and filing cases and devices for official use must be furnished to the clerk by the board of commissioners; and to each of such books there must be attached an alphabetical index securely bound in the volume, referring to the entries therein by the page of the book, unless there is a cross-index of such book required by law to be kept. These books must, at all proper times, be open to the inspection of any person. (Rev., s. 896; Code, ss. 82, 84, 113; C. C. P., s. 428; C. S. 933.)

§ 2-9. Solicitor to examine and report on office.—The Solicitor of the Judicial District shall inspect the office of the clerk as often as he shall deem it necessary, and shall make written report of his inspection to the court. (Rev., s. 897; Code, s. 88; C. C. P., s. 147; 1917, c. 81, s. 1; 1935, c. 423; C. S. 934.)

Art. 2. Assistant Clerks.

§ 2-10. Appointment; oath; powers and jurisdiction; responsibility of clerks.—Each clerk of the superior court, by and with the written consent and approval of the superior court judge resident in his district, may appoint an assistant clerk of the superior court, who before entering upon his duties shall take and subscribe the oath prescribed for clerks: Provided, that no more than one such assistant clerk shall hold office in any county at one time. Upon compliance with the provisions of this article such assistant clerk shall be as fully authorized and empowered to perform all the duties and functions of the office of clerk of the superior court as the clerk himself, and all the acts, orders, and judgments of such assistant clerk shall be entitled to the same faith and credit as those of such clerk. Such assistant clerks shall be subject in all respects to all laws which apply to the clerks. The several clerks of the superior court shall be held responsible for the acts of their assistant clerks, and the official bonds of such clerks as now provided by law shall be written to and shall cover the acts of their assistant clerks. (1921, c. 32, s. 1; C. S. 934(a).)

Local Modification.—Forsyth: 1937, c. 331; Guilford: 1937, c. 331; 1941, c. 91.

§ 2-11. Certificate of appointment; confirmation; revocation of appointment; compensation.—Any clerk of the superior court desiring to appoint such an assistant clerk shall present a formal written certificate of such appointment to the superior court judge residing in his district, and such judge, if he concurs in and approves such appointment, shall in writing enter his consent and approval upon such certificate and confirm such appointment. Said certificate of appointment, and approval of the judge, together with the oath subscribed by the appointee, shall thereupon be entered in full upon the minute docket of the court, and shall be recorded and cross-indexed in the office of the register of deeds for such county. The appointment of any such assistant clerk may be revoked at any time by the clerk who appointed him or by the superior court judge resident in the district, by the entry of the word "revoked" and the date thereof, with the signature of such clerk or judge, upon the margin of the records of such appointment in the offices of the clerk of the superior court and the register of deeds; and all such appointments shall expire by limitation when the clerk making same ceases to hold office. Nothing in this article shall increase the fees or compensation now allowed by law to the clerks or deputy clerks of the superior court of the several counties of the state. (1921, c. 32, s. 2; C. S. 934(b).)

§ 2-12. Clerks not relieved from duties; deputies.—This article shall not in anywise excuse or relieve the clerk of the superior court from giving to the performance of his duties the same time, care, and attention as is now required of such clerks by law, nor shall it change or amend the present laws with reference to deputy clerks of the superior court: Provided, that one person may be appointed both as assistant clerk and as deputy. (1921, c. 32, s. 3; C. S. 934(c).)

Art. 3. Deputies.

§ 2-13. Appointment.—Clerks of the superior court may appoint deputies, who shall take and subscribe the oath prescribed for clerks. (Rev., s. 898; Code, s. 75; R. C., c. 19, s. 15; 1777, c. 115, s. 86; C. S. 935.)

§ 2-14. Record of appointment and discharge; copies.—Each clerk of a superior court shall make a record of the appointment of each deputy he may appoint, on the special proceedings docket of his court, giving the name of such appointee and the date of such appointment, and make a cross-index of the same, and shall furnish to the register of deeds of his county a transcript of such record; and such register of deeds shall record the same in the records of deeds in his office and make a cross-index thereof on the general index in his office. When any such deputy clerk is removed from his office the clerk of the superior court by whom he was appointed shall write on the margin of the record of such appointment in his office, and on the margin of the record of such appointment in the office of the register of deeds, the word "Revoked" and the date of such revocation, and sign his name thereto. A duly certified copy of such appointment and of such revocation, under the hand and official seal of the register of deeds, shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the regularity of such appointment and revocation, and shall be admitted as evidence in all the courts. (Rev., s. 899; 1899, c. 235, s. 3; C. S. 936.)

§ 2-15. Responsibility of clerk for deputy's acts.—The several clerks of the superior court shall be held responsible for the acts of their deputies. Deputies shall be subject in all respects to all laws which apply to the clerks. (Rev., s. 900; 1899, c. 235, s. 2; C. S. 937.)

Art. 4. Powers and Duties.

§ 2-16. Powers enumerated.—Every clerk has power—

1. To issue subpœnas to compel the attendance of any witness residing or being in the state, or to compel the production of any bond or paper, material to any inquiry pending in his court.
2. To administer oaths and take acknowledgments, whenever necessary, in the exercise of the powers and duties of his office.
3. To issue commissions to take the testimony of any witness within or without this state.
4. To issue citations and orders to show cause to parties in all matters cognizable in his court, and to compel the appearance of such parties.
5. To enforce all lawful orders and decrees, by execution or otherwise, against those who fail to comply therewith or to execute lawful process. Process may be issued by the clerk, to be executed in any county of the state, and to be returned before him.
6. To exemplify, under seal of his court, all transcripts of deeds, papers or proceedings therein, which shall be received in evidence in all the courts of the state.
7. To preserve order in his court and to punish contempts.
8. To adjourn any proceeding pending before him from time to time.
9. To open, vacate, modify, set aside, or enter as of a former time, decrees or orders of his court, in the same manner as courts of general jurisdiction.
10. To enter judgment in any suit pending in his court in the following instances: judgment of voluntary nonsuit in any case where judgment is permitted by law; and judgment in any suit by consent of parties.
11. To award costs and disbursements as prescribed by law, to be paid personally, or out of the estate or fund, in any proceeding before him.
12. To compel the return to his office by each justice of the peace, on the expiration of the term of office of such justice, or, if the justice be dead, by his personal representative, of all records, papers, dockets and books held by such justice by virtue or color of his office, and to deliver the same to the successor in office of such justice.
13. To take proof of deeds, bills of sale, official bonds, letters of attorney, or other instruments permitted or required by law to be registered.

14. To take proof of wills and grant letters testamentary and of administration.

15. To revoke letters testamentary and of administration.

16. To appoint and remove guardians of infants, idiots, inebriates and lunatics.

17. To audit the accounts of executors, administrators, collectors, receivers, commissioners and guardians.

18. To exercise jurisdiction conferred on him in every other case prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 901; Code, ss. 103, 108; C. C. P., ss. 417, 418, 442; 1901, c. 614, s. 2; 1919, c. 140; C. S. 938.)

§ 2-17. Disqualification to act.—No clerk can act as such in relation to any estate, proceeding or civil action—

1. If he has, or claims to have, an interest by distribution, by will, or as creditor, or otherwise.

2. If he is so related to any person having or claiming such interest that he would, by reason of such relationship, be disqualified as a juror; but the disqualification on this ground ceases unless the objection is made at the first hearing of the matter before him.

3. If he or his wife is a party or a subscribing witness to any deed of conveyance, testamentary paper or nuncupative will; but this disqualification ceases when such deed, testamentary paper, or will has been finally admitted to or refused probate by another clerk, or before the judge of the superior court.

4. If he or his wife is named as executor or trustee in any testamentary or other paper; but this disqualification ceases when the will or other paper is finally admitted to or refused probate by another clerk, or before the judge of the superior court.

5. If he shall renounce the executorship and endorse the same on the will or on some paper attached thereto, before it is propounded for probate, in which case the renunciation must be recorded with the will if admitted to probate. (Rev., s. 902; Code, s. 104; C. C. P., s. 419; 1871-2, c. 196; 1935, c. 110, s. 1; C. S. 939.)

§ 2-18. Prior orders and judgments validated.—In all cases where the Clerk was disqualified to act in relation to a civil action, in which the procedure as prescribed and set out by §§ 2-19, 2-20 and 2-21 was followed, all Orders and Judgments rendered in such civil actions by the Judge or other Clerk are hereby validated as fully and to the same extent as if this section had at such time been in force; Provided, this section shall not apply in such cases if an action has prior to March 20, 1935, been instituted attacking such Order or Judgment. (1935, c. 110, s. 3.)

§ 2-19. Waiver of disqualification.—The parties may waive the disqualification specified in subdivisions one, two, three and five of section 2-17 and upon filing in the office such waiver in writing, the clerk shall act as in other cases. (Rev., s. 903; Code, s. 105; C. C. P., s. 420; C. S. 940.)

§ 2-20. Disqualification unwaived; cause removed or judge acts.—When any of the disqualifications specified in this chapter exist, and there is no waiver thereof, or when the disqualification does not permit of waiver, any party in interest may apply to the judge of the district or to the judge holding the courts of such district for an order to remove the proceedings to the clerk of the superior court of an adjoining county in the same district; or may apply to the judge to make and render either in vacation or term time all necessary orders and judgments in any proceeding where the clerk is disqualified, and the judge in such cases is hereby authorized and empowered to make and render any and all necessary orders and judgments as if he had the same original jurisdiction as the clerk over such proceeding. (Rev., s. 904; Code, s. 106; C. C. P., s. 421; 1913, c. 70, s. 1; C. S. 941.)

§ 2-21. Disqualification at time of election; judge acts.—In all cases where the clerk of the superior court is executor, administrator, collector or guardian of any estate at the time of his election to office, in order to enable him to settle such estate, the judge of the superior court mentioned in the preceding section is empowered to make such orders as may be necessary in the settlement of the estate; may audit the accounts or appoint a commissioner to audit the accounts of such executor or administrator, and report to either of said judges for his approval, and when the accounts are so approved, it is his duty to order the proper record to be made by the clerk, and the accounts to be filed in court. (Rev., s. 905; Code, s. 107; 1871-2, c. 197; C. S. 942.)

§ 2-22. Custody of records and property of office.—1. Receipt from Predecessor. — Immediately after he has given bond and qualified, the clerk shall receive from the late clerk of the superior court all the records, books, papers, moneys and property of his office, and give receipts for the same, and if any clerk refuses or fails within a reasonable time after demand to deliver such records, books, papers, moneys and property, he is liable on his official bond for the value thereof.

2. Transfer to Successor; Penalty.—Upon going out of office for any reason, any clerk of the superior, inferior, or criminal court shall transfer and deliver to his successor (or to such person, before his successor in office may be appointed, as the court may designate) all records, documents, papers, and money belonging to the office. And the judge appointing any clerk to a vacancy in the clerkship of the superior court may give to such person an order for the delivery to him, by the person having the custody thereof, of the records, documents, papers and moneys belonging to the office, and he shall deliver the same in obedience to such order. In case any clerk going out of office as aforesaid, or other person having the custody of such records, documents, papers, and money as aforesaid, fails to transfer and deliver them as herein directed, he shall forfeit and pay to the state one thousand dollars, which shall be sued for by the prosecuting officer of that court. (Rev., ss. 906, 907; Code, ss. 81, 124; C. C. P., s. 142; R. C., c. 19, s. 14; C. S. 943.)

§ 2-23. Unperformed duties of outgoing clerk.—1. Performance Secured. — When, upon the death or resignation, removal from office, or at the expiration of his term of office, any clerk has failed to discharge any of the duties of his office, the court, if practicable, shall cause the same to be performed by another person, who shall receive for such services, and as a compensation therefor, the fees allowed by law to the clerk.

2. Liability on Outgoing Clerk's Bond.—Such portion thereof as may be paid by the county may be recovered by the county, by suit on the official bond of the defaulting clerk, to be brought on the relation of the board of commissioners of the county. (Rev., s. 908; Code, s. 87; R. C., c. 19, s. 19; 1844, c. 5, s. 6; C. S. 944.)

§ 2-24. Location of and attendance at office.—The clerk shall have an office in the courthouse or other place provided by the board of commissioners, in the county town of his county. He shall give due attendance, in person or by deputy, at his office daily, Sundays and holidays excepted, from nine o'clock a. m. to three o'clock p. m., and longer when necessary for the dispatch of business; and personally every Monday for the transaction of probate business, and on each succeeding day till such matters are disposed of; and upon his failure to do so, unless caused by sickness or other urgent necessity or unless leave of absence is obtained by law, he shall forfeit an amount not exceeding two hundred dollars, said amount to be fixed and determined by the resident judge of his district or the judge presiding in said district upon the complaint of any citizen. Provided, however, that the board of county commissioners of each county may fix by order to be entered on their records at what hours of each Saturday of each week, (in no event to be less than three hours nor more than nine hours on said day, holidays excepted) the clerk of the superior court of their respective counties shall attend at his office in person or by assistant or by deputy, and he or his assistant or deputy shall give his attendance accordingly. (Rev., s. 909; Code, ss. 80, 114, 115; C. C. P., s. 141; 1871-2, c. 136; 1939, c. 82; 1941, c. 329; C. S. 945.)

Local Modification.—Currituck, Moore, Richmond: 1939, c. 82, s. 3.

§ 2-25. Obtaining leave of absence from office.—Upon application of any clerk of the superior court to the judge of the superior court residing in the district in which the clerk resides, the judge of the superior court riding the district or judge of superior court presiding in the county of said clerk, showing good and sufficient reason for the clerk to absent himself from his office, the judge may issue an order allowing him to absent himself from his office for such time as the judge may deem proper. But he shall at all times leave a competent deputy in charge of his office during his absence. The order of the judge granting leave of absence shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the clerk resides. (Rev., s. 910; 1903, c. 467; 1935, c. 348; C. S. 946.)

§ 2-37. To keep fee bill posted.—Every clerk shall keep posted in his office in some conspicuous place the fee bill, for public inspection and reference, under a penalty of one hundred dollars for such neglect, to be paid to any person who will sue for same. (Rev., s. 2774; Code, s. 3740; C. S. 947.)

§ 2-38. To furnish blank process, bonds and undertakings.—Clerks of courts shall furnish to parties printed copies of the formal parts of all process required to be issued by them, with convenient blank spaces for the insertion of written matter; and also the blank forms of such bonds and undertakings as are required to be taken by them. (Rev., s. 911; Code, s. 3761; C. C. P., s. 559; 1868-9, c. 279, s. 558; C. S. 948.)

§ 2-39. To file papers in proceedings.—The clerk must file and preserve all papers in proceedings before him, or belonging to the court; and shall keep the papers in each action in a separate roll or bundle, and at its termination attach them together, properly labeled, and file them in the order of the date of the final judgment. All such papers and the books kept by him belong to, and appertain to, his office, and must be delivered to his successor. (Rev., s. 912; Code, ss. 86, 111; C. C. P., ss. 146, 426; C. S. 949.)

§ 2-40. To keep records of his office; obtaining originals or copies.—He shall keep in bound volumes a complete and faithful record of all his official acts, and give copies thereof to all persons desiring them, on payment of the legal fees. He shall be answerable for all records belonging to his office, and all papers filed in the court, and they shall not be taken from his custody, unless by special order of the court, or on the written consent of the attorneys of record of all the parties; but parties may at all times have copies upon paying the clerk therefor. (Rev., s. 913; Code, s. 82; C. C. P., s. 143; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 4; C. S. 950.)

§ 2-41. To endorse date of issuance on process.—The clerk shall note on all precepts, process and executions the day on which the same shall be issued; and the sheriff or other officer receiving the same for execution shall in like manner note thereon the day on which he shall have received it, and the day of the execution; and every clerk, sheriff or other officer neglecting so to do shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 914; Code, s. 100; C. S. 951.)

§ 2-42. To keep books; enumeration. — Each clerk shall keep the following books, which shall be open to the inspection of the public during regular office hours:

1. Summons docket, which shall contain a docket of all writs, summonses or other original process issued by him, or returned to his office, which are made returnable to a regular term of the superior court; this docket shall contain a brief note of every proceeding whatever in each action, up to the final judgment inclusive.

2. Judgment docket, which shall contain a note of the substance of every judgment and every proceeding subsequent thereto.

3. Civil issue docket, which shall contain a docket of all issues of fact joined upon the pleadings, and of all other matters for hearing before the judge at a regular term of the court, a copy of which shall be furnished to the judge at the commencement of each term.

4. Cross-index to judgments, which shall contain a direct and reverse alphabetical index of all final judgments in civil actions rendered in the court, with the dates and numbers thereof, and also of all final judgments rendered in other courts and authorized by law to be entered on his judgment docket. Pending the docketing of judgments in the judgment docket and cross-indexing the same as herein provided for, the clerk shall keep a temporary index to all judgments entered in his said court or received in his court from any court for docketing; and he shall immediately index all judgments rendered in his court or received in his court for docketing, and index the names of all parties against whom judgments have been rendered or entered alphabetically in said temporary index, and which temporary index shall be preserved and open to the public until said judgments shall have been docketed in the judgment docket and cross-indexed in the permanent cross-index to judgments, as herein provided for.

5. Cross-index of Parties to Actions.—The clerk shall keep an alphabetical index and cross-index of all parties to all actions and special proceedings. Upon the issuance of summons or commencement of an ex parte proceeding he shall forthwith index and cross-index the names of all parties to such action or proceeding. When an order is made that any new or additional party be brought into an action or proceeding his name shall forthwith be indexed and cross-indexed by the clerk. The index shall be so arranged that beside each name shall appear a reference to the book and page whereon the action or proceeding will be found upon the summons docket, civil issue docket, special proceeding docket, and judgment docket, or such of said dockets as carry reference to said action or proceeding; and immediately upon said action or proceeding being entered upon any of said dockets the clerk shall cause said index to carry reference thereto upon the index and cross-index as to every party.

6. Record of lis pendens, which shall contain the names of the parties to the action, place where such notice, whether formal or in the pleadings, is filed, the object of the action, the date of indexing, and a sufficient description of the land to be affected, and which shall be cross-indexed.

7. Criminal docket, which shall contain a note of every proceeding in each criminal action.

8. Minute docket of superior court, which shall contain a record of all proceedings had in the court during term, in the order in which they occur, and such other entries as the judge may direct to be made therein.

9. Special proceedings docket, which shall contain a docket of all writs, summonses, petitions, or other original process issued by him, or returnable to his office, and not returnable to a regular term; this docket shall contain a brief note of every proceeding, up to the final judgment inclusive.

10. Minute docket of proceedings before clerk, which shall contain a record of all proceedings had before the clerk, in actions or proceedings not returnable to a regular term of the court.

11. Record of wills, which shall contain a record of all wills, with the certificate of probate thereof.

12. Record of appointments, which shall contain a record of appointments of executors, administrators, guardians, and collectors, with revocations of all such appointments; and on which shall be noted all subsequent proceedings relating thereto.

13. Record of orders and decrees, which shall contain a record of all orders and decrees passed in his office, which he is required to make in writing, and not required to be recorded in some other book.

14. Record of accounts, which shall contain a record of accounts, in which must be recorded inventories and annual accounts of executors, administrators, collectors, trustees under assignments for creditors, and guardians, as audited by him from time to time.

15. Record of settlements, which shall contain a record of settlements, in which must be entered the final settlements of executors, administrators, collectors, commissioners, trustees under assignments for creditors, and guardians.

16. Record of jurors, which shall contain a list of all persons who serve as grand, petit, and tales jurors in his court; which shall be properly indexed.

17. S. 952.)

Local Modification.—Caldwell: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 43; Durham: 1929, c. 88.

§ 2-43. To notify commissioners of insolvency of surety company in which county officer bonded.—Every clerk of the superior court shall furnish the chairman of the board of county commissioners with all notifications furnished him, in accordance with § 58-117 under the article Fidelity Insurance of the Chapter Insurance, by the insurance commissioner, that any surety company in which any officer of the county is bonded is insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency. (Rev., 295; C. S. 953.)

Art. 5. Reports.

§ 2-44. List of justices to secretary of state.—The clerk of the superior court of each county in which justices of the peace are not elected by the qualified voters thereof on the first Monday in January preceding each regular session of the general assembly shall certify to the secretary of state a correct list of all justices of the peace in office in his county, the township in which each resides, the term of office of each, time of election or appointment, and when the respective terms of office of each expire. He shall also report the names of those elected or appointed justices of the peace, but who have failed to qualify, and when their terms of office began and the length thereof. (Rev., s. 916; Code, s. 89; 1901, c. 37, s. 2; 1881, c. 326; C. S. 954.)

§ 2-45. List of attorneys-at-law to commissioner of revenue.—It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court in each county of the State on or before the first day of May of each year to certify to the Commissioner of Revenue of the State of North Carolina the names and addresses of all Attorneys-at-Law located within the county and engaged in the practice of law. (1931, c. 290.)

Art. 6. Money in Hand; Investments.

§ 2-46. Public funds to be reported to county commissioners.—On the first Monday in December of each and every year, or oftener, if required by order of the board of commissioners or any other lawful authority upon ten days' written notice, clerks of the superior courts shall make an annual report of all public funds which may be in their hands. The report shall be made to the board of county commissioners and addressed to the chairman thereof. It shall give an itemized statement of said funds so held, the date and source from which they were received, the person to whom due, how invested and where, in whose name deposited, the date of any certificate of deposit, the rate of interest the same is drawing, and other evidence of investment of said fund; and it shall include a statement of all funds in their hands by virtue or color of their office, and which may belong to persons or corporations. The report shall be subscribed and verified by the oath of the party making it before any person allowed to administer oaths. (Rev., s. 918; 1891, c. 580; 1931, c. 156; C. S. 956.)

Local Modification.—Bertie: Pub. Loc. 1941, c. 39; Carteret, Union: 1941, c. 316; Forsyth: 1941, c. 109; Wayne: 1939, c. 92; 1941, c. 316.

§ 2-47. Approval, registration, and publication of report.—The board of commissioners shall refer all itemized statements made by the clerks of the superior courts to a special committee of their board, who shall compare the same with the records of the clerk's office from which the report is made and certify the same to the board as correct, and if approved the board shall cause the same to be registered in the office of the register of deeds, in a book to be furnished to said register by the board of county commissioners, which book shall be styled Record of Official Reports, with a proper index of all reports recorded therein, and each original report shall, if approved by the chairman of the board, be endorsed with the word "Approved," the date of approval and the endorsement signed by the chairman, and when recorded by the register of deeds he shall endorse thereon the date of registration, the page of the Record of Official Reports upon which the same is registered, sign the same and file it in his office. The register shall also cause a copy of the report to be published one time in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county of the register and also posted at the courthouse door within twenty days after filing the reports; and if no newspaper is published in the county the posting of the report at the courthouse door shall be a sufficient publication. The cost of publishing the report shall be paid by the county. (Rev., s. 919; Code, s. 90; 1891, c. 580, s. 3; 1893, c. 14, s. 3; 1874-5, c. 151; 1876-7, c. 276; C. S. 957.)

§ 2-48. Report compelled by commissioners.—If any clerk fails to report, or if after a report has been made the board of county commissioners have reason to believe that any report is incorrect, the board shall take legal steps to compel a proper report to be made by suit on the bond of such clerk, or by reporting the fact to the solicitor of the district to which the county of said board may belong for his action. (Rev., s. 920; Code, s. 92; 1891, c. 580, s. 2; 1874-5, c. 151, s. 3; 1876-7, c. 276; C. S. 958.)

§ 2-49. Payment to persons entitled.—The said clerks shall, on or before the first day of January in every year after the statements required in the foregoing sections are made, account with and pay to the persons entitled to receive the same all such balances reported as aforesaid to be in their hands. (Rev., s. 921; Code, s. 1865; R. C., c. 73, s. 2; 1823, c. 1186, s. 2; 1831, c. 3, ss. 1, 3; 1893, c. 14, s. 1; C. S. 959.)

§ 2-50. Unclaimed fees of jurors and witnesses paid to school fund.—All moneys due jurors and witnesses which remain in the hands of any clerk of the superior court on the first day of January after the publication of a third annual report of the said clerk showing the same shall be turned over to the county treasurer for the use of the school fund of the county, and it is the duty of said clerk to indicate in his report any moneys so held by him for a period embracing the two annual reports. (Rev., s. 922; 1891, c. 580, s. 4; 1893, c. 14, s. 3; C. S. 960.)

Local Modification.—Wayne: 1941, c. 70.

§ 2-51. Use by public until claimed. — The money aforesaid, while held by the clerks, shall be paid, on application, to the person entitled thereto; and after it ceases to be so held, it may be used as other revenue, subject, however, to the claim of the rightful owner. (Rev., s. 923; Code, s. 1869; R. C., c. 73, s. 6; 1828, c. 41, s. 1; C. S. 961.)

§ 2-52. Payment of sum due minor insurance beneficiary.—Where a minor is named as beneficiary in a policy or policies of insurance issued in a sum not exceeding five hundred ($500.00) dollars, and the insured dies prior to the majority of such beneficiary, any sums due on such policy may be paid to the public guardian or clerk of the superior court of the county wherein such beneficiary resides, to be administered by such clerk or public guardian for the benefit of said minor, and the receipt of the clerk or public guardian in such cases shall be a full and complete discharge of the company or association for any sums due under such policy or policies. (1937, c. 201.)

§ 2-53. Payment of money for indigent children and persons non compos mentis. — When any moneys in the amount of three hundred dollars or less are paid into court for any minor, indigent or needy child or children for whom no one will become guardian, upon satisfactory proof of the necessities of such minor, child or children, the clerk may upon his own motion or order pay out the same in such sum or sums at such time or times as in his judgment is for the best interest of said child or children, or to some discreet and solvent neighbor of said minor, to be used and faithfully applied for the sole benefit and maintenance of such minor indigent and needy child or children. The clerk shall take a receipt from the person to whom any such sum is paid and shall require such person to render an account of the expenditure of the sum or sums so paid, and shall record the receipt and the accounts, if any are rendered by order of the clerk, in a book entitled, Record of Amounts Paid for Indigent Children, and such receipt shall be a valid acquittance for the clerk. In all cases where a minor child is now or may hereafter be the beneficiary of any policy of life insurance and the sum due to said minor child by virtue of any such policy does not exceed three hundred dollars, the insurance company which issued said policy may pay the sum due thereunder to the clerk of the superior court of the county where said minor child resides whose duty it shall be to receive it, and said clerk shall issue and deliver to such insurance company his receipt for the sum so paid, which shall be a complete release and discharge of said company from any and all liability to said minor child under and by virtue of any such policy of insurance. Moneys so paid to said clerk shall be held and disbursed by him in the manner and subject to the limitations provided by this section. This section shall also apply to incompetent or insane persons, and it shall be the duty of any person or corporation having in its possession $300.00 or less for any minor child or indigent child, or incompetent or insane person to pay same in the office of the clerk of the superior court, and the clerk of the superior court is hereby authorized and empowered to disburse the sum thus paid into his office, upon his own motion or order, without the appointment of a guardian. (Rev., s. 924; 1899, c. 82; 1911, c. 29, s. 1; 1919, c. 91; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 1, s. 1; 1927, c. 76; 1929, c. 15; 1933, c. 363; C. S. 962.)

§ 2-54. Limitation on investment of funds in clerk's hands.—It shall be unlawful for the clerk of the superior court of any county in the State of North Carolina receiving any money by color of his office to apply or invest any of said money except as specifically authorized by law. (1931, c. 281, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Cleveland: 1933, c. 110.

§ 2-55. Investments prescribed; use of funds in management of lands of infants, incompetents.—The clerk of the superior court of any county in the State may in his discretion invest moneys secured by color of his office or as receiver in any of the following securities:

(a) By loaning the same upon real estate security, such loans not to exceed fifty per cent (50%) of the assessed tax value; and said loans when made to be evidenced by a note, or notes, of the borrower and secured by first mortgage or deed of trust.

(b) United States Government bonds.

(c) United States Government Postal Savings Certificates.

(d) North Carolina State bonds.

(e) North Carolina county or municipal bonds which are approved by the Local Government Commission.

(f) Certificates of deposit for time deposit or savings accounts with any bank or trust company where such protection is furnished as required in § 2-56.

(g) When the clerk of the superior court as receiver or trustee for any infant or non compos mentis shall come into the possession of any lands for the use of such person and it shall be necessary to make investments of the funds of such person to manage or cultivate said lands, the clerk may make such investments as are necessary for said purposes: Provided, the same is approved by the resident judge of the superior court or the judge holding the court of the district. (1931, c. 281, s. 2; 1937, c. 188; 1939, c. 110.)

Local Modification.—Cleveland: 1933, c. 110.

§ 2-56. Securing bank deposits.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of any county in the State to require of any bank or trust company, wherein he may deposit money placed with him in trust, a corporate surety bond in an amount sufficient to protect such deposits, but in lieu of such corporate surety bond, the clerk may require such bank to furnish bonds of the United States Government, North Carolina State bonds, or North Carolina county or municipal bonds which have been approved by the Sinking Fund Commission; provided, however, that to the extent of the amount which may be insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or other federal agency insuring bank deposits the said insurance shall be deemed and considered ample security, and the clerk of the superior court shall not require corporate surety bond or any of the bonds above specified for that amount of the deposit insured by deposit insurance. (1931, c. 281, s. 3; 1939, c. 86.)

§ 2-57. Inspection of records by local government commission; report to solicitor of mismanagement.—The Local Government Commission, or its successors, is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect the records of any clerk of the superior court in the State for the purpose of ascertaining that such clerk is complying with the requirements of §§ 2-54 to 2-60 and if, in the course of such inspection, it is found that such clerk has failed to comply with the requirements of §§ 2-54 to 2-60, it shall be the duty of the Local Government Commission, or its successors, to report such findings to the solicitor of the district in which the county is located and said solicitor shall proceed to prosecute as hereinafter provided. (1931, c. 281, s. 4; c. 60.)

§ 2-58. Inspection and audit by county auditors or accountants; reports of audits.—It shall be the duty of the County Auditor or County Accountant of any county to inspect and audit the records and accounts of the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county for the purpose of ascertaining that such clerk is complying with the requirements of §§ 2-54 to 2-60 and that such clerk is properly safeguarding and accounting for all funds of every nature and character which have come into his hands by virtue of his office; such audits to be made and a report thereof made by the County Auditor or County Accountant to the board of county commissioners of the county and to the Local Government Commission or such other governmental agency as shall succeed to the rights and duties of the Local Government Commission. (1931, c. 281, ss. 6, 60.)

§ 2-59. Liquidation of present funds within year. — It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of any county in the State, who shall have funds invested other than as provided for in §§ 2-54 to 2-60 to liquidate same within one year from the passage of §§ 2-54 to 2-60: Provided, however, that upon approval of the resident judge of his district, the clerk may extend from time to time, the time for sale or collection of any such investments; that no one extension shall be made to cover a period of more than one year from the time the extension is made. (1931, c. 281, s. 7.)

§ 2-60. Violation of §§ 2-54 to 2-59 a misdemeanor.—The clerk of the superior court of any county in the State who shall have violated the provisions of §§ 2-54 to 2-59 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment or both in the discretion of this court. (1931, c. 281, s. 5.)

Chapter 3. Commissioners of Affidavits and Deeds.

Sec.
3-1. Appointment by governor; term; oath.
3-2. Record of appointments; certified copies evidence.
3-3. List of appointments prepared and published by secretary of state.
3-4. Published list conclusive.
3-5. Powers of such commissioners.
3-6. Fees of commissioners of affidavits.
3-7. Powers of clerks of courts in other states.
3-8. Clerks and notaries to take affidavits.

§ 3-1. Appointment by governor; term; oath.—The governor is authorized to appoint and commission one or more commissioners in any foreign country, state or republic, and in such of the states of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, or any of the territories, colonies or dependencies as he may deem expedient, who shall continue in office for two years from the date of their appointment, unless sooner removed by the governor. Before such commissioner proceeds to perform any duty by virtue of this chapter, he shall take and subscribe an oath before a justice of the peace in the city or county in which he resides well and faithfully to execute and perform all the duties of such commissioner, according to the laws of North Carolina; which oath shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. (Rev., ss. 926, 927; Code, ss. 632, 633; C. S. 963.)

§ 3-2. Record of appointments; certified copies evidence.—It is the duty of the governor to cause to be recorded by the secretary of state the names of the persons who are appointed and qualified as commissioners, and for what state, territory, county, city, or town; and the secretary of state, when the oath of the commissioner is filed in his office, shall forthwith certify the appointment to the several clerks of the superior courts of the state, who shall record the certificate of the secretary at length. All removals of commissioners by the governor, and the names of all commissioners whose commissions have expired by law, and which have not been renewed, shall be recorded and certified in like manner. A certified copy thereof from the clerk, or a certificate of the appointment or removal aforesaid from the secretary of state, shall be sufficient evidence of the appointment or removal of such commissioner. (Rev., s. 928; Code, s. 634; C. S. 964.)

§ 3-3. List of appointments prepared and published by secretary of state.—The secretary of state shall prepare and cause to be printed in each volume of the public laws a list of all persons who since the preceding publication in the public laws have been appointed commissioners of affidavits and to take the probate of deeds in any foreign country and in the several states and territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia, under this chapter, setting forth the state, territory or district or foreign country for which such persons were appointed and the dates of their respective appointments and term of office; and he shall add to each of said lists a list of all those persons whose appointments have been renewed, revoked, or have resigned, removed or died since the date of the list previously published, as far as the same may be known to him, with the dates of such revocation, resignation, removal or death. (Rev., s. 929; Code, ss. 635, 636, 637, 639; C. S. 965.)

§ 3-4. Published list conclusive.—The list of commissioners so published in any volume of the public laws shall be conclusive evidence in all courts of the appointments therein stated, and of the dates thereof. (Rev., s. 930; Code, s. 638; C. S. 966.)

§ 3-5. Powers of such commissioners.—The commissioners have authority to take the acknowledgment or proof of any deed, mortgage, or other conveyance of lands, tenements, or hereditaments lying in this state, and to take the private examination of married women, parties thereto, or any other writings to be used in this state. Such acknowledgment or proof, taken or made in the manner directed by the laws of this state, and certified by the commissioner, shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as if made or taken before any competent authority in this state. The commissioners also have full power and authority to administer an oath or affirmation to any person willing or desirous to make it before him, to take depositions, and to examine the witnesses under any commission emanating from the courts of this state, relating to any cause depending or to be brought in said courts. Every deposition, affidavit, or affirmation made before him is as valid as if taken before any proper officer in this state. (Rev., ss. 926, 927; Code, ss. 632, 633; C. S. 967.)

§ 3-6. Fees of commissioners of affidavits.—Commissioners of affidavits, and those who are authorized by law to act as such, shall receive the following fees, and no other, namely: for an affidavit taken and certified, forty cents; affixing his official seal, twenty-five cents. (Rev., s. 2796; Code, s. 3741; C. S. 3924.)

§ 3-7. Powers of clerks of courts in other states.—Every clerk of a court of record in any other state has full power as a commissioner of affidavits and deeds as is vested in regularly appointed commissioners of affidavits and deeds for this state. (Rev., s. 931; Code, s. 640; C. S. 968.)

§ 3-8. Clerks and notaries to take affidavits.—The clerks of the supreme and superior courts and notaries public are authorized to take and certify affidavits to be used before any justice of the peace, judge or court of the state; and the affidavits so taken by a clerk shall be certified under the hands of the said clerk, and if to be used out of the county where taken, also under the seal of the court of which they are respectively clerks, and, if by a notary, under his notarial seal. (Rev., s. 925; Code, s. 631; C. S. 969.)

Chapter 4. Common Law.

Sec.
4-1. Common law declared to be in force.

§ 4-1. Common law declared to be in force.—All such parts of the common law as were heretofore in force and use within this state, or so much of the common law as is not destructive of, or repugnant to, or inconsistent with, the freedom and independence of this state and the form of government therein established, and which has not been otherwise provided for in whole or in part, not abrogated, repealed, or become obsolete, are hereby declared to be in full force within this state. (Rev., s. 932; Code, s. 641; R. C., c. 22; 1715, c. 5, ss. 2, 3; 1778, c. 133; C. S. 970.)

Chapter 5. Contempt.

Sec.
5-1. Contempts enumerated; common law repealed.
5-2. Appeal from judgment of guilty.
5-3. Solicitor or attorney-general to appear for the court.
5-4. Punishment.
5-5. Summary punishment for direct contempt.
5-6. Courts and officers empowered to punish.
5-7. Indirect contempt; order to show cause.
5-8. Acts punishable as for contempt.
5-9. Trial of proceedings in contempt.

§ 5-1. Contempts enumerated; common law repealed.—Any person guilty of any of the following acts may be punished for contempt:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior committed during the sitting of any court of justice, in immediate view and presence of the court, and directly tending to interrupt its proceedings, or to impair the respect due to its authority.

2. Behavior of the like character committed in the presence of any referee or referees, while actually engaged in any trial or hearing pursuant to the order of any court, or in the presence of any jury while actually sitting for the trial of a cause, or upon any inquest or other proceeding authorized by law.

3. Any breach of the peace, noise or other disturbance directly tending to interrupt the proceedings of any court.

4. Willful disobedience of any process or order lawfully issued by any court.

5. Resistance willfully offered by any person to the lawful order or process of any court.

6. The contumacious and unlawful refusal of any person to be sworn as a witness, or, when so sworn, the like refusal to answer any legal and proper interrogatory.

7. The publication of grossly inaccurate reports of the proceedings in any court, about any trial, or other matter pending before said court, made with intent to misrepresent or to bring into contempt the said court; but no person can be punished as for a contempt in publishing a true, full and fair report of any trial, argument, decision or proceeding had in court.

8. Misbehavior of any officer of the court in any official transaction.

The several acts, neglects and omissions of duty, malfeasances, misfeasances, and nonfeasances, above specified and described, shall be the only acts, neglects and omissions of duty, malfeasances, misfeasances and nonfeasances which shall be the subject of contempt of court. And if there are any parts of the common law now in force in this state which recognized other acts, neglects, omissions of duty, malfeasances, misfeasances and nonfeasances besides those specified and described above, the same are hereby repealed and annulled. (Rev., s. 939; Code, s. 648; 1905, c. 449; C. S. 978.)

§ 5-2. Appeal from judgment of guilty.—Any person adjudged guilty of contempt under the preceding section has the right to appeal to the supreme court in the same manner as is provided for appeals in criminal actions, except for the contempts described and defined in subsections one, two, three, and six. Nor shall the right of appeal lie under subsections four and five if such contempt is committed in the presence of the court. (Rev., s. 939; Code, s. 648; 1905, c. 449; C. S. 979.)

§ 5-3. Solicitor or attorney-general to appear for the court.—In all cases where a rule for contempt is issued by any court, referee, or other officer, the solicitor shall appear for the court or other officer issuing the rule, and in case of appeal to the supreme court, the attorney-general shall appear for the court or other officer by whom the rule was issued. (Rev., s. 939; Code, s. 648; 1905, c. 449; C. S. 980.)

§ 5-4. Punishment.—Punishment for contempt for matters set forth in the preceding sections shall be by fine not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 940; Code, s. 649; C. S. 981.)

§ 5-5. Summary punishment for direct contempt.—Contempt committed in the immediate view and presence of the court may be punished summarily, but the court shall cause the particulars of the offense to be specified on the record, and a copy of the same to be attached to every committal, attachment or process in the nature of an execution founded on such judgment or order. (Rev., s. 941; Code, s. 650; C. S. 982.)

§ 5-6. Courts and officers empowered to punish.—Every justice of the peace, referee, commissioner, clerk of the superior court, inferior court, criminal court, or judge of the superior court, or justice of the supreme court, or board of commissioners of each county, or the utilities commission, has power to punish for contempt while sitting for the trial of causes or engaged in official duties. (Rev., s. 942; Code, ss. 651, 652; 1933, c. 134, s. 8; 1941, c. 97; C. S. 983.)

§ 5-7. Indirect contempt; order to show cause.—When the contempt is not committed in the immediate presence of the court, or so near as to interrupt its business, proceedings thereupon shall be by an order directing the offender to appear, within reasonable time, and show cause why he should not be attached for contempt. At the time specified in the order the person charged with the contempt may appear and answer, and, if he fail to appear and show good cause why he should not be attached for the contempt charged, he shall be punished as provided in this chapter. (Rev., s. 943; Code, s. 653; C. S. 984.)

§ 5-8. Acts punishable as for contempt.—Every court of record has power to punish as for contempt when the act complained of was such as tended to defeat, impair, impede, or prejudice the rights or remedies of a party to an action then pending in court—

1. Any clerk, sheriff, register, solicitor, attorney, counselor, coroner, constable, referee, or any other person in any manner selected or appointed to perform any ministerial or judicial service, for any neglect or violation of duty or any misconduct by which the rights or remedies of any party in a cause or matter pending in such court may be defeated, impaired, delayed, or prejudiced, for disobedience of any lawful order of any court or judge, or any deceit or abuse of any process or order of any such court or judge.

2. Parties to suits, attorneys, and all other persons for the nonpayment of any sum of money ordered by such court, in cases where execution cannot be awarded for the collection of the same.

3. All persons for assuming to be officers, attorneys or counselors of the court, and acting as such without authority, for receiving any property or person which may be in custody of any officer by virtue of any order or process of the court, for unlawfully detaining any witness or party to any suit, while going to, remaining at, or returning from the court where the same may be set for trial, or for the unlawful interference with the proceedings in any action.

4. All persons summoned as witnesses in refusing or neglecting to obey such summons to attend, be sworn, or answer, as such witness.

5. Parties summoned as jurors for impropriety, conversing with parties or others in relation to an action to be tried at such court or receiving communication therefrom.

6. All inferior magistrates, officers and tribunals for disobedience of any lawful order of the court, or for proceeding in any matter or cause contrary to law, after the same shall have been removed from their jurisdiction.

7. All other cases where attachments and proceedings as for contempt have been heretofore adopted and practiced in courts of record in this state to enforce the civil remedies or protect the rights of any party to an action. (Rev., s. 944; Code, ss. 654, 656; C. S. 985.)

§ 5-9. Trial of proceedings in contempt.—Proceedings as for contempt shall be prosecuted and carried on as provided in provisional remedies. In all proceedings for contempt and in proceedings as for contempt, the judge or other judicial officer who issues the rule or notice to the respondent may make the same returnable before some other judge or judicial officer. When the personal conduct of the judge or other judicial officer or his fitness to hold his judicial position is involved, it is his duty to make the rule or notice returnable before some other judge or officer. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any act or conduct committed in the presence of the court and tending to hinder or delay the due administration of the law, nor to proceedings for the disobedience of a judicial order rendered in any pending action. (Rev., s. 945; Code, s. 655; 1915, c. 4; C. S. 986.)

6-64. Liability for criminal costs before justice, mayor, county or recorder's court.
6-65. Imprisonment of defendant for nonpayment of fine and costs.

Art. 1. Generally.

§ 6-1. Items allowed as costs.—To either party for whom judgment is given there shall be allowed as costs his actual disbursements for fees to the officers, witnesses, and other persons entitled to receive the same. (Rev., s. 1249; Code, s. 528; C. S. 1225.)

§ 6-2. Summary judgment for official fees.—If any officer, to whom fees are payable by any person, fails to receive them at the time the service is performed, he may have judgment therefor on motion to the court in which the action is or was pending, upon twenty days' notice to the person to be charged, at any time within one year after the termination of the action in which the same was performed. If the motion for judgment be in behalf of the clerk of the superior court, it shall be made to the judge of the court in or out of term. (Rev., s. 1250; Code, s. 3760; 1868-9, c. 279, s. 561; C. S. 1226.)

§ 6-3. Sureties on prosecution bonds liable for costs.—When an action is brought in any court in which security is given for the prosecution thereof, or when any case is brought up to a court by an appeal or otherwise, in which security for the prosecution of the suit has been given, and judgment is rendered against the plaintiff for the costs of the defendant, the appellate court shall also give judgment against the surety for said costs, and execution may issue jointly against the plaintiff and his surety. (Rev., s. 1251; Code, s. 543; R. C., c. 31, s. 126; R. S., c. 31, s. 133; 1831, c. 46; 1913, c. 189, s. 1; C. S. 1227.)

§ 6-4. Execution for unpaid fees; itemized bill of costs to be annexed. — The clerks of the supreme, superior and criminal courts, where suits are determined and the fees are not paid by the party from whom they are due, shall sue out executions, directed to the sheriff of any county in the state, who shall levy them as in other cases; and to the said execution shall be annexed a bill of costs, written in words so as plainly to show each item of costs and on what account it is taxed; and all executions for costs, issuing without such a bill annexed, shall be deemed irregular, and may be set aside as to the costs, at the return term, at the instance of him against whom it is issued. (Rev., s. 1252; Code, s. 3762; R. C., c. 102, s. 24; C. S. 1228.)

§ 6-5. Jurors' tax fees.—On every indictment or criminal proceeding, tried or otherwise disposed of in the superior or criminal courts, the party convicted, or adjudged to pay the costs, shall pay a tax of four dollars. In every civil action in any court of record the party adjudged to pay the costs shall pay a tax of five dollars; but this tax shall not be charged unless a jury shall be impaneled. Said tax fees shall be charged by the clerk in the bill of costs, and collected by the sheriff, and by him paid into the county treasury. And the fund thus raised in any county shall be set apart for the payment of the jurors attending the courts thereof. (Rev., s. 1253; Code, s. 732; R. C., c. 28; 1830, c. 1; 1879, c. 325; 1881, c. 249; 1905, c. 348; 1909, c. 1; 1919, c. 319; C. S. 1229.)

Local Modification.—Harnett: 1933, c. 75, s. 1(c); Wayne: 1927, c. 156; 1937, c. 120; 1941, c. 88.

§ 6-6. In criminal cases, not demandable in advance.—In all cases of criminal complaints before justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior and criminal courts, justices of the peace and other magistrates having jurisdiction of such complaints, the officers entitled by law to receive fees for issuing or executing process are not entitled to demand them in advance. Such officers shall indorse the amounts of their respective fees on every process issued or executed by them, and return the same to the court to which it is returnable. (Rev., s. 1254; Code, s. 1173; 1868-9, c. 178, subch. 3, s. 40; C. S. 1230.)

§ 6-7. Clerk to state in detail in entry of judgment.—The clerk shall insert in the entry of judgment the allowances for costs allowed by law, and the necessary disbursements, including the fees of officers and witnesses, and the reasonable compensation of referees and commissioners in taking depositions. The disbursements shall be stated in detail. When it is necessary to adjust costs in any interlocutory proceedings, or in any special proceedings, the same shall be adjusted by the clerk of the court to which the proceedings were returned, except in those matters in which the allowance is required to be made by the judge. (Rev., s. 1255; Code, s. 532; C. S. 1231.)

§ 6-8. Clerk to itemize bills of criminal costs; approval of solicitor.—It is the duty of the clerks of the several courts of record, at each term of the court, to make up an itemized statement of the bill of costs in every criminal action tried or otherwise disposed of at said term, which shall be signed by the clerk and approved by the solicitor. (Rev., s. 1256; Code, s. 733; 1873-4, c. 116; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1232.)

Local Modification.—Harnett: 1933, c. 75, s. 3.

§ 6-9. Justice required to itemize costs.—In all trials before justices of the peace any party, plaintiff or defendant, may demand of the justice of the peace before whom the trial is held an itemized statement of the costs of the action. Upon such demand it shall be the duty of the justice to furnish the statement demanded. No person shall be compelled to pay any cost in any trial before a justice of the peace until an itemized statement of the costs has been made out and given to the party charged. It shall be the duty of the justice to insert in the entry of the judgment in every criminal action tried or otherwise disposed of by him a detailed statement of the different items of cost, and to whom due. (Rev., ss. 1257, 2789; Code, s. 734; 1887, c. 297; C. S. 1233.)

§ 6-10. Justice of the peace refusing to furnish bill of costs.—If any justice of the peace before whom any trial is held shall refuse to furnish an itemized bill of costs, when demanded by the plaintiff or defendant, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3588; Code, s. 734; 1887, c. 297; C. S. 1234.)

§ 6-11. Bills of costs open to the public.—Every bill of costs shall at all times be open to the inspection of any person interested therein. (Rev., s. 1258; Code, s. 735; 1873-4, c. 116; C. S. 1235.)

§ 6-12. Clerks to tax solicitors fees; paid to school fund.—The clerks of the superior courts of the several counties of the state shall, in computing bills of costs in criminal cases, tax against the party convicted the solicitors fees hereinafter set forth. The solicitors fees shall be collected by the clerks and paid into the school funds of the respective counties: Provided, that no such fees which are now required by law to be paid by the county shall be taxed in the bills of costs, nor shall any such fees be taxed in said bills of costs in cases where the defendants are assigned to work on the public roads of the state, or on any county properties.

The solicitors fees are as follows:

(a) For every conviction under an indictment charging a capital crime, whether by plea or verdict, forty dollars.

(b) For perjury, forgery, passing or attempting to pass or sell any forged or counterfeited paper, or evidence of debt; maliciously injuring or attempting to injure any railroad or railroad car, or any person traveling on such railroad car; stealing or obliterating records; maliciously burning or attempting to burn houses or bridges; seduction; slander of an innocent woman, and embezzlement; breaking into houses otherwise than burglariously; assault with intent to commit rape; larcenies from the person; false pretense, and secret assault; in each of the above cases, twenty dollars.

(c) For larceny, receiving stolen goods, frauds, maims, deceits, escapes, and other felonies, fifteen dollars.

(d) For disturbing religious and other public meetings; for all violations of the prohibition law as to intoxicating liquors and narcotics; for fornication and adultery and resisting an officer, twelve dollars.

(e) For all other offenses, eight dollars.

No larger fee than ten dollars shall be taxed for the solicitor in an indictment against the justices of the peace of any county, as justices, when there are more than three justices who are found guilty.

The solicitors of the several judicial districts and criminal courts shall prosecute all penalties and forfeited recognizances entered in their courts respectively, and a sum to be fixed by the court, not to exceed ten per centum of the amount collected upon such penalty or forfeited recognizance, shall be taxed in such prosecutions.

For the performance of the solicitors duties for the appointment of a receiver of an estate of a minor, there shall be taxed a sum to be fixed by the judge, not to exceed ten dollars; for passing on the returns of the receiver in such cases, where the estate of the infant does not exceed five hundred dollars, a sum not to exceed five dollars, and where the estate exceeds five hundred dollars, a sum to be fixed by the judge, not to exceed ten dollars; and in each case such sums taxed shall be paid out of the fund. (Rev., s. 2768; Code, s. 3737; 1873-4, c. 170; 1885, c. 130; 1895, c. 14; 1901, c. 4, s. 5; 1915, c. 86; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 97; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 75; 1923, c. 157; C. S. 1235(a), 3891.)

Art. 2. When State Liable for Costs.

§ 6-13. Civil actions by the state; joinder of private party.—In all civil actions prosecuted in the name of the state, by an officer duly authorized for that purpose, the state shall be liable for costs in the same cases and to the same extent as private parties. If a private person be joined with the state as plaintiff, he shall be liable in the first instance for the defendant's costs, which shall not be recovered of the state till after execution is issued therefor against such private party and returned unsatisfied. (Rev., s. 1259; Code, s. 536; C. S. 1236.)

§ 6-14. Civil action by and against state officers.—In all civil actions depending, or which may be instituted, by any of the officers of the state, or which have been or shall be instituted against them, when any such action is brought or defended pursuant to the advice of the attorney-general, and the same is decided against such officers, the cost thereof shall be paid by the state treasurer upon the warrant of the auditor for the amount thereof as taxed. (Rev., s. 1260; Code, s. 3373; 1874-5, c. 154; C. S. 1237.)

§ 6-15. Actions by state for private persons, etc.—In an action prosecuted in the name of the state for the recovery of money or property, or to establish a right or claim for the benefit of any county, city, town, village, corporation or person, costs awarded against the plaintiff shall be a charge against the party for whose benefit the action was prosecuted, and not against the state. (Rev., s. 1261; Code, s. 537; C. S. 1238.)

§ 6-16. Costs of county in certain bribery prosecutions to be a charge against state.—The expenses incurred by any county in investigating and prosecuting any charge of bribery or attempt to bribe any state officer or member of the general assembly within said county, and of receiving bribes by any state officer or member of the general assembly in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and the properly attested claim of the county commissioners shall be paid by the treasurer of the state. (Rev., s. 1262; Code, s. 742; 1868-9, c. 176, s. 6; 1874-5, c. 5; C. S. 1239.)

§ 6-17. Costs of state on appeals to federal courts.—In all cases, whether civil or criminal, to which the state of North Carolina is a party, and which are carried from the courts of this state, or from the district court of the United States, by appeal or writ of error, to the United States circuit court of appeals, or to the supreme court of the United States, and the state is adjudged to pay the costs, it is the duty of the attorney-general to certify the amount of such costs to the auditor, who shall thereupon issue a warrant for the same, directed to the treasurer, who shall pay the same out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. (Rev., s. 1263; Code, s. 538; 1871-2, c. 26; C. S. 1240.)

Art. 3. Civil Actions and Proceedings.

§ 6-18. When costs allowed as of course to plaintiff.—Costs shall be allowed of course to the plaintiff, upon a recovery, in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of real property, or when a claim of title to real property arises on the pleadings, or is certified by the court to have come in question at the trial.

2. In an action to recover the possession of personal property.

3. In actions of which a court of a justice of the peace has no jurisdiction, unless otherwise provided by law.

4. In an action for assault, battery, false imprisonment, libel, slander, malicious prosecution, criminal conversation or seduction, if the plaintiff recovers less than fifty dollars damages, he shall recover no more costs than damages.

5. When several actions are brought on one bond, recognizance, promissory note, bill of exchange or instrument in writing, or in any other case, for the same cause of action against several parties who might have been joined as defendants in the same action, no costs other than disbursements shall be allowed to the plaintiff in more than one of such actions, which shall be at his election, provided the party or parties proceeded against in such other action or actions were within the state and not secreted at the commencement of the previous action or actions. (Rev., s. 1264; Code, s. 525; 1874-5, c. 119; R. C., c. 31, s. 78; C. S. 1241.)

§ 6-19. When costs allowed as of course to defendant.—Costs shall be allowed as of course to the defendant, in the actions mentioned in the preceding section, unless the plaintiff be entitled to costs therein. In all actions where there are several defendants not united in interest, and making separate defenses by separate answers, and the plaintiff fails to recover judgment against all, the court may award costs to such of the defendants as have judgment in their favor or any of them. (Rev., s. 1266; Code, ss. 526, 527; C. C. P., s. 277; C. S. 1242.)

§ 6-20. Costs allowed or not, in discretion of court.—In other actions, costs may be allowed or not, in the discretion of the court, unless otherwise provided by law. (Rev., s. 1267; Code, s. 527; C. S. 1243.)

§ 6-21. Costs allowed either party or apportioned in discretion of court.—Costs in the following matters shall be taxed against either party, or apportioned among the parties, in the discretion of the court:

1. Application for year's support, for widow or children.

2. Caveats to wills.

3. Habeas corpus; and the court shall direct what officer shall tax the costs thereof.

4. In actions for divorce or alimony; and the court may both before and after judgment make such order respecting the payment of such costs as may be incurred by the wife, either by the husband or by her from her separate estate, as may be just.

5. Application for the establishment, alteration or discontinuance of a public road, cartway or ferry. The board of county commissioners may order the costs incurred before them paid in their discretion.

6. The compensation of referees and commissioners to take depositions.

7. All costs and expenses incurred in special proceedings for the division or sale of either real estate or personal property under the chapter entitled Partition.

8. In all proceedings under the chapter entitled Drainage, except as therein otherwise provided.

9. In proceedings for reallotment of homestead for increase in value, as provided in the chapter, Civil Procedure.

The word "costs" as the same appears and is used in this section shall be construed to include reasonable attorneys' fees in such amounts as the court shall in its discretion determine and allow. (Rev., s. 1268; Code, ss. 2134, 2161, 1660, 1294, 2039, 2056, 533, 1422, 1323; 1889, c. 37; 1893, c. 149, s. 6; 1937, c. 143; C. S. 1244.)

Local Modification.—Nash: 1939, c. 46; 1941, c. 18.

§ 6-22. Petitioner to pay costs in certain cases.—The petitioner shall pay the costs in the following proceedings:

1. In petitions for draining or damming lowlands.

2. In petitions for condemnation of water millsites when the petitioner is allowed to erect the mill; but when he is not allowed to erect the mill, the costs shall be paid by the person who is allowed to do so.

3. In petitions for condemnation of land for railroads, street railways, telegraph, telephone or electric power or light companies, or for water supplies for public institutions, or for the use of other quasi-public or municipal corporations; unless in the opinion of the superior court the defendant improperly refused the privilege, use or easement demanded, in which case the costs must be adjudged as to the court may appear equitable and just.

4. When the petition is refused. (Rev., s. 1269; Code, ss. 1299, 1855, 2013; 1893, c. 63; 1903, c. 562; C. S. 1245.)

§ 6-23. Defendant unreasonably defending after notice of no personal claim to pay costs.—In case of a defendant, against whom no personal claim is made, the plaintiff may deliver to such defendant with the summons, a notice subscribed by the plaintiff or his attorney, setting forth the general object of the action, a brief description of the property affected by it, if it affects real or personal property, and that no personal claim is made against such defendant. If a defendant on whom such notice is served unreasonably defends the action, he shall pay costs to the plaintiff. (Rev., s. 1270; Code, s. 216; C. S. 1246.)

§ 6-24. Suits in forma pauperis; no costs unless recovery.—When any person sues as a pauper, no officer shall require of him any fee, and he shall recover no costs, except in case of recovery by him. (Rev., s. 1265; Code, s. 212; 1895, c. 149; 1868-9, c. 96, s. 3; C. S. 1247.)

§ 6-25. Party seeking recovery on usurious contracts; no costs.—No costs shall be recovered by any party, whether plaintiff or defendant, who may endeavor to recover upon any usurious contract. (Rev., s. 1271; 1895, c. 69; C. S. 1248.)

§ 6-26. Costs in special proceedings.—The costs in special proceedings shall be as allowed in civil actions, unless otherwise specially provided. (Rev., s. 1272; Code, s. 541; C. S. 1249.)

§ 6-27. Fees and disbursements in supplemental proceedings.—The court or judge may allow to the judgment creditor, or to any party examined in proceedings supplemental to execution, whether a party to the action or not, witnesses' fees and disbursements. (Rev., s. 1273; Code, s. 499; C. C. P., s. 273; C. S. 1250.)

§ 6-28. Costs of laying off homestead and exemption.—The costs and expenses of appraising and laying off the homestead or personal property exemptions, when the same is made under execution, shall be charged and included in the officer's bill of fees upon such execution or other final process; and when made upon the petition of the owner, they shall be paid by such owner, and the latter costs shall be a lien on said homestead. (Rev., s. 1274; Code, s. 510; C. S. 1251.)

§ 6-29. Costs of reassessment of homestead.—If the superior court at term shall confirm the appraisal or assessment, or shall increase the exemption allowed the debtor or claimant, the levy shall stand only upon the excess remaining, and the creditor shall pay all the costs of the proceeding in court. If the amount allowed the debtor or claimant is reduced, the costs of the proceeding in court shall be paid by the debtor or claimant, and the levy shall cover the excess then remaining. (Rev., s. 1275; Code, s. 521; C. S. 1252.)

§ 6-30. Costs against infant plaintiff; guardian responsible.—When costs are adjudged against an infant plaintiff, the guardian by whom he appeared in the action shall be responsible therefor. (Rev., s. 1276; Code, s. 534; C. S. 1253.)

§ 6-31. Costs where executor, administrator, trustee of express trust, or person authorized by statute a party.—In an action prosecuted or defended by an executor, administrator, trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, costs shall be recovered as in an action by and against a person prosecuting or defending in his own right; but such costs shall be chargeable only upon or collected out of the estate, fund or party represented, unless the court directs the same to be paid by the plaintiff or defendant, personally, for mismanagement or bad faith in such action or defense. And when any claim against a deceased person is referred, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover the fees of referees and witnesses, and other necessary disbursements, to be taxed according to law. (Rev., s. 1277; Code, s. 535; C. S. 1254.)

§ 6-32. Costs against assignee after action brought.—In actions in which the cause of action becomes by assignment after the commencement of the action, or in any other manner, the property of a person not a party to the action, such person shall be liable for the costs in the same manner as if he were a party. (Rev., s. 1278; Code, s. 539; C. S. 1255.)

Art. 4. Costs on Appeal.

§ 6-33. Costs on appeal generally.—On an appeal from a justice of the peace to a superior court, or from a superior court or a judge thereof to the supreme court, if the appellant recovers judgment in the appellate court, he shall recover the costs of the appellate court and those he ought to have recovered below had the judgment of that court been correct, and also restitution of any costs of the court appealed from which he has paid under the erroneous judgment of such court. If in any court of appeal there is judgment for a new trial, or for a new jury, or if the judgment appealed from is not wholly reversed, but partly affirmed and partly disaffirmed, the costs shall be in the discretion of the appellate court. (Rev., s. 1279; Code, s. 540; C. S. 1256.)

§ 6-34. Costs of transcript on appeal taxed in supreme court.—When an appeal is taken from the superior court to the supreme court, the clerk of the superior court, when he sends up the transcript, shall send therewith an itemized statement of the costs of making up the transcript on appeal, and the costs thereof shall be taxed as a part of the costs of the supreme court. (Rev., s. 1280; 1905, c. 456; C. S. 1257.)

§ 6-35. Costs on appeal from justices of the peace.—1. After an appeal from the judgment of a justice of the peace is filed with a clerk of a superior court, the costs in all subsequent stages shall be as herein provided for actions originally brought to the superior court.

2. If, on appeal from a justice of the peace, judgment is entered for the plaintiff, and he shall not recover on his appeal a greater sum than was recovered before the justice, besides interest accrued since the rendition of the judgment, he shall not recover the costs of the appeal, but shall be liable at the discretion of the court to pay the same. (Rev., ss. 1281, 1282; Code, ss. 542, 566; R. C., c. 31, s. 106; 1794, c. 414, s. 17; C. S. 1258.)

Art. 5. Liability of Counties in Criminal Actions.

§ 6-36. County to pay costs in certain cases; if approved, audited and adjudged.—If there is no prosecutor in a criminal action, and the defendant is acquitted, or convicted and unable to pay the costs, or a nolle prosequi is entered, or judgment arrested, the county shall pay the clerks, sheriffs, constables, justices and witnesses one-half their lawful fees; except in capital cases and in prosecutions for forgery, perjury, or conspiracy, when they shall receive full fees. No county shall pay any such costs unless the same are approved, audited and adjudged against the county as provided in this chapter. (Rev., s. 1283; Code, ss. 733, 739; R. C., c. 28, s. 8; R. S., c. 28, s. 12; 1874-5, c. 247; C. S. 1259.)

Local Modification.—Hertford: 1933, c. 68; Johnston: 1939, c. 183; Swain: 1935, c. 210.

§ 6-37. Local modification as to counties paying costs.—In the following counties the county shall pay one-half the fees specified when "not a true bill" is found: Alexander, Alleghany, Ashe, Avery, Bertie, Brunswick, Burke, Caldwell, Caswell, Catawba, Chatham, Clay, Craven, Davie, Duplin, Gaston, Granville, Greene, Guilford, Haywood, Henderson, Iredell, Jackson, Johnston, Jones, Lenoir, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, Montgomery, Northampton, Onslow, Orange, Pamlico, Pender, Person, Pitt, Polk, Richmond, Robeson, Rowan, Rutherford, Sampson, Scotland, Stanly, Stokes, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Wake, Watauga, Wilkes, Yadkin, Yancey. Provided, that Haywood County shall only be liable for one-half fee to clerks, constables and sheriffs serving process. (Rev., s. 1283; Code, ss. 733, 739; 1907, cc. 94, 162, 208, 606, 627, 695; 1909, cc. 50, 107; Pub. Loc. 1911, cc. 76, 167; Pub. Loc. 1915, c. 22; 1931, cc. 135, 187; 1933, c. 366; C. S. 1260.)

In Bladen County, where in a criminal proceeding before the grand jury a "true bill" is not found, the county shall pay one-half fees to clerks, sheriffs, officers, or constables who served any process in such proceeding. (1909, c. 183; C. S. 1260.)

In Brunswick and Catawba counties the county shall not be liable for any part of the costs of justices of the peace, when "not a true bill" is found. (Rev., s. 1283; 1905, c. 598; 1909, c. 107; C. S. 1260.)

In Montgomery County, in criminal cases, where the defendant is convicted in superior court, justices of the peace are entitled to full fees, if any are legally taxed in the bill of costs. (1909, c. 223; C. S. 1260.)

In New Hanover County, in a criminal action, if there is no prosecutor, and the defendant is convicted and serves out his sentence on the public roads of the county, the county shall pay one-half fees as provided in the first sentence of this section. (Rev., s. 1283; 1905, c. 511; C. S. 1260.)

In Northampton county where in criminal proceedings before the recorder's court, the grand jury, or superior court the defendant is found not guilty or a true bill is not found by the grand jury, or the defendant is found guilty and is sentenced by the court to serve on the roads or a term in jail, then the said county shall pay full fees to the sheriff, officer, or constable who served any process in such proceeding. (1937, c. 43.)

§ 6-38. Liability of county when defendant acquitted in supreme court.—If, on appeal to the supreme court in criminal actions, the defendant is successful, the county from which the appeal was taken shall pay one-half the costs of the appeal, and shall also pay all such sums as have been properly expended by the defendant for the transcript of the record and printing done under the rules of the court. (Rev., s. 1284; C. S. 1261.)

§ 6-39. County where offense committed liable for costs.—In all cases where the county is liable to pay costs, that county wherein the offense is alleged to have been committed shall be adjudged to pay them. (Rev., s. 1285; 1889, c. 354; C. S. 1262.)

§ 6-40. Liability of counties, where trial removed from one county to another.—The costs taxed in any case removed from another county for trial shall include the fees and expenses allowed for summoning the special venire, if one is ordered in the case, and the per diem and mileage of jurors who are impaneled to try the case, together with all other costs and expenses of the trial of the case, the amount of which, if not provided for by law, to be fixed by the presiding judge, so as to fully relieve the county in which the trial is had of all costs and expenses thereof. All fines, forfeitures, penalties and amercements imposed or levied in the case shall belong to the county from which the case was removed and be paid to the treasurer of said county. When a prisoner is sent from one county to another to be held for trial, or for any other cause or purpose, the county from which he is sent shall pay his prison expenses, unless the same is collected from him, on or before the first Monday in each month, and upon a failure to do so, it shall be the duty of the county to which he is sent to pay the same to the sheriff or jailer entitled to receive it at the same rate and under the same regulations as its own prison expenses are paid; and the county liable shall repay the same within thirty days after demand, and upon failing to do so the county to which the money is due shall be entitled to recover in the superior court, or, if the amount be within its jurisdiction, the court of justice of the peace of its own county, the amount due, with ten per cent additional, together with eight per cent interest on the sum due; and said courts of said county shall have full jurisdiction to hear, try and determine all actions and proceedings that may be brought for the purpose of enforcing the collection of the same. When the county to which such prisoner has been sent has paid the prison expenses and has made demand therefor upon the county liable as above provided and such demand be not complied with within ten days, the sheriff or jailer shall at once return such prisoner to the county from which such prisoner was sent, and deliver him to the sheriff or jailer thereof. (Rev., s. 1285; 1889, c. 354; 1901, c. 718; C. S. 1263.)

§ 6-41. Statement of costs against county to be filed with commissioners.—In all criminal actions where the county is liable in whole or in part for costs, it is the duty of the clerks of the courts to make out a statement of such costs from the record or docket, within thirty days after the hearing, trial, determination, or other disposition thereof, and file the same with the board of commissioners of the county. (Rev., s. 1286; Code, s. 736; 1873-4, c. 116, s. 3; C. S. 1264.)

§ 6-42. Expenses in conveying prisoner to another county; provision for payment. — When a sheriff or other officer arrests a person under a capias or other legal process, which requires him to have the person arrested before a court or judge of another county, and such sheriff or other officer is obliged to incur expense in the safe delivery of such person by reason of his failing to give bond for his appearance, or if the sheriff or other officer of the county to which the prisoner is to be carried incurs any expense in going for and conveying said prisoner to his county, then in either case the sheriff or other officer shall file with the court or judge issuing the capias or other legal process and with the register of deeds an itemized and sworn account of such expenses, which shall be presented by the register to the board of commissioners at their next regular meeting, to be audited by them. Such sworn statement shall be received by the said board as prima facie correct. Upon such auditing the board of commissioners shall cause to be issued to such sheriff or other officer an order on the county treasurer for the amount so audited and allowed by them, and shall notify the court or judge of their action, to the end that the amount so allowed shall be taxed in the costs to the use of the county. (Rev., s. 1287; 1885, c. 262; 1901, c. 64; C. S. 1265.)

§ 6-43. Cost of investigating lynchings.—In all cases of investigation and trial of the crime of lynching, the entire cost incurred in the prosecution, unless paid by the person or persons convicted, shall be paid by the county wherein the crime shall have been committed. (Rev., s. 1288; 1893, c. 461, s. 6; C. S. 1266.)

§ 6-44. Costs due credited on taxes due by payee.—Whenever a bill of costs in a criminal action is presented to any board of county commissioners in any county of the state for payment, as provided in this chapter and article, and the said bill is ordered to be paid by the said county commissioners, it shall be the duty of the clerk of said board, before issuing any orders for payment of the sum set out in said bill, to ascertain whether any person to whom any amount is due on said bill of costs, is indebted to the county for taxes, and if said person to whom said order is payable is so indebted, the order shall state in its face, "Payable only on taxes due .....County," and upon presentation of such order to the sheriff or tax collector, said sheriff or tax collector shall give said taxpayer credit for the sum designated in said order, and the said sheriff or tax collector shall be entitled to receive credit for said sum so paid in his settlement for taxes.

It shall be unlawful for any board of county commissioners to pay to any person who is indebted to the county for taxes any money payable out of the revenues of the county on account of costs in a criminal case, which is payable by the county, except as provided in paragraph one above. (1933, c. 245.)

Local Modification.—Alamance: 1935, c. 319, ss. 1, 2; Craven: 1933, c. 426; Granville: 1933, c. 426; Wilson: 1933, c. 501.

Art. 6. Liability of Defendant in Criminal Actions.

§ 6-45. Costs against defendant convicted, confessing, or submitting.—Every person convicted of an offense, or confessing himself guilty, or submitting to the court, shall pay the costs of prosecution. (Rev., s. 1291; Code, s. 1211; R. C., c. 35, s. 46; C. S. 1267.)

§ 6-46. Defendant imprisoned not discharged until costs paid.—If the sentence be that the guilty person be imprisoned for a time certain, and that he pay the costs, there shall be added to it that he shall remain in prison, after the expiration of the fixed time for his imprisonment, until the costs shall be paid, or until he shall otherwise be discharged according to law. (Rev., s. 1292; Code, s. 905; 1868-9, c. 178; C. S. 1268.)

§ 6-47. Judgment confessed; bond given to secure fine and costs.—In cases where a court, mayor, or a justice of the peace permits a defendant convicted of any criminal offense to give bond or confess judgment, with sureties to secure the fine and costs which may be imposed, the acceptance of such security shall be upon the condition that it shall not operate as a discharge of the original judgment against the defendant nor as a discharge of his person from the custody of the law until the fine and costs are paid. (Rev., s. 1293; Code, s. 749; 1885, c. 364; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1269.)

§ 6-48. Arrest for nonpayment of fine and costs.—In default of payment of such fine and costs, it is the duty of the court at any subsequent term thereof, on motion of the solicitor of the state, to order a capias to issue to the end that such defendant may be again arrested and held for the fine and costs until discharged according to law; and a justice of the peace or mayor may at any subsequent time arrest the defendant and hold him for the fine and costs until discharged according to law. (Rev., s. 1294; Code, s. 750; 1885, c. 364; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1270.)

Art. 7. Liability of Prosecutor for Costs.

§ 6-49. Prosecutor liable for costs in certain cases; court determines prosecutor.—In all criminal actions, if the defendant is acquitted, nolle prosequi entered, judgment against him arrested, or if the defendant is discharged from arrest for want of probable cause, the costs, including the fees of all witnesses summoned for the accused, whom the judge, court or justice of the peace before whom the trial took place shall certify to have been proper for the defense, shall be paid by the prosecutor, whether marked on the bill or warrant or not, whenever the judge, court or justice is of opinion that there was not reasonable ground for the prosecution, or that it was not required by the public interest. And every judge, court or justice is hereby fully authorized to determine who the prosecutor is at any stage of a criminal proceeding, whether before or after the bill of indictment has been found, or the defendant acquitted: Provided, that no person shall be made a prosecutor after the finding of the bill, unless he shall have been notified to show cause why he should not be made the prosecutor of record. (Rev., s. 1295; Code, s. 737; 1889, c. 34; R. C., c. 35, s. 37; 1799, c. 4, s. 19; 1800, c. 558; 1868-9, c. 277; 1874-5, c. 151; 1879, c. 49; C. S. 1271.)

§ 6-50. Imprisonment of prosecutor for nonpayment of costs, if prosecution frivolous.—Every such prosecutor may be adjudged not only to pay the costs, but he shall also be imprisoned for the nonpayment thereof, when the judge, court, or justice of the peace before whom the case was tried shall adjudge that the prosecution was frivolous or malicious. (Rev., s. 1297; Code, s. 738; R. C., c. 35, s. 37; 1800, c. 558; 1879, c. 49; 1881, c. 176; C. S. 1272.)

Art. 8. Fees of Witnesses.

§ 6-51. Not entitled to fees in advance.—Witnesses are not entitled to receive their fees in advance; but no witness in a civil action or special proceeding, unless summoned on behalf of the state or a municipal corporation, shall be compelled to attend more than one day, if the party by or for whom he was summoned shall, after one day's attendance, on request and presentation of a certificate, fail or refuse to pay what then may be due for traveling to the place of examination and for the number of days of attendance. (Rev., s. 1298; Code, s. 1368; 1868-9, c. 279, subch. 11, s. 3; C. S. 1273.)

§ 6-52. Fees and mileage of witnesses.—The fees of witnesses, whether attending at a term of court or before the clerk, or a referee, or commissioner, or arbitrator, shall be such amount per day as the board of commissioners of the respective counties may fix, to be not less than one dollar per day and not more than three dollars per day, except in the counties of Union, Nash, Brunswick, Randolph, Haywood, Polk, Surry, Swain, Alleghany, Anson, Graham, Ashe, Dare, Alexander, Cleveland, Clay, Transylvania, Harnett, Stanly, Mitchell, Burke, Franklin, Greene, Johnston, and Henderson, in which counties the fees shall be one dollar per day. They shall also receive mileage, to be fixed by the county commissioners of their respective counties, at a rate not to exceed five cents per mile for every mile necessarily traveled from their respective homes in going to and returning from the place of examination by the ordinary route, and ferriage and toll paid in going and returning. If attending out of their counties, they shall receive one dollar per day and five cents per mile going and returning by the ordinary route, and toll and ferriage expenses: Provided, that witnesses before courts of justices of the peace shall receive fifty cents per day in civil cases, and in criminal actions of which justices of the peace have final jurisdiction, witnesses attending the courts of the justices of the peace, under subpoena, shall receive fifty cents per day, and in hearings before coroners witnesses shall receive fifty cents per day and no mileage; but the party cast shall not pay for more than two witnesses subpoenaed to prove any one material fact, and no prosecutor or complainant shall pay any costs, unless the justice shall find that the prosecution was malicious and frivolous: Provided further, that experts, when compelled to attend and testify, shall be allowed such compensation and mileage as the court may in its discretion order. Witnesses attending before the utilities commission shall receive two dollars per day and five cents per mile traveled by the nearest practicable route: Provided further, that any sheriff, deputy sheriff, chief of police, police, patrolman, state highway patrolman, and/or any other law enforcement officer who receives a salary or compensation for his services from any source or sources other than the collection of fees, shall prove no attendance, and shall receive no fee as a witness for attending at any superior or inferior criminal court sitting within the territorial boundaries in which such officer has authority to make an arrest: Provided, further, that in all criminal cases tried in the state where the crime charged is of the grade of a felony, all witnesses who have been held in jail incommunicado pending the trial of such case shall be paid witness fees for each such day which such witness is so held in jail, in addition to the witness fees provided by law in criminal actions. (Rev., s. 2803; Code, ss. 2860, 3756; 1891, c. 147; 1905, cc. 279, 522; P. L. 1911, c. 402; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 61, ss. 2, 3; 1921, c. 62, s. 2; 1933, c. 40; 1941, c. 171; C. S. 3893.)

Local Modification.—Alamance: 1935, c. 264; Beaufort: 1931, c. 54; Cleveland, Henderson, McDowell, Polk, Rutherford: 1933, c. 495; Craven: 1935, c. 209; Duplin: 1935, c. 247; Forsyth: 1935, c. 333; Franklin: C. S. 3893; 1935, c. 93; Guilford: 1935, cc. 93, 185; Iredell: 1937 c. 240; New Hanover: 1935, c. 237; Pitt, Richmond, Rowan, Wayne: 1935, c. 93.

§ 6-53. Witness to prove attendance; action for fees.—Every person summoned, who shall attend as a witness in any suit, shall, before the clerk of the court, or before the referee or officer taking the testimony, ascertain by his own oath or affirmation the sum due for traveling to and from court, attendance and ferriage, which shall be certified by the clerk; and on failure of the party, at whose instance such witness was summoned (witnesses for the state and municipal corporations excepted), to pay the same previous to the departure of the witness from court, such witness may at any time sue for and recover the same from the party summoning him; and the certificate of the clerk shall be sufficient evidence of the debt. Where recovery may be had before a justice of the peace on a witness ticket, the justice shall deface it by writing the word judgment, and deliver the same to the person of whom it is recovered. (Rev., s. 1299; Code, s. 1369; R. C., c. 31, s. 73; 1777, c. 115, s. 46; 1796, c. 458; 1868-9, c. 279, subch. 11, ss. 2, 4; C. S. 1274.)

§ 6-54. Witness tickets to be filed; only two witnesses for single fact.—At the court where the cause is finally determined the party recovering judgment shall file in the clerk's office the witness tickets; the amount whereof shall be taxed in the bill of costs, to be levied and recovered for the benefit of said party. The party cast shall not be obliged to pay for more than two witnesses to prove a single fact. (Rev., s. 1300; Code, s. 1370; R. C., c. 31, s. 74; 1783, c. 189, s. 3; 1796, c. 458, s. 2; C. S. 1275.)

Local Modification.—Anson, Buncombe, Columbus, Forsyth, Gaston, Richmond, Robeson, Rutherford, Surry: C. S. 1276.

§ 6-55. Fees of witnesses before jury of view, commissioner, etc.—Witnesses summoned to appear at any survey, or before any jury of view, or before any commissioner, arbitrator, referee, or other person authorized to require their attendance, shall be entitled to the same fees as for similar attendance at the court of the county, and may prove, by their own oath, their attendance, mileage, and ferriage before such person, who is hereby authorized to administer the oath; and when they shall attend on any commission issuing from without the state, they may recover the fees for attendance against the party summoning them, or his agent or attorney directing them to be summoned; and when they shall attend under a commission or authority from any court in this state, the fees for attendance shall be proved as aforesaid, and be certified to the proper court and taxed among the costs of the cause, as if the witness had attended the court; but nevertheless, such fees may be immediately recovered against the party summoning. (Rev., s. 1301; Code, s. 1365; R. C., c. 31, s. 67; 1805, c. 685; 1848, c. 66; 1850, c. 188, s. 3; C. S. 1277.)

§ 6-56. Fees of witnesses before grand jury.—No witness shall receive pay for attendance in a criminal case before a grand jury, unless such witness has been summoned by direction in writing of the foreman of the grand jury, or of the solicitor prosecuting, addressed to the clerk of the court, commanding him to summon such witness, stating the name of the parties against whom his testimony may be needed, or unless he has been bound or recognized by some justice of the peace to appear before the grand jury. (Rev., s. 1302; Code, s. 743; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1278.)

Local Modification.—Martin, Moore, Wayne: C. S. 1279.

§ 6-57. Pay of state's witnesses.—All witnesses summoned or recognized in behalf of the state shall be allowed the same pay for their daily attendance, ferriage and mileage as is allowed to witnesses attending in civil suits; and such fees for attendance shall be paid by the defendant only upon conviction, confession or submission; and if the defendant is acquitted on any charge of an inferior nature, or a nolle prosequi be entered thereto, the court shall order the prosecution to pay the cost, if such prosecution appears to have been frivolous or malicious; but if the court is of opinion that such prosecution was neither frivolous nor malicious, and a greater number of witnesses have been summoned than were, in the opinion of the court, necessary to support the charge, the court may, nevertheless, order the prosecutor to pay the attendance of such unnecessary witnesses, if it appear that they were summoned at his special request. (Rev., s. 1296; Code, s. 1204; R. C., c. 35, s. 37; 1800, c. 558, s. 1; 1879, c. 49; 1879, c. 92, s. 3; 1881, c. 176; C. S. 1280.)

§ 6-58. County to pay state's witnesses in certain cases.—Witnesses summoned or recognized on behalf of the state to attend on any criminal prosecution in the superior or criminal courts where the defendant is insolvent, or by law is not bound to pay the same, and the court does not order them to be paid by the prosecutor, shall be paid by the county in which the prosecution was commenced. And in all cases wherein witnesses may be summoned or recognized to attend any such court to give evidence on behalf of the state, and the defendant is discharged, and in cases where the defendant breaks jail and is not afterwards retaken, the court shall order the witnesses to be paid. (Rev., s. 1289; Code, s. 740; R. C., c. 28, s. 9; 1804, c. 665; 1819, c. 1008; 1824, c. 1253; C. S. 1281.)

Local Modification.—Durham, Wilkes: C. S. 1282; Wake: C. S. 1282; 1929, c. 102; 1931, c. 201.

§ 6-59. County to pay defendant's witnesses in certain cases.—When the defendant is acquitted, a nolle prosequi entered, or judgment against him arrested, and it is made to appear to the court, by certificate of counsel or otherwise, that said defendant had witnesses, duly subpoenaed, bound or recognized, in attendance, and that they were necessary for his defense, it is the duty of the court, unless the prosecutor is adjudged to pay the costs, to make and file an order in the cause directing that said witnesses be paid by the county in such manner and to such extent as is authorized by law for the payment of state's witnesses in like cases. (Rev., s. 1290; Code, s. 747; 1879, c. 264; 1881, c. 312; C. S. 1283.)

§ 6-60. Fees of state witnesses; two only in misdemeanors; one fee for day's attendance. — No person shall receive pay as a witness for the state on the trial of any criminal action unless such person was summoned by the clerk under the direction of the solicitor prosecuting in the court in which the action originated, or in which it shall be tried if removed; and no solicitor shall direct that more than two witnesses shall be summoned for the state in any prosecution for a misdemeanor, nor shall any county or defendant in any such prosecution be liable for or taxed with the fees of more than two witnesses, unless the court, upon satisfactory reasons appearing, otherwise directs. And no witness summoned in a criminal action or proceeding shall be paid by the county for attendance in more than one case for any one day; nor shall the county be required to pay any such witness if his attendance shall be taxed in more than one case on the same day. (Rev., s. 1303; Code, s. 744; 1871-2, c. 186; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1284.)

§ 6-61. On appeal from justice only two witnesses bound over.—When the defendant appeals from the judgment of the justice of the peace, in any criminal action, it is the duty of such justice of the peace to select and bind over on behalf of the state not more than two witnesses, and neither the county nor the defendant shall be liable for the fees of more than two witnesses on such appeal, unless additional witnesses are summoned by order of the appellate court as provided in the preceding section. (Rev., s. 1304; Code, s. 745; 1879, c. 264; C. S. 1285.)

§ 6-62. Solicitor to announce discharge of state's witnesses.—It is the duty of all solicitors prosecuting in the several courts, as each criminal prosecution is disposed of by trial, removal, continuance or otherwise, to call, in open court, and announce the discharge of witnesses for the state, either finally or otherwise as the disposition of the case may require, and thereupon the clerk of the superior court shall enter such announcement of discharge, with the names of the witnesses discharged, in his minutes. (Rev., s. 1305; Code, s. 746; 1879, c. 264; 1881, c. 312; 1935, c. 26; C. S. 1286.)

§ 6-63. Witnesses not paid without certificate; court's discretion.—No county, prosecutor or defendant shall be liable to pay any witness, nor shall his fees be embraced in the bill of costs to be made up as hereinbefore provided, unless his name is certified to the clerk by the solicitor, or included in the order of the court. And the judge or justice may, in his discretion, for satisfactory cause appearing, direct that the witnesses, or any of them, shall receive no pay, or only a portion of the compensation authorized by law. The court, at any time within one year after judgment, may order that any witness may be paid who for any good reason satisfactory to the court failed to have his fees included in the original bill of costs. (Rev., s. 1306; Code, ss. 733, 748; 1879, c. 264; 1881, c. 312; C. S. 1287.)

Art. 9. Criminal Costs before Justices, Mayors, County or Recorder's Courts.

§ 6-64. Liability for criminal costs before justice, mayor, county or recorder's court.—The party convicted in a criminal action or proceeding, within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, before any justice, mayor, county or recorder's court, shall always be adjudged to pay the costs, and if the party charged be acquitted, the complainant shall be adjudged to pay the costs, and may be imprisoned for the nonpayment thereof, if the justice, mayor, county or recorder's court shall adjudge that the prosecution was frivolous or malicious. But in no action or proceeding in which a justice of the peace has final jurisdiction, commenced or tried in a court of a justice of the peace, mayor, county or recorder's court shall the county be liable to pay any costs: any defendants or prosecuting witness shall have the right of appeal to the superior court. (Rev., 1307; Code, s. 895; 1868-9, c. 178; 1879, c. 92, s. 3; 1881, c. 176; 1931, c. 252; C. S. 1288.)

Local Modification.—Jackson: 1933, c. 225; Martin: 1935, c. 20; Swain: 1935, c. 84.

§ 6-65. Imprisonment of defendant for nonpayment of fine and costs.—If the justice sentences the party found by him to be guilty to pay a fine and costs, and the same are not immediately paid, the justice shall commit the guilty person to the county jail until the same are paid, or until he is otherwise discharged according to law. (Rev., s. 1308; Code, s. 904; 1868-9, c. 178, subchap. 4, s. 15; C. S. 1289.)

SUBCHAPTER I. SUPREME COURT.

Art. 1. Organization and Terms.

§ 7-1. Number of justices.—The supreme court of North Carolina shall consist of a chief justice and six associate justices, to be chosen in the manner now prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 1532; Const., Art. 4, s. 6; 1937, c. 16, s. 1; C. S. 1403.)

§ 7-2. Election and term of office.—The justices of the supreme court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the state, as is provided for the election of members of the general assembly. They shall hold their offices for eight years. (Const., Art. 4, s. 21; C. S. 1404.)

§ 7-3. Salaries of supreme court justices.—Each justice of the supreme court shall be paid an annual salary of seven thousand five hundred dollars, and in lieu of and in commutation for expenses incident to attendance upon the court or amount equal to that allowed to each judge of the superior court, payable in equal monthly installments, as a part of his compensation. (Rev., s. 2764; Code, s. 3733; 1891, c. 193; 1903, c. 805; 1905, c. 208; 1907, cc. 841, 988; 1909, c. 486; 1911, c. 82; 1915, c. 44; 1919, c. 51; 1921, c. 25, s. 2; 1925, c. 214; 1927, c. 69, s. 1; 1939, c. 252; C. S. 3883.)

§ 7-4. Oath of office.—The justices, before they act as such, shall, before the governor or some judicial officer, take and subscribe the oaths appointed for the qualification of public officers, and also an oath of office, which shall be certified by the officer taking the same and delivered to the secretary of state, to be safely kept. (Rev., s. 1533; Code, s. 955; R. C., c. 33, s. 3; 1818, c. 963; C. S. 1405.)

§ 7-5. Name of court; where records to be kept.—The court bears the name and style of The Supreme Court of North Carolina, and is a court of record; and the papers and records belonging to the clerk's office thereof shall be constantly kept within the city of Raleigh. (Rev., s. 1536; Code, s. 954; R. C., c. 33, s. 2; R. S., c. 33, s. 2; 1884, c. 660; 1805, c. 674; 1818, c. 962; 1828, c. 13; C. S. 1406.)

§ 7-6. Quorum.—Four justices shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the court. (Rev., s. 1534; Code, s. 956; 1889, c. 230; 1937, c. 16, s. 2; C. S. 1407.)

§ 7-7. Terms of court.—There shall be held at the seat of government of the state in each year two terms of the supreme court, commencing on the first Monday in February and the last Monday in August.

The court shall sit at each term until all the business on the docket shall be determined or continued on good cause shown. In case no one of the justices shall attend the term during the first week thereof, at the end of that time the court shall stand adjourned till the next term, and the causes on the docket be continued. (Rev., ss. 1535, 1536; Code, ss. 953, 954; 1901, c. 660; 1887, c. 49; 1881, c. 178; R. C., c. 33, s. 2; R. S., c. 33, s. 2; 1804, c. 660; 1805, c. 674; 1818, c. 932; 1828, c. 13; 1842, c. 15; 1846, cc. 28, 29; C. S. 1408.)

Art. 2. Jurisdiction.

§ 7-8. Original jurisdiction. — The supreme court has original jurisdiction to hear claims against the state, but its decision shall be merely recommendatory; no process in the nature of execution shall issue thereon; they shall be reported to the next session of the general assembly for its action. (Rev., s. 1537; Const., Art. IV, s. 9; C. S. 1409.)

§ 7-9. Procedure to enforce claims against the state.—Any person having any claim against the state may file his complaint in the office of the clerk of the supreme court, setting forth the nature and grounds of his claim. He shall cause a copy of his complaint to be served on the governor, and therein request him to appear on behalf of the state and answer his claim. The copy shall be served at least twenty days before application for relief shall be made to the court. In case of an appearance for the state by the governor, or any other authorized officer, the pleadings and trial shall be conducted in such manner as the court shall direct. If an issue of fact shall be joined on the pleadings, the court shall transfer it to the superior court of some convenient county for trial by a jury, as other issues of fact are directed to be tried, and the judge of the court before whom the trial is had shall certify to the supreme court, at its next term, the verdict and the case, if any, made up and settled as prescribed in cases of appeal to the supreme court. If the state shall not appear in the action by any authorized officer, the court may make up issues and send them for trial, as aforesaid. The supreme court shall in all cases report the facts found, and their recommendation thereon, with the reasons thereof, to the general assembly at its next term. (Rev., s. 1538; Code, s. 948; C. S. 1410.)

§ 7-10. Appellate jurisdiction. — The supreme court has jurisdiction to review, upon appeal, any decision of the courts below, upon any matter of law or legal inference. And the jurisdiction of said court over "issues of fact" and "questions of fact" is the same exercised by it before the adoption of the constitution of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and the court has the power to issue any remedial writs necessary to give it a general supervision and control over the proceedings of the inferior courts. (Rev., s. 1539; Const., Art. IV, s. 8; C. S. 1411.)

§ 7-11. Power to render judgment and issue execution.—In every case the court may render such sentence, judgment and decree as on inspection of the whole record it shall appear to them ought in law to be rendered thereon; and it may at its discretion make the writs of execution which it may issue returnable either to the said court or to the superior court: Provided, that when an execution shall be made returnable as last mentioned, a certificate of the final judgment of the supreme court shall always be transmitted to the superior court aforesaid, and there be recorded: Provided further, that the said superior court may enforce obedience to the execution, and in the event of its not being executed may issue new or further execution or process thereon in the same manner as though the first execution had issued from the said superior court: Provided, also, that in criminal cases the decision of the supreme court shall be certified to the superior court from which the case was transmitted, which superior court shall proceed to judgment and sentence agreeable to the decision of the supreme court and the laws of the state. (Rev., s. 1542; Code, s. 957; R. C., c. 33, s. 6; 1799, c. 520; 1818, c. 963; 1830, c. 2; 1868-9, c. 962; C. S. 1412.)

§ 7-12. No judgment on interlocutory order; opinion certified.—When an appeal is taken to the supreme court from any interlocutory judgment, the supreme court shall not enter any judgment reversing, affirming or modifying the judgment, order or decree so appealed from, but shall cause their opinion to be certified to the court below, with instructions to proceed upon such order, judgment or decree, or to reverse or modify the same according to said opinion, and the court below shall enter upon its records the opinion at length, and proceed in the cause according to the instructions. (Rev., s. 1544; Code, s. 962; C. S. 1413.)

§ 7-13. Power of amendment and to require further testimony.—The supreme court has power to amend any process, pleading or proceeding either in form or substance for the purpose of furthering justice, on such terms as shall be deemed just at any time before final judgment; and to amend by making proper parties to any case where the court may deem it necessary and proper for the purposes of justice and on such terms as the court may prescribe. And whenever it appears necessary for the purpose of justice, the court may allow and direct the taking of further testimony in any case which may be pending in the court, under such rules as may be prescribed, or may remand the case to the intent that amendments may be made, further testimony taken or other proceedings had in the court below. (Rev., s. 1545; Code, s. 965; R. C., c. 33, s. 17; 1777, c. 115, s. 75; 1785, c. 233; 1792, c. 360; 1831, c. 46; C. S. 1414.)

§ 7-14. Proof of exhibits.—Exhibits or other documents relative to cases pending in the supreme court may be proved by the parol testimony of witnesses to be examined in the court in the same manner and under the same rules as such exhibits or documents may be proved in the superior court, and suitors in the court may have subpœnas to enforce the attendance of witnesses, who shall be liable to the same penalties and actions for nonattendance, and be entitled to the same pay for traveling, ferriage and attendance as witnesses in the superior court: Provided, that witnesses attending the supreme court shall be taxed in the bill of costs and paid by the party on whose behalf they may be summoned. (Rev., s. 1547; Code, s. 963; R. C., c. 33, s. 21; 1820, c. 1070; 1825, c. 1282; 1842, c. 1; C. S. 1415.)

§ 7-15. Opinions and judgments to be in writing.—The justices shall deliver their opinions and judgments in writing, and the clerk shall make no entry upon the records of the court that any cause pending therein is decided, nor give to any person a certificate of such decision, nor issue execution in such suit, until after the opinion of the court shall have been delivered publicly in open court, and a written copy of the same opinion shall have been delivered to the clerk; which shall afterwards be filed among the records of the court and published in the reports of the decisions made by the court: Provided, that the justices shall not be required to write their opinions in full except in cases in which they deem it necessary. (Rev., s. 1548; Code, s. 964; 1893, c. 379, s. 5; R. C., c. 33, s. 16; 1810, c. 785; C. S. 1416.)

§ 7-16. Certificates to superior courts; execution for costs; penalty.—The clerk on the first Monday in each month shall transmit by some safe hand, or by mail, to the clerks of the superior courts certificates of the decisions of the supreme court in cases sent from such courts, which shall have been on file ten days; and thereupon the clerks respectively shall issue execution for the costs incurred in the courts from which the cases were sent; and the clerk of the supreme court shall issue execution for the costs incurred in that court, including all publications in newspapers made in the progress of the cause in that court, and by order of the same, and all postage on letters which concern the transfer of original papers. And if the clerk shall fail for the space of twenty days to perform the duty herein enjoined of transmitting the certificates of decisions, he shall forfeit and pay to the party or parties in whose favor the supreme court shall have decided, one hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1549; Code, s. 968; 1887, c. 41; R. C., c. 33, s. 21; 1820, c. 1070; 1825, c. 1282; 1842, c. 1, s. 3; C. S. 1417.)

§ 7-17. Appeals dismissed.—Suits and appeals pending in the supreme court may be dismissed on failure to prosecute the same, after a rule obtained for that purpose and served on the plaintiff or appellant, his agent or attorney, at least thirty days before the term next ensuing that of entering the rule; when, if the party shall fail to prosecute his suit or appeal, the court shall, at the election of the adverse party, dismiss the suit or appeal at the costs of the plaintiff or appellant, or proceed to hear and determine it. (Rev., s. 1543; Code, s. 967; R. C., c. 33, s. 20; 1848, c. 28; Supm. Ct. Rules, 15, et seq.; C. S. 1418.)

§ 7-18. Petition to rehear; execution restrained.—A petition to rehear may be filed during the vacation succeeding the term of the court at which the judgment was rendered, or within twenty days after the commencement of the succeeding term, and upon the filing of such petition the chief justice, or any one of the associate justices, may, upon such terms as he sees fit, make an order restraining the issuing of an execution, or the collection and payment of the same, until the next term of said court, or until the petition to rehear shall have been determined. (Rev., s. 1546; Code, s. 966; R. C., c. 33, s. 18; Supreme Court Rules 52, 53, 54; C. S. 1419.)

§ 7-19. Records to be made.—The court may order the clerk to record such parts of the record of cases as it may deem necessary. (Rev., s. 1550; Code, s. 959; C. S. 1420.)

§ 7-20. Power to make rules of court.—The justices of the supreme court shall prescribe and establish from time to time rules of practice for that court and also for the superior courts. The clerk shall certify to the judges of the superior court the rules of practice for such court, to be entered on the records thereof in each county. (Rev., s. 1541; Code, s. 961; R. C., c. 33, s. 13; 1818, c. 963; C. S. 1421.)

§ 7-21. Supreme court to prescribe rules; rules to conform to law.—The supreme court is hereby vested with the power to prescribe from time to time the modes of making and filing proceedings, actions, and pleadings, and of entering orders and judgments and recording the same, and to prescribe and regulate the practice on appeals to the supreme court, and in the trial of actions in the superior court, and before referees: Provided, no rule or regulation so adopted shall be in conflict with any of the provisions of this code. Such rules as may be adopted by the supreme court shall be printed and distributed by the secretary of state as are the reports of the supreme court. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 92, s. 1, subsec. 20; C. S. 1421(a).)

Art. 3. Officers of Court.

§ 7-22. The court may appoint acting attorney-general.—If the attorney-general should fail at any term of the supreme court to attend to the business which by law is assigned him, the court may appoint some counsel learned in the law to discharge his duties during the term. (Rev., s. 1551; Code, s. 969; R. C., c. 33, s. 22; 1846, c. 29; C. S. 1422.)

§ 7-23. Reporter.—The supreme court may employ a reporter of its decisions. (Rev., s. 1552; Code, s. 3363; 1893, c. 379, s. 4; 1897, c. 429; C. S. 1423.)

§ 7-24. Supreme court reporter; salary; offices.—The governor and council of state shall fix the salary of the supreme court reporter at not to exceed three thousand dollars a year, and shall furnish the reporter with suitable offices at a cost not to exceed five hundred dollars a year, which shall be paid direct to the lessor upon the warrant of the state auditor drawn upon the state treasurer. The reporter may employ a stenographer and clerk, at a salary to be fixed by the governor and council of state, payable monthly to the stenographer and clerk by voucher drawn by the state auditor on the state treasurer. (Rev., s. 2771; Code, ss. 3363, 3728; 1893, c. 379; 1897, c. 429; 1911, c. 107; 1913, c. 59; 1917, c. 272; 1919, c. 276; 1921, c. 143; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 29; C. S. 3861, 3889.)

§ 7-25. Clerk.—The clerk of the supreme court shall be appointed by the court, and shall hold his office for eight years. (Rev., s. 1553; Const., Art. IV, s. 15; C. S. 1424.)

§ 7-26. Clerk of supreme court; salary; fees.—The clerk of the supreme court shall receive an annual salary of three hundred dollars, to be paid semiannually, on a certificate of the justices; and, in addition thereto, the following fees, namely: For recording the papers and proceedings in the causes decided in the supreme court, which are required by law to be recorded, such compensation as may be estimated by the justices of the court at each term, not to exceed thirty cents for each page recorded, to be paid by the treasurer on the certificate of the justices; for entering an appeal, one dollar; a continuance, thirty cents; a scire facias, eighty cents; a certiorari, eighty cents; a determination, two dollars; a certificate, sixty cents; a fieri facias, or other execution, fifty cents; a seal, twenty-five cents; a transcript, or copy of a record, twenty cents for each copy-sheet; a rule given for service, twenty-five cents; a rule not for service, fifteen cents; a subpoena, writ, or other process, one dollar; a commission, fifty cents; drawing a decree or judgment, by the copy-sheet, forty cents; a search, ten cents; affixing the seal to any writing requiring it, twenty-five cents; and an affidavit, twenty-five cents. (Rev., s. 2769; Code, s. 3738; R. C., c. 102, ss. 25, 26; 1870-1, c. 139, s. 7; C. S. 3886.)

§ 7-27. Clerk's bond and oath of office.—Before undertaking his duties, the clerk of the supreme court shall enter into bond with sufficient surety payable to the state of North Carolina, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties and for the safe keeping of all records committed to his custody, which bond shall be lodged with the secretary of state; and he shall also before said justices, or one of them, take the oaths which are prescribed for clerks of the superior court, and shall keep his office in the city of Raleigh. (Rev., s. 290; Code, s. 958; R. C., c. 33, s. 9; 1812, c. 829, s. 2; 1818, c. 963, s. 5; 1846, c. 28, s. 3; 1799, c. 520, s. 2; C. S. 1425.)

§ 7-28. Clerk to report money on hand.—The clerk of the supreme court shall, at the beginning of each fall term, produce to the court a statement on oath of all moneys remaining in his hands which have been paid into his office three years or more previous thereto, whether received directly from parties or from his predecessor in office, and is not detained in his hands by special order of the court, specifying therein the name of the person to whom the same is payable, and his address, if known; a copy of which report shall be transmitted to the state treasurer and to the auditor. (Rev., s. 1554; Code, s. 1864; R. C., c. 73; 1823, c. 1186; 1831, c. 3; C. S. 1426.)

§ 7-29. Marshal; librarian. — The Supreme Court may appoint a marshal of the Supreme Court, removable at will, who shall have the criminal and civil powers of a sheriff and shall attend upon the court during its sessions. The Supreme Court may consolidate the duties of the marshal with those of the librarian; when so consolidated the compensation of the marshal-librarian shall be fixed by the Supreme Court, with the approval of the governor. (Rev., s. 1555; Code, s. 950; 1873-4, c. 34; 1881, c. 306; 1939, c. 4; C. S. 1427.)

Art. 4. Supreme Court Library.

§ 7-30. Location.—The Supreme Court Library shall occupy the fifth floor of the Department of Justice Building. (Rev., s. 5083; 1885, c. 121, s. 7; 1913, c. 99, s. 1; C. S. 6588.)

§ 7-31. Trustees; powers; duties.—The Justices of the Supreme Court shall be, ex officio, the trustees of the Supreme Court Library and all moneys appropriated for its benefit shall be paid out under their direction and supervision. They shall have general charge and control of the library with authority to acquire, lend, exchange, and dispose of books and equipment in the interest of the library, but may, in their discretion, employ a librarian to discharge this function under such regulations and orders as they may prescribe. The trustees may employ an assistant librarian and such other assistants as may be deemed necessary for the efficient functioning of the library. (Rev., s. 5084; Code, s. 3606; 1883, c. 100; 1889, c. 482; 1937, c. 173; C. S. 1428, 6589.)

§ 7-32. Library hours; night use.—The library shall be kept open during such hours and under such conditions as the trustees may prescribe; attorneys of North Carolina, and such other persons as the trustees may deem proper, shall be admitted to the library at night upon application and compliance with reasonable rules adopted by the trustees. (Rev., s. 5085; 1889, c. 482; C. S. 6590.)

§ 7-33. Appropriation.—In addition to the funds regularly appropriated for the library, the clerk of the supreme court shall, upon order of the librarian under the general supervision and control of the trustees, expend for the maintenance and equipment of the library the funds, in excess of the actual expenses of each examination, paid in by the board of Law Examiners from the fees of applicants. (Rev., s. 5086; Code, s. 3613; Rev., 1872-3; 1925, c. 275, s. 6; C. S. 6591.)

Art. 5. Supreme Court Reports.

§ 7-34. Supreme court reports; contract for printing.—The Supreme Court is authorized to contract from time to time for the printing of its reports; to select a printer for the same and to prescribe such terms of contract as will insure, under the supervision of the Court, the prompt issue of the reports as soon as practicable after a sufficient number of opinions are filed. Such contract shall be made after consultation with the division of purchase and contract after a comparison of prices for similar work in other states to such an extent as may be practicable. (Rev., s. 5093; 1905, c. 400; 1929, c. 39, s. 1; 1931, c. 261, s. 3; 1931, c. 312, ss. 14, 15; C. S. 7296.)

§ 7-35. Supreme court reports; number printed.—Of the supreme court reports there shall be printed and bound in full sheep or buckram as many copies, not less than seven hundred and fifty, as in the opinion of the attorney-general and secretary of state may be sufficient to supply the demand. All such copies shall be delivered to the secretary of state. Advance sheets of the supreme court reports are hereby authorized to be printed, and to be sold, under the rules of the supreme court. (Rev., s. 5097; Code, s. 3632; 1893, c. 146, s. 2; 1897, c. 135; 1901, c. 401, s. 2; 1919, c. 314, s. 4; 1923, c. 25; C. S. 7297.)

Art. 6. Salaries of Supreme Court Employees.

§ 7-36. Governor and council to fix certain salaries.—The governor and council of state shall constitute a board to adjust and fix the compensation to be paid to the employees of the Supreme Court. (1921, c. 143, ss. 1, 4; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 29; 1924, c. 124; C. S. 3861.)

§ 7-37. Limit of salary; certificate and payment.—The compensation fixed under § 7-36 shall not exceed three thousand dollars per annum, except as may be elsewhere provided by law, for any individual employee, and shall be certified by the governor to the state auditor, and paid as provided by law for the payment of other salaries. (1921, c. 143, s. 2; C. S. 3861(a).)

§ 7-38. Proceedings and reports.—The proceedings of the board shall be kept by the state auditor, and reported to each regular session of the general assembly. (1921, c. 143, s. 3; C. S. 3861(b).)

§ 7-39. Employment of additional assistants; compensation.—The governor and council of state are authorized and empowered to employ any additional clerical or stenographic help, for the Supreme Court, upon written request from the Chief Justice, and when they are satisfied that such additional help is needed temporarily, to do the departmental work efficiently, and to fix the salary of such additional help at not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars for any one person. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 95, s. 2; C. S. 3861(d).)

SUBCHAPTER II. SUPERIOR COURTS.

Art. 7. Organization.

§ 7-40. Number of judges and solicitors.—The state shall be divided into twenty superior court judicial districts, for each of which a judge and a solicitor shall be chosen in the manner now prescribed by law. (1913, cc. 9, 63; Const., Art. 4, s. 10; C. S. 1429.)

§ 7-41. Election and term of office of judges.—The judges of the superior courts shall be elected in like manner as is provided for justices of the supreme court, and shall hold their offices for eight years. (Const., Art. 4, s. 21; C. S. 1430.)

§ 7-42. Salaries of superior court judges.—The salary of each of the judges of the superior court shall be six thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and each judge shall be allowed the sum of one thousand five hundred and fifty dollars in lieu of his traveling expenses, to be paid monthly. They shall also receive one hundred dollars per week and their actual expenses incurred in attending and holding special terms of court by assignment of the governor, which expenses shall be paid by the county in which such special term is held. (Rev., s. 2765; Code, ss. 918, 3734; 1891, c. 193; 1901, c. 167; 1905, c. 208; 1907, c. 988; 1909, c. 85; 1911, c. 82; 1919, c. 51; 1921, c. 25, s. 3; 1925, c. 227; 1927, c. 69, s. 2; C. S. 3884.)

§ 7-43. Election and term of office of solicitors.—A solicitor shall be elected for each judicial district by the qualified voters thereof, as is prescribed for members of the general assembly, who shall hold office for the term of four years, and prosecute on behalf of the state in all criminal actions in the superior courts, and advise the officers of justice in his district. (Const., Art. 4, s. 23; C. S. 1431.)

Local Modification.—Forsyth: 1927, c. 129.

§ 7-44. Solicitors; general compensation.—The several solicitors of the judicial districts of the state of North Carolina shall each receive, as full compensation for services as solicitor, the sum of forty-five hundred dollars ($4,500.00), to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the state treasury upon warrants duly drawn thereon, which said salaries shall be in lieu of fees or other compensation, except the expenses allowed in § 7-45. (Rev., s. 2767; Code, s. 3736; 1879, c. 240, s. 12; 1923, c. 157, s. 1; 1933, c. 78, s. 1; 1935, c. 278; C. S. 3890.)

§ 7-45. Appropriation for expenses of solicitor.—Each solicitor shall receive, in addition to the salary named in § 7-44, the sum of five hundred ($500.00) dollars per annum, which will cover all of his expenses while engaged in duties connected with his office. Said sum shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the state treasury upon warrant duly drawn thereon. (1923, c. 157, s. 2; 1933, c. 78, s. 2; 1937, c. 348; C. S. 3890(a).)

§ 7-46. Residence and rotation of judges.—Every judge of the superior court shall reside in the district for which he is elected. The judges shall preside in the courts of the different districts successively, but no judge shall hold the courts in the same district oftener than once in four years, but in case of the protracted illness of the judge assigned to preside in any district, or of any other unavoidable accident to him, by reason of which he shall be unable to preside, the governor may require any judge to hold one or more specified terms in said district in lieu of the judge assigned to hold the courts of the said district. (Const., Art. 4, s. 11; C. S. 1432.)

§ 7-47. Oath of office.—Every judge before he shall act as such shall, in open court, or before the governor, or before one of the judges of the supreme or superior courts, or before some justice of the peace, take the oath appointed for public officers, and also an oath of office. The officer or court before whom the judge shall qualify shall cause the judge to subscribe the oaths by him taken, and having certified the same, shall return the oaths to the secretary of state, who shall carefully preserve them; and if any judge shall act in his office before he shall have taken the oaths directed, he shall forfeit and pay two thousand dollars, one-half to the use of the state and the other half to the person who shall sue for the same. (Rev., s. 1497; Code, s. 924; R. C., c. 31, ss. 18, 19; 1777, c. 115; 1806, c. 694, s. 13; 1848, c. 45; C. S. 1433.)

§ 7-48. Vacancies filled.—All vacancies occurring by death, resignation or otherwise in the offices of justice of the supreme or judge of the superior court of the state shall be filled for the unexpired term at the next general election for members of the general assembly held after such vacancy is created. The persons elected at such election shall be commissioned by the governor immediately after the ascertainment of the result in the manner provided by law, and shall qualify and enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office within ten days after receiving such commission. (Rev., s. 1498; 1899, c. 613; Const., Art. 4, s. 25; C. S. 1434.)

§ 7-49. When judge may discharge solicitor.—When any state solicitor, authorized by election or appointment to act as prosecuting attorney for or in behalf of the state of North Carolina, in any of the courts of said state, shall appear at such court, in term time, drunk or intoxicated, or when it shall be brought to the knowledge of the judge presiding at such court that the solicitor whose duty it is to represent the state at such court is in the town in which such court is being held, drunk or intoxicated, at any time, it shall become the duty of such judge and he is hereby directed to immediately discharge such solicitor from the duties of such court, for the term then being held, and appoint some competent attorney to act as state solicitor for the term. The appointee shall be allowed all the fees and compensation belonging to the solicitor for such term. (Rev., s. 1499; 1901, c. 717; C. S. 1435.)

§ 7-50. Emergency judges; duties; compensation.—The persons embraced within the provisions of section 7-51 are hereby constituted emergency judges of the superior court under article four (4), section eleven (11), of the constitution of this state, and are authorized to hold the superior courts of any county or district when the judge assigned thereto, by reason of sickness, disability, or other cause, is unable to attend and hold said court, and when no other judge is available to hold the same, and to hold special terms when commissioned so to do by the governor, and as compensation for holding such special terms shall receive their actual expenses and in addition thereto fifty dollars per week, to be paid by the county in which such special term is held.

In case of emergency arising as provided in said section, the governor shall designate the person to act as emergency judge who shall receive his actual expenses only incurred while so acting, to be paid by the treasurer upon warrant of the auditor, upon certificate of the judge: Provided, that the county asking the governor for an emergency judge shall have the privilege of requesting the assignment of a particular judge. Such emergency judges shall be subject to all the regulations respecting superior court judges except as otherwise provided in §§ 7-50, 7-52, and 7-53. (1921, c. 125, ss. 2, 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 20, s. 3; 1941, c. 52, s. 1; C. S. 1435(a).)

§ 7-51. Salaries of resigned or retired justices of supreme court and judges of superior courts.—Every justice of the supreme court and regular or special judge of the superior court who has heretofore resigned or retired from office at the end of his term, or who shall hereafter resign or retire at expiration of his term, who has attained the age of sixty-five (65) years at the date of his resignation or retirement, and who has served for fifteen (15) years on the supreme court or on the superior court, or on the supreme and superior courts combined, or twelve consecutive years on the supreme court, or who, without regard to the age of such judge or justice having served one full term or six years on either the supreme or superior court, and while still in active service thereon, shall have become totally disabled through accident or disease to carry on the duties of said office; or who, without regard to the age of such judge or justice, by reason of such accident, without fault on his part, shall suffer such physical impairment as not to be able to efficiently perform the duties of his office and who retires at the end of his term, shall receive for life two-thirds (2/3) of the annual salary from time to time received by the justices of the supreme court or judges of superior court, respectively, payable monthly; provided, that any such justice or judge, who has or shall have served as such for twenty-five years or longer (whether continuously or not), and whose seventieth birthday shall occur within six months next succeeding his resignation or retirement, shall be entitled to all of the benefits of this section from and after the date of his resignation or retirement, and shall also be subject to the other provisions of this section. The provisions herein as to the amount of lifetime pay shall relate back to and become effective as of the fourth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and the state treasurer is authorized and directed to pay on the warrant of the state auditor the salary of any justice or judge as affected by such provisions, less any amount heretofore paid. (1921, c. 125, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 20, ss. 1, 2; 1927, cc. 133, 201; 1935, cc. 233, 400; 1937, c. 199; 1939, c. 258; C. S. 3884(a).)

§ 7-52. Jurisdiction and powers of emergency judges.—To the end that emergency judges provided for in § 7-51 shall have the fullest power and authority sanctioned by Article Four (IV), Section Eleven (11), of the Constitution of North Carolina, such judges are hereby vested, in the courts which they are duly appointed to hold, with the same power and authority in all matters whatsoever that regular judges holding the same courts would have. An emergency judge duly assigned to hold the court of a particular county shall have, during said term of court, in open court and in chambers, the power and authority of a regular judge in all matters whatsoever arising in that judicial district that could properly be heard or determined by a regular judge holding the same term of court. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 94, s. 1; 1925, c. 8; 1941, c. 52, s. 2; C. S. 1435(b).)

§ 7-53. Orders returnable to another judge; notice.—If any special or emergency judge has made any matters returnable before him, and subsequent thereto he should be called upon by the governor to hold court elsewhere, said judge shall make an order directing said matter to be heard before some other judge, setting forth in said order the time and place same is to be heard, and send a copy of said order to the attorney or attorneys representing the parties plaintiff and defendant in such matter. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 94, s. 2; C. S. 1435(c).)

§ 7-54. Governor to make appointment of four special judges.—The governor of North Carolina may appoint four persons who shall possess the requirements and qualifications of special judges as prescribed by article four, section eleven of the constitution, and who shall take the same oath of office and otherwise be subject to the same requirements and disabilities as are or may be prescribed by law for judges of the superior court, save the requirements of residence in a particular district, to be special judges of the superior courts of the state of North Carolina. Two of the said judges shall be appointed from the western judicial division and two from the eastern judicial division, as now established. The governor shall issue a commission to each of said judges so appointed for a term to begin July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and to end June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three, and the said commission shall constitute his authority to perform the duties of the office of a special judge of the superior courts during the time named herein. (1927, c. 206, s. 1; 1929, c. 137, s. 1; 1931, c. 29, s. 1; 1933, c. 217, s. 1; 1935, c. 97, s. 1; 1937, c. 72, s. 1; 1939, c. 31, s. 1; 1941, c. 51, s. 1.)

§ 7-55. Time for appointment.—Each special judge shall be appointed by the governor on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and shall be subject to removal from office for the same causes and in the same manner as regular judges of the superior court; and vacancies occurring in the offices created by §§ 7-54 to 7-61 shall be filled by the governor in like manner for the unexpired term thereof. (1927, c. 206, s. 2; 1929, c. 137, s. 2; 1931, c. 29, s. 2; 1933, c. 217, s. 2; 1935, c. 97, s. 2; 1937, c. 72, s. 2; 1939, c. 31, s. 2; 1941, c. 51, s. 2.)

§ 7-56. Further appointments.—The governor is further authorized and empowered, if in his judgment the necessity exists therefor, to appoint at such time as he may determine, not exceeding four additional judges, two of whom shall be residents of the eastern judicial division and two of whom shall be residents of the western judicial division, whose term of office shall begin from his or their appointment and qualification and end June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three. All the provisions of §§ 7-54 to 7-61 applicable to the four special judges shall be applicable to the four special judges authorized to be appointed under this section. (1927, c. 206, s. 3; 1929, c. 137, s. 3; 1931, c. 29, s. 3; 1933, c. 217, s. 3; 1935, c. 97, s. 3; 1937, c. 72, s. 3; 1939, c. 31, s. 3; 1941, c. 51, s. 3.)

§ 7-57. Extent of authority. — The authority conferred in §§ 7-54 to 7-61 upon the governor, pursuant to article four, section eleven, of the constitution of North Carolina, to appoint such special judges shall extend to regular as well as special terms of the superior court, with either civil or criminal jurisdiction, or both, as may be designated by the statutes or by the governor pursuant to law. (1927, c. 206, s. 4; 1929, c. 137, s. 4; 1931, c. 29, s. 4; 1933, c. 217, s. 4; 1935, c. 97, s. 4; 1937, c. 72, s. 4; 1939, c. 31, s. 4; 1941, c. 51, s. 4.)

§ 7-58. Jurisdiction as of regular judges.—To the end that such special judges shall have the fullest power and authority sanctioned by article four, section eleven, of the constitution of North Carolina, such judges are hereby vested, in the courts which they are duly appointed to hold, with the same power and authority in all matters whatsoever that regular judges holding the same courts would have. A special judge duly assigned to hold the court of a particular county shall have during said term of court, in open court and in chambers, the same power and authority of a regular judge in all matters whatsoever arising in that judicial district that could properly be heard or determined by a regular judge holding the same term of court. (1927, c. 206, s. 5; 1929, c. 137, s. 5; 1931, c. 29, s. 5; 1933, c. 217, s. 5; 1935, c. 97, s. 5; 1937, c. 72, s. 5; 1939, c. 31, s. 5; 1941, c. 51, s. 5.)

§ 7-59. Salary, expenses; terms; practice of law.—The special judges so appointed shall receive the same salary and traveling expenses as now are, or may hereafter be, paid or allowed to judges of the superior court for holding their regularly assigned courts, and they shall hold all such regular and special terms of court as they may be directed and assigned by the governor to hold, without additional compensation: Provided, that no person appointed under §§ 7-54 to 7-61 shall engage in the private practice of law. (1927, c. 206, s. 6; 1929, c. 137, s. 6; 1931, c. 29, s. 6; 1933, c. 217, s. 6; 1935, c. 97, s. 6; 1937, c. 72, s. 6; 1939, c. 31, s. 6; 1941, c. 51, s. 6.)

§ 7-60. Powers after commission expires.—Nothing in §§ 7-54 to 7-61 shall be construed to prohibit such special judges from settling cases on appeal and making all proper orders in regard thereto after the time for which they were commissioned has expired. (1927, c. 206, s. 7; 1929, c. 137, s. 7; 1931, c. 29, s. 7; 1933, c. 217, s. 7; 1935, c. 97, s. 7; 1937, c. 72, s. 7; 1939, c. 31, s. 7; 1941, c. 51, s. 7.)

§ 7-61. Effect on sections 7-50 and 7-51.—Nothing in §§ 7-54 to 7-60 shall in any matter affect §§ 7-50 and 7-51. (1927, c. 206, s. 8; 1929, c. 137, s. 8; 1931, c. 29, s. 8; 1933, c. 217, s. 8; 1935, c. 97, s. 8; 1937, c. 72, s. 8; 1939, c. 31, s. 8; 1941, c. 51, s. 8.)

§ 7-62. Disposition of motions where judge disqualified. — Whenever the judge before whom any motion is made, either at term time or at chambers, shall disqualify himself from determining it, he may in his discretion refer the same for disposition to the resident judge of any adjoining district, who shall have full power and authority to hear and determine the cause in the same manner as if he were the presiding judge of the district in which the cause arose. (1939, c. 48.)

Art. 8. Jurisdiction.

§ 7-63. Original jurisdiction. — The superior court has original jurisdiction of all civil actions whereof exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to some other court; and of all criminal actions in which the punishment may exceed a fine of fifty dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days; and of all such affrays as shall be committed within one mile of the place where, and during the time, such court is being held; and of all offenses whereof exclusive original jurisdiction is given to justices of the peace, if some justice of the peace shall not within twelve months after the commission of the offense proceed to take official cognizance thereof. (Rev., s. 1500; Code, s. 922; 1889, c. 504, s. 2; Const., Art. IV, ss. 12, 27; 1879, c. 92, s. 11; 1881, c. 210; C. S. 1436.)

§ 7-64. Concurrent jurisdiction.—In all cases in which by statute original jurisdiction of criminal actions has been, or may hereafter be, taken from the superior court and vested exclusively in courts of inferior jurisdiction, such exclusive jurisdiction is hereby divested, and jurisdiction of such actions shall be concurrent and exercised by the court first taking cognizance thereof. The provisions of this section shall remain in full force and effect, unless expressly repealed by some subsequent Act of the General Assembly, and shall not be repealed by implication or by general repealing clauses in any Act of the General Assembly conferring exclusive jurisdiction on inferior courts in misdemeanor cases which may be hereafter enacted. Appeal shall be, as heretofore, to the superior court from all judgments of such inferior courts: Provided, that this section shall not apply to the counties of Alleghany, Cabarrus, Caswell, Cherokee, Clay, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Davidson, Edgecombe, Gaston, Gates, Graham, Granville, Guilford, Halifax, Harnett, Henderson, Hertford, Hyde, Iredell, Jones, Lenoir, New Hanover, Pamlico, Perquimans, Rockingham, Rutherford, Scotland, Surry, Union and Warren. (1919, c. 299; 1923, c. 98; 1941, c. 265; C. S. 1437.)

§ 7-65. Jurisdiction in vacation or at term.—In all cases where the superior court in vacation has jurisdiction, and all of the parties unite in the proceedings, they may apply for relief to the superior court in vacation, or in term time, at their election. The resident judge of the judicial district and the judge regularly presiding over the courts of the district, shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all matters and proceedings where the superior court has jurisdiction out of term. (Rev., s. 1501; Code, c. 10, s. 230; 1871-2, c. 3; 1939, c. 69; C. S. 1438.)

§ 7-66. Appellate jurisdiction. — The superior court has appellate jurisdiction of all issues of law or of fact, determined by a clerk of the superior court or a justice of the peace, and of all appeals from inferior courts for error assigned, in matters of law, as provided by law. (Rev., s. 1502; Const., Art. IV, ss. 12, 27; Code, s. 923; C. S. 1439.)

§ 7-67. Transfer of cases pending in abolished inferior court.—In case of the abolition of any court inferior to the superior court (except courts of the justices of the peace), all cases and matters then in such court, not finally disposed of, and all records of such court, shall forthwith be transferred and delivered to the superior court of the county in which such inferior court has functioned, for trial or other disposition of such cases and matters as may be necessary and proper.

The superior court to which such cases and matters are transferred shall have the power and jurisdiction to hear, deal with and dispose of the same to the same extent as would said inferior court had its existence continued. (1941, c. 117.)

Art. 9. Judicial Districts and Terms of Court.

§ 7-68. Number of districts.—The state shall be divided into twenty-one superior court judicial districts, numbered first to twenty-first, composed of the counties hereinafter designated. (1913, c. 63; 1913, c. 196; 1937, c. 413, s. 1; C. S. 1441.)

§ 7-69. Eastern and western judicial divisions.—The state shall be divided into two judicial divisions, the Eastern and Western Judicial Divisions. The counties which are now or may hereafter be included in the judicial districts from one to ten, both inclusive, shall constitute the Eastern Division, and the counties which are now or may hereafter be included in the judicial districts from eleven to twenty-one, both inclusive, shall constitute the Western Division. The judicial districts shall retain their numbers from one up to twenty-one, and all such other districts as may from time to time be added by the creation of new districts shall be numbered consecutively. (1915, c. 15; 1937, c. 413, s. 2; C. S. 1442.)

§ 7-70. Terms of court.—A superior court shall be held by a judge thereof at the courthouse in each county. The twenty-one judicial districts of the state shall be composed of the counties designated in this section, and the superior courts in the several counties shall be opened and held in each year at the times herein set forth. Each court shall continue in session one week, and be for the trial of criminal and civil cases, except as otherwise provided, unless the business thereof shall be sooner disposed of. Each county shall have the number of regular weeks of superior court as set out in this section: Provided, however, that the schedule of courts of any county or judicial district may be revised or reformed and the number of terms of court may be increased or decreased from time to time as may appear advisable to the court calendar commission; which said commission shall be composed of the chief justice of the supreme court and four judges of the superior court, to be appointed by the governor for a period of four years each. The members of said commission shall serve without compensation other than their necessary expenses incurred in attending meetings of said commission. (1913, cc. 63, 196; 1937, c. 408; C. S. 1443.)

Eastern Division

First District

The first district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Currituck—Third Monday in July, for civil cases only; first Monday in March; first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 51; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 23, s. 2; 1939, c. 59; C. S. 1443.)

Camden—First Monday after the first Monday in March and the fourth Monday after the first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; 1921, c. 105; 1937, c. 283, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Pasquotank—Eighth Monday before the first Monday in March for the trial of civil cases only; third Monday before the first Monday in March to continue for two weeks, the first week for the trial of civil cases only and the second week for the trial of criminal cases only; second Monday after the first Monday in March for the trial of civil cases only; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases only; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in March for the trial of criminal cases only; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases only; second Monday after the first Monday in September for the trial of civil cases only; fifth Monday after the first Monday in September to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases only; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September to continue for two weeks, the first week for the trial of civil cases only and the second week for the trial of criminal cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess., 1913, c. 51; 1921, c. 105; 1923, c. 232; Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 631; 1929, c. 167; 1933, cc. 3, 129; C. S. 1443.)

Perquimans—Seventh Monday before the first Monday in March, for civil cases only, for which term a special judge to be assigned by the governor; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March; eighth Monday after the first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess., 1913, c. 51; 1931, c. 6; 1933, c. 286; C. S. 1443.)

Chowan—Fourth Monday after the first Monday in March; eighth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for one week, for the trial of civil cases only; first Monday after the first Monday in September; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; 1931, c. 87; 1933, c. 456; 1937, c. 102; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Gates—Third Monday after the first Monday in March; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; 1935, c. 70; C. S. 1443.)

Dare—Twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March; seventh Monday after the first Monday in September. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 51; C. S. 1443.)

Tyrrell—Seventh Monday after the first Monday in March; fourth Monday after the first Monday in September, and for this term a special Judge may be assigned; fourth Monday before the first Monday in March, for civil cases only. Upon recommendation of the local bar, the board of commissioners for the county of Tyrrell, at their option, may abolish and suspend the opening and holding, in any year, of the term above provided for the week commencing on the fourth Monday before the first Monday in March, by notifying the governor and the judge scheduled to hold said term, at least thirty days prior to the date for opening same, that such term of court is not desired. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 51; 1919, c. 128, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 23, s. 1; 1921, c. 83; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 19; 1923, c. 124; Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 389; 1927, c. 123; 1931, c. 92; 1933, c. 126; C. S. 1443.)

Hyde—Eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March; sixth Monday after the first Monday in September.

In addition to the terms of court now provided by law to be held in Hyde county, the following term of court shall be opened and held in each year, except as hereinafter provided, in the manner and at the time herein set forth, to-wit: To convene on the third Monday in August of each year and to continue for one week for the trial of civil cases only. If the judge regularly assigned to the district in which said court is situate be unable to hold any term of court provided in the first sentence of this paragraph, for any cause set out in article four, section eleven of the constitution, the governor may appoint a judge to hold such term from among the regular, special or emergency judges. If, in the opinion of the board of commissioners of Hyde county, it is not advisable or necessary to hold said additional term of court, and such fact is so stated in a resolution duly adopted by a majority of said board on or before the second Monday in July next preceding the day for the convening of said term, then said term shall not be held on the third Monday in August of that year as provided in this paragraph. Upon the adoption of such a resolution, the clerk of said board shall immediately notify the judge, who has been assigned to hold the additional term, that the same will not be held, and no jury for the said term shall be drawn; but if no such resolution shall be adopted on or before the second Monday in July as provided above, then it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners to cause the jury to be drawn in the manner now prescribed by law for the drawing of a jury for the trial of civil cases in regular terms of the superior court. (1913, c. 196; 1935, c. 191; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Beaufort—Seventh Monday before the first Monday in March for two weeks, the first week for criminal cases only, and the second week for criminal and civil cases; second Monday before the first Monday in March for two weeks for civil cases only; second Monday after the first Monday in March for criminal cases only; fifth Monday after the first Monday in March for civil cases only; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March for two weeks for civil cases only; sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in March for the trial of criminal and civil cases; second Monday after the first Monday in September for the trial of criminal cases with a grand jury in attendance; third Monday after the first Monday in September for civil cases only; fifth Monday after the first Monday in September for civil cases only; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September for criminal cases and consent trials and decrees in civil cases; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in September for civil cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 51; 1919, c. 128, ss. 3, 4; 1927, c. 111; 1931, cc. 4, 8, 87; 1933, c. 3; c. 456, s. 2; 1935, c. 176; 1937, cc. 40, 283, s. 2; C. S. 1443.)

Second District

The second district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Washington—Eighth Monday before the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March, for civil cases only; eighth Monday before the first Monday in September; seventh Monday after the first Monday in September, for civil cases only. (1913, cc. 63, 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 51; 1919, c. 128, s. 2; c. 133; 1923, c. 227; 1929, c. 54; C. S. 1443.)

Martin—Second Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in March; second Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in September; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March and eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for two weeks, for the trial of civil cases only. For the last two terms of court the Governor is hereby directed to appoint a judge to hold the same from among the regular or emergency judges. (1913, c. 196; 1919, c. 133; 1924, c. 12; 1929, c. 124; C. S. 1443.)

The second Monday before the first Monday in March; the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for two weeks and each to be for the trial of civil cases only. The ninth Monday after the first Monday in March; the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September; the fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for one week and each to be for the trial of criminal cases only. The eighth Monday before the first Monday in September; the fourth Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for one week, and each to be for the trial of civil cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 61; 1917, c. 124; 1921, cc. 14, 149; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 40; 1931, c. 246; 1937, c. 52; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Brunswick—The sixth Monday before the first Monday in March; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March; first Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for one week, and each to be for the trial of both criminal and civil cases. The fifth Monday after the first Monday in March; the second Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for one week and each to be for the trial of civil cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 56; 1917, c. 18; 1921, c. 14; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

All motions and orders, applications for injunctions, receiverships, etc., in the eighth district, may be heard at criminal terms upon five days notice. Divorce cases may be tried at any term of court, civil or criminal. (1921, c. 14; C. S. 1443.)

Ninth District

The ninth district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Bladen—Eighth Monday before the first Monday in March for the trial of civil cases, and the trial of criminal cases, where bills have been found, and cases on appeal from the recorder's court and courts of the justices of the peace; the second Monday after the first Monday in March for the trial of criminal cases only; the eighth Monday after the first Monday in March for the trial of civil cases only; the fourth Monday before the first Monday in September for the trial of civil cases only; the second Monday after the first Monday in September for the trial of criminal cases only. Said courts to continue for one week unless the business is sooner disposed of, and grand juries to be summoned only for the March and September terms of court: Provided, that if the necessity should arise, and the county commissioners of Bladen county should so determine and order, a grand jury may be summoned by said commissioners for the January terms of court; and such grand jury so summoned shall have, perform and exercise all of the powers and duties of regular grand juries herein provided for the March and September terms of court. At any term for the trial of criminal cases, civil cases may be tried by consent. (1913, c. 196; 1915, c. 110; 1925, c. 64; 1927, c. 166, s. 1; 1929, c. 27, s. 1; 1931, c. 96; 1933, c. 77; Pub. Loc. 1935, c. 101, s. 3; 1937, c. 159; C. S. 1443.)

If it shall appear to the board of county commissioners of Bladen County at any time before the jury is summoned for a term of superior court of Bladen County that there is not sufficient business to justify a term of such court or that there are no cases of sufficient importance to warrant the expense of a term of such court, the said board of commissioners are authorized to order that the jury for such term be not summoned, and all cases which would come on for trial at such term shall be continued. In case of the continuance of a term of superior court of Bladen County as herein provided the board of commissioners of Bladen County shall notify, or cause to be notified, the solicitor of the district, the judge holding the courts of the district and the court stenographer of their action. (1933, c. 119.)

Cumberland—Seventh Monday before the first Monday in March; first Monday in March; the first Monday after the first Monday in March; the eighth Monday after the first Monday in March; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in March; first Monday before the first Monday in September; fifth Monday after the first Monday in September; and the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September, the last for two weeks; each for criminal cases only. If the regular judge is unable for any reason set forth in article four, section eleven of the constitution to hold the terms above provided for beginning on the first Monday in March, the eighth Monday after the first Monday in March, and the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September, the governor shall assign a special, emergency or other regular judge to hold said terms. Third Monday before the first Monday in March; third Monday after the first Monday in March; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March; third Monday after the first Monday in September; seventh Monday after the first Monday in September, each to continue for two weeks, for civil cases only. At all criminal terms of court civil cases may be heard by consent of the parties, and motions may be heard upon ten days' notice to the adverse party prior to said term. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess., 1913, c. 23; 1931, c. 96; 1937, c. 159; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Hoke—Sixth Monday before the first Monday in March; seventh Monday after the first Monday in March; second Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for one week; tenth Monday after the first Monday in September; and fifth Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for one week for the trial of civil cases and no longer. The commissioners of Hoke County, whenever in their discretion the best interests of the county demand it, shall have and are hereby granted the power and authority, by order, to abrogate, in any year, the holding of any one of the above set forth terms of court, and when said term is so abrogated, thirty days' notice of the same shall be given by said commissioners by the publication of same in a newspaper published in said county and at the court house door: Provided, that in the event the regular term at which the grand jury is selected shall be the term abrogated then the grand jury shall continue to serve until the following term of court at which time a new grand jury shall be selected. (1913, c. 196; 1917, c. 233; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 81; 1927, c. 155; 1931, c. 96; 1933, c. 333; 1939, c. 108; C. S. 1443.)

Robeson—Fifth Monday before the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of criminal cases; first Monday before the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of civil cases; fifth Monday after the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of criminal cases; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of civil cases; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in March one week for the trial of civil cases; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in March one week for the trial of criminal cases; eighth Monday before the first Monday in September two weeks for the trial of civil cases; third Monday before the first Monday in September one week for the trial of criminal cases; first Monday in September two weeks for the trial of criminal cases; fifth Monday after the first Monday in September two weeks for the trial of civil cases; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September one week for the trial of criminal cases; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in September two weeks for the trial of civil cases; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in September one week for the trial of criminal cases.

There shall also be held in Robeson county superior courts, to which judges shall be assigned, the following terms: Second Monday after the first Monday in March one week for the trial of criminal cases; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of criminal cases; third Monday after the first Monday in September one week for the trial of criminal cases; seventh Monday after the first Monday in September one week for the trial of criminal cases.

At all criminal terms all motions and divorce cases may be heard and jury trials in all civil cases may be heard by consent. The commissioners of Robeson county, by and with the consent and approval of the solicitor of the ninth judicial district, in writing, may call off any term of superior court in said county scheduled above for the trial of criminal cases to which the judge must be assigned. The grand jury shall convene at all criminal terms of said courts unless the solicitor of the ninth judicial district shall, prior to the said court, notify the sheriff of Robeson county not to assemble the grand jury for said term, and such notice, in writing, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of commissioners of said county, and shall be spread upon the minutes of the board of commissioners thereof. (1913, c. 196; 1915, c. 208; 1919, c. 105; 1923, c. 209; Pub. Loc. 1925, cc. 12, 22, 519; 1927, c. 84; 1931, c. 96; 1935, c. 132; 1937, c. 167; 1939, c. 171, s. 2; C. S. 1443.)

In addition there shall also be held in Robeson county, superior courts to which judges shall be assigned, the following terms:

Seventh Monday before the first Monday in March two weeks for the trial of civil cases; seventh Monday after the first Monday in March one week for the trial of civil cases; first Monday before the first Monday in September one week for the trial of civil cases; tenth Monday after the first Monday in September one week for the trial of civil cases. (1939, c. 171, s. 1.)

Tenth District

The tenth district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held in each year at the following times, to-wit:

S. 1443.)

Twelfth District

The twelfth district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Guilford—Sixth Monday before the first Monday in March, one week; first Monday in March, two weeks; eighth Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; fifth Monday before the first Monday in September, one week; second Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks; tenth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week, for the trial of criminal cases only.

Eighth Monday before the first Monday in March, two weeks; fourth Monday before the first Monday in March, two weeks; second Monday after the first Monday in March, two weeks; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March, two weeks; tenth Monday after the first Monday in March, two weeks; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in March, two weeks; fourth Monday before the first Monday in September, two weeks; first Monday before the first Monday in September, two weeks; second Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks; fourth Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks; eighth Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks; for the trial of civil cases only. In addition to the terms of court now provided by law to be held in Guilford county, the following terms of court shall be opened and held in each year in the manner and at the times herein set forth, to-wit: second Monday before the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases; fourth Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases; eighth Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for one week for the trial of criminal cases; seventh Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for one week for the trial of criminal cases; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases.

If the judge regularly assigned to the district in which said county is situate is unable because of any cause set out in article four, section eleven, of the constitution to hold any of the last five preceding terms of court, then the governor shall assign another judge to hold such term. The commissioners of Guilford county are authorized and empowered in their discretion to pay the solicitor prosecuting the docket for the two criminal terms above provided, or other extra terms of criminal court of said county, not exceeding one hundred and fifty ($150.00) dollars a week for such terms, or to designate some other competent attorney to prosecute at any such terms on behalf of the state and to pay him not exceeding said sum for each such week of work by him.

In addition to the terms of court now provided by law to be held in Guilford county, the following additional terms of superior court for the trial of criminal cases only in Guilford county shall be held as follows: Ninth Monday before the first Monday in March, one week; third Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; seventh Monday before the first Monday in September, one week; sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week. First Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; eighth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, one week; eighth Monday before the first Monday in March, one week; fourth Monday before the first Monday in March, one week; seventh Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March, one week. (1913, c. 196; 1921, c. 22; 1923, c. 169; 1927, c. 211; 1935, c. 184; 1939, c. 42; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Davidson—Fifth Monday before the first Monday in March, one week; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in March, one week; second Monday before the first Monday in September, one week, for the trial of criminal cases only.

Second Monday before the first Monday in March, two weeks; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March, two weeks; first Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September, two weeks mixed; for the trial of civil cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 14; 1921, c. 42; 1923, c. 169; 1933, cc. 14, 404; C. S. 1443.)

In addition to the terms of court now provided by law to be held in Davidson County, the following terms of court shall be opened and held in each year in the manner and at the times herein set forth, to-wit: To convene on the first Monday in April of each year and to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases only. To convene on the first Monday in October of each year and to continue for two weeks for the trial of civil cases only. If the judge regularly assigned to the district in which said county is situate be unable because of another regular term of court in said district, or for other cause, to hold any term of court provided in this paragraph, the governor may appoint a judge to hold such term from among the regular or emergency judges. (1931, c. 114.)

Thirteenth District

The thirteenth district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Union—Fifth Monday before the first Monday in March, for criminal cases; third Monday after the first Monday in March, for civil cases; fifth Monday before the first Monday in September, for criminal cases. Sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks, the second week for civil cases only; second Monday before the first Monday in March, and second Monday before the first Monday in September, each to continue for two weeks; ninth Monday after the first Monday in March; the last three terms for civil cases only.

In the first two terms of court for Union County for the trial of criminal cases, if it shall appear to the clerk of the superior court that the criminal docket will not be sufficient to take up the entire term, he may make or cause to be made a calendar of civil cases as is made at other terms, and such cases shall be tried at such term in the same manner as if it were a civil term.

If it shall appear to the county commissioners for the county of Union, prior to the drawing of a jury or grand jury for any criminal term of court, that there is no prisoner in jail in the county or that the criminal docket at such term is not sufficient to justify the holding of the term, then the clerk is not to make or cause to be made a calendar of civil cases to be tried at said term, and the county commissioners, within their discretion, may not draw a jury or grand jury for such term, and notice shall be given immediately to the judge not to hold said court.

If it shall appear to the board of commissioners of Union County, thirty days before the beginning of the term held the third Monday after the first Monday in March that the condition of the criminal docket, and the number of prisoners in jail, make it necessary that said March term should be used as a criminal term, then said board of commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered within their discretion to draw a grand jury for said term, and to give thirty days' notice in some local paper that criminal cases would be tried at said term, and all criminal process and undertakings returnable to a subsequent term shall be returnable to said March term. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 22; 1915, c. 72; 1917, cc. 28, 117; 1921, c. 55; C. S. 1443.)

If it shall appear to the county commissioners for the county of Union, prior to the drawing of a jury for the civil term of court to be held the third Monday after the first Monday in March, and/or the civil term to be held on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in March, that the condition of the civil docket does not justify holding said term, then the clerk shall not make, or cause to be made, a calendar of civil cases to be tried at the said term and the county commissioners may not draw a jury for such term and notice shall be given immediately to the judge not to hold said court. (1933, c. 112.)

If it shall appear to the board of county commissioners of Union county thirty days before the beginning of the term held on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in March that the condition of the criminal docket and the number of prisoners in jail make it necessary that said May term should be used for the trial of criminal cases as well as civil cases, then said board of commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered within their discretion to direct the clerk of said court to order the grand jury to assemble for said term, and to give thirty days notice in some local paper that criminal cases would be tried at said term, and all criminal process and undertaking returnable to a subsequent term shall be returnable to said May term. (1939, c. 25.)

Anson—Seventh Monday before the first Monday in March, for criminal cases only; first Monday in March for civil cases only; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for two weeks; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in March, for civil cases only; first Monday after the first Monday in September, for civil cases only; third Monday after the first Monday in September, for criminal cases only; tenth Monday after the first Monday in September, for civil cases only. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 16; 1923, c. 112; 1927, c. 181; 1929, c. 157; C. S. 1443.)

Scotland—First Monday after the first Monday in March for one week, for the trial of criminal and civil cases; eighth Monday after the first Monday in March for one week, for the trial of civil cases only; fourth Monday before the first Monday in September for one week, for the trial of criminal and civil cases; eighth Monday after the first Monday in September for one week, for the trial of civil cases only; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in September for two weeks, for the trial of criminal and civil cases. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 22; 1917, c. 105; 1923, c. 178; 1933, c. 116; 1937, c. 371; C. S. 1443.)

Moore—Sixth Monday before the first Monday in March, for the trial of criminal cases only, to continue for one week; third Monday before the first Monday in March, for the trial of civil cases only, to continue for one week; third Monday after the first Monday in March, for the trial of civil cases only, to continue for two weeks; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks, the first week for the trial of criminal cases only and the second week for the trial of civil cases only; third Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for one week, for the trial of criminal cases only; second Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks, for the trial of civil cases only; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for one week, for the trial of civil cases only.

Each of the terms designated for the trial of criminal cases shall also have jurisdiction to hear motions in civil actions on notice; and civil cases requiring a jury may, by consent of parties thereto, be tried at such terms. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 30; 1915, c. 64; 1929, c. 229; C. S. 1443.)

Richmond — Eighth Monday before the first Monday in March to continue for one week; fifth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for one week; sixth Monday before the first Monday in September to continue for one week; fourth Monday after the first Monday in September to continue for one week, all for the trial of criminal cases; fourth Monday before the first Monday in March to continue for one week; second Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for one week; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for one week; fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in March to continue for one week; seventh Monday before the first Monday in September to continue for one week; first Monday in September to continue for one week; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September to continue for one week, all for the trial of civil cases.

Each of the terms designated for the trial of criminal cases shall also be the return term for such civil process as may be returnable at term, and for the hearing of motions in civil actions; and civil cases requiring a jury, may, by consent of the parties thereto, be tried at such criminal terms.

The governor shall assign an emergency, or any other judge, to hold any of the terms of the superior court for Richmond County when the judge regularly holding the courts in said district for any cause is unable to hold any of said terms. (1913, c. 196; 1915, c. 72; 1917, s. 117; 1919, c. 98; 1921, c. 77; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 16; 1923, cc. 112, 184; 1925, c. 241; 1931, c. 82; 1935, c. 3; C. S. 1443.)

Stanly—Fourth Monday before the first Monday in March to continue for two weeks, for civil cases only; fourth Monday after the first Monday in March; tenth Monday after the first Monday in March, for civil cases only; eighth Monday before the first Monday in September; first Monday in September to continue for two weeks, for civil cases only; fifth Monday after the first Monday in September, for civil cases only; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September.

Each of the terms set for the trial of criminal cases shall also be the return term for such civil process as may be returnable at term; and for the hearing of motions in civil actions; and for the trial of civil cases requiring a jury where issues are drawn by consent of the parties thereto; and for the trial of actions for divorce and other actions in which no answer has been filed when the time for filing the answer has expired.

The governor shall assign an emergency, or any other judge, to hold any of the terms of the superior court for Stanly County when the judge regularly holding the courts in said district for any cause is unable to hold any of said terms. (1913, c. 196; 1933, c. 240; C. S. 1443.)

No process nor other writ of any kind pertaining to civil actions shall be made returnable to any of the criminal terms, and no business pertaining to civil actions shall be transacted at the criminal terms for Mecklenburg county.

In addition to the courts above set out for Mecklenburg county, the following terms of superior court for the trial of civil cases in Mecklenburg county shall be held, as follows: eighth Monday before the first Monday in March; sixth Monday before the first Monday in March; fourth Monday before the first Monday in March; second Monday before the first Monday in March; first Monday in March; second Monday after the first Monday in March; fourth Monday after the first Monday in March; sixth Monday after the first Monday in March; eighth Monday after the first Monday in March; tenth Monday after the first Monday in March; twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March; fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in March; the first Monday in September; the second Monday after the first Monday in September; the fourth Monday after the first Monday in September; the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September; the eighth Monday after the first Monday in September; the tenth Monday after the first Monday in September; the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in September; and the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in September. Said terms of court may be held contemporaneously with other courts in said county or district, shall be for two weeks each, shall be for the trial of civil cases only, and shall be held by regular, special, or emergency judges who shall be assigned by the governor, and the special or emergency judges who preside over said additional terms of court shall have all the powers conferred upon any resident or regular judge.

In addition to the courts above set out for Mecklenburg county, the following terms of superior court for the trial of criminal cases in Mecklenburg county shall be held, as follows: sixth Monday after the first Monday in March; fifth Monday before the first Monday in September; fourth Monday before the first Monday in September, each to continue for one week. The sixth Monday before the first Monday in March; the second Monday after the first Monday in March; the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in March; the third Monday before the first Monday in September; the second Monday after the first Monday in September; and the thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in September. Said terms of court may be held contemporaneously with other courts in said county or district, shall be for two weeks each, shall be for the trial of criminal cases only, and shall be held by regular, special, or emergency judges who shall be assigned by the governor, and the special or emergency judges who preside over said additional terms of court shall have all the powers conferred upon any resident or regular judge. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, cc. 11, 18; 1915, c. 153; 1919, c. 187; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 39; 1935, c. 48; 1937, c. 27; 1939, c. 9; 1941, c. 367, s. 1; C. S. 1443.)

Fifteenth District

The fifteenth district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to-wit:

Iredell—Fifth Monday before the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks, for the trial of criminal and civil cases; first Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for one week, for civil cases only; eleventh Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks, for the trial of criminal and civil cases; fifth Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks, for criminal and civil cases; ninth Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks, for criminal and civil cases. (1913, c. 196; 1921, c. 121, s. 2; 1923, c. 129; C. S. 1443.)

Randolph—Second Monday after the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks, for civil cases only; fourth Monday after the first Monday in March, for criminal cases; seventh Monday before the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks for civil cases only; the first Monday in September for criminal cases; thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks for criminal and civil cases. In addition to the regular terms of superior court now provided for by law for Randolph County there shall be held in Randolph County three additional terms of superior court as follows, to-wit: On the fifth Monday before the first Monday in March, to continue for two weeks, for the trial of civil cases only. On the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in March for a term of one week, for the trial of criminal cases only. On the seventh Monday after the first Monday in September, to continue for two weeks, for the trial of civil cases only. This paragraph shall not be construed to repeal or abolish any terms now provided for the fifteenth judicial district, but in case of conflict of any of the regularly established terms of court of the fifteenth judicial district with the terms created in this paragraph, the said terms of court hereby and herein established shall be considered special terms, and the governor may assign the judge to hold said terms of superior court for Randolph County, when the judge holding the regular terms of court in the district is unable to hold said terms. (1913, c. 196; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 31; 1921, c. 121, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 22; 1923, c. 229; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 23; 1925, c. 156; Pub. Loc. 1939, c. 78; C. S. 1443.)

§ 7-71. Governor to assign judges to hold terms of court when regular judges are not available.—If the regular judge holding the courts for any district is not available for any cause set out in Article four, Section eleven, of the Constitution to hold any of the terms of court provided for in Chapter 367 of the Public Laws of 1941, amending § 7-70, the Governor shall assign a judge to hold such term or terms from among the regular, special or emergency judges. (1941, c. 367, s. 2.)

§ 7-72. Civil cases at criminal terms.—At criminal terms of court, motions in civil actions may be heard upon due notice, and trials in civil actions may be heard by consent of parties. Also motions for confirmation or rejection of referees' reports may be heard upon ten days notice and judgment entered on said reports. (Rev., s. 1507; 1901, c. 28; 1913, c. 196, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 23; 1915, cc. 68, 240; 1917, c. 13; 1931, c. 394; C. S. 1444.)

Local Modification.—Anson, Bladen, Cumberland, Durham, Gaston, Robeson: C. S. 1444.

§ 7-73. No criminal business at civil terms.—No grand juries shall be drawn for the terms of court designated by law as being for the trial of civil cases exclusively, and the solicitors shall not be required to attend upon any exclusively civil terms, unless there are cases on the civil docket in which they officially appear, and no criminal process shall be returnable to any term designated for the trial of civil actions alone. (Rev., s. 1508; 1901, c. 28, ss. 3, 7; 1913, c. 196; C. S. 1445.)

§ 7-74. Rotation of judges.—The judges of the superior court shall hold the courts of the several judicial districts successively, according to the following order and system: The judges resident in the Eastern Judicial Division shall hold the courts for the fall term, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, as follows: The judge of the first district shall hold the courts of the fifth district; the judge of the second, the courts of the sixth; the judge of the third, the courts of the seventh; the judge of the fourth, the courts of the eighth; the judge of the fifth, the courts of the ninth; the judge of the sixth, the courts of the tenth; the judge of the seventh, the courts of the first; the judge of the eighth, the courts of the second; the judge of the ninth, the courts of the third; the judge of the tenth, the courts of the fourth; and the judges of the Eastern Judicial Division shall thereafter successively hold the courts of this division, but may make exchange of the courts as now provided by law.

The judges resident in the Western Judicial Division shall hold the courts for the fall term, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, as follows: The judge of the seventeenth district shall hold the courts of the eleventh; the judge of the eighteenth, the courts of the twelfth; the judge of the nineteenth, the courts of the thirteenth; the judge of the twentieth, the courts of the fourteenth; the judge of the eleventh, the courts of the fifteenth; the judge of the twelfth, the courts of the sixteenth; the judge of the thirteenth, the courts of the seventeenth; the judge of the fourteenth, the courts of the eighteenth; the judge of the fifteenth, the courts of the nineteenth; the judge of the sixteenth, the courts of the twentieth; and the judges resident in the Western Judicial Division shall thereafter successively hold the courts of this division, subject to such exchanges of courts as are now provided by law.

The judge riding any spring circuit shall hold all the courts which fall between January and June, both inclusive, and the judge riding any fall circuit shall hold all the courts which fall between July and December, both inclusive. (Rev., s. 1509; Code, s. 911; 1913, c. 196, ss. 4, 5, 6, 9; 1915, c. 15, ss. 3, 4; 1901, c. 28, ss. 4, 9; R. C., c. 31, s. 20; 1876-7, c. 27; 1879, c. 11; 1885, c. 180; Const. Art. 4, s. 11; C. S. 1446.)

§ 7-75. Exchange of courts.—By consent of the governor the judges may exchange the courts of a particular county or counties; and the judges resident in the western division and the judges resident in the eastern division may exchange courts or circuits with the consent of the governor; but no judge shall hold all the courts in one district oftener than once every four years. When a judge shall die or resign, his successor shall hold the courts of the district allotted to his predecessor. (Rev., s. 1511; Code, s. 913; R.

C., c. 31, s. 20; 1879, c. 11; 1915, c. 15, s. 4; Const., Art. 4, s. 11; C. S. 1447.)

§ 7-76. Court adjourned by sheriff when judge not present.—If the judge of a superior court shall not be present to hold any term of a court at the time fixed therefor, he may order the sheriff to adjourn the court to any day certain during the term, and on failure to hear from the judge it shall be the duty of the sheriff to adjourn the court from day to day until the fourth day of the term inclusive, unless he shall be sooner informed that the judge from any cause can not hold the term. If by sunset on the fourth day the judge shall not appear to hold the term, or if the sheriff shall be sooner advised that the judge cannot hold the term, it shall then be the duty of the sheriff to adjourn the court until the next term. (Rev., s. 1510; Code, s. 926; 1901, c. 269; 1887, c. 13; C. S. 1448.)

Art. 10. Special Terms of Court.

§ 7-77. Governor may designate judge.—The governor has the power to appoint any judge to hold special terms of the superior court in any county. (Rev., s. 1511; Code, s. 913; 1879, c. 11; Const., Art. 4, s. 11; C. S. 1449.)

§ 7-78. Governor may order special terms.—Whenever it shall appear to the governor by the certificate of any judge, a majority of the board of county commissioners, or otherwise, that there is such an accumulation of criminal or civil actions in the superior court of any county as to require the holding of a special term for its dispatch, he shall issue an order to the judge of the judicial district in which such county is, or to any other judge of the superior court, requiring him to hold a special term of the superior court for such county, to begin on a certain Monday, not to interfere with any of the regular terms of the courts of his district, and hold for such time as he may designate, unless the business be earlier disposed of. If the dispatch of business requires it, the Governor may order a special term of court to be held by a regular, special, or emergency judge of the superior court in any county or district during the holding of a regular term in such county or district. (Rev., s. 1512; Code, s. 914; R. C., c. 31, s. 22; 1868-9, c. 273; 1876-7, c. 44; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 100; C. S. 1450.)

§ 7-79. Compensation of judge.—Any regular judge appointed to hold a special term of court shall attend and hold such court, and shall be paid as compensation therefor at the rate of one hundred dollars per week and his actual expenses incurred in attending such special term by the county in which the special term is held. But any such judge who is in a district having fewer than twenty regular weeks of court for the six months shall hold without extra compensation, if directed by the governor, enough extra weeks of court to make out twenty weeks for the six months. (Rev., s. 1512; Code, s. 914; 1913, c. 63; 1901, c. 167; R. C., c. 31, s. 22; 1868-9, c. 273; 1876-7, c. 44; 1909, c. 85, s. 1; C. S. 1451.)

§ 7-80. Notice of special terms.—Whenever the governor shall call a special term of the superior court for any county, he shall notify the chairman of the board of commissioners of the county of such call, and such chairman shall take immediate steps to cause competent persons to be drawn and summoned as jurors for said term; and also to advertise the term at the courthouse and at one public place in every township of his county, or by publication of at least two weeks in some newspaper published in his county in lieu of such township advertisement. (Rev., s. 1513; Code, s. 915; 1868-9, c. 273; C. S. 1452.)

§ 7-81. Certificate of attendance. — The clerk shall give the judge a certificate of attendance for the number of days occupied by the court, and the judge shall thereupon be entitled to receive from the commissioners of the county in which the court is held the compensation provided by law. (Rev., s. 1514; Code, s. 918; 1901, c. 167; 1868-9, c. 273; 1909, c. 85, s. 1; 1913, c. 63; C. S. 1453.)

§ 7-82. Grand juries at special terms.—There shall be no grand jury at any special term, unless the same shall be ordered by the governor. (Rev., s. 1515; Code, s. 921; 1868-9, c. 273; C. S. 1454.)

§ 7-83. Jurisdiction.—The special terms of the superior court held in pursuance of this chapter shall have all the jurisdiction and powers that regular terms of the superior court have. (Rev., s. 1516; Code, s. 916; 1868-9, c. 273; C. S. 1455.)

§ 7-84. Attendance and process at special terms.—All persons and witnesses summoned at the regular or special term, and officers or others who may be bound to attend the next regular term of the court, shall attend the special term, under the same rules, forfeitures and penalties as if the term were a regular term. (Rev., s. 1517; Code, s. 919; R. C., c. 31, s. 23; 1844, c. 10; 1848, c. 29; C. S. 1456.)

§ 7-85. Subpœnas returnable.—Subpœnas may issue returnable on any day of any special term. (Rev., s. 1518; Code, s. 920; 1868-9, c. 273; C. S. 1457.)

Art. 11. Special Regulations.

§ 7-86. Reading the minutes.—Every morning during the term the judge presiding shall order the reading of the minutes of the court for the day preceding, and the minutes of the last day shall be read immediately preceding the final adjournment of the term. (Rev., s. 1519, Code, s. 925; 1861, c. 3; C. S. 1458.)

§ 7-87. Officer attending juries sworn.—When any officer (except such as are appointed to attend the grand jury) shall be appointed or summoned to attend any superior court, the clerk, at the time of the first going out of a jury on the trial of any civil or criminal action, shall administer an oath to such officer, faithfully to attend the several juries that may be put under his care during that term, that shall be charged in the trial of any civil or criminal action; and after such officer shall be once so sworn, he shall be considered to all intents and purposes as acting upon the same oath while attending every jury that he may be called to attend during that term. (Rev., s. 1527; Code, s. 927; R. C., c. 31, s. 36; 1801, c. 592; C. S. 1459.)

§ 7-88. Quakers may wear hats in court.—The people called Quakers may wear their hats in courts of judicature, as elsewhere, according to the custom of their sect. (Rev., s. 1528; Code, s. 943; R. C., c. 31, s. 131; 1784, c. 209; C. S. 1460.)

§ 7-89. Court reporters.—Upon the request of a judge holding a superior court in any county in the state, the board of county commissioners in such county shall employ a competent stenographer to take down the proceedings of the court, at a compensation not to exceed five dollars per day and actual expenses, to be paid by the county in which the court is held: Provided, that the compensation of said stenographers in counties composing the sixteenth judicial district shall not exceed ten dollars per day.

The judge is authorized to tax a reasonable fee against the losing party in every action, civil and criminal, to be turned into the county treasury towards reimbursing the county, but no fee shall be taxed against a losing party suing in forma pauperis.

Every stenographer so employed shall make three copies of the proceedings in every case appealed to the supreme court, without extra charge, and shall furnish one copy to the attorneys on each side and file one copy with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which any such case is tried, and shall obey all orders of the judge relative to the time in which any such work shall be done: Provided, that the restrictions herein against an extra charge for making copies of the proceedings in cases appealed to the supreme court shall not apply to counties composing the sixteenth judicial district.

Every stenographer so employed shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, be duly sworn to well, truly, and correctly take down and transcribe the proceedings of the court, except the argument of counsel, and the charge of the court thus taken down and transcribed shall be held to be a compliance with the law requiring the judge to put his instructions to the jury in writing.

This section shall not apply to any county which has a court stenographer authorized by law: Provided, that the board of county commissioners of Mecklenburg county may, by resolution approving this section, bring said county within the provisions of the same: Provided further, that this section shall not apply to the following counties: Alleghany, Brunswick, Caldwell, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Currituck, Dare, Davidson, Davie, Forsyth, Greene, Harnett, Haywood, Hoke, New Hanover, Orange, Pender, Person, Transylvania, Union, Watauga. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 69; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 57; 1927, c. 268; Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 49; 1933, c. 75, s. 2; C. S. 1461.)

Local Modification.—Alamance: Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 2; 1935, c. 474; Burke, Lincoln, Catawba: 1929, cc. 53, 260; Halifax: 1929, c. 45, s. 5; McDowell: 1933, c. 85; Northampton: 1931, c. 11, s. 5; Robeson: 1935, c. 9; Surry: 1927, c. 268, s. 2; Wayne: 1927, c. 156.

§ 7-90. Official court reporter for second judicial district.—The resident judge of the second judicial district is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint an official court reporter for one or more or all of the counties in said district who shall serve at the will of the resident judge, and whose appointment may be terminated by thirty days' written notice thereof.

The appointment of such reporter or reporters shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of each county in said district in which said reporter is to officiate, and the same, or a certified copy thereof, shall be recorded by said clerk on the minute docket of his court.

Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of said office, said reporter shall take and subscribe an oath in words substantially as follows: "I, ..., do solemnly swear that I will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties of the office of court reporter in and for the county of ..... in the second judicial district, and will faithfully transcribe the testimony offered in said courts as the presiding judge may direct, or as I may be required to do under the law, so help me, God." Said oath shall be filed in the office of each of the clerks of the superior courts of the counties in which said reporter is to officiate, and recorded and indexed on the minute dockets of said courts.

If on account of sickness, or for other cause, said reporter is unable to attend upon any of the regular courts of said district, and for conflict and special terms, the resident judge may appoint a reporter pro tem for said court or courts, and said appointment shall appear upon the minutes of said term, and said reporter shall take and subscribe the oath referred to above, which oath shall be filed with the clerk. In lieu of appointing a reporter pro tem for each of said courts, the resident judge may, in his discretion, appoint a reporter pro tem for a stated period whose duty it shall be to report any and all courts in the county or counties designated in the appointment, which the regular court reporter is for any cause unable to report.

The resident judge shall likewise fix the compensation to be received by such reporter and such reporter pro tem: Provided, however, such compensation shall not exceed ten dollars per day and actual expenses upon a weekly basis.

The testimony taken and transcribed by said court reporter or said court reporter pro tem, as the case may be, and duly certified, either by said reporter or the presiding judge at the trial of the cause, may be offered in evidence in any of the courts of this state as the deposition of the witness whose testimony is so taken and transcribed, in the same manner, and under the same rule governing the introduction of depositions in civil actions. (1933, c. 335.)

§ 7-91. Official court reporter for fifth judicial district.—The resident judge of the fifth judicial district is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint an official court reporter for all of the counties in said district, who shall serve at the will of the resident judge, and whose appointment may be terminated at thirty days written notice thereof.

The appointment of such reporter shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of each county in said district in which said reporter is to officiate, and the same or a certified copy thereof shall be recorded by said clerk on the minute docket of his court.

Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of said office, said reporter shall take and subscribe an oath in words substantially as follows: "I ....., do solemnly swear that I will to the best of my ability discharge the duties of the office of court reporter in and for the counties of the fifth judicial district and will faithfully transcribe the testimony offered in said courts as the presiding judge may direct or as I may be required to do under the law, so help me, God." Said oath shall be filed in the office of each of the clerks of the superior courts of the counties of said district and recorded and indexed on the minute dockets of said courts.

If on account of sickness or for other cause said reporter is unable to attend upon any regular courts of said district, and for conflict of special terms the resident judge may appoint a reporter pro tem for said court or courts and said appointment shall appear upon the minutes of said term, and said reporter shall take and subscribe the oath referred to above, which oath shall be filed with the clerk. In lieu of appointing a reporter pro tem for said district the resident judge may, in his discretion, appoint a reporter pro tem for a stated period, whose duty it shall be to report any and all of the courts designated in the appointment which the regular court reporter is for any cause unable to report.

The resident judge shall likewise fix the compensation to be received by said reporter and said reporter pro tem, provided, however, such compensation shall not exceed ten dollars per day and actual expenses upon a weekly basis.

Said court reporter or reporter pro tem must, upon request of counsel when the presiding judge shall find as a fact that same is necessary and so order, deliver to the clerk of the superior court in which said cause is pending a transcript of the evidence in that cause within fifteen days from the adjournment of the term of court in which such evidence was taken.

The testimony taken and transcribed by said court reporter or said reporter pro tem as the case may be, and duly certified, either by said reporter or the presiding judge at the trial of the cause, may be offered in evidence in any civil action in any of the courts in this state as the deposition of the witness whose testimony is so taken and transcribed in the same manner and under the same rules governing the introduction of depositions in civil actions: Provided, however, that such transcript of testimony shall be admissible in evidence only in the cause in which same was taken. (1935, c. 128.)

Local Modification.—Carteret: 1941, c. 137.

§ 7-92. Official court reporter for sixth judicial district. — The resident judge of the sixth judicial district is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint an official court reporter for one or more, or all of the counties in said district, whose term of office shall be for a period of five years from and after qualification: Provided, however, that said judge shall have the right to remove said reporter for cause at any time.

The appointment of such reporter or reporters shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of each county in said district in which said reporter is to officiate, and the same, or a certified copy thereof shall be recorded by said clerk on the minute docket of his court.

Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of said office, said reporter shall take and subscribe the oath provided by law for public officers, and shall in addition thereto take and subscribe an oath in words substantially as follows: "I, ..., ..., do furthermore solemnly swear that I will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties of the office of court reporter in and for the sixth judicial district, and will faithfully transcribe the testimony offered in said courts as the presiding judge may direct, or as I may be required to do under the law, so help me God." Said oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said reporter resides, and recorded and indexed by him on the minute docket of said court.

In case of sickness, or for other cause, if said reporter fails to attend upon any of the courts of said district, the presiding judge may appoint a reporter pro tem, for said court, and said appointment shall appear upon the minutes of said term, and said reporter shall take and subscribe the oath referred to above, which oath shall be filed with the clerk.

The resident judge shall likewise fix the compensation to be received, by said reporter, and said reporter pro tem, provided, however, such compensation shall not exceed ten dollars per day and actual expenses upon a weekly basis.

Said court reporter or reporter pro tem must, upon request of counsel when the presiding judge shall find as a fact that same is necessary and so order, deliver to the clerk of the superior court in which said cause is pending a transcript of the evidence in that cause within fifteen days from the adjournment of the term of court in which such evidence was taken.

The testimony taken and transcribed by said court reporter, and duly certified, either by said reporter or the presiding judge at the trial of the cause, may be offered in evidence in any of the courts of this State as the deposition of the witness whose testimony is so taken and transcribed, in the same manner, and under the same rules governing the introduction of depositions in civil actions. (1931, c. 154, s. 5; 1935, c. 420.)

SUBCHAPTER III. COMMISSION FOR IMPROVEMENT OF LAWS.

Art. 12. Commission for Improvement of Laws.

§ 7-93. Commission established.—A commission to be known as the commission for the Improvement of the Laws is hereby established. (1931, c. 98, s. 1.)

§ 7-94. Members of commission.—Said commission shall consist of the attorney-general, the chairman of each of the committees on Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the General Assembly, and the following additional members to be appointed by the Governor on the basis of their interest in and competency for the study of law reform: two members who shall be appointed from the Justices of the Supreme Court and/or the Judges of the Superior Courts; two members who shall be active practitioners in the trial and appellate courts; three members who shall be appointed from the faculties of law in the various universities in this State; and two members, not attorneys at law, who shall be men of proven ability in other occupations. (1931, c. 98, s. 2.)

§ 7-95. Terms of office.—The attorney-general shall be a member of the commission during such time as he shall serve as attorney-general. The respective chairmen of the committees on judiciary shall hold office as members of the commission from their appointment as chairmen during the session of the General Assembly at which they were appointed and continuously thereafter until their successors as chairmen shall be appointed by the presiding officers of the next General Assembly, which successors shall in like manner become ex officio members of said commission. The other members of said commission shall serve from the dates of their appointment until the conclusion of the term of office of the Governor appointing them, or until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. (1931, c. 98, s. 3.)

§ 7-96. Chairman and executive secretary.—The Governor shall designate one of the members of such commission as the chairman and another as the executive secretary of the commission. (1931, c. 98, s. 4.)

§ 7-97. Vacancy appointments.—The Governor shall have power to fill vacancies among the unofficial members occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise. (1931, c. 98, s. 5.)

§ 7-98. Meetings of commission.—It shall be the duty of such commission to meet twice annually, or more often at the call of the chairman, to consider proposals for the betterment of the law, both substantive and procedural, to conduct such research and investigation as may be appropriate therefor, and to recommend to the General Assembly such specific changes in the existing law as it deems expedient. (1931, c. 98, s. 6.)

§ 7-99. Report and recommendations to general assembly.—In advance of each regular session of the general assembly, the commission shall prepare a report and shall embody the recommendation of the commission with drafts of proposed bills, and the reasons for the same, and copies of such report shall be sent to each member of the general assembly not less than thirty days before the beginning of such session. (1931, c. 98, s. 7.)

§ 7-100. Compensation.—The members of the commission shall serve without compensation. (1931, c. 98, s. 8.)

SUBCHAPTER IV. DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURTS.

Art. 13. In Counties with a City of at Least Twenty-five Thousand Inhabitants.

§ 7-101. Established by county or city or both.—The Board of County Commissioners in the various counties having a county seat with twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants of the State, or the governing authorities in cities of twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants shall have authority to establish a "Domestic Relations Court," which court may be a joint county and city court, as provided in section 7-102 or a court for the county or city as may be determined by the governing authorities. (1929, c. 343, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Durham, Edgecombe, Gaston, Guilford, Nash, New Hanover, Pitt, Wayne: 1929, c. 343, s. 10; Buncombe: 1929, c. 343, s. 10; 1941, c. 208, s. 2; Forsyth: 1929, c. 343, s. 10; 1931, c. 221, s. 2; Wake: 1929, c. 343, s. 10; Pub. Loc. 1941, c. 339.

§ 7-102. Vote on establishment of court; any other city in county with required population may have such court.—In case the Board of County Commissioners and governing authorities of a particular city decide to establish a joint city and county Domestic Relations Court, they, voting as separate bodies, shall determine whether or not such Domestic Relations Court shall be established. If both bodies, shall vote for its establishment, each of them shall record the resolutions in their minutes and upon such consent by both boards, the court shall be established. In counties in which the said joint court is thus established by the Board of County Commissioners and the governing authorities of the county and city such establishment of the court shall not prevent any other city within the territorial limits of the county and having more than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, establishing its own court under section 7-101. (1929, c. 343, s. 2.)

§ 7-103. Jurisdiction.—Said Domestic Relations Court shall have, and is hereby vested with all the power, authority, and jurisdiction heretofore vested by law in the juvenile courts of North Carolina, and said power, authority, and jurisdiction being as fully vested in the Domestic Relations Court as if herein particularly set forth in detail; and in addition thereto the said Domestic Relations Court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over the following classes of cases:

(a) All cases where any adult is charged with abandonment, non-support, or desertion of any juvenile, or where either spouse is charged with abandonment, non-support, or desertion of the other.

(b) All cases involving voluntary desertion of any juvenile by its mother.

(c) All cases involving the custody of juveniles, except where the case is tried in Superior Court as a part of any divorce proceeding.

(d) All cases where assault, or assault and battery, on a juvenile is charged against an adult, or where husband or wife is charged with assault, or assault and battery, upon the other.

(e) All cases in which an adult is charged with causing or being responsible for delinquency, dependency, or neglect of a juvenile.

(f) All bastardy cases within said county.

(g) All cases wherein any person is charged with receiving stolen goods from any juvenile, knowing them to be stolen.

(h) All cases involving violation of the North Carolina School Attendance Law as set forth in Public Laws of North Carolina, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, chapter one hundred, and Public Laws of North Carolina, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, chapter one hundred and thirty-six; and in §§ 115-302 to 115-312, inclusive; and such other laws relative to school attendance as may hereafter be enacted.

(i) In either case where either parent institutes a divorce action when there is a minor child or children, it shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court to refer the case for investigation as to the child, or children, to the Domestic Relations Court, and the Judge of the Domestic Relations Court shall make his recommendations to the Judge of the Superior Court as to the disposition of the child, or children, for the consideration of the Judge of the Superior Court in disposing of the custody of the said child or children. (1929, c. 343, s. 3; 1941, c. 308.)

§ 7-104. Election of judge and term of office; vacancy appointments; judge to select clerk; juvenile Court officers may be declared officers of new Court.—It shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners of any county and the governing board of any city, in which a joint Court of Domestic Relations is established, as provided in this article, or of the governing authorities of any city or county in which an independent Domestic Relations Court shall be established, as provided in this article, acting jointly, in the first instance, or independently, in the second instance, to elect a Judge of the Domestic Relations Court and to fix his salary and provide for the payment of same, his term of office to run from the time of his election to the second Monday in July in each odd numbered year and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. The regular term of office shall be for a term of two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. If any vacancy should occur in said office during the two years' term, for any cause, it shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner and by the same bodies as provided for the election of said Judge.

It shall be the duty of the Judge of the Domestic Relations Court to appoint a Clerk for said court, the salary of said Clerk to be fixed, provided for, and paid by the Board of County Commissioners of any of such counties and the governing board of any of such cities, acting jointly, or independently when a joint county and city court is not established.

And the officers of the Juvenile Court of any of such cities and of any of such counties, as now constituted by law may be declared to be officers of the Domestic Relations Court.

The probation officers of Domestic Relations Court and their method of appointment shall be the same as now provided for in § 110-31, for probation officers of the Juvenile Court. The salaries of said probation officers, and the necessary equipment for the proper maintenance and functioning of said court, shall be a charge upon such county and such city jointly, or upon the county or city, if it is an independent court. (1929, c. 343, s. 4; 1931, c. 221, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1937, c. 268.

§ 7-105. Co-operation of all peace officers.—It shall be the duty of all officers of the counties and of the cities to assist the Domestic Relations Court in any and all ways in the line of their official duty as fully and to the same extent and in the same manner as they heretofore have been authorized and required to do in the case of all other courts. (1929, c. 343, s. 5.)

§ 7-106. Procedure, practice and punishments.—The procedure, practice, and punishments imposed in the Domestic Relations Court as established in this article shall be the same as now provided by law in courts now having original jurisdiction of the various offenses or causes enumerated in this article, and the Judge of the said Domestic Relations Court is hereby granted the power to prescribe such rules and fix such modes of procedure, as, in his discretion, will best effect the purposes for which said court is created. (1929, c. 343, s. 6.)

§ 7-107. Right of appeal to Superior Court; trial de novo.—Wherever in this article criminal jurisdiction is conferred upon the Domestic Relations Court there shall be the same right of appeal from this court as from Recorders' Courts or other inferior criminal courts to the Superior Court, and the same rules and regulations of such appeals from inferior courts shall apply to appeals from this court, and in the Superior Court the trial shall be de novo. This provision shall apply also to the trials in bastardy cases. (1929, c. 343, s. 7.)

§ 7-108. Offenses before Court to be petty misdemeanors; demand for jury trial; appearance bonds.—All the offenses for the trial of which the Domestic Relations Court is given jurisdiction are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors punishable as now prescribed by law. On the trial before such Domestic Relations Court, if a jury trial is demanded, the cause shall be therewith transferred for trial to some criminal term of the Superior Court of the counties in which the Domestic Relations Court is situated. The defendant or defendants shall be held under an adequate bond to secure his or their attendance at the criminal term of the Superior Court to which the record is transferred. If in the exercise of the jurisdiction hereinbefore conferred upon the Domestic Relations Court, it should appear that a felony has been committed, said court shall have jurisdiction and authority upon proper investigation to bind over the alleged felon in all cases in which probable cause is found, to the Superior Court of the county, under proper bond and recognizances. (1929, c. 343, s. 8.)

§ 7-109. Pending cases in Juvenile Court transferred to new Court.—All causes pending in the Juvenile Court of the county or city at the time of the organization of any Domestic Relations Court within said county or city, shall be transferred to the Domestic Relations Court for final adjudication. (1929, c. 343, s. 9.)

§ 7-110. Cases transferred from Superior Court.—Upon the establishment of a domestic relations court as authorized in this article, the clerk of the superior court shall immediately transfer from the superior court to such domestic relations court all actions pending in the superior court of which the domestic relations court has jurisdiction as in this article conferred, whether such actions are untried or tried and retained for judgment, sentence or further orders, and the domestic relations court shall immediately have jurisdiction of such actions and shall thereafter try, enter further orders or dispose of such actions in the same manner and to the same extent as if said actions had been initiated in said domestic relations court. (1941, c. 208, s. 1.)

§ 7-111. Discontinuance of Court.—After the establishment of any domestic relations court by any county commissioners or by the governing authorities of a particular city, or the establishment of a joint county-city court of domestic relations, such board, governing authorities, or both, may, by resolution or resolutions, discontinue any such court. (1941, c. 208, s. 2½.)

SUBCHAPTER V: JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Art. 14. Election and Qualification.

§ 7-112. Constitution, article seven, abrogated; exceptions. — All the provisions of article seven of the constitution inconsistent with this chapter, except those contained in sections seven and twelve are hereby abrogated, and the provisions of this article substituted in their place; subject, however, to the power of the general assembly to alter, amend or abrogate the provisions of this article, and to substitute others in their stead, as provided in section thirteen of article seven of the constitution. (Rev., s. 1408; Code, s. 818; 1876-7, c. 141, s. 7; C. S. 1462.)

§ 7-113. Election and number of justices.—At every general election held for members of the general assembly there shall be elected in each township three justices of the peace, and for each township in which any city or incorporated town is situated, one justice of the peace for every one thousand inhabitants in such city or town, who shall hold office for a term of two years from and after the first Monday in December next after their election. (Rev., s. 1409; Code, s. 819; 1876-7, c. 141; 1895, c. 157; 1905, cc. 35, 44, 148; 1907, c. 225; 1909, cc. 177, 716; C. S. 1463.)

Local Modification.—Bertie, Caswell, Chowan, Franklin: C. S. 1464; Gaston: 1931, c. 256; Granville: C. S. 1464; New Hanover (City of Wilmington): C. S. 1464; Vance: C. S. 1466; Wake: 1937, c. 113; Warren: C. S. 1465.

§ 7-114. Oath of office; vacancies filled.—Every person elected or appointed a justice of the peace, before his term of office begins or within thirty days thereafter, shall take and subscribe the prescribed oaths of office before the clerk of the superior court, who shall file the same. All elections of justices of the peace by the general assembly or by the people shall be void unless the persons so elected shall qualify as herein directed. All original vacancies in the offices of justice of the peace occurring before qualification as provided in this section shall be filled for the term by the governor. All other vacancies shall be filled by the clerk of the superior court. (Rev., s. 1411; Code, s. 821; 1901, c. 37; C. S. 1467.)

§ 7-115. Governor may appoint justices.—The governor may, from time to time, at his discretion, appoint one or more fit persons in every county to act as justices of the peace, who shall hold their office for four years from and after the date of their appointment; and, on exhibiting their commission to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which they are to act, shall be duly qualified by taking before said clerk an oath of office and the oaths prescribed for other officers. The governor shall issue to each justice of the peace so appointed a commission, a certificate of which shall be deposited with the clerk of the court and filed among the records, and he shall note on his minutes the qualifications of the justice of the peace.

Any commission so issued by the Governor or his predecessor shall be revokable by him in his discretion upon complaint being made against such justice of the peace and when he shall be satisfied that the interest of the public will be best served by the revocation of said commission.

Whenever the Governor shall have revoked the commission of any justice of the peace appointed by him, or his predecessor in office, it shall be his duty to file with the clerk of the court in the county of such justice of the peace a copy of said order and mail a copy of same to said justice of the peace.

Any person holding himself out to the public as a justice of the peace, or any person attempting to act in such capacity after his commission shall have been revoked by the Governor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punishable in the discretion of the court, as provided for in other misdemeanors. (1917, c. 40; 1927, c. 116; C. S. 1468.)

§ 7-116. Forfeiture of office.—When any justice of the peace removes out of his township and does not return therein for the space of six months, he thereby forfeits and loses his office; and any such justice presuming to act thereafter, contrary to this section, unless reelected or reappointed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 1412, 3589; Code, s. 822; C. S. 1469.)

§ 7-117. Resignation.—Justices of the peace wishing to resign must deliver their letters of resignation to the clerk of the superior court, who shall file the same. (Rev., s. 1413; Code, s. 823; C. S. 1470.)

§ 7-118. Removal and disqualification for crime. —Upon the conviction of any justice of the peace of an infamous crime, or of corruption and malpractice in office, he shall be removed from office, and he shall be disqualified from holding or enjoying any office of honor, trust or profit under this state. (Rev., s. 1414; Code, s. 826; C. S. 1471.)

§ 7-119. Justice may hold other office.—Any justice of the peace may accept a civil office or appointment of trust or profit, under the authority of the United States, the duties of which confine him to the county where he is resident. (Rev., s. 1415; Code, s. 825; Const., Art. 14, s. 7; C. S. 1472.)

§ 7-120. Validation of official acts of certain justices of the peace.—Each and all of the official acts of justices of the peace appointed by chapter three hundred twenty-one, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, performed after the expiration of their terms on April first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and before March twenty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, including all judgments rendered, probates taken, marriages performed, and any and all other acts whatsoever, are hereby in all respects validated, ratified and confirmed. (1939, c. 268.)

Art. 15. Jurisdiction.

§ 7-121. Jurisdiction in actions on contract.—Justices of the peace shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all civil actions founded on contract, except—

1. Wherein the sum demanded, exclusive of interest, exceeds two hundred dollars.

2. Wherein the title to real estate is in controversy. (Rev., s. 1419; Const., Art. 4, s. 27; Code, s. 834; C. S. 1473.)

§ 7-122. Jurisdiction in actions not on contract.—Justices of the peace shall have concurrent jurisdiction of civil actions not founded on contract, wherein the value of the property in controversy does not exceed fifty dollars. (Rev., s. 1420; Const., Art. 4, s. 27; Code, s. 887; C. S. 1474.)

§ 7-123. Action dismissed for want of jurisdiction; remitter.—Where it appears, in any action brought before a justice, that the principal sum demanded exceeds two hundred dollars, the justice shall dismiss the action and render a judgment against the plaintiff for the costs, unless the plaintiff shall remit the excess of principal, above two hundred dollars, with the interest on said excess, and shall, at the time of filing his complaint, direct the justice to make this entry: "The plaintiff, in this action, forgives and remits to the defendant so much of the principal of this claim as is in excess of two hundred dollars, together with the interest on said excess." (Rev., s. 1421; Code, s. 835; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 3; 1876-7, c. 63; C. S. 1475.)

§ 7-124. Title to real estate in controversy as a defense.—In every action brought in a court of a justice of the peace, where the title to real estate comes in controversy, the defendant may, either with or without other matter of defense, set forth, in his answer, any matter showing that such title will come in question. Such answer shall be in writing, signed by the defendant or his attorney, and delivered to the justice. (Rev., s. 1422; Code, s. 836; C. S. 1476.)

§ 7-125. Title to real estate in controversy, action dismissed.—If it appears on the trial that the title to real estate is in controversy, the justice shall dismiss the action and render judgment against the plaintiff for costs. (Rev., s. 1423; Code, s. 837; C. S. 1477.)

§ 7-126. Another action in Superior Court.—When an action, before a justice, is dismissed upon answer, and proof by the defendant, that the title to real estate is in controversy in the case, the plaintiff may prosecute an action for the same cause in the superior court, and the defendant shall not be admitted in that court to deny the jurisdiction by an answer contradicting his answer in the justice's court. (Rev., s. 1424; Code, s. 838; C. S. 1478.)

§ 7-127. Justice may act anywhere in county.—A justice of the peace may issue a summons or other process anywhere in his county, but he shall not be compelled to try a cause out of the township for which he was elected or appointed. (Rev., s. 1425; Code, s. 824; C. S. 1479.)

§ 7-128. Punishment for contempt in certain cases.—If any person shall profanely swear or curse in the hearing of a justice of the peace, holding court, the justice may commit him for contempt, or fine him not exceeding five dollars. (Rev., s. 1426; Code, s. 848; R. C. c. 115; 1741, c. 30; C. S. 1480.)

§ 7-129. Jurisdiction in criminal actions.—Justices of the peace have exclusive original jurisdiction of all assaults, assaults and batteries, and affrays, where no deadly weapon is used and no serious damage is done, and of all criminal matters arising within their counties, where the punishment prescribed by law does not exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days: Provided, that justices of the peace shall have no jurisdiction over assaults with intent to kill, or assaults with intent to commit rape, except as committing magistrates: Provided further, that nothing in this section shall prevent the superior or criminal courts from finally hearing and determining such affrays as shall be committed within one mile of the place where and during the time such court is being held; nor shall this section be construed to prevent said courts from assuming jurisdiction of all offenses whereof exclusive original jurisdiction is given to justices of the peace if some justice of the peace, within twelve months after the commission of the offense, shall not have proceeded to take official cognizance of the same. (Rev., s. 1427; Const., Art. 4, s. 27; Code, s. 892; 1889, c. 504, s. 2; C. S. 1481.)

Art. 16. Dockets and Fees.

§ 7-130. Justice shall keep docket.—A civil and a criminal docket shall be furnished each justice, at the expense of the county, by the board of county commissioners, in which shall be entered a minute of every proceeding had in any action before such justice. (Rev., s. 1416; Code, s. 831; C. S. 1482.)

§ 7-131. Entries to be made.—The justice shall enter all his proceedings in a cause tried before him in his docket. No part of such proceedings must be entered on the summons, on the pleadings, or on any other paper in the cause. (Rev., s. 1470, Rule 14; Code, s. 840, Rule 13; C. S. 1483.)

§ 7-132. Dockets filed with clerk.—Each justice of the peace, as often as he has filled his docket, shall file the same with the clerk of the superior court for his county. (Rev., s. 1417; Code, s. 827; C. S. 1484.)

§ 7-133. Dockets, papers, and books delivered to successor.—When a vacancy exists, from any cause, in the office of a justice of the peace, whose docket is not filled, or when such justice goes out of office by expiration of his term, such former justice, if living, and his personal representative, if dead, shall deliver such docket, all law and other books furnished him as a justice of the peace, and all official papers, to the clerk of the superior court for his successor, who is authorized to hear and determine any unfinished action on said docket, in the same manner as if such action had been originally brought before such successor. (Rev., s. 1418; Code, s. 828; 1885, c. 372; C. S. 1485.)

Art. 17. Fees.

§ 7-134. Fees of justices of the peace.—Justices of the peace shall receive the following fees, and none other: For attachment with one defendant, twenty-five cents, and if more than one defendant, ten cents for each additional defendant; transcript of judgment, ten cents; summons, twenty cents, if more than one defendant in the same case, for each additional defendant, ten cents; subpœna for each witness, ten cents; trial when issues are joined, seventy-five cents, and if no issues are joined, then a fee of forty cents for trial and judgment; taking an affidavit, bond or undertaking, or for an order of publication, or an order to seize property, twenty-five cents; for jury trial and entering verdict, seventy-five cents; execution, twenty-five cents; renewal of execution, ten cents; return to an appeal, thirty cents; order of arrest in civil actions, twenty-five cents; warrant of arrest in criminal and bastardy cases, including affidavit or complaint, fifty cents; warrant of commitment, twenty-five cents; taking depositions on order or commission, per one hundred words, ten cents; garnishment for taxes, and making necessary return and certificate of same, twenty-five cents; for hearing petition for widow's year's allowance, issuing notice to commissioners and allotting the same, one dollar; for filing and docketing laborers' liens, fifty cents; probate of a deed or other writing proved by a witness, including the certificate, twenty-five cents; probate of a deed or other writing executed by a married woman, proper acknowledgment and private examination, with the certificate thereof, twenty-five cents; probate of a deed or other writing acknowledged by the signers or makers, including all except married women who acknowledge at the same time, with the certificate thereof, twenty-five cents; probating chattel mortgage, including the certificate, ten cents; for issuing all papers and copies thereof in an action for claim and delivery, and the trial of the same, if issues are joined, when there is one defendant, one dollar and fifty cents, and if more than one defendant in action, fifty cents for each additional defendant, and ten cents for each subpœna issued in said cause, and twenty-five cents for taking the replevy bond, when one is given: Provided, that when the trial of such a cause shall have been removed from before the justice of the peace issuing the said papers, the justice of the peace sitting in trial of such cause shall receive fifty cents of the above costs for such trial and judgment.

Justices of the peace in the counties of Montgomery, Onslow, Macon, Swain, Greene, Hyde, Cherokee, Rowan, Anson, Bertie, Nash, Chowan, Alamance, Wake, Transylvania, Watauga, Pender, Lee, Lenoir, Perquimans, Rockingham, Stokes, Johnston, Halifax, Duplin, Chatham, Forsyth, Wilkes, Gates, Tyrrell, Brunswick, Stanly, Columbus, Edgecombe, Franklin, Vance, Mitchell, Orange, Buncombe, Jackson, Alexander, McDowell, Clay, Hertford, Davidson, Northampton, Wayne, Jones, Cabarrus, Robeson, Richmond, Randolph, Polk, Henderson, Harnett, Bladen, Burke, Granville, Person, Haywood, Caldwell, Cumberland, and Madison shall receive the following fees, and none other: For attachment with one defendant, thirty-five cents, and if more than one defendant, fifteen cents for each additional defendant; transcript of judgment, fifteen cents; summons, thirty cents; if more than one defendant in the same case, for each additional defendant, fifteen cents; subpœna for each witness, fifteen cents; trial when issues are joined, one dollar; and if no issues are joined, then a fee of fifty cents for trial and judgment; taking an affidavit, bond, or undertaking, or for an order of publication, or an order to seize property, thirty-five cents; for jury trial and entering verdict, one dollar; execution, thirty-five cents; renewal of execution, fifteen cents; return to an appeal, forty cents; order of arrest in civil actions, thirty cents; warrant of arrest in criminal and bastardy cases, including affidavit or complaint, seventy-five cents; warrant of commitment, fifty cents; taking depositions on order of commission, per one hundred words, fifteen cents; garnishment for taxes and making necessary return and certificate of same, thirty-five cents. (Rev., s. 2788; Code, ss. 2135, 3748; 1870-1, c. 130, s. 9; 1883, c. 368; 1885, c. 86; 1903, c. 225; 1907, c. 967; 1917, c. 260; 1921, c. 113; Ex. Sess. 1921, cc. 38, 64, 67; 1923, cc. 28, 114, 238; 1929, cc. 13, 59; 1931, cc. 51, 303; C. S. 3923.)

Local Modification.—Orange: 1935, c. 358; Wake: 1937, c. 136; 1941, c. 165; Warren: 1937, c. 187.

Art. 18. Process.

§ 7-135. Action begun by summons.—Civil actions in these courts shall be commenced by the issuing of a summons. (Rev., s. 1444; Code, s. 830; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 9; C. S. 1486.)

§ 7-136. Issuance and contents of summons.—The summons shall be issued by the justice and signed by him. It shall run in the name of the state, and be directed to any constable or other lawful officer, commanding him to summon the defendant to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff at a place, within the county, to be therein specified, and at a time to be therein named, not exceeding thirty days from the date of the summons. It shall also state the sum demanded by the plaintiff or the value of the property sued for, where specific property is claimed. (Rev., s. 1445; Code, s. 832; 1874-5, c. 234; C. S. 1487.)

§ 7-137. Service and return of summons.—The officer to whom the summons is delivered shall execute the same within five days after its receipt by him or immediately, if required to do so by the plaintiff. Before proceeding to execute it, he is entitled to require of the plaintiff his fees for the service. When executed he shall immediately return the summons, with the date and manner of the service, to the justice who issued the same. (Rev., s. 1446; Code, s. 833; C. S. 1488.)

§ 7-138. Process issued to another county.—No process shall be issued by any justice of the peace to any county other than his own, unless one or more bona fide defendants shall reside in, and also one or more bona fide defendants shall reside outside of, his county; in which case, only, he may issue process to any county in which any such nonresident defendant resides. (Rev., s. 1447; Code, s. 871; 1876-7, c. 287; C. S. 1489.)

§ 7-139. Civil process in inferior courts.—The process of any recorder's court, county court, or other court inferior to the superior courts of the state, when such court is exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace in civil matters, shall run only as does the process of the court of a justice of the peace for the county in which such court is located. (1915, c. 19; C. S. 1490.)

§ 7-140. Endorsement of process to another county.—In all civil actions in courts of justices of the peace where one or more of the defendants may reside in a county other than that of the plaintiff, it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace within the county where such defendant or defendants may reside, upon proof of the handwriting of the justice of the peace who issued the process, to endorse his name on the same, or a duplicate thereof, and such process so endorsed shall be executed in like manner as if it had been originally issued by the justice endorsing it. (Rev., s. 1449; Code, s. 872; C. S. 1491.)

§ 7-141. Certificate of clerk on process for another county.—In all cases referred to in § 7-140 it shall be lawful for the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the action is brought to certify, under the seal of his court, on the process or a duplicate thereof, that the justice of the peace who issued the same is an acting justice of the peace in his county. And in all such cases it shall be the duty of any sheriff or constable to whom it may be directed to make an entry of the date of its reception, and to execute the same as provided for the service of civil process in courts of justices of the peace, and return it by mail to the justice of the peace from whose court it issued. (Rev., s. 1450; Code, s. 873; 1870-1, c. 60, s. 2; C. S. 1492.)

§ 7-142. Judgment against defendant in another county.—No justice of the peace shall enter a judgment under §§ 7-140 and 7-141 against any defendant who may be a nonresident of his county, unless it shall appear that the process was duly served upon him at least ten days before the return day of the same. (Rev., s. 1451; Code, s. 874; 1876-7, c. 57; C. S. 1493.)

§ 7-143. Service on foreign corporation.—Whenever any action of which a justice of the peace has jurisdiction shall be brought against a foreign corporation, which corporation is required to maintain a process agent in the state, the summons may be issued to the sheriff of the county in which such process agent resides, and when certified under the seal of his office by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the justice issuing such summons resides to be under the hand of such justice, the sheriff of the county to which such summons shall be issued shall serve the same as in other cases and make due return thereof. No justice of the peace shall enter a judgment in such cases against any such foreign corporation unless it shall appear that the process was duly served upon such process agent at least twenty days before the return day of the same. The summons may be made returnable at a time to be therein named, not exceeding forty days from the date of such summons: Provided, this section shall not apply to actions commenced in a county where the defendant has an officer or agent upon whom process may be served: Provided, that when any foreign corporation has no process agent in this state, but has an agent who collects money for it, said agent shall be deemed a process agent within the terms of this section, and that this proviso shall apply to existing claims as well as those arising hereafter. Such service can be made in respect to a foreign corporation only when it has property, or the cause of action arose, or the plaintiff resides in this state, or when it cannot be made personally within the state upon the president, treasurer, or secretary thereof. (Rev., s. 1448; 1907, c. 473; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 28; C. S. 1494.)

§ 7-144. Attendance of witnesses.—The justice, on application of either party, shall, by a subpoena or by an order in writing, on the process, direct the constable or other officer to summon witnesses to appear and give testimony at the time and place appointed for the trial. Each witness failing to appear shall forfeit and pay eight dollars to the party at whose instance he was summoned, and shall be further liable to such party for all damage sustained by nonattendance. The fine herein imposed may be recovered, on motion, before the justice who tried the action, unless the witness on a notice of five days, by affidavit or other proof, show sufficient excuse for his failure to attend. (Rev., s. 1452; Code, s. 847; C. S. 1495.)

§ 7-145. Subpoena issued to another county.—Justices of the peace, in all civil cases, may issue subpoenas to counties other than their own; such subpoenas shall be authenticated in the same manner as provided by law for the authentication of process. When so authenticated the sheriff, constable or other officer to whom the same is directed shall execute and return the same as provided for the return of process: Provided, that where witnesses attend in counties other than their own under such subpoena they shall receive the same per diem and mileage as witnesses who attend the superior courts: Provided further, that before issuing such subpoenas the party wanting such witness shall deposit with the justice before whom the cause is pending one day's per diem and the mileage of the witness to and returning from place of trial, which amount shall be paid to the witness on his attendance and taxed against the party cast in the trial. (Rev., s. 1453; 1893, c. 436; C. S. 1496.)

§ 7-146. Subpoena duces tecum in case against railroad.—When any action is brought against a railroad company before a justice of the peace, the justice before whom such action is made returnable shall have power to issue a subpoena to any county within the limits of the state, commanding the president or any officer, director, agent, or any one in the employment of such company, to appear before him at the time and place of trial and to produce such books, cards and other papers as the justice shall deem proper, and to give evidence in said cause; and each witness summoned as aforesaid failing or refusing to appear and testify and produce the books and papers aforesaid in obedience to such writ shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of court and fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 1454; 1885, c. 221, s. 2; C. S. 1497.)

Art. 19. Pleading and Practice.

§ 7-147. Removal of case.—In all proceedings and trials, both criminal and civil, before justices of the peace, the justice before whom the writ or summons is returnable shall, upon written request made by either party to the action before evidence is introduced, move the same to some other justice residing in the same township, or to the justice of some neighboring township if there be no other justice in said township; but no cause shall be more than once removed. (Rev., s. 1455; Code, s. 907; 1880, c. 15; 1883, c. 66; 1917, c. 48; C. S. 1498.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 278.

§ 7-148. Removal in case of death or incapacity.—If any justice of the peace dies or becomes incapacitated by removal, resignation or other cause, having any action, civil or criminal, pending before him, which has not been finally determined, such action shall not abate or be discontinued, but the plaintiff in such civil action, or any one on behalf of the state in such criminal action, may remove such action for further and final determination before any other justice of the peace of the same township in which the original action was pending, or before any justice of the peace of the same county when there is no other in the township, by filing the papers in said action with the justice to whom the same is removed and by giving ten days notice to the defendant of such removal; and if the plaintiff in any civil action shall fail to give such notice of removal within ten days from the happening of the death, removal, or resignation, or incapacity of such justice, then the defendant in such action may remove the same by giving like notice to the plaintiff; and if no notice is given by either party to such action within twenty days, then such action shall stand discontinued without prejudice. The justice of the peace before whom such action may be removed shall proceed to try and determine the same, but he shall demand no fees or costs which have theretofore been properly advanced by any party to such action. After such removal either party shall be entitled to all the rights given in § 7-147. (Rev., s. 1456; 1905, c. 121; C. S. 1499.)

§ 7-149. Rules of practice:

Rule 1, Pleadings. The pleadings in these courts are—

1. The complaint of the plaintiff.

2. The answer of the defendant. (Rev., s. 1457; Code, s. 840; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 2, Complaint. The complaint must state, in a plain and direct manner, the facts constituting the cause of action. (Rev., s. 1459; Code, s. 840, Rule 3; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 3, Answer. The answer may contain a denial of the complaint, or of any part thereof, and also a statement, in a plain and direct manner, of any facts constituting a defense or counterclaim. (Rev., s. 1460; Code, s. 840, Rule 4; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 4, Demurrer. Either party may demur to a pleading of his adversary, or to any part thereof, when it is not sufficiently explicit to enable him to understand it, or contains no cause of action or defense, although it be taken as true. (Rev., s. 1461; Code, s. 840, Rule 11; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 5, Order on demurrer. If the justice deem the objection well founded, he shall order the pleading to be amended on such terms as he may think just; and if the party refuse to amend, the defective pleading shall be disregarded. (Rev., s. 1462; Code, s. 840, Rule 12; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 6, Pleadings, oral or written. The pleadings may be either oral or written; if oral, the substance must be entered by the justice on his docket; if written, they must be filed by the justice, and a reference to them be made on his docket. (Rev., s. 1458; Code, s. 840, Rule 2; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 7, No particular form for pleadings. Pleadings are not required to be in any particular form, but must be such as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is meant. (Rev., s. 1463; Code, s. 840, Rule 5; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 8, No judgment by default. Where a defendant does not appear and answer, the plaintiff must still prove his case before he can recover. (Rev., s. 1464; Code, s. 840, Rule 6; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 9, Action on account or note. In an action or defense, founded on an account, or an instrument for the payment of money only, it is sufficient for a party to deliver the account or instrument to the justice and state that there is due him thereon from the adverse party a specified sum, which he claims to recover or set off. (Rev., s. 1465; Code, s. 840, Rule 7; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 10, Account or demand exhibited. The justice may at the joining of issue require either party, at the request of the other, at that or some other specified time to exhibit his account or demand, or state the nature thereof as far as may be in his power; and in case of his default, the justice shall preclude him from giving evidence of such parts thereof as have not been so exhibited or stated. (Rev., s. 1469; Code, s. 840, Rule 10; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 11, Variance. A variance between the evidence on the trial and the allegations in a pleading shall be disregarded as immaterial, unless the court is satisfied that the adverse party has been misled to his prejudice thereby. (Rev., s. 1466; Code, s. 840, Rule 8; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 12, No process quashed for want of form. No process or other proceeding begun before a justice of the peace, whether in a civil or a criminal action, shall be quashed or set aside for the want of form, if the essential matters are set forth therein; and the court in which any such action shall be pending shall have power to amend any warrant, process, pleading or proceeding in such action, either in form or substance, for the furtherance of justice, on such terms as shall be deemed just, at any time either before or after judgment. (Rev., s. 1467; Code, s. 908; R. C., cc. 3, 62, s. 22; 1794, c. 414; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 13, Pleadings amended. The pleadings may be amended at any time before the trial, or during the trial, or upon appeal, when by such amendment substantial justice will be promoted. If the amendment be made after the joining of the issue, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court, by oath, that an adjournment is necessary to the adverse party, in consequence of such amendment, an adjournment shall be granted. The court may also, in its discretion, require as a condition of an amendment the payment of costs to the adverse party. (Rev., s. 1468; Code, s. 840, Rule 9; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 14, Tender of judgment. The defendant may, on the return of process and before answering, make an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken against him for an amount, to be stated in such offer, with costs. The plaintiff shall thereupon, and before any other proceeding be had in the action, determine whether he will accept or reject such offer. If he accept the offer, and give notice thereof in writing, the justice shall file the offer and the acceptance thereof, and render judgment accordingly. If notice of acceptance be not given, and if the plaintiff fail to obtain judgment for a greater amount, exclusive of costs, than has been specified in the offer, he shall not recover costs, but shall pay to the defendant his costs accruing subsequent to the offer. (Rev., s. 1471; Code, s. 840, Rule 16; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 15, Continuance. Any justice before whom an action is brought may, on sufficient excuse therefor shown on the affidavit of either party or any person for him, continue such action from time to time for trial; but such continuance shall not exceed thirty days. (Rev., s. 1472; Code, s. 840, Rule 17; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 16, Chapter on civil procedure applicable. The chapter on civil procedure, respecting forms of actions, parties to actions, the times of commencing actions, and the service of process, shall apply to justices' courts. (Rev., s. 1473; Code, s. 840, Rule 15; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 17, Attachment proceedings. The chapter on civil procedure is applicable to proceedings by attachment before justices of the peace, in all cases founded on contract wherein the sum demanded does not exceed two hundred dollars, and where the title to real estate is not in controversy. (Rev., s. 1474; Code, s. 853; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 18, Claim and delivery and arrest and bail. The chapter on civil procedure is applicable, except as herein otherwise provided, to proceedings in justices' courts concerning claim and delivery of personal property and arrest and bail, substituting the words, "justice of the peace" for "judge," "clerk" or "clerk of the court," and inserting the words "or constable" after "sheriff," whenever they occur. (Rev., s. 1475; Code, ss. 849, 889; 1876-7, c. 251; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 19, Actions for damages and for conversion. All actions in a court of a justice of the peace for the recovery of damages to real estate, or for the conversion of personal property, or any injury thereto, shall be commenced and prosecuted to judgment under the same rules of procedure as provided in civil actions in a justice's court. (Rev., s. 1476; Code, s. 888; 1876-7, c. 251; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 20, Action on former judgment. On the trial of an action founded on a former judgment, the judgment itself shall be evidence of the debt, subject to such payments as have been made. (Rev., s. 1477; Code, s. 844; C. S. 1500.)

Rule 21, Rehearing of case. When a judgment has been rendered by a justice, in the absence of either party, and when such absence was caused by the sickness, excusable mistake or neglect of the party, such absent party, his agent or attorney, may, within ten days after the date of such judgment, apply for relief to the justice who awarded the same, by affidavit, setting forth the facts, which affidavit must be filed by the justice; whereupon the justice, if he deem the affidavit sufficient, shall open the case for reconsideration; and to this end, he shall issue a summons, directed to a constable, or other lawful officer, to cause the adverse party, together with the witnesses on both sides, to appear before him at a place and at a time, not exceeding twenty days, to be specified in the summons, when the complaint shall be reheard, and the same proceedings had as if the case had never been acted on. If execution has been issued on the judgment, the justice shall direct an order to the officer having such execution in his hands, commanding him to forbear all further proceedings thereon, and to return the same to the justice forthwith. (Rev., s. 1478; Code, s. 845; C. S. 1500.)

Art. 20. Jury Trial.

§ 7-150. Parties entitled to a jury trial.—When an issue of fact shall be joined before a justice, on demand of either party thereto, he shall cause a jury of six men to be summoned, who shall try the same. (Const., Art. 4, s. 27; C. S. 1501.)

§ 7-151. Jury trial waived.—A trial by jury must be demanded at the time of joining the issue of fact, and if neither party demand at such time a jury, they shall be deemed to have waived a trial by jury. (Rev., s. 1431; Code, s. 857; C. S. 1502.)

§ 7-152. Number constituting the jury.—Six jurors shall constitute a jury in a justice's court, but, by consent of both parties, a less number may constitute it. (Rev., s. 1440; Code, s. 866; C. S. 1503.)

§ 7-153. Jury list furnished.—The clerk of the board of commissioners shall furnish, on demand, to each justice of the peace in the county, a list of the jurors for the township for which such justice is elected or appointed. (Rev., s. 1428; Code, s. 854; C. S. 1504.)

§ 7-154. Names kept in jury box.—Each justice shall keep a jury box, having two divisions marked respectively number one and number two, and having two locks, the key to be kept by the justice. He shall cause the names on his jury list to be written on small scrolls of paper of equal size, and to be placed in the jury box, in division marked number one, until drawn out for the trial of an issue as required by law. (Rev., ss. 1429, 1430; Code, ss. 855, 856; C. S. 1505.)

§ 7-155. Fees deposited for jury trial.—Before a party is entitled to a jury he shall deposit with the justice the sum of three dollars for jury fees, and the justice shall pay to all persons who attend, pursuant to the summons, as well to those who do not actually serve as to those who do serve, twenty-five cents each, to be included in the judgment as part of the costs, in case the party demanding the jury recover judgment, but not otherwise. The justice shall refund to the party the fees of all jurors who do not attend. (Rev., s. 1432; Code, s. 869; C. S. 1506.)

§ 7-156. Jury drawn and trial postponed. — When a trial by jury is demanded, the justice shall immediately, in the presence of the parties, proceed to draw the names of twelve jurors from division marked number one of the jury box; and the trial of the cause shall thereupon be postponed to a time and place to be fixed by the justice. (Rev., s. 1433; Code, s. 858; C. S. 1507.)

§ 7-157. Summoning the jury.—A list of the jurors so drawn shall be immediately delivered by the justice to any constable, or other lawful officer, with an order indorsed thereon, directing him to summon the persons named in the list to appear as jurors at the time and place fixed for the trial; and it is the duty of the officer to proceed forthwith to summon such jurors, or so many of them as can be found, according to the order; and he shall make return thereof at the time and place appointed, stating in his return the names of the jurors summoned by him. For performing the aforementioned duties, he shall receive the fee allowed by law for summoning jurors. The preceding sentence shall not apply to the counties of Beaufort, Brunswick, Cabarrus, Edgecombe, Forsyth, Gaston, Gates, Guilford, Halifax, Martin, McDowell, Orange, Pasquotank, Rowan, Transylvania, and Wake. (Rev., s. 1434; Code, s. 859; 1935, c. 309; C. S. 1508.)

§ 7-158. Selection of jury.—At the time and place appointed, and on return of the order, if the trial be not further adjourned, and if adjourned, then at the time and place to which the trial shall be adjourned, the justice shall proceed, in the presence of the parties, to draw from the jurors summoned the names of six persons to constitute the jury for the trial of the issue. (Rev., s. 1435; Code, s. 860; C. S. 1509.)

§ 7-159. Challenges.—Each party shall be entitled to challenge, peremptorily, two of the persons drawn as jurors. (Rev., s. 1436; Code, s. 861; C. S. 1510.)

§ 7-160. Names returned to the jury box.—The scrolls containing the names of jurors not summoned, if any, and of those summoned but not drawn, and of those drawn but challenged and set aside, must be returned by the justice to his jury box, in division marked number one: Provided, that the scrolls containing the names of such as are not legally liable or legally qualified to serve as jurors shall be destroyed. (Rev., s. 1437; Code, s. 862; C. S. 1511.)

§ 7-161. Names of jurors serving.—The scrolls containing the names of the jurors who serve on the trial of an issue must be placed in the jury box in division marked number two, until all the scrolls in division marked number one have been drawn out. As often as that may happen, the whole number of scrolls shall be returned to division marked number one, to be drawn out as in the first instance. (Rev., s. 1441; Code, s. 868; C. S. 1512.)

§ 7-162. Tales jurors summoned.—If a competent and indifferent jury is not obtained from the twelve jurors drawn, as before specified, the justice may direct others to be summoned from the bystanders, sufficient to complete the jury. (Rev., s. 1438; Code, s. 863; C. S. 1513.)

§ 7-163. No juror to serve out of township.—No person is compelled to serve as a juror in a justice's court out of his own township, except as a talesman. (Rev., s. 1439; Code, s. 867; C. S. 1514.)

§ 7-164. Additional deposit for jury fees on adjournment. — No adjournment shall be granted after the return of the jury, unless the party asking the same shall, in addition to the other conditions imposed on him by law or by the justice, deposit with the justice, to be immediately paid to the jurors attending, the sum of twenty-five cents each, such amount to be in no case included in the judgment as part of the costs. On such adjournment, the jurors shall attend at the time and place appointed, without further summons or notice; and the fees for the jury, deposited with the justice in the beginning, shall remain in his hands until the jury are impaneled on the trial, and shall be then immediately paid to the jurors or to the party entitled thereto. (Rev., s. 1442; Code, s. 870; C. S. 1515.)

§ 7-165. Jury sworn and impaneled; verdict; judgment.—The jury shall be sworn and impaneled by the justice, who shall record their verdict in his docket and enter a judgment in the case according to such verdict. (Rev., s. 1443; Code, s. 864; C. S. 1516.)

Art. 21. Judgment and Execution.

§ 7-166. Justice's judgment docketed; lien and execution.—A justice of the peace, on the demand of a party in whose favor he has rendered a judgment, shall give a transcript thereof which may be filed and docketed in the office of the superior court clerk of the county where the judgment was rendered. And in such case he shall also deliver to the party against whom such judgment was rendered, or his attorney, a transcript of any stay of execution issued, or which may thereafter be issued, by him on such judgment, which may be in like manner filed and docketed in the office of the clerk of such court. The time of the receipt of the transcript by the clerk shall be noted thereon and entered on the docket; and from that time the judgment shall be a judgment of the superior court in all respects for the purposes of lien and execution. The execution thereon shall be issued by the clerk of the superior court to the sheriff of the county, and shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner, as other executions of the superior court; but in case a stay of execution upon such judgment shall be granted, as provided by law, execution shall not be issued thereon by the clerk of the superior court until the expiration of such stay. A certified transcript of such judgment may be filed and docketed in the superior court clerk's office of any other county, and with like effect, in every respect, as in the county where the judgment was rendered, except that it shall be a lien only from the time of filing and docketing such transcript. (Rev., s. 1479; Code, s. 839; C. S. 1517.)

§ 7-167. Effect of judgment on appeal.—In cases of appeal to the superior court from a justice's judgment docketed in such court, when judgment is rendered in the superior court on such appeal, the lien acquired by the docketing of such justice's judgment shall merge into the judgment of the superior court, and continue as a lien from the date of the docketing of such justice's judgment, and be superior to any other judgment docketed subsequent to the date of the justice's judgment, except prior attachment liens and judgment on the same. The clerk of the superior court shall carry forward and tax into the judgment of the superior court all costs incurred in the justice's court, including transcript and docketing, as well as all costs incurred in the superior court, and shall issue execution only on the judgment rendered in the superior court, and not upon the justice's judgment. When the judgment of the superior court is satisfied, it shall be a satisfaction of the justice's judgment, and the clerk shall note such satisfaction on the record of the justice's judgment. (Rev., s. 1479; 1903, c. 179; C. S. 1518.)

§ 7-168. Entries made by clerk when judgment is rendered.—Whenever a transcript of a judgment taken before a justice of the peace is docketed on the judgment docket of the superior court and the same is afterwards reversed, modified, or affirmed in the superior court on appeal by a final judgment, the clerk of said court shall within ten days thereafter enter on the judgment docket where the said transcript was first docketed, the word "reversed," "modified," or "affirmed," as the case may be, and further refer to the book and page where can be found the judgment reversing, modifying, or affirming the former judgment. Any clerk failing to perform such duties as are required of him in this section shall pay to any person all such damages as he may have sustained by such failure. (Rev., s. 1479; 1907, c. 880; C. S. 1519.)

§ 7-169. Justice's judgment removed to another county.—Any person who may desire to have a justice's judgment in his favor removed to another county to be enforced against the goods and chattels of the defendant must obtain from the justice who rendered the judgment a transcript thereof, under his hand; and must further procure a certificate from the clerk of the superior court of the county where the judgment was rendered, under the seal of his court, that the justice who gave the judgment was, at the rendition thereof, a justice of the county. On such transcript of the judgment, thus certified, any justice in any other county may award execution for the sum therein expressed. (Rev., s. 1480; Code, s. 846; C. S. 1520.)

§ 7-170. Issue and return of execution.—Execution may be issued on a judgment, rendered in a justice's court, at any time within one year after the rendition thereof, and shall be returnable sixty days from the date of the same. (Rev., s. 1481; Code, s. 840, Rule 14; C. S. 1521.)

§ 7-171. Levy and lien of execution.—Executions issued by a justice, which must be directed to any constable or other lawful officer of the county, shall be a lien on the goods and chattels of the defendant named therein, from the levy thereof only, but shall not be levied on or enforced in any manner against real estate; but when a justice's judgment shall be made a judgment of the superior court, as is elsewhere provided, the execution shall be capable of being levied and collected out of any property of the defendant in execution, and it shall be a lien on the real estate of said defendant from the time when it becomes a judgment of the superior court. (Rev., s. 1482; Code, s. 841; 1868-9, c. 159, s. 5; C. S. 1522.)

§ 7-172. Stay of execution. — In all actions founded on contract, whereon judgments are rendered in justices' courts, stay of execution, if prayed for at the trial by the defendant or his attorney, shall be granted by the justices in the following manner: For any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars, one month; for any sum above twenty-five dollars and not exceeding fifty dollars, three months; for any sum above fifty dollars and not exceeding one hundred dollars, four months; for any sum above one hundred dollars, six months. But no stay of execution shall be allowed in any action wherein judgment is rendered on a former judgment taken before a justice of the peace. (Rev., s. 1483; Code, s. 842; 1868-9, c. 272; C. S. 1523.)

§ 7-173. Security on stay of execution.—The party praying for a stay of execution shall, within ten days after the trial, give sufficient security, approved by the justice, for payment of the judgment, with interest thereon till paid, and cost; and the acknowledgment of the surety, entered by the justice in his docket and signed by the surety, shall be sufficient to bind such surety. If the judgment be not discharged at the time to which execution has been stayed, the justice who awarded the judgment shall issue execution against the principal, or surety, or both. (Rev., s. 1484; Code, s. 843; C. S. 1524.)

§ 7-174. Stay of execution on appeal.—In all cases of appeal from justices' courts, if the appellant desires a stay of execution of the judgment, he may, at any time, apply to the clerk of the appellate court for leave to give the undertaking as provided in a subsequent section; and the clerk, upon the undertaking being given, shall make an order that all proceedings on the judgment be stayed. Instead of before the clerk of the appellate court, the appellant may give the undertaking before the justice who tried the cause, who shall indorse his approval thereon. (Rev., ss. 1485, 1486; Code, ss. 882, 883; 1869-70, c. 187; C. S. 1525.)

§ 7-175. Nature of undertaking.—The undertaking shall be in writing, executed by one or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the justice or clerk making the order, to the effect that if judgment be rendered against the appellant, the sureties will pay the amount together with all costs awarded against the appellant, and when judgment shall be rendered against the appellant, the appellate court shall give judgment against the said sureties. And in the event that said defendant shall prior to entry of the final judgment be adjudicated a bankrupt, then and in that event, the surety or sureties on said bond shall remain bound as if they were co-debtors with the defendant and the plaintiff may continue the prosecution of the action against said sureties, as if they were co-defendants in the cause. (Rev., s. 1487; Code, s. 884; 1879, c. 68; 1933, c. 251, s. 1; C. S. 1526.)

§ 7-176. Execution stayed upon order given.—A delivery of a certified copy of the order, hereinbefore mentioned, to the justice of the peace shall stay the issuing of an execution on the judgment; if it has been issued, the service of a certified copy of such order on the officer holding the execution shall stay further proceedings thereon. A certified copy of such order shall also be served on the respondent, or on his agent or attorney, within ten days after the making thereof. (Rev., s. 1488; Code, s. 885; C. S. 1527.)

Art. 22. Appeal.

§ 7-177. No new trial; either party may appeal.—A new trial is not allowed in a justice's court in any case whatever; but either party dissatisfied with the judgment in such court may appeal therefrom to the superior court, as hereinafter prescribed. (Rev., s. 1489; Code, s. 865; C. S. 1528.)

§ 7-178. Appeal does not stay execution.—No appeal shall prevent the issuing of an execution on a judgment, or work a stay thereof, except as provided for by giving an undertaking and obtaining an order to stay execution. (Rev., s. 1490; Code, s. 875; 1876-7, c. 251, s. 6; C. S. 1529.)

§ 7-179. Manner of taking appeal.—The appellant shall, within ten days after judgment, serve a notice of appeal, stating the grounds upon which the appeal is founded. If the judgment is rendered upon process not personally served, and the defendant did not appear and answer, he shall have fifteen days, after personal notice of the rendition of the judgment, to serve the notice of appeal herein provided for. (Rev., s. 1491; Code, s. 876; 1876-7, c. 251, s. 7; C. S. 1530.)

§ 7-180. No written notice of appeal in open court.—Where any party prays an appeal from a judgment rendered in a justice's court, and the adverse party is present in person or by attorney at the time of the prayer, the appellant shall not be compelled to give any written notice of appeal either to the justice or to the adverse party. (Rev., s. 1492; Code, s. 877; 1869-70, c. 187; 1876-7, c. 251, s. 8; C. S. 1531.)

§ 7-181. Justice's return on appeal.—The justice shall, within ten days after the service of the notice of appeal on him, make a return to the appellate court and file with the clerk thereof the papers, proceedings and judgment in the case, with the notice of appeal served on him. He may be compelled to make such return by attachment. But no justice shall be bound to make such return until the fees, prescribed by law for his service, be paid him. The fee so paid shall be included in the costs, in case the judgment appealed from is reversed. (Rev., s. 1493; Code, s. 878; C. S. 1532.)

§ 7-182. Defective return amended.—If the return be defective, the judge or clerk of the appellate court may direct a further or amended return as often as may be necessary, and may compel a compliance with the order by attachment. (Rev., s. 1494; Code, s. 879; C. S. 1533.)

§ 7-183. Restitution ordered upon reversal of judgment.—If the judgment appealed from, or any part thereof, be paid or collected, and the judgment be afterwards reversed, the appellate court shall order the amount paid or collected to be restored, with interest from the time of such payment or collection. The order may be obtained on proof of the facts made at or after the hearing of the appeal, on a previous notice of six days. If the order be obtained before the judgment of reversal is entered, the amount may be included in the judgment. (Rev., s. 1495; Code, s. 886; C. S. 1534.)

Art. 23. Forms.

§ 7-184. Forms to be used in justice's court.—The following forms, or substantially similar ones, shall be sufficient in all cases of proceedings in civil actions, provided for in this article:

(Title as in No. 1)

To O. P. M., constable (or sheriff) of the county of.....:

Take notice, that the plaintiff does not accept the bail offered by the defendant in this action (and if the undertaking is defective in form or otherwise, add also), and further he excepts to the form and sufficiency of the undertaking.

Yours, etc.,
A. B....., Plaintiff.
(or M. W. N. ....., Attorney for Plaintiff.)

Dated this .... day of ....., 19....

[No. 22]

Notice of Justification of Bail

(Title as in No. 1)

To A. B., Plaintiff (or M. W. N., Attorney for plaintiff):

Take notice, that the bail in this action will justify before G. W. H., Esq., a justice of the peace for said county, at the office of said justice, in said county, on the .... day of ....., 19.....

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19....

C. D.....
(or, M. W. N....., Attorney for C. D.), Defendant.

[No. 23]

Notice of Other Bail

(Title as in No. 1)

Take notice that R. S., of ..... County (physician), and Y. Y., of ..... County (farmer), are proposed as bail, in addition to (or in place of) B. B. and D. D., the bail already put in; and that they will justify (conclude as in last form). Date, etc.

[No. 24]

Justification of Bail

(Title as in No. 1)

On this ..... day of ....., 19 ...., before G. W. H., Esq., a justice of the peace for said county, personally appeared B. B. and D. D. (or R. S. and Y. Y., as the case may be), the bail given by the defendant C. D. in this action, for the purpose of justifying pursuant to notice; and the said B. B., being duly sworn, says:

1. That he is a resident and householder (or freeholder) in this state;

2. That he is worth the sum of .....dollars (the amount specified in the order of arrest), exclusive of property exempt from execution.

And the said D. D., being duly sworn, says:

(As with the other bail.)

(And so on with each bail offered.)

(Signatures of bail.)

Examination taken and sworn to before me, this ..... day of ....., 19....

G. W. H.....
Justice of the Peace.

[No. 25]

Allowance of Bail

(Title as in No. 1)

The bail of the defendant, C. D., within mentioned, having appeared before me and justified, I do find the said bail sufficient, and allow the same.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19....

G. W. H.....
Justice of the Peace.

Subpœna to Testify

State of North Carolina, ... County.

To S. T. ....., greeting: (the justice may insert any number of necessary names.)

You (and each of you) are commanded to appear personally before G. W. H., Esq., a justice of the peace for said county, at his office in said county, on the ..... day of ....., 19....., to give evidence in a certain civil action now pending before said justice, and then and there to be tried, between A. B., plaintiff, and C. D., defendant, on the part of the defendant (or plaintiff).* Herein fail not, under the penalty prescribed by law. Witness our said justice, this ..... day of ....., 19 .....

G. W. H.....
Justice of the Peace

[No. 27]

N. B.—The justice may, instead of a formal subpœna, indorse on the summons or other process an order for witnesses, substantially as follows:

The officer to whom the within process is directed will summon the following persons as witnesses for the plaintiff: .....; and the following as witnesses for the defendant: .....; and will notify all such witnesses to appear and testify at the time and place within named for the return of this process.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19 ....

G. W. H.....
Justice of the Peace.

[No. 28]

Subpoena Duces Tecum

If any witness has a paper or document which a party desires as evidence at the trial, the justice will pursue the form No. 26 as far down as the asterisk (*) and then add the following clause:

And you, S. T., are also commanded to bring with you and there produce as evidence a certain bond (describe particularly) which is now in your possession or under your control, together with all papers, documents, writings or instruments in your custody, or under your control. (Conclude as in form No. 26.)

[No. 29]

Form of Oath of Witness

You swear that the evidence you will give as to the matters in difference between A. B., plaintiff, and C. D., defendant, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you, God.

[No. 30]

Proceedings against Defaulting Witness

When a witness, under subpoena, fails to attend, the justice will note the fact in his docket by some such entry as the following:

R. P., a witness summoned on behalf of the plaintiff, called and failed.

If the party who suffers by default of the witness wishes to move for the penalty against him, he will serve substantially the following notice on the witness:

(Title as in No. 1)

To R. P.:

Take notice, that on the .... day of ....., 19 ....., the plaintiff in the above action will move G. W. H., Esq., the justice before whom the trial of said action was had, on the..... day of ....., 19 ...., for judgment against you for the sum of ..... dollars, forfeited by reason of your failure to appear and give evidence on said trial as you were summoned to do.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19 ....

A. B ....., Plaintiff.

The justice will enter the proceedings on the foregoing notice on his docket as follows:

A ..... B ..... } Justice's Court. against } Motion for penalty against
C ..... D ..... } R. P., defaulting witness.

..... day of ....., 19 ...., A. B., above named, appears, and according to a notice filed and duly served on R. P., moved for the penalty of ..... dollars forfeited by the said R. P. by reason of his failure to attend and give evidence on the trial of a cause, wherein A. B. was plaintiff and C. D. was defendant, tried before me at my office on the .... day of ....., 19 ....., as appears by entry duly made on my docket; when and where the said R. P., a witness summoned on the part of the plaintiff in that action, was called and did fail.

R. P. appears and assigns for excuse "high water," and offers his own affidavit, which is filed. He also offers as a witness in his behalf S. S., who, being duly sworn, testifies that (state what S. S. says about the condition of the water at the time). R. P., having no other evidence, closed the case on his part. Whereupon A. B. offered M. Y. as a witness, who, being sworn, testifies (state what witness says).

Neither party having any other evidence, and after hearing all the proofs and allegations submitted for and against the motion, it is adjudged, on motion of A. B., that A. B. do recover of R. P. the sum of ..... dollars, penalty forfeited by reason of the premises, and the further sum of ..... dollars, costs of this motion.

[No. 31]

Form of a Venire

The justice will make a list of the persons drawn by him as jurors, and indorse thereon substantially as follows:

To O. P. M., constable of ..... County:

You are hereby directed to summon the persons named within to appear as jurors before me at my office in your county, on the ..... day of ....., 19 ...., for trial of a civil action now pending between A. B., plaintiff, and C. D., defendant, then and there to be tried. And have you then and there the names of the jurors you shall summon, with this precept.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19.....

G. W. H.....

Justice of the Peace.

[No. 32]

Form of Juror's Oath

You swear well and truly to try the matter in difference between A. B., plaintiff, and C. D., defendant, and a verdict to give thereon according to the evidence in the cause. So help you, God.

[No. 33]

Form of Oath to Constable in Charge of the Jury

You swear that you will, to the utmost of your ability, keep the persons sworn as jurors on this trial together in some private and convenient place, without any meat or drink, except such as may be ordered by the court; that you will not suffer any communication, orally or otherwise, to be made to them, and that you will not communicate with them yourself, orally or otherwise, unless by order of the court. So help you, God.

Summons against Defaulting Juror to Show Cause

State of North Carolina, to any constable or other lawful officer of ..... County—Greeting:

We command you to summon R. S. to appear before G. W. H., Esq., a justice of the peace for your county, at his office in said county, on the ..... day of ....., 19 ...., to show cause why he, the said R. S., should not be fined according to law for his nonattendance as a juror before our said justice at his office in said county on the .... day of ....., 19...., in a certain cause then and there pending, in which A. B. was plaintiff and C. D. was defendant; and have you then and there this precept, with the date and manner of your service thereof.

Witness, our said justice, this .... day of ....., 19 .....

G. W. H.....

Justice of the Peace.

[No. 35]

Demurrer to Complaint

(Title as in No 1.)

The defendant demurs to the complaint in this action, for that the said complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action (or, for that the said complaint is not sufficiently explicit to enable this defendant to understand it.)

(Signature of defendant or defendant's attorney.)

[No. 36]

Demurrer to Answer

(Title as in No. 1 or No. 5)

The plaintiff demurs to the answer of the defendant, for that the facts stated in the answer are not legally sufficient to constitute a defense to this action (or, for that the said answer is not sufficiently explicit to make this plaintiff understand it.)

(Signature of plaintiff or plaintiff's attorney.)

[No. 37]

Judgment upon Demurrer

NOTE.— If the justice thinks the objection raised by the demurrer to the pleadings is well founded, he will make this entry on his docket:

"Demurrer to the complaint (or to the answer) filed, heard and sustained; and whereupon it is ordered that the said pleading be amended without cost (or upon payment of costs, as the case may be)."

This order to amend the defective pleading is a matter of course, and is the only judgment which the justice can render upon demurrer. He cannot give a final judgment in the cause at this stage, for the party may choose to amend his pleadings and try the case on the facts. If, however, the party refuse to amend the defective pleading, the justice will disregard the same, and proceed to render final judgment, as follows:

"The plaintiff (or defendant) having refused to amend his complaint (or his answer) demurred to, it is adjudged that the defendant go without day and recover of the plaintiff the sum of ..... dollars, costs of this action (or that the plaintiff recover of the defendant the sum of ..... dollars, damages, and the further sum of ..... dollars, costs of this action.)"

If the justice deem the objection, raised by the demurrer, not well founded, he will enter in his docket as follows: "Demurrer to the complaint (or to the answer) filed, heard and overruled," and he will then proceed to the evidence in the cause.

[No. 38]

Entry in Docket

NOTE.—The following is offered as a general precedent of the manner in which the justice will make the entries in his docket:

(Title as in No. 1)

....., 19 ..... Summons issued; returnable on the .... instant at my office.

....., 19 ..... Summons returned, served on defendant by O. P. M., constable, on the ....instant, both parties appear, the plaintiff in person, the defendant by R. H. R., Esq., attorney.

The plaintiff complains on a promissory note executed by the defendant to him, dated ....., 19...., payable one day after date, for $....., and also for goods sold and delivered to the defendant, and claims damages for $ .....

The defendant answers and denies each and every allegation in the complaint, and claims a setoff of $..... for wood sold and delivered to the plaintiff, and also of $..... for work and labor performed for the plaintiff.

On joining issue of fact as above, the action is, by consent of parties, adjourned to the ..... instant, at my office.

A venire is also issued at the plaintiff's (or defendant's) demand, returnable at the time and place last mentioned.

....., 19..... The parties appear and proceed to the trial of the cause. The following jurors are returned as summoned upon the venire by O. P. M., constable. (Insert the names of all jurors summoned.) The following jurors, who are returned as summoned, do not appear. (Insert their names.) The following jurors appear according to the summons. (Insert their names.) The following jurors are sworn to try the action. (Insert their names.)

H. P. and J. M., witnesses for the plaintiff, and W. F., a witness for the defendant, are sworn and testify; J. S., a witness on the part of the defendant, is offered, but objected to by the plaintiff on the ground (state the ground), and rejected.

Having heard the evidence (and the arguments of a counsel, if any), the cause is submitted to the jury, who retire, under charge of O. P. M., a constable duly sworn for that purpose, and afterwards return in open court and publicly deliver their verdict, by which they find in favor of the plaintiff for $..... damages; whereupon, I adjudged that the plaintiff do recover of the defendant—

Damages, - - - - - $.....
Costs, - - - - - .....

....., 19 ..... Execution issued for above judgment to O. P. M., constable.

....., 19 ..... Notice of appeal served on me by defendant; my fee paid and return to the appeal made by me.

N. B.—If the action is tried by the justice without a jury, all that relates to the venire and the verdict in the above form must be left out, and the judgment will be entered as follows:

After hearing the proofs and allegations of the respective parties, I do adjudge that the plaintiff recover, etc. (as above).

Form of Notice of Appeal to the Superior Court, Where a New Trial of the Whole Matter is to be Had

(Title as in No. 1)

To G. W. H., Esq., a justice of the peace for said county.

Take notice, that the defendant in the above action appeals to the Superior Court from the judgment rendered therein by you on the ..... day of ....., 19...., in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of sixty-five dollars damages and the further sum of three dollars and seventy-five cents costs, and that this appeal is founded upon the ground that the said judgment is contrary to law and evidence.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19....

W. W. .....
Attorney for Appellant.

[No. 40]

Return to Notice of Appeal

A..... B..... } against C..... D..... } County of .....

To the Superior Court of ..... County:

An appeal having been taken in this action by the defendant, I, G. W. H., the justice before whom the same was tried, in pursuance of the notice of appeal hereto annexed, do hereby certify and return that the following proceedings were had by and before me in said action:

On the first of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, at the request of the plaintiff, I issued a summons in his favor and against the defendant, which is herewith sent. Said summons was, on the return day thereof, returned before me at my office; and at the same time and place the parties personally appeared.

The plaintiff complained for goods sold and delivered to defendant to the amount of $75. The defendant denied the right of the plaintiff to recover that amount for the goods, on the ground that he had paid, at or shortly after the purchase of said goods, ... dollars thereon; and he also claimed to have a setoff against the plaintiff to the amount of $85 for board and lodging furnished to plaintiff and work and labor done for him; and he claimed to be entitled to judgment against the plaintiff for $.....

Both parties introduced evidence upon the claims so made by them, and after hearing their proofs and allegations, I rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, on the tenth of February, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, for $65 damages, and for the further sum of $3.75, costs of the action.

I also certify that on the eleventh of February, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, the defendant served the annexed notice of appeal on me, and at the same time paid me my fee of $1 for making my return.

All of which I send, together with the process, pleadings, and other papers in the cause. Dated this 15th day of February, 1904.

G. W. H.....
Justice of the Peace.

N. B.—If the cause was tried by a jury, state the fact and set forth the verdict, with the judgment thereon. It is not necessary to set out in the return a copy of any process, pleading, affidavit or other paper. It is sufficient to refer to such a paper as filed and as herewith sent.

[No. 41]

Where the Sum Demanded Exceeds Two Hundred Dollars

It appearing that the sum demanded by the plaintiff in this action exceeds two hundred dollars, it is ordered that the action be dismissed, and judgment is rendered against A. B., plaintiff, for the sum of ..... dollars, costs.

(Date and sign.)

[No. 42]

Where the Title to Real Estate is in Question

N. B.—The defendant, if he wishes to make answer to title, must file a written answer to the complaint, setting forth the facts.

Answer of Title

(Title as in No. 1)

The defendant answers to the complaint:

1. That no allegation thereof is true.

2. That the plaintiff ought not to have or maintain his action against the defendant, because the premises mentioned and described in the complaint, at the time when the rent and render, for which said action is brought, is alleged to be due, was and is now the land and freehold of one J. D., and not that of the plaintiff; nor was the plaintiff then, nor is he now, entitled to the possession thereof; and the defendant further answers that the title to said premises was, at the time aforesaid, and is now, in said J. D., and will come in question on the trial of this action.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19....

C. D....., Defendant

It appearing from the answer and proof of the defendant that the title to real estate is in controversy in this action, it is ordered that the action be dismissed, and judgment is rendered against the plaintiff for ..... dollars, costs.

[No. 43]

Tender of Judgment

(Title as in No. 1)

To C. D.....:

Acceptance of Tender of Judgment

(Title as in No. 1)

To A. B.....:

Take notice, that the plaintiff hereby accepts the offer to allow the plaintiff to take judgment in the above action for the sum of fifty dollars, with costs, and the justice will enter up judgment accordingly.

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19....

A. B....., Plaintiff.

[No. 45]

Form of Judgment on Tender

(Title as in No. 1)

N. B.—The justice will state all the proceedings in the action from the issuing of the summons down to the appearance of the parties and the complaint of the plaintiff, and then proceed as follows:

Whereupon, the said defendant, before answering said complaint, made and served an offer, in writing, to allow the plaintiff to take judgment against him for the sum of fifty dollars with costs;* and the said plaintiff thereupon accepted such offer, and gave notice thereof to the defendant in writing; said offer and acceptance thereof being filed;

Now, therefore, judgment is accordingly rendered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for the sum of fifty dollars damages, and the further sum of one dollar, costs.

If notice of acceptance is not given, the entry will be as follows:

(Follow the foregoing form down to the asterisk (*) and then add):

And the said plaintiff having refused to accept such offer, the defendant answered the complaint by denying, etc. (state the defense of the defendant down to the judgment, which, in case the plaintiff fails to recover more than the sum mentioned in the offer, will be entered thus):

After hearing the proof and allegations of the respective parties, I adjudge that the plaintiff do recover the sum of fifty dollars damages, and the further sum of one dollar, costs.

I further adjudge that the defendant do recover of the plaintiff the sum of two dollars and seventy-five cents, costs accruing in the action subsequent to the offer of the defendant referred to.

Record of Conviction of a Contempt

The justice will make an entry in his docket stating the particular circumstances of the contempt, of which the following is offered as an example:

Whereas, on the.....day of....., 19....., while engaged in the trial of an action (or other judicial act, as the case may be) in which A. B. was plaintiff and C. D. was defendant, at my office in.....County, M. B. did willfully and contemptuously interrupt me, and did then and there conduct himself so disorderly and insolently towards me, and by making a loud noise did disturb the proceedings on said trial (or other judicial act) and impair the respect due to the authority of the law; and on being ordered by me to cease making such noise and disturbance, the said M. B. refused so to do, but on the contrary did publicly declare and with loud voice (state whatever offensive words were used); and whereas, when immediately called upon by me to answer for the said contempt said M. B. did not make any defence thereto, nor excuse himself therefrom; the said M. B. is therefore convicted of the contempt aforesaid, and is adjudged to pay a fine of five dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail for the term of two days, and until he pays such fine or is duly discharged from imprisonment according to law.

SUBCHAPTER VI. RECORDERS' COURTS.

Art. 24. Municipal Recorders' Courts.

§ 7-185. In what cities and towns established; court of record.—In each city and town in the state, which has acquired a population of one thousand or over by the last federal census, a recorder's court for such municipality may be established, which shall be a court of record and shall be maintained pursuant to the provisions of this subchapter. (1919, c. 277, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 32, s. 1; C. S. 1536.)

Local Modification.—Richmond: 1941, c. 60, s. 1.

§ 7-186. Recorder's election and qualification; term of office and salary.—The court shall be presided over by a recorder, who may be a licensed attorney at law, and who shall be of good moral character and, at the time of his appointment or election, a qualified elector of the municipality. The first recorder, upon the establishment of such court, shall be elected by the governing body of the muncipality, either at the time of the establishment of the court or within thirty days thereafter, and he shall hold office until the next municipal election and until his successor is duly elected and qualified. If a vacancy occur in the office at any time, the same shall be filled by the election of a successor for the unexpired term by the governing body of the municipality, at the regular or special meeting called for that purpose. After the first elected recorder each succeeding recorder shall be nominated and elected in the municipality in the same manner and at the same time as is now provided by law for the elective officers of the municipality, and in the general election for such officers. Before entering upon the duties of his office the recorder shall take and subscribe an oath of office, as is now provided by law for a justice of the peace, and shall file the same with the clerk of the board of the city or town. The salary of the recorder shall be determined and fixed in advance by the governing body of the city or town, and shall not be increased or decreased during the term of his office, and shall be paid out of the funds of the municipality: Provided, that the governing body of such city or town is hereby authorized to provide a schedule of fees to be charged by said recorder: Provided further, that the recorder may also be the mayor of the municipality. (1919, c. 277, s. 2; 1925, c. 32, s. 2; C. S. 1537.)

§ 7-187. Time and place of holding court.—The court shall be opened for the trial of criminal cases at least one day of each week, to be fixed by the governing body of the municipality, and shall continue its session from day to day until all business is legally disposed of. The court shall be held in the city or town hall, or other place provided therefor, and other sessions of the court may be called by the recorder. as necessity may require. (1919, c. 277, s. 3; C. S. 1538.)

§ 7-188. No subsequent change of judgment.—When a case has been finally disposed of and judgment pronounced therein, it shall not thereafter be reopened or the judgment or sentence rendered therein be modified, changed or stricken out by the recorder after the adjournment of the regular weekly term or after the adjournment of any special term called by the recorder. (1919, c. 277, s. 3; C. S. 1539.)

§ 7-189. Procedure in the court.—The recorder shall preside over the court and try and determine all criminal actions coming before him, the jurisdiction of which is conferred by this article, and the proceedings of the court shall be the same as are now prescribed for courts of justices of the peace and for the superior court so far as the same may reasonably apply. (1919, c. 277, s. 9; C. S. 1540.)

§ 7-190. Criminal jurisdiction.—The court shall have the following jurisdiction within the following named territory:

1. Original, exclusive, and concurrent jurisdiction, as the case may be, of all offenses committed within the corporate limits of the municipality which are now or may hereafter be given to justices of the peace under the constitution and general laws of the state, including all offenses of which the mayor or other municipal court now has jurisdiction.

2. Original and concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace of all offenses committed outside the corporate limits of the municipality and within a radius of five miles thereof, which is now or may hereafter be given to justices of the peace under the constitution and general laws of the state.

3. Exclusive, original jurisdiction of all other criminal offenses committed within the corporate limits of such municipality and outside, but within a radius of five miles thereof, which are below the grade of a felony as now defined by law, and the same are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors.

4. Concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace to hear and bind over to the superior court all persons charged with any crime committed within the territory above mentioned, of which the recorder's court is not herein given final jurisdiction.

5. All jurisdiction given by the general laws of the state to justices of the peace, or to the superior court, to punish for contempt, to issue writs ad testificandum, and other process to require the attendance of witnesses and to enforce the orders and judgments of the court. (1919, c. 277, s. 4; 1925, c. 32, s. 3; C. S. 1541.)

§ 7-191. Jurisdiction to recover penalties.—The recorder's court shall also have jurisdiction to try all actions for the recovery of penalties imposed by law, or by any ordinance of the municipality in which the court is located, for any offense committed within the corporate limits of the municipality or outside thereof within five miles of the corporate limits, and all such penalties shall be recovered in the name of the municipality. (1919, c. 277, s. 10; 1925, c. 32, s. 4; C. S. 1542.)

§ 7-192. Disposition of cases when jurisdiction not final. — In all cases heard by the recorder against any person for any offense whereof the court has not final jurisdiction and in which probable cause of guilt is found, such person shall be bound in a bond or recognizance with sufficient surety to appear at the next succeeding term of the superior court of the county for the trial of criminal cases, and in default of such bond or recognizance he shall be committed to the common jail of the county to await trial; but in all capital cases such person shall be committed to the common jail of the county without bail. (1919, c. 5; C. S. 1543.)

§ 7-193. Disposition of cases when jurisdiction final.—All persons pleading guilty or convicted in the court of any offense of which the court has final jurisdiction shall be fined or imprisoned, according to law, and any person entering a plea of guilty, or who may be convicted of any such offense, shall also pay the costs of the prosecution. (1919, c. 277, s. 7; C. S. 1544.)

§ 7-194. Sentences to be imposed.—When any person is convicted, or pleads guilty, of any offense of which the court has final jurisdiction, the recorder may sentence him to the common jail of the county in which the court is held, and assign him to work on the public roads of the county as provided by law; or when such person is a woman or an infant of immature years, the recorder may sentence him or her to the city or county workhouse or state reformatory, or other penal institution provided by law for such purposes. If there is no chain-gang in the county in which the court is held, the recorder may sentence the person to work upon the public roads of any other county provided with a chain-gang for the working of public roads, as authorized by the general laws of the state. (1919, c. 277, s. 8; C. S. 1545.)

§ 7-195. Appeal to superior court.—Any person convicted of any offense of which the recorder has final jurisdiction may appeal to the superior court of the county from any judgment or sentence of the recorder, in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from courts of justices of the peace. Upon such appeal the defendant shall be required to give bond or recognizance with sufficient surety for his appearance at the next term of the superior court; and in default thereof the recorder shall commit him to the county jail of the county until he shall give bond or be otherwise discharged by law. (1919, c. 277, ss. 5, 9; C. S. 1546.)

Local Modification.—Pitt: 1937, c. 134.

§ 7-196. Costs paid to the municipality.—All costs incurred in issuing warrants and serving the same in cases where the recorder has not final jurisdiction, and for the service of process arising in such cases when the process is served by the officer of the municipality, except as hereinafter provided, shall be paid to the municipality; and officers serving process issued from said court shall be allowed the same fees as are now allowed sheriffs in like cases, the same, when collected, to be paid over as herein provided. Where such officer is not an officer of a municipality such costs shall be dealt with as is now provided by law. (1919, c. 277, s. 6; C. S. 1547.)

§ 7-197. Seal of court.—The recorder's court shall have a seal with the impression, "The Recorder's Court of the City of ————," which seal shall be used in the attestation of writs, warrants, or other process, acts, judgments, or decrees of the court, in the same manner and to the same effect as the seal of other courts in the state; but no process issuing from the court, to be executed within the county in which court is held, shall require attestation by seal. (1919, c. 277, s. 11; C. S. 1548.)

§ 7-198. Issuance and service of process.—The recorder may issue process to the chief of police of the municipality in which the court is held, or to the sheriff, constable, or other lawful officer of the county in which the municipality is located, or to any other county in the state; and such process, when attested by the seal of the court, shall run anywhere in the state, and shall be executed by all public officers authorized to execute process, and be returned by them according to law.

The summons, warrant of arrest, and every other writ, process, or precept issuing from a recorder's court or other court inferior to the superior court, except justices of the peace, may be signed by the recorder, vice recorder, or presiding justice of the court, or by the clerk of the court or deputy clerk, where the court has a clerk or deputy. (1919, cc. 157, 277, s. 12; C. S. 1549.)

§ 7-199. Vice recorder; election and duties.—The governing body of the municipality shall, at the same time and in the same manner as is provided in this article for the election of the first recorder, elect a vice recorder, who shall have the jurisdiction and authority conferred upon the recorder when the recorder shall be prevented from attending to his duties on account of sickness or other temporary disability or by reason of his temporary absence. The vice recorder shall receive the compensation allowed to the recorder for such services for the time that he may render such service, the compensation of the vice recorder to be deducted from the salary of the recorder, and the vice recorder shall be thereafter elected by the governing body of the municipality for the same term as the recorder is elected, and any vacancy occurring in the office of vice recorder shall be filled in the same manner as is provided for the filling of vacancies in the office of recorder. (1919, c. 277, s. 13; C. S. 1550.)

§ 7-200. Clerk of court; election and duties; removal; fees.—The clerk of the recorder's court shall be elected by the governing body of the city or town at the same time and for the same term as the vice recorder, and all vacancies in the office of the clerk of the court shall be filled in the manner provided for filling vacancies in the office of vice recorder. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the clerk shall enter into a bond, with sufficient surety, in a sum to be fixed by the governing body of the municipality, not to exceed five thousand dollars, payable to the state, conditioned upon the true and faithful performance of his duties as such clerk and for the faithful accounting for and paying over of all money which may come into his hands by virtue of his office. The bond shall be approved by the governing body and shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county. The clerk shall make monthly settlements with the county and city treasurers for all money which has come into his hands belonging to either. The clerk of the governing body of the municipality shall ex officio discharge the duties of the clerk of the court, unless the governing body shall elect some other person to discharge the duties. The governing body of the municipality shall have the right to remove the clerk of the court, either for incapacity or for neglect of the duties of his office; and in case of a vacancy for any cause the office shall be filled in the manner hereinbefore provided. Provided, that the governing body of the municipality is hereby authorized to provide a schedule of fees to be charged by the clerk of said court. (1919, c. 277, ss. 15, 18; 1925, c. 32, s. 5; C. S. 1551.)

§ 7-201. Clerk to keep records.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to keep an accurate and true record of all costs, fines, penalties, forfeitures, and punishments by the court imposed, and the record shall show the name and residence of the offender, the nature of the offense, the date of the hearing of the trial, and the punishment imposed, which record shall at all times be open to inspection by any of the city authorities, or other person having business relating to the court. The clerk shall keep a permanent docket for recording all the processes issued by the court, which shall conform to the dockets kept by the clerk of the superior court. He shall also keep in proper files, to be provided by the city, a record of all cases which shall be disposed of in the court and the disposition made thereof. (1919, c. 277, s. 17; C. S. 1552.)

§ 7-202. Clerk to issue process.—The clerk of the court shall have all the power and authority now conferred upon justices of the peace to issue warrants for the arrest of all persons charged with the commission of offenses within the territory fixed in this article which warrants, however, shall be made returnable before the recorder of said court at the next sitting thereof, and shall be issued only upon affidavit made as now required by law to support warrants issued by justices of the peace. The clerk shall also have all power and authority of justices of the peace or clerk of the superior court to issue subpœnas or other process, to run anywhere within the state; and when such subpœnas or other process shall run beyond the county in which the court is located the same shall be attested by the seal of the court, and shall also be signed by the recorder. (1919, c. 277, s. 18; C. S. 1553.)

§ 7-203. Prosecuting attorney; duties and salary.—There shall be a prosecuting attorney in the court, who shall appear for the prosecution in all cases therein and, when specially requested by the governing body of the municipality and the recorder, shall assist in the prosecution of all cases which may be bound over or appealed from the court to the superior court; for his services he shall be paid such amount per annum as may be fixed by the governing body, at the same time and in the same manner as is provided for fixing the salary of the recorder. The prosecuting attorney may, or may not, perform the duties of city attorney, in the discretion of the governing body of the municipality: Provided, that the governing body of any such municipality is hereby authorized to provide a schedule of fees to be charged by said prosecuting attorney. (1919, c. 277, s. 16; 1925, c. 32, s. 6; C. S. 1554.)

§ 7-204. Jury trial, as in justice's court.—In all trials in the court, upon demand for a jury by the defendant or the prosecuting attorney representing the state, the recorder shall try the same as is now provided in actions before justices of the peace wherein a jury is demanded, and the same procedure as is now provided by law for jury trials before justices of the peace shall apply: Provided, however, that the compensation allowed jurors in all cases wherein the superior court has heretofore had final jurisdiction shall be the same as is allowed jurors in the superior court of the county in which the recorder's court is established. (1919, c. 277, s. 24; C. S. 1555.)

Local Modification.—Burke: 1931, c. 335; Craven: 1929, c. 115, s. 1; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408; Pitt: 1937, c. 134.

§ 7-205. Continuances, recognizances, and transcripts.—The recorder's court shall have the same authority to grant continuances, take bonds and recognizances, and render judgments on forfeited bonds and recognizances, as is now vested by law in the superior courts, and the procedure regulating the issuing and service of notices against defendants and their sureties upon bonds and recognizances, and all other proceedings in taking and enforcing judgments in such cases, shall be the same as in the superior court in like cases. Transcripts of any judgments rendered may be docketed in the superior court of the county in which such court is held, in the same manner and with the same effect as judgments of other courts docketed as provided by law. (1919, c. 277, s. 21; C. S. 1556.)

§ 7-206. Officers' fees; fines and penalties paid.—In each case disposed of by the recorder where the defendant is convicted or pleads guilty, there shall, in addition to other lawful costs, be allowed the following fees, to be taxed as a part of the costs against the defendant, viz: For recorder, one dollar in each case involving the breach of a municipal ordinance and any crime or offense of which a justice of the peace has final jurisdiction, and a fee of two dollars in all other cases; for the prosecuting attorney, one dollar in all cases of violation of municipal ordinances and of any crime or offense of which a justice of the peace has final jurisdiction, and in all other cases a fee as now provided by law for solicitors prosecuting in the superior court; and for the clerk of such court the same fees as are now allowed to clerks of the superior court in similar cases; but in all cases of the breach of municipal ordinances and cases of which a justice of the peace has final jurisdiction and in which the defendant pleads guilty, the fee herein allowed a prosecuting attorney may be remitted by the recorder in his discretion. All costs recovered and collected in the court, except as herein otherwise provided, shall belong to the municipality and be paid into the treasury thereof. All fines and penalties collected shall be paid by the clerk of the court to the county treasurer as provided by law, and all fees allowed by law for an arrest or serving other process in a criminal action, when the same shall have been made by the chief of police or other officer who shall be on a salary, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the municipality for the use of the same, and to reimburse it for the expense of maintaining and supporting the court. (1919, c. 277, s. 14; C. S. 1557.)

Local Modification.—Cabarrus: 1937, c. 279; Harnett: 1933, c. 75, s. 1(g).

§ 7-207. County to pay for offenders' work on roads.—Whenever, under any judgment of the court, any defendant is sentenced to work upon the public roads or other public work in the county, or to pay a fine and the costs of the prosecution, or costs only, and the defendant shall in fact work out the sentence or fine and costs, or either, upon the public roads or other public works, as aforesaid, then the county shall be liable for and shall pay to the treasurer of the municipality one-half the amount of the costs taxed in the cause: Provided, the sentence imposed shall be of sufficient length to reimburse the county for one-half of such costs. (1919, c. 277, s. 19; C. S. 1558.)

§ 7-208. Prosecutor may be taxed with costs.—The recorder shall have full power, in any case in which he shall adjudge that the prosecution was not required by the public interests, to tax the prosecutor with the costs of such action; and in the event the recorder shall adjudge that prosecution is frivolous or malicious, he may imprison the prosecutor for the nonpayment of such costs, as provided by law for similar cases in other courts. When the costs are paid, they shall belong to the city. (1919, c. 277, s. 20; C. S. 1559.)

§ 7-209. Justice of the peace to bind defendants to recorder's court; procedure thereon.—In case any justice of the peace residing within the territory above mentioned shall bind any person over for any offense committed within said territory, of which the justice has committing, but not final, jurisdiction, but of which the recorder's court has final jurisdiction, then such justice of the peace, instead of binding the defendant over to the superior court of the county, shall bind him to appear at the recorder's court on the day succeeding the trial before the justice, at ten o'clock a. m. The justice of the peace shall at once turn over the case to the clerk of said court, and the clerk shall, upon receipt of the same, enter the case upon the docket of the court, and the recorder shall try such person either upon the original warrant under which he was bound over or upon a new warrant to be issued by him for such offense. In all cases the recorder shall have the right to amend any warrant issued by him or by the clerk of the court, or sent up by any justice of the peace as hereinbefore provided, in the same manner and to the same extent as justices of the peace are now authorized by law to make amendments to warrants in justices' courts. (1919, c. 277, s. 22; C. S. 1560.)

§ 7-210. Transfer of certain cases to recorder's court.—All cases which shall be pending in any recorder's, police, mayor's, or other municipal court in the counties where the courts provided for in this article shall be established shall, after the election and qualification of the recorder and other officers authorized and required by this article, be transferred to the recorders' courts of the respective municipalities, to be tried in the manner and in accordance with the procedure provided; but no case pending in the superior court of any county at the time this article takes effect shall be transferred to the recorder's court, except by order of the presiding judge thereof. No cause shall be removed from the recorder's court as is now provided for the removal of cases from one justice of the peace to another. (1919, c. 277, s. 23; C. S. 1561.)

§ 7-211. Jurisdiction of justice of the peace after three months delay.—If any criminal offense committed within the jurisdiction of any recorder's court, of which said court is given original, exclusive and final jurisdiction, is not prosecuted to a final termination within three months after the commission of the offense, any justice of the peace within the territory shall acquire jurisdiction to issue his warrant, apprehend the offender, and dispose of such warrant as is now provided by law. (1919, c. 277, s. 23; C. S. 1562.)

§ 7-212. Courts may be discontinued after two years.—The governing body of any municipality shall have the same power, to be exercised in the same manner, subject to the same limitations, to abolish municipal recorders' courts as is given the board of commissioners of any county to discontinue a county recorder's court, under the provisions of § 7-239. (1919, c. 277, s. 35; C. S. 1582.)

§ 7-213. Extension of jurisdiction. — In any city or town within the state of North Carolina, having a population of five thousand inhabitants or more, where there is now maintained a recorder's court under and by virtue of the law, or in which a recorder's court may be hereafter established and maintained, it shall be lawful for the governing body of any such city or town, and the board of county commissioners of the county in which such city or town shall be located, to extend the jurisdiction of the recorder's court in such city or town to the township in which such city or town is located, in the manner described in the following sections. (1921, c. 216, s. 1; C. S. 1562(a).)

§ 7-214. Meeting of town and county authorities; election.—Whenever the governing body of any city or town, as described in § 7-213, and the board of county commissioners of the county in which the same shall be located, shall desire to extend the jurisdiction of the recorder's court in such city or town to include the whole township, as set forth in § 7-213, the mayor of such city or town and the chairman of such board of county commissioners shall call a joint meeting of the two boards, to be held at any place within such township as they may agree upon, and if a majority of each of such boards, at such meeting, shall by a joint resolution vote in favor of the extension of the jurisdiction of the recorder's court as herein described, then at such joint meeting the governing body of the town or city, and the board of county commissioners of the county, shall pass a joint resolution calling an election, submitting to the voters of the entire township the question of the extension of said municipal court, and that election shall be conducted by the county commissioners in the same manner as is prescribed for the conduct of elections for the establishment of municipal recorders' courts by the governing bodies of cities and towns, in so far as said procedure is applicable; the result of the election shall be recorded in the minutes of the county commissioners and certified to and recorded in the minutes of the governing body of the town or city; the form of the ballot shall be as prescribed in § 163-155, subsec. (e), and if by such election such resolution is adopted it shall have the effect of conferring upon the recorder's court in such city or town the same powers, authority, and jurisdiction as to offenses or crimes committed within the township in which such city or town is located as such court would have had if the same had been committed in such city or town: Provided, however, that the extension of the jurisdiction of such recorder's court as herein described shall not have the effect of in any way extending or affecting in any manner whatsoever any ordinance or other law pertaining exclusively to such city or town. (1921, c. 216, s. 2; C. S. 1562(b).)

§ 7-215. Police powers. — Whenever the jurisdiction of any recorder's court shall have been extended as described in §§ 7-213 to 7-216, such action shall thereupon confer upon the police officers of such city or town the same powers and authority in making arrests for crimes and offenses committed anywhere within the township in which such city or town shall be located, as is now or may hereafter be conferred upon sheriffs or their deputies within their respective counties. (1921, c. 216, s. 3; C. S. 1562(c).)

§ 7-216. Resolution for extension filed with each board as records.—Whenever the governing board of any city or town and the county commissioners of the county shall have adopted the resolution extending the jurisdiction of the recorder's court as described in §§ 7-213 to 7-216, a copy of such resolution duly signed by the mayor and clerk of such city or town, and the chairman and clerk of such board of county commissioners, shall be duly filed with each board, and shall be kept and maintained as a part of their official records. (1921, c. 216, s. 4; C. S. 1562(d).)

§ 7-217. Jurisdiction not to extend to other municipalities.—No court hereafter established by the governing body of any city or town shall have jurisdiction over the territory within the corporate limits of any other incorporated city or town, or outside the county in which the city or town establishing such court is located. (1925, c. 280.)

Local Modification.—Craven, Edgecombe, Nash, Robeson: 1925, c. 280.

Art. 25. County Recorders' Courts.

§ 7-218. Established by county commissioners.— In any county in which a municipal recorder's court may not be established under the provisions of this subchapter, or in which such court has in fact not been established in the county-seat, the board of commissioners may, in their discretion, establish a recorder's court for the entire county, which shall be a court of record and shall be held at the county-seat. (1919, c. 277, s. 25; 1921, c. 110, s. 1; C. S. 1563.)

Local Modification.—Caldwell: Pub. Loc. 1931, c. 138; Henderson: 1927, c. 103; 1937, c. 97; 1939, c. 238; Swain: Pub. Loc. 1939, c. 499.

§ 7-219. Recorder's election, qualification, and term of office. — The court shall be presided over by a recorder, who shall have the same qualifications as provided for recorders of municipalities. The first recorder shall be elected by the board of commissioners of the county, either at the time of the establishment of the court or within thirty days thereafter, and shall hold the office until the next regular election wherein county officers are elected, and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified; and should a vacancy occur in said office at any time, the same shall be filled by the election of a successor with the qualifications herein provided, for the unexpired term, by the board of county commissioners at a regular or special meeting called for that purpose. The successor of the first recorder herein provided for and each succeeding recorder shall be nominated and elected in the county in the same manner and at the same time as is now provided by law for the nomination and election of the elective officers of the county and in the general election for such elective officers. Before entering upon the duties of his office the recorder shall take and subscribe an oath of office as is now provided by law for justices of the peace, and shall file the same with the clerk of the superior court of the county, who shall duly record the same in a book kept for that purpose. The recorder's salary shall be fixed in advance by the board of commissioners, and paid out of the county funds upon vouchers, and shall not be increased or decreased during his term. (1919, c. 277, s. 25; C. S. 1564.)

Local Modification.—Henderson: 1939, c. 238; Mecklenburg: 1937, c. 253; Scotland: 1925, c. 171.

§ 7-220. Time and place for holding court.— The court shall be open for the trial of all criminal causes of which it has jurisdiction at least one day of each week, to be fixed by the board of county commissioners, and shall continue its session from day to day until all business is transacted by trial, continuance, or otherwise. The session of the court shall be held in the county courthouse or other place within the county provided by the board of commissioners for that purpose. Special sessions of the court may be called by the recorder as the necessities may require. (1919, c. 277, s. 26; C. S. 1565.)

§ 7-221. No subsequent change of judgment.— When any case has been finally disposed of by the recorder and judgment pronounced therein, the case shall not thereafter be reopened or the judgment or sentence rendered therein changed, modified or stricken out by the recorder after the adjournment of the regular weekly term of court or after the adjournment of any special term of court by the recorder. (1919, c. 277, s. 26; C. S. 1566.)

§ 7-222. Criminal jurisdiction.—The court shall have jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising in the county which are now or may hereafter be given to a justice of the peace, and, in addition to the jurisdiction conferred by this section, shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all other criminal offenses committed in the county below the grade of a felony as now defined by law, and the same are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors: Provided, however, that where a special court or recorder's court shall legally exist within such county by virtue of a special act of the legislature passed before the amendments to the constitution in reference thereto, then the county recorder's court, as established in this article, shall not have jurisdiction of criminal cases within the territory of such existing recorder's court, so as to interfere with or conflict with the existing recorder's court, but shall have concurrent jurisdiction where the jurisdiction of the two courts covers the same causes or the same subject-matter. This article and the establishment of any court thereunder shall not be construed to repeal, modify or in anywise affect any existing special court or recorder's court by virtue of such former special acts herein referred to. (1919, c. 277, s. 27; C. S. 1567.)

§ 7-223. Jurisdiction and powers as in municipal court.—The recorders of county courts provided for in this article shall be vested with all the jurisdiction and authority conferred upon recorders of municipal courts, in like manner and to the same extent as if such jurisdiction and authority had been specifically in this section set forth, in so far as such jurisdiction and authority are applicable to such courts, and the provisions of this subchapter relative to municipal recorders' courts shall in all things apply to the county recorders' courts where same are not inconsistent and in so far as same are practically applicable: Provided, this section shall not take away the jurisdiction of a mayor to try breaches of ordinances when such city has no other municipal court. (1919, c. 277, s. 34; C. S. 1568.)

§ 7-224. Removal of cases from justices' courts.—When, upon written request made before entering on the trial of any cause before any justice of the peace, it shall appear proper for the cause to be removed for trial to some other justice, as is now provided by law, the cause may be removed for trial to the recorder's court of the county. (1919, c. 277, s. 28; 1921, c. 110, s. 3; C. S. 1569.)

Local Modification.—Cleveland, Lenoir: 1933, c. 277; 1939, c. 63; Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 277; 1937, c. 386.

§ 7-225. Defendants bound by justice to recorder's court.—In all criminal cases heard by a justice of the peace or other committing magistrate of the county against any person for any offense included within the exclusive jurisdiction of the recorder's court as provided in this article, and in which probable cause of guilt is found, such person shall be bound in a personal recognizance or surety to appear at the next succeeding session of the recorder's court of the county, for trial; and in default of such surety such person shall be committed to the common jail of the county to await a trial: Provided, that in the event any justice of the peace or other committing magistrate shall bind over to the superior court any person accused of a crime within the jurisdiction of the county recorder's court, the clerk of the superior court shall, upon his own motion, transfer all papers in the case to the recorder's court, and the case shall then stand for trial at the next succeeding term of said recorder's court as if the defendant had been bound over to the recorder's court in the first instance: and Provided further, that in the event any justice of the peace or other committing magistrate shall bind over to the recorder's court any person charged with an offense beyond the jurisdiction of said court, the said recorder shall cause the accused person to enter into a new bond with sufficient surety for his appearance at the next succeeding term of the superior court of the county, and shall transmit all papers in the case to the said superior court, but this shall be done without additional cost to the accused person. (1919, c. 277, s. 29; 1921, c. 110, s. 4; C. S. 1570.)

Local Modification.—Vance, Warren: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 438.

§ 7-226. Notice to accused of transfer; trial; obligation of bond.—Whenever the clerk of the superior court shall transfer the papers in any case from the superior court to a county recorder's court, he shall at the same time issue a notice to the accused person and his surety, informing them that the cause has been so transferred and requiring the accused person to appear at the next succeeding term of said recorder's court for trial, and, upon the service of said notice upon the accused person and his surety, at least five days before the beginning of the next succeeding term of the recorder's court, the case shall stand for trial at said term and the bond given by the accused person for his appearance at the next term of the superior court shall in all respects be valid and binding to compel the appearance of the accused person at the said next succeeding term of said recorder's court, and in case said notice is not served on the accused person and his surety at least five days before the beginning of the next succeeding term of the recorder's court, then the case shall not be tried without the consent of the accused person until the following term of the recorder's court. (1921, c. 110, s. 5; C. S. 1570(a).)

§ 7-227. Trials upon warrants; by whom warrants issued. — All trials of criminal causes in said court shall be upon warrant issued by the clerk of the superior court or deputy clerk provided for in this article, or by the recorder or by any justice of the peace of the county. In either event such warrant shall be issued upon affidavit duly made and subscribed, setting forth the complaint against the defendant: Provided, the recorder shall have authority to amend the warrant and to allow amendment of the affidavit at any time before judgment. (1919, c. 277, s. 30; 1921, c. 110, s. 6; C. S. 1571.)

§ 7-228. Jury trial as in municipal court.—In all trials in county recorders' courts, upon demand for a jury by the defendant or the prosecuting attorney representing the state, a jury shall be had in the same manner and under the same provisions as are set forth in this subchapter in reference to municipal courts, so far as the same may be practically applicable to a county court. (1919, c. 277, s. 40; C. S. 1572.)

Local Modification.—Burke: 1931, c. 335; Cabarrus: 1939, c. 347; Craven: 1929, c. 115; Henderson: 1933, c. 316; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408; Pasquotank: 1941, c. 213; Perquimans: 1929, c. 25.

§ 7-229. Sentence imposed; fines and costs paid.—Whenever any person shall be convicted or plead guilty of any offense of which the court has final jurisdiction the recorder may sentence him to the common jail of the county in which the court shall be held, and assign him to work on the public roads of the county where provision has been made therefor; but if no provision has been made for working convicts upon the public roads in the county, then the recorder may sentence such person to be worked upon the public roads of any other county within the judicial district or any county within any adjoining judical district which has made such provision: Provided, that in case the person so convicted or pleading guilty shall be a woman or an infant of immature years, then the recorder may assign him or her to the county workhouse, reformatory, or other penal institution located in the county; or if there be none, any similar institution that may be located outside of the county to which judges of the superior court are authorized to sentence such person under the general laws of the state. All fines imposed by the court shall be collected by the clerk of such court or the deputy clerk thereof in the same manner as the clerk of the superior court collects fines imposed by the superior court; and, where a defendant is convicted and fails to pay the costs of such conviction, the county shall pay such costs as is allowed by law in similar cases before the superior court. (1919, c. 277, s. 32; 1925, c. 308; C. S. 1573.)

§ 7-230. Appeals to superior court.—Any person convicted of any offense of which the county recorder has final jurisdiction may appeal to the superior court from any judgment or sentence of the court in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from the courts of justices of the peace; and any person tried before the recorder for any offense of which the court has not final jurisdiction shall, upon the recorder's finding probable cause of guilt, be bound over to the superior court in the same manner as is provided by law in similar cases before justices of the peace. (1919, c. 277, s. 33; C. S. 1574.)

§ 7-231. Clerk of superior court ex officio clerk of county recorder's court.—The clerk of the superior court of any county in which a county recorder's court shall be established shall be ex officio clerk of such court. He shall keep separate criminal dockets in his office for such court in the same manner as he keeps criminal dockets in the superior court; he shall otherwise possess all the powers and functions conferred upon, and discharge all the duties required of, clerks of the superior court under the general law; and he shall be liable upon his official bond as clerk of the superior court for all of his official acts and conduct in reference thereto. Whenever the clerk of the Superior Court acts ex-officio as clerk of the Recorder's Court or General County Court, any assistant clerk or deputy clerk of the Superior Court in his office shall have power and authority to take affidavits, issue warrants and other process, administer oaths to witnesses and to perform any other duty in connection with said court under the direction of the clerk of the Superior Court, and for the acts of said assistant or deputy clerk, the clerk of the Superior Court shall be liable on his official bond to the same extent that he would have been liable if he had done the act himself. The preceding sentence shall not apply to recorder's courts in Bladen, Brunswick, Camden, Gates, Halifax, Martin, Moore, Orange, Perquimans, Forsyth and Vance Counties. (1919, c. 277, s. 36; 1935, c. 345; C. S. 1575.)

Local Modification.—Columbus: 1925, c. 232.

§ 7-232. Deputy clerk may be appointed.—Instead of having the clerk of the Superior Court to act ex-officio as clerk of the Recorder's Court or General County Court, the board of commissioners of any county wherein a county Recorder's Court or General County Court may be established may, at the time of the establishment of said court or at the time of fixing the county budget for any succeeding year, call upon the clerk of the Superior Court to appoint a special deputy to act as clerk of the Recorder's Court or General County Court, and the clerk of the Superior Court shall within sixty days thereafter appoint a special deputy to act as clerk of the Recorder's Court or General County Court, unless the time for good cause shall be extended by the Board of County Commissioners. Said special deputy clerk shall assist the clerk of the Superior Court with the duties of his office and shall have all the power and authority in reference to the county Recorder's Court or General County Court conferred upon the clerk of the Superior Court by the preceding section, and he shall do all things in reference to said Recorder's Court or General County Court under the direction of the clerk of the Superior Court of the county as fully as the clerk of the Superior Court would otherwise be authorized to do. The Board of Commissioners may require and fix the official bond of said special deputy clerk for the faithful performance of his duties and fix his salary, which shall be fixed before he enters upon his duties and shall not be lowered during his term of office. His term of office shall be for the same time as the term of the recorder of said court, unless he shall be sooner removed by the clerk of the Superior Court for cause, and shall cease at any time that the court itself shall cease to exist. This section shall not apply to Bladen, Brunswick, Camden, Gates, Guilford, Halifax, Lee, Martin, Moore, Orange, Perquimans, Forsyth and Vance Counties. (1919, c. 277, s. 36; 1935, c. 346; C. S. 1576.)

§ 7-233. Compensation of clerk when no deputy appointed.—When no deputy clerk is appointed or elected by the board of commissioners, they are authorized to pay annually to the clerk of superior court an amount fixed by the board, which shall be in addition to any salary or fees theretofore allowed by law to the clerk of superior court, and which shall be in compensation for the services rendered by him as clerk of the county recorder's court. Such compensation shall be paid to the clerk of superior court so long as he shall perform the duties of clerk ex officio of the county recorder's court. (1919, c. 277, s. 36; C. S. 1577.)

§ 7-234. Deputy clerk to take oath of office.—If any deputy clerk shall be appointed as provided in this article he shall take the oath required of deputy clerks under the general law, and in addition thereto shall take and subscribe to an oath to perform faithfully all the duties required of him under this article, both of which oaths shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court, and such deputy clerk is further authorized to perform all duties of deputy clerk under the general law in addition to the duties set forth in this article. (1919, c. 277, s. 37; C. S. 1578.)

§ 7-235. Prosecuting attorney may be elected.—The board of commissioners of any county availing itself of the provisions of this article may elect, at the same time, in the same manner, and for the same term as herein provided for the election of a deputy clerk, a prosecuting attorney for said court, and fix his compensation in such amount as they may deem suitable for the services to be rendered: Provided, that the board may require the county attorney to discharge the duties of prosecuting attorney in said court, and fix his compensation accordingly. (1919, c. 277, s. 38; C. S. 1579.)

Local Modification.—Montgomery: 1929, c. 112; Washington: 1941, c. 164.

§ 7-236. Fees for issuing and serving process.—All justices of the peace, constables and sheriffs issuing or serving warrants or other process returnable to the recorder's court shall have the same fees as are now prescribed by law, which fees shall be collected and paid out in the same manner and by the same officers as collect and distribute such fees in the superior court. (1919, c. 277, s. 31; C. S. 1580.)

§ 7-237. Costs and fees taxed as in municipal court.—Except as provided in § 7-238, there shall be taxed in the county recorder's court the same costs and fees for the benefit of the officers thereof as provided for municipal recorder's court. Such costs and fees shall be collected by the clerk and paid over monthly to the treasurer of the county as county funds to be dealt with by the commissioners. (1919, c. 277, s. 39; C. S. 1581.)

§ 7-238. Fees taxed when county officer on salary; recorder's court fund.—In cases in which the recorder or judge and the solicitor of the county recorders' courts shall be paid salaries, in lieu of fees for such recorder or judge or solicitor, the clerk of the recorder's court shall tax against the defendant who is convicted, or who confesses his guilt, or upon whom judgment is suspended in said court in cases originally within the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace a tax fee of three dollars in each case, and in all other cases within the jurisdiction of the said recorder's court a tax fee of six dollars, and these several sums when collected shall be paid over by said clerk to the treasurer or financial agent of the county, to be kept by him as a separate and distinct fund to be known as the recorder's court fund. This fund shall be used only in paying the salary of the recorder and prosecuting attorney of said court, and the other expenses of the court. (1921, c. 110, s. 13; C. S. 1598(a).)

§ 7-239. Courts may be discontinued after two years. — The board of commissioners of any county which has established a county recorder's court under the provisions of this article are authorized, after two years trial of the court, to discontinue the same at any time thereafter if in their judgment the public interest shall require it. If any such court shall be so discontinued, the action or resolution must be taken or adopted at least six months prior to the next general election, and shall not go into effect until the term of office of the recorder shall expire. (1919, c. 277, s. 35; C. S. 1582.)

Art. 26. Municipal-County Courts.

§ 7-240. Established for entire county.—The governing body of any municipality possessing a population of two thousand or over, according to the last federal census, in which the county courthouse is located, and the board of commissioners of the county, shall have the power, at a joint meeting of the two bodies, by joint resolution, in the manner hereinafter provided, to establish a recorder's court so as to include the entire county, outside of other municipalities therein possessing a population of two thousand or over. After the adoption of such joint resolution such municipal recorder's court shall possess all the powers and functions and exercise all the territorial jurisdiction in this subchapter conferred upon both municipal and county recorder's court under the procedure herein provided for, and subject to the provisions herein in reference to concurrent jurisdiction where a special or recorder's court exists under prior special acts in any portion of the county. (1919, c. 277, s. 41; C. S. 1583.)

§ 7-241. Election of recorder.—If the territorial jurisdiction of such municipal recorder's court is extended to the entire county, as set forth in the preceding section, then the first recorder shall be selected for the term and in the manner hereinbefore set forth, by a joint meeting of the governing body of such municipality and the board of commissioners of the county, and such recorder shall be thereafter nominated and elected as is provided for herein for the nomination and election of a county recorder. Such recorder shall be a resident of the municipality, and in all other respects the court shall be conducted under the proceedings herein provided for municipal courts. (1919, c. 277, s. 42; C. S. 1584.)

Local Modification.—Lenoir, Onslow, Sampson: 1925, c. 233; 1927, c. 170.

§ 7-242. Mayor's jurisdiction continued, when.—In case the jurisdiction of the recorder's court of any municipality in any county shall not be extended in the manner authorized in this article, and no county recorder's court shall be established therein, then the mayors of the various cities and towns in such county shall continue to have all the powers and functions and exercise all the jurisdiction now conferred upon such officials by the general law for municipal corporations. (1919, c. 277, s. 43; C. S. 1585.)

Art. 27. Provisions Applicable to All Recorders' Courts.

§ 7-243. Appeals from justices of the peace.—In all cases where there is an appeal from a justice of the peace, such appeal shall be first heard in the recorder's court, in the manner provided herein for hearing causes within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace originating in the recorder's court. (1919, c. 277, s. 54½; C. S. 1597.)

§ 7-244. Offenders may be sentenced to city chain-gang. — In case any municipality possessing a population of two thousand or over, as provided for herein, in which a recorder's court shall be established pursuant to the provisions of this subchapter, shall now or hereafter establish and maintain a city chain-gang, or workhouse or other penal institutions for the imprisonment and working of city prisoners, any recorder may sentence any person convicted of any offense committed within said municipality and punishable by imprisonment, to be imprisoned and worked on such city chain-gang, or in such workhouse or other penal institutions, for such time as the recorder may in his discretion determine in accordance with the law. (1919, c. 277, s. 44; C. S. 1586.)

§ 7-245. Recorders' courts substituted for other special courts. — Wherever there has been established in any county, city, or town a recorder's court or other special court, which, under the provisions of this subchapter, might have been established hereunder, whether it shall possess exactly the same jurisdiction and functions or not, the board of commissioners of the county or the governing body of such city or town, or the governing body of such city or town and the board of commissioners of the county acting jointly, may abolish such existing court and adopt any one of the courts herein provided for by appropriate resolution of such boards. (1919, c. 277, s. 45; C. S. 1587.)

Art. 28. Civil Jurisdiction of Recorders' Courts.

§ 7-246. Civil jurisdiction may be conferred.— The board of county commissioners of any county in which there is a city or town with a population of not less than ten thousand inhabitants, in which city or town there has been established a municipal recorder's court, under the provisions of this subchapter, or in which there is a municipal recorder's court established by law, may confer upon such recorder's court jurisdiction to try and determine civil actions, as hereinafter provided, wherein the party plaintiff or defendant is a resident of such county, or is doing business in the county. Such jurisdiction may be conferred by resolution by the board of county commissioners of any county, entered upon their minutes, and the board of county commissioners of the county may likewise confer civil jurisdiction on the county recorder's court to try and determine civil actions as hereinafter provided wherein one or more of the parties, plaintiff or defendant, is a resident of said county or is doing business therein. (1919, c. 277, s. 47; 1921, c. 110, s. 7; 1933, c. 166; C. S. 1589.)

Local Modification.—Carteret: 1933, c. 379; Surry: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 133, s. 1.

§ 7-247. Extent of jurisdiction.—The jurisdiction of such municipal and county recorders' courts in civil actions shall be as follows: (a) Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the justices of the peace within the county; (b) jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions founded on contract, wherein the amount involved exclusive of interest and costs does not exceed one thousand dollars; (c) jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in actions not founded upon contract wherein the amount involved exclusive of interest and costs does not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars. (1919, c. 277, s. 48; 1921, c. 110, s. 8; C. S. 1590.)

Local Modification.—Carteret: 1933, c. 379; Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 174.

§ 7-248. Procedure in civil actions.—The rules of practice, issuing and serving process, and filing pleadings shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice in the superior court: Provided, it shall not be necessary to file written pleadings in any action of which justices of the peace now have jurisdiction. The process shall be returnable directly to the court; and no civil process shall be issued by any recorder's court to any county other than that in which the court is located. (1919, c. 277, s. 56; 1921, c. 110, s. 9; C. S. 1591.)

Local Modification.—Carteret: 1933, c. 379.

§ 7-249. Trial by jury in civil actions.—In all civil actions the parties shall be deemed to have waived a trial by jury unless demand for such trial is made before the trial begins. The demand shall be in writing and signed by the party making it, or his attorney, and accompanied by a deposit of five dollars to insure the payment of the jury tax: Provided, such demand shall not be used to the prejudice of the party making it. (1919, c. 277, s. 49; 1921, c. 110, s. 10; C. S. 1592.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1929, c. 115, s. 1; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408.

§ 7-250. Jurors drawn and summoned.—If a trial by jury is demanded, the recorder shall continue the cause until a day to be set, and the recorder, together with the attorneys for all parties, shall immediately proceed to the office of the register of deeds of the county and cause to be drawn a jury of eighteen, observing as nearly as may be the rule for drawing a jury for the superior court. The recorder shall issue the proper writ to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon the jurors so drawn to appear at the court on the day set for the trial of the action. (1919, c. 277, s. 50; C. S. 1593.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1929, c. 115, s. 1; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408.

§ 7-251. Talesmen and challenges. — The recorder shall have the right to call in bystanders according to the practice in the superior court as nearly as the same is applicable, and each party shall have the same causes of challenge as in the superior court. (1919, c. 277, s. 51; C. S. 1594.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1929, c. 115, s. 1; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408.

§ 7-252. Jury as in superior court.—The jury shall be a jury of twelve, and the trial shall be conducted as nearly as possible as in the superior court. (1919, c. 277, s. 52; C. S. 1595.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1929, c. 115, s. 1; Hoke: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 408; Surry: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 133, s. 2.

§ 7-253. Appeals to superior court.—Appeals may be taken from the recorder's court to the superior court of the county in term time, for errors assigned in matters of law, in the same manner as now provided for appeals from the superior court to the supreme court, with the exception that the record may be typewritten instead of printed, and only one copy thereof shall be required. The time for taking and perfecting appeals shall be counted from the end of the term. Upon such appeal the superior court may either affirm or modify the judgment of the recorder's court, or remand the cause for a new trial. From the judgment of the superior court an appeal may be taken to the supreme court: Provided, that appeals from a county recorder's court to the superior court of the said county shall be tried de novo in the superior court. (1919, c. 277, ss. 53, 54; 1921, c. 110, s. 11; C. S. 1596.)

§ 7-254. Enforcement of judgments.—Orders to stay execution shall be the same as in appeals from the superior court to the supreme court. Judgments of the recorder's court may be enforced by executions issued by the clerk thereof, returnable within twenty days. Transcripts of such judgments may be docketed in the superior court, as now provided for judgments of justices of the peace; and the judgment, when docketed, shall in all respects be a judgment of the superior court as if rendered by such court, and shall be subject to the same statute of limitations and the statutes relating to revival of executions: Provided, that a judgment of the recorder's court shall not be a lien upon real estate until docketed in the superior court. (1919, c. 277, s. 55; 1921, c. 110, s. 12; C. S. 1598.)

§ 7-255. Costs in civil actions.—In all civil actions the clerk shall tax against the losing party the sum of three dollars in cases originally within the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace, and the sum of six dollars in all other cases, and all sums so collected shall be disposed of as provided for tax fees in criminal actions in § 7-238. (1921, c. 110, s. 13; C. S. 1598(a).)

Art. 29. Elections to Establish Recorders' Courts.

§ 7-256. Election required.—The courts provided for in this subchapter shall be established upon elections held as set forth in this article, except county recorders' courts which may be established by the county commissioners of any county without a popular vote. (1919, c. 277, s. 58; 1921, c. 110, s. 14; C. S. 1599.)

§ 7-257. Municipal recorder's court.—The governing body of any city or town which may, under the terms of this subchapter, establish a court, prior to its establishment shall pass a resolution, if in their judgment such court should be established, reciting such fact and calling an election at a date to be fixed, which shall be not less than thirty days nor more than two years from the passage of the resolution, at which election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the city the question of establishing such court. The form of the ballot shall be as prescribed in § 163-155, subsec. (e). (1919, c. 277, s. 58; 1939, c. 201; C. S. 1600.)

§ 7-258. Notice of election.—Notice of such election shall be given, signed by the clerk of the city or town or the mayor thereof, containing in substance the resolution, the date of the election, and a reference to this subchapter, which notice shall be published once a week for four successive weeks prior to said election in some newspaper published in the city or town. (1919, c. 277, s. 59; C. S. 1601.)

§ 7-259. New registration may be ordered.—The governing body of such city or town may in its discretion order a new registration of the voters for any election authorized hereunder. (1919, c. 277, s. 60; C. S. 1602.)

§ 7-260. Manner of holding election. — The election shall be held, reported, and recorded in the city or town, under the laws governing general elections as near as may be applicable to the city or town. The result of the election shall be reported to, canvassed and declared by the governing body of the city or town, and recorded upon the minutes thereof. If the majority of the votes cast is declared in favor of such court, it shall be established, and not otherwise. (1919, c. 277, s. 61; C. S. 1603.)

§ 7-261. Another election after two years.—If the majority of the votes cast at such election is against the court, another election for the same purpose may thereafter be called, but not within less than two years from the first or any succeeding election in reference thereto. (1919, c. 277, s. 62; C. S. 1604.)

§ 7-262. Municipal courts with jurisdiction over the entire county.—The courts provided for in article twenty of this subchapter shall be established in the following manner: The governing body of the city and the board of county commissioners of the county, at a joint meeting, shall pass a joint resolution calling an election submitting to the voters of the entire county the question of the establishment of said court. The election shall be conducted by the county commissioners in the same manner as is prescribed for the conduct of elections for the establishment of municipal recorders' courts by the governing bodies of cities and towns, in so far as said procedure is applicable; the result of the election shall be recorded in the minutes of the county commissioners and certified to and recorded in the minutes of the governing body of the city. The form of the ballot shall be as prescribed in § 163-155, subsec. (e). (1919, c. 277, s. 62; C. S. 1606.)

§ 7-263. Expense of elections paid.—The expense of conducting the elections for "municipal courts" and "municipal-county courts" shall be borne by the city or municipality concerned. (1919, c. 277, s. 63; C. S. 1607.)

§ 7-264. Certain districts and counties not included.—This subchapter shall not apply to the following judicial districts: the tenth, except as to Granville and Orange counties; the eleventh; the seventeenth; the eighteenth, except as to Rutherford and Transylvania counties; the nineteenth; and the twentieth, except as to Cherokee, Jackson, Haywood and Swain counties; nor shall it apply to the counties of Chatham, Columbus, Johnston, New Hanover, and Robeson. (1919, c. 277, s. 64; 1921, c. 110, s. 16; Ex. Sess. 1921, cc. 59, 80; 1923, cc. 19, 40; 1925, c. 162; Pub. Loc. 1927, cc. 214, 545; 1929, cc. 17, 111, 114, 130, 340; 1931, cc. 3, 19; 1933, c. 142; 1935, c. 396; 1939, c. 204; 1941, c. 338; C. S. 1608.)

Local Modification.—Alexander: 1939, c. 204; Halifax: 1931, c. 3; Hyde: 1935, c. 396; 1941, c. 134.

SUBCHAPTER VII. GENERAL COUNTY COURTS.

Art. 30. Establishment, Organization and Jurisdiction.

§ 7-265. Establishment authorized; official entitlement; jurisdiction.—In each county of this state, there may be established a court of civil and criminal jurisdiction, which shall be a court of record and which shall be maintained pursuant to this subchapter and which court shall be called the general county court and shall have jurisdiction over the entire county in which said court may be established. In any county in the state in which there is situated a city which has or may have in the future a population, according to any enumeration by the United States census bureau, of more than twenty thousand inhabitants, the commissioners of such county or counties are authorized hereby to establish general county courts as hereinafter provided without first submitting the question of establishing such court to a vote of the people: Provided, that the said enumeration need not be made at a regular decennial census. In the event that the second sentence of this section is acted upon by the commissioners of any county in establishing a general county court, as is herein provided, the said commissioners may make such provisions for holding such courts in such city. (1923, c. 216, s. 1; 1925, c. 242; 1927, c. 74; C. S. 1608(f).)

Local Modification.—Caswell: 1931, c. 17; 1933, c. 405; 1937, c. 54; Cherokee: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 87; Henderson: 1927, c. 103; Richmond: 1941, c. 60, s. 1; Transylvania: 1931, c. 1; Wilson: 1931, c. 61; 1935, cc. 29, 149, s. 1.

§ 7-266. Creation by board of commissioners without election.—If in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county, the public interests will be best promoted by so doing, they may establish a general county court under this article, by resolution which shall, in brief, recite the reasons for the establishment thereof, and further recite that, in the opinion of the board of commissioners, it is not necessary that an election be called upon the establishment of such court as herein provided for, and upon the adoption of such resolution the board of commissioners may establish said court without holding such election. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2.)

Local Modification.—Henderson: 1927, c. 103; Person: 1929, c. 246.

§ 7-267. Abolishing the court.—Whenever in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county in which a court has been established under this article, the conditions prevailing in such county are such as to no longer require the said court, such board of county commissioners may, by proper resolution reciting in brief the reasons therefor, abolish said court: Provided, no such court shall be abolished except at the end of the terms of office of the judge and solicitor, unless such judge and solicitor shall voluntarily tender their resignations, setting forth, in brief, that in their opinion the existence of the said court is no longer necessary, in which event the board of commissioners may forthwith abolish the same. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2.)

§ 7-268. Transfer of criminal cases.—Upon the establishment of the general county court, as in this article authorized, the clerk of the superior court shall immediately transfer from the superior court to such general county court all criminal actions pending in the superior court of which the general county court has jurisdiction, as in this article conferred, and the general county court shall immediately proceed to try and dispose of such criminal actions. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2.)

§ 7-269. Transfer of civil cases.—Transfers may be made in term of any civil action in the superior court to the general county court, and from the general county court to the superior court by the presiding judge of said respective courts, by consent, or upon motion of which due notice has been given, when, in the opinion of the presiding judge of the court from which the transfer is to be made, the ends of justice will be best served and promoted by such transfer. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2; 1933, c. 127.)

§ 7-270. Costs.—Cost in both criminal and civil actions shall be taxed and collected as now provided by law. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2.)

§ 7-271. Judge; election, term of office, vacancy in office, qualification, salary, office.—The court shall be presided over by the judge, who may be a licensed attorney at law, and at the time of his election he shall be a qualified elector in the county. The first judge of the court upon the establishment of said court shall be elected by the board of county commissioners within thirty days after the establishment of said court, and he shall hold his office until January first, following the next general election of county officers and until his successor is elected and qualified. If a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of said court, the same shall be filled by the election of a successor for the unexpired term by the board of county commissioners. After the first elected judge by the board of county commissioners, each succeeding judge shall be elected by a vote of the qualified electors of the county at the next general election before the expiration of the term of office and when other county officers are elected, and shall hold his office for a term of four years beginning January first following his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the judge shall take and subscribe an oath of office, as is now provided by law for justices of the peace, and he shall file the same with the clerk of the superior court of the county. The salary of said judge shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county, and shall not be decreased during the term of office, and it shall be paid monthly out of the funds of the county. The judge shall reside in the county and shall be provided by the county commissioners with an office at the county-seat. The terms of said court shall be held in the courthouse, except as otherwise provided in § 7-265, but they shall at no time inconvenience or discommode the superior court of the county while the superior court in term is using the courthouse. If in the opinion of the board of commissioners the best interests of the county will be promoted thereby, the said board may appoint such judge, fixing his term of office, in which event the judge so appointed shall hold office pursuant to such appointment, and shall not be elected by a vote as herein provided for. (1923, c. 216, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 1; C. S. 1608(g).)

Local Modification.—Scotland: 1925, c. 172.

§ 7-272. Terms of court.—The court shall open for the transaction of business and trial of causes the first Monday of each month and continue until all matters before the court are disposed of. (1923, c. 216, s. 2; C. S. 1608(h).)

§ 7-273. Prosecuting officer; duties, election, salary, etc.—There shall be a prosecuting attorney of the general county court, to be known officially as prosecutor, who shall appear for the state and prosecute in all criminal cases being tried in said court, and for his services he shall be paid such salary as may be fixed by the board of county commissioners. He shall be elected by the board of county commissioners for the first term as herein provided for the election of the judge, and thereafter by the qualified electors of the county in the same manner as is provided herein for the election of the judge; and vacancies in the office of the prosecutor shall be filled by the board of county commissioners as they are herein authorized to fill vacancies in the office of judge. If requested to do so by the judge, the prosecutor shall represent the county in prosecution of criminal appeals from this court in the superior court. The salary of the prosecutor shall be paid monthly out of the county funds. If in the opinion of the board of commissioners the best interests of the county will be promoted thereby, the said board may appoint such solicitor, fixing his term of office, in which event the solicitor so appointed shall hold office pursuant to such appointment, and shall not be elected by a vote as herein provided for. (1923, c. 216, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 1; 1925, c. 250, s. 1; C. S. 1608(i).)

Local Modification.—Henderson: 1927, c. 103.

§ 7-274. Superior court clerk as clerk ex officio; salary, bond, etc.—The clerk of the superior court of the county shall be ex officio clerk of the general county court, herein provided for, and in addition to the salary and fees paid him as clerk of the superior court, he shall be paid such additional compensation as the county commissioners of the county may fix, to be paid monthly out of the county funds. The said clerk shall be liable upon his official bond for the discharge of his duties and caring for funds paid to him to the same extent as he is bound as clerk of the superior court. The Clerk of said Court or any deputy thereof, upon application and the making of proper affidavit, as provided by law, shall have power and authority to issue any criminal warrant or warrants in said Court and make the same returnable before the Judge thereof, at any time or times designated for the trial of criminal cases. The last sentence shall not apply to the following counties: New Hanover, Caldwell, Henderson, Ashe, Hoke, Lincoln, Wayne, Wilkes, Nash, Edgecombe, Alexander, Rockingham, Duplin, Union, Alleghany, Halifax, Alamance, Clay, Yancey, Dare, Wake, Hertford, Jackson, Mecklenburg, Craven, Vance, Person, Robeson, Johnston, Yadkin, Davidson, Haywood, Pitt, Tyrrell, Hyde, Watauga, Durham, Scotland, Forsyth and Camden. (1923, c. 216, s. 4; 1931, c. 233; C. S. 1608(j).)

§ 7-275. Sheriff; duties; additional allowance.—The sheriff of the county or his deputy appointed shall attend upon the terms of this court in the same manner and with the same power and authority as he does and has in attendance upon the superior courts of the county. The county commissioners of the county are authorized to make said sheriff such additional allowances as they may fix for such services in addition to his salary and fees fixed by law. (1923, c. 216, s. 5; C. S. 1608(k).)

§ 7-276. Fees of clerk and sheriff.—In those counties in which the clerk of the superior court and sheriff are paid fees, and not salaries, such clerk and sheriff shall receive the same fees for services rendered in the general county court as they would have received had such services been rendered in the superior court. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 5½.)

Local Modification.—Scotland: 1925, c. 172.

§ 7-277. Separate records to be kept by clerk; blanks, books and stationery.—The clerk of the said general county court shall keep separate records, criminal and civil, for the use of said court, to be furnished by the county commissioners, and they shall also provide all such necessary blanks, forms, books and stationery as may be needed by said court. And the said clerk shall keep the same in his office of clerk of the superior court. (1923, c. 216, s. 6; C. S. 1608(l).)

§ 7-278. Criminal jurisdiction, extent. — The general county court, herein provided for, shall have the following jurisdiction in criminal actions within the county:

1. Original, exclusive and concurrent jurisdiction, as the case may be, of all offenses within said county which are now or may hereafter be given to justices of the peace under the constitution and general laws of the state, including all offenses of which mayors of towns or other municipal courts now have jurisdiction.

2. Original and concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace to hear and bind over to the superior court all persons charged with any crime within the territory of the general county court, and of which said court is not herein given final jurisdiction.

3. To punish for contempt to the same extent and in the manner allowed by law to the superior courts of this state; to issue writs ad testificandum and other process to compel the attendance of witnesses and to enforce the orders and judgments of the court in the same manner allowed by law to the superior courts of this state.

4. The general county court shall have jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising in the county which are now or may hereafter be given to a justice of the peace, and in addition thereto shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all other criminal offenses committed in the county below the grade of a felony as now defined by law, and the same are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors. In all criminal cases heard by a justice of the peace or other committing magistrate of the county against any person for any offense included within the exclusive jurisdiction of the general county court, as herein provided for, and in which probable cause of guilt is found, such person shall be bound in a personal recognizance, or surety, to appear at the next first Monday of the month next succeeding before the general county court for trial, and in default of surety such person shall be committed to the county jail to await trial.

5. In counties in which there is a special court or courts for cities and towns, the jurisdiction of the general county court in criminal actions shall be concurrent with the jurisdiction conferred upon such special courts. (1923, c. 216, s. 13; 1924, c. 85, s. 1; C. S. 1608(m).)

§ 7-279. Civil jurisdiction, extent.—The jurisdiction of the general county court in civil actions shall be as follows:

1. Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the justices of the peace of the county;

2. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions founded on contract;

3. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions not founded upon contract;

4. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions to try title to lands and to prevent trespass thereon and to restrain waste thereof;

5. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions pending in said court to issue and grant temporary and permanent restraining orders and injunctions;

6. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court of all actions and proceedings for divorce and alimony, or either;

7. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all matters pending in said court for the appointment of receivers, as provided in §§ 1-501, et seq.;

8. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court to appoint receivers. (1923, c. 216, s. 14; 1935, c. 171; 1937, c. 58; C. S. 1608(n).)

Local Modification.—Bertie: 1935, c. 179.

§ 7-280. Election, requirement of.—The general county court, herein provided for, shall be established upon elections as set forth in this article, except as otherwise provided in §§ 7-265 and 7-266. (1923, c. 216, s. 20; C. S. 1608(o).)

§ 7-281. Resolution by county commissioners; time for election; ballots.—The board of commissioners of the county shall pass a resolution, if in their judgment such court should be established, reciting such fact and calling an election at a date to be fixed, which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the passage of the resolution, at which election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the county the question of establishing such court. The form of the ballot shall be as provided in § 163-155, subsec. (e). (1923, c. 216, s. 21; C. S. 1608(p).)

§ 7-282. Notice of election; publication.—Notice of such election shall be given at least thirty days prior to the day of election, signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and containing in substance the resolution passed by the board, the date of the election and a reference to the act creating the court, and which notice shall be published once a week for four successive weeks prior to said election in some newspaper published in the county and a copy thereof shall be posted at the courthouse door. (1923, c. 216, s. 22; C. S. 1608(q).)

§ 7-283. Law governing elections; election officers; registration.—Any election held under the provisions of this law shall be conducted in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by law for holding elections for the members of the general assembly, except as herein otherwise stated. The board of county commissioners shall appoint the registrars and judges of election and any other election officers necessary for holding said election, and registration and challenge of voters shall be conducted in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be provided for election of the members of the general assembly, except as herein set forth. The said board of county commissioners may or may not, in their discretion, order a new registration for any election held under this law. In case no new registration is ordered the registration books of each voting precinct shall be kept open for twenty days prior to the election for the purpose of allowing electors to register who have not theretofore registered in the township or voting precinct, of their residence, and who are entitled to register for said election; and the registration books shall close on Saturday next preceding the election and the registrar shall transcribe the names of all persons who have registered for former elections in their township, or voting precincts, and are otherwise qualified electors at said election upon a new registration book. The registrars are authorized and directed to register any person legally qualified and entitled to vote in their respective townships or voting precincts who apply for such purpose, in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations as now or hereafter may be provided for registering electors for the general election in said county. (1923, c. 216, s. 23; C. S. 1608(r).)

§ 7-284. Count and return of votes; canvass of returns; effect; expense.—The vote cast at said election shall be counted at the close of the polls by the election officers and returned to the clerk of the said board of county commissioners of said county by a member of said election officers on the second day next succeeding the day of said election; and the said board of county commissioners, at their next regular meeting, or at a called meeting, shall tabulate and declare the result of the election, all of which shall be recorded in the minutes of said board of county commissioners, and no other recording and declaring of the result of said election shall be necessary. If a majority of the votes cast at said election is declared in favor of such court, it shall be established, and not otherwise. The expenses of said election shall be paid by the county commissioners out of the county fund. (1923, c. 216, s. 24; C. S. 1608(s).)

§ 7-285. Application of article.—This article shall not apply to any county in which there has been established a court, inferior to the superior court, by whatever name called, by a special act, nor shall this article apply to the following counties: Granville, Henderson, Iredell, New Hanover, Pasquotank, Randolph and Wake; nor shall it apply to the counties in the seventeenth (17th) and nineteenth (19th) judicial districts, except Buncombe county. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 2; 1925, c. 9; 1927, c. 103, ss. 1, 2; 1929, c. 159, s. 1; 1931, c. 19; 1937, c. 439.)

Local Modification.—Watauga: 1937, c. 439.

Art. 31. Practice and Procedure.

§ 7-286. Procedure; issuance and return of process.—The rules of procedure, issuing process and filing pleadings shall conform as nearly as may be to the practice in the superior courts. The process shall be returnable directly to the court, and may issue out of the court to any county in the state: Provided, that civil process in cases within the jurisdiction now exercised by justices of the peace shall not run outside of or beyond the county in which such court sits.

Motions for the change of venue or removal of cases from the general county courts to the superior courts of counties other than the one in which the said court sits may be made and acted upon, and the causes for removal shall be the same as prescribed by law for similar motions in the superior courts.

The provisions of the chapters on civil procedure and criminal procedure, and all amendments thereof, shall apply as nearly as may be to the general county courts, and the judges and the clerks of said courts, in all causes pending in said courts, shall have rights, privileges, powers and immunities similar in all respects to those conferred by law on the judges and clerks of the superior courts of the state, and shall be subject to similar duties and liabilities: Provided, that this section shall not extend the jurisdiction of said judges and clerks, nor infringe in any manner upon the jurisdiction of the superior courts, except as provided in articles thirty and thirty-one of this chapter.

All motions and petitions for removal of actions from the general county court to the district court of the United States shall be presented to, be heard and determined by the judge of the general county court, with the right of appeal from any order or ruling of said judge to the superior court. (1923, c. 216, s. 7; 1925, c. 242, s. 2; 1925, c. 250, s. 2; 1933, c. 128, s. 1; C. S. 1608(t).)

§ 7-287. Trial by jury; waiver; deposit for jury fee.—In all civil actions the parties shall be deemed to have waived a jury trial unless demand shall be made therefor in the pleadings of the parties to the action when same are filed. The demand shall be in writing and signed by the party making it, or by his attorney, and accompanied by a deposit of three dollars to insure the payment of the jury tax: Provided, such demand shall not be used to the prejudice of the party making it. Any defendant in a criminal action may demand a trial by jury, in which event such defendant shall not be required to deposit the sum of three dollars. Such jury shall be drawn as herein otherwise provided for. (1923, c. 216, s. 8; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 85, s. 1; 1937, c. 56; C. S. 1608(u).)

Local Modification.—Duplin: 1937, c. 85.

§ 7-288. Continuance if jury demanded; drawing of jury; list.—If a jury trial is demanded, the judge shall continue the case until a day to be set, and the judge, together with the attorneys for all parties, shall proceed to the office of the register of deeds of the county and cause to be drawn a jury of eighteen men, observing as nearly as may be the rule for drawing a jury for the superior court. The judge shall issue the proper writ to the sheriff of the county commanding him to summon the jurors so drawn to appear at the court on the day set for the trial of the action. It shall be the duty of the register of deeds to prepare a list of jurors for this the general county court identical with the list prepared for the superior court, and the jury shall be drawn out of the box containing such list. Provided, that the Judge of said Court may in his discretion, if and when a sufficient number of cases are at issue in which jury trial has been demanded to warrant such action, cause a jury of not less than eighteen, not more than twenty-four men to be drawn for a certain week of a term, setting such cases for trial during such time, and in such cases the juries shall be drawn in the same manner as now provided for the drawing of juries for the superior court. The proviso shall not apply to the following counties: New Hanover, Caldwell, Henderson, Ashe, Hoke, Lincoln, Wayne, Wilkes, Nash, Edgecombe, Alexander, Rockingham, Duplin, Union, Alleghany, Halifax, Alamance, Clay, Yancey, Dare, Wake, Hertford, Jackson, Mecklenburg, Craven, Vance, Person, Robeson, Johnston, Yadkin, Davidson, Haywood, Pitt, Tyrrell, Hyde, Watauga, Durham, Scotland, Forsyth and Camden. (1923, c. 216, s. 9; 1931, c. 233, s. 2; C. S. 1608(v).)

§ 7-289. Talesmen; challenges.—The judge shall have the right to call in talesmen to serve as jurors according to the practice of the superior court as nearly as the same is applicable, and to direct the sheriff to summon a sufficient number of talesmen to serve during any one week for the proper dispatch of the business of the court. (1923, c. 216, s. 10; C. S. 1608(w).)

§ 7-290. Process; authentication; service; return.—All civil summons in actions begun in the general county court shall be served at least ten days before the return day named therein, and shall be returnable on the first Monday of the month next succeeding the issue thereof, unless the same be issued within less than ten days before the first Monday of the month next succeeding its issuing, in which event it shall be made returnable on the first Monday of the second succeeding month next after the date of the issue thereof; and when the summons shall be issued more than ten days before the first Monday of the month next succeeding its issuing, and shall be executed by the proper officer within less than ten days of the return day named therein, it shall be returned as if executed in proper time, and the case placed on the summons docket and continued to the first Monday of the month next succeeding the return day thereof, at which time it shall be treated in all respects as if that had been the return day named therein. The summons shall run in the name of the state, be signed by the clerk of the court in which the action is brought, and shall be directed to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county. (1923, c. 216, s. 11; C. S. 1608(x).)

§ 7-291. Pleadings; time for filing.—The complaint shall be filed by the return day named in the summons and the answer, demurrer or other pleadings on the part of the defendant shall be filed within twenty (20) days thereafter: Provided, if a copy of the complaint be served on the defendant at the time of the service of the summons, then the defendant shall have only twenty (20) days from the date of such service to file an answer, demurrer or otherwise plead. If the answer contains a counterclaim against the plaintiff or plaintiffs or any of them, such answer shall be served upon the plaintiff or plaintiffs against whom such counterclaim is pleaded or against the attorney or attorneys of record of such plaintiff or plaintiffs; the plaintiff or plaintiffs against whom such counterclaim shall be pleaded shall have twenty (20) days after the service thereof within which to answer or reply to such counterclaim. If a counterclaim is pleaded against any of the plaintiffs and no copy of the answer containing such counterclaim shall be served as herein provided for, such counterclaim shall be deemed to be denied as fully as if the plaintiff or plaintiffs had filed an answer or reply denying the same. All other replies, if any, shall be filed within twenty (20) days from the filing of the answer. For good cause shown and found by the judge, the judge may extend the time for the filing of any of the pleadings provided for in this article on the part of the plaintiff or on the part of the defendant. (1923, c. 216, s. 12; 1925, c. 250, s. 3; C. S. 1608(y).)

§ 7-292. Criminal appeals to superior court; cases bound over to superior court.—Any person convicted of any offense of which the general county court has final jurisdiction may appeal to the superior court of the county from any judgment or sentence of the court in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from justices of the peace; and any person tried before the general county court for any offense of which said court has not final jurisdiction shall, if probable cause be found, be bound over to the superior court in the same manner as is provided by law in similar cases before a justice of the peace. The judge may, upon proper affidavit, issue criminal warrants returnable before him in or out of term. All persons convicted in said court may be sentenced to the roads, or county farms, or jail, as the judge may determine. (1923, c. 216, s. 15; C. S. 1608(z).)

§ 7-293. Amendments in pleadings and warrants.—The judge shall have power in his discretion to allow amendments in pleadings and warrants, to the same extent as is allowed in the superior courts of the state. (1923, c. 216, s. 16; C. S. 1608(aa).)

§ 7-294. Jury trials, conduct of.—The jury in the general county court shall be a jury of twelve and the trial shall be conducted as nearly as possible as in the superior court. (1923, c. 216, s. 17; C. S. 1608(bb).)

§ 7-295. Appeals to superior court in civil actions; time; record; judgment; appeal to supreme court.—Appeals in civil actions may be taken from the general county court to the superior court of the county in term time for errors assigned in matters of law in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from the superior court to the supreme court except that appellant shall file in duplicate statement of case on appeal, as settled, containing the exceptions and assignments of error, which, together with the original record, shall be transmitted by the clerk of the general county court to the superior court, as the complete record on appeal in said court; that briefs shall not be required to be filed on said appeal, by either party, unless requested by the judge of the superior court; the record on appeal to the superior court shall be docketed before the next term of the superior court ensuing after the case on appeal shall have been settled by the agreement of the parties or by order of the court, and the case shall stand for argument at the next term of the superior court ensuing after the record on appeal shall have been docketed ten days, unless otherwise ordered by the court. The time for taking and perfecting appeals shall be counted from the end of the term of the general county court at which such trial is had. Upon such appeal the superior court may either affirm or modify the judgment of the general county court, or remand the cause for a new trial. From the judgment of the superior court an appeal may be taken to the supreme court as is now provided by law. (1923, c. 216, s. 18; 1933, c. 109; 1937, c. 84; C. S. 1608(cc).)

§ 7-296. Enforcement of judgments; stay of execution, etc.—Orders to stay execution on judgments entered in the general county court shall be the same as in appeals from the superior court to the supreme court. Judgments of the general county court may be enforced by execution issued by the clerk thereof, returnable within twenty days. Transcripts of such judgments may be docketed in the superior court as now provided for judgments of justices of the peace, and the judgment when docketed shall in all respects be a judgment of the superior court in the same manner and to same extent as if rendered by the superior court, and shall be subject to the same statutes of limitations and the statutes relating to the revival of judgments in the superior court and issuing executions thereon. (1923, c. 216, s. 19; C. S. 1608(dd).)

Art. 32. District County Courts.

§ 7-297. May be established in two or more contiguous counties in same judicial district; jurisdiction.—In any two or more contiguous and adjoining counties of any judicial district of this State there may be established, under the general powers and authority contained in articles thirty and thirty-one, of this chapter, except as herein otherwise provided, a court of civil and criminal jurisdiction, maintained pursuant to this sub-chapter and the said articles thirty and thirty-one, not inconsistent herewith, a court of record, to be known as and designated a district county court, and containing all the authority, jurisdiction, rights, powers and duties, compensations and fees, as provided in the articles aforesaid, except as herein otherwise provided. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-298. Judge of court; election; term of office; oath of office and salary.—The court shall be presided over by a judge, who may be a licensed attorney at law, and at the time of his election he shall be a qualified elector in one of the counties composing the said district county court.

The first judge of said court, upon its establishment as hereinafter provided, shall be elected by the several boards of commissioners of the counties establishing the said district courts, each board being entitled to one vote to be cast in accordance with the majority vote of each board, at any joint meeting of said boards of commissioners, as hereinafter provided, within sixty days after the establishment, and he shall hold his office until January first, following the next general election of county officers, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Any vacancy arising in the office of judge of said court shall be filled by the several boards of commissioners of the counties establishing the said district court, in joint meeting assembled, which shall be called by the chairman of the board of commissioners of the county in which such judge resided at the time of his death or removal, or resignation.

At the joint meeting of said boards of commissioners when an election of the judge of said court is made, the said commissioners shall also fix the salary of said judge, which salary together with the salary of the prosecuting attorney hereinafter provided for shall be paid from the costs taxed and collected in the trial of all actions in said court to which costs provided for there shall be added a trial fee of five dollars and if there be a deficiency in the payment of said salaries from said costs as herein provided for, the said deficiency shall be proportionately paid by the several counties composing the said district county court, in proportion as the population of each county shall bear to the whole of the counties creating said court, on the basis of the one thousand nine hundred thirty census.

The judge shall reside in one of the counties of said district; he shall take the oath of office prescribed in section 7-271; hold his terms of court in the county courthouse in each county of his district, and shall not be permitted to practice law during his tenure of office in any of the courts of the State.

His successor shall be nominated and elected by a vote of the qualified electors of the several counties embraced within the jurisdiction of said district at the next general election before the expiration of the term of office and when other county officers are elected, in the same manner, and as provided by law for the nomination and election of judges of the Superior Court, and he shall hold his office for a term of four years beginning January first next following his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified; except, however, in instances of an appointment to fill a vacancy, in which case he shall hold through the unexpired term of his predecessor in office, and until his successor is elected and qualified. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-299. Present county courts may be changed to district courts. — In any county where a county court has been heretofore created and now exists under and by virtue of article thirty, of this chapter, where it is desired to change said court from a county court to a district county court, under the provisions of this article, its board of commissioners may, by proper resolution, reciting in brief the reasons therefor, abolish the said county court and establish for said county, in the manner provided in this article, a district county court; and in such event, the judge and solicitor of the said county court shall thereupon be named and elected as judge and solicitor of said district county court until the expiration of the time for which they were elected as officers of the said county court, and until their successors are duly elected and qualified. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-300. When court to be held.—The court shall be open for the transaction of business and trial of cases at least once a week in each county in each month in districts composed of four counties, or less, and at least once in every eight weeks in districts composed of more than four counties, which week or the time of holding said court for each of said counties shall be determined and declared by said joint meeting of said commissioners upon recommendation of the bars of the several counties composing said district, or majority of the resident lawyers of said counties, and certified by said commissioners to each superior court clerk of the several counties within the district. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-301. Prosecuting attorneys.—There shall be a prosecuting attorney of the said district court, known officially as the prosecuting attorney, and he shall appear for the State and prosecute all criminal actions in said county courts of his district; and for his services he shall be paid such salary as may be fixed by the boards of county commissioners of the several counties composing the district.

The said prosecuting attorney shall be elected by the respective boards of commissioners in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the election of a judge thereof. He shall hold his office until January first next following the first general election for county officers, and at the said first general election following his election by the said boards of commissioners, and thereafter at each subsequent general election for county officers, he shall be nominated and elected by the duly qualified electors of the counties composing said district, under the general laws governing the nomination and election of district officers, or solicitors of the several judicial districts.

Any vacancy arising in the said office of prosecuting attorney shall be filled by the board of commissioners of the counties composing the district, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the election of the judge thereof; and the compensation or salary of the said prosecuting attorney shall be paid by the several counties composing the district in the same proportion, or basis provided for payment of the salary of the judge, and shall be payable monthly out of the funds of the counties composing said district court. If requested to do so by the judge, the prosecuting attorney shall represent the county in prosecuting any appeal of a criminal action from said district court in the Superior Court. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-302. Clerks; duties and compensation.—The several clerks of the superior court in the several counties of said district court shall ex-officio be clerk of said district court of each and all terms held within the respective counties of each, and subject to all the rights, duties and liabilities provided for in sections 7-274 and 7-277. The clerk of said court or any deputy thereof, upon application and the making of proper affidavit, as provided by law, shall have power and authority to issue any criminal warrant or warrants in said court and make the same returnable before the judge thereof, at any time or times designated for the trial of criminal cases. The last sentence shall not apply to the following counties: New Hanover, Caldwell, Henderson, Ashe, Hoke, Lincoln, Wayne, Wilkes, Nash, Edgecombe, Alexander, Rockingham, Duplin, Union, Alleghany, Halifax, Alamance, Clay, Yancey, Dare, Wake, Hertford, Jackson, Mecklenburg, Craven, Vance, Person, Robeson, Johnston, Yadkin, Davidson, Haywood, Pitt, Tyrrell, Hyde, Watauga, Durham, Scotland, Forsyth and Camden. (1931, c. 70, s. 1; c. 233.)

§ 7-303. Sheriffs; duties and compensation.—The several sheriffs of the several counties of said district court, or their duly constituted deputies, shall attend upon each term of this court within their respective counties, and be subject to and possess the same power and authority and additional compensation as authorized under § 7-275. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-304. Jurisdiction.—The said county district courts shall have the same criminal and civil jurisdiction as that of the general county court, and as fixed and defined in §§ 7-278 and 7-279. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-305. Procedure to establish.—Upon a petition signed by a majority of the resident licensed attorneys at law, of not less than two counties of the State within any one judicial district, and duly verified to that effect, addressed to and filed with the Governor, praying the establishment of a general county district court for any two or more of the counties named in the petition, the Governor shall transmit a copy of the petition to each of the respective boards of county commissioners, and at the same time he shall issue an order to each of said boards directing a joint meeting of the same at the courthouse of one of the said counties at such time and place as he may designate in said order.

The several boards of commissioners, or any two or more of them, if in their judgment the said court shall be established, shall, at such meeting, or at such later meeting within thirty days thereafter to which they may adjourn, pass a resolution reciting the petition for said court, and declaring the same to be established in and for each of the respective counties thus approving and voting for the said resolution.

A majority vote of two or more of the several boards of commissioners participating in the said proceedings for the passage of the said resolution shall be sufficient for the establishment of said court, and it shall thereupon become an established court in and for the counties voting for the resolution; and thereupon a certified copy of the minutes of said meeting, the said petition and resolution, executed by any one of the commissioners present, attested by one member of each of the several boards participating in the said proceedings and voting for said court, shall be transmitted to the clerk of the Superior Court of the several counties participating and adopting the resolution, and also recorded in the minutes of said commissioners' meetings of the several counties composing the district. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-306. Practice and procedure.—The practice and procedure of the said county district courts shall be the same as that of the general county court, and as prescribed in §§ 7-286 to 7-296. (1931, c. 70.)

§ 7-307. Abolishing the court.—Whenever in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county in which a court has been established under the provisions of this article, the conditions prevailing in such county are such as to no longer require the said court, such board of county commissioners may, by proper resolution, reciting in brief the reasons therefor, duly certify the same to the chairman of the board of commissioners of each other county composing, forming and creating the said district court; whereupon the respective boards of commissioners of the several counties embraced in said district court, shall meet at the courthouse of the county in which the judge resides on the third Monday of the month next following the receipt of the certified copy of the resolution aforesaid, or the subsequent and next following Monday first and abolish the said county court for the county having adopted the resolution aforesaid, which shall go into effect as to the county abolishing said court at the end of the term to which the judge has been elected. If, upon the abolition of the said county court, as to the county adopting the resolution aforesaid, as many as two other counties forming, composing and making up the said district court, desire the same continued in full force and effect within their respective counties the said commissioners shall readjust the salary and compensation of the judge and prosecuting attorney of said court on the basis hereinbefore provided to take effect at the end of the term to which the said judge has been elected, and the said county court shall continue in full force and effect within the other counties remaining, forming and composing the same, with no impairment of the rights, powers, duties, and authorities conferred by this article. But said court may, at any time, at a meeting held pursuant to a resolution, certified as aforesaid, subject to the provisions hereinbefore recited, abolish the said court in each, all or any of the counties in the districts; and in such event the Clerk of Court shall transfer all cases pending therein to the Superior Court of his respective county. (1931, c. 70.)

SUBCHAPTER VIII. CIVIL COUNTY COURTS.

Art. 33. With Jurisdiction Not to Exceed $3000.

§ 7-308. Establishment.—An inferior court with civil jurisdiction only as hereinafter provided may be established by the board of county commissioners of any county in this state upon the petition of a majority of the resident practicing attorneys within the county. (1925, c. 135, s. 1.)

§ 7-309. Jurisdiction.—The said court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil actions, matters, and proceedings, including all proceedings whatever ancillary, provisional and remedial to civil actions founded on contract or tort, wherein the superior court now has exclusive original jurisdiction: Provided, that the sum demanded or the value of the property in controversy shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

Said court shall have jurisdiction concurrent with the Superior Court in all actions to try title to land and to prevent trespass thereon and to restrain waste thereof: Provided, the sum demanded or the value of property in controversy shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

The said court shall have jurisdiction with the Superior Court in all actions pending in said court to issue and grant temporary restraining orders and injunctions: Provided, that the sum demanded or the value of the property in controversy shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000). (1925, c. 135, s. 2.)

§ 7-310. Juries in such court; drawing jury; challenges.—In the trial of civil actions in said court either the plaintiff at the time of filing the complaint or the defendant at the time of filing the answer may in his pleadings demand and have a jury trial as provided in the trial of causes in the Superior Court; failure to demand a jury trial at the time herein provided shall be deemed a waiver of the right to a trial by jury. The judge of said court, when in his opinion the ends of justice would be best served by submitting the issues to the jury, may have a jury called of his own motion and submit to it such issues as he may deem material.

Jurors shall receive the same compensation as is now provided by law for jurors serving in the Superior Court, to be paid out of the treasury of said county on presentation of a ticket duly issued by the clerk of said court; the clerk of said court shall tax the sum of three dollars as cost of jury in all jury cases and the same shall be collected by said clerks and paid into the county treasury of said county.

The commissioners of said county at their regular meeting on the first Monday of April, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-five, and each two years thereafter, shall cause names of their jury list to be copied on small scrolls of paper of equal size and put into a box procured for that purpose which must have two divisions marked "No. 1" and "No. 2," respectively, and two locks to same, the keys of one to be kept by the sheriff of said county and the other to be kept by the chairman of the board of commissioners of said county, the box to be kept by the clerk of said board, which box shall be marked "County Court." The names in this box shall be drawn for juries acting as jurors in the said county court and when a jury is demanded in said court the sheriff shall cause to be drawn from said box out of partition "No. 1," by a child not more than ten years of age fifteen scrolls and the scrolls so drawn to make the jury shall be put into partition marked "No. 2," and in all other respects the jury shall be drawn as juries are drawn in the Superior Court. The jurors of this court shall have the same qualifications as provided for jurors in the trial of causes in the Superior Court. The said jurors shall be summoned to attend under the mandate from the clerk of said county court directed to the sheriff of said county: Provided, that for sufficient cause the judge of this court may issue an order to the board of county commissioners that no jury be drawn for such term or terms of this court, as may seem best to him.

The challenges allowed in the trial of causes in said county court shall be the same in number and for the same causes as are allowed in the trial of causes in the Superior Court; all jurors drawn from the box shall be regular jurors. The said court shall have the same power to summon tales jurors as the Superior Court now has and when a jury trial is had the jury shall be twelve in number. (1925, c. 135, s. 3.)

§ 7-311. Terms; docket.—The judge and clerk of said county court are hereby authorized to fix the terms of said court and to make up the docket of said court upon consulting with the bar association of said county. (1925, c. 135, s. 4.)

§ 7-312. Witnesses; how summoned. — Witnesses shall be summoned by subpœna issued by the clerk of said court as now provided for the summoning of witnesses for the trial of causes in the superior court and shall be allowed the same compensation to be taxed as cost by the clerk of this court. (1925, c. 135, s. 5.)

§ 7-313. Appeals.—Appeals may be taken by either the plaintiff or the defendant from the said county court to the Superior Court of said county in term time for errors assigned in matters of law in the same manner and under the same requirements as are now provided by law for appeals from the Superior Court to the Supreme Court, with the exception that the record may be typewritten instead of printed and only one copy thereof shall be required. The time for taking and perfecting the appeals shall be counted from the end of the term. Upon appeals from said county court the Superior Court may either affirm, modify and affirm the judgment of said county court or remand the cause to the county court for a new trial.

The bonds to stay executions shall be the same as now required for appeals from the Superior Court to the Supreme Court. The judgment of the Superior Court shall be certified to said county court; final judgment may be rendered unless there is an appeal to the Supreme Court. In case of appeal to the Supreme Court upon filing of the certificate from the Supreme Court to the Superior Court said certificate shall be transmitted by the clerk thereof to the clerk of this court. (1925, c. 135, s. 6.)

§ 7-314. How actions commenced. — All actions shall be commenced in said court by summons running in the name of the State and issued by the clerk of said county court and shall be returnable as is provided by law for summons in the Superior Court. The plaintiff shall file and retain complaint on or before the return day of such summons; the defendant shall file a written answer or demurrer and shall make his motions in writing during the term to which the summons is returnable and the case shall stand for trial at the next succeeding term. (1925, c. 135, s. 7.)

§ 7-315. Judgments.—The judgments of said court may be enforced by execution issued by the clerk thereof, returnable within twenty days. Transcripts of said judgments shall be docketed in the Superior Court of said county and become judgments of the Superior Court as now provided for executions and transcripts of judgments from the courts of justices of the peace with the same limitations as are now provided for judgments of justices of the peace. (1925, c. 135, s. 8.)

§ 7-316. Process of the court. — The process of said court while exercising the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace shall not run outside of said county. In all other cases these processes shall run as processes issue out of the Superior Court. (1925, c. 135, s. 9.)

§ 7-317. Removal of cause before justice.— When, upon affidavit made before entering upon the trial of any cause before any justice of the peace in said county, it shall appear proper for said cause to be removed for trial to some other justice of the peace, as is now provided by law, said cause may be removed for trial to the said county court. (1925, c. 135, s. 10.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 279.

§ 7-318. Rules of practice.—The rules of practice as prescribed by law for the superior court for the trial of all causes shall apply in this court, supplemented, however, by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the judge of this court relating to causes pending therein. (1925, c. 135, s. 11.)

§ 7-319. Bonds for costs; duties of clerk.— The statutes about bonds for costs and about suits without bonds for costs that now apply to the Superior Court shall also apply to this court. Wherever the statute provides for a thing to be done by the clerk of the Superior Court or by the judge of the Superior Court or by either, the same thing shall be performed by the clerk of said county court or by the judge of said county court in causes in said county court; this provision shall apply especially to all provisional remedies as now provided by statute except special proceedings. (1925, c. 135, s. 12.)

§ 7-320. Costs.—In all causes removed to or brought into the said county court the costs shall be the same as in the Superior Court. All cost shall be paid to or collected by the clerk of said county court in the same manner as in the Superior Court and be paid by the said clerk of said county court into the treasury of said county: Provided, that for the service of process the fees shall be paid to the officer serving the process. The officers shall perform all the duties in said county court as provided in the Superior Court and receive therefor the same fees as allowed for the same service performed in the Superior Court. (1925, c. 135, s. 13.)

§ 7-321. Appointment and compensation of judge; substitute; vacancies.—After the ratification of this article and the establishment of such court by any county, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of commissioners of such county to immediately notify the Governor who shall appoint a judge to preside over such court, and each fourth year thereafter it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint the judge of each such county court who shall preside over said court, who shall be learned in the law, of good moral character, and who shall at the time of his appointment and qualification be an elector in and for said county; that the said judge shall hold office for a term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified. And before entering upon the duties of his office the said judge shall take and subscribe an oath of office as is now provided by law for the judges of the Superior Court and file the same with the clerk of the Superior Court of said county; and the said clerk shall record the same. Said judge shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars ($100) a week for each week that he is engaged in holding court, payable in equal weekly installments out of the treasury of said county.

The said judge shall not by reason of his office be prohibited from practicing the profession of attorney at law in other courts of this State except as to matters pending in connection with or growing out of said county court.

When the said judge is unable to preside over said court on account of sickness or absence for other cause he shall appoint some other person learned in the law who shall take the same oath and possess the same qualifications as provided for the judge, to act as a substitute judge with all the powers and duties of the judge, and the compensation of said substitute judge shall be paid by the said judge.

Any vacancy occurring in the office of judge shall be filled by the Governor of the State. (1925, c. 135, s. 14.)

§ 7-322. Compensation of clerk; vacancy; files, books, stationery, etc.—The clerk of the superior court of said county by himself or his deputies shall ex officio perform the duties of clerk of said county court and shall be paid a sum not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) annually, the amount to be determined by the board of commissioners of said county and paid out of the treasury of said county as full compensation for his duties as clerk of said county court. Upon the failure of the clerk of the Superior Court of said county to qualify under this article or in case of any vacancy in the office of clerk of the said county court such vacancy shall be filled by the board of commissioners of said county. The necessary files, books, stationery and other material of that nature shall be furnished to the clerk of said county court by said county. (1925, c. 135, s. 15.)

§ 7-323. Stenographer; fees.—There shall be an official stenographer of this court whose duty shall be the same as the official stenographer of the Superior Court of said county. Said stenographer's fees shall be the same in amount as the fees of the official stenographer of the superior court of said county and shall be taxed as costs. (1925, c. 135, s. 16.)

§ 7-324. Procedure. — The procedure of said county court, except that hereinbefore provided, shall follow the rules and principles laid down in the chapter on civil procedure and amendments thereto in so far as the same may be adapted to the needs and requirements of the said county court. (1925, c. 135, s. 17.)

§ 7-325. Records.—There shall be dockets, files, and records kept of all proceedings in the said county court, conforming as nearly as possible to the records of the superior court. (1925, c. 135, s. 18.)

§ 7-326. To be court of record.—The said county court shall be a court of record and the clerk thereof shall be provided with a seal of said court. (1925, c. 135, s. 19.)

§ 7-327. Pending cases.—All cases pending in the superior court of said county and in the courts of the justices of the peace of said county on the date the court is established shall be tried in the courts wherein they are pending. (1925, c. 135, s. 20.)

§ 7-328. First session.—The presiding judge of said county court shall hold the first session of said county court within thirty days after his appointment by the Governor, and other sessions shall be held as provided in this article. (1925, c. 135, s. 21.)

§ 7-329. Discontinuance of court.—The board of commissioners of any county may discontinue such court on written petition signed by the majority of the practicing attorneys of such county. (1925, c. 135, s. 22.)

§ 7-330. Existing laws not repealed.—This article shall not be construed to repeal chapter seven, nor shall it repeal or affect any act establishing any inferior court now existing or that may hereafter be created under the existing law but shall be construed to be supplemental to the existing law and a method by which county courts may be established. (1925, c. 135, s. 23.)

§ 7-331. Article not applicable to certain counties.—The provisions of this article shall not apply to the following counties: Burke, Hyde, Avery, Alexander, Clay, Catawba, Mitchell, Madison, Graham, Swain, Henderson, Duplin, Jackson, Davie, Cherokee, Stokes, Lincoln, Wilkes, Johnston, Person, Pamlico, Watauga, Haywood, Vance, Robeson, Craven, Caldwell, Hoke, Yancey, Anson, Pender, Macon, Onslow, Bladen, Alleghany and Scotland: Provided, this article shall not apply to any of the counties of the present Sixteenth and Seventeenth Judicial Districts. (1925, c. 135, s. 24.)

Art. 34. With Jurisdiction Not to Exceed $5000.

§ 7-332. Establishment.—In addition to the plan for a general county court provided for in articles 30 and 31, of this chapter, there may be established by the board of county commissioners in any county, a court of civil jurisdiction, which shall be a court of record and which shall be maintained pursuant to this article, and which court shall be called the county civil court, and shall have civil jurisdiction as provided in this article. (1925, c. 167, s. 1.)

§ 7-333. Qualification, election, and term of judge; office.—The county civil court shall be presided over by a judge, who may be an attorney at law, and shall reside and be a qualified elector in the county during his term of office, and shall be permitted to practice law during his term of office. The first judge of the county civil court shall be elected by the board of county commissioners at the time of the establishment of said court, and he shall hold his office until January first, following the next general election of county officers within said county, and until his successor is elected and qualified, and if a vacancy occurs in the office of judge, it shall be filled by the election of a successor for the unexpired term by the board of county commissioners. Each succeeding judge shall be elected by a vote of the qualified electors of the county at the next general election before the expiration of the term of office in the same manner as other county officers are nominated and elected, and shall hold office for a term of four years, beginning January first, following his election and until his successor is elected and qualified, unless said court is abolished. The judge shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath of office as is now provided by law for a judge of the Superior Court, which shall be filed with the clerk. The salary of said judge shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county, which shall not be decreased during the term of office; to be paid in monthly installments by the county. The judge shall be provided by the county board of commissioners with an office and a suitable and convenient room for holding court at the county seat. (1925, c. 167, s. 2.)

§ 7-334. Substitute judge.—When the judge of said county civil court is unable to hold court on account of sickness, absence, disqualification, or other cause, he shall appoint some other person learned in the law, who shall take the same oath and possess the same qualifications as provided for a judge, to act as substitute judge, who shall be invested with all the powers and duties of the judge, and his compensation during his appointment shall be paid by the said judge. (1925, c. 167, s. 3.)

§ 7-335. Terms of court; calendar.—The court shall open for the transaction of business and trial of cases on the first Monday of each month and continue until the matters of the court are disposed of, and it shall be the duty of the judge to prepare a calendar of cases for trial, on which jury cases shall have precedence. (1925, c. 167, s. 4.)

§ 7-336. Clerk of court.—The clerk of the superior court of the county shall be ex officio clerk of the court, and in addition to the salary or fees paid him as clerk of the Superior Court, he shall be paid such additional compensation as the county commissioners of the county may fix to be paid monthly out of the county funds, and the board of county commissioners be and are hereby authorized and empowered to provide for salary or fees for such additional deputies as he may need. The said clerk shall be liable upon his official bond for the discharge of his duties and caring for funds paid to him as clerk, to the same extent as he is bound as clerk of the Superior Court. (1925, c. 167, s. 5.)

§ 7-337. Sheriff.—The sheriff of the county, or his deputies, appointed, shall attend upon the terms of this court in the same manner and with the same power and authority as he does and has in attendance upon the superior court of the county. The county commissioners of the county are authorized to make said sheriff such additional allowances as they may fix for such services, in addition to his salary or fees fixed by law. (1925, c. 167, s. 6.)

§ 7-338. Records; blanks, forms, books, stationery.—The clerk of the court shall keep separate records for the use of the said court to be furnished by the county commissioners, and they shall also provide such necessary blanks, forms, books, and stationery as may be needed by the court, and the clerk shall keep the same in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court. (1925, c. 167, s. 7.)

§ 7-339. Juries.—The jury in said court shall be a jury of twelve and the trial shall be conducted as nearly as possible as in the Superior Court. In all actions the parties shall be deemed to have waived a jury trial, unless demand shall be made therefor, as hereinafter provided, in writing. The plaintiff in filing the complaint, or the defendant at the time of filing answer, may in the pleadings demand a jury trial, or in cases transferred from the Superior Court to the said court, either party may demand jury trial, in writing, signed by the party making it or his attorney, which must be made at the time of such transfer. Any demand for a jury trial shall be accompanied by a deposit of five dollars ($5.00), to insure the payment of the jury tax, except in cases brought in forma pauperis, provided such demand shall not be used to the prejudice of the party making it. (1925, c. 167, s. 8.)

§ 7-340. Jury list; summons.—It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners, upon the establishment of a court as herein provided, and every two years thereafter, to prepare a list of jurors, identical with the list prepared for the Superior Court and subject to the same rules and regulations, and mark said jury box as the county civil court box, from which the jury shall be drawn. The judge of the court shall issue the proper writ to the sheriff of the county to summons the jurors for the court in the same manner as juries are ordered and drawn in the Superior Court. (1925, c. 167, s. 9.)

§ 7-341. Talesmen.—The judge shall have the right to call in talesmen to serve as jurors, according to the practice of the superior court, and to direct the sheriff to summons a sufficient number of talesmen to serve during any one week for the proper dispatch of the business of the court. (1925, c. 167, s. 10.)

§ 7-342. Procedure, process, pleadings, etc.—The procedure, practice, processes, pleadings and procuring evidence and judgments shall conform as near as may be to the courts having concurrent jurisdiction with this court. (1925, c. 167, s. 11.)

§ 7-343. Appeals.—Appeals in all actions may be taken from the court to the Superior Court of the county in term time for errors assigned in matters of law in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from the Superior Court to the Supreme Court, with the exception that the record may be typewritten instead of printed, and only two copies shall be required; one for the court and the other for the opposing counsel. The time for taking and prosecuting appeals shall be counted from the end of the calendar month of the court at which such trial is had. It shall be the duty of any judge of the Superior Court holding the courts in any county, where a court is established under the provisions of this article, to allot sufficient and adequate time during each regular term of the Superior Court held in such county for the hearing of appeals from the county civil court of such county. Upon such appeal the Superior Court may either affirm or modify and affirm the judgment of the county civil court or remand the cause for a new trial. From the judgment of the Superior Court an appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court, as is now provided by law. Orders to stay execution on judgments entered in the court shall be the same as in appeals from the Superior Court to the Supreme Court, and judgments of said court may be enforced by execution by the clerk thereof, returnable within twenty days, and transcripts of such judgments may be docketed in the superior court as now provided for judgments of justices of the peace, and when docketed shall, in all respects, be judgments in the superior court in the same manner and to the same extent as if rendered by the superior court. (1925, c. 167, s. 12.)

§ 7-344. Jurisdiction.—The county civil court shall have jurisdiction only in civil matters, and as follows:

(1) Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the justices of the peace of the county;

(2) Jurisdiction concurrent with the Superior Court in all actions founded on contract wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), exclusive of interest and cost;

(3) Jurisdiction concurrent with the Superior Court in all actions not founded upon contract; wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), exclusive of interest and cost;

(4) Jurisdiction concurrent with the Superior Court in all actions to try title to lands and to prevent trespass thereon and to restrain waste thereof;

(5) Jurisdiction concurrent with the Superior Court in all actions pending in said court to issue and grant temporary and permanent restraining orders and injunctions. (1925, c. 167, s. 13.)

§ 7-345. Stenographer; fees.—There shall be an official stenographer of the court whose duties and fees shall be the same and taxed as those of the official stenographer of the superior court. (1925, c. 167, s. 14.)

§ 7-346. Disqualification of judge.—Where the judge is disqualified to try any case, it shall be removed for trial to the superior court of the county, in which the court is located or ore tenus to the substitute judge. (1925, c. 167, s. 15.)

§ 7-347. Pending cases, transfer.—By consent of plaintiff and defendant any case, within the jurisdiction of the court, pending in the superior court may be transferred to the docket of the county civil court, and there tried. (1925, c. 167, s. 16.)

§ 7-348. Abolishing court.—This court may be abolished by resolution of the board of county commissioners of any county for such county by giving written notice of such intention six months prior to the end of the term of any presiding judge thereof, to become effective at the end of such term of office; and, in case of the abolition of the court, cases then pending shall be transferred to the Superior Court. (1925, c. 167, s. 17.)

§ 7-349. Existing laws not repealed.—This article shall not be construed to repeal any existing laws by which a county court may be created or to effect or repeal any court now or hereafter created under existing laws and shall only be construed to be an additional method by which a county court may be established. (1925, c. 167, s. 18.)

§ 7-350. Article inapplicable to certain counties.—This article shall not apply to the counties of Bladen, Jones, Bertie, Caldwell, Craven, Columbus, Gaston, Henderson, Mitchell, Vance. (1925, c. 167, s. 19.)

Art. 35. With Jurisdiction Not to Exceed $1500.

§ 7-351. Establishment.—In addition to the plans now provided by law for the establishment of courts inferior to the superior court, there may be established by resolution of a majority of the members of the board of county commissioners of any county in the state a court of civil jurisdiction, which shall be a court of record, shall be called ..... County Civil Court and shall have civil jurisdiction as provided in this article. (1937, c. 437, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Caswell, Wayne: 1937, c. 437, s. 30.

§ 7-352. Qualification of judge.—The county civil court shall be presided over by a judge, who may be an attorney at law, who shall at the time of appointment and qualification be an elector in and for said county, and he shall not by reason of his term of office be prohibited from practicing the profession of attorney at law in other courts except as to matters pending in connection with or growing out of said county civil court. (1937, c. 437, s. 2.)

§ 7-353. Appointment of judge; vacancies; substitute judge.—After the ratification of this article and the establishment of such court by any county, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of commissioners of such county to immediately notify the governor of the state, who shall appoint a judge to preside over such court, and each second year thereafter it shall be the duty of the governor of the state to appoint the judge of each such county civil court, who shall preside over said court; the said judge shall hold office for a term of two years and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of judge shall be filled by the governor of the state.

When the judge of said county civil court is unable to hold court on account of sickness, absence, disqualification or other cause, the governor of the state shall appoint some other person, who shall take the same oath and possess the same qualifications as provided for a judge, to act as substitute judge, who shall be invested with all the powers and duties of the judge. At the time of fixing the salary for the judge, the board of county commissioners shall fix a per diem compensation for the substitute judge which shall be paid out of the salary fixed for the judge. (1937, c. 437, s. 3.)

§ 7-354. Oath of judge.—Before entering upon the duties of his office, the said judge shall take and subscribe an oath of office as is now provided by law for the judges of the superior court, and file the same with the clerk of the superior court of said county; and said clerk shall record the same. (1937, c. 437, s. 4.)

§ 7-355. Salary of judge.—The salary of said judge shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county, shall not be decreased during the term of office, and shall be paid in monthly installments out of the funds of the county. The judge shall be provided by the county board of commissioners with a suitable and convenient room for holding court at the county-seat. (1937, c. 437, s. 5.)

§ 7-356. Disqualification of judge.—Where the judge is disqualified by reason of interest in any case, it shall be removed for trial to the superior court of the county. (1937, c. 437, s. 6.)

§ 7-357. Clerk of court.—The clerk of the superior court shall be ex officio clerk of the county civil court established under the provisions of this article, and he shall have as nearly as possible the same duties, powers and responsibilities with reference to the county civil court as he has in his capacity as clerk of the superior court. The said clerk shall be liable upon his official bond for the discharge of his duties and caring for funds paid to him as clerk of the county civil court to the same extent as he is bound as clerk of superior court. In addition to the salary or fees paid him as clerk of superior court, the clerk of the county civil court shall be paid such additional reasonable compensation as the board of county commissioners may fix; and the board of county commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to provide the salary of such additional deputy or deputies as he may need. (1937, c. 437, s. 7.)

§ 7-358. Oath of clerks.—The clerks of the county civil court, before entering on the duties of their office, shall take and subscribe, before some officer authorized by law to administer an oath, the oath required under general law, and in addition thereto shall take and subscribe to an oath to perform faithfully all the duties required of them under this article and file such oaths with the register of deeds for the county. (1937, c. 437, s. 8.)

§ 7-359. Appointment and removal of deputies.—Each clerk of the county civil court shall have the authority to appoint deputy clerks and the authority to revoke such appointments at will. He shall make a record of each appointment and furnish a transcript of such record to the register of deeds, who shall record the same in the record of deeds and make a cross-index thereof. When the appointment of any deputy clerk is revoked, the clerk shall write on the margin of the records of such appointment the word "revoked" and the date of revocation, and sign his name thereto. (1937, c. 437, s. 9.)

§ 7-360. Oath and power of deputies.—If any deputy clerk shall be appointed as provided in this article, he shall take and subscribe to the oaths prescribed for clerks. Each deputy clerk appointed as herein provided shall have as nearly as possible the same powers and duties, with reference to the county civil court, as a deputy clerk of the superior court has with reference to the superior court. (1937, c. 437, s. 10.)

§ 7-361. Sheriff.—The sheriff of the county, or his deputies appointed, shall attend upon this court in the same manner and with the same power and authority as he does and has in attendance upon the superior court of the county. The board of county commissioners of the county are authorized to make said sheriff such additional allowances as they may deem necessary and proper for such services, in addition to his salary or fees now fixed by law. (1937, c. 437, s. 11.)

§ 7-362. Stenographer.—The board of county commissioners shall appoint an official stenographer of the court, whose duties shall be the same as those of the official stenographer of the superior court, and the compensation shall be fixed and paid by the board of county commissioners. (1937, c. 437, s. 12.)

§ 7-363. Jury trial.—In the trial of actions in said court any party is entitled to the right of trial by jury as is provided in the trial of causes in the superior court, unless said right of trial by jury shall be waived as hereinafter provided. (1937, c. 437, s. 13.)

§ 7-364. Waiver of jury trial; jurisdiction concurrent with superior court.—In those cases in which written pleadings are required to be filed, the parties shall be conclusively presumed to have expressly waived their right to trial by jury, unless at the time of the filing of the complaint or petition the plaintiff, in writing, demands a jury trial; or, at the time of the filing of the answer or other pleading which raises an issue of fact, the defendant or other party filing such pleading demands, in writing, a jury trial. (1937, c. 437, s. 13(a).)

§ 7-365. Waiver of jury trial; jurisdiction concurrent with justice of peace.—In those cases in which no written pleadings are required, the parties shall be conclusively presumed to have expressly waived their right to trial by jury, unless at the time of the issuance of summons the plaintiff or petitioner, in writing, demands a jury trial; or the defendant, at any time before the commencement of the trial, in writing, demands a jury trial. (1937, c. 437, s. 13(b).)

§ 7-366. Jury trial in cases instituted in superior court or before magistrate.—In those cases which were or may hereafter be instituted before a justice of the peace and removed or appealed to this court, and in those cases which were or may hereafter be instituted in superior court and removed to this court, a jury trial will be conclusively presumed to have been expressly waived unless the party desiring a trial by jury shall make a demand therefor, in writing, at any time before the case is called for trial; in which event the number of the jury shall be as herein elsewhere provided. (1937, c. 437, s. 13(c).)

§ 7-367. Jury of six; demand and deposit for jury of twelve.—The jury of said court shall be a jury of six unless, at any time before the calling of the cause for trial, either party, who has not waived the right to trial by jury by failing to demand a jury trial in apt time as provided herein, or otherwise, demands a trial by a jury of twelve, in which event a jury of twelve shall be impaneled: Provided, that in those cases in which a jury of twelve is demanded the party shall, at the time of making the demand, pay to the clerk of said court a deposit of five dollars to insure the payment of the jury tax: Provided further, that where a party making such demand for a jury of twelve makes affidavit and satisfies the judge or clerk of said court that he is unable to make the deposit, such party shall not be required to make the same. The deposit for jury of twelve shall be returned to the party making it when the jury tax is paid by the losing party against whom the costs are taxed. (1937, c. 437, s. 13(d).)

§ 7-368. Judge may impanel jury on own motion.—The judge of said court, when in his opinion the ends of justice would be best served by submitting an issue or issues to the jury, may call a jury of his own motion and submit to it such issue or issues as he may deem material. (1937, c. 437, s. 13(e).)

§ 7-369. Drawing juries; summons of jurors; pay of jurors.—The regular jurors shall be drawn from the superior court jury box; the drawing and summoning of said jurors shall be in the same manner as jurors are drawn and summoned for the superior court: Provided, however, only twelve jurors shall be drawn and summoned for any one week of court unless the judge specifies that a larger number shall be drawn. The judge of each county civil court, at least thirty days in advance, shall notify the chairman of the board of county commissioners when a jury will be needed.

Jurors shall receive the same compensation as is provided by law for jurors serving in the superior court, to be paid out of the treasury of said county on presentation of a ticket duly issued by the clerk of said court. (1937, c. 437, s. 14.)

§ 7-370. Talesmen.—The judge shall have the right to call in talesmen to serve as jurors, according to the practice of the superior court, and to direct the sheriff to summon a sufficient number of talesmen to serve during any one week or a portion thereof for the proper dispatch of the business of the court. (1937, c. 437, s. 15.)

§ 7-371. When court opens; terms of court.—The county civil courts shall be open for the transaction of business within their jurisdiction whenever matters before the court require attention, except for the trial of issues of fact requiring a jury and the trial of contested causes wherein the county civil court is exercising jurisdiction concurrent with that of the superior court, which shall be heard in term time.

The judge of the county civil court is hereby authorized to fix the terms of said court upon consulting with the clerk of the court and the members of the bar of the county. (1937, c. 437, s. 16.)

§ 7-372. Jurisdiction.—The county civil court shall have jurisdiction only in civil matters and as follows:

(1) Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the justices of the peace of the county;

(2) Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions founded on contract wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest and costs;

(3) Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions not founded on contract wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, exclusive of interests and costs;

(4) Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions to try title to lands, to prevent trespass thereon, and to restrain waste thereof wherein the value of the land does not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars;

(5) Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions and proceedings for divorce and alimony, or either, and to make such orders respecting the care, custody, tuition and maintenance of the minor children of the marriage as may be proper. (1937, c. 437, s. 17.)

§ 7-373. Appeals from justice of the peace.—In all cases where there is an appeal from a justice of the peace of a county wherein a county civil court has been established under the provisions of this article, such appeal shall be first heard de novo in the county civil court in the manner provided herein for hearing causes within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace originating in the said county civil court. Said appeals shall be docketed in the county civil court within the same time limit and in the same manner as such appeals are now required to be docketed in the superior court. (1937, c. 437, s. 18.)

§ 7-374. Removal of cause before justice of peace.—When, upon affidavit made before entering upon the trial of any cause before any justice of the peace of said county, it shall appear proper for said cause to be removed for trial to some other justice of the peace, as is now provided by law, said cause shall be removed for trial to the said county civil court. (1937, c. 437, s. 19.)

§ 7-375. Pending cases, transfer.—By written consent of plaintiff and defendant filed with the clerk of superior court, any case within the jurisdiction of the county civil court, now or hereafter pending in the superior court, may be transferred to the docket of the county civil court and there tried; if a jury trial is desired, it shall be expressed in the agreement to transfer the case; otherwise, the right to trial by jury shall be conclusively presumed to have been expressly waived. (1937, c. 437, s. 20.)

§ 7-376. Records; blanks, forms, books, stationery.—The clerk of the county civil court shall keep separate records for use of the said court to be furnished by the county commissioners, and they shall also provide such necessary blanks, forms, books, and stationery and office equipment as may be needed by the court; the clerk shall keep the same in the office of the clerk of such court. (1937, c. 437, s. 21.)

§ 7-377. Processes; pleadings; procedure, etc.—When the county civil court is exercising jurisdiction concurrent with that of the superior court, the rules of processes, pleadings, procedure, practice, and procuring evidence and judgment shall conform as nearly as possible to those of the superior court.

When the county civil court is exercising jurisdiction concurrent with that of justices of the peace, actions shall be commenced in the county civil court by summons issued and signed by the clerk or deputy; and orders to seize property in claim and delivery proceedings, warrants of attachment and subpoena may be issued by the clerk or deputy and the other rules of processes, pleadings, procedure, practice, and procuring evidence and judgments shall conform as nearly as possible to those of the courts of the justices of the peace of the county. (1937, c. 437, s. 22.)

§ 7-378. Appeal to superior court; time for perfecting appeal; record on appeal; briefs; judgment; appeal to supreme court.—Appeals in actions may be taken from the county civil court within ten days from date of rendition of judgment to the superior court of the county in term time, for errors assigned in matters of law or legal inference, in the same manner as is provided for appeals from the superior court to the supreme court, except as follows:

(1) The appellant shall cause a copy of the statement of case on appeal to be served on the respondent within thirty days from the entry of the appeal taken, and the respondent, within fifteen days after such service, shall return the copy with his approval or specific amendments endorsed or attached; if the case be approved by the respondent, it shall be filed with the clerk as a part of the record; if not returned with objections within the time prescribed, it shall be deemed approved: Provided, that the judge trying the case shall have the power, in the exercise of his discretion, to enlarge the time in which to serve statement of case on appeal and exceptions thereto or counter statement of case.

(2) The appellant shall file one typewritten copy of the statement of case on appeal, as settled, containing the exceptions and assignments of error, which, together with the original record, shall be transmitted by the clerk of the county civil court to the superior court as the complete record on appeal in said court.

(3) The record in the case on appeal to the superior court must be docketed in the superior court within ten days after the date of settling the case on appeal. If the appellant shall fail to perfect his appeal within the prescribed time, the appellee may file with the clerk of superior court a certificate of the clerk of court from which the appeal comes showing the names of the parties thereto, the time when the judgment and appeal were taken, the name of the appellant and the date of the settling of case on appeal, if any has been settled, with his motion to docket and dismiss said appeal at appellant's cost, which motion shall be allowed at the first regular term or any succeeding regular term of the superior court.

(4) Appellant shall file one typewritten brief with the clerk of superior court, and shall immediately mail or deliver to appellee's counsel a carbon typewritten copy thereof. If appellant's brief has not been filed with the clerk of superior court, and no copy has been delivered to appellee's counsel within three weeks from the date of settling the case on appeal, the appeal will be dismissed on motion of appellee at the next regular term or any succeeding regular term of the superior court, unless for good cause shown the court shall give appellant further time to file his brief.

(5) Appellee shall file one typewritten brief and a carbon copy thereof with the clerk of superior court within five weeks from the date of settling the case on appeal; the copy of same will be furnished counsel for appellant by the clerk of superior court, on application. On failure of the appellee to file his brief by the time required, the case will be heard and determined at the next regular term or any succeeding regular term of the superior court without argument from appellee, unless for good cause shown the court shall give appellee further time to file his brief.

(6) It shall be the duty of any judge of the superior court holding court in any county where a court is established under the provisions of this article, to allot sufficient and adequate time during each regular term of the superior court held in such county for the hearing of appeals from the county civil court of such county: Provided, no such appeal shall be heard until five days has expired since the filing of appellee's brief or since the time appellee's brief should have been filed.

(7) Upon such appeal, the superior court may either affirm or modify the judgment of the county civil court or remand the cause for a new trial.

(8) From the judgment of the superior court an appeal may be taken to the supreme court as is now provided by law. (1937, c. 437, s. 23.)

§ 7-379. Stay of execution; enforcement of judgments, etc.—Orders to stay execution on judgments entered in the county civil court shall be the same as in appeals from the superior court to the supreme court.

Judgments of the county civil court shall be docketed in the judgment docket of the superior court as is provided for judgments of the superior court, and the judgment when docketed shall in all respects be a judgment of the superior court in the same manner and to the same extent as if rendered by the superior court, and shall be subject to the same statute of limitations and the statutes relating to the revival of judgments in the superior court and issuing executions thereon. (1937, c. 437, s. 24.)

§ 7-380. Court seal.—The county civil court shall have a seal with the impression "..... County Civil Court," which shall be used in attestation of all summons, other processes, acts, or judgments of said court whenever required, and in the same manner and in the same effect as the seal of other courts of record in the state of North Carolina. (1937, c. 437, s. 25.)

§ 7-381. Costs and fees.—There shall be taxed in the county civil court the same costs and fees for services of the officers thereof as provided for the court having concurrent jurisdiction; such costs and fees shall be taxed and collected by the clerk and paid over monthly to the treasurer of the county as county funds to be dealt with by the commissioners. (1937, c. 437, s. 26.)

§ 7-382. Abolishing court.—This court may be abolished by resolution of a majority of the board of county commissioners of any county for such county by giving written notice of such intention six months prior to the end of the term of any presiding judge thereof, to become effective at the end of such term of office; and in case of the abolition of the court, cases then pending shall be transferred to the superior court and there tried. (1937, c. 437, s. 27.)

§ 7-383. Existing laws not repealed.—This article shall not be construed to repeal or modify any existing laws by which a county court may be created or to affect or repeal any court now or hereafter created under existing laws, and shall only be construed to be an additional method by which a county court may be established. (1937, c. 437, s. 28.)

SUBCHAPTER IX. COUNTY CRIMINAL COURTS.

Art. 36. County Criminal Courts.

§ 7-384. Counties authorized to establish county criminal courts.—In each county in this State there may be established a court of criminal jurisdiction, which shall be a court of record, and it shall be maintained pursuant to the provisions of this article, and said court shall be called the county criminal court, and shall have jurisdiction over the entire county in which said court shall be established. (1931, c. 89, s. 1.)

§ 7-385. Established by resolution of county commissioners.—If, in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county, the public interest will be best promoted by so doing, they may establish a County Court under the provisions of this article, by resolution which shall in brief recite the reasons for the establishment thereof, and further recite that in the opinion of the board of commissioners it is not necessary that an election be called for the establishment of said court, as herein provided, and upon the adoption of such resolution the board of commissioners may establish said court without holding such election. (1931, c. 89, s. 2.)

§ 7-386. Court may be abolished by resolution.—Whenever in the opinion of the board of commissioners of any county in which a court has been established under this article, the conditions prevailing in such county are such as to no longer require the said court, such board of commissioners may, by proper resolution, reciting in brief the reasons therefore, abolish said court. (1931, c. 89, s. 3.)

§ 7-387. Transfer of cases from docket of Superior Court.—Upon the establishment of the County Court, as in this article authorized, the clerk of the Superior Court shall immediately transfer from the Superior Court to such County Court all criminal actions pending in the Superior Court of which the County Court has jurisdiction, as in this article conferred, and the County Court shall immediately proceed to try and dispose of such criminal actions. (1931, c. 89, s. 4.)

§ 7-388. Appointment of judge; associate judge.—The court shall be presided over by a judge, who may be licensed to practice law, and who, at the time of his election or appointment, shall be a qualified elector in the county. The board of commissioners of the county shall appoint such judge, whose term of office shall be two (2) years from the date of his appointment, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, or until the court shall be abolished, as herein provided. In the event of a vacancy by death or resignation, appointment shall be for the unexpired term of the previous judge. The salary of said judge shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county, and the same shall be paid monthly out of the general county fund. In each county in which the court is established, under the provisions of this article, there shall be appointed by the board of commissioners of said county an associate judge, who shall preside as judge of the county court, and with like authority of the regular judge, in the event of sickness or absence from the county of the regular judge, or in the event that the regular judge should be disqualified by relationship to the parties in interest, or from other cause. The associate judge shall take the same oath of office required by the judge of the county court, and shall be paid such compensation for his services as may be provided by the board of commissioners. The compensation which shall be paid to the associate judge shall be deducted from the salary to be paid to the regular county judge as herein provided. He shall be appointed at the time fixed for the appointment of the judge of the County Court, and for the same term as herein provided for a regular judge of the county, with the authority on the part of the board of commissioners to fill the vacancy in the event of death or resignation. (1931, c. 89, s. 5.)

§ 7-389. Appointment of prosecuting attorney. —There shall be a prosecuting attorney of said County Court, to be known as the prosecuting attorney, who shall appear for the State and prosecute all criminal cases being tried in said court, and for his services he shall be paid such salary as may be fixed by the board of commissioners, to be paid monthly from the general county fund. The board of commissioners shall appoint such prosecuting attorney, whose term of office shall be two (2) years from the date of his appointment, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, or until the court shall be abolished, as herein provided, except in the event of a vacancy in the office of prosecuting attorney, either by death or resignation, the appointment to fill such vacancy shall be for the unexpired term of the previous prosecuting attorney. (1931, c. 89, s. 6.)

§ 7-390. Clerk of court; term of office; fees; bond; sheriff.—In those counties in which the clerk of the superior court and sheriff are paid fees and not salaries, such clerks and sheriffs shall receive the same fees for services rendered in a county court as they would have received had such services been rendered in the superior court.

The Clerk of the Superior Court shall, ex-officio, be Clerk of the County Court, and in all counties in which the Clerk of the Superior Court is paid fees, the Clerk of the Superior Court shall have the right and privilege to resign as Clerk of the County Court, and in the event of such resignation the board of commissioners shall have the authority to appoint a Clerk of the County Court, whose term of office shall be two (2) years, and whose term of office shall expire at the time fixed for the termination of the office of the judge of said court, and the appointment of the Clerk of the County Court shall thereafter be made by the board of commissioners at the same time when the appointment of the judge of said court is made by said board of commissioners. He will receive the same fees for services rendered as clerks of the Superior Courts. In all counties in which the Clerks of the Superior Court are paid salaries the board of commissioners are authorized, in their discretion, to provide additional compensation to such clerks for their services rendered as Clerk of the County Court.

In the event that the Clerk of the Superior Court shall resign as Clerk of the County Court as herein provided, upon the appointment of a Clerk to the County Court, he shall be required to enter into a bond in such sum as may be fixed by the board of commissioners for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. (1931, c. 89, s. 7.)

Local Modification.—Lee: 1941, c. 330.

§ 7-391. Oath of judge; prosecuting attorney. —The judge of the county court, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the prescribed oath required of judges of the Superior Court, and such oath shall be recorded by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county. The prosecuting attorney, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the prescribed oath required of solicitors of the Superior Court, and said oath shall be recorded by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county. (1931, c. 89, s. 8.)

§ 7-392. Court seal. — The County Criminal Court shall have a seal with the impression "County Court of.....County," which shall be used in attestation of all writs, warrants, or other processes, acts, or judgments of said court whenever required, and in the same manner and in the same effect as the seal of other courts of record in the State of North Carolina. (1931, c. 89, s. 9.)

§ 7-393. Jurisdiction; appeal; judgment docket. —The jurisdiction of the County Court shall be as follows:

(a) Said court shall have final exclusive and original jurisdiction of all criminal offenses committed in the county below the grade of a felony, as now defined by law, except as to offenses over which justices of the peace have final jurisdiction, and all such offenses whereof said court is given jurisdiction are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors.

(b) To punish for contempt to the same extent and in the same manner allowed by law to the Superior Court of this State; to issue writs ad testificandum and other processes to compel the attendance of witnesses and to enforce the orders and judgments of the court in the same manner allowed by law to the Superior Courts of this State.

(c) The judge of the County Court shall have all the power and jurisdiction and authority now conferred by law upon the Superior Court to sentence any person who pleads guilty or who is convicted in said court of a misdemeanor for which the punishment prescribed by law is imprisonment, to be imprisoned in the common jail of the county and to be assigned to work on the public roads under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission and the clerk of said court shall issue commitments therefor in the same manner as now provided by law for the Clerks of the Superior Court.

(d) Any person convicted in said court shall have the right of appeal to the Superior Court of said county, and upon such appeal the trial in the Superior Court shall be de novo.

(e) The County Court shall have exclusive preliminary jurisdiction over all offenses whereof exclusive jurisdiction is not given to said court, and shall hear and determine all warrants charging such offenses, and in the event that the court finds probable cause, shall bind the defendant over to the Superior Court, requiring such bond as the court may fix for the appearance of the defendant at the next ensuing term of the Superior Court of said county for the trial of criminal causes; and all justices of the peace issuing warrants wherein the defendant or defendants are charged with the commission of an offense whereof the Superior Court has jurisdiction, shall make said warrants returnable before the said County Court.

(f) The judge of the County Court shall have the same authority as the judge of the Superior Court to render judgments upon all appearance bonds, and such other bonds as are authorized by law, when default has been made. All such judgments shall be certified to and docketed upon the civil judgment docket in the Superior Court of the county in which the court is held, and shall be cross-indexed as other judgments, and shall, from the time of docketing, have the same force and effect as judgments of the Superior Court. (1931, c. 89, s. 10; 1931, c. 241; 1937, c. 123.)

Local Modification.—Burke: 1935, c. 298; 1939, c. 226.

§ 7-394. Jury trials.—In all cases coming before the said County Court a jury may be demanded by either the State or the defendant, or the court may, upon its own motion, order a jury trial in any case where, in the judgment of the court, the ends of justice would be better met by submitting the case to a jury. The board of commissioners of the county in which said County Court is established are hereby required to furnish the clerk of said County Court with a list of jurors of said county, and in any case where a jury trial is to be had a jury of twelve (12) shall be drawn from the said list of jurors so furnished by the board of commissioners. The names of the jurors shall be drawn from the box as now provided in cases in the Superior Court in drawing a special venire: Provided, however, the defendant may waive a jury drawn from the box, in which event the court shall direct the sheriff to summons bystanders or tales jurors to serve as jurors in said cases, and the judge of the County Court shall have like authority as is now existing by the judge of the Superior Court to order the summons of tales jurors to serve in said court where the jurors drawn from the box shall be legally challenged or shall be otherwise disqualified to serve as such jurors. The causes of challenge of jurors in the County Court shall be the same as now provided for challenges of jurors in the Superior Court. The fees of jurors shall be the same as now paid jurors in the Superior Court, and shall be paid from the general county fund, and a jury tax of fifteen ($15.00) dollars in such cases shall be taxed in the bill of costs. (1931, c. 89, s. 11.)

Local Modification.—Lee: 1939, c. 213; Onslow: 1941, c. 303.

§ 7-395. Process. — The warrants, subpoenas, and other processes of law issued by said court shall be directed to the sheriff or other lawful officer of the county to which said process is directed, and service thereof shall be lawfully made when made by the sheriff, deputy sheriff, of the county, or any other constable of said county, or by any rural policeman of said county, or municipal officer, and all warrants and subpoenas and other processes issued by the clerk of said county, when attested by the seal of said county, shall run anywhere in the State of North Carolina, and shall be executed by all officers in the same manner and way as processes now issued by the Superior Court. (1931, c. 89, s. 12.)

§ 7-396. Duties of judge; bond on appeal or on being bound over.—The judge of the County Court shall preside over said court and shall direct and determine all actions coming before him, the jurisdiction of which is conferred by this article, and in all cases where the defendant or defendants shall crave an appeal to the superior court, and in cases where the court has preliminary jurisdiction, and probable cause is found, the defendant shall be required to give bond, with sufficient surety, to be fixed by the court, conditioned upon the defendant's appearance at the next ensuing term of the Superior Court of said county for the trial of criminal causes, and in default thereof the court shall commit the defendant to the common jail of said county until said defendant shall have given bond or shall have been otherwise discharged according to law, except in capital cases, when the court shall find probable cause, he shall bind the defendant over to the superior court without bond. (1931, c. 89, s. 13.)

§ 7-397. When prosecuting attorney's fee taxed in bill of costs.—In all cases where the defendant shall plead guilty, or shall be convicted, there shall be taxed in the bill of costs a fee of eight dollars ($8.00) in lieu of prosecuting attorney's fee, which shall be paid by the defendant, and shall be paid into the general county fund. In the event the defendant is confined to jail or confined to jail and assigned to work on the public roads such fee shall not be taxed as a part of the cost. (1931, c. 89, s. 14.)

§ 7-398. Complete record to be kept by clerk; docket.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of said court to keep an accurate account and true record of all costs, fines, penalties, forfeitures, and punishments of said court imposed under the provisions of this article, and said record shall show the name of each offender, the name of the offense, the date of the hearing of the trial, and the punishment imposed, and the board of commissioners shall provide dockets for recording all of the processes issued by said court, which shall conform to the docket kept by the clerk of the Superior Court, and shall also provide proper files to properly keep a record of all cases which shall be disposed of in said court, and the disposition that has been made of the same. (1931, c. 89, s. 15.)

§ 7-399. Warrants returnable to court. — All warrants for crimes whereof the County Court shall have jurisdiction may be issued by any Justice of the Peace of said county, or mayor of any incorporated town, as provided by law, and shall be made returnable before the County Court at the next ensuing term thereof. (1931, c. 89, s. 16.)

§ 7-400. Service fees to officers except where they are on salary.—The cost of issuing and serving warrants, subpoenas, and other processes of law by said court shall be payable to the officers issuing or serving them, and shall be payable to the clerk of said court as is now done in cases determined by the superior court, except in those counties where officials are paid salaries and are not allowed fees, in which cases the costs so taxed shall be paid into the office of the clerk of said court, to be paid by him to the county treasurer or depository of said county, in the same manner and way as is now provided for similar fees in the Superior Court. (1931, c. 89, s. 17.)

§ 7-401. Regular and special terms; place of sessions.—There shall be held a regular term of the County Court established under the provisions of this article on the second Tuesday in each month: Provided, however, special terms may be held at any time by order of the judge of said court for the purpose of disposing of cases where pleas of guilty shall be entered and for the trial of cases where the defendants are confined to prison. At all regular terms the court shall continue in session until all cases are tried, continued, or otherwise disposed of according to law: Provided, however, the board of county commissioners in any county in which a County Court is established under the provisions of this article by proper resolution duly entered upon the minutes of said board, may, in the exercise of their discretion, fix other days than the days provided in this article on which regular terms of said court may be held: Provided, further, when a regular term of the County Court to be held under the terms fixed by this article shall conflict with a term of the Superior Court in said county, the regular term of the County Court shall be held on the first Tuesday following the termination of said term of the Superior Court, as fixed by law. All sessions of said County Court shall be held in the court house of the county in which said court is established. (1931, c. 89, s. 18.)

§ 7-402. Judge and prosecuting attorney may practice law in other courts.—In the event of the appointment of a licensed lawyer as judge or prosecuting attorney of said County Court, nothing in this article shall prevent the said judge or the prosecuting attorney appointed under the provisions of this article from practicing law in matters in which he is in no way connected by reason of his said office, or in courts in the State in matters which have not been heard or will not be heard in the County Court of which he is an officer. (1931, c. 89, s. 19.)

§ 7-403. Other County Court Acts not affected. —Nothing in this article shall be construed to repeal, alter, or amend any law heretofore enacted authorizing the establishment of county courts in the several counties of the State, but this article shall be construed to be in addition to and supplemental to such acts, and any court established under the provisions of this article shall be restricted and limited to all the provisions herein contained. (1931, c. 89, s. 20.)

§ 7-404. Certain counties excepted from provisions of article.—This article shall not apply to the counties of Alexander, Alleghany, Ashe, Beaufort, Bertie, Bladen, Brunswick, Buncombe, Camden, Caswell, Catawba, Chowan, Clay, Cleveland, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Davidson, Davie, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Franklin, Greene, Harnett, Haywood, Henderson, Hertford, Hoke, Hyde, Iredell, Jackson, Johnston, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Montgomery, New Hanover, Northampton, Orange, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Randolph, Robeson, Rockingham, Rowan, Sampson, Scotland, Stanly, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Vance, Wake, Warren, Watauga, Wayne, Wilkes, Yancey and Richmond. (1931, c. 89, s. 21, c. 270; 1935, c. 8; 1939, c. 41.)

SUBCHAPTER X. SPECIAL COUNTY COURTS.

Art. 37. Special County Courts.

§ 7-405. Establishment upon resolution of county commissioners. — In addition to the plans now provided for the establishment of courts inferior to the superior court, there may be established by resolution of all of the members of the board of county commissioners of any county in the state a court of criminal and civil jurisdiction, which shall be a court of record and shall be called a special county court and shall have criminal and civil jurisdiction as herein provided: Provided, that the board of county commissioners may by proper resolution, establish a special county court having only criminal jurisdiction or only civil jurisdicton or having both criminal and civil jurisdiction as herein provided. (1939, c. 357, s. 1.)

§ 7-406. Qualifications of judge and solicitor. —The judge of said court shall be an elector in and for said county at the time of appointment and qualification, and shall be a man of good moral character. The solicitor of the county shall be an elector in and for said county, shall be a man of good moral character and a licensed attorney at law. (1939, c. 357, s. 2.)

§ 7-407. Appointment of judge.—After the establishment of such court by any county, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of commissioners of such county to immediately notify the governor of the state, who shall appoint a judge to preside over such court, and each second year thereafter it shall be the duty of the governor of the state to appoint the judge of each such county court who shall preside over said court, and the said judge shall hold office for a term of two years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of judge shall be filled by the governor of the state. (1939, c. 357, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Richmond: 1941, c. 60, s. 2.

§ 7-408. Appointment of prosecuting attorney and clerk.—The board of commissioners of any county availing itself of the provisions of this article may elect or appoint and for the same term as herein provided for the appointment of the judge of this court, a prosecuting attorney and clerk for said court. (1939, c. 357, s. 4.)

Local Modification.—Richmond: 1941, c. 60, ss. 3, 4.

§ 7-409. Appointment of acting attorney or judge in absence of regular official. — Whenever, for any reason, the prosecuting attorney is temporarily absent, the judge shall appoint some other practicing attorney in the county to act as prosecuting attorney, and in case of temporary absence of the judge, either on account of sickness or other cause, the judge of said court shall appoint a judge to hold court during the absence of the regular judge. (1939, c. 357, s. 5.)

§ 7-410. Compensation of judge and solicitor.—The salary of the judge and solicitor and clerk shall be fixed by the board of commissioners of the county, and shall be paid monthly out of the funds of the county. (1939, c. 357, s. 6.)

Local Modification.—Richmond: 1941, c. 60, s. 5.

§ 7-411. Oaths of judge and solicitor.—Before entering upon the duties of office, the judge and solicitor shall take and subscribe an oath as is now provided by law for the judges and solicitors of the superior court, and file the same with the clerk of the superior court of the county, and the clerk shall record the same. (1939, c. 357, s. 7.)

§ 7-412. Appointment of temporary judge, etc.—Where the judge is disqualified by reason of interest in any case, he may appoint a temporary judge to hear said case, or said case may be removed to the superior court for trial in the county. (1939, c. 357, s. 8.)

§ 7-413. Duties and liabilities of clerk.—The clerk of the special county court established under the provisions of this article shall have as nearly as possible the same duties, powers, and responsibilities with reference to the special county court as a clerk of the superior court. The said clerk shall be liable upon his official bond for the discharge of his duties and caring for funds paid to him as clerk of the special county court to the same extent as a clerk of the superior court (1939, c. 357, s. 9.)

§ 7-414. Oath of office of clerk.—The clerk of the special county court before entering on the duties of the office, shall take and subscribe, before some officer authorized by law to administer an oath, the oath required under general law, and in addition thereto shall take and subscribe to an oath to perform faithfully all the duties required of him under this article and file such oath with the register of deeds for the county. (1939, c. 357, s. 10.)

§ 7-415. Attendance upon court by sheriff or deputies.—The sheriff of the county, or his deputies, shall attend upon this court in the same manner and with the same power and authority as he does and has in attendance upon the superior court of the county. (1939, c. 357, s. 11.)

§ 7-416. Appointment of court stenographer.—In the trial of any case in the special county court where a stenographer is deemed necessary, the judge of said court shall appoint a stenographer, and the fees for such work shall be taxed as part of the court cost in said case. (1939, c. 357, s. 12.)

§ 7-417. Right of jury trial in civil actions.—In the trial of civil actions in said court, any party is entitled to the right of trial by jury as is provided in the trial of causes in the superior court, unless said right of trial by jury shall be waived as hereinafter provided. (1939, c. 357, s. 13.)

§ 7-418. Jury trial where no written pleadings are filed.—In those cases in which no written pleadings are required, the parties shall be conclusively presumed to have expressly waived their right to trial by jury, unless at the time of the issuance of the summons, the plaintiff, or petitioner, in writing, demands a jury trial, or the defendant at any time before the commencement of the trial, in writing, demands a jury trial. (1939, c. 357, s. 14.)

§ 7-419. Jury trial where written pleadings are filed.—In those cases in which written pleadings are required to be filed, the parties shall be conclusively presumed to have expressly waived their right to trial by jury, unless at the time of the filing of the complaint or petition, the plaintiff, in writing, demands a jury trial, or unless at the time of the filing of the answer, or other pleading raising an issue of fact, the defendant or other party filing such pleading demands, in writing, a jury trial. (1939, c. 357, s. 15.)

§ 7-420. Jury trial where cases appealed or removed.—In those cases which were or may hereafter be instituted before a justice of the peace and removed or appealed to this court, and in those cases which were or may hereafter be instituted in superior court, and removed to this court, a jury trial shall be conclusively presumed to have been expressly waived unless the party desiring a trial by jury shall make a demand therefor, in writing, at any time before the case is called for trial, in which event the number of the jury shall be as herein elsewhere provided. (1939, c. 357, s. 16.)

§ 7-421. Number of jurors; deposit on demand for jury trial.—The jury of said court shall be a jury of six in all civil cases where a jury is demanded: Provided, that in those cases in which a jury is demanded the party shall at the time of making the demand pay to the clerk of the said court a deposit of six dollars ($6.00) to insure the payment of the jury tax: Provided, further, that where a party making such demand for a jury trial makes affidavit and satisfies the judge or clerk of the said court that he is unable to make the deposit, such party shall not be required to make the same. The deposit for a jury shall be returned to the party making it when the cost is paid by the losing party, against whom the cost is taxed. (1939, c. 357, s. 17.)

§ 7-422. Continuance of trial upon demand for jury; drawing and summoning of jury; compensation of jurors.—When a trial by jury is demanded in civil or criminal cases, the judge shall continue the cause until a day to be set, and the judge, together with the attorneys representing all parties shall immediately proceed to the office of the register of deeds of the county and cause to be drawn a jury of twelve, observing as nearly as may be the rule for drawing a jury for the superior court. The judge shall issue the proper writ to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon the jurors so drawn to appear at the court on the day set for the trial of the action. Such jurors shall receive the same compensation as is provided by law for jurors serving in the superior court, and are to be paid out of the treasury of said county on presentation of a ticket duly issued by the clerk of said court. (1939, c. 357, s. 18.)

§ 7-423. Jury trials in criminal actions.—In all criminal actions, upon demand of the defendant or the prosecuting attorney, a jury of six shall be summoned in the same manner as provided for summoning jurors in civil actions. (1939, c. 357, s. 19.)

§ 7-424. Talesmen may serve as jurors.—In all criminal and civil actions, the judge shall have the right to call in talesmen to serve as jurors, according to the practice of the superior court, and to direct the sheriff to call in a sufficient number of talesmen to serve during any one week or part of a week for the proper dispatch of the business of the court. (1939, c. 357, s. 20.)

§ 7-425. Sessions of court.—The special county court shall be open for the trial of all criminal cases of which it has jurisdiction at least one day of each week, and shall also be open at least once each month for the trial of all civil causes of which it has jurisdiction, said days to be fixed by the board of county commissioners, and shall continue its session from day to day until all business is transacted by trial, continuance or otherwise. The session of the court shall be held in the county court house or other place within the county provided by the board of county commissioners for that purpose. Special sessions of the court may be called by the judge as the necessities may require. (1939, c. 357, s. 21.)

§ 7-426. Civil jurisdiction of court.—The special county court shall have jurisdiction in civil matters as follows:

1. Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the justices of the peace of the county.

2. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all actions founded on contracts wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1500.00), exclusive of interest and cost.

3. Jurisdiction concurrent with that of the superior court in all actions not founded on contracts wherein the amount demanded shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00), exclusive of interest and cost.

4. Jurisdiction concurrent with the superior court in all attachment and claim and delivery proceedings wherein the value of the property demanded does not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00), exclusive of interest and cost. (1939, c. 357, s. 22.)

§ 7-427. Procedure for hearing of appeals from courts of justices of the peace.—In all cases where there is an appeal from a justice of the peace of a county wherein a special county court has been established under the provisions of this article, such appeal shall be first heard de novo in the special county court. All appeals from justices of the peace in civil cases shall be heard in the same manner provided herein for hearing causes within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace originating in the said special county court, and said appeals shall be docketed in the special county court within the same time limit and in the same manner as such appeals are now required to be docketed in the superior court. (1939, c. 357, s. 23.)

§ 7-428. Transfer of cases from superior court.—By written consent of a plaintiff and defendant filed with the clerk of the superior court, any civil case within the jurisdiction of the special county court, now or hereafter pending, in the superior court, may be transferred to the docket of the special county court, and there tried. If a jury trial is desired, it shall be expressed in the agreement to transfer the case; otherwise the right to trial by jury shall be conclusively presumed to have been expressly waived. (1939, c. 357, s. 24.)

§ 7-429. Separate records, equipment, etc., furnished by commissioners.—The clerk of the special county court shall keep separate records for use of said court to be furnished by the county commissioners, and they shall also provide necessary blanks, forms, books and such stationery and office equipment as may be needed by the court. The clerk shall keep the same in the office of the clerk of such court. (1939, c. 357, s. 25.)

§ 7-430. Procedure in civil actions.—In civil cases when the special county court is exercising jurisdiction concurrent with that of the superior court, as now established, the rules of procedure, pleadings, practice, and admission of evidence, and judgment shall conform as nearly as possible to those of the superior court. In civil cases where the special county court is exercising jurisdiction concurrent with that of justices of the peace, actions shall be commenced in the special county court by summons issued and signed by the clerk or deputy, and orders to seize property in claim and delivery proceedings, warrants of attachment and subpoena may be issued by the clerk or deputy and the other rules of processes, pleadings, procedure, practice and procuring evidence and judgments shall conform as nearly as possible to those of the courts of the justices of the peace. (1939, c. 357, s. 26.)

§ 7-431. Orders to stay execution; judgments.—Orders to stay execution on judgments entered in the special county court shall be the same as in appeals from the superior court to the supreme court. Judgments of the county court shall be docketed in the judgment docket of the superior court, as is provided for judgments of the superior court, and the judgments when docketed shall in all respects be judgments of the superior court in the same manner and to the same extent as if rendered by the superior court, and shall be subject to the same statute of limitations and the statutes relating to the revival of judgments in the superior court and issuing executions thereon. (1939, c. 357, s. 27.)

§ 7-432. Seal of court.—The county court shall have a seal with the impression ".....

County Special Court", which shall be used in attestation of all summons, other processes, etc., acts, or judgments of said court whenever required, and in the same manner and to the same effect as the seal of other courts of record in the state of North Carolina. (1939, c. 357, s. 28.)

§ 7-433. Costs and fees.—There shall be taxed in the special county court the same costs and fees for services of the officers thereof as provided for the court having concurrent jurisdiction; such costs and fees shall be taxed and collected by the clerk and paid over to the proper officers who are entitled to receive them. (1939, c. 357, s. 29.)

Local Modification.—Richmond: 1941, c. 60, s. 5½.

§ 7-434. Reopening of cases and modification of judgments.—When any case has been finally disposed of by the judge of the court and judgment pronounced therein, the case shall not thereafter be reopened or the judgment or sentence rendered therein changed, modified or stricken out by the judge after the adjournment of the regular weekly term of court or after the adjournment of any special term of court. (1939, c. 357, s. 30.)

§ 7-435. Criminal jurisdiction.—The court shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising in the county which are now or may hereafter be given to a justice of the peace, and, in addition to the jurisdiction conferred by this section, shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all other criminal offenses committed in the county below the grade of a felony as now defined by law, and the same are hereby declared to be petty misdemeanors: Provided, however, that where a special county court or recorder's court shall legally exist within such county by virtue of a special act of the legislature passed before the amendment of the constitution in reference thereto, then the special county court, as herein established, shall not have jurisdiction of criminal cases within the territory of such existing recorder's court, so as to interfere or conflict with the existing recorder's court, but shall have concurrent jurisdiction where the jurisdiction of the two courts covers the same causes or the same subject matter. This article and the establishment of any court thereunder shall not be construed to repeal, modify or in anywise affect any existing special court or recorder's court by virtue of such former special acts herein referred to. (1939, c. 357, s. 31.)

§ 7-436. Judges vested with jurisdiction of municipal recorders.—The judges of special county courts herein provided for shall be vested with all the jurisdiction and authority conferred upon recorders of municipal courts, in like manner and to the same extent as if such jurisdiction and authority had been specially in this section set forth, in so far as such jurisdiction and authority are applicable to such courts, and the provisions of existing law relative to municipal recorder's courts shall in all things apply to the special county courts where the same are not inconsistent and in so far as same are practically applicable: Provided, that this section shall not take away the jurisdiction of a mayor to try breaches of ordinances when such city has no other municipal court. (1939, c. 357, s. 32.)

§ 7-437. Removal of cases from courts of justices of peace. — When, upon written request made before entering on the trial of any cause before any justice of the peace, it shall appear proper for the cause to be removed for trial to some other justice, as is now provided by law, the cause may be removed for trial to the special county court of the county. (1939, c. 357, s. 33.)

§ 7-438. Criminal cases bound over by justices of the peace.—In all criminal cases heard by a justice of the peace or other committing magistrate of the county against any person for any offense included within the exclusive jurisdiction of the special county court as provided in this article, and in which probable cause of guilt is found, such person shall be bound in a personal recognizance or surety to appear at the next succeeding session of the special county court of the county, for trial; and in default of such surety such person shall be committed to the common jail of the county to await a trial: Provided, that in the event any justice of the peace or other committing magistrate shall bind over to the superior court any person accused of a crime within the jurisdiction of the special county court, the clerk of the superior court shall, upon his own motion, transfer all papers in the case to the special county court, and the case shall then stand for trial at the next succeeding term of said special county court, as if the defendant had been bound over to the said court in the first instance: Provided, further, that in the event any justice of the peace or other committing magistrate shall bind over to the special county court any person charged with an offense beyond the jurisdiction of said court, the said judge shall cause the accused person to enter into a new bond with sufficient surety for his appearance at the next succeeding term of the superior court of the county, and shall transmit all papers in the case to the said superior court, but this shall be done without additional cost to the accused person. (1939, c. 357, s. 34.)

§ 7-439. Notice to accused person and surety in cases transferred from superior court.—Whenever the clerk of the superior court shall transfer the papers in any case from the superior court to a special county court, he shall at the same time issue a notice to the accused person and his surety, informing them that the cause has been so transferred and requiring the accused person to appear at the next succeeding term of said special county court for trial, and, upon the service of said notice upon the accused person and his surety, at least five days before the beginning of the next succeeding term of the special county court, the case shall stand for trial at said term and the bond given by the accused person for his appearance at the next term of the superior court shall in all respects be valid and binding to compel the appearance of the accused person at the said next succeeding term of said special county court, and in case said notice is not served on the accused person and his surety at least five days before the beginning of the next succeeding term of the special county court, then the case shall not be tried without the consent of the accused person until the following term of the special county court. (1939, c. 357, s. 35.)

§ 7-440. Issuance of warrant in criminal causes.—All trials of criminal causes in said court shall be upon warrant issued by the clerk of said court or deputy clerk herein provided for or by the judge or by any justice of the peace of the county. In either event such warrant shall be issued upon affidavit duly made and subscribed, setting forth the complaint against the defendant: Provided, the judge shall have authority to amend the warrant and to allow amendment of the affidavit at any time before judgment. (1939, c. 357, s. 36.)

§ 7-441. Punishment upon conviction.—Whenever any person shall be convicted or plead guilty of any offense of which the court has final jurisdiction the judge may sentence him to the common jail of the county in which the court shall be held, and assign him to work on the public roads, under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission: Provided, that in case the person so convicted or pleading guilty shall be a woman or an infant of immature years, then the judge may assign him or her to the county workhouse, reformatory, or other penal institution located in the county; or if there be none, any similar institution that may be located outside of the county to which judges of the superior court are authorized to sentence such person under the general laws of the state. All fines imposed by the court shall be collected by the clerk of such court or the deputy clerk thereof in the same manner as the clerk of the superior court; and, where a defendant is convicted and fails to pay the costs of such conviction, the county shall pay such costs as are allowed by law in similar cases before the superior court. (1939, c. 357, s. 37.)

§ 7-442. Appeals to superior court.—Any person convicted of any offense of which the county court has final jurisdiction may appeal to the superior court from any judgment or sentence of the court in the same manner as is now provided for appeals from the courts of justices of the peace; and any person tried before the judge for any offense of which the court has not final jurisdiction shall, upon the judge's finding probable cause of guilt, be bound over to the superior court in the same manner as is provided by law in similar cases before justices of the peace. (1939, c. 357, s. 38.)

§ 7-443. Fees for issuance and service of warrants.—All justices of the peace, constables and sheriffs issuing or serving warrants or other process returnable to the special county court shall have the same fees as are now prescribed by law, which fees shall be collected and paid out in the same manner and by the same officers as collect and distribute such fees in the superior court. (1939, c. 357, s. 39.)

§ 7-444. Costs and fees as county funds.—There shall be taxed in the special county court the same costs and fees for the benefit of the officers thereof as provided for municipal recorder's court. Such costs and fees shall be collected by the clerk and paid over monthly to the treasurer of the county as county funds to be dealt with by the commissioners. (1939, c. 357, s. 40.)

§ 7-445. Abolition of court by resolution of commissioners.—Any court established under this article may be abolished by resolution of a majority of the board of county commissioners for such county by giving written notice of such intention one month prior thereto; and in case of the abolition of the court, cases then pending shall be transferred to the superior court and there tried. (1939, c. 357, s. 41.)

§ 7-446. Counties exempt.—This article shall not apply to the counties of Alamance, Alexander, Anson, Ashe, Avery, Beaufort, Bertie, Bladen, Brunswick, Burke, Caldwell, Carteret, Catawba, Chatham, Chowan, Clay, Cleveland, Columbus, Craven, Dare, Duplin, Edgecombe, Franklin, Forsyth, Gaston, Gates, Granville, Greene, Halifax, Harnett, Hoke, Hyde, Iredell, Johnston, Jones, Lee, Lenior, Lincoln, Madison, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, Nash, New Hanover, Northampton, Onslow, Pasquotank, Pender, Perquimans, Robeson, Rutherford, Sampson, Stanly, Surry, Union, Vance, Wake, Warren, Wayne, Washington and Wilson. (1939, c. 357, s. 42.)

§ 7-447. Construction of article.—This article shall not be construed to repeal or modify any existing laws by which a county court may be created or to affect or repeal any court now or hereafter created under existing laws, and shall only be construed to be an additional method by which a special county court may be established for criminal, civil, or criminal and civil jurisdictions. (1939, c. 357, s. 43.)

Art. 1. Statutes.

§ 8-1. Printed statutes and certified copies evidence.—All statutes, or joint resolutions, passed by the general assembly may be read in evidence from the printed statute book; or a copy of any act of the general assembly certified by the secretary of state shall be received in evidence in every court. (Rev., ss. 1592, 1593; Code, ss. 1339, 1340; R. C., c. 44, ss. 4. 5; 1826, c. 7; C. S. 1747.)

§ 8-2. Martin's collection of private acts.—Any private act published by Francis X. Martin, in his collection of private acts, shall be received in evidence in every court. (Rev., s. 1593; Code, s. 1340; R. C., c. 44, s. 5; 1826, c. 7, s. 2; C. S. 1748.)

§ 8-3. Laws of other states or foreign countries.—A printed copy of a statute, or other written law, of another state, or of a territory, or of a foreign country, or a printed copy of a proclamation, edict, decree or ordinance, by the executive thereof, contained in a book or publication purporting or proved to have been published by the authority thereof, or proved to be commonly admitted as evidence of the existing law, in the judicial tribunals thereof, shall be evidence of the statute, law, proclamation, edict, decree, or ordinance. The unwritten or common law of another state, or of a territory, or of a foreign country, may be proved as a fact by oral evidence. The books of the reports of cases, adjudged in the courts thereof, shall also be admitted as evidence of the unwritten or common law thereof. And either party may also exhibit a copy of the law of such state, territory, or foreign country, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state as having been copied from a printed volume of the laws of such state, territory or country, on file in the state or supreme court library, or in the offices of the governor or secretary of state. (Rev., s. 1594; Code, s. 1338; R. C., c. 44, s. 3; 1823, c. 1193, ss. 1, 3; C. C. P., s. 360; C. S. 1749.)

§ 8-4. Judicial notice of laws of United States, other States and foreign countries.—When any question shall arise as to the law of the United States, or of any other state or territory of the United States, or of the District of Columbia, or of any foreign country, the court shall take notice of such law in the same manner as if the question arose under the law of this State. (1931, c. 30.)

§ 8-5. Town ordinances certified.—In the trial of appeals from mayors' courts, when the offense charged is the violation of a town ordinance, a copy of the ordinance alleged to have been violated, certified by the mayor, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of such ordinance. (Rev., s. 1595; 1899, c. 277, s. 2; C. S. 1750.)

Art. 2. Grants, Deeds and Wills.

§ 8-6. Copies certified by secretary of state.—Copies of the plats and certificates of survey, or their accompanying warrants, and all abstracts of grants, which may be filed in the office of the secretary of state, certified by him as true copies, shall be as good evidence, in any court, as the original. (Rev., s. 1596; Code, s. 1341; R. C., c. 44, s. 6; 1822, c. 1154; C. S. 1751.)

§ 8-7. Certified copies of grants and abstracts.—For the purpose of showing title from the state of North Carolina to the grantee or grantees therein named and for the lands therein described, duly certified copies of all grants and of all memoranda and abstracts of grants on record in the office of the secretary of state, given in abstract or in full, and with or without the signature of the governor and the great seal of the state appearing upon such record, shall be competent evidence in the courts of this state or of the United States or of any territory of the United States, and in the absence of the production of the original grant shall be conclusive evidence of a grant from the state to the grantee or grantees named and for the lands described therein. (1915, c. 249, s. 1; C. S. 1752.)

§ 8-8. Certified copies of grants and abstracts recorded.—Duly certified copies of such grants and of such memoranda and abstracts of grants may be recorded in the county where the lands therein described are situated, and the records thereof in such counties, or certified copies thereof, shall likewise be competent evidence for the purpose of showing title from the state of North Carolina to the grantee or grantees named and for the lands described therein. (1915, c. 249, s. 2; C. S. 1753.)

§ 8-9. Copies of grants certified by clerk of secretary of state validated.—All copies of grants heretofore issued from the office of the secretary of state, duly certified under the great seal of the state, and to which the name of the secretary has been written or affixed by the clerk of the said secretary of state, are hereby ratified and approved and declared to be good and valid copies of the original grants and admissible in evidence in all courts of this state when duly registered in the counties in which the land lies; all such copies heretofore registered in said counties are hereby declared to be lawful and regular in all respects as if the same had been signed by the secretary of state in person and duly registered. (Rev., s. 1597; 1901, c. 613; C. S. 1754.)

§ 8-10. Copies of grants in Burke.—Copies of grants issued by the state within the county of Burke prior to the destruction of the records of said county by General Stoneman in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, shall be admitted in evidence in all actions when the same are duly registered; and when the original grants are lost, destroyed or cannot be found after due search, it shall be presumed that the same were duly registered within the time prescribed by law, as provided upon the face of original grant. (Rev., s. 1610; 1901, c. 513; C. S. 1755.)

§ 8-11. Copies of grants in Moore.—Copies of grants for land situated in Moore county and the counties of which Moore was a part, entered in a book, and the book being certified under the seal of the secretary of state, shall have the force and effect of the originals and be evidence in all courts. (Rev., s. 1613; 1903, c. 214; C. S. 1756.)

§ 8-12. Copies of grants in Onslow. — The copies of grants made by the register of deeds of Onslow county under laws of 1907, chapter 434, of grants, abstracts of grants, and other documents pertaining to titles of land in Onslow county issued prior to the year one thousand eight hundred, and contained in a book called Book of Transcribed Grants Issued Prior to One Thousand Eight Hundred, duly authenticated as prescribed in said chapter 434 of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven, shall be received as evidence in all courts of the state, and certified copies therefrom shall be received as evidence. (1907, c. 434; C. S. 1757.)

§ 8-13. Certain deeds dated before 1835 evidence of due execution.—In all actions hereafter instituted in which the title or ownership of any lands situated in North Carolina is at issue or in dispute, any deed or release, or a duly certified copy thereof, in which the people of the state of North Carolina are grantees and bearing date prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five and purporting to have been filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state of North Carolina prior to said year and now on file and of record in said office, and executed or purporting to have been executed by any person or persons as the representatives or agents or for or on behalf of any society, tribe, nation or aggregation of persons, whether signed or executed individually or in their representative capacity, and any such deed or release having been authorized to be executed by an act of the general assembly of North Carolina by the properly authorized agents of such society, tribe, nation or aggregation of persons, shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons signing or executing any such deed or release were the properly authorized agent or agents of such society, tribe, nation or aggregation of persons. Any recitals or statements of fact in any such deed or release shall be prima facie evidence of the truth thereof in any such actions. (1915, c. 75; C. S. 1758.)

§ 8-14. Certified copies of maps of Cherokee lands.—Certified copies by the secretary of state of the copies, or parts thereof, of the maps of the Cherokee lands and of the Cherokee Country, as provided for and described in chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall have the same force and effect and be entitled to the same force and effect as evidence as certified copies of the whole or parts of the original maps. (1911, c. 175; C. S. 1759.)

§ 8-15. Certified copies of certain surveys and maps obtained from the state of Tennessee.—A certified copy of the report of the survey made by the North Carolina commissioners, McDowell, Vance and Matthews, of that portion of the state of Tennessee extending from a point on the Virginia line to a point on the Smoky Mountain west of the Pigeon River, as obtained and filed by the secretary of state under the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-two of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, shall, when certified under the hand and seal of the secretary of state, be competent evidence in the trial of any action in the courts of the state. (1913, c. 162; C. S. 1760.)

§ 8-16. Evidence of title under H. E. McCulloch grants.—In all actions or suits, wherein it may be necessary for either party to prove title, by virtue of a grant or grants made by the king of Great Britain or Earl Granville to Henry McCulloch, or Henry Eustace McCulloch, it shall be sufficient for such party, in the usual manner, to give evidence of the grant or conveyance from the king of Great Britain or Earl Granville to the said Henry McCulloch, or Henry Eustace McCulloch, and the mesne conveyances thereafter, without giving any evidence of the deed or deeds of release, relinquishment or confirmation of Earl Granville to the said Henry McCulloch, or Henry Eustace McCulloch, or the power or powers of attorney by which the conveyances from the said Henry McCulloch, or Henry Eustace McCulloch, purport to have been made. (Rev., s. 1600; Code, s. 1336; R. C., c. 44, s. 1; 1819, c. 1021; C. S. 1761.)

§ 8-17. Conveyances or certified copies evidence of title under McCulloch.—In all trials where the title of either plaintiff or defendant shall be derived from Henry Eustace McCulloch, or Henry McCulloch, out of their tracts number one and three, it shall not be required of such party to produce, in support of his title, either the original grant from the crown to the proprietors, or a registered copy thereof; but in all such cases the grant or deed executed by such reputed proprietors, or by his or their lawful attorney, or a certified copy thereof, shall be deemed and held sufficient proof of the title of such proprietors, in the same manner as though the original grants were produced in evidence. (Rev., s. 1601; Code, s. 1337; R. C., c. 44, s. 2; 1807, c. 724; C. S. 1762.)

§ 8-18. Certified copies of registered instruments evidence.—A copy of the record of any deed, mortgage, power of attorney, or other instrument required or allowed to be registered, duly authenticated by the certificate and official seal of the register of deeds of the county where the original or duly certified copy has been registered, may be given in evidence in any of the courts of the state where the original of such copy would be admitted as evidence, although the party offering the same shall be entitled to the possession of the original, and shall not account for the nonproduction thereof, unless by a rule or order of the court, made upon affidavit suggesting some material variance from the original in such registry or other sufficient grounds, such party shall have been previously required to produce the original, in which case the same shall be produced or its absence duly accounted for according to the course and practice of the court. (Rev., s. 1598; Code, s. 1251; 1893, c. 119, s. 2; R. C., c. 37, s. 16; 1846, c. 68, s. 1; C. S. 1763.)

§ 8-19. Common survey of contiguous tracts evidence.—Whenever any person owns several tracts of land which are contiguous or adjoining, but held under different deeds and different surveys, it may be lawful for any such person to have all such bodies of land included in one common survey by running around the lines of the outer tracts, and thereupon the possession of any part of said land covered by such common survey shall be deemed and held in law as a possession of the whole and every part thereof: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the rights or claims of persons which have already accrued to any part of said land. In all cases where such common surveys are made as directed by this section, the same may be recorded and registered as in cases of deeds, and shall be evidence in like manner. (Rev., s. 1505; Code, s. 1277; 1869-70, c. 34, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1764.)

§ 8-20. Certified copies registered in another county and used in evidence.—A copy from the office of the register of deeds of any county of the record of any deed, mortgage, power of attorney or other instrument required or allowed to be registered, duly authenticated by the certificate and official seal of the register of deeds of such county, may, upon presentation to the register of deeds of any other county, be registered without further proof, and the record thereof, or a duly certified copy of the same, may be given in evidence in any court in the state where the original of such copy would be admitted as evidence, although the party offering the same shall be entitled to the possession of the original, and shall not account for the nonproduction thereof, unless by a rule or order of the court, made upon affidavit suggesting some material variance from the original in such registry or other sufficient grounds, such party shall have been previously required to produce the original, in which case the same shall be produced or its absence duly accounted for according to the course and practice of the court. (Rev., s. 1599; Code, s. 1253; 1893, c. 119, s. 3; R. C., c. 37, s. 16; 1846, c. 68; C. S. 1765.)

§ 8-21. Deeds and records thereof lost, presumed to be in due form.—Whenever it is shown in any judicial proceeding that a deed or conveyance of real estate has been lost or destroyed, and that the same had been registered, and that the register's book containing the copy has been destroyed by fire or other accident, so that a copy thereof cannot be had, it shall be presumed and held, unless the contents be shown to have been otherwise, that such deed or conveyance transferred an estate in fee simple, if the grantor was entitled to such an estate at the time of conveyance, and that it was made upon sufficient consideration. (Rev., s. 1602; Code, s. 1348; R. C., c. 44, s. 14; 1854, c. 17; C. S. 1766.)

§ 8-22. Local: recitals in tax deeds in Haywood and Henderson.—In all legal controversies touching lands in the counties of Haywood and Henderson, in which either party shall claim title under any sale for taxes alleged to have been due and laid, in and for the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, or any preceding year, the recital contained in the deed or assurance, made by the sheriff or other officer conveying or assuring the same, of the taxes having been laid and assessed, and of the same having remained due and unpaid, shall be held and taken to be prima facie evidence of the truth of each and every of the matters so recited. (Rev., s. 1606; Code, s. 1346; R. C., c. 44, s. 11; C. S. 1767.)

§ 8-23. Local: copies of records from Tyrrell.—Copies of records of the county of Tyrrell between the years one thousand seven hundred and thirty-five and one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, when copied in a book and certified to by the clerk of the superior court of Tyrrell county as to the records of his office and by the register of deeds as to the records of his office, and deposited in their respective offices in Washington county, shall be treated in all respects as original records and received as evidence in all courts of Washington county. (Rev., s. 1612; 1903, c. 199; C. S. 1768.)

§ 8-24. Local: records of partition in Duplin.—The transcripts made by the clerk of the superior court of Duplin county, in accordance with chapter three hundred and ninety-five of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven, of the reports of committees relating to the partition of real estate on file in his office prior and up to the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entered and indexed in a book entitled Reports of Committees, A, and the reports of committees beginning with and subsequent to the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entered and indexed in a book entitled Reports of Committees, B, shall be as competent evidence as are the original reports of the committees. (1907, c. 395, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 1769.)

§ 8-25. Local: records of wills in Duplin.—The transcripts made by the clerk of the superior court of Duplin county, in accordance with chapter three hundred and ninety-five of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven, of all wills and entries of probate and dates of registration appearing on the same, on file in his office prior and up to the January term of the county court of Duplin county, one thousand eight hundred and thirty, and entered in a book designated as Record of Wills, A, and duly indexed as provided by law, shall be as competent evidence in any court as are the originals of such wills. (1907, c. 395, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1770.)

§ 8-26. Local: records of deeds and wills in Anson.—The copies of the deeds and deed books and of the wills and will books made in Anson county under the act of March second, one thousand nine hundred and five, shall have the same force and effect as the original deeds and deed books copied and as the original wills and will books copied, and shall take the place of said original deeds and deed books and wills and will books as evidence in all court procedure; and wherever said deed books or will books are ordered or directed to be produced in court by subpœna or other order of court, the copies made under such act shall be produced, unless the court shall specially order the production of the original books, and the copies so produced in court shall have the same validity and effect and be used for the same purposes, with the same effect, as the original books. (Rev., s. 1615; 1905, c. 663, s. 3; C. S. 1771.)

§ 8-27. Local: records of wills in Brunswick.—Under the provisions of chapter one hundred and six of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and eight, authorizing and directing that all unrecorded wills, dated prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, on file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of Brunswick county, and which have been duly proved in the form required by law, and bearing the adjudication certificate of the proper officer, shall be recorded in the book of wills in the said office and properly indexed; that all wills recorded in the minutes of the court of pleas and quarter sessions or other books of record in said office shall be transcribed and indexed in the book of wills in said office; and that all wills recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said county shall be properly indexed in the book kept for the purpose in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county; the record of any instrument or certified copy thereof, recorded under the provisions of this article, shall be admitted in evidence in the trial of any cause, subject to the same rules upon which other wills are admitted. (1908, s. 106; C. S. 1772.)

§ 8-28. Copies of wills.—Copies of wills, duly certified by the proper officer, may be given in evidence in any proceeding wherein the contents of the will may be competent evidence. (Rev., s. 1603; Code, s. 2175; R. C., c. 119, s. 21; 1784, c. 225, s. 6; C. S. 1773.)

§ 8-29. Copies of wills in secretary of state's office.—Copies of wills filed or recorded in the office of the secretary of state, attested by the secretary, may be given in evidence in any court, and shall be taken as sufficient proof of the devise of real estate, and are declared good and effectual to pass the estate therein devised: Provided, that no such will may be given in evidence in any court nor taken as sufficient proof of the devise unless a certificate of probate appear thereon. (Rev., s. 1607; Code, s. 2181; R. C., c. 44, s. 12; 1852, c. 172; 1856-7, c. 22; C. S. 1774.)

§ 8-30. Copies of wills recorded in wrong county.—Whereas, by reason of the uncertainty of the boundary lines of many of the counties of the state, wills have been proved, recorded and registered in the wrong county, whereby titles are insecure; for remedy whereof: The registry or duly certified copy of the record of any will, duly recorded, may be given in evidence in any of the courts of this state. (Rev., s. 1608; Code, s. 2182; 1858-9, c. 18; C. S. 1775.)

§ 8-31. Copy of will proved and lost before recorded.—When any will which has been proved and ordered to be recorded was destroyed during the war between the states, before it was recorded, a copy of such will, so entitled to be admitted to record, though not certified by any officer, shall, when the court shall be satisfied of the genuineness thereof, be ordered to be recorded, and shall be received in evidence whenever the original or duly certified exemplification would be; and such copies may be proved and admitted to record under the same rules, regulations and restrictions as are prescribed in chapter 98 entitled Burnt and Lost Records. (Rev., s. 1609; Code, s. 2183; 1866-7, c. 127; C. S. 1776.)

§ 8-32. Certified copies of deeds and wills from other states.—In cases where inhabitants of other states or territories, by will or deed, devise or convey property situated in this state, and the original will or deed cannot be obtained for registration in the county where the land lies, or where the property shall be in dispute, a copy of said will or deed (after the same has been proved and registered or deposited, agreeable to the laws of the state where the person died or made the same) being properly certified, either according to the act of congress or by the proper officer of the said state or territory, shall be read as evidence. (Rev., s. 1619; Code, s. 1344; R. C., c. 44, s. 9; 1802, c. 623; C. S. 1777.)

§ 8-33. Copies of lost records in Bladen.—The clerk of the superior court of Bladen county shall transcribe the judgment docket and index books and the will books in his office, and all other books in said office containing records made since the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and the records so transcribed shall have the same force and effect as the original records would have, and shall be received in evidence as the original records and be prima facie evidence of their correctness and of the sufficiency of their probate, though the probates are lost and are not transcribed. (Rev., s. 1611; 1895, c. 415; 1903, c. 65; C. S. 1778.)

Art. 3. Public Records.

§ 8-34. Copies of official writings.—Copies of all official bonds, writings, papers, or documents, recorded or filed as records in any court, or public office, or lodged in the office of the governor, treasurer, auditor, secretary of state, attorney general or adjutant general, shall be as competent evidence as the originals, when certified by the keeper of such records or writings under the seal of his office when there is such seal, or under his hand when there is no such seal, unless the court shall order the production of the original. Copies of the records of the board of county commissioners shall be evidence when certified by the clerk of the board under his hand and seal of the county. (Rev., s. 1616; Code, ss. 715, 1342; R. C., c. 44, s. 8; 1792, c. 368, s. 11; 1871-2, c. 91; 1868-9, c. 20, s. 21; C. S. 1779.)

§ 8-35. Authenticated copies of public records.—All copies of bonds, contracts, notes, mortgages, or other papers relating to or connected with any loan, account, settlement of any account or any part thereof, or other transaction, between the United States or any state thereof or any corporation all of whose stock is beneficially owned by the United States or any state thereof, either directly or indirectly, and any person, natural or artificial; or extracts therefrom when complete on any one subject, or copies from the books or papers on file, or records of any public office of the state or the United States or of any corporation all of whose stock is beneficially owned by the United States or by any state thereof, directly or indirectly, shall be received in evidence and entitled to full faith and credit in any of the courts of this state when certified to by the chief officer or agent in charge of such public office or of such office of such corporation, or by the secretary or an assistant secretary of such corporation, to be true copies, and authenticated under the seal of the office, department, or corporation concerned. Any such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the genuineness of such certificate and seal, the truth of the statements made in such certificate, and the official character of the person by which it purports to have been executed. (Rev., s. 1617; 1891, c. 501; 1939, c. 149; C. S. 1780.)

§ 8-36. Authenticated copy of record of administration.—When letters testamentary or of administration on the goods and chattels of any person deceased, being an inhabitant in another state or territory, have been granted, or a return or inventory of the estate has been made, a copy of the record of administration or of the letters testamentary, and a copy of an inventory or return of the effects of the deceased, after the same has been granted or made, agreeable to the laws of the state where the same has been done, being properly certified, either according to the act of congress or by the proper officer of such state or territory, shall be allowed as evidence. (Rev. s.

1618; Code, s. 1343; R. C., c. 44, s. 7; 1834, c. 4; C. S. 1781.)

§ 8-37. Certificate of Commissioner of Revenue as to ownership of automobile.—In all civil actions, arising out of an injury to person or property by reason of the operation of a motor vehicle of any kind, evidence as to the display numbers on a particular car, a copy of the record kept by the Commissioner of Revenue of such display numbers and the person who obtained them, certified under the hand and seal of said Commissioner of Revenue, shall be competent evidence of the ownership of the motor vehicle inflicting the injury or doing the damage. (1931, c. 88, s. 1.)

Art. 4. Other Writings in Evidence.

§ 8-38. Proof by attesting witness not required.—It is not necessary to prove by the attesting witness instruments to the validity of which the attestation is not requisite, and such instruments may be proved by admission or otherwise as if there had been no attesting witness thereto: Provided, that this section shall not affect the method and manner of proving instruments for registration. (Rev., s. 1604; 1905, c. 204; C. S. 1782.)

§ 8-39. Parol evidence to identify land described.—In all actions for the possession of or title to any real estate parol testimony may be introduced to identify the land sued for, and fit it to the description contained in the paper writing offered as evidence of title or of the right of possession, and if from this evidence the jury is satisfied that the land in question is the identical land intended to be conveyed by the parties to such paper-writing, then such paper-writing shall be deemed and taken to be sufficient in law to pass such title to or interest in such land as it purports to pass: Provided, that such paper-writing is in all other respects sufficient to pass such title or interest. (Rev., s. 1605; 1891, c. 465, s. 1; C. S. 1783.)

§ 8-40. Proof of handwriting by comparison.—In all trials in this state, when it may otherwise be competent and relevant to compare handwritings, a comparison of a disputed writing with any writing proved to the satisfaction of the judge to be genuine, shall be permitted to be made by witnesses, and such writings and the evidence of witnesses respecting the same may be submitted to the court and jury as evidence of the genuineness or otherwise of the writing in dispute: Provided, this shall not apply to actions pending on March 5, 1913. (1913, c. 52; C. S. 1784.)

§ 8-41. Bills of lading in evidence.—In all actions by or against common carriers in which it shall be thought necessary to introduce in evidence any bills of lading issued by said common carrier or by a connecting carrier, it shall be competent to introduce in evidence any paper-writing purporting to be the original bill of lading, or a duplicate thereof, upon proof that such paper purporting to be such bill of lading or duplicate was received in due course of mail from consignor or agent of said carrier or connecting carrier, or delivered by said common carrier to the consignee or other person entitled to the possession of the property for which said paper purports to be the bill of lading: Provided, that such purported bill of lading shall not be declared to be the bill of lading unless the said purported bill of lading is first exhibited by the plaintiff or his agent or attorney to the defendant or its attorney, or its agent upon whom process may be served, ten days before the trial where the point of shipment is in the state, and twenty days when the point of shipment is without the state. Upon such proof and introduction of the bill of lading, the due execution thereof shall be prima facie established. (1915, c. 287; C. S. 1785.)

§ 8-42. Book accounts under sixty dollars.—When any person shall bring an action upon a contract, or shall plead, or give notice of, a setoff or counterclaim for goods, wares and merchandise by him sold and delivered, or for work done and performed, he shall file his account with his complaint, or with his plea or notice of setoff or counterclaim, and if upon the trial of the issue, or executing a writ of inquiry of damages in such action, he shall declare upon his oath that the matter in dispute is a book account, and that he hath no means to prove the delivery of any of the articles which he then shall propose to prove by himself but by this book, in that case such book may be given in evidence, if he shall make out by his own oath that it doth contain a true account of all the dealings, or the last settlement of accounts between himself and the opposing party, and that all the articles therein contained, and by him so proved, were bona fide delivered, and that he hath given the opposing party all just credits; and such book and oath shall be received as evidence for the several articles so proved to be delivered within two years next before the commencement of the action, but not for any article of a longer standing, nor for any greater amount than sixty dollars. (Rev., s. 1622; Code, s. 591; R. C., c. 15, s. 1; 1756, c. 57, ss. 2, 6, 7; C. S. 1786.)

§ 8-43. Book accounts proved by personal representative.—In all actions where executors and administrators are parties, such book account for all articles delivered within two years previous to the death of the deceased may be proved under the like circumstances, rules and conditions; and in such case, the executor or administrator may prove by himself that he found the account so stated on the books of the deceased; that there are no witnesses, to his knowledge, capable of proving the delivery of the articles which he shall propose to prove by said book, and that he believes the same to be just, and doth not know of any other or further credit to be given than what is therein mentioned: Provided, that if two years shall not have elapsed previous to the death of the deceased, the executor or administrator may prove the said book account, if the suit shall be commenced within three years from the delivery of the articles: Provided further, that whenever by the aforesaid proviso the time of proving a book account in manner aforesaid is enlarged as to the one party, to the same extent shall be enlarged the time as to the other party. (Rev., s. 1623; Code, s. 592; R. C., c. 15, s. 2; 1756, c. 57, s. 2; 1796, c. 465; C. S. 1787.)

§ 8-44. Copies of book accounts in evidence.—A copy from the book of accounts proved in manner above directed may be given in evidence in any such action or setoff as aforesaid, and shall be as available as if such book had been produced, unless the party opposing such proof shall give notice to the adverse party or his attorney, at the joining of the issue, or ten days before the trial, that he will require the book to be produced at the trial; and in that case no such copy shall be admitted as evidence. (Rev., s. 1624; Code, s. 593; R. C., c. 15, s. 3; 1756, c. 57, s. 3; C. C. P., s. 343c; C. S. 1788.)

§ 8-45. Itemized and verified accounts.—In any actions instituted in any court of this state upon an account for goods sold and delivered, for rents, for services rendered, or labor performed, or upon any oral contract for money loaned, a verified itemized statement of such account shall be received in evidence, and shall be deemed prima facie evidence of its correctness. (Rev., s. 1625; 1897, c. 480; 1917, c. 32; 1941, c. 104; C. S. 1789.)

Art. 5. Life Tables.

§ 8-46. Mortuary tables as evidence.—Whenever it is necessary to establish the expectancy of continued life of any person from any period of such person's life, whether he be living at the time or not, the table hereto appended shall be received in all courts and by all persons having power to determine litigation, as evidence, with other evidence as to the health, constitution and habits of such person, of such expectancy represented by the figures in the columns headed by the words "completed age" and "expectation" respectively:

The present cash value of the annuity for a fraction of a year may be ascertained as follows: multiply the difference between the cash value of the annuities for the preceding and succeeding full years by the fraction of the year in decimals and add the sum to the present cash value for the preceding full year. When a person is entitled to the use of a sum of money for life, or for a given time, the interest thereon for one year, computed at four and one-half per cent, may be considered as an annuity and the present cash value be ascertained as herein provided. (Rev., s. 1627; 1905, c. 347; 1927, c. 215; C. S. 1791.)

Art. 6. Calendars.

§ 8-48. Clark's calendar; proof of dates.—In any controversy or inquiry in any court or before any fact finding board, commission, administrative agency or other body, where it becomes necessary or pertinent to determine any information which may be established by reference to a calendar for any year between the years one thousand seven hundred and fifty-three and two thousand and two, Anno Domini, inclusive, it is permissible to introduce in evidence "Clark's Calendar, A Calendar Covering 250 Years, 1753 A. D. to 2002 A. D.", as supplemented, copyrighted, 1940, by E. D. Clark, Entry: Class AA, Number three hundred and twenty-eight thousand five hundred and seventy-three, Copyright Office of the United States of America, Washington, or any reprint of said one thousand nine hundred and forty edition certified by the secretary of state to be an accurate copy thereof; and such calendar or reprint, when so introduced, shall be prima facie evidence that the information disclosed by said calendar or reprint thereof is true and correct. (1941, c. 312.)

Art. 7. Competency of Witnesses.

§ 8-49. Witness not excluded by interest or crime.—No person offered as a witness shall be excluded, by reason of incapacity from interest or crime, from giving evidence either in person or by deposition, according to the practice of the court, on the trial of any issue joined, or of any matter or question, or on any inquiry arising in any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, in any court, or before any judge, justice, jury or other person having, by law, authority to hear, receive and examine evidence; and every person so offered shall be admitted to give evidence, notwithstanding such person may or shall have an interest in the matter in question, or in the event of the trial of the issue, or of the suit or other proceeding in which he is offered as a witness. This section shall not be construed to apply to attesting witnesses to wills. (Rev., ss. 1628, 1629; Code, ss. 589, 1350; C. C. P., c. 342; 1866, c. 43, ss. 1, 4; 1869-70, c. 177; 1871-2, c. 4; C. S. 1792.)

§ 8-50. Parties competent as witnesses.—On the trial of any issue, or of any matter or question, or on any inquiry arising in any action, suit or other proceeding in court, or before any judge, justice, jury or other person having, by law, authority to hear and examine evidence, the parties themselves and the person in whose behalf any suit or other proceeding may be brought or defended, shall, except as otherwise provided, be competent and compellable to give evidence, either viva voce or by deposition, according to the practice of the court, in behalf of either or any of the parties to said action, suit or other proceeding. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any action or other proceeding in any court instituted in consequence of adultery, or to any action for criminal conversation. (Rev., s. 1630; Code, s. 1351; 1866, c. 43, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 1793.)

§ 8-51. A party to a transaction excluded, when the other party is dead.—Upon the trial of an action, or the hearing upon the merits of a special proceeding, a party or a person interested in the event, or a person from, through or under whom such a party or interested person derives his interest or title by assignment or otherwise, shall not be examined as a witness in his own behalf or interest, or in behalf of the party succeeding to his title or interest, against the executor, administrator or survivor of a deceased person, or the committee of a lunatic, or a person deriving his title or interest from, through or under a deceased person or lunatic, by assignment or otherwise, concerning a personal transaction or communication between the witness and the deceased person or lunatic; except where the executor, administrator, survivor, committee or person so deriving title or interest is examined in his own behalf, or the testimony of the lunatic or deceased person is given in evidence concerning the same transaction or communication. (Rev., s. 1631; Code, s. 590; C. C. P., s. 343; C. S. 1795.)

§ 8-52. Communications between attorney and client.—In cases where fraud upon the state is charged it shall not be a sufficient cause to excuse any one from imparting any evidence or information legally required of him, because he came into the possession of such evidence or information by his position as counsel or attorney before the consummation of such fraud, and any person refusing for such cause to answer any question when legally required so to do shall be guilty of contempt, and punished at the discretion of the court or other body demanding such information: Provided, that it shall not be competent to introduce any admissions thus made on the trial of any persons making the same. (Rev., s. 1620; Code, s. 1349; 1874-5, c. 213; C. S. 1797.)

§ 8-53. Communications between physician and patient.—No person, duly authorized to practice physic or surgery, shall be required to disclose any information which he may have acquired in attending a patient in a professional character, and which information was necessary to enable him to prescribe for such patient as a physician, or to do any act for him as a surgeon: Provided, that the presiding judge of a superior court may compel such disclosure, if in his opinion the same is necessary to a proper administration of justice. (Rev., s. 1621; 1885, c. 159; C. S. 1798.)

§ 8-54. Defendant in criminal action competent but not compellable to testify.—In the trial of all indictments, complaints, or other proceedings against persons charged with the commission of crimes, offenses or misdemeanors, the person so charged is, at his own request, but not otherwise, a competent witness, and his failure to make such request shall not create any presumption against him. But every such person examined as a witness shall be subject to cross examination as other witnesses. Except as above provided, nothing in this section shall render any person, who in any criminal proceeding is charged with the commission of a criminal offense, competent or compellable to give evidence against himself, nor render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself. (Rev., ss. 1634, 1635; Code, ss. 1353, 1354; 1881, c. 89, s. 3; 1881, c. 110, ss. 2, 3; 1856-7, c. 23; 1866, c. 43, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 209, s. 4; C. S. 1799.)

§ 8-55. Testimony enforced in certain criminal investigations; immunity.—If any justice of the peace, magistrate of police, mayor of a town, or judge of the supreme or superior courts shall have good reason to believe that any person within his jurisdiction has knowledge of the existence and establishment of any faro-bank, faro-table or other gaming table prohibited by law, or of any place where intoxicating liquors are sold contrary to law, in any town or county within his jurisdiction, such person not being minded to make voluntary information thereof on oath, then it shall be lawful for such justice of the peace, magistrate, mayor, or judge to issue to the sheriff of the county or to any constable of the town or township in which such faro-bank, faro-table, gaming table, or place where intoxicating liquors are sold contrary to law is supposed to be, a subpœna, capias ad testificandum, or other summons in writing, commanding such person to appear immediately before such justice of the peace, magistrate, mayor or judge and give evidence on oath as to what he may know touching the existence, establishment and whereabouts of such faro-bank, faro-table or other gaming table, or place where intoxicating liquors are sold contrary to law, and the name and personal description of the keeper thereof. Such evidence, when obtained, shall be considered and held in law as an information on oath, and the justice, magistrate, mayor or judge may thereupon proceed to seize and arrest such keeper and destroy such table, or issue process therefor as provided by law. No person shall be excused, on any prosecution, from testifying touching any unlawful gaming done by himself or others; but no discovery made by the witness upon such examination shall be used against him in any penal or criminal prosecution, and he shall be altogether pardoned of the offenses so done or participated in by him. (Rev., ss. 3721, 1637; Code, ss. 1215, 1050; R. C., c. 35, s. 50; 1858-9, c. 34, s. 1; 1889, c. 355; 1913, c. 141; C. S. 1800.)

§ 8-56. Husband and wife as witnesses in civil actions.—In any trial or inquiry in any suit, action or proceeding in any court, or before any person having, by law or consent of parties, authority to examine witnesses or hear evidence, the husband or wife of any party thereto, or of any person in whose behalf any such suit, action or proceeding is brought, prosecuted, opposed or defended, shall, except as herein stated, be competent and compellable to give evidence, as any other witness on behalf of any party to such suit, action or proceeding. Nothing herein shall render any husband or wife competent or compellable to give evidence for or against the other in any action or proceeding in consequence of adultery, or in any action or proceeding for divorce on account of adultery (except to prove the fact of marriage); or in any action or proceeding for or on account of criminal conversation, except that in actions of criminal conversation brought by the husband in which the character of the wife is assailed she shall be a competent witness to testify in refutation of such charges. No husband or wife shall be compellable to disclose any confidential communication made by one to the other during their marriage. (Rev., s. 1636; Code, s. 588; C. C. P., s. 341; 1866, c. 43, ss. 3, 4; 1919, c. 18; C. S. 1801.)

§ 8-57. Husband and wife as witnesses in criminal actions.—The husband or wife of the defendant, in all criminal actions or proceedings, shall be a competent witness for the defendant, but the failure of such witness to be examined shall not be used to the prejudice of the defense. Every such person examined as a witness shall be subject to be cross-examined as are other witnesses. No husband or wife shall be compellable to disclose any confidential communication made by one to the other during their marriage. Nothing herein shall render any husband or wife competent or compellable to give evidence against each other in any criminal action or proceeding, except to prove the fact of marriage in case of bigamy, and except that in all criminal prosecutions of a husband for an assault and battery upon his wife, or for abandoning his wife, and/or his children, or for neglecting to provide for her support, and/or the support of his children, it shall be lawful to examine the wife in behalf of the state against the husband. (Rev., ss. 1634, 1635, 1636; Code, ss. 588, 1353, 1354; 1856-7, c. 23; 1866, c. 43; 1868-9, c. 209; 1881, c. 110; 1933, c. 13, s. 1; 1933, c. 361; C. S. 1802.)

§ 8-58. Wife may testify in applications for peace warrants.—The wife shall be competent to make affidavit and testify in applications for peace warrants against the husband. (1933, c. 13, s. 2.)

Art. 8. Attendance of Witness.

§ 8-59. Issue and service of subpoena.—In obtaining the testimony of witnesses in causes depending in the superior, criminal and inferior courts, the following rules shall be observed in practice, to wit:

In suits where witnesses are to appear at any court, the clerk at the instance of a party shall issue a subpoena, directed to the sheriff or other officer of the county where such witnesses reside, naming the time and place for their appearance, the names of the parties to the suit wherein the testimony is to be given, and the party at whose instance they are summoned. Every subpoena made returnable immediately shall be issued only in term time, and shall be personally served on the witness therein named. A copy of every subpoena issued by the clerk in vacation, in case any witness therein named is not to be found, may be left at his usual place of residence; and such copy certified by the sheriff or other officer, and left as aforesaid, shall be deemed a legal summons, and the person therein named shall be bound to appear in the same manner as if personally summoned. (Rev., s. 1639; Code, s. 1355; R. C., c. 31, s. 59; 1777, c. 115, s. 36; C. S. 1803.)

§ 8-60. Attendance before referee or commissioners.—In all cases not otherwise provided for, when witnesses are required to attend any court, commission, referee, order of survey, or jury of view, a summons shall be issued by the clerk of the court, at the request of either party, naming the day and place when and where they are to appear, the names of the parties to the suit, and in whose behalf summoned. (Rev., s. 1640; Code, s. 1366; R. C., c. 31, s. 68; 1805, c. 685, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1804.)

§ 8-61. Subpœna duces tecum issued.—In all causes depending in any court, in which the production of an original paper, lodged in any of the public offices of the state, or in any office of any court, shall become necessary, the court may issue the process of subpœna duces tecum, requiring such persons who hold said offices to attend the court with such original paper, in like manner and under the same penalties as witnesses are required in cases of subpœna to testify. (Rev., s. 1641; Code, s. 1372; R. C., c. 31, s. 81; 1797, c. 476; C. S. 1805.)

§ 8-62. Subpœnas and depositions upon removal of cause.—When any cause shall be removed from the superior court of one county to that of another, after the order of removal, depositions may be taken in the cause, and subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses and commissions to take depositions may issue from either of the said courts, under the same rules as if the cause had been originally commenced in the court from which the subpoenas or commissions issued. (Rev., s. 1642; Code, s. 1371; R. C., c. 31, s. 72; 1810, c. 787; 1832, c. 8; C. S. 1806.)

§ 8-63. Witnesses attend until discharged; effect of nonattendance.—Every witness, being summoned to appear in any of the said courts, in manner before directed, shall appear accordingly, and continue to attend from term to term until discharged, when summoned in a civil action or special proceeding, by the court or the party at whose instance such witness shall be summoned, or, when summoned in a criminal prosecution, until discharged by the court, the prosecuting officer, or the party at whose instance he was summoned; and in default thereof shall forfeit and pay, in civil actions or special proceedings, to the party at whose instance the subpoena issued, the sum of forty dollars, to be recovered by motion in the cause, and shall be further liable to his action for the full damages which may be sustained for the want of such witness's testimony; or if summoned in a criminal prosecution shall forfeit and pay eighty dollars for the use of the state, or the party summoning him. If the civil action or special proceeding shall, in the vacation, be compromised and settled between the parties, and the party at whose instance such witness was summoned should omit to discharge him from further attendance, and for want of such discharge he shall attend the next term, in that case the witness, upon oath made of the facts, shall be entitled to a ticket from the clerk in the same manner as other witnesses, and shall recover from the party at whose instance he was summoned the allowance which is given to witnesses for their attendance, with costs.

No execution shall issue against any defaulting witness for the forfeiture aforesaid but after notice made known to him to show cause against the issuing thereof; and if sufficient cause be shown of his incapacity to attend, execution shall not issue, and the witness shall be discharged of the forfeiture without costs; but otherwise the court shall, on motion, award execution for the forfeiture against the defaulting witness. (Rev., s. 1643; Code, s. 1356; R. C., c. 31, ss. 60, 61, 62; 1777, c. 115, ss. 37, 38, 43; 1799, c. 528; 1801, c. 591; C. S. 1807.)

§ 8-64. Witnesses exempt from civil arrest.—Every witness shall be exempt from arrest in civil actions or special proceedings during his attendance at any court, or before a commissioner, arbitrator, referee or other person authorized to command the attendance of such witness, and during the time such witness is going to and returning from the place of such attendance, allowing one day for every thirty miles such witness has to travel to and from his place of residence. (Rev., s. 1644; Code, s. 1367; R. C., c. 31, s. 70; 1777, c. 115, s. 44; C. S. 1808.)

Art. 9. Attendance of Witnesses from without State.

§ 8-65. Definitions.—"Witness" as used in this article shall include a person whose testimony is desired in any proceeding or investigation by a grand jury or in a criminal action, prosecution or proceeding.

The word "state" shall include any territory of the United States and District of Columbia.

The word "summons" shall include a subpœna, order or other notice requiring the appearance of a witness. (1937, c. 217, s. 1.)

§ 8-66. Summoning witness in this state to testify in another state.—If a judge of a court of record in any state which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within that state to attend and testify in this state certifies, under the seal of such court, that there is a criminal prosecution pending in such court, or that a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence, that a person being within this state is a material witness in such prosecution, or grand jury investigation, and that his presence will be required for a specified number of days, upon presentation of such certificate to any judge of a court of record in the county in which such person is, such judge shall fix a time and place for a hearing, and shall make an order directing the witness to appear at a time and place certain for the hearing.

If at a hearing the judge determines that the witness is material and necessary, that it will not cause undue hardship to the witness to be compelled to attend and testify in the prosecution or a grand jury investigation in the other state, and that the laws of the state in which the prosecution is pending, or grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence, and of any other state through which the witness may be required to pass by ordinary course of travel, will give to him protection from arrest and the service of civil and criminal process, he shall issue a summons, with a copy of the certificate attached, directing the witness to attend and testify in the court where the prosecution is pending, or where a grand jury investigation has commenced or is about to commence, at a time and place specified in the summons. In any such hearing the certificate shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

If said certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state to assure his attendance in the requesting state, such judge may, in lieu of notification of the hearing, direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him for said hearing; and the judge at the hearing, being satisfied of the desirability of such custody and delivery, for which determination the certificate shall be prima facie proof of such desirability may, in lieu of issuing subpœna or summons, order that said witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of the requesting state.

If the witness, who is summoned as above provided, after being paid or tendered by some properly authorized person the sum of ten cents a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending and five dollars for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness, fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this state. (1937, c. 217, s. 2.)

§ 8-67. Witness from another state summoned to testify in this state.—If a person in any state which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions, or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence in this state, is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this state, or in a grand jury investigation which has commenced or is about to commence, a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court, stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. Said certificate may include a recommendation that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this state to assure his attendance in this state. This certificate shall be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found.

If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this state he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents a mile for each mile by the ordinary traveled route to and from the court where the prosecution is pending, and five dollars for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness. A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this state a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate unless otherwise ordered by the court. If such witness, after coming into this state, fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this state. (1937, c. 217, s. 3.)

§ 8-68. Exemption from arrest and service of process.— If a person comes into this state in obedience to a summons directing him to attend and testify in this state he shall not, while in this state pursuant to such summons, be subject to arrest or the service of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this state under the summons.

If a person passes through this state while going to another state in obedience to a summons to attend and testify in that state, or while returning therefrom, he shall not while so passing through this state be subject to arrest or the services of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before his entrance into this state under the summons. (1937, c. 217, s. 4.)

§ 8-69. Uniformity of interpretation.—This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of the states which enact it. (1937, c. 217, s. 5.)

§ 8-70. Title of article.—This article may be cited as "Uniform Act to Secure the Attendance of Witnesses from without a State in Criminal Proceedings." (1937, c. 217, s. 6.)

Art. 10. Depositions.

§ 8-71. Manner of taking depositions in civil actions.—Any party in a civil action or special proceeding, upon giving notice to the adverse party or his attorney as provided by law, may take the depositions of persons whose evidence he may desire to use, without any special order therefor, unless the witness shall be beyond the limits of the United States.

Depositions shall be taken on commission, issuing from the court and under the seal thereof, by one or more commissioners, who shall be of kin to neither party, and shall be appointed by the clerk; or depositions may be taken by a notary public of this state or of any other state or foreign country, without a commission issuing from the court.

Depositions shall be subscribed and sealed up by the commissioners or notary public, and returned to the court, the clerk whereof or the judge holding the court, if the clerk is a party to the action, shall open and pass upon the same, after having first given the parties or their attorneys not less than one day's notice; and all such depositions, when passed upon and allowed by the clerk, without appeal, or by the judge upon appeal from the clerk's order, or by the judge holding the court, when the clerk is a party to the action, shall be deemed legal evidence, if the witness be competent. (Rev., s. 1652; Code, s. 1357; 1911, c. 158; R. C., c. 31, s: 63; 1881, c. 279; 1893, c. 360; C. S. 1809.)

§ 8-72. Notice required for taking depositions.—In taking depositions in civil actions or special proceedings, written notice of the time and place of taking a deposition, specifying the name of the witness, must be served by the party at whose instance it is taken upon the adverse party or his attorney. The time for serving such notice shall be as follows: Three entire days when the party notified resides within ten miles of the place where the deposition is to be taken; in other cases, where the party notified resides in the state, one day more for every additional twenty miles, except where the deposition is to be taken within ten miles of a railway in running operation in the state, when one day only shall be given for every hundred miles of railway to the place where the deposition is to be taken. When a deposition is to be taken beyond the state, ten days notice of the taking thereof shall be given, when the person whose deposition is to be taken resides within ten miles of a railway connecting with a line of railway within twenty miles of the place where the person notified resides. In other cases, where there are no railways running as above specified, twenty days notice shall be given. When objection is taken to the reading of any such deposition, upon the ground that there are no railways or connecting railways to and from the points specified in this section, or that the notice given had otherwise been actually insufficient, it shall devolve upon the party objecting to satisfy the court of the truth of his allegation. (Rev., s. 1652; Code, s. 1357; 1881, c. 279; C. S. 1810.)

§ 8-73. Publication of notice in case of nonresident.—Instead of the notice served upon the adverse party or his attorney in taking depositions in civil actions or special proceedings, when the adverse party is a nonresident and has no attorney of record, it shall be sufficient to publish notice to the adverse party in some newspaper published in the county where the action is pending, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then in some newspaper in the judicial district, for three consecutive weeks, giving the time and place of taking the deposition and specifying the name of the witness. And when the adverse party is a nonresident and service of notice cannot be had upon him or his attorney in this state, then one publication of notice to open such deposition shall be sufficient notice. (1913, c. 137; C. S. 1811.)

§ 8-74. Depositions for defendant in criminal actions.—In all criminal actions, hearings and investigations it shall be lawful for the defendant in any such action to make affidavit before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said action is pending, that it is important for the defense that he have the testimony of any person, whose name must be given, and that such person is so infirm, or otherwise physically incapacitated, or nonresident of this state, that he cannot procure his attendance at the trial or hearing of said cause. Upon the filing of such affidavit, it shall be the duty of the clerk to appoint some responsible person to take the deposition of such witness, which deposition may be read in the trial of such criminal action under the same rules as now apply by law to depositions in civil actions: Provided, that the solicitor or prosecuting attorney of the district, county or town in which such action is pending have ten days notice of the taking of such deposition, who may appear in person or by representative to conduct the cross-examination of such witness. This section shall not apply to the taking of depositions in courts of justices of the peace. (Rev., s. 1652; Code, s. 1357; 1891, c. 522; 1893, c. 80; 1915, c. 251; C. S. 1812.)

§ 8-75. Depositions in justices' courts.—Any party in a civil action before a justice of the peace may take the depositions of all persons whose evidence he may desire to use in the action; and to do so he may apply to the clerk of the superior court for a commission to take the same, and shall proceed in all things in taking such depositions as if such action was pending in the superior court. When any such depositions are returned to the clerk, they shall be opened and passed upon by the clerk, and delivered to the justice of the peace before whom the trial is to be had; and the reading and using of said depositions shall conform to the rules of the superior court. (Rev., s. 1646; Code, s. 1359; 1872-3, c. 33; C. S. 1813.)

§ 8-76. Depositions before municipal authorities.—Any board of aldermen, board of town or county commissioners or any person interested in any proceeding, investigation, hearing or trial before such board, may take the depositions of all persons whose evidence may be desired for use in said proceeding, investigation, hearing or trial; and to do so, the chairman of such board or such person may apply in person or by attorney to the superior court clerk of that county in which such proceeding, investigation, hearing or trial is pending, for a commission to take the same, and said clerk, upon such application, shall issue such commission; and the notice and proceedings upon the taking of said depositions shall be the same as provided for in civil actions; and if the person upon whom the notice of the taking of such deposition is to be served is absent from or cannot after due diligence be found within this state, but can be found within the county in which the deposition is to be taken, then, and in that case, said notice shall be personally served on such person by the commissioner appointed to take such deposition; and when any such deposition is returned to the clerk it shall be opened and passed upon by him and delivered to such board, and the reading and using of such deposition shall conform to the rules of the superior court. (Rev., s. 1653; 1889, c. 151; C. S. 1814.)

§ 8-77. Depositions in quo warranto proceedings.—In all actions for the purpose of trying the title to the office of clerk of the superior court, register of deeds, county treasurer or sheriff of any county, it shall be competent and lawful to take the deposition of witnesses before a commissioner or commissioners to be appointed by the judge of the district wherein the case is to be tried, or the judge holding the court of said district, or the clerk of the court wherein the case is pending, under the same rules as to time of notice and as to the manner of taking and filing the same as is now provided by law for the taking of depositions in other cases; and such depositions, when so taken, shall be competent to be read on the trial of such action, without regard to the place of residence of such witness or distance of residence from said place of trial: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the oral examination, by either party on the trial, of such witnesses as they may summon in their behalf. (Rev., s. 1654; 1889, c. 428; C. S. 1815.)

§ 8-78. Commissioner may subpoena witness and punish for contempt. — Commissioners to take depositions appointed by the courts of this state, or by the courts of the states or territories of the United States, arbitrators, referees, and all persons acting under a commission issuing from any court of record in this state, are hereby empowered, they or the clerks of the courts respectively in this state, to which such commission shall be returnable, to issue subpœnas, specifying the time and place for the attendance of witnesses before them, and to administer oaths to said witnesses, to the end that they may give their testimony. And any witness appearing before any of the said persons and refusing to give his testimony on oath touching such matters as he may be lawfully examined unto shall be committed, by warrant of the person before whom he shall so refuse, to the common jail of the county, there to remain until he may be willing to give his evidence; which warrant of commitment shall recite what authority the person has to take the testimony of such witness, and the refusal of the witness to give it. (Rev., s. 1649; Code, s. 1362; R. C., c. 31, s. 64; 1777, c. 115, s. 42; 1805, c. 685, ss. 1, 2; 1848, c. 66; 1850, c. 188; C. S. 1816.)

§ 8-79. Attendance before commissioner enforced.—The sheriff of the county where the witness may be shall execute all such subpœnas, and make due return thereof before the commissioner, or other person, before whom the witness is to appear, in the same manner, and under the same penalties, as in case of process of a like kind returnable to court; and when the witness shall be subpœnaed five days before the time of his required attendance, and shall fail to appear according to the subpœna and give evidence, the default shall be noted by the commissioner, arbitrator, or other person aforesaid; and in case the default be made before a commissioner acting under authority from courts without the state, the defaulting witness shall forfeit and pay to the party at whose instance he may be subpœnaed fifty dollars, and on the trial for such penalty the subpœna issued by the commissioner, or other person, as aforesaid, with the indorsement thereon of due service by the officer serving the same, together with the default noted as aforesaid and indorsed on the subpœna, shall be prima facie evidence of the forfeiture, and sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to judgment for the same, unless the witness may show his incapacity to have attended. (Rev., s. 1650; Code, s. 1363; R. C., c. 31, s. 65; 1848, c. 66, s. 2; 1850, c. 188, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1817.)

§ 8-80. Remedies against defaulting witness before commissioner.—But in case the default be made before a commissioner, arbitrator, referee or other person, acting under a commission or authority from any of the courts of this state, then the same shall be certified under his hand, and returned with the subpœna to the court by which he was commissioned or empowered to take the evidence of such witness; and thereupon the court shall adjudge the defaulting witness to pay to the party at whose instance he was summoned the sum of forty dollars; but execution shall not issue therefor until the same be ordered by the court, after such proceedings had as shall give said witness an opportunity to show cause, if he can, against the issuing thereof. (Rev., s. 1651; Code, s. 1364; R. C., c. 31, s. 66; 1850, c. 188, s. 2; C. S. 1818.)

§ 8-81. Objection to deposition before trial.—At any time before the trial, or hearing of an action or proceeding, any party may make a motion to the judge or court to reject a deposition for irregularity in the taking of it, either in whole or in part, for scandal, impertinence, the incompetency of the testimony, for insufficient notice, or for any other good cause. The objecting party shall state his exceptions in writing. (Rev., s. 1648; Code, s. 1361; 1895, c. 312; 1903, c. 132; 1869-70, c. 227, ss. 13, 17; C. S. 1819.)

§ 8-82. Deposition not quashed after trial begun.—No deposition shall be quashed, or rejected, on objection first made after a trial has begun, merely because of an irregularity in taking the same, provided it shall appear that the party objecting had notice that it had been taken, and it was on file long enough before the trial to enable him to present his objection. (Rev., s. 1647; Code, s. 1360; 1869-70, c. 227, s. 12; C. S. 1820.)

§ 8-83. When deposition may be read on the trial.—Every deposition taken and returned in the manner provided by law may be read on the trial of the action or proceeding, or before any referee, in the following cases, and not otherwise:

1. If the witness is dead, or has become insane since the deposition was taken.

2. If the witness is a resident of a foreign country, or of another state, and is not present at the trial.

3. If the witness is confined in a prison outside the county in which the trial takes place.

4. If the witness is so old, sick or infirm as to be unable to attend court.

5. If the witness is the president of the United States, or the head of any department of the federal government, or a judge, district attorney, or clerk of any court of the United States, and the trial shall take place during the term of such court.

6. If the witness is the governor of the state, or the head of any department of the state government, or the president of the university, or the head of any other incorporated college in the state, or the superintendent or any physician in the employ of any of the hospitals for the insane for the state.

7. If the witness is a justice of the supreme court, or a judge, presiding officer, clerk or solicitor of any court of record, and the trial shall take place during the term of such court.

8. If the witness is a member of the congress of the United States, or a member of the general assembly, and the trial shall take place during a session of the body of which he is a member.

9. If the witness has been duly summoned, and at the time of the trial is out of the state, or is more than seventy-five miles by the usual public mode of travel from the place where the court is sitting, without the procurement or consent of the party offering his deposition.

10. If the action is pending in a justice's court the deposition may be read on the trial of the action, provided the witness is more than seventy-five miles by the usual public mode of travel from the place where the court is sitting. (Rev., s. 1645; Code, s. 1358; R. C., c. 31, s. 63; 1777, c. 115, ss. 39, 40, 41; 1803, c. 633; 1828, c. 24, ss. 1, 2; 1836, c. 30; 1869-70, c. 227, s. 11; 1881, c. 279, ss. 1, 3; 1905, c. 366; 1919, c. 324; C. S. 1821.)

§ 8-84. Depositions taken in the state to be used in another state:

1. By whom obtained. In addition to the other remedies prescribed by law, a party to an action, suit or special proceeding, civil or criminal, pending in a court without the state, either in the United States or any of the possessions thereof, or any foreign country, may obtain, by the proceedings prescribed by this section, the testimony of a witness and in connection therewith the production of books and papers within the state to be used in the action, suit or special proceeding.

2. Application filed. Where a commission to take testimony within the state has been issued from the court in which the action, suit or special proceeding is pending, or where a notice has been given, or any other proceeding has been taken for the purpose of taking the testimony within the state pursuant to the laws of the state or country wherein the court is located, or pursuant to the laws of the United States or any of the possessions thereof, if it is a court of the United States, the person desiring such testimony, or the production of papers and documents, may present a verified petition to any justice of the supreme court or judge of the superior court, stating generally the nature of the action or proceeding in which the testimony is sought to be taken, and that the testimony of the witness is material to the issue presented in such action or proceeding, and he shall set forth the substance of or have annexed to his petition a copy of the commission, order, notice, consent or other authority under which the deposition is taken. In case of an application for a subpœna to compel the production of books or papers, the petition shall specify the particular books or papers, the production of which is sought, and show that such books or papers are in the possession of or under the control of the witness and are material upon the issues presented in the action or special proceeding in which the deposition of the witness is sought to be taken.

3. Subpœna issued. Upon the filing of such petition, if the justice of the supreme court or judge of the superior court is satisfied that the application is made in good faith to obtain testimony within the provisions of this section, he shall issue a subpœna to the witness, commanding him to appear before the commissioner named in the commission, or before a commissioner within the state, for the state, territory or foreign country in which the notice was given or the proceeding taken, or before the officer designated in the commission, notice or other paper, by his title or office, at a time and place specified in the subpœna, to testify in the action, suit or special proceeding. Where the subpœna directs the production of books or papers, it shall specify the particular books or papers to be produced, and shall specify whether the witness is required to deliver sworn copies of such books or papers to the commissioner or to produce the original thereof for inspection, but such books and original papers shall not be taken from the witness. This subpœna must be served upon the witness at least two days, or, in case of a subpœna requiring the production of books or papers, at least five days before the day on which the witness is commanded to appear. A party to an action or proceeding in which a deposition is sought to be taken, or a witness subpœnaed to attend and give his testimony, may apply to the court issuing such subpœna to vacate or modify the same.

4. Witness compelled to attend and testify. If the witness shall fail to obey the subpœna, or refuse to have an oath administered, or to testify or to produce a book or paper pursuant to a subpœna, or to subscribe his deposition, the justice or judge issuing the subpœna shall, if it is determined that a contempt has been committed, prescribe punishment as in case of a recalcitrant witness. Upon proof by affidavit that a person to whom a subpœna was issued has failed or refused to obey such subpœna, to be duly sworn or affirmed, to testify or answer a question propounded to him, to produce a book or paper which he has been subpœnaed to produce, or to subscribe to his deposition when correctly taken down, the justice or judge shall grant an order requiring such person to show cause before him, at a time and place specified, why he should not appear, be sworn or affirmed, testify, answer a question propounded, produce a book or paper, or subscribe to the deposition, as the case may be. Such affidavit shall set forth the nature of the action or special proceeding in which the testimony is sought to be taken, and a copy of the pleadings or other papers defining the issues in such action or special proceeding, or the facts to be proved therein. Upon the return of such order to show cause, the justice or judge shall, upon such affidavit and upon the original petition and upon such other facts as shall appear, determine whether such person should be required to appear, be sworn or affirmed, testify, answer the question propounded, produce the books or papers, or subscribe to his deposition, as the case may be, and may prescribe such terms and conditions as shall seem proper. Upon proof of a failure or refusal on the part of any person to comply with any order of the court made upon such determination, the justice or judge shall make an order requiring such person to show cause before him, at a time and place therein specified, why such person should not be punished for the offense as for a contempt. Upon the return of the order to show cause, the questions which arise must be determined as upon a motion. If such failure or refusal is established to the satisfaction of the justice or judge before whom the order to show cause is made returnable, he shall enforce the order and prescribe the punishment as hereinbefore provided.

5. Deposit for costs required. The commissioner herein provided for shall not proceed to act under and by virtue of his appointment until the party seeking to obtain such deposition has deposited with him a sufficient sum of money to cover all costs and charges incident to the taking of the deposition, including such witness fees as are allowed to witnesses in this state for attendance upon the superior courts. From such deposit the commissioner shall retain whatever amount may be due him for services, pay the witness fees and other costs that may have been incurred by reason of taking such deposition, and if any balance remains in his hands, he shall pay the same to the party by whom it was advanced. (Rev., s. 1655; 1903, c. 608; C. S. 1822.)

Art. 11. Perpetuation of Testimony.

§ 8-85. Relief afforded by superior courts.—The relief afforded in courts of equity by what is known as a "bill to perpetuate testimony" shall be afforded by the superior courts of this State. (1935, c. 254, s. 1.)

§ 8-86. How to obtain relief.—Such relief may be obtained either by a special proceeding before the clerk of the superior court, or by a civil action brought to the superior court in term. (1935, c. 254, s. 2.)

§ 8-87. Rules of procedure; admissibility of testimony taken.—Such special proceedings and civil actions shall be governed by the same rules of procedure that govern other special proceedings and civil actions; and the testimony taken therein shall be admissible in the trial of any controversy, under the same regulations and restrictions which govern depositions taken in other cases in which the taking of depositions is provided for by the laws of this State: Provided, however, the evidence so perpetuated shall not be competent against any person who was not served with notice now provided by law for the taking of depositions in civil causes to be present and cross examine said witnesses. (1935, c. 254, s. 3.)

§ 8-88. Taxing costs.—The costs of such special proceedings and civil actions shall be taxed against the party at whose instance the proceeding is instituted. (1935, c. 254, s. 4.)

Art. 12. Inspection and Production of Writings.

§ 8-89. Inspection of writings.—The court before which an action is pending, or a judge thereof, may, in its or his discretion, and upon due notice, order either party to give to the other, within a specified time, an inspection and copy, or permission to take a copy, of any books, papers, and documents in his possession or under his control, containing evidence relating to the merits of the action or the defense therein. If compliance with the order be refused, the court, on motion, may exclude the paper from being given in evidence, or punish the party refusing, or both. (Rev., s. 1656; Code, s. 578; R. C., c. 31, s. 82; R. S., c. 31, s. 86; 1821, c. 1095; C. C. P., s. 331; 1828, c. 7; C. S. 1823.)

§ 8-90. Production of writings.—The courts have full power, on motion and due notice thereof given, to require the parties to produce books or writings in their possession or control which contain evidence pertinent to the issue, and if a plaintiff shall fail to comply with such order, and shall not satisfactorily account for his failure, the court, on motion, may give the like judgment for the defendant, as in cases of nonsuit; and if a defendant shall fail to comply with such order, and shall not satisfactorily account for his failure, the court, on motion as aforesaid, may give judgment against him by default. (Rev., s. 1657; Code, s. 1373; R. C., c. 31, s. 25; 1821, c. 1095; 1828, c. 7; C. S. 1824.)

§ 8-91. Admission of genuineness.—Either party may exhibit to the other, or to his attorney, at any time before the trial, any paper material to the action, and request an admission in writing of its genuineness. If the adverse party, or his attorney, fail to give the admission within four days after the request, and if the party exhibiting the paper be afterwards put to expense in order to prove its genuineness, and the same be finally proved or admitted on the trial, such expense, to be ascertained at the trial, shall be paid by the party refusing the admission, unless it appear to the satisfaction of the court that there were good reasons for the refusal. (Rev., s. 1658; Code, s. 578; R. C., c. 31, s. 82; R. S., c. 31, s. 86; 1821, c. 1095; 1828, c. 7; C. C. P., s. 331; C. S. 1825.)

§ 9-1. Jury list from taxpayers of good character.—The board of county commissioners for the several counties at their regular meeting on the first Monday in June, in the year nineteen hundred and five, and every two years thereafter, shall cause their clerks to lay before them the tax returns of the preceding year for their county, from which they shall proceed to select the names of all such persons as have paid all the taxes assessed against them for the preceding year and are of good moral character and of sufficient intelligence. A list of the names thus selected shall be made out by the clerk of the board of commissioners and shall constitute the jury list, and shall be preserved as such. (Rev., s. 1957; Code, ss. 1722, 1723; 1806, c. 694; 1889, c. 559; 1899, c. 729; 1897, cc. 117, 539; 1899, c. 729; 1937, cc. 19, 200; 1941, c. 92; C. S. 2312.)

Local Modification.—Macon: 1933, c. 62; Yancey: 1929, cc. 57, 65.

§ 9-2. Names on list put in box.—The commissioners at their regular meeting on the first Monday in July in the year nineteen hundred and five, and every two years thereafter, shall cause the names on their jury list to be copied on small scrolls of paper of equal size and put into a box procured for that purpose, which must have two divisions marked No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, and two locks, the key of one to be kept by the sheriff of the county, the other by the chairman of the board of commissioners, and the box by the clerk of the board. (Rev., s. 1958; Code, s. 1726; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 5; 1937, c. 19; 1941, c. 92; C. S. 2313.)

§ 9-3. Manner of drawing panel for term from box.—At least twenty days before each regular or special term of the superior court, the board of commissioners of the county shall cause to be drawn from the jury box out of the partition marked No. 1, by a child not more than ten years of age, thirty-six scrolls except when the term of court is for the trial of civil cases exclusively, when they need not draw more than twenty-four scrolls. The persons whose names are inscribed on said scrolls shall serve as jurors at the term of the superior court to be held for the county ensuing such drawing, and for which they are drawn. The scrolls so drawn to make the jury shall be put into the partition marked No. 2. The said commissioners shall at the same time and in the same manner draw the names of eighteen persons who shall be summoned to appear and serve during the second week, and a like number for each succeeding week of the term of said court, unless the judge thereof shall sooner discharge all jurors from further service. The said commissioners may, at the same time and in the same manner, draw the names of eighteen other persons, who shall serve as petit jurors for the week for which they are drawn and summoned. The trial jury which has served during each week shall be discharged by the judge at the close of said week, unless the said jury shall be then actually engaged in the trial of a case, and then they shall not be discharged until the trial is determined. (Rev., s. 1959; Code, ss. 1727, 1731; 1889, c. 559; 1897, c. 117; 1868-9, c. 175; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 6; 1806, c. 694; 1901, c. 636; 1901, c. 28, s. 3; 1903, c. 11; 1905, cc. 38, 76, s. 4; 1905, c. 285; 1933, c. 89; C. S. 2314.)

Local Modification.—Buncombe, Cabarrus, Catawba, Forsyth, Guilford, Haywood, Iredell, Wake: 1933, c. 89.

§ 9-4. Local modifications as to drawing panel.—In Buncombe county forty-eight jurors shall be drawn to serve the first week and twenty-four to serve the second week.

In Cabarrus county the board of county commissioners shall annually draw forty-two jurors for the first week of the January term of superior court of each year and twenty-four jurors for each and every other week of superior court during the year.

In Cumberland county the commissioners may, in their discretion, cause an additional twelve scrolls to be drawn, to serve as the jury for the first week.

In Forsyth county the board of county commissioners is authorized and empowered to draw as jurors from the box, as provided in the preceding section, an additional number of jurors to those now provided by law. At all civil terms, regular and special, for the first week thirty jurors shall be drawn and summoned, and likewise for the second week. At all criminal terms, regular and special, for the first week forty-two jurors shall be drawn and summoned.

For the second week thirty jurors shall be drawn and summoned.

In Hertford county fifteen extra jurors shall be drawn and summoned for the second week.

In Iredell county twenty-four jurors shall be drawn and summoned for the second week.

In McDowell county the board of county commissioners is authorized and empowered to draw as jurors from the box an additional number of jurors to those now provided by law. At each term when grand jury is to be selected, for the first week, forty-eight jurors shall be drawn and summoned, and for each subsequent week of such terms and at all other terms, both civil and criminal, or mixed, regular or special, for each week, thirty jurors shall be drawn and summoned.

In Randolph county forty-two scrolls shall be drawn for the first week and twenty-four for the second week. The commissioners may at the same time and in the same manner draw the names of twenty-four other persons who shall serve as petit jurors for the week for which they are drawn and summoned.

In Rockingham county the board of county commissioners is authorized and empowered to draw as jurors from the box, as provided in the preceding section, an additional number of jurors to those now provided by law. At all civil terms, regular and special, for the first week thirty jurors shall be drawn and summoned; for the second week twenty-four jurors shall be drawn and summoned. At all criminal terms, regular and special, for the first week forty-two jurors shall be drawn and summoned; for the second week twenty-four jurors shall be drawn and summoned.

In Rowan county twenty-four jurors shall be drawn and summoned for the second week.

In Stokes county the commissioners shall draw for each term of the superior court, in accordance with law, twenty-four jurors, to be summoned by the sheriff of Stokes county.

In Wayne, Robeson and Granville counties the board of commissioners for the first week of each term of the superior court of said counties for the trial of civil and criminal causes shall cause to be drawn from the jury box forty-two scrolls, and for each additional week or for any court for the trial of civil causes only, said board of commissioners shall draw twenty-four scrolls; provided, that in Wayne county the forty-two scrolls required by this section shall be drawn only at the January and July criminal terms of court; at all other times, thirty-six scrolls shall be drawn from the jury box for each week. (Rev., s. 1959; 1907, c. 239; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 4; Pub. Loc., 1915, cc. 233, 744, 764; 1921, c. 142; 1923, c. 107, s. 2; 1923, c. 117; 1937, c. 19, s. 4; 1939, c. 140; 1941, cc. 87, 92, 175; C. S. 2315.)

§ 9-5. Fees of jurors.—All jurors in the superior court other than special veniremen and tales jurors shall receive such an amount per day as the boards of commissioners of their respective counties may fix, not less than two dollars per day and not more than four dollars per day, and mileage at the rate of five cents per mile while coming to the county-seat and returning home. The said distance to be computed by the usual route of public travel. In the counties of Union, Nash, Brunswick, Randolph, Haywood, Polk, Surry, Swain, Alleghany, Anson, Graham, Ashe, Dare, Alexander, Cleveland, Clay, Transylvania, Harnett, Stanly, Mitchell, Burke, Franklin, Greene, Johnston, and Henderson, jurors other than special veniremen and tales jurors shall not receive more than three dollars per day.

Special veniremen and tales jurors shall receive such an amount per day for their attendance upon court as may be fixed by the boards of commissioners of their respective counties, not exceeding three dollars per day. Special veniremen who have been accepted on the panel in the trial of any cause shall receive the pay and mileage of regular jurors. (Rev., s. 2798; 1919, c. 85, ss. 1, 2; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 61, ss. 1, 3; 1921, c. 62, s. 1; C. S. 3892.)

Local Modification.—Harnett: 1933, c. 75.

§ 9-6. Jurors having suits pending.—If any of the jurors drawn have a suit pending and at issue in the superior court, the scrolls with their names must be returned into partition No. 1 of the jury box. (Rev., s. 1960; Code, s. 1728; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 7; 1806, c. 694; C. S. 2316.)

§ 9-7. Disqualified persons drawn.—If any of the persons drawn to serve as jurors are dead, removed out of the county, or otherwise disqualified to serve as jurors, the scrolls with the names of such persons must be destroyed, and in such cases other persons shall be drawn in their stead. (Rev., s. 1961; Code, s. 1729; 1889, c. 559; 1897, c. 117, s. 5; 1806, c. 694; C. S. 2317.)

§ 9-8. How drawing to continue.—The drawing out of partition marked No. 1 and putting the scrolls drawn into partition No. 2 shall continue until all the scrolls in partition No. 1 are drawn out, when all the scrolls shall be returned into partition No. 1 and drawn out again as herein directed. (Rev., s. 1962; Code, s. 1730; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 9; 1806, c. 6, s. 94; C. S. 2318.)

§ 9-9. Drawing when commissioners fail to draw.—If the commissioners for any cause fail to draw a jury for any term of the superior court, regular or special, the sheriff of the county and the clerk of the commissioners, in the presence of and assisted by two justices of the peace of the county, shall draw such jury in the manner above prescribed; and if a special term continues for more than two weeks, then for the weeks exceeding two a jury or juries may be drawn as in this section provided. (Rev., s. 1963; Code, s. 1732; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 11; C. S. 2319.)

Art. 2. Petit Jurors; Attendance, Regulation and Privileges.

§ 9-10. Summons to jurors drawn; to attend until discharged. — The clerk of the board of county commissioners shall, within five days from the drawing, deliver the list of jurors drawn for the superior court to the sheriff of the county, who shall summon the persons therein named to attend as jurors at such court. The summons shall be served, personally, or by leaving a copy thereof at the house of the juror, at least five days before the sitting of the court to which he may be summoned. Jurors shall appear and give their attendance until duly discharged. (Rev., s. 1976; Code, s. 1733; 1868-9, c. 9, s. 12; R. C., c. 31, s. 29; 1779, c. 157, ss. 4, 6; C. S. 2320.)

§ 9-11. Summons to talesmen; their disqualifications. — That there may not be a defect of jurors, the sheriff shall by order of the court summon, from day to day, of the bystanders, other jurors, being freeholders, within the county where the court is held, or the judge may, in his discretion, at the beginning of the term direct the tales jurors to be drawn from the jury box used in drawing the petit jury for the term, in the presence of the court; such tales jurors so drawn to be summoned by the sheriff and to serve on the petit jury, and on any day the court may discharge those who have served the preceding day. The judge may, upon his own motion, or upon the request of counsel for either plaintiff or defendant, instruct the sheriff to summon such jurors outside of the courthouse. It is a disqualification and ground of challenge to any tales juror that such juror has acted in the same court as grand, petit or tales juror within two years next preceding such term of court. (Rev., s. 1967; Code, s. 1733; R. C., c. 31, s. 29; 1779, c. 156, s. 69; 1911, c. 15; 1915, c. 210; C. S. 2321.)

§ 9-12. How talesmen summoned when sheriff interested.—When, in the trial of any action before a jury, the sheriff of the county in which the case is to be tried is a party to or has any interest in the action, or when the presiding judge finds upon investigation that the sheriff of the county is not a suitable person, on account of indirect interest in or relative to the cause of action, to be entrusted with the summoning of the tales jurors in any particular case pending, such judge shall appoint some suitable person to summon the jurors in place of the sheriff. (Rev., s. 1968; 1889, c. 441; C. S. 2322.)

§ 9-13. Penalty for disobeying summons.—Every person on the original venire summoned to appear as a juror who fails to give his attendance until duly discharged shall forfeit and pay for the use of the county the sum of twenty dollars, to be imposed by the court; but each delinquent juryman shall have until the next succeeding term to make his excuse for his nonattendance, and, if he renders an excuse deemed sufficient by the court, he shall be discharged without costs. Every person summoned of the bystanders who shall not appear and serve during the day as a juror shall be fined in the sum of two dollars, unless he can show sufficient cause to the court; and the clerk shall forthwith issue an execution against the estate of the delinquent tales juror for such amercement and costs. (Rev., s. 1977; Code, ss. 1734, 405; R. C., c. 31, s. 30; 1779, c. 157, s. 4; 1783, c. 189; 1806, c. 694; C. S. 2323.)

§ 9-14. Jury sworn; judge decides competency. —The clerk shall, at the beginning of the court, swear such of the petit jury as are of the original panel, to try all civil cases; and if there should not be enough of the original panel the talesmen shall be sworn. The petit jurors of the original panel, as well as talesmen, shall be sworn as prescribed in the chapter entitled Oaths. Nothing herein shall be construed to disallow the usual challenges in law to the whole jury so sworn or to any of them; and if by reason of such challenge, any juror is withdrawn, his place on the jury shall be supplied by any of the original venire, or from the bystanders qualified to serve as jurors. The judge or other presiding officer of the court shall decide all questions as to the competency of jurors in both civil and criminal actions. (Rev., s. 1966; Code, s. 405; R. C., c. 31, s. 34; 1790, c. 321; 1822, c. 1133, s. 1; C. S. 2324.)

§ 9-15. Questioning jurors without challenge.— The court, or any party to an action, civil or criminal, shall be allowed, in selecting the jury to make inquiry as to the fitness and competency of any person to serve as a juror, without having such inquiry treated as a challenge of such person, and it shall not be considered by the court that any person is challenged as a juror until the party shall formally state that such person is so challenged. (1913, c. 31, s. 6; C. S. 2325.)

§ 9-16. Causes of challenge to juror drawn from box.—It shall not be a valid cause of challenge that a juror called from those whose names are drawn from the box is not a freeholder or has served upon the jury within two years prior to the court at which the case is tried or has not paid the taxes assessed against him during the preceding two years. In other respects the cause of challenge shall be the same as now provided by law, and nothing herein shall modify any law authorizing jurors to be summoned from counties other than the county of trial. (1913, c. 31, ss. 5, 7; 1933, c. 130; C. S. 2326.)

§ 9-17. Jurors impaneled to try case furnished with accommodations.—When a jury, impaneled to try any cause, is put in charge of an officer of the court, the said officer shall furnish said jury with such accommodation as the court may order, and the same shall be paid for by the party cast or by the county, under the order and in the discretion of the judge of the court. (Rev., s. 1978; Code, s. 1736; 1876-7, c. 173; 1889, c. 44; C. S. 2327.)

§ 9-18. Exemption from civil arrest.—No sheriff or other officer shall arrest under civil process any juror during his attendance on or going to and returning from any court of record. All such service shall be void, and the defendant on motion shall be discharged. (Rev., s. 1979; Code, s. 1735; R. C., c. 31, s. 31; 1779, c. 157, s. 10; C. S. 2328.)

§ 9-19. Exemptions from jury duty.—All practicing physicians, licensed druggists, telegraph operators who are in the regular employ of any telegraph company or railroad company, train dispatchers who have the actual handling of either freight or passenger trains, regularly licensed pilots, regular ministers of the gospel, officers or employees of a state hospital for the insane, active members of a fire company, funeral directors and embalmers, printers and linotype operators, all millers of grist mills, all United States railway postal clerks and rural free delivery mail carriers, locomotive engineers, brakemen and railroad conductors in active service, and all members of the national guard, naval militia, officers reserve corps, enlisted reserve corps, and the naval reserves, who comply with and perform all duties required of them as members of the national guard, naval militia, officers reserve corps, enlisted reserve corps, and the naval reserves, shall be exempt from service as jurors. On the first day of January and July of each year, the commanding officer of each company, troop, battery, detachment, or division of the national guard, naval militia, officers reserve corps, enlisted reserve corps, and the naval reserves, of North Carolina, shall file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such company, troop, battery, detachment, or division is located a statement giving the name and rank of each member of his organization who has performed all military duties during the preceding six months; and any member of such military organization whose name does not appear upon such statement shall not receive the benefit of the exemption provided for herein during the six months immediately following the filing of the statement.

The board of county commissioners of any county in North Carolina may, in their discretion, exempt any ex-confederate soldier in their county from jury duty who shall apply to them for exemption.

The clerk of the superior court of each county is hereby empowered to excuse from jury duty any person or persons exempt under the first sentence of this section prior to the convening of the term of court for which such person or persons are required to serve as jurors. (Rev., s. 1980; Code, ss. 1723, 2269; 1885, c. 289; 1889, c. 255; 1897, c. 32; 1901, c. 118; 1909, cc. 333, 868; 1913, c. 38, s. 1; 1913, c. 103; 1915, cc. 217, 228, 260; 1917, c. 200, s. 89; 1931, c. 410; 1937, c. 151; 1937, c. 224, s. 2; C. S. 2329, 6870.)

§ 9-20. Clerk to keep record of jurors.—The clerk of the superior court shall record alphabetically in a book kept for the purpose the names of all grand and petit jurors and talesmen who serve in his court, with the term at which they serve. (Rev., s. 1981; 1893, c. 52, s. 3; C. S. 2330.)

§ 9-21. Extra or alternate juror; challenges; compensation and duties. — In the trial in the Superior Court of any case, civil or criminal, when it appears to the judge presiding that the trial is likely to be protracted, upon direction of the judge after the jury has been duly impaneled and sworn, an additional or alternate juror shall be selected in the same manner as the regular jurors in said case were selected, but each party shall be entitled to two peremptory challenges as to such alternate juror; such additional or alternate juror shall likewise be sworn and seated near the jury, with equal opportunity for seeing and hearing the proceedings and shall attend at all times upon the trial with the jury and shall obey all orders and admonitions of the court to the jury and, when the jurors are ordered kept together in any case, said alternate juror shall be kept with them. Such additional or alternate juror shall be liable as a regular juror for failure to attend the trial or to obey any order or admonition of the court to the jury, shall receive the same compensation as other jurors, and except as hereinafter provided shall be discharged upon the final submission of the case to the jury. If before the final submission of the case to the jury a juror becomes incapacitated or disqualified, or by reason of illness or death in his family, or other sufficient reason in the opinion of the court, he may be discharged by the judge, in which case, or if a juror dies, upon the order of the judge said additional or alternate juror shall become one of the jury and serve in all respects as though selected as an original juror. (1931, c. 103; 1939, c. 35.)

Art. 3. Peremptory Challenges in Civil Cases.

§ 9-22. Six peremptory challenges on each side.—The clerk, before a jury is impaneled to try the issues in any civil suit, shall read over the names of the jury upon the panel in the presence and hearing of the parties or their counsel; and the parties, or their counsel for them, may challenge peremptorily six jurors upon the said panel, without showing any cause therefor, which shall be allowed by the court. (Rev., s. 1964; Code, s. 406; R. C., c. 31, s. 35; 1796, c. 452, s. 2; 1812, c. 833; 1935, c. 475, s. 1; C. S. 2331.)

§ 9-23. Where several defendants; challenges apportioned; discretion of judge.—When there are two or more defendants in a civil action the judge presiding at the trial, if it appears to the court that there are divers and antagonistic interests between the defendants, may in his discretion apportion among the defendants the challenges now allowed by law to defendants, or he may increase the number of challenges to not exceeding four to each defendant or class of defendants representing the same interest. In either event, the same number of challenges shall be allowed each defendant or class of defendants representing the same interest. The decision of the judge as to the nature of the interests and number of challenges shall be final. (Rev., s. 1965; 1905, c. 357; C. S. 2332.)

Art. 4. Grand Jurors.

§ 9-24. How grand jury drawn.—The judges of the superior court, at the terms of their courts, except those terms which are for the trial of civil cases exclusively, and special terms for which no grand jury has been ordered, shall direct the names of all persons returned as jurors to be written on scrolls of paper and put into a box or hat and drawn out by a child under ten years of age; whereof the first eighteen drawn shall be a grand jury for the court; and the residue shall serve as petit jurors for the court. (Rev., s. 1969; Code, s. 404; R. C., c. 31, s. 33; 1779, c. 157, s. 11; C. S. 2333.)

§ 9-25. Grand juries in certain counties.—At the first fall and spring terms of the criminal courts held for the counties of Craven, Gaston, Guilford, Mecklenburg, Moore, Pitt, Richmond, New Hanover, McDowell, Durham, Cumberland, Lenoir, Columbus, Nash, Johnston, Vance, Wayne, Iredell, and Wake, grand juries shall be drawn, the presiding judge shall charge them as provided by law, and they shall serve during the remaining fall and spring terms, respectively. In the event of vacancies occurring in the grand jury of Pitt county, the judge holding the court of said county may, in his discretion, order a new juror drawn to take the oaths prescribed and to fill any vacancy occurring thereon.

At any time the judge of the superior court presiding over either the criminal or civil court of New Hanover, McDowell, Durham, Cumberland and Lenoir counties may call said grand jury to assemble and may deliver unto said grand jury an additional charge. The said judge presiding over either the criminal or civil court of New Hanover, McDowell, Durham, Cumberland, or Lenoir counties may at any time discharge said grand jury from further service, in which event he shall cause a new grand jury to be drawn which shall serve during the remainder of the said fall or spring term. The first nine members of the grand jury chosen at the first term of the superior court of Cumberland and Lenoir counties for the trial of criminal causes in the year of one thousand nine hundred twenty-two shall serve during the spring and fall terms, and at the first of such courts of the fall and spring terms thereafter, nine additional jurors shall be chosen to serve for one year.

At any time the judge of the superior court presiding over the criminal court of Columbus county may call said grand jury to assemble and may deliver unto said jury an additional charge. The said judge presiding over the criminal court of Columbus county may at any time discharge said grand jury from further service, and may cause a new grand jury to be drawn, which shall serve during the remainder of the said fall and spring term.

Every grand juror drawn and summoned in Robeson county shall serve for a period of twelve months.

At the spring term of the criminal court held for the county of Gates, and for the county of Henderson, grand jury shall be drawn, the presiding judge shall charge them as provided by law, and they shall serve for twelve (12) months: Provided, that at any time the judge of the superior court presiding over the criminal courts of Gates county or Henderson county may call said jury to assemble and may deliver unto said grand jury an additional charge: Provided further, that the judge of the superior court presiding over the criminal courts of Gates county and of Henderson county may at any time discharge said grand jury from further service, and may cause a new grand jury to be drawn, which shall serve during the remainder of the said twelve (12) months.

At the April term of superior court held for the county of Hoke a grand jury shall be drawn, the presiding judge shall charge it as provided by law, and it shall serve until the following April term, Hoke superior court: Provided, that at any time the judge of the superior court presiding over either criminal or civil court in said county may call said grand jury to assemble and may deliver unto said grand jury an additional charge: Provided further, that the judge of the superior court presiding over either criminal or civil court in said county may at any time discharge said grand jury from further service, in which event he shall cause a new grand jury to be drawn, which shall serve out the unfinished year.

If it should appear to the board of commissioners of Union county, thirty days before the beginning of the term of superior court that begins on the third Monday after the first Monday in March, that the condition of the criminal docket, and the number of prisoners in jail, make it necessary that said March term should be used as a criminal term, the said board of commissioners are authorized and empowered within their discretion to draw a grand jury for said term, and to give thirty days' notice in some local paper that criminal cases would be tried at said term, and all criminal process and undertakings returnable to a subsequent term shall be returnable to said March term. A grand jury for Union county shall be selected at each January term of the superior court in the usual manner by the presiding judge, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of their selection.

In the selection of a grand jury for Bertie County for the fall term of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven and annually thereafter, there shall be drawn and summoned forty men, in the same manner as now provided by law, from which a grand jury of eighteen shall be selected by the presiding judge of the superior court, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of their selection.

The persons drawn for service in the grand jury at the term at which said grand jury is selected, and who are not selected to serve on the grand jury, shall serve on the petit jury for the week of the term at which the grand jury is selected: Provided, that at other terms of the Superior Court of Bertie County, both civil and criminal, there shall be drawn and summoned, in the manner now provided by law, twenty persons from which the jury for the term of court for which they are drawn shall be selected.

At the first term of court for the trial of criminal cases in Durham county after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, there shall be chosen a grand jury as now provided by law, and the first nine members of said grand jury chosen at said term shall serve for a term of one year, and the second nine members of said grand jury so chosen shall serve for a term of six months, and thereafter at the first regular and not special term of criminal court after the first days of January and July of each year there shall be chosen nine members of said grand jury to serve for a term of one year.

The grand jurors for Davidson County shall be drawn at the first fall and spring terms of the criminal courts held in the County of Davidson, and the judge shall charge them as provided by law, and the jurors so drawn shall serve during the remaining fall and spring terms respectively.

In the event of any vacancy occurring in the grand jury of Johnston, Wayne or Iredell County by death, removal from the county, sickness, or otherwise, the presiding judge may, in his discretion, order such vacancy, or vacancies, filled by drawing sufficient jurors to fill said vacancy or vacancies from the jury box, and said juror or jurors so drawn shall take the oath prescribed by law and shall fill out the unexpired term of the juror or jurors whose places they were drawn to fill. The presiding judge shall have the power, in his discretion, to appoint an assistant-foreman of the grand jury in the counties of Johnston, Wayne and Iredell and said assistant-foreman so appointed shall, in the absence or disqualification of the foreman, discharge the duties of the foreman of said grand jury.

At the first term of court for the trial of criminal cases in New Hanover County after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, there shall be chosen a grand jury as now provided by law, and the first nine members of said jury chosen at said term shall serve for a term of one year, and the second nine members of said jury so chosen shall serve for a term of six months, and thereafter at the first term of criminal court after the first days of January and July of each year there shall be chosen nine members of said grand jury to serve for a term of one year.

At each August term of the superior court hereafter held for the county of Scotland the grand jury drawn as now provided by law shall be charged by the presiding judge as provided by law, and said grand jury shall serve until the next succeeding March term of the superior court for Scotland County and until its successor has been drawn and has qualified; at each March term of the superior court hereafter held for the county of Scotland the grand jury drawn as now provided by law shall be charged by the presiding judge as provided by law, and said grand jury shall serve until the next succeeding August term of the superior court for Scotland County and until its successor has been drawn and has qualified; said grand jury shall attend every term of the superior court held in said county in which criminal cases may under the law be tried during the term of service of said grand jury and until it has been discharged; at any time the judge of the superior court presiding over either criminal, civil, or mixed terms of court in said county may call said grand jury to assemble and may deliver unto said grand jury an additional charge; the judge of the superior court presiding over either criminal, civil, or mixed terms of court in said county may at any time discharge said grand jury from further service, in which event he shall cause a new grand jury to be drawn and qualified, which shall serve out the unexpired term of said grand jury so discharged; said grand jury shall be subject to call for session and service at any time by the presiding judge, the solicitor of the district, or the foreman of said grand jury.

While in session or otherwise actually engaged in the performance of their duties as members of said grand jury, the members thereof shall be paid and compensated as follows: Three dollars per day shall be paid the foreman and two dollars per day shall be paid to other members of said grand jury.

A grand jury for Cabarrus County shall be selected at each January term of the superior court in the usual manner by the presiding judge, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of their selection.

A grand jury for Montgomery County shall be selected at each July term of the superior court in the usual manner, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of their selection.

A grand jury for Rowan County shall be selected at the one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven May term of criminal court to serve until the February term of said court in one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, and at each February term of criminal court a grand jury for Rowan County shall be selected in the usual manner by the presiding judge, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of its selection: Provided, in case of removal from the county, sickness, death or other cause a juror or jurors become disqualified, the presiding judge may in his discretion select in the usual manner a juror or jurors to fill such vacancy or vacancies, which said juror or jurors selected shall fill out the unexpired term of such juror or jurors disqualified; and, Provided further, the presiding judge may in his discretion at any term discharge said grand jury in whole or in part and cause another to be selected.

A grand jury for Lincoln County shall be selected at each January term of the superior court in the usual manner by the presiding judge, which said grand jury shall serve for a period of one year from the time of its selection: Provided, that at any time the judge of the superior court presiding over either criminal or civil court in said county may call said grand jury to assemble and may deliver unto said grand jury an additional charge. (1913, c. 196; 1917, cc. 116, 118; 1919, cc. 113, 187; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 39; 1921, cc. 18, 55, 69, 72; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 15; 1923, cc. 11, 15, 104, 115; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 28; 1925, c. 24; 1927, c. 78; Pub. Loc. 1927, cc. 80, 162; 1929, c. 52, ss. 1, 2; 1929, cc. 122, 133; 1931, cc. 43, 97, 130, 131, 237; 1933, cc. 29, 92, 138; 1935, cc. 5, 41; 1937, cc. 21, 77, 78, 372; 1939, c. 26; C. S. 2334.)

§ 9-26. Exceptions for disqualifications. — All exceptions to grand jurors for and on account of their disqualifications shall be taken before the jury is sworn and impaneled to try the issue, by motion to quash the indictment, and if not so taken, the same shall be deemed to be waived. But no indictment shall be quashed, nor shall judgment thereon be arrested, by reason of the fact that any member of the grand jury finding such bills of indictment had not paid his taxes for the preceding year, or was a party to any suit pending and at issue. (Rev., s. 1970; Code, s. 1741; 1907, c. 36, s. 1; C. S. 2335.)

§ 9-27. Foreman may administer oaths to witnesses.—The foreman of every grand jury duly sworn and impaneled in any of the courts has power to administer oaths and affirmations to persons to be examined before it as witnesses: Provided, that the said foreman shall not administer such oath or affirmation to any person except those whose names are endorsed on the bill of indictment by the officer prosecuting in behalf of the state, or by direction of the court. The foreman of the grand jury shall mark on the bill the names of the witnesses sworn and examined before the jury. In case of the absence of the foreman, or in case of his inability to serve, the presiding Judge shall appoint an acting foreman, who shall have all powers vested by law in the foreman. (Rev., s. 1971; Code, s. 1742; 1879, c. 12; 1929, c. 228; C. S. 2336.)

§ 9-28. Grand jury to visit jail and county home.—Every grand jury, while the court is in session, shall visit the county home for the aged and infirm, the workhouse, if there is one, and the jail, examine the same, and especially the apartments in which inmates and prisoners shall be confined; and they shall report to the court the condition thereof and of the inmates and prisoners confined therein, and also the manner in which the jailer or superintendent has discharged his duties. (Rev., s. 1972; Code, s. 785; R. C., c. 30, s. 3; 1816, c. 911, s. 3; C. S. 2337.)

Art. 5. Special Venire.

§ 9-29. Special venire to sheriff in capital cases.—When a judge of the superior court deems it necessary to a fair and impartial trial of any person charged with a capital offense, he may issue to the sheriff of the county in which the trial may be a special writ of venire facias, commanding him to summon such number of persons qualified to act as jurors in said county as the judge may deem sufficient (such number being designated in the writ), to appear on some specified day of the term as jurors of said court; and the sheriff shall forthwith execute the writ and return it to the clerk of the court on the day when it is returnable, with the names of the jurors summoned. (Rev., s. 1973; Code, s. 1738; R. C., c. 35, s. 30; 1830, c. 27; 1913, c. 31, s. 1; C. S. 2338.)

§ 9-30. Drawn from jury box in court by judge's order.—When a judge deems a special venire necessary, he may, at his discretion, issue an order to the clerk of the board of commissioners for the county, commanding him to bring into open court forthwith the jury boxes of the county, and he shall cause the number of scrolls as designated by him to be drawn from box number one by a child under ten years of age. The names so drawn shall constitute the special venire, and the clerk of the superior court shall insert their names in the writ of venire, and deliver the same to the sheriff of the county, and the persons named in the writ and no others shall be summoned by the sheriff. If the special venire is exhausted before the jury is chosen, the judge shall order another special venire until the jury has been chosen. The scrolls containing the names of the persons drawn as jurors from box number one shall, after the jury is chosen, be placed in box number two, and if box number one is exhausted before the jury is chosen, the drawing shall be completed from box number two after the same has been well shaken. (Rev., s. 1974; Code, s. 1739; 1897, c. 364; 1913, c. 31, s. 2; C. S. 2339.)

§ 9-31. Penalty on sheriff not executing writ or jurors not attending.—If any sheriff fails duly to execute and return such writ of venire facias, he shall be fined by the court not exceeding one hundred dollars. All jurors so summoned shall attend until discharged by the court, under the same rules and penalties as are prescribed for other jurors. (Rev., ss. 1975, 3602; Code, s. 1740; R. C., c. 35, s. 31; 1830, c. 27, s. 2; C. S. 2340.)

Chapter 10. Notaries.

Sec.

10-1. Appointment and commission; term of offices; revocation of commission.
10-2. To qualify before clerk; record of qualification.
10-3. Clerks notaries ex officio; may certify own seals.
10-4. Powers of notaries.
10-5. Notaries public, who are stockholders, etc., permitted to take acknowledgments, administer oaths, etc.
10-6. May exercise powers in any county.
10-7. Expiration of commission to be stated after signature.
10-8. Fees of notaries.
10-9. Notarial seal.
10-10. Acts of minor notaries validated.

§ 10-1. Appointment and commission; term of office; revocation of commission.—The governor may, from time to time, at his discretion, appoint one or more fit persons in every county to act as notaries public, and shall issue to each a commission. They shall hold their office for two years from and after the date of their appointment.

Any commission so issued by the Governor or his predecessor, shall be revokable by him in his discretion upon complaint being made against such notary public and when he shall be satisfied that the interest of the public will be best served by the revocation of said commission.

Whenever the Governor shall have revoked the commission of any notary public appointed by him, or his predecessor in office, it shall be his duty to file with the clerk of the court in the county of such notary public a copy of said order and mail a copy of same to said notary public.

Any person holding himself out to the public as a notary public, or any person attempting to act in such capacity after his commission shall have been revoked by the Governor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punishable in the discretion of the court, as provided for in other misdemeanors. (Rev., ss. 2347, 2348; Code, ss. 3304, 3305; 1927, c. 117; C. S. 3172.)

§ 10-2. To qualify before clerk; record of qualification.—Upon exhibiting their commissions to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which they are to act, the notaries shall be duly qualified by taking before said clerk an oath of office, and the oaths prescribed for officers. A certificate of the commission shall be deposited with the clerk and filed among the records, and he shall note on his minutes the qualification of the notary public. (Rev., ss. 2347, 2348; Code, ss. 3304, 3305; C. S. 3173.)

§ 10-3. Clerks notaries ex officio; may certify own seals.—The clerks of the superior court may act as notaries public, in their several counties, by virtue of their office as clerks, and may certify their notarial acts under the seals of their respective courts. (Rev., s. 2349; Code, s. 3306; R. C., c. 75, s. 3; 1833, c. 7, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3174.)

§ 10-4. Powers of notaries.—Notaries public, in and out of the state, have power to take and certify the acknowledgment or proof of powers of attorney, mortgages, deeds and other instruments of writing, to take depositions and to administer oaths and affirmations in matters incident or belonging to the duties of their office, and to take affidavits to be used before a court, judge or other officer, within the state, and have power to take the privy examination of femes covert. (Rev., s. 2350; Code, s. 3307; 1866, c. 30; 1879, c. 128; C. S. 3175.)

§ 10-5. Notaries public, who are stockholders, etc., permitted to take acknowledgments, administer oaths, etc.—It shall be lawful for any notary public who is a stockholder, director, officer or employee of a bank or other corporation to take the acknowledgment of any party to any written instrument executed to or by such corporation, or to administer an oath to any other stockholder, director, officer, employee or agent of such corporation, or to protest for non-acceptance or non-payment bills of exchange, drafts, checks, notes and other negotiable instruments which may be owned or held for collection by such corporation: Provided, it shall be unlawful for any notary public to take the acknowledgment of an instrument executed by or to a bank or other corporation of which he is a stockholder, director, officer, or employee, where such notary is individually a party to such instrument, or to protest any negotiable instrument owned or held for collection by such corporation, where such notary is individually a party to such instrument. (1937, c. 183.)

§ 10-6. May exercise powers in any county.—Notaries public have full power and authority to perform the functions of their office in any and all counties of the state, and full faith and credit shall be given to any of their official acts wheresoever the same shall be made and done. (Rev., s. 2351; 1891, c. 248; C. S. 3176.)

§ 10-7. Expiration of commission to be stated after signature.—Notaries public shall state after each official signature by them the date of the expiration of their commissions; but the failure to do so shall not thereby invalidate their official acts. (Rev., s. 2351a; C. S. 3177.)

§ 10-8. Fees of notaries.—Notaries public and other persons acting as such shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents for protesting for nonacceptance or for nonpayment, or for both when done at the same time, any order, draft, note, bond or bill or any other thing necessary to be protested, and the sum of ten cents for each notice sent in connection therewith. For other necessary services, where no fee is fixed, they shall be allowed twenty cents for every ninety words. Cases of protest concerning vessels or other cargoes shall not be affected by this section. (Rev., s. 2800; Code, s. 3749; 1889, c. 446; 1895, c. 296; 1903, c. 734; C. S. 3178.)

§ 10-9. Notarial seal.—Official acts by notaries public shall be attested by their notarial seals. (Rev., s. 2352; C. S. 3179.)

§ 10-10. Acts of minor notaries validated.—All acts of notaries public for the state of North Carolina who were not yet twenty-one years of age at the time of the performance of such acts are hereby validated; and in every case where deeds or other instruments have been acknowledged before such notary public who was not yet twenty-one years of age at the time of taking of said acknowledgment, such acknowledgment taken before such notary public is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid. (1941, c. 233.)

Chapter 11. Oaths.

Art. 1. General Provisions.

Sec.
11-1. Oaths to be administered with solemnity.
11-2. Administration of oath upon the Gospels.
11-3. Administration of oath with uplifted hand.
11-4. Affirmation of Quakers and others.
11-5. Oaths of corporations.
11-6. Oath to support constitution of United States; all officers take.
11-7. Oath or affirmation to support state constitution; all officers to take.
11-8. When deputies may administer.
11-9. Administration by certain officers.
11-10. When county surveyors may administer oaths.

Art. 2. Forms of Official and Other Oaths.

11-11. Oaths of sundry persons; forms.

Art. 1. General Provisions.

§ 11-1. Oaths to be administered with solemnity.—Whereas, lawful oaths for the discovery of truth and establishing right are necessary and highly conducive to the important end of good government; and being most solemn appeals to Almighty God, as the omniscient witness of truth and the just and omnipotent avenger of falsehood, such oaths, therefore, ought to be taken and administered with the utmost solemnity. (Rev., s. 2353; R. C., c. 76, s. 1; 1777, c. 108, s. 2; C. S. 3188.)

§ 11-2. Administration of oath upon the Gospels.—Judges and justices of the peace, and other persons who may be empowered to administer oaths, shall (except in the cases in this chapter excepted) require the party sworn to lay his hand upon the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, in token of his engagement to speak the truth, as he hopes to be saved in the way and method of salvation pointed out in that blessed volume; and in further token that, if he should swerve from the truth, he may be justly deprived of all the blessings of the Gospel, and made liable to that vengeance which he has imprecated on his own head. (Rev., s. 2354; Code, s. 3309; R. C., c. 76, s. 1; 1777, c. 108, s. 2; 1941, c. 11; C. S. 3189.)

§ 11-3. Administration of oath with uplifted hand.—When the person to be sworn shall be conscientiously scrupulous of taking a book oath in manner aforesaid, he shall be excused from laying hands upon, or touching the Holy Gospel; and the oath required shall be administered in the following manner, namely: He shall stand with his right hand lifted up towards heaven, in token of his solemn appeal to the Supreme God, and also in token that if he should swerve from the truth he would draw down the vengeance of heaven upon his head, and shall introduce the intended oath with these words, namely:

I, A. B., do appeal to God, as a witness of the truth and the avenger of falsehood, as I shall answer the same at the great day of judgment, when the secrets of all hearts shall be known (etc., as the words of the oath may be). (Rev., s. 2355; Code, s. 3310; R. C., c. 76, s. 2; 1777, c. 108, s. 3; C. S. 3190.)

§ 11-4. Affirmation of Quakers and others.—The solemn affirmation of Quakers, Moravians, Dunkers and Mennonites, made in the manner heretofore used and accustomed, shall be admitted as evidence in all civil and criminal actions; and in all cases where they are required to take an oath to support the constitution of the state, or of the United States, or an oath of office, they shall make their solemn affirmation in the words of the oath beginning after the word "swear"; which affirmation shall be effectual to all intents and purposes. (Rev., s. 2356; Code, s. 3311; R. C., c. 76, s. 3; 1777, c. 108, s. 4; 1777, c. 115, s. 42; 1819, c. 1019; 1821, c. 1112; C. S. 3191.)

§ 11-5. Oaths of corporations.—In all cases where a corporation is appointed administrator, executor, collector, or to any other fiduciary position, of which fiduciary an oath is required by law, such oath may be taken by such corporation by and through any officer or agent of said corporation who is authorized by law to verify pleadings in behalf of such corporation; and any oath so taken shall be valid as the oath of such corporation. Any oath heretofore taken in the manner aforesaid in behalf of a corporation as such fiduciary is hereby validated as the oath of such corporation. (1919, c. 89, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3192.)

§ 11-6. Oath to support constitution of United States; all officers take.—All members of the general assembly, and all officers who shall be elected or appointed to any office of trust or profit within the state, shall, agreeably to act of congress, take the following oath or affirmation:

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the constitution of the United States; so help me, God.

Which oath shall be taken before they enter upon the execution of the duties of the office. (Rev., s. 2357; Code, s. 3313; R. C., c. 76, s. 5; 1791, c. 342, s. 2; C. S. 3193.)

§ 11-7. Oath or affirmation to support state constitution; all officers to take.—Every member of the general assembly, and every person who shall be chosen or appointed to hold any office of trust or profit in the state, shall, before taking his seat or entering upon the execution of the office, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

I, A. B., do solemnly and sincerely swear (or affirm) that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the state of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain and defend the constitution of said state, not inconsistent with the constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me, God.

Where such person shall be of the people called Quakers, Moravians, Mennonites or Dunkers, he shall take and subscribe the following affirmation:

I, A. B., do solemnly and sincerely declare and affirm that I will truly and faithfully demean myself as a peaceful citizen of North Carolina; that I will be subject to the powers and authorities that are or may be established for the good government thereof, not inconsistent with the constitution of the state and constitution of the United States, either by yielding an active or passive obedience thereto, and that I will not abet or join the enemies of the state, by any means, in any conspiracy whatever, against the state; that I will disclose and make known to the legislative, executive or judicial powers of the state all treasonable conspiracies which I shall know to be made or intended against the state. (Rev., s. 2358; Code, s. 3312; R. C., c. 76, s. 4; 1781, c. 342, s. 1; C. S. 3194.)

§ 11-8. When deputies may administer.—In all cases where any civil officer, in the discharge of his duties, is permitted by the law to administer an oath, the deputy of such officer, when discharging such duties, shall have authority to administer it, provided he is a sworn officer; and the oath thus administered by the deputy shall be as obligatory as if administered by the principal officer, and shall be attended with the same penalties in case of false swearing. (Rev., s. 2359; Code, s. 3316; R. C., c. 76, s. 7; 1836, c. 27, s. 2; C. S. 3195.)

§ 11-9. Administration by certain officers.—The chairman of the board of county commissioners and the chairman of the board of education of the several counties may administer oaths in any matter or hearing before their respective boards. (Rev., s. 2362; 1899, c. 89; 1889, c. 529; C. S. 3196.)

§ 11-10. When county surveyors may administer oaths.—The county surveyors of the several counties are empowered to administer oaths to all such persons as are required by law to be sworn in making partition of real estate, in laying off widows' dower, in establishing boundaries and in surveying vacant lands under warrants. (Rev., s. 2361; Code, s. 3314; 1881, c. 144; C. S. 3197.)

Art. 2. Forms of Official and Other Oaths.

§ 11-11. Oaths of sundry persons; forms.—The oaths of office to be taken by the several persons hereafter named shall be in the words following the names of said persons respectively:

You and each of you swear (or affirm) that you will, without partiality and according to your best judgment, lay off and allot to A. B., widow of C. D., such dower in the lands of said C. D. as by law she is entitled to; so help you, God.

Judge of the Supreme Court

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that in my office of justice of the supreme court of North Carolina I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and the rich, to the state and to individuals; and that I will honestly, faithfully, and impartially perform all the duties of the said officer according to the best of my abilities, and agreeably to the constitution and laws of the state; so help me, God.

Judge of the Superior Court

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly serve the state of North Carolina in the office of judge of the superior court of the said state; I will do equal law and right to all persons, rich and poor, without having regard to any person. I will not wittingly or willingly take, by myself or by any other person, any fee, gift, gratuity or reward whatsoever, for any matter or thing by me to be done by virtue of my office, except the fees and salary by law appointed; I will not maintain, by myself or by any other person, privately or openly, any plea or quarrel depending in any of the said courts; I will not delay any person of common right by reason of any letter or command from any person or persons in authority to me directed, or for any other cause whatsoever; and in case any letter or orders come to me contrary to law, I will proceed to enforce the law, such letters or order notwithstanding; I will not appoint any person to be clerk of any of the said courts but such of the candidates as appear to me sufficiently qualified for that office; and in all such appointments I will nominate without reward, hope of reward, prejudice, favor or partiality or any other sinister motive whatsoever; and finally, in all things belonging to my office, during my continuance therein, I will faithfully, truly and justly, according to the best of my skill and judgment, do equal and impartial justice to the public and to individuals; so help me, God.

Justice of the Peace

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that as justice of the peace of the county of ....., in all articles in the commission to me directed, I will do equal right to the poor and the rich, to the best of my judgment and according to the laws of the state; I will not, privately or openly, by myself or any other person, be of counsel in any quarrel or suit depending before me; the fines and amercements that shall happen to be made, and the forfeitures that shall be incurred, I will cause to be duly entered without concealment; I will not wittingly or willingly take, by myself or by any other person for me, any fee, gift, gratuity or reward whatsoever for any matter or thing by me to be done by virtue of my office, except such fees as are or may be directed and limited by statute; but well and truly I will perform my office of justice of the peace; I will not delay any person of common right, by reason of any letter or order from any person in authority to me directed, or for any other cause whatever; and if any letter or order come to me contrary to law I will proceed to enforce the law, such letter or order notwithstanding. I will not direct or cause to be directed to the parties any warrant by me made, but will direct all such warrants to the sheriffs or constables of the county, or the other officers or ministers of the state, or other indifferent persons, to do execution thereof; and finally, in all things belonging to my office, during my continuance therein, I will faithfully, truly and justly, and according to the best of my skill and judgment, do equal and impartial justice to the public and to individuals; so help me, God.

Register of Deeds

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully and truly, according to the best of my skill and ability, execute the duties of the office of register of deeds for the county of....., in all things according to law; so help me, God.

Secretary of State

I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will, in all respects, faithfully and honestly execute the office of secretary of state of the state of North Carolina, during my continuance in office, according to law; so help me, God.

Sheriff

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will execute the office of sheriff of ..... county to the best of my knowledge and ability, agreeably to law; and that I will not take, accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any fee, gift, bribe, gratuity or reward whatsoever, for returning any man to serve as a juror or for making any false return on any process to me directed; so help me, God.

Standard Keeper

I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will not stamp, seal or give any certificate for any steelyards, weights or measures, but such as shall, as near as possible, agree with the standard in my keeping; and that I will, in all respects, truly and faithfully discharge and execute the power and trust by law reposed in me, to the best of my ability and capacity; so help me, God.

State Treasurer

I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that, according to the best of my abilities and judgment, I will execute impartially the office of state treasurer, in all things according to law, and account for the public taxes; and I will not, directly or indirectly, apply the public money to any other use than by law directed; so help me, God.

Stray Valuers

You swear (or affirm) that you will well and truly view and appraise the stray, now to be valued by you, without favor or partiality, according to your skill and ability; so help you, God.

Surveyor for a County

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will well and impartially discharge the several duties of the office of surveyor for the county of ....., according to law; so help me, God.

Treasurer for a County

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that, according to the best of my skill and ability, I will execute impartially the office of treasurer for the county of ....., in all things according to law; that I will duly and faithfully account for all public moneys that may come into my hands, and will not, directly or indirectly, apply the same, or any part thereof, to any other use than by law directed; so help me, God.

Witness to Depose before the Grand Jury

You swear (or affirm) that the evidence you shall give to the grand jury, upon this bill of indictment against A. B., shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you, God.

Witness in a Capital Trial

You swear (or affirm) that the evidence you shall give to the court and jury in this trial, between the state and the prisoner at the bar, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you, God.

Witness in a Criminal Action

You swear (or affirm) that the evidence you shall give to the court and jury in this action between the state and A. B. shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you, God.

Witness in Civil Cases

You swear (or affirm) that the evidence you shall give to the court and jury in this cause now on trial, wherein A. B. is plaintiff and C. D. defendant, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you, God.

Witness to Prove a Will

You swear (or affirm) that you saw C. D. execute (or heard him acknowledge the execution of) this writing as his last will and testament; that you attested it in his presence and at his request; and that at the time of its execution (or at the time the execution was acknowledged) he was, in your opinion, of sound mind and disposing memory; so help you, God.

General Oath

Any officer of the state or of any county or township, the form of whose oath is not given above, shall take an oath in the following form:

I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of ..... according to the best of my skill and ability, according to law; so help me, God. (Rev., s. 2360; Code, ss. 3057, 3315; 1903, c. 604; 1874-5, c. 58, s. 2; R. C., c. 76, s. 6; C. S. 3199.)

Chapter 12. Statutory Construction.

Sec.
12-1. No public-local or private act may amend or repeal public law unless latter is referred to in caption.
12-2. Repeal of statute not to affect actions.
12-3. Rules for construction of statutes.
12-4. Construction of amended statute.

§ 12-1. No public-local or private act may amend or repeal public law unless latter is referred to in caption.—No act, which by its caption purports to be a public-local or private act, shall have the force and effect to repeal, alter or change the provisions of any Public Law, unless the caption of said public-local or private act shall make specific reference to the Public Law it attempts to repeal, alter or change. (1929, c. 250, s. 1.)

§ 12-2. Repeal of statute not to affect actions.—The repeal of a statute shall not affect any action brought before the repeal, for any forfeitures incurred, or for the recovery of any rights accruing under such statute. (Rev., s. 2830; Code, s. 3764; R. C., c. 108, s. 1; 1830, c. 4; 1879, c. 163; 1881, c. 48; C. S. 3948.)

§ 12-3. Rules for construction of statutes.—In the construction of all statutes the following rules shall be observed, unless such construction would be inconsistent with the manifest intent of the general assembly, or repugnant to the context of the same statute, that is to say:

1. Singular and plural number, masculine gender, etc. Every word importing the singular number only shall extend and be applied to several persons or things, as well as to one person or thing; and every word importing the plural number only shall extend and be applied to one person or thing, as well as to several persons or things; and every word importing the masculine gender only shall extend and be applied to females as well as to males, unless the context clearly shows to the contrary.

2. Authority, to three or more exercised by majority. All words purporting to give a joint authority to three or more public officers or other persons shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of such officers or other persons, unless it shall be otherwise expressly declared in the law giving the authority.

3. "Month" and "year." The word "month" shall be construed to mean a calendar month, unless otherwise expressed; and the word "year," a calendar year, unless otherwise expressed; and the word "year" alone shall be equivalent to the expression "year of our Lord."

4. Leap-year, how counted. In every leap-year the increasing day and the day before, in all legal proceedings, shall be counted as one day.

5. "Oath" and "sworn." The word "oath" shall be construed to include "affirmation," in all cases where by law an affirmation may be substituted for an oath, and in like cases the word "sworn" shall be construed to include the word "affirmed."

6. "Person" and "property." The word "person" shall extend and be applied to bodies politic and corporate, as well as to individuals, unless the context clearly shows to the contrary. The words "real property" shall be coextensive with lands, tenements and hereditaments. The words "personal property" shall include moneys, goods, chattels, choses in action and evidences of debt, including all things capable of ownership, not descendible to the heirs at law. The word "property" shall include all property, both real and personal.

7. "Preceding" and "following."—The words "preceding" and "following," when used by way of reference to any section of a statute, shall be construed to mean the section next preceding or next following that in which such reference is made; unless when some other section is expressly designated in such reference.

8. "Seal."— In all cases in which the seal of any court or public office shall be required by law to be affixed to any paper issuing from such court or office, the word "seal" shall be construed to include an impression of such official seal, made upon the paper alone, as well as an impression made by means of a wafer or of wax affixed thereto.

9. "Will."—The term "will" shall be construed to include codicils as well as wills.

10. "Written" and "in writing."—The words "written" and "in writing" may be construed to include printing, engraving, lithographing, and any other mode of representing words and letters: Provided, that in all cases where a written signature is required by law, the same shall be in a proper handwriting, or in a proper mark.

11. "State" and "United States."—The word "state," when applied to the different parts of the United States, shall be construed to extend to and include the District of Columbia and the several territories, so called; and the words "United States" shall be construed to include the said district and territories and all dependencies.

12. "Imprisonment for one month," how construed. The words "imprisonment for one month," wherever used in any of the statutes, shall be construed to mean "imprisonment for thirty days."

13. "Governor," "senator," "solicitor," "elector," "executor," "administrator," "collector," "juror," and "auditor."—The words "governor," "senator," "solicitor," "elector," "executor," "administrator," "collector," "juror," "auditor," and any other words of like character shall when applied to the holder of such office, or occupant of such position, be words of common gender, and they shall be a sufficient designation of the person holding such office or position, whether the holder be a man or woman. (Rev., s. 2831; Code, s. 3765; R. C., c. 31, s. 108; R. C., c. 108; R. S., c. 31, s. 113; 21 Hen. III; 1921, c. 30; C. S. 3949.)

§ 12-4. Construction of amended statute.—Where a part of a statute is amended it is not to be considered as having been repealed and reenacted in the amended form; but the portions which are not altered are to be considered as having been the law since their enactment, and the new provisions as having been enacted at the time of the amendment. (Rev., s. 2832; Code, s. 3766; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 22; 1870-1, c. 111; C. S. 3950.)

Chapter 13. Citizenship Restored.

Sec.
13-1. Petition filed.
13-2. When and where petition filed.
13-3. Notice given.
13-4. Hearing and evidence.
13-5. Decree.
13-6. Procedure in case of pardon or suspension of judgment.
13-7. Restoration of rights of citizenship to persons committed to certain training schools.
13-8. Contents of petition; affidavits of reputable citizens; hearing; decree of restoration.
13-9. Restoration of citizenship to persons convicted, etc., of involuntary manslaughter.
13-10. Contents of petition; supporting affidavits; hearing and decree.

§ 13-1. Petition filed.—Any person convicted of an infamous crime, whereby the rights of citizenship are forfeited, desiring to be restored to the same, shall file his petition in the superior court, setting forth his conviction and the punishment inflicted, his place or places of residence, his occupation since his conviction, the meritorious causes which, in his opinion, entitle him to be restored to his forfeited rights, and that he has not before been restored to the lost rights of citizenship. (Rev., s. 2675; Code, ss. 2938, 2940; R. C. c. 58, ss. 1, 3; 1840, c. 36, s. 4; C. S. 385.)

§ 13-2. When and where petition filed.—At any time after the expiration of two years from the date of discharge of the petitioner, the petition may be filed in the superior court of the county in which the applicant is at the time of filing and has been for five years next preceding a bona fide resident, or in the superior court of the county, at term, where the indictment was found upon which the conviction took place; and in case the petitioner may have been convicted of an infamous crime more than once, and indictments for the same may have been found in different counties, the petition shall be filed in the superior court of that county where the last indictment was found. (Rev., s. 2676; Code, ss. 2940, 2941; 1897, c. 110; R. C., c. 58, ss. 3, 4; 1840, c. 36, s. 3; 1933, c. 243; C. S. 386.)

§ 13-3. Notice given.—Upon filing the petition the clerk of the court shall advertise the substance thereof, at the courthouse door of his county, for the space of three months next before the term when the petitioner proposes that the same shall be heard. (Rev., s. 2677; Code, s. 2938; R. C., c. 58, s. 1; 1840, c. 36; C. S. 387.)

§ 13-4. Hearing and evidence.—The petition shall be heard by the judge at term, at which hearing the court shall examine all proper testimony which may be offered, either by the petitioner as to the facts set forth in his petition or by any one who may oppose the grant of his prayer. The petitioner shall also prove by five respectable witnesses, who have been acquainted with the petitioner's character for three years next preceding the filing of his petition, that his character for truth and honesty during that time has been good; but no deposition shall be admissible for this purpose unless the petitioner has resided out of this state for three years next preceding the filing of the petition. (Rev., s. 2678; Code, ss. 2938, 2939; 1897, c. 110; 1901, c. 533; R. C., c. 58, ss. 1, 2; 1840, c. 36; C. S. 388.)

§ 13-5. Decree.—At the hearing the court, on being satisfied of the truth of the facts set forth in the petition, and on its being proved that the character of the applicant for truth and honesty is good, shall decree his restoration to the lost rights of citizenship, and the petitioner shall accordingly be restored thereto. (Rev., s. 2679; Code, s. 2938; R. C., c. 58, s. 1; 1840, c. 36; C. S. 389.)

§ 13-6. Procedure in case of pardon or suspension of judgment. — Any person convicted of any crime, whereby the rights of citizenship are forfeited, and the judgment of the court pronounced does not include imprisonment anywhere, and pardon has been granted by the governor, or the court suspended judgment on payment of the costs, and the costs have been paid, such person may be restored to such forfeited rights of citizenship upon application, by petition, to the judge presiding at any term of the superior court held for the county in which the conviction was had, one year after such conviction. The petition shall set out the nature of the crime committed, the time of conviction, the judgment of the court, and that pardon has been granted by the governor, and also that said crime was committed without felonious intent, and shall be verified by the oath of the applicant and accompanied by the affidavits of ten reputable citizens of the county, who shall state that they are well acquainted with the applicant and that in their opinion the crime was committed without felonious intent. No notice of the petition in such case shall be necessary, and no advertisement thereof be made, but the same shall be heard by the judge, upon its presentation, during a term of court; and if he is satisfied as to the truth of the matters set out in the petition and affidavits, he shall decree the applicant's restoration to the lost rights of citizenship, and the clerk shall spread the decree upon his minute docket: Provided, that in all cases where the court suspended judgment it shall not be necessary to allege or prove that pardon has been granted by the governor, and in such cases the petition may be made and the forfeited rights of citizenship restored at any time after conviction. (Rev., s. 2680; 1899, cc. 44, 249; 1905, c. 547; C. S. 390.)

§ 13-7. Restoration of rights of citizenship to persons committed to certain training schools.—Any person convicted of any crime whereby any rights of citizenship are forfeited, and the judgment of the court pronounced provides a sentence, and such sentence is suspended upon the condition that such person be admitted to and remain at one of the following schools: Eastern Carolina Industrial Training School for Boys, the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School, the Morrison Training School for Negro Boys, or the State Home and Industrial School for Girls, until lawfully discharged, and upon payment of costs, such person may be restored to such forfeited rights of citizenship upon application and petition to the judge presiding at any term of the superior court held in the county in which the conviction was had, at any time after one year from the date of the lawful discharge from any such school. (1937, c. 384, s. 1.)

§ 13-8. Contents of petition; affidavits of reputable citizens; hearing; decree of restoration.—The petition provided for in § 13-7 shall set out the nature of the crime committed, the time of conviction, the judgment of the court, and shall recite that the costs of suit have been paid, the lawful discharge of the applicant from the school to which he or she was admitted, and that applicant has never before had restored to him lost rights of citizenship, which petition shall be verified by the oath of the applicant, and accompanied by the affidavits of ten reputable citizens of the county in which said conviction took place, who shall state that they are well acquainted with the applicant, and that they are of the opinion that the applicant should have restored to him the lost rights of citizenship. The petition shall be heard by the judge during a term of court, and if he is satisfied as to the truth of the matters set out in the petition and the affidavits, he shall decree the applicant's restoration to the lost rights of citizenship and the clerk shall spread the decree upon his minute dockets. (1937, c. 384, s. 2.)

§ 13-9. Restoration of citizenship to persons convicted, etc., of involuntary manslaughter.—Any person who has been convicted of, or confessed guilt to, the crime of involuntary manslaughter and is not actually serving a term in the state prison or on the roads of the state may, at any subsequent term of the superior court of the county in which the conviction was had, or the confession of guilt made, make application and petition the court for a restoration of all forfeited rights of citizenship. (1941, c. 184, s. 1.)

§ 13-10. Contents of petition; supporting affidavits; hearing and decree.—The petition provided for in section 13-9 shall set out the nature of the crime committed, the time of conviction or confession of guilt, the judgment of the court, and shall recite that the costs of suit have been paid, and that applicant has never before had restored to him lost rights of citizenship, which petition shall be verified by the oath of the applicant, and accompanied by the affidavits of ten reputable citizens of the county in which said conviction or confession of guilt took place, who shall state that they are well acquainted with the applicant, and that they are of the opinion that the applicant should have restored to him the lost rights of citizenship. The petition shall be heard by the judge during a term of court, and if he is satisfied as to the truth of the matters set out in the petition and the affidavits, he shall have the authority to decree the applicant's restoration to the lost rights of citizenship and the clerk shall spread the decree upon his minute dockets. (1941, c. 184, s. 2.)

An accessory before the fact to the stealing of any horse, mare, gelding or mule, on being duly convicted thereof, shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than five nor more than twenty years, in the discretion of the court. Every accessory before the fact in any other felony shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison or county jail for not more than ten years, or may be fined in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3290; Code, s. 980; 1868-9, c. 31, s. 2; 1874-5, c. 212; C. S. 4176.)

§ 14-7. Accessories after the fact; trial and punishment.—If any person shall become an accessory after the fact to any felony, whether the same be a felony at common law or by virtue of any statute made, or to be made, such person shall be guilty of a felony, and may be indicted and convicted together with the principal felon, or after the conviction of the principal felon, or may be indicted and convicted for such felony whether the principal felon shall or shall not have been previously convicted, or shall or shall not be amenable to justice, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail for not less than four months nor more than ten years, and may also be fined in the discretion of the court. The offense of such person may be inquired of, tried, determined and punished by any court which shall have jurisdiction of the principal felon, in the same manner as if the act, by reason whereof such person shall have become an accessory, had been committed at the same place as the principal felony, although such act may have been committed without the limits of the state; and in case the principal felony shall have been committed within the body of any county, and the act by reason whereof any person shall have become accessory shall have been committed within the body of any other county, the offense of such person guilty of a felony as aforesaid may be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished in either of said counties: Provided, that no person who shall be once duly tried for such felony shall be again indicted or tried for the same offense. (Rev., s. 3289; Code, s. 978; R. C., c. 34, s. 54; 1797, c. 485, s. 1; 1852, c. 58; C. S. 4177.)

SUBCHAPTER 2. OFFENSES AGAINST THE STATE.

Art. 3. Rebellion.

§ 14-8. Rebellion against the state.—If any person shall incite, set on foot, assist or engage in a rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the state of North Carolina or the laws thereof, or shall give aid or comfort thereto, every person so offending in any of the ways aforesaid shall be guilty of a felony, and, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for not more than fifteen years and by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 3437; Code, s. 1106; 1868, c. 60, s. 2; 1861, c. 18; 1866, c. 64; Const., Art. IV, s. 5; C. S. 4178.)

§ 14-9. Conspiring to rebel against the state.—If two or more persons shall conspire together to overthrow or put down, or to destroy by force, the government of North Carolina, or to levy war against the government of the state, or to oppose by force the authority of such government, or by force or threats to intimidate, or to prevent, hinder or delay the execution of any law of the state, or by force or fraud to seize or take possession of any firearms or other property of the state, against the will or contrary to the authority of such state, every person so offending in any of the ways aforesaid shall be guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned not more than ten years in the state's prison and be fined not exceeding five thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 3438; Code, s. 1107; 1868, c. 60, s. 1; C. S. 4179.)

§ 14-10. Secret political and military organizations forbidden.—If any person, for the purpose of compassing or furthering any political object, or aiding the success of any political party or organization, or resisting the laws, shall join or in any way connect or unite himself with any oath-bound secret political or military organization, society or association of whatsoever name or character; or shall form or organize or combine and agree with any other person or persons to form or organize any such organization; or as a member of any secret political or military party or organization shall use, or agree to use, any certain signs or grips or passwords, or any disguise of the person or voice, or any disguise whatsoever for the advancement of its object, and shall take or administer any extra-judicial oath or other secret, solemn pledge, or any like secret means; or if any two or more persons, for the purpose of compassing or furthering any political object, or aiding the success of any political party or organization, or circumventing the laws, shall secretly assemble, combine or agree together, and the more effectually to accomplish such purposes, or any of them, shall use any certain signs, or grips, or passwords, or any disguise of the person or voice, or other disguise whatsoever, or shall take or administer any extra-judicial oath or other secret, solemn pledge; or if any persons shall band together and assemble to muster, drill or practice any military evolutions except by virtue of the authority of an officer recognized by law, or of an instructor in institutions or schools in which such evolutions form a part of the course of instruction; or if any person shall knowingly permit any of the acts and things herein forbidden to be had, done or performed on his premises, or on any premises under his control; or if any person being a member of any such secret political or military organization shall not at once abandon the same and separate himself entirely therefrom, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars, or be imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3439; Code, s. 1095; 1870-1, c. 133; 1868-9, c. 267; 1871-2, c. 143; C. S. 4180.)

Art. 4. Subversive Activities.

§ 14-11. Activities aimed at overthrow of government; use of public buildings.—It shall be unlawful for any person, by word of mouth or writing, willfully and deliberately to advocate, advise or teach a doctrine that the government of the United States, the state of North Carolina or any political subdivision thereof shall be overthrown or overturned by force or violence or by any other unlawful means. It shall be unlawful for any public building in the state, owned by the state of North Carolina, any political subdivision thereof, or by any department or agency of the state or any institution supported in whole or in part by state funds, to be used by any person for the purpose of advocating, advising or teaching a doctrine that the government of the United States, the state of North Carolina or any political subdivision thereof should be overthrown by force, violence or any other unlawful means. (1941, c. 37, s. 1.)

§ 14-12. Punishment for violations.—Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this article shall, for the first offense, be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished accordingly, and for the second offense shall be guilty of a felony and punished accordingly. (1941, c. 37, s. 2.)

Art. 5. Counterfeiting and Issuing Monetary Substitutes.

§ 14-13. Counterfeiting coin and uttering coin that is counterfeit.—If any person shall falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged or counterfeited, or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging or counterfeiting the resemblance or similitude or likeness of a Spanish milled dollar, or any coin of gold or silver which is in common use and received in the discharge of contracts by the citizens of the state; or shall pass, utter, publish or sell, or attempt to pass, utter, publish or sell, or bring into the state from any other place with intent to pass, utter, publish or sell as true, any such false, forged or counterfeited coin, knowing the same to be false, forged or counterfeited, with intent to defraud any person whatsoever, every person so offending shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3422; Code, s. 1035; R. C., c. 34, s. 64; 1811, c. 814, s. 3; C. S. 4181.)

§ 14-14. Possessing tools for counterfeiting.—If any person shall have in his possession any instrument for the purpose of making any counterfeit similitude or likeness of a Spanish milled dollar, or other coin made of gold or silver which is in common use and received in discharge of contracts by the citizens of the state, and shall be duly convicted thereof, the person so offending shall be imprisoned in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, or be fined not more than five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3423; Code, s. 1036; R. C., c. 34, s. 65; 1811, c. 814, s. 4; C. S. 4182.)

§ 14-15. Issuing substitutes for money without authority.—If any person or corporation, unless the same be expressly allowed by law, shall issue any bill, due bill, order, ticket, certificate of deposit, promissory note or obligation, or any other kind of security, whatever may be its form or name, with the intent that the same shall circulate or pass as the representative of, or as a substitute for, money, he shall forfeit and pay for each offense the sum of fifty dollars; and if the offender be a corporation, it shall in addition forfeit its charter. Every person or corporation offending against this section, or aiding or assisting therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3711; Code, s. 2493; 1895, c. 127; R. C., c. 36, s. 5; C. S. 4183.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1933, c. 33; Currituck: 1933, c. 328.

§ 14-16. Receiving or passing unauthorized substitutes for money.—If any person or corporation shall pass or receive, as the representative of, or as the substitute for, money, any bill, check, certificate, promissory note, or other security of the kind mentioned in § 14-15, whether the same be issued within or without the state, such person or corporation, and the officers and agents of such corporation aiding therein, who shall offend against this section shall for every such offense forfeit and pay five dollars, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3712; Code, s. 2494; 1895, c. 127; R. C., c. 36, s. 6; C. S. 4184.)

SUBCHAPTER 3. OFFENSES AGAINST THE PERSON.

Art. 6. Homicide.

§ 14-17. Murder in the first and second degree defined; punishment.—A murder which shall be perpetrated by means of poison, lying in wait, imprisonment, starving, torture, or by any other kind of willful, deliberate and premeditated killing, or which shall be committed in the perpetration or attempt to perpetrate any arson, rape, robbery, burglary or other felony, shall be deemed to be murder in the first degree and shall be punished with death. All other kinds of murder shall be deemed murder in the second degree, and shall be punished with imprisonment of not less than two nor more than thirty years in the state prison. (Rev., s. 3631; 1893, cc. 85, 281; C. S. 4200.)

§ 14-18. Punishment for manslaughter.—If any person shall commit the crime of manslaughter he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for not less than four months nor more than twenty years: Provided, however, that in cases of involuntary manslaughter, the punishment shall be in the discretion of the court, and the defendant may be fined or imprisoned, or both. (Rev., s. 3632; Code, s. 1055; 1879, c. 255; R. C., c. 34, s. 24; 4 Hen. VII, c. 13; 1816, c. 918; 1933, c. 249; C. S. 4201.)

§ 14-19. Punishment for second offense of manslaughter.—If any person, having been convicted of the crime of manslaughter and sentenced thereon, shall be convicted of a second crime of the like nature, he shall be imprisoned in the state prison not less than five nor more than sixty years; and in every such case of conviction for such second offense, the prior conviction of the same person and sentence thereon may be shown to the court. (Rev., s. 3633; Code, s. 1056; R. C., c. 34, s. 25; C. S. 4202.)

§ 14-20. Killing adversary in duel; aiders and abettors declared accessories.—If any persons fight a duel in consequence of a challenge sent or received, and either of the parties shall be killed, then the survivor, on conviction thereof, shall suffer death; and all their aiders or abettors shall be considered accessories before the fact. (Rev., s. 3629; Code, s. 1013; R. C., c. 34, s. 3; 1802, c. 608, s. 2; C. S. 4203.)

Art. 7. Rape and Kindred Offenses.

§ 14-21. Punishment for rape.—Every person who is convicted of ravishing and carnally knowing any female of the age of twelve years or more by force and against her will, or who is convicted of unlawfully and carnally knowing and abusing any female child under the age of twelve years, shall suffer death. (Rev., s. 3637; Code, s. 1101;

R. C., c. 34, s. 5; 18 Eliz., c. 7; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 2; 1917, c. 29; C. S. 4204.)

§ 14-22. Punishment for assault with intent to commit rape.—Every person convicted of an assault with intent to commit a rape upon the body of any female shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than one nor more than fifteen years. (Rev, s. 3638; Code, s. 1102; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 3; R. C., c. 107, s. 44; 1823, c. 1229; 1917, c. 162, s. 1; C. S. 4205.)

§ 14-23. Emission not necessary to constitute rape and buggery.—It shall not be necessary upon the trial of any indictment for the offenses of rape, carnally knowing and abusing any female child under twelve years old, and buggery, to prove the actual emission of seed in order to constitute the offense, but the offense shall be completed upon proof of penetration only. (Rev., s. 3639; Code, s. 1105; 1860-1, c. 30; 1917, c. 29; C. S. 4206.)

§ 14-24. Obtaining carnal knowledge of married woman by personating husband.—If any person shall have carnal knowledge of any married woman by fraud in personating her husband, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison at hard labor for not less than ten nor more than twenty years. (Rev., s. 3624; Code, s. 1103; 1881, c. 89, s. 1; C. S. 4207.)

§ 14-25. Attempted carnal knowledge of married woman by personating husband.—Every person convicted of an assault upon any married woman, with intent to have knowledge of her by fraud in personating her husband, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison at hard labor for not less than five nor more than fifteen years. (Rev., s. 3625; Code, s. 1104; 1881, c. 89, s. 2; C. S. 4208.)

§ 14-26. Obtaining carnal knowledge of virtuous girls between twelve and sixteen years old.—If any male person shall carnally know or abuse any female child, over twelve and under sixteen years of age, who has never before had sexual intercourse with any person, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court; and any female person who shall carnally know any male child under the age of sixteen years shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court: Provided, that if the offenders shall be married or shall thereafter marry, such marriage shall be a bar to further prosecution. (Rev., s. 3348; 1895, c. 295; 1917, c. 29; 1923, c. 140, s. 1; C. S. 4209.)

§ 14-27. Jurisdiction of court; offenders classed as delinquents.—All persons charged with a violation of § 14-26 under the age of sixteen years shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court and such other courts as may hereafter exercise such jurisdiction, and shall be classed as delinquents and not as felons: Provided, that where the offenders agree to marry, the consent of the parent shall not be necessary: Provided further, that any male person convicted of the violation of § 14-26 who is under eighteen (18) years of age, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor only. (1923, c. 140, s. 2; C. S. 4209(a).)

Art. 8. Assaults.

§ 14-28. Malicious castration.—If any person, of malice aforethought, shall unlawfully castrate any other person, or cut off, maim or disfigure any of the privy members of any person, with intent to murder, maim, disfigure, disable or render impotent such person, the person so offending shall suffer imprisonment in the state's prison for not less than five nor more than sixty years. (Rev., s. 3627; Code, s. 999; R. C., c. 34, s. 4; 1831, c. 40, s. 1; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 6; C. S. 4210.)

§ 14-29. Castration or other maiming without malice aforethought.—If any person shall, on purpose and unlawfully, but without malice aforethought, cut or slit the nose, bite or cut off the nose, or a lip or an ear, or disable any limb or member of any other person, or castrate any other person, or cut off, maim or disfigure any of the privy members of any other person, with intent to kill, maim, disfigure, disable or render impotent such person, the person so offending shall be imprisoned in the county jail or state's prison not less than six months nor more than ten years, and fined, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3626; Code, s. 1000; R. C., c. 34, s. 47; 1754, c. 56; 1791, c. 339, ss. 2, 3; 1831, c. 40, s. 2; C. S. 4211.)

§ 14-30. Malicious maiming. — If any person shall, of malice aforethought, unlawfully cut out or disable the tongue or put out an eye of any other person, with intent to murder, maim or disfigure, the person so offending, his counselors, abettors and aiders, knowing of and privy to the offense, shall, for the first offense, be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, and be fined, in the discretion of the court; and for the second offense shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than five nor more than sixty years. (Rev., s. 3636; Code, s. 1080; R. C., c. 34, s. 14; 1754, c. 56; 1791, c. 339, s. 1; 1831, c. 12; 22 and 23 Car. II, c. 1 (Coventry Act); C. S. 4212.)

§ 14-31. Maliciously assaulting in a secret manner.—If any person shall in a secret manner maliciously commit an assault and battery with any deadly weapon upon another by waylaying or otherwise, with intent to kill such other person, notwithstanding the person so assaulted may have been conscious of the presence of his adversary, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in jail or in the penitentiary for not less than twelve months nor more than twenty years, or by a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3621; 1887, c. 32; 1919, c. 25; C. S. 4213.)

§ 14-32. Assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill resulting in injury.—Any person who assaults another with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, and inflicts serious injury not resulting in death, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison or be worked under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission for a period not less than four months nor more than ten years. (1919, c. 101; 1931, c. 145, s. 30; C. S. 4214.)

§ 14-33. Punishment for assault.—In all cases of an assault, with or without intent to kill or injure, the person convicted shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court: Provided, that where no deadly weapon has been used and no serious damage done, the punishment in assaults, assaults and batteries, and affrays shall not exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days; but this proviso shall not apply to cases of assault with intent to kill or with intent to commit rape, or to cases of assault or assault and battery by any man or boy over eighteen years old on any female person: Provided, that in all cases of assault, assault and battery, and affrays, wherein deadly weapons are used and serious injury is inflicted, and the plea of the defendant is self-defense, evidence of former threats against the defendant by the person alleged to have been assaulted by him, if such threats shall have been communicated to the defendant before the altercation, shall be competent as bearing upon the reasonableness of the claim of apprehension by the defendant of death or serious bodily harm, and also as bearing upon the amount of force which reasonably appeared necessary to the defendant, under the circumstances, to repel his assailant. (Rev., s. 3620; Code, s. 987; 1870-1, c 43, s. 2; 1873-4, c. 176, s. 6; 1879, c. 92, ss. 2, 6; 1911, c. 193; 1933, c. 189; C. S. 4215.)

§ 14-34. Assaulting by pointing gun.—If any person shall point any gun or pistol at any person, either in fun or otherwise, whether such gun or pistol be loaded or not loaded, he shall be guilty of an assault, and upon conviction of the same shall be fined, imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3622; 1889, c. 527; C. S. 4216.)

Art. 9. Hazing.

§ 14-35. Hazing; definition and punishment.—It shall be unlawful for any student in any college or school in this state to engage in what is known as hazing, or to aid or abet any other student in the commission of this offense. For the purposes of this section hazing is defined as follows: "to annoy any student by playing abusive or ridiculous tricks upon him, to frighten, scold, beat or harass him, or to subject him to personal indignity." Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor. (1913, c. 169, ss. 1, 2, 3, 4; C. S. 4217.)

§ 14-36. Expulsion from school; duty of faculty to expel.—Upon conviction of any student of the offense of hazing, or of aiding or abetting in the commission of this offense, he shall, in addition to any punishment imposed by the court, be expelled from the college or school he is attending. The faculty or governing board of any college or school charged with the duty of expulsion of students for proper cause shall, upon such conviction at once expel the offender, and a failure to do so shall be a misdemeanor. (1913, c. 169, ss. 5, 6; C. S. 4218.)

§ 14-37. Certain persons and schools excepted; copy of article to be posted.—This article shall not apply to females, nor to schools or colleges not keeping boarders, nor to schools keeping less than ten student boarders. A copy of this article shall be framed and hung on display in every college or school to which it applies. (1913, c. 169, s. 3; C. S. 4219.)

§ 14-38. Witnesses in hazing trials; no indictment to be founded on self-criminating testimony.—In all trials for the offense of hazing any student or other person subpœnaed as a witness in behalf of the state shall be required to testify if called upon to do so: Provided, however, that no student or other person so testifying shall be amenable or subject to indictment on account of, or by reason of, such testimony. (1913, c. 169, s. 8; C. S. 4220.)

Art. 10. Kidnapping and Abduction.

§ 14-39. Kidnapping.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or any individual, male or female, or its or their agents, to kidnap or cause to be kidnapped any human being, or to demand a ransom of any person, firm or corporation, male or female, to be paid on account of kidnapping, or to hold any human being for ransom: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to a father or mother for taking into their custody their own child.

Any person, or their agent, violating or causing to be violated any provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction therefor, shall be punishable by imprisonment for life.

Any firm or corporation violating, or causing to be violated through their agent or agents, any of the provisions of this section, and upon being found guilty, shall be liable to the injured party suing therefor, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), and shall forfeit its or their charter and right to do business in the state of North Carolina. (1933, c. 542.)

§ 14-40. Enticing minors out of the state for the purpose of employment.—If any person shall employ and carry beyond the limits of this state any minor, or shall induce any minor to go beyond the limits of this state, for the purpose of employment without the consent in writing, duly authenticated, of the parent, guardian or other person having authority over such minor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five hundred and not more than one thousand dollars for each offense. The fact of the employment and going out of the state of the minor, or of the going out of the state by the minor, at the solicitation of the person for the purpose of employment, shall be prima facie evidence of knowledge that the person employed or solicited to go beyond the limits of the state is a minor. (Rev., s. 3630; 1891, c. 45; C. S. 4222.)

§ 14-41. Abduction of children.—If any one shall abduct or by any means induce any child under the age of fourteen years, who shall reside with its father, mother, uncle, aunt, brother or elder sister, or shall reside at a school, or be an orphan and reside with a guardian, to leave such person or school, he shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the state's prison for a period not exceeding fifteen years. (Rev., s. 3358; Code, s. 973; 1879, c. 81; C. S. 4223.)

§ 14-42. Conspiring to abduct children.—If any one shall conspire to abduct, or by any means to induce any child under the age of fourteen years, who shall reside with any of the persons designated in § 14-41, or shall reside at school, to leave such persons or the school, he shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be punished as prescribed in that section: Provided, that no one who may be a nearer blood relation to the child than the persons named in § 14-41 shall be indicted for either of said offenses. (Rev., s. 3359; Code, s. 974; 1879, c. 81, s. 2; C. S. 4224.)

§ 14-43. Abduction of married women.—If any male person shall abduct or elope with the wife of another, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned not less than one year nor more than ten years: Provided, that the woman, since her marriage, has been an innocent and virtuous woman: Provided further, that no conviction shall be had upor the unsupported testimony of any such married woman. (Rev., s. 3360; 1903, c. 362; C. S. 4225.)

Art. 11. Abortion and Kindred Offenses.

§ 14-44. Using drugs or instruments to destroy unborn child.—If any person shall willfully administer to any woman, either pregnant or quick with child, or prescribe for any such woman, or advise or procure any such woman to take any medicine, drug or other substance whatever, or shall use or employ any instrument or other means with intent thereby to destroy such child, unless the same shall be necessary to preserve the life of the mother, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years, and be fined at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3618; Code, s. 975; 1881, c. 351, s. 1; C. S. 4226.)

§ 14-45. Using drugs or instruments to produce miscarriage or injure pregnant woman.—If any person shall administer to any pregnant woman, or prescribe for any such woman, or advise and procure such woman to take any medicine, drug or anything whatsoever, with intent thereby to procure the miscarriage of such woman, or to injure or destroy such woman, or shall use any instrument or application for any of the above purposes, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the jail or state's prison for not less than one year nor more than five years and shall be fined, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3619, Code, s. 976; 1881, c. 351, s. 2; C. S. 4227.)

§ 14-46. Concealing birth of child.—If any person shall, by secretly burying or otherwise disposing of the dead body of a new-born child, endeavor to conceal the birth of such child, such person shall be guilty of a felony, and punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, such imprisonment to be in the county jail or state's prison, at the discretion of the court: Provided, that the imprisonment in the state's prison shall in no case exceed a term of ten years: Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the mother, who may be guilty of the homicide of her child, from being prosecuted and punished for the same according to the principles of the common law. Any person aiding, counseling or abetting any woman in concealing the birth of her child shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3623; Code, s. 1004; R. C., c. 34, s. 28; 1818, c. 985; 1883, c. 390; 21, Jac. I, c. 27. See 43 Geo. III, c. 58, s. 3; 9 Geo. IV, c. 31, s. 14; C. S. 4228.)

Art. 12. Libel and Slander.

§ 14-47. Communicating libelous matter to newspapers.—If any person shall state, deliver or transmit by any means whatever, to the manager, editor, publisher or reporter of any newspaper or periodical for publication therein any false and libelous statement concerning any person or corporation, and thereby secure the publication of the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3635; 1901, c. 557, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 4229.)

§ 14-48. Slandering innocent women.—If any person shall attempt, in a wanton and malicious manner, to destroy the reputation of an innocent woman by words, written or spoken, which amount to a charge of incontinency, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3640; Code, s. 1113; 1879, c. 156; C. S. 4230.)

Art. 13. Injuring Others by Use of High Explosives.

§ 14-49. Willful injury a felony; punishment.—Any person who shall willfully and maliciously injure or attempt to injure any person, or any building in actual use for residential or business purposes or customarily devoted to any such use or any contents thereof, by the use of nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gunpowder, or other high explosive, shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than five years and not more than thirty years. (1923, c. 80, s. 1; C. S. 4231(a).)

§ 14-50. Conspiracy declared a felony; punishment.—If any two or more persons shall conspire to willfully and maliciously injure any person, or any building in actual use for residential or business purposes or customarily devoted to any such use or any contents thereof, by the use of nitroglycerine, dynamite, gunpowder, or other high explosive, each and every one so conspiring shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two years and not more than fifteen years. (1923, c. 80, s. 2.)

SUBCHAPTER 4. OFFENSES AGAINST THE HABITATION AND OTHER BUILDINGS.

Art. 14. Burglary and Other House-Breakings.

§ 14-51. First and second degree burglary.—There shall be two degrees in the crime of burglary as defined at the common law. If the crime be committed in a dwelling-house, or in a room used as a sleeping apartment in any building, and any person is in the actual occupation of any part of said dwelling-house or sleeping apartment at the time of the commission of such crime, it shall be burglary in the first degree. If such crime be committed in a dwelling-house or sleeping apartment not actually occupied by any one at the time of the commission of the crime, or if it be committed in any house within the curtilage of a dwelling-house or in any building not a dwelling-house, but in which is a room used as a sleeping apartment and not actually occupied as such at the time of the commission of the crime, it shall be burglary in the second degree. (Rev., s. 3331; 1889, c. 434, s. 1; C. S. 4232.)

§ 14-52. Punishment for burglary.—Any person convicted, according to due course of law, of the crime of burglary in the first degree shall suffer death: Provided, if the jury shall so recommend, the punishment shall be imprisonment for life in the state's prison. Anyone so convicted of burglary in the second degree shall suffer imprisonment in the state's prison for life, or for a term of years, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3330; Code, s. 994; 1889, c. 434, s. 2; 1870-1, c. 222; 1941, c. 215, s. 1; C. S. 4233.)

§ 14-53. Breaking out of dwelling-house burglary.—If any person shall enter the dwelling-house of another with intent to commit any felony or other infamous crime therein, or being in such dwelling-house, shall commit any felony or other infamous crime therein, and shall, in either case, break out of such dwelling-house in the nighttime, such person shall be guilty of burglary. (Rev., s. 3332; Code, s. 995; R. C., c. 34, s. 8; 12 Anne, c. 7, s. 3; C. S. 4234.)

§ 14-54. Breaking into or entering houses otherwise than burglariously.—If any person, with intent to commit a felony or other infamous crime therein, shall break or enter either the dwelling-house of another otherwise than by a burglarious breaking; or any storehouse, shop, warehouse, banking-house, counting-house or other building where any merchandise, chattel, money, valuable security or other personal property shall be; or any uninhabited house, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3333; Code, s. 996; 1874-5, c. 166; 1879, c. 323; C. S. 4235.)

§ 14-55. Preparation to commit burglary or other house-breakings.—If any person shall be found armed with any dangerous or offensive weapon, with the intent to break or enter a dwelling, or other building whatsoever, and to commit a felony or other infamous crime therein; or shall be found having in his possession, without lawful excuse, any pick-lock, key, bit or other implement of house-breaking; or shall be found in any such building, with intent to commit a felony or other infamous crime therein, such person shall be guilty of a felony and punished by fine or imprisonment in the state's prison, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3334; Code, s. 997; 1907, c. 822; C. S. 4236.)

§ 14-56. Breaking into or entering railroad cars.—If any person shall, with intent to commit larceny or other felony, break any seal upon a railroad car containing any goods, wares, freight or other thing of value, or shall unlawfully and willfully break or enter into any railroad car containing any goods, wares, freight or other thing of value, such person shall upon conviction be punished by confinement in the penitentiary in the discretion of the court for a term not exceeding five years. Any person found unlawfully in such car shall be presumed to have entered in violation of this section. (1907, c. 468; C. S. 4237.)

§ 14-57. Burglary with explosives.—Any person who, with intent to commit crime, breaks and enters, either by day or by night, any building, whether inhabited or not, and opens or attempts to open any vault, safe, or other secure place by use of nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gunpowder, or any other explosive, or acetylene torch, shall be deemed guilty of burglary with explosives. Any person convicted under this section shall be punished as for burglary in the second degree, as provided in § 14-52. (1921, c. 5; C. S. 4237(a).)

Art. 15. Arson and Other Burnings.

§ 14-58. Punishment for arson.—Any person convicted according to due course of law of the crime of arson shall suffer death: Provided, if the jury shall so recommend, the punishment shall be imprisonment for life. (Rev., s. 3335; Code, s. 985; R. C., c. 34, s. 2; 1870-1, c. 222; 1941, c. 215, s. 2; C. S. 4238.)

§ 14-59. Burning of certain public and other corporate buildings.—If any person shall willfully and maliciously burn the statehouse, or any of the public offices of the state, or any courthouse, jail, arsenal, clerk's office, register's office, or any house belonging to any county or incorporated town in the state or to any incorporated company whatever, in which are kept the archives, documents, or public papers of such county, town or corporation, he shall, on conviction, be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than five nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3344; Code, s. 985, subsec. 3; R. C., c. 34, s. 7; 1830, c. 41, s. 1; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 5; C. S. 4239.)

§ 14-60. Setting fire to schoolhouse.—If any person shall willfully set fire to any schoolhouse, or procure the same to be done, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or the county jail, and may also be fined, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3345; 1901, c. 4, s. 28; 1919, c. 70; C. S. 4240.)

§ 14-61. Burning or attempting to burn certain bridges and buildings.—If any person, with intent to destroy the same, shall willfully and maliciously set fire to and burn any public bridge, or private toll-bridge, or the bridge of any incorporated company, or any fire-engine house, or any house belonging to any county or incorporated town, used for public purposes other than the keeping of archives, documents and public papers, or any house belonging to an incorporated company and used in the business of such company; or if any person shall willfully and maliciously attempt to burn any of such houses or bridges, or any of the houses or buildings mentioned in this article, the person offending shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3337; Code, s. 985, subsec. 4; R. C., c. 34, s. 30; 1825, c. 1278; C. S. 4241.)

§ 14-62. Setting fire to churches and certain other buildings.—If any person shall wantonly and willfully set fire to or burn or cause to be burned, or aid, counsel or procure the burning of, any church, chapel or meeting-house, or any stable, coach house, outhouse, warehouse, office, shop, mill, barn or granary, or to any building or erection used in carrying on any trade or manufacture, or any branch thereof, whether the same or any of them respectively shall then be in the possession of the offender, or in the possession of any other person, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than two nor more than forty years. (Rev., s. 3338; 1885, c. 66; 1903, c. 665, s. 2; 1874-5, c. 228; Code, s. 985, subsec. 6; 1927, c. 11, s. 1; C. S. 4242.)

§ 14-63. Burning boats and barges.—If any person, with the intent to destroy the same, shall willfully and maliciously, or for a fraudulent purpose, set fire to and burn any boat, barge or float, whether he be the owner thereof or not, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for not less than four months nor more than ten years, or fined in the discretion of the court. (1909, c. 854; C. S. 4243.)

§ 14-64. Burning of gin-houses, tobacco houses and stables.—Every person convicted of the willful burning of any gin-house or tobacco house, or any part thereof, or, in the nighttime, of any stable containing a horse or a mule, or cattle, shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than two nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3341; 1863, c. 17; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 5; 1903, c. 665, s. 1; Code, s. 985, subsec. 2; C. S. 4244.)

§ 14-65. Fraudulently setting fire to dwelling-houses.—If any person, being the occupant of any building used as a dwelling-house, whether such person be the owner thereof or not, or, being the owner of any building designed or intended as a dwelling-house, shall willfully and wantonly or for a fraudulent purpose set fire to or burn or cause to be burned, or aid, counsel or procure the burning of such building, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail, and may also be fined, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3340; Code, s. 985; 1903, c. 665, s. 3; 1909, c. 862; 1927, c. 11, s. 2; C. S. 4245.)

§ 14-66. Willful and malicious burning of personal property. — Any person who shall willfully or maliciously burn, or cause to be burned, or aid, counsel, or procure the burning of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other chattels or personal property of any kind, whether the same shall be at the time insured, by any person or corporation against loss or damage by fire, or not, with intent to injure or prejudice the insurer, creditor or the person owning the property, or any other person, whether the same be the property of such person or another, shall be guilty of a felony. (1921, c. 119; C. S. 4245(a).)

§ 14-67. Attempting to burn dwelling-houses and certain other buildings.—If any person shall willfully attempt to burn any dwelling-house, uninhabited house, barn, stable or outhouse, or any mill, manufacturing house, cotton gin, tobacco barn, granary or turpentine distillery, the property of another, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail, and may also be fined, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3336; Code, s. 985, subsec. 7; 1876-7, c. 13; C. S. 4246.)

§ 14-68. Failure of owner of property to comply with orders of public authorities.—If the owner or occupant of any building or premises shall fail to comply with the orders of the chief of the fire department, or of the insurance commissioner, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars for each day's neglect. (Rev., s. 3343; 1899, c. 58, s. 4; C. S. 4247.)

§ 14-69. Failure of officers to investigate incendiary fires.—If any town or city officer shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with any of the requirements of the law in regard to the investigation of incendiary fires, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3342; 1899, c. 58, s. 5; C. S. 4248.)

SUBCHAPTER 5. OFFENSES AGAINST PROPERTY.

Art. 16. Larceny.

§ 14-70. Distinction between grand and petit larceny abolished.—All distinctions between petit and grand larceny, where the same has had the benefit of clergy, are abolished; and the offense of felonious stealing, where no other punishment shall be specifically prescribed therefor by statute, shall be punished as petit larceny is: Provided, that in cases of much aggravation, or of hardened offenders, the court may, in its discretion, sentence the offender to the state's prison for a period not exceeding ten years. (Rev., s. 3500; Code, s. 1075; R. C., c. 34, s. 26; C. S. 4249.)

§ 14-71. Receiving stolen goods.—If any person shall receive any chattel, property, money, valuable security or other thing whatsoever, the stealing or taking whereof amounts to larceny or a felony, either at common law or by virtue of any statute made or hereafter to be made, such person knowing the same to have been feloniously stolen or taken, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be indicted and convicted, whether the felon stealing and taking such chattels, property, money, valuable security or other thing, shall or shall not have been previously convicted, or shall or shall not be amenable to justice; and any such receiver may be dealt with, indicted, tried and punished in any county in which he shall have, or shall have had, any such property in his possession or in any county in which the thief may be tried, in the same manner as such receiver may be dealt with, indicted, tried and punished in the county where he actually received such chattel, money, security, or other thing; and such receiver shall be punished as one convicted of larceny. (Rev., s. 3507; Code, s. 1074; R. C., c. 34, s. 56; 1797, c. 485, s. 2; C. S. 4250.)

§ 14-72. Larceny of property, or the receiving of stolen goods, not exceeding fifty dollars in value.—The larceny of property, or the receiving of stolen goods knowing them to be stolen, of the value of not more than fifty dollars, is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and the punishment therefor shall be in the discretion of the court. If the larceny is from the person, or from the dwelling by breaking and entering, this section shall have no application: Provided, that this section shall not apply to horse stealing. In all cases of doubt the jury shall, in the verdict, fix the value of the property stolen. (Rev., s. 3506; 1895, c. 285; 1913, c. 118, s. 1; 1941, c. 178, s. 1; C. S. 4251.)

§ 14-73. Jurisdiction of the superior courts in cases of larceny and receiving stolen goods.—The superior courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the trial of all cases of the larceny of property, or the receiving of stolen goods knowing them to be stolen, of the value of more than fifty dollars. (1913, c. 118, s. 2; 1941, c. 178, s. 2; C. S. 4252.)

§ 14-74. Larceny by servants and other employees.—If any servant or other employee, to whom any money, goods or other chattels, or any of the articles, securities or choses in action mentioned in the following section, by his master shall be delivered safely to be kept to the use of his master, shall withdraw himself from his master and go away with such money, goods or other chattels, or any of the articles, securities or choses in action mentioned as aforesaid, or any part thereof, with intent to steal the same and defraud his master thereof, contrary to the trust and confidence in him reposed by his said master; or if any servant, being in the service of his master, without the assent of his master, shall embezzle such money, goods or other chattels, or any of the articles, securities or choses in action mentioned as aforesaid, or any part thereof, or otherwise convert the same to his own use, with like purpose to steal them, or to defraud his master thereof, the servant so offending shall be fined or imprisoned in the state prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, at the discretion of the court: Provided, that nothing contained in this section shall extend to apprentices or servants within the age of sixteen years. (Rev., s. 3499; Code, s. 1065; R. C., c. 34, s. 18; 21 Hen. VIII, c. 7, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4253.)

§ 14-75. Larceny of chose in action.—If any person shall feloniously steal, take and carry away, or take by robbery, any bank-note, check or other order for the payment of money issued by or drawn on any bank or other society or corporation within this state or within any of the United States, or any treasury warrant, debenture, certificate of stock or other public security, or certificate of stock in any corporation, or any order, bill of exchange, bond, promissory note or other obligation, either for the payment of money or for the delivery of specific articles, being the property of any other person, or of any corporation (notwithstanding any of the said particulars may be termed in law a chose in action), such felonious stealing, taking and carrying away, or taking by robbery, shall be a felony of the same nature and degree and in the same manner as it would have been if the offender had feloniously stolen, or taken by robbery, money, goods or property of any value, and the offender for every such offense shall suffer the same punishment and be subject to the same pains, penalties and disabilities as he should or might have suffered if he had feloniously stolen or taken by robbery money, goods or other property of value. (Rev., s. 3498; Code, s. 1064; R. C., c. 34, s. 20; 1811, c. 814, s. 1; C. S. 4254.)

§ 14-76. Larceny, mutilation, or destruction of public records and papers.—If any person shall steal, or for any fraudulent purpose shall take from its place of deposit for the time being, or from any person having the lawful custody thereof, or shall unlawfully and maliciously obliterate, injure or destroy any record, writ, return, panel, process, interrogatory, deposition, affidavit, rule, order or warrant of attorney or any original document whatsoever, of or belonging to any court of record, or relating to any matter, civil or criminal, begun, pending or terminated in any such court, or any bill, answer, interrogatory, deposition, affidavit, order or decree or any original document whatsoever, of or belonging to any court or relating to any cause or matter begun, pending or terminated in any such court, every such offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and in any indictment for such offense it shall not be necessary to allege that the article, in respect to which the offense is committed, is the property of any person or that the same is of any value. If any person shall steal or for any fraudulent purpose shall take from the register's office, or from any person having the lawful custody thereof, or shall unlawfully and willfully obliterate, injure or destroy any book wherein deeds or other instruments of writing are registered, or any other book of registration or record required to be kept by the register of deeds or shall unlawfully destroy, obliterate, deface or remove any records of proceedings of the board of county commissioners, or unlawfully and fraudulently abstract any record, receipt, order or voucher or other paper-writing required to be kept by the clerk of the board of commissioners of any county, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3508; Code, s. 1071; R. C., c. 34, s. 31; 8 Hen. VI. c. 12, s. 3; 1881, c. 17; C. S. 4255.)

§ 14-77. Larceny, concealment or destruction of wills.—If any person, either during the life of the testator or after his death, shall steal or, for any fraudulent purpose, shall destroy or conceal any will, codicil or other testamentary instrument, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3510; Code, s. 1072; R. C., c. 34, s. 32; C. S. 4256.)

§ 14-78. Larceny of ungathered crops.—If any person shall steal or feloniously take and carry away any maize, corn, wheat, rice or other grain, or any cotton, tobacco, potatoes, peanuts, pulse, fruit, vegetable or other product cultivated for food or market, growing, standing or remaining ungathered in any field or ground, he shall be guilty of larceny, and shall be punished accordingly. (Rev., s. 3503; Code, s. 1069; 1811, c. 816; R. C., c. 34, s. 21; 1868-9, c. 251; C. S. 4257.)

§ 14-79. Larceny of ginseng.—If any person shall take and carry away, or shall aid in taking or carrying away, any ginseng growing upon the lands of another person, with intent to steal the same, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned not less than two years nor more than five years, in the discretion of the court: Provided, that such ginseng, at the time the same is taken, shall be in beds and the land upon which such beds are located shall be surrounded by a lawful fence. (Rev., s. 3502; 1905, c. 211; C. S. 4258.)

§ 14-80. Larceny of wood and other property from land.—If any person, not being the present owner or bona fide claimant thereof, shall willfully and unlawfully enter upon the lands of another, carrying off or being engaged in carrying off any wood or other kind of property whatsoever, growing or being thereon, the same being the property of the owner of the premises, or under his control, keeping or care, such person shall, if the act be done with felonious intent, be guilty of larceny, and punished as for that offense; and if not done with such intent, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3511; Code, s. 1070; 1866, c. 60; C. S. 4259.)

§ 14-81. Larceny of horses and mules.—If any person shall steal any horse, mare, gelding or mule, he shall suffer imprisonment at hard labor for not less than one nor more than twenty years, at the discretion of the court. A count under this section may be joined in a bill of indictment with a count under section 14-82. (Rev., s. 3505; Code, s. 1066; 1868, c. 37, s. 1; 1879, c. 234, s. 2; 1866-7, c. 62; 1917, c. 162, s. 2; C. S. 4260.)

§ 14-82. Taking horses or mules for temporary purposes.—If any person shall unlawfully take and carry away any horse, gelding, mare or mule, the property of another person, secretly and against the will of the owner of such property, with intent to deprive the owner of the special or temporary use of the same, or with the intent to use such property for a special or temporary purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3509; Code, s. 1067; 1879, c. 234, s. 1; 1913, c. 11; C. S. 4261.)

§ 14-83. Taking of automobiles and electric vehicles for temporary purpose.—If any person shall unlawfully take and carry away any automobile or electrical vehicle of any nature, kind or description whatsoever, the property of another person, secretly and against the will of the owner of such property, with intent to deprive the owner of the special or temporary use of the same, or with the intent to use such property for a special or temporary purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of larceny, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, in the discretion of the court: Provided, that this section shall not be construed to repeal any other section of this article. (1907, c. 126; C. S. 4262.)

§ 14-84. Larceny of taxed dogs misdemeanor.—The larceny of any dog upon which the license tax provided in article two of the chapter entitled Dogs has been paid shall be a misdemeanor. (1919, c. 116, s. 9; C. S. 4263.)

§ 14-85. Pursuing or injuring livestock with intent to steal.—If any person shall pursue, kill or wound any horse, mule, ass, jennet, cattle, hog, sheep or goat, the property of another, with the intent unlawfully and feloniously to convert the same to his own use, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punishable, in all respects, as if convicted of larceny, though such animal may not have come into the actual possession of the person so offending. (Rev., s. 3504; Code, s. 1068; 1866, c. 57; C. S. 4264.)

§ 14-86. Destruction or taking of soft drink bottles.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or any employee thereof, to maliciously take up, carry away, destroy or in any way dispose of bottles or other property belonging to any bottler, bottling company, person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of bottling and/or distributing in bottles or other closed containers soda water, coca-cola, pepsi-cola, cheri-wine, cherocola, ginger ale, grape and other fruit juices or imitations thereof, carbonated or malted beverages and like preparations commonly known as soft drinks. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 322, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 17. Robbery.

§ 14-87. Robbery with firearms or other dangerous weapons.—Any person or persons who, having in possession or with the use or threatened use of any firearms or other dangerous weapon, implement or means, whereby the life of a person is endangered or threatened, unlawfully takes or attempts to take personal property from another or from any place of business, residence or banking institution or any other place where there is a person or persons in attendance, at any time, either day or night, or who aids or abets any such person or persons in the commission of such crime, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than five nor more than thirty years. (1929, c. 187, s. 1.)

§ 14-88. Train robbery.—If any person shall enter upon any locomotive engine or car on any railroad in this state, and by threats, the exhibition of deadly weapons or the discharge of any pistol or gun, in or near any such engine or car, shall induce or compel any person on such engine or car to submit and deliver up, or allow to be taken therefrom, or from him, anything of value, he shall be guilty of train robbery, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for not less than ten years nor more than twenty years. (Rev., s. 3765; 1895, c. 204, s. 2; C. S. 4266.)

§ 14-89. Attempted train robbery.—If any person shall stop, or cause to be stopped, or impede, or cause to be impeded, or conspire with others for that purpose, any locomotive engine or car on any railroad in this state, by intimidation of those in charge thereof or by force, threats or otherwise, for the purpose of taking therefrom or causing to be delivered up to such person so forcing, threatening or intimidating, anything of value, to be appropriated to his own use, he shall be guilty of attempting train robbery, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by confinement in the state's prison for not less than two years nor more than twenty years. (Rev., s. 3766; 1895, c. 204, s. 1; C. S. 4267.)

Art. 18. Embezzlement.

§ 14-90. Embezzlement of property received by virtue of office or employment.—If any person exercising a public trust or holding a public office, or any guardian, administrator, executor, trustee, or any receiver, or any other fiduciary, or any officer or agent of a corporation, or any agent, consignee, clerk, bailee or servant, except persons under the age of sixteen years, of any person, shall embezzle or fraudulently or knowingly and willfully misapply or convert to his own use, or shall take, make way with or secrete, with intent to embezzle or fraudulently or knowingly and willfully misapply or convert to his own use any money, goods or other chattels, bank note, check or order for the payment of money issued by or drawn on any bank or other corporation, or any treasury warrant, treasury note, bond or obligation for the payment of money issued by the United States or by any state, or any other valuable security whatsoever belonging to any other person or corporation, which shall have come into his possession or under his care, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished as in cases of larceny. (Rev., s. 3406; Code, s. 1014; 21 Hen. VII, c. 7; 1871-2, c. 145, s. 2; 1889, c. 226; 1891, c. 188; 1897, c. 31; 1919, c. 97, s. 25; 1931, c. 158; 1939, c. 1; 1941, c. 31; C. S. 4268.)

§ 14-91. Embezzlement of state property by public officers and employees.—If any officer, agent or employee of the state, or other person having or holding in trust for the same any bonds issued by the state, or any security, or other property and effects of the same, shall embezzle or knowingly and willfully misapply or convert the same to his own use, or otherwise willfully or corruptly abuse such trust, such offender and all persons aiding and abetting, or otherwise assisting therein, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not less than ten thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the state's prison not less than twenty years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3407; Code, s. 1015; 1874-5, c. 52; C. S. 4269.)

§ 14-92. Embezzlement of funds by public officers and trustees.—If any officer, agent, or employee of any city, county or incorporated town, or of any penal, charitable, religious or educational institution; or if any person having or holding any moneys or property in trust for any city, county, incorporated town, penal, charitable, religious or educational institution, shall embezzle or otherwise willfully and corruptly use or misapply the same for any purpose other than that for which such moneys or property is held, such person shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined and imprisoned in the state's prison in the discretion of the court. If any clerk of the superior court or any sheriff, treasurer, register of deeds or other public officer of any county or town of the state shall embezzle or wrongfully convert to his own use, or corruptly use, or shall misapply for any purpose other than that for which the same are held, or shall fail to pay over and deliver to the proper persons entitled to receive the same when lawfully required so to do, any moneys, funds, securities or other property which such officer shall have received by virtue or color of his office in trust for any person or corporation, such officer shall be guilty of a felony. The provisions of this section shall apply to all persons who shall go out of office and fail or neglect to account to or deliver over to their successors in office or other persons lawfully entitled to receive the same all such moneys, funds and securities or property aforesaid. The punishment shall be imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail, or fine in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3408; Code, s. 1016; 1891, c. 241; 1876-7, c. 47; C. S. 4270.)

§ 14-93. Embezzlement by treasurers of charitable and religious organizations.—If any treasurer or other financial officer of any benevolent or religious institution, society or congregation shall lend any of the moneys coming into his hands to any other person or association without the consent of the institution, association or congregation to whom such moneys belong; or, if he shall fail to account for such moneys when called on, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3409; Code, s. 1017; 1879, c. 105; C. S. 4271.)

§ 14-94. Embezzlement by officers of railroad companies.—If any president, secretary, treasurer, director, engineer, agent or other officer of any railroad company shall embezzle any moneys, bonds or other valuable funds or securities, with which such president, secretary, treasurer, director, engineer, agent or other officer shall be charged by virtue of his office or agency, or shall in any way, directly or indirectly, apply or appropriate the same for the use or benefit of himself or any other person, state or corporation, other than the company of which he is president, secretary, treasurer, director, engineer, agent or other officer, for every such offense the person so offending shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction in the superior or criminal court of any county through which the railroad of such company shall pass, shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than three nor more than ten years, and fined not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 3403; Code, s. 1018; 1870-1, c. 103, s. 1; C. S. 4272.)

§ 14-95. Conspiring with officers of railroad companies to embezzle.—If any person shall agree, combine, collude or conspire with the president, secretary, treasurer, director, engineer or agent of any railroad company to commit any offense specified in § 14-94, such person so offending shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction in the superior or criminal court of a county through which the railroad of any company against which such offense may be perpetrated passes, shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than three nor more than ten years, and fined not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 3404; Code, s. 1019; 1870-1, c. 103, s. 2; C. S. 4273.)

§ 14-96. Embezzlement by insurance agents and brokers.—If any insurance agent or broker who acts in negotiating a contract of insurance by an insurance company, association or fraternal order or society, lawfully doing business in this state, embezzles or fraudulently converts to his own use, or, with intent to use or embezzle, takes, secretes or otherwise disposes of, or fraudulently withholds, appropriates, lends, invests or otherwise uses or applies any money or substitute for money received by him as such agent or broker, contrary to the instructions or without the consent of the company for or on account of which the same was received by him, he shall be deemed guilty of larceny. (Rev., s. 3489; 1889, c. 54, s. 103; 1911, c. 196, s. 8; C. S. 4274.)

§ 14-97. Appropriation of partnership funds by partner to personal use.—Any person engaged in a partnership business in the state of North Carolina who shall, without the knowledge and consent of his copartner or copartners, take funds belonging to the partnership business and appropriate the same to his own personal use with the fraudulent intent of depriving his co-partners of the use thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section, upon conviction, shall be punished as is now done in cases of misdemeanor. (1921, c. 127; C. S. 4274(a).)

§ 14-98. Embezzlement by surviving partner.—If any surviving partner shall willfully and intentionally convert any of the property, money or effects belonging to the partnership to his own use, and refuse to account for the same on settlement, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment in the state's prison in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3405; 1901, c. 640, s. 9; C. S. 4275.)

§ 14-99. Embezzlement of taxes by officers.—If any officer appropriates to his own use the state, county, school, city or town taxes, he shall be guilty of embezzlement, and may be punished by confinement in the state's prison not exceeding five years, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3410; Code, s. 3705; 1883, c. 136, s. 49; C. S. 4276.)

Art. 19. False Pretenses and Cheats.

§ 14-100. Obtaining property by false tokens and other false pretenses.—If any person shall knowingly and designedly, by means of any forged or counterfeited paper, in writing or in print, or by any false token, or other false pretense whatsoever, obtain from any person or corporation within the state any money, goods, property or other thing of value, or any bank-note, check or order for the payment of money, issued by, or drawn on, any bank or other society or corporation within this state or any of the United States, or any treasury warrant, debenture, certificate of stock or public security, or any order, bill of exchange, bond, promissory note or other obligation, either for the payment of money or for the delivery of specific articles, with intent to cheat or defraud any person or corporation of the same, such person shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than four months nor more than ten years, or fined, in the discretion of the court: Provided, that if, on the trial of any one indicted for such crime, it shall be proved that he obtained the property in such manner as to amount to larceny, he shall not, by reason thereof, be entitled to be acquitted of the felony; and no person tried for such felony shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny upon the same facts: Provided further, that it shall be sufficient in any indictment for obtaining or attempting to obtain any such property by false pretenses to allege that the party accused did the act with intent to defraud, without alleging an intent to defraud any particular person, and without alleging any ownership of the chattel, money or valuable security; and, on the trial of any such indictment, it shall not be necessary to prove an intent to defraud any particular person, but it shall be sufficient to prove that the party accused did the act charged with an intent to defraud. (Rev., s. 3432; Code, s. 1025; R. C., c. 34, s. 67; 1811, c. 814, s. 2; 33 Hen. VIII, c. 1, ss. 1, 2; 30 Geo. II, c. 24, s. 1; C. S. 4277.)

§ 14-101. Obtaining signatures or property by false pretenses.—If any person, with intent to defraud or cheat another, shall designedly, by color of any false token or writing, or by any other false pretense, obtain the signature of any person to any written instrument, the false making of which would be punishable as forgery, or obtain from any person any money, goods, wares, merchandise or other property or valuable thing whatsoever, he shall be punishable by fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state's prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than five years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3433; Code, s. 1026; 1871-2, c. 92; C. S. 4278.)

§ 14-102. Obtaining property by false representation of pedigree of animals.—If any person shall, with intent to defraud or cheat, knowingly represent any animal for breeding purposes as being of greater degree of any particular strain of blood than such animal actually possesses, and by such representation obtain from any other person money or other thing of value, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall for each offense be punished by a fine of not less than sixty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months. (Rev., s. 3307; 1891, c. 94, s. 2; C. S. 4279.)

§ 14-103. Obtaining certificate of registration of animals by false representation.—If any person shall, by any false representation or pretense, with intent to defraud or cheat, obtain from any club, association, society or company for the improvement of the breed of cattle, horses, sheep, swine, fowls or other domestic animals or birds, a certificate of registration of any animal in the herd register of any such association, society or company, or a transfer of any such registration, upon conviction thereof he shall be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Rev., s. 3308; 1891, c. 94, s. 1; C. S. 4280.)

§ 14-104. Obtaining advances under promise to work and pay for same.—If any person, with intent to cheat or defraud another, shall obtain any advances in money, provisions, goods, wares or merchandise of any description from any other person or corporation upon and by color of any promise or agreement that the person making the same will begin any work or labor of any description for such person or corporation from whom the advances are obtained, and the person making the promise or agreement shall willfully fail, without a lawful excuse, to commence or complete such work according to contract, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3431; 1889, c. 444; 1891, c. 106; 1905, c. 411; C. S. 4281.)

§ 14-105. Obtaining advances under written promise to pay therefor out of designated property.—If any person shall obtain any advances in money, provisions, goods, wares or merchandise of any description from any other person or corporation, upon any written representation that the person making the same is the owner of any article of produce, or of any other specific chattel or personal property, which property, or the proceeds of which the owner in such representation thereby agrees to apply to the discharge of the debt so created, and the owner shall fail to apply such produce or other property, or the proceeds thereof, in accordance with such agreement, or shall dispose of the same in any other manner than is so agreed upon by the parties to the transaction, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, whether he shall or shall not have been the owner of any such property at the time such representation was made. (Rev., s. 3434; Code, s. 1027; 1879, cc. 185, 186; 1905, c. 104; C. S. 4282.)

§ 14-106. Obtaining property in return for worthless check, draft or order.—Every person who, with intent to cheat and defraud another, shall obtain money, credit, goods, wares or any other thing of value by means of a check, draft or order of any kind upon any bank, person, firm or corporation, not indebted to the drawer, or where he has not provided for the payment or acceptance of the same, and the same be not paid upon presentation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. The giving of the aforesaid worthless check, draft, or order shall be prima facie evidence of an intent to cheat and defraud. (1907, c. 975; 1909, c. 647; C. S. 4283.)

Local Modification.—New Hanover: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 636.

§ 14-107. Worthless checks.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, to draw, make, utter or issue and deliver to another, any check or draft on any bank or depository, for the payment of money or its equivalent, knowing at the time of the making, drawing, uttering, issuing and delivering such check or draft as aforesaid, that the maker or drawer thereof has not sufficient funds on deposit in or credit with such bank or depository with which to pay the same upon presentation.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [If the amount due on such check is not over fifty dollars, the punishment shall not exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days.]

The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank or depository for the payment of any such check or draft. The part of this section in brackets shall only apply to Pitt county, Robeson county, Iredell county, Martin county, Lee county, Rutherford county, Bladen county, Cumberland county, Mecklenburg county, Catawba county, Sampson county, Alleghany county, Lenoir county, Randolph county, Gaston county, Hoke county, Madison county, Burke county, Transylvania county, Rockingham county, Halifax county, Hertford county, Richmond county, Chatham county, Pamlico county, Wake county, Haywood county, Granville county, Davidson county, Anson county, Carteret county, Davie county, Forsyth county, Greene county, Jackson county, Henderson county, Stokes county, Onslow county, Macon county, Currituck county, Chowan county, Vance county, Edgecombe county, Northampton county, Stanly county, Cabarrus county, Mitchell county, Yancey county, Avery county, Alamance county, Franklin county, Yadkin county, Caldwell county, Gates county, Ashe county, Washington county, Nash county, Johnston county, Duplin county, Wayne county, Guilford county, Rowan county, Bertie county, Moore county, Harnett county, Columbus county, Watauga county, Lincoln county, Caswell county, Orange county, Buncombe county, Wilkes county, Hyde county, Swain county, Clay county, Graham county, Cherokee county, Scotland county, Union county, and Surry county. (1925, c. 14; 1927, c. 62; 1929, c. 273, ss. 1, 2; 1931, cc. 63, 138; 1933, cc. 43, 64, 93, 170, 265, 362, 458; 1939, c. 346.)

Local Modification.—For an act amending an Act that was never passed by the legislature, and applying only to Durham County, see Public Laws 1931, c. 292.

§ 14-108. Obtaining property or services from slot machines, etc., by false coins or tokens.—Any person who shall operate, or cause to be operated, or who shall attempt to operate, or attempt to cause to be operated any automatic vending machine, slot machine, coin-box telephone or other receptable designed to receive lawful coin of the United States of America in connection with the sale, use or enjoyment of property or service, by means of a slug or any false, counterfeited, mutilated, sweated or foreign coin, or by any means, method, trick or device whatsoever not lawfully authorized by the owner, lessee or licensee of such machine, coin-box telephone or receptacle, or who shall take, obtain or receive from or in connection with any automatic vending machine, slot machine, coin-box telephone or other receptacle designed to receive lawful coin of the United States of America in connection with the sale, use or enjoyment of property or service, any goods, wares, merchandise, gas, electric current, article of value, or the use or enjoyment of any telephone or telegraph facilities or service, or of any musical instrument, phonograph or other property, without depositing in and surrendering to such machine, coin-box telephone or receptacle lawful coin of the United States of America to the amount required therefor by the owner, lessee or licensee of such machine, coin-box telephone or receptacle, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or in the discretion of the court, by both. (1927, c. 68, s. 1.)

§ 14-109. Manufacture, sale, or gift of devices for cheating slot machines, etc.—Any person who, with intent to cheat or defraud the owner, lessee, licensee or other person entitled to the contents of any automatic vending machine, slot machine, coin-box telephone or other receptacle, depository or contrivance designed to receive lawful coin of the United States of America in connection with the sale, use or enjoyment of property or service, or who, knowing that the same is intended for unlawful use, shall manufacture for sale, or sell or give away any slug, device or substance whatsoever intended or calculated to be placed or deposited in any such automatic vending machine, slot machine, coin-box telephone or other such receptacle, depository or contrivance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or in the discretion of the court, by both. (1927, c. 68, s. 2.)

§ 14-110. Obtaining entertainment at hotels and boarding-houses without paying therefor.—Any person who obtains any lodging, food or accommodation at an inn, boarding-house or lodging-house without paying therefor, with intent to defraud the proprietor or manager thereof, or who obtains credit at an inn, boarding-house or lodging-house by the use of any false pretense, or who, after obtaining credit or accommodation at an inn, boarding-house or lodging-house, absconds and surreptitiously removes his baggage therefrom without paying for his food, accommodation or lodging, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1907, c. 816; C. S. 4284.)

§ 14-111. Fraudulently obtaining credit at hospitals and sanatoriums.—Any person who obtains accommodation at any public or private hospital or sanatorium without paying therefor, with intent to defraud the said hospital or sanatorium, or who obtains credit at such hospital or sanatorium by the use of any false pretense, or who, after obtaining credit or accommodation at a hospital or sanatorium, absconds and surreptitiously removes his baggage therefrom without paying for the accommodation or credit, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1931, c. 214.)

§ 14-112. Obtaining merchandise on approval.—If any person, with intent to cheat and defraud, shall solicit and obtain from any merchant any article of merchandise on approval, and shall thereafter, upon demand, refuse or fail to return the same to such merchant in an unused and undamaged condition, or to pay for the same, such person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Evidence that a person has solicited a merchant to deliver to him any article of merchandise for examination or approval and has obtained the same upon such solicitation, and thereafter, upon demand, has refused or failed to return the same to such merchant in an unused and undamaged condition, or to pay for the same, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the intent of such person to cheat and defraud, within the meaning of this section: Provided, this section shall not apply to merchandise sold upon a written contract which is signed by the purchaser. (1911, c. 185; 1941, c. 242; C. S. 4285.)

§ 14-113. Obtaining money by false representation of physical defect.—It shall be unlawful for any person to falsely represent himself or herself in any manner whatsoever as blind, deaf, dumb, or crippled or otherwise physically defective for the purpose of obtaining money or other thing of value or of making sales of any character of personal property. Any person so falsely representing himself or herself as blind, deaf, dumb, crippled or otherwise physically defective, and securing aid or assistance on account of such representation, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. (1919, c. 104; C. S. 4286.)

Art. 20. Frauds.

§ 14-114. Fraudulent disposal of mortgaged personal property.—If any person, after executing a chattel mortgage, deed of trust or other lien for a lawful purpose, shall make any disposition of any personal property embraced in such mortgage, deed of trust or lien, with intent to hinder, delay or defeat the rights of any person to whom or for whose benefit such deed was made, every person so offending and every person with a knowledge of the lien buying the property embraced in any such deed or lien, and every person assisting, aiding or abetting the unlawful disposition of such property, with intent to hinder, delay or defeat the rights of any person to whom or for whose benefit any such deed or lien was made, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. In all indictments for violations of the provisions of this section it shall not be necessary to allege or prove the person to whom any sale or disposition of the property was made, but proof of the possession of the property embraced in such chattel mortgage, deed of trust or lien, by the grantor thereof, after the execution of said chattel mortgage, deed of trust, or lien, and while it is in force, the further proof of the fact that the sheriff or other officer charged with the execution of process cannot after due diligence find such property under process directed to him for his seizure, for the satisfaction of such chattel mortgage, deed of trust or lien, or that the mortgagee demanded the possession thereof of the mortgagor for the purpose of sale to foreclose said mortgage, deed of trust or lien, after the right to such foreclosure had accrued, and that the mortgagor failed to produce, deliver or surrender the same to the mortgagee for that purpose, shall be prima facie proof of the fact of the disposition or sale of such property, by the grantor, with the intent to hinder, delay or defeat the rights of the person to whom said chattel mortgage, deed of trust or lien was made. (Rev., s. 3435; Code, s. 1089; 1887, c. 14; 1873-4, c. 31; 1874-5, c. 215; 1883, c. 61; C. S. 4287.)

§ 14-115. Secreting property to hinder enforcement of lien.—Any person removing, exchanging or secreting any personal property on which a lien exists, with intent to prevent or hinder the enforcement of the lien, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3436; 1887, c. 14; C. S. 4288.)

Local Modification.—Pitt: 1941, c. 284.

§ 14-116. Fraudulent entry of horses at fairs.—If any person shall knowingly enter or cause to be entered in competition for any purse, prize, premium, stake or sweepstake offered or given by any agricultural or other society, association or person in this state, any horse, mare, gelding, colt or filly under an assumed name or out of its proper class, he shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state's prison for not less than one nor more than five years, or by both fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3429; 1893, c. 387; C. S. 4289.)

§ 14-117. Fraudulent and deceptive advertising.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, with intent to sell or in anywise to dispose of merchandise, securities, service or any other thing offered by such person, firm, corporation or association, directly or indirectly, to the public for sale or distribution, or with intent to increase the consumption thereof, or to induce the public in any manner to enter into any obligation relating thereto, or to acquire title thereto, or an interest therein, to make public, disseminate, circulate or place before the public or cause directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public in this state, in a newspaper or other publication, or in the form of a book, notice, handbill, poster, bill circular, pamphlet or letter, or in any other way, an advertisement of any sort regarding merchandise, securities, service or any other thing so offered to the public, which advertisement contains any assertion, representation or statement of fact which is untrue, deceptive or misleading: Provided, that such advertising shall be done willfully and with intent to mislead. Any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1915, c. 218; C. S. 4290.)

§ 14-118. Blackmailing.—If any person shall knowingly send or deliver any letter or writing demanding of any other person, with menaces and without any reasonable or probable cause, any chattel, money or valuable security; or if any person shall accuse, or threaten to accuse, or shall knowingly send or deliver any letter or writing accusing or threatening to accuse any other person of any crime punishable by law with death or by imprisonment in the state's prison, with the intent to extort or gain from such person any chattel, money or valuable security, every such offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3428; Code, s. 989; R. C., c. 34, s. 110; C. S. 4291.)

Art. 21. Forgery.

§ 14-119. Forgery of bank-notes, checks and other securities.—If any person shall falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure the same to be done, or willingly aid or assist therein, any bill or note in imitation of, or purporting to be, a bill or note of any incorporated bank in this state, or in any of the United States, or in any of the territories of the United States; or any order or check on any such bank or corporation, or on the cashier thereof; or any of the securities purporting to be issued by or on behalf of the state, or by or on behalf of any corporation, with intent to injure or defraud any person, bank or corporation, or the state, the person so offending shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail for not less than four months nor more than ten years, or by a fine in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3419; Code, s. 1030; R. C., c. 34, s. 60; 1819, c. 994, s. 1; C. S. 4293.)

§ 14-120. Uttering forged paper.—If any person, directly or indirectly, whether for the sake of gain or with intent to defraud or injure any other person, shall utter or publish any such false, forged or counterfeited bill, note, order, check or security as is mentioned in the preceding section; or shall pass or deliver, or attempt to pass or deliver, any of them to another person (knowing the same to be falsely forged or counterfeited), the person so offending shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or state's prison not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3427; Code, s. 1031; R. C., c. 34, s. 61; 1819, c. 994, s. 2; 1909, c. 666; C. S. 4294.)

§ 14-121. Selling of certain forged securities.—If any person shall sell, by delivery, indorsement or otherwise, to any other person, any judgment for the recovery of money purporting to have been rendered by a justice of the peace, or any bond, promissory note, bill of exchange, order, draft or liquidated account purporting to be signed by the debtor (knowing the same to be forged), the person so offending shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3425; Code, s. 1033; R. C., c. 34, s. 63; C. S. 4295.)

§ 14-122. Forgery of deeds, wills and certain other instruments.—If any person, of his own head and imagination, or by false conspiracy or fraud with others, shall wittingly and falsely forge and make, or shall cause or wittingly assent to the forging or making of, or shall show forth in evidence, knowing the same to be forged, any deed, lease or will, or any bond, writing obligatory, bill of exchange, promissory note, endorsement or assignment thereof; or any acquittance or receipt for money or goods; or any receipt or release for any bond, note, bill or any other security for the payment of money; or any order for the payment of money or delivery of goods, with intent, in any of said instances, to defraud any person or corporation, and thereof shall be duly convicted, the person so offending shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, or fined in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3424; Code, s. 1029; R. C., c. 34, s. 59; 1801, c. 572; 5 Eliz., c. 14, ss. 2, 3; 21 James I, c. 26; C. S. 4296.)

§ 14-123. Forging names to petitions and uttering forged petitions.—If any person shall willfully sign, or cause to be signed, or willfully assent to the signing of the name of any person without his consent, or of any deceased or fictitious person, to any petition or recommendation with the intent of procuring any commutation of sentence, pardon or reprieve of any person convicted of any crime or offense, or for the purpose of procuring such pardon, reprieve or commutation to be refused or delayed by any public officer, or with the intent of procuring from any person whatsoever, either for himself or another, any appointment to office, or to any position of honor or trust, or with the intent to influence the official action of any public officer in the management, conduct or decision of any matter affecting the public, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail or state's prison not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court; and if any person shall willfully use any such paper for any of the purposes or intents above recited, knowing that any part of the signatures to such petition or recommendation has been signed thereto without the consent of the alleged signers, or that names of any dead or fictitious persons are signed thereto, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished in like manner. (Rev., s. 3426; Code, s. 1034; 1883, c. 275; C. S. 4297.)

§ 14-124. Forging certificate of corporate stock and uttering forged certificates.—If any officer or agent of a corporation shall, falsely and with a fraudulent purpose, make, with the intent that the same shall be issued and delivered to any other person by name or as holder or bearer thereof, any certificate or other writing, whereby it is certified or declared that such person, holder or bearer is entitled to or has an interest in the stock of such corporation, when in fact such person, holder or bearer is not so entitled, or is not entitled to the amount of stock in such certificate or writing specified; or if any officer or agent of such corporation, or other person, knowing such certificate or other writing to be false or untrue, shall transfer, assign or deliver the same to another person, for the sake of gain, or with the intent to defraud the corporation, or any member thereof, or such person to whom the same shall be transferred, assigned or delivered, the person so offending shall be imprisoned in the county jail or state's prison not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3421; Code, s. 1032; R. C., c. 34, s. 62; C. S. 4298.)

§ 14-125. Forgery of bank-notes and other instruments by connecting genuine parts. — If any person shall fraudulently connect together different parts of two or more bank-notes, or other genuine instruments, in such a manner as to produce another note or instrument, with intent to pass all of them as genuine, the same shall be deemed a forgery, and the instrument so produced a forged note, or forged instrument, in like manner as if each of them had been falsely made or forged. (Rev., s. 3420; Code, s. 1037; R. C., c. 34, s. 66; C. S. 4299.)

SUBCHAPTER 6. CRIMINAL TRESPASS.

Art. 22. Trespasses to Land and Fixtures.

§ 14-126. Forcible entry and detainer.—No one shall make entry into any lands and tenements, or term for years, but in case where entry is given by law; and in such case, not with strong hand nor with multitude of people, but only in a peaceable and easy manner; and if any man do the contrary, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3670; Code, s. 1028; R. C., c. 49, s. 1; 5 Ric. II, c. 8; C. S. 4300.)

§ 14-127. Malicious injury to real property.—If any person shall maliciously commit any damage, injury or spoil upon any real property whatsoever, either of a public or private nature, for which no punishment is provided by any existing law, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein shall extend to any case where the party trespassing or doing the injury acted under a fair and reasonable belief that he had a right to do the act complained of, nor to any trespass, not being willful and malicious, committed in hunting, fishing or the pursuit of game. When the owner, or one of the owners, of an estate in possession shall complain of the injury before a justice of the peace of the county in which the offense is charged to have been committed before the regular term of the superior court next after the commission of the offense, and shall fail to state in his complaint that the damage exceeds ten dollars, the punishment, upon conviction of the offense, shall not exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days. (Rev., s. 3677; Code, s. 1081; R. C., c. 34, s. 111; 1873-4, c. 176, s. 5; C. S. 4301.)

§ 14-128. Injury to trees, woods, crops, etc., near highway; depositing trash near highway.—Any person, not being on his own lands, or without the consent of the owner thereof, who shall, within one hundred yards of any State highways of North Carolina or within a like distance of any other public road or highway, willfully commit any damage, injury, or spoliation to or upon any tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, lands, springs, or any other matter or thing growing or being thereon, or who cuts, breaks, injures, or removes any tree, plant, or flower within such limits, or shall deposit any trash, debris, garbage, or litter within such limits, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction fined not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the officers, agents, and employees of the State Highway and Public Works Commission or county road authorities while in the discharge of their duties. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 54.)

§ 14-129. Taking, etc., of certain wild plants from land of another.—No person, firm or corporation shall dig up, pull up or take from the land of another or from any public domain, the whole or any part of any trailing arbutus, American holly, white pine, red cedar, hemlock or other coniferous trees, or any flowering dogwood, any mountain laurel, any rhododendron, or any ground pine, or any Christmas greens, or any Judas tree, or any leucothea, or any azalea, without having in his possession a permit to dig up, pull up or take such plants, signed by the owner of such land, or by his duly authorized agent. Any person convicted of violating the provisions of this section shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for each offense. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the counties of Avery, Cabarrus, Carteret, Catawba, Cherokee, Chowan, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Franklin, Gaston, Granville, Hertford, McDowell, Mitchell, Pamlico, Pender, Person, Richmond, Rockingham, Rowan, Swain and Warren. (1941, c. 253.)

§ 14-130. Trespass on public lands.—If any person shall erect a building on any public lands before the same shall have been sold or granted by the state, or on any lands belonging to the state board of education before the same shall have been sold and conveyed by them, or cultivate or remove timber from any of such lands, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Moreover, the state board of education can recover from any person cutting timber on its land three times the value of the timber which is cut. When any person shall be in possession of any part of such land, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county in which the land is situated, and he is hereby required, to give notice in writing to such person, commanding him to depart therefrom forthwith; and if the person in possession, upon being so notified, shall not, within two weeks after the time of notice, remove therefrom, the sheriff is required to remove him immediately, and if necessary, he shall summon the power of the county to assist him in so doing. (Rev., s. 3746; Code, s. 1121; R. C., c. 34, s. 42; 1823, c. 1190; 1842, c. 36, s. 4; 1909, c. 891; C. S. 4302.)

§ 14-131. Trespass on land under option by the federal government.—On lands under option which have formally or informally been offered to and accepted by the North Carolina department of conservation and development by the acquiring federal agency and tentatively accepted by said department for administration as state forests, state parks, state game refuges or for other public purposes, it shall be unlawful to cut, dig, break, injure or remove any timber, lumber, firewood, trees, shrubs or other plants; or any fence, house, barn or other structure; or to pursue, trap, hunt or kill any bird or other wild animals or take fish from streams or lakes within the boundaries of such areas without the written consent of the local official of the United States having charge of the acquisition of such lands.

Any person, firm or corporation convicted of the violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not more than fifty dollars or to imprisonment for not to exceed thirty days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

The department of conservation and development through its legally appointed forestry, fish and game wardens is hereby authorized and empowered to assist the county law enforcement officers in the enforcement of this section. (1935, c. 317.)

§ 14-132. Disorderly conduct in and injuries to public buildings.—If any person shall make any rude or riotous noise or be guilty of any disorderly conduct in or near any of the public buildings of the state, or of any county or municipality, or shall write or scribble on, mark, deface, besmear, or injure the walls of any of the public buildings of the state or of any county or municipality, or any statue or monument, or shall do or commit any nuisance in or near any public building of the state or of any county or municipality, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The keeper of the capitol or any person in charge of any of such public buildings shall have authority to arrest summarily and without warrant for a violation of this section. The words "public building," as used in this section, shall include the grounds around such buildings. (Rev., s. 3742; Code, s. 2308; R. C., c. 103, ss. 7, 8; 1829, c. 29, ss. 1, 2; 1842, c. 47; 1915, c. 269; C. S. 4303.)

§ 14-133. Erecting artificial islands and lumps in public waters.—If any person shall erect artificial islands or lumps in any of the waters of the state east of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad running from Wilmington to Weldon by way of Burgaw, Warsaw, Goldsboro, Wilson, Rocky Mount, and Halifax (formerly the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad) and running from Weldon to the North Carolina-Virginia state boundary by way of Garysburg and Pleasant Hill (formerly the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad), he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3543; Code, s. 986; 1883, c. 109; C. S. 4304.)

§ 14-134. Trespass on land after being forbidden; license to look for estrays.—If any person after being forbidden to do so, shall go or enter upon the lands of another, without a license therefor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days: Provided, that if any person shall make a written affidavit before a justice of the peace of the county that any of his cattle or other livestock (which shall be specially described in such affidavit) have strayed away, and that he has good reason to believe that they are on the lands of a certain other person, then the justice may, in his discretion, allow the affiant to enter on the premises of such person with one or more servants, without firearms, in the daytime (Sunday excepted), between the hours of sunrise and sunset, and make search for his estrays for such limited time as to the justice shall appear reasonable. The only effect of such license shall be to protect the persons entering from indictment therefor, and the license shall have this effect only where it is made bona fide and the entry is effected without any damage except such as may be necessary to conduct the search. (Rev., s. 3688; Code, s. 1120; 1866, c. 60; C. S. 4305.)

§ 14-135. Cutting, injuring, or removing another's timber.—If any person, not being the bona fide owner thereof, shall knowingly and willfully cut down, injure or remove any standing, growing or fallen tree or log, the property of another, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3687; 1889, c. 168; C. S. 4306.)

Local Modification.—Burke, Caldwell, Cherokee, McDowell, Mitchell, Watauga, Wilkes, Yadkin: C. S. 4307, 4308; Duplin: 1929, c. 174.

§ 14-136. Setting fire to grass and brush lands and woodlands.—If any person shall intentionally set fire to any grass land, brush land or woodland, except it be his own property, or in that case without first giving notice to all persons owning or in charge of lands adjoining the land intended to be fired, and without also taking care to watch such fire while burning and to extinguish it before it shall reach any lands near to or adjoining the lands so fired, he shall for every such offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned for a period of not less than sixty days nor more than four months for the first offense, and for a second or any subsequent similar offense shall be imprisoned not less than four months nor more than one year. This section shall not prevent an action for the damages sustained by the owner of any property from such fires. For the purposes of this section, the term "woodland" is to be taken to include all forest areas, both timber and cut-over land, and all second-growth stands on areas that have at one time been cultivated. Any person who shall furnish to the state evidence sufficient for the conviction of a violation of this statute shall receive the sum of fifty dollars, to be taxed as part of the court costs. (Rev., s. 3346; Code, ss. 52, 53; R. C., c. 16, ss. 1, 2; 1777, c. 123, ss. 1, 2; 1915, c. 243, ss. 8, 11; 1919, c. 318; 1925, c. 61, s. 1; C. S. 4309.)

Local Modification.—Graham: Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 301; Onslow: 1929, c. 185, 1939, c. 160.

§ 14-137. Wilfully or negligently setting fire to woods and fields.—If any person, firm or corporation shall wilfully or negligently set on fire, or cause to be set on fire, any woods, lands or fields, whatsoever, every such offender, upon conviction, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. This section shall apply only in those counties under the protection of the state forest service in its work of forest fire control. It shall not apply in the case of a landowner firing, or causing to be fired, his own open, non-wooded lands, or fields in connection with farming or building operations at the time and in the manner now provided by law: Provided, he shall have confined the fire at his own expense to said open lands or fields. (1907, c. 320, ss. 4, 5; 1925, c. 61, s. 2; 1941, c. 258; C. S. 4310.)

§ 14-138. Setting fire to woodlands and grass lands with campfires.—Any wagoner, hunter, camper or other person who shall kindle a campfire or shall authorize another to kindle such fire, unless all combustible material for the space of ten feet surrounding the place where such fire is kindled has been removed, or shall leave a campfire without fully extinguishing it, or who shall accidentally or negligently by the use of any torch, gun, match or other instrumentality, or in any manner whatever, start any fire upon any grass land, brush land or woodland without fully extinguishing the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days. For the purposes of this section the term "woodland" is to be taken to include all forest areas, both timber and cut-over land, and all second-growth stands on areas that have at one time been cultivated. (Rev., s. 3347; Code, s. 54; 1885, c. 126; 1913, c. 8; 1915, c. 243, ss. 9, 11; C. S. 4311.)

Local Modification.—Graham: Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 301.

§ 14-139. Starting fires within five hundred feet of areas under protection of state forest service.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to start or cause to be started any fire or ignite any material in any of the areas of woodlands under the protection of the state forest service or within five hundred feet of any such protected area, between the first day of February and the first day of June, inclusive or between the first day of October and the thirtieth day of November, inclusive, in any year, without first obtaining from the state forester or one of his duly authorized agents a permit to set out fire or ignite any material in such above mentioned protected areas; no charge shall be made for the granting of said permits. This section shall not apply to any fires started or caused to be started within five hundred feet of a dwelling house. Any person, firm or corporation violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty (50) dollars, or imprisoned for a period of not more than thirty (30) days. (1937, c. 207; 1939, c. 120.)

§ 14-140. Certain fires to be guarded by watchman.—All persons, firms or corporations who shall burn any tar kiln or pit of charcoal, or set fire to or burn any brush, grass or other material, whereby any property may be endangered or destroyed, shall keep and maintain a careful and competent watchman in charge of such kiln, pit, brush or other material while burning. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not exceeding thirty days. Fire escaping from such kiln, pit, brush or other material while burning shall be prima facie evidence of neglect of these provisions. (1915, c. 243, s. 10; C. S. 4312.)

Local Modification.—Graham: Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 301.

§ 14-141. Burning or otherwise destroying crops in the field.—If any person shall willfully burn or destroy any other person's corn, cotton, wheat, barley, rye, oats, buckwheat, rice, tobacco, hay, straw, fodder, shucks or other provender in a stack, hill, rick or pen, or secured in any other way out of doors, or grass or sedge standing on the land, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or state's prison for not less than four months nor more than five years. (Rev., s. 3339; 1885, c. 42; 1874-5, c. 133; Code, s. 985, subsec. 2; C. S. 4313.)

§ 14-142. Injuries to dams and water channels of mills and factories.—If any person shall cut away, destroy or otherwise injure any dam, or part thereof, or shall obstruct or damage any race, canal or other water channel erected, opened, used or constructed for the purpose of furnishing water for the operation of any mill, factory or machine works, or for the escape of water therefrom, he shall, upon conviction, be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3678; Code, s. 1087; 1866, c. 48; C. S. 4315.)

§ 14-143. Taking unlawful possession of another's house.—If any person shall enter upon the lands of another and take possession of any house or other building thereon, without permission of the owner or his agent and without a bona fide claim of right or title so to enter and take possession, and shall fail or refuse to vacate such premises within ten days after being notified personally in writing to do so, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3685; 1893, c. 347; C. S. 4316.)

Local Modification.—Durham: 1929, c. 109.

§ 14-144. Injuring houses, churches, fences and walls.—If any person shall, by any other means than burning or attempting to burn, unlawfully and willfully demolish, destroy, deface, injure or damage any of the houses or other buildings mentioned in this chapter in the article entitled Arson and Other Burnings; or shall unlawfully and willfully burn, demolish, pull down, destroy, deface, damage or injure any church, uninhabited house, outhouse or other house or building not mentioned in such article; or shall unlawfully and willfully burn, destroy, pull down, injure or remove any fence, wall or other inclosure, or any part thereof, surrounding or about any yard, garden, cultivated field or pasture, or about any church or graveyard, or about any factory or other house in which machinery is used, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3673; Code, s. 1062; R. C., c. 34, s. 103; C. S. 4317.)

§ 14-145. Unlawful posting of advertisements.—Any person who in any manner paints. prints, places, or affixes, or causes to be painted, printed, placed, or affixed, any business or commercial advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, automobile building, or other object, which is the property of another without first obtaining the written consent of such owner thereof, or who in any manner paints, prints, places, puts, or affixes, or causes to be painted, printed, placed, or affixed, such an advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, mile-board, mile-stone, danger-sign, danger-signal, guide-sign, guide-post, automobile building or other object within the limits of a public highway, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or imprisoned not exceeding thirty (30) days. (1924, c. 109.)

§ 14-146. Injuring bridges.—If any person shall unlawfully and willfully demolish, destroy, break, tear down, injure or damage any bridge across any of the creeks or rivers or other streams in the state, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3771; Code, s. 993; 1883, c. 271; C. S. 4318.)

§ 14-147. Removing, altering or defacing landmarks.—If any person, firm or corporation shall knowingly remove, alter or deface any landmark in anywise whatsoever, or shall knowingly cause such removal, alteration or defacement to be done. such person, firm or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. This section shall not apply to landmarks, such as creeks and other small streams, which the interest of agriculture may require to be altered or turned from their channels, nor to such persons, firms or corporations as own the fee simple in the lands on both sides of the lines designated by the landmarks removed, altered or defaced. Nor shall this section apply to those adjoining landowners who may by agreement remove, alter or deface landmarks in which they alone are interested. (Rev., s. 3674; Code, s. 1063; 1858-9, c. 17; 1915, c. 248; C. S. 4319.)

§ 14-148. Removing or defacing monuments and tombstones.—If any person shall, unlawfully and on purpose, remove from its place any monument of marble, stone, brass, wood or other material, erected for the purpose of designating the spot where any dead body is interred, or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating the memory, name, fame, birth, age or death of any person, whether situated in or out of the common burying ground, or shall unlawfully and on purpose break or deface such monument, or alter the letters, marks or inscription thereof, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3680; Code, s 1088; R. C., c. 34, s. 102; 1840, c. 6; C. S. 4320.)

§ 14-149. Interfering with graveyards.—If any person shall unlawfully take away any stone, brick, iron or other material that encloses private graveyards, or shall cut or keep open any ditch or drainway, or put any permanent log or other obstruction not intended as a monument to a grave in such graveyards, or knowingly plow over and tear up any grave, or shall remove or change the location of any fence around such graveyard without the consent of such person or persons as may have parents, children or brothers or sisters buried therein, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not more than ten dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3681; 1889, c. 130; 1919, c. 218; C. S. 4321.)

§ 14-150. Disturbing graves.—If any person shall, without due process of law, or the consent of the surviving husband or wife or the next of kin of the deceased, and of the person having the control of such grave, open any grave for the purpose of taking therefrom any dead body, or any part thereof buried therein, or anything interred therewith, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3672; 1885, c. 90; C. S. 4322.)

§ 14-151. Interfering with gas, electric and steam appliances.—If any person shall willfully, with intent to injure or defraud, commit any of the acts set forth in the following subsections, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor:

1. Connect a tube, pipe, wire or other instrument or contrivance with a pipe or wire used for conducting or supplying illuminating gas, fuel, natural gas or electricity in such a manner as to supply such gas or electricity to any burner, orifice, lamp or motor where the same is or can be burned or used without passing through the meter or other instrument provided for registering the quantity consumed; or,

2. Obstruct, alter, injure or prevent the action of a meter or other instrument used to measure or register the quantity of illuminating fuel, natural gas or electricity consumed in a house or apartment, or at an orifice or burner, lamp or motor, or by a consumer or other person other than an employee of the company owning any gas or electric meter, who willfully shall detach or disconnect such meter, or make or report any test of, or examine for the purpose of testing any meter so detached or disconnected; or,

3. In any manner whatever change, extend or alter any service or other pipe, wire or attachment of any kind, connecting with or through which natural or artificial gas or electricity is furnished from the gas mains or pipes of any person, without first procuring from said person written permission to make such change, extension or alterations; or,

4. Make any connection or reconnection with the gas mains, service pipes or wires of any person, furnishing to consumers natural or artificial gas or electricity, or turn on or off or in any manner interfere with any valve or stop-cock or other appliance belonging to such person, and connected with his service or other pipes or wires, or enlarge the orifice of mixers, or use natural gas for heating purposes except through mixers, or electricity for any purpose without first procuring from such person a written permit to turn on or off such stop-cock or valve, or to make such connection or reconnections, or to enlarge the orifice of mixers, or to use for heating purposes without mixers, or to interfere with the valves, stop-cocks, wires or other appliances of such, as the case may be; or,

5. Retain possession of or refuse to deliver any mixer, meter, lamp or other appliance which may be leased or rented by any person, for the purpose of furnishing gas, electricity or power through the same, or sell, lend or in any other manner dispose of the same to any person other than such person entitled to the possession of the same; or,

6. Set on fire any gas escaping from wells, broken or leaking mains, pipes, valves or other appliances used by any person in conveying gas to consumers, or interfere in any manner with the wells, pipes, mains, gate-boxes, valves, stop-cocks, wires, cables, conduits or any other appliances, machinery or property of any person engaged in furnishing gas to consumers unless employed by or acting under the authority and direction of such person; or,

7. Open or cause to be opened, or reconnect or cause to be reconnected any valve lawfully closed or disconnected by a district steam corporation; or,

8. Turn on steam or cause it to be turned on or to reënter any premises when the same has been lawfully stopped from entering such premises. (Rev., s. 3666; 1901, c. 735; C. S. 4323.)

§ 14-152. Injuring fixtures and other property of gas companies; civil liability.—If any person shall willfully, wantonly or maliciously remove, obstruct, injure or destroy any part of the plant, machinery, fixtures, structures or buildings, or anything appertaining to the works of any gas company, or shall use, tamper or interfere with the same, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days for such offense. Such person shall also forfeit and pay to the company so injured, to be sued for and recovered in a civil action, double the amount of the damages sustained by any such injury. (Rev., s. 3671; 1889 (Pr.), c. 35, s. 3; C. S. 4324.)

§ 14-153. Tampering with engines and boilers.—If any person shall willfully turn out water from any boiler or turn the bolts of any engine or boiler, or meddle or tamper with such boiler or engine, or any other machinery in connection with any boiler or engine, causing loss, damage, danger or delay to the owner in the prosecution of his work, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3667; 1901, c. 733; C. S. 4325.)

§ 14-154. Injuring wires and other fixtures of telephone, telegraph and electric-power companies.—If any person shall willfully injure, destroy or pull down any telegraph, telephone or electric-power-transmission pole, wire, insulator or any other fixture or apparatus attached to a telegraph, telephone or electric-power-transmission line, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3847; Code, s. 1118; 1881, c. 4; 1883, c. 103; 1907, c. 827, s. 1; C. S. 4326.)

§ 14-155. Making unauthorized connections with telephone and telegraph wires.—It shall be unlawful for any person to tap or make any connection with any wire or apparatus of any telephone or telegraph company operating in this state, except such connection as may be authorized by the person or corporation operating such wire or apparatus. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than ten dollars or imprisoned not more than ten days for each offense. Each day's continuance of such unlawful connection shall be a separate offense. (1911, c. 113; C. S. 4327.)

§ 14-156. Injuring fixtures and other property of electric-power companies.—It shall be unlawful for any person willfully and wantonly, and without the consent of the owner, to take down, remove, injure, obstruct, displace or destroy any line erected or constructed for the transmission of electrical current, or any poles, towers, wires, conduits, cables, insulators or any support upon which wires or cables may be suspended, or any part of any such line or appurtenances or apparatus connected therewith, or to sever any wire or cable thereof, or in any manner to interrupt the transmission of electrical current over and along any such line, or to take down, remove, injure or destroy any house, shop, building or other structure or machinery connected with or necessary to the use of any line erected or constructed for the transmission of electrical current, or to wantonly or willfully cause injury to any of the property mentioned in this section by means of fire. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not longer than one year, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1907, c. 919; C. S. 4328.)

§ 14-157. Felling trees on telephone and electric-power wires.—If any person shall negligently and carelessly cut or fell any tree, or any limb or branch therefrom, in such a manner as to cause the same to fall upon and across any telephone, electric light or electric-power-transmission wire, from which any injury to such wire shall be occasioned, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also be liable to penalty of fifty dollars for each and every offense. (Rev., s. 3849; 1903, c. 616; 1907, c. 827, s. 2; C. S. 4329.)

§ 14-158. Interfering with telephone lines.—If any person shall unnecessarily disconnect the wire or in any other way render any telephone line, or any part of such line, unfit for use in transmitting messages, or shall unnecessarily cut, tear down, destroy or in any way render unfit for the transmission of messages any part of the wire of a telephone line, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3845; 1901, c. 318; C. S. 4330.)

§ 14-159. Injuring buildings or fences; taking possession of house without consent.—If any person shall deface, injure or damage any house, uninhabited house or other building belonging to another; or deface, damage, pull down, injure, remove or destroy any fence or wall enclosing, in whole or in part, the premises belonging to another; or shall move into, take possession of and/or occupy any house, uninhabited house or other building situated on the premises belonging to another, without having first obtained authority so to do and consent of the owner or agent thereof, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1929, c. 192, s. 1.)

Art. 23. Trespasses to Personal Property.

§ 14-160. Malicious injury to personal property.—If any person shall wantonly and willfully injure the personal property of another, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, whether the property be destroyed or not, and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3676; Code, s. 1082; 1885, c. 53; 1876-7, c. 18; C. S. 4331.)

§ 14-161. Malicious removal of packing from railway coaches and other rolling stock.—If any person shall willfully and maliciously take or remove the waste or packing from the journal box of any locomotive, engine, tender, carriage, coach, car, caboose or truck used or operated upon any railroad whether the same be operated by steam or electricity, he shall upon conviction thereof be fined or imprisoned in the jail or state's prison, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3759; 1905, c. 335; C. S. 4332.)

§ 14-162. Removing boats or their fixtures and appliances.—If any person shall take away from any landing or other place where the same shall be, or shall loose, unmoor, or turn adrift from the same, any boat, canoe, pettiaugua, oars, paddles, sails or tackle belonging to or in the lawful custody of any person; or if any person shall direct the same to be done without the consent of the owner, or the person having the custody or possession of such property, he shall forfeit and pay to such owner, or person having the custody and possession as aforesaid, the sum of two dollars, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days, in the discretion of the court. The owner may also have his action for such injury. The penalties aforesaid shall not extend to any person who shall press any such property by public authority. (Rev., s. 3544; Code, s. 2288; 1889, c. 378; R. C., c. 14, ss. 1, 3; C. S. 4333.)

§ 14-163. Injuring livestock not inclosed by lawful fence.—If any person shall willfully and unlawfully kill or abuse any horse, mule, hog, sheep or other cattle, the property of another, in any enclosure not surrounded by a lawful fence, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3313; Code, s. 1003; 1868-9, c. 253; C. S. 4334.)

§ 14-164. Taking away or injuring exhibits at fairs.—If any person, without the license of the owner, or any agricultural or other society, shall unlawfully carry away, remove, destroy, mar, deface or injure anything, animate or inanimate, while on exhibition on the grounds of any such society, or going to or returning from the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. It shall be sufficient in any indictment for any such offense, or for the larceny of any such thing, animate or inanimate as aforesaid, to charge that the thing so carried away, destroyed, marred, injured or feloniously stolen is the property of the society to which the said thing shall be forwarded for exhibition. (Rev., s. 3668; Code, s. 2796; 1870-1, c. 184, s. 4; C. S. 4335.)

Art. 24. Vehicles and Draft Animals.—Protection of Bailor against Acts of Bailee.

§ 14-165. Malicious or wilful injury to hired personal property.—Any person who shall rent or hire from any person, firm or corporation, any horse, mule or like animal, or any buggy, wagon, truck, automobile, or other like vehicle, for temporary use, who shall maliciously or wilfully injure or damage the same by in any way using or driving the same in violation of any statute of the State of North Carolina, or who shall permit any other person so to do, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to punishment as hereinafter provided. (1927, c. 61, s. 1.)

§ 14-166. Sub-letting of hired property.—Any person who shall rent or hire, for temporary use, any horse, mule, or other like animal, or any buggy, wagon, truck, automobile, or other like vehicle, who shall, without the permission of the person, firm or corporation from whom such property is rented or hired, sub-let or rent the same to any other person, firm or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as hereinafter provided. (1927, c. 61, s. 2.)

§ 14-167. Failure to return hired property.—Any person who shall rent or hire, for temporary use, any horse, mule or other like animal, or any buggy, wagon, truck, automobile, or other vehicle, and who shall wilfully fail to return the same to the possession of the person, firm or corporation from whom such property has been rented or hired at the expiration of the time for which such property has been rented or hired, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as hereinafter provided. (1927, c. 61, s. 3.)

§ 14-168. Hiring with intent to defraud.—Any person who shall, with intent to cheat and defraud the owner thereof of the rental price therefor, hire or rent for temporary use any horse or mule or any other like animal, or any buggy, wagon, truck, automobile or other like vehicle, or who shall obtain the possession of the same by false and fraudulent statements made with intent to deceive, which are calculated to deceive, and which do deceive, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as hereinafter provided. (1927, c. 61, s. 4.)

§ 14-169. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person violating the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished at the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 61, s. 5; 1929, c. 38, s. 1.)

Art. 25. Regulating the Leasing of Storage Batteries.

§ 14-170. "Rental battery" defined; identification of rental storage batteries.—As used in this article the words "rental battery" are defined as an electric storage battery loaned, rented or furnished for temporary use by any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, repairing or recharging electric storage batteries. All such persons, firms or corporations may mark any such rental batteries belonging to them with the word "rental," or any other word of similar meaning, printed or stamped upon or attached to such battery together with such words as shall identify such batteries as the property of the person, firm or corporation so marking the same. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to so mark any such batteries which are not the property of such person, firm or corporation. (1933, c. 185, s. 1.)

§ 14-171. Defacing word "rental" prohibited.—It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to remove, deface, alter or destroy the word "rental" on any rental battery or any other word, mark or character printed, painted or stamped upon or attached to any rental battery to identify the same as belonging to or being the property of any person, firm or corporation. (1933, c. 185, s. 2.)

§ 14-172. Sale, etc., of rental battery prohibited. — It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation other than the owner thereof to sell, dispose of, deliver, rent or give to any other person, firm or corporation any rental battery marked by the owner as provided by section 14-170. (1933, c. 185, s. 3.)

§ 14-173. Repairing another's rental battery prohibited.—It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, repairing or recharging electric storage batteries to recharge or repair any rental battery not owned by such person, firm or corporation marked by the owner thereof as provided by section 14-170. (1933, c. 185, s. 4.)

§ 14-174. Time limit on possession of rental battery without written consent.—It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to retain in his, their or its possession for a longer period than ten (10) days, without the written consent of the owner, any rental battery marked as such by the owner as provided by section 14-170. Demand must be made on any person who so retains a rental battery in his possession at least five days before a prosecution can be instituted: Provided, however, that proof of a registered letter having been sent to the person so offending at his last known address shall be accepted as conclusive evidence of such demand. (1933, c. 185, s. 5.)

§ 14-175. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation, and the officers, agents, employees, and members of any firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of sections 14-170—14-174 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or be imprisoned for a term of not exceeding thirty days in the discretion of the court. (1933, c. 185, s. 6.)

§ 14-176. Rebuilding storage batteries out of old parts and sale of, regulated.—Any person, firm or corporation who assembles or rebuilds an electric storage battery for use on automobiles, in whole or in part, out of second-hand or used material such as containers, separators, plates, groups or other battery parts, and sells same or offers same for sale in the state of North Carolina without the word "rebuilt" placed in the side of the container, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars or imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months or both. (1933, c. 535.)

SUBCHAPTER 7. OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC MORALITY AND DECENCY.

Art. 26. Offenses against Public Morality and Decency.

§ 14-177. Crime against nature.—If any person shall commit the abominable and detestable crime against nature, with mankind or beast, he shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than five nor more than sixty years. (Rev., s. 3349; Code, s. 1010; R. C., c. 34, s. 6; 1868-9, c. 167, s. 6; 5 Eliz., c. 17; 25 Hen. VIII, c. 6; C. S. 4336.)

§ 14-178. Incest between certain near relatives.—In all cases of carnal intercourse between grandparent and grandchild, parent and child, and brother and sister of the half or whole blood, the parties shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished for every such offense by imprisonment in the state's prison for a term not exceeding fifteen years, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3351; Code, s. 1060; 1879, c. 16, s. 1; 1911, c. 16; C. S. 4337.)

§ 14-179. Incest between uncle and niece and nephew and aunt.—In all cases of carnal intercourse between uncle and niece, and nephew and aunt, the parties shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine or imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3352; Code, s. 1061; 1879, c. 16, s. 2; C. S. 4338.)

§ 14-180. Seduction.—If any man shall seduce an innocent and virtuous woman under promise of marriage, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court, and may be imprisoned in the state prison not exceeding the term of five years: Provided, the unsupported testimony of the woman shall not be sufficient to convict: Provided further, that marriage between the parties shall be a bar to further prosecution hereunder. But when such marriage is relied upon by the defendant, it shall operate as to the costs of the case as a plea of nolo contendere, and the defendant shall be required to pay all the costs of the action or be liable to imprisonment for nonpayment of the same. (Rev., s. 3354; 1885, c. 248; 1917, c. 39; C. S. 4339.)

§ 14-181. Miscegenation.—All marriages between a white person and a negro, or between a white person and a person of negro descent to the third generation inclusive, are forever prohibited, and shall be void. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of an infamous crime, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or state's prison for not less than four months nor more than ten years, and may also be fined, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3369; Code, s. 1084; Const., Art. XIV, s. 8; R. C., c. 68, s. 7; 1834, c. 24; 1838-9, c. 24; C. S. 4340.)

§ 14-182. Issuing license for marriage between white person and negro; performing marriage ceremony.—If any register of deeds shall knowingly issue any license for marriage between any person of color and a white person; or if any clergyman, minister of the gospel or justice of the peace shall knowingly marry any such person of color to a white person, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3370; Code, s. 1085; R. C., c. 34, s. 80; 1830, c. 4, s. 2; C. S. 4341.)

§ 14-183. Bigamy.—If any person, being married, shall marry any other person during the life of the former husband or wife, every such offender, and every person counseling, aiding or abetting such offender, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison or county jail for any term not less than four months nor more than ten years. Any such offense may be dealt with, tried, determined and punished in the county where the offender shall be apprehended, or be in custody, as if the offense had been actually committed in that county. If any person, being married, shall contract a marriage with any other person outside of this state, which marriage would be punishable as bigamous if contracted within this state, and shall thereafter cohabit with such person in this state, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished as in cases of bigamy. Nothing contained in this section shall extend to any person marrying a second time, whose husband or wife shall have been continually absent from such person for the space of seven years then last past, and shall not have been known by such person to have been living within that time; nor to any person who at the time of such second marriage shall have been lawfully divorced from the bond of the first marriage; nor to any person whose former marriage shall have been declared void by the sentence of any court of competent jurisdiction. (Rev., s. 3361; Code, s. 988; R. C., c. 34, s. 15; 1790, c. 323; 1809, c. 783; 1829, c. 9; 1913, c. 26. See 9 Geo. IV, c. 31, s. 22; C. S. 4342.)

§ 14-184. Fornication and adultery.—If any man and woman, not being married to each other, shall lewdly and lasciviously associate, bed and cohabit together, they shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the admissions or confessions of one shall not be received in evidence against the other. (Rev., s. 3350; Code, s. 1041; R. C., c. 34, s. 45; 1805, c. 684; C. S. 4343.)

§ 14-185. Inducing female persons to enter hotels or boarding-houses for immoral purposes.—Any person who shall knowingly persuade, induce or entice, or cause to be persuaded, induced or enticed, any woman or girl to enter a hotel, public inn or boarding-house for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery or for any other immoral purpose, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 158, s. 1; C. S. 4344.)

§ 14-186. Opposite sexes occupying same bedroom at hotel for immoral purposes; falsely registering as husband and wife.—Any man and woman found occupying the same bedroom in any hotel, public inn or boarding-house for any immoral purpose, or any man and woman falsely registering as, or otherwise representing themselves to be, husband and wife in any hotel, public inn or boarding-house, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 158, s. 2; C. S. 4345.)

§ 14-187. Permitting unmarried female under eighteen in house of prostitution.—Whoever, being the keeper of a house of prostitution, or assignation house, building or premises in this state where prostitution, fornication or concubinage is allowed or practiced, shall suffer or permit any unmarried female under the age of eighteen years to live, board, stop, or room in such house, building or premises, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 18; C. S. 4346.)

§ 14-188. Certain evidence relative to keeping disorderly houses admissible; keepers of such houses defined.—On a prosecution in any court for keeping a disorderly house or bawdy-house, or permitting a house to be used as a bawdy-house, or used in such a way as to make it disorderly, or a common nuisance, evidence of the general reputation or character of the house shall be admissible and competent; and evidence of the lewd, dissolute and boisterous conversation of the inmates and frequenters, while in and around such house, shall be prima facie evidence of the bad character of the inmates and frequenters, and of the disorderly character of the house. The manager or person having the care, superintendency or government of a disorderly house or bawdy-house is the "keeper" thereof, and one who employs another to manage and conduct a disorderly house or bawdy-house is also "keeper" thereof. (1907, c. 779; C. S. 4347.)

§ 14-189. Obscene literature.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to exhibit for the purpose of gain, or display for sale, lend or hire, or otherwise publish or sell for the purpose of gain, or exhibit in any school, college, or other institution of learning, or have in his possession for the purpose of sale or distribution, any obscene literature, as determined and defined in the postal laws and regulations of the United States post office department, in the form of book, paper-writing, print, drawing, or other representation, at any newsstand, book store, drug store or other public or private places; or if any person shall post any indecent placards, writings, pictures or drawings on walls, fences, billboards or other public or private places, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3731; 1885, c. 125; 1907, c. 502; 1935, c. 57; C. S. 4348.)

§ 14-190. Indecent exposure; immoral shows, etc.—Any person who in any place wilfully exposes his person, or private parts thereof, in the presence of one or more persons of the opposite sex whose person, or the private parts thereof, are similarly exposed, or who aids or abets in any such act, or who procures another so as to expose his person, or the private parts thereof, or take part in any immoral show, exhibition or performance where indecent, immoral or lewd dances or plays are conducted in any booth, tent, room or other public or private place to which the public is invited; or any person, who, as owner, manager, lessee, director, promoter or agent, or in any other capacity, hires, leases or permits the land, buildings, or premises of which he is owner, lessee or tenant, or over which he has control, to be used for any such immoral purposes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who shall wilfully make any indecent public exposure of the private parts, of his or her person in any public place or highway shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3731; 1885, c. 125; 1907, c. 502; 1935, c. 57; 1941, c. 273; C. S. 4348(a).)

§ 14-191. Sheriffs and deputies to report violations of two preceding sections.—It shall be the duty of the sheriffs and their deputies of the various counties to see that the provisions of §§ 14-189 and 14-190 are enforced by reporting violations of said sections to the presiding judge of a superior court, county or municipal court, or justice of the peace, who shall have warrants issued to cause such violators to come before their courts for immediate trial. (1935, c. 57.)

§ 14-192. Cutting or painting obscene words or pictures near public places.—It shall be unlawful for any person to write, cut or carve any indecent word, or to paint, cut or carve any obscene or lewd picture or representation, on any tree or other object near the public highways or other public places. Any person guilty of violating this section shall be fined not more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1907, c. 344; C. S. 4349.)

§ 14-193. Exhibition of obscene or immoral pictures; posting of advertisements.—If any person, firm, or corporation shall, for the purpose of gain or otherwise, exhibit any obscene or immoral motion pictures; or if any person, firm or corporation shall post any obscene or immoral placard, writings, pictures, or drawings on walls, fences, billboards, or other places, advertising theatrical exhibitions or moving picture exhibitions or shows; or if any person, firm, or corporation shall permit such obscene or immoral exhibitions to be conducted in any tent, booth, or other place or building owned or controlled by said person, firm, or corporation, the person, firm, or corporation performing either one or all of the said acts shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable in the discretion of the court. For the purpose of enforcing this statute any spectator at the exhibition of an obscene or immoral moving picture may make the necessary affidavit upon which the warrant for said offense is issued. (1921, c. 212; C. S. 4349(a).)

§ 14-194. Circulating publications barred from the mails.—It shall be unlawful for any news agent, news dealer, book-seller, or any other person, firm, or corporation to offer for sale, sell, or cause to be circulated within the State of North Carolina any magazine, periodical, or other publication which is now or may hereafter be excluded from the United States mails.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to offer for sale, sell, or give to any person under the age of twenty-one years any such magazine, periodical, or other publication which is now or may hereafter be excluded from the United States mails.

This section shall not be construed to in any way conflict with or abridge the freedom of the press, and shall in no way affect any publication which is permitted to be sent through the United States mails.

Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1924, c. 45.)

§ 14-195. Using profane or indecent language on passenger trains.—It shall be unlawful for any person to curse or use profane or indecent language on any passenger train. Any person so offending shall upon conviction be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1907, c. 470, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4350.)

§ 14-196. Using profane or indecent language to female telephone operators.—It shall be unlawful for any person to use any lewd or profane words, or any words of vulgarity, or to use indecent language to any female telephone operator operating any telephone, switchboard, circuit or line. Any person violating this section shall upon conviction be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1913, c. 35; 1915, c. 41; C. S. 4351.)

§ 14-197. Using profane or indecent language on public highways, counties exempt.—If any person shall, on any public road or highway and in the hearing of two or more persons, in a loud and boisterous manner, use indecent or profane language, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. The following counties shall be exempted from the provisions of this section: Beaufort, Brunswick, Camden, Cleveland, Craven, Dare, Macon, Martin, Orange, Pasquotank, Pitt, Stanly, Swain, Transylvania, Tyrell, Washington and Wautauga. (1913, c. 40; Pub. Loc. Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 65; 1933, c. 309; 1937, c. 9; 1939, c. 73; C. S. 4352.)

§ 14-198. Lewd women within three miles of colleges and boarding-schools.—If any loose woman or woman of ill-fame shall commit any act of lewdness with or in the presence of any student, who is under twenty-one years old, of any boarding-school or college, within three miles of such school or college, she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. Upon the trial of any such case students may be competent but not compellable to give evidence. No prosecution shall be had under this section after the lapse of six months. (Rev., s. 3353; 1889, c. 523; C. S. 4353.)

§ 14-199. Obstructing way to places of public worship.—If any person shall maliciously stop up or obstruct the way leading to any place of public worship, or to any spring or well commonly used by the congregation, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s 3776; Code, s. 3669; R. C., c. 97, s. 5; 1785, c. 241; C. S. 4354.)

§ 14-200. Disturbing religious assembly by certain exhibitions.—If any person shall bring within half a mile of any place where the people are assembled for divine worship, and stop for exhibition, any stallion or jack, or shall bring within that distance any natural or artificial curiosities and there exhibit them, he shall forfeit and pay to any one who will sue therefor the sum of twenty dollars and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit such exhibitions at any time if made within the limits of any incorporated town, or without such limits if made before the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon or after three o'clock in the afternoon. (Rev., s. 3705; Code, s. 3670; R. C., c. 97, s. 6; 1809, c. 779, s. 1; 1907, c. 412; C. S. 4355.)

Local Modification.—Dare, Hatteras township: C. S. 4355.

§ 14-201. Permitting stone-horses and stone-mules to run at large.—If any person shall let any stone-horse or stone-mule of two years old or upwards run at large, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3323; Code, s. 2325; R. C., c. 17, s. 6; 1907, c. 412; C. S. 4356.)

Local Modification.—Dare, Hatteras township: C. S. 4356.

§ 14-202. Secretly peeping into room occupied by woman.—Any person who shall peep secretly into any room occupied by a woman shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 78; C. S. 4356(a).)

Art. 27. Prostitution.

§ 14-203. Definition of terms.—The term "prostitution" shall be construed to include the offering or receiving of the body for sexual intercourse for hire, and shall also be construed to include the offering or receiving of the body for indiscriminate sexual intercourse without hire. The term "assignation" shall be construed to include the making of any appointment or engagement for prostitution or any act in furtherance of such appointment or engagement. (1919, c. 215, s. 2; C. S. 4357.)

§ 14-204. Prostitution and various acts abetting prostitution unlawful.—It shall be unlawful:

1. To keep, set up, maintain, or operate any place, structure, building or conveyance for the purpose of prostitution or assignation.

2. To occupy any place, structure, building, or conveyance for the purpose of prostitution or assignation; or for any person to permit any place, structure, building or conveyance owned by him or under his control to be used for the purpose of prostitution or assignation, with knowledge or reasonable cause to know that the same is, or is to be, used for such purpose.

3. To receive, or to offer or agree to receive any person into any place, structure, building, or conveyance for the purpose of prostitution or assignation, or to permit any person to remain there for such purpose.

4. To direct, take, or transport, or to offer or agree to take or transport, any person to any place, structure, or building or to any other person, with knowledge or reasonable cause to know that the purpose of such directing, taking, or transporting is prostitution or assignation.

5. To procure, or to solicit, or to offer to procure or solicit for the purpose of prostitution or assignation.

6. To reside in, enter, or remain in any place, structure, or building, or to enter or remain in any conveyance, for the purpose of prostitution or assignation.

7. To engage in prostitution or assignation, or to aid or abet prostitution or assignation by any means whatsoever. (1919, c. 215, s. 1; C. S. 4358.)

§ 14-205. Prosecution: in what courts.—Prosecutions for the violation of any of the provisions of this article shall be tried in the courts of this state wherein misdemeanors are triable except those courts the jurisdiction of which is so limited by the constitution of this state that such jurisdiction cannot by statute be extended to include criminal actions of the character herein described. (1919, c. 215, s. 6; C. S. 4359.)

§ 14-206. Reputation and prior conviction admissible as evidence.—In the trial of any person charged with a violation of any of the provisions of this article, testimony of a prior conviction, or testimony concerning the reputation of any place, structure, or building, and of the person or persons who reside in or frequent the same, and of the defendant, shall be admissible in evidence in support of the charge. (1919, c. 215, s. 3; C. S. 4360.)

§ 14-207. Degrees of guilt.—Any person who shall be found to have committed two or more violations of any of the provisions of § 14-204 of this article within a period of one year next preceding the date named in an indictment, information, or charge of violating any of the provisions of such section, shall be deemed guilty in the first degree. Any person who shall be found to have committed a single violation of any of the provisions of such section shall be deemed guilty in the second degree. (1919, c. 215, s. 4; C. S. 4361.)

§ 14-208. Punishment; probation; parole.—Any person who shall be deemed guilty in the first degree, as set forth in § 14-207, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, or may be committed to any penal or reformatory institution in this state: Provided, that in case of a commitment to a reformatory institution, the commitment shall be made for an indeterminate period of time of not less than one nor more than three years in duration, and the board of managers or directors of the reformatory institution shall have authority to discharge or to place on parole any person so committed after the service of the minimum term or any part thereof, and to require the return to said institution for the balance of the maximum term of any person who shall violate the terms or conditions of the parole.

Any person who shall be deemed guilty in the second degree, as set forth in § 14-207, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court: Provided, that the defendant may be placed on probation in the care of a probation officer designated by law, or theretofore appointed by the court.

Probation or parole shall be granted or ordered in the case of a person infected with venereal disease only on such terms and conditions as shall insure medical treatment therefor and prevent the spread thereof, and the court may order any convicted defendant to be examined for venereal disease.

No girl or woman who shall be convicted under this article shall be placed on probation or on parole in the care or charge of any person except a woman probation officer. (1919, c. 215, s. 5; 1921, c. 101; C. S. 4362.)

SUBCHAPTER 8. OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE.

Art. 28. Perjury.

§ 14-209. Punishment for perjury.—If any person shall willfully and corruptly commit perjury, on his oath or affirmation, in any suit, controversy, matter or cause, depending in any of the courts of the state, or in any deposition or affidavit taken pursuant to law, or in any oath or affirmation duly administered of or concerning any matter or thing whereof such person is lawfully required to be sworn or affirmed, every person so offending shall be guilty of a felony and shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail or state's prison not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3615; Code, s. 1092; R. C., c. 34, s. 49; 1791, c. 338, s. 1; C. S. 4364.)

§ 14-210. Subornation of perjury.—If any person shall, by any means, procure another person to commit such willful and corrupt perjury as is mentioned in § 14-209, the person so offending shall be punished in like manner as the person committing the perjury. (Rev., s. 3616; Code, s. 1093; R. C., c. 34, s. 50; 1791, c. 338, s. 2; C. S. 4365.)

§ 14-211. Perjury before legislative committees.—If any person shall willfully and corruptly swear falsely to any fact material to the investigation of any matter before any committee of either house of the general assembly, he shall be subject to all the pains and penalties of willful and corrupt perjury, and, on conviction in the superior court of Wake county, shall be confined in the state's prison for the time prescribed by law for perjury. (Rev., s. 3611; Code, s. 2857; 1869-70, c. 5, s. 4; C. S. 4366.)

§ 14-212. Perjury in court-martial proceedings.—If any person shall willfully and corruptly swear falsely before any court-martial, touching and concerning any matter or thing cognizable before such court-martial, he shall be liable to the pains and penalties of perjury. (Rev., s. 3612; Code, s. 3235; R. C., c. 70, s. 73; 1812, c. 828, s. 3; C. S. 4367.)

§ 14-213. False oath to statement of insurance company.—Any person who shall make oath to a willfully false statement in the annual report or other statement required by law from an insurance company shall be guilty of perjury. (Rev., s. 3493; 1899, c. 54, s. 97; C. S. 4368.)

§ 14-214. False oath to procure benefit of insurance policy or certificate.—Any person who shall wilfully and knowingly present or cause to be presented a false or fraudulent claim, or any proof in support of such claim, for the payment of a loss, or other benefits, upon a contract of insurance; or prepares, makes or subscribes to a false or fraudulent account, certificate, affidavit or proof of loss, or other document or writing, with intent that the same may be presented or used in support of such claim, shall be punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars, or by both such fine or imprisonment within the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3487; 1899, c. 54, s. 60; 1913, c. 89, s. 28; 1937, c. 248; C. S. 4369.)

§ 14-215. False oath to statement required of fraternal benefit societies.—Any person who shall willfully make any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath, required or authorized by law from fraternal benefit societies, shall be guilty of perjury. (1913, c. 89, s. 28; C. S. 4370.)

§ 14-216. False oath to certificate of mutual fire insurance company.—Any person taking a false oath in respect to the certificate required by law before issuing policies in a mutual fire insurance company, that every subscription for insurance is genuine and made with an agreement that every subscriber will take the policies subscribed for by him within thirty days after granting a license to such company, shall be guilty of perjury. (Rev., ss. 4738, 4834; 1899, c. 54, s. 32; 1901, c. 391, ss. 3, 4; 1903, c. 438, s. 4; C. S. 4371.)

Art. 29. Bribery.

§ 14-217. Bribery of officials.—If any person holding office under the laws of this state who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive, or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official action, or omission to act, is to be in any degree influenced thereby, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for a term not exceeding five years, or fined not exceeding five thousand dollars, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3568; Code, s. 991; 1868-9, c. 176, s. 2; C. S. 4372.)

§ 14-218. Offering bribes.—If any person shall offer a bribe, whether it be accepted or not, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment for a term not less than one year nor more than five years in the state's prison or county jail, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3569; Code, s. 992; 1870-1, c. 232; C. S. 4373.)

§ 14-219. Bribery of legislators.—If any person shall directly or indirectly promise, offer or give, or cause or procure to be promised, offered or given, any money, bribe, present or reward, or any promise, contract, undertaking, obligation or security for the payment or delivery of any money, goods, right of action, bribe, present or reward, or any other valuable thing whatever, to any member of the senate or house of representatives of this state after his election as such member, and either before or after he shall have qualified and taken his seat, with intent to influence his vote or decision on any question, matter, cause or proceeding which may then be pending before the general assembly, or which may come before him for action in his capacity as a member of the general assembly, such person so offering, promising or giving, or causing or procuring to be promised, offered or given any such money, goods, bribe, present or reward, or any bond, contract, undertaking, obligation or security for the payment or delivery of any money, goods, bribe, present or reward, or other valuable thing whatever, and the member-elect who shall in anywise accept or receive the same or any part thereof, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not exceeding double the amount so offered, promised or given, and imprisoned in the state's prison not exceeding five years, and the person convicted of so accepting or receiving the same, or any part thereof, shall forfeit his seat in the general assembly and shall be forever disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under this state. (Rev., s. 3570; Code, s. 2852; 1868-9, c. 176, s. 5; C. S. 4374.)

§ 14-220. Bribery of jurors.—If any juror, either directly or indirectly, shall take anything from the plaintiff or defendant in a civil suit, or from any defendant in a state prosecution, or from any other person, to give his verdict, every such juror, and the person who shall give such juror any fee or reward to influence his verdict, or induce or procure him to make any gain or profit by his verdict, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3697; Code, s. 990; R. C., c. 34, s. 34; 5 Edw. III, c. 10; 34 Edw. III, c. 8; 38 Edw. III, c. 12; C. S. 4375.)

Art. 30. Obstructing Justice.

§ 14-221. Breaking or entering jails with intent to injure prisoners.—If any person shall conspire to break or enter any jail or other place of confinement of prisoners charged with crime or under sentence, for the purpose of killing or otherwise injuring any prisoner confined therein; or if any person shall engage in breaking or entering any such jail or other place of confinement of such prisoners with intent to kill or injure any prisoner, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, or upon a plea of guilty, shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the state's prison or the county jail not less than two nor more than fifteen years. (Rev., s. 3698; 1893, c. 461, s. 1; C. S. 4376.)

§ 14-222. Refusal of witness to appear or to testify in investigations of lynchings.—If any person summoned as a witness in the investigation of a charge of lynching shall willfully fail to attend as a witness in obedience to the process served on him, or if, after being sworn, he shall refuse to answer questions pertinent to the matter being investigated before any tribunal, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3699; 1893, c. 461, s. 3; C. S. 4377.)

§ 14-223. Resisting officers.—If any person shall willfully and unlawfully resist, delay or obstruct a public officer in discharging or attempting to discharge a duty of his office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3700; 1889, c. 51, s. 1; C. S. 4378.)

§ 14-224. Failing to aid police officers.—If any person, after having been lawfully commanded to aid an officer in arresting any person, or in retaking any person who has escaped from legal custody, or in executing any legal process, willfully neglects or refuses to aid such officer, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3701; 1889, c. 51, s. 2; C. S. 4379.)

§ 14-225. False, etc., reports to police radio broadcasting stations.—Any person who shall willfully make or cause to be made to a police radio broadcasting station any false, misleading or unfounded report, for the purpose of interfering with the operation thereof, or to hinder or obstruct any peace officer in the performance of his duty, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not more than one year or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 363.)

§ 14-226. Intimidating or interfering with jurors and witnesses.—If any person shall by threats, menaces or in any other manner intimidate or attempt to intimidate any person who is summoned or acting as a juror or witness in any of the courts of this state, or prevent or deter, or attempt to prevent or deter any person summoned or acting as such juror or witness from attendance upon such court, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3696; 1891, c. 87; C. S. 4380.)

§ 14-227. Failing to attend as witness before legislative committees.—If any person shall willfully fail or refuse to attend or produce papers, on summons of any committee of investigation of either house of the general assembly, either select or committee of the whole, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction in the superior court of the county in which such witness may reside or be found, he shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and shall be subject to imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3692; Code, s. 2854; 1869-70, c. 5, s. 2; C. S. 4381.)

Art. 31. Misconduct in Public Office.

§ 14-228. Buying and selling offices.—If any person shall bargain away or sell an office or deputation of an office, or any part or parcel thereof, or shall take money, reward or other profit, directly or indirectly, or shall take any promise, covenant, bond or assurance for money, reward or other profit, for an office or the deputation of an office, or any part thereof, which office, or any part thereof, shall touch or concern the administration or execution of justice, or the receipt, collection, control or disbursement of the public revenue, or shall concern or touch any clerkship in any court of record wherein justice is administered; or if any person shall give or pay money, reward or other profit, or shall make any promise, agreement, bond or assurance for any of such offices, or for the deputation of any of them, or for any part of them, the person so offending in any of the cases aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall forfeit all his right, interest and estate in such office, and every part and parcel thereof, and shall be imprisoned and fined at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3571; Code, s. 998; R. C., c. 34, s. 33; 5, 6 Edw. VI, c. 16, ss. 1, 5; C. S. 4382.)

§ 14-229. Acting as officer before qualifying as such.—If any officer shall enter on the duties of his office before he executes and delivers to the authority entitled to receive the same the bonds required by law, and qualifies by taking and subscribing and filing in the proper office the oath of office prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be ejected from his office. (Rev., s. 3565; Code, s. 79; C. S. 4383.)

§ 14-230. Willfully failing to discharge duties.—If any clerk of any court of record, sheriff, justice of the peace, county commissioner, county surveyor, coroner, treasurer, constable or official of any of the state institutions, or of any county, city or town, shall willfully omit, neglect or refuse to discharge any of the duties of his office, for default whereof it is not elsewhere provided that he shall be indicted, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. If it shall be proved that such officer, after his qualification, willfully and corruptly omitted, neglected or refused to discharge any of the duties of his office, or willfully and corruptly violated his oath of office according to the true intent and meaning thereof, such officer shall be guilty of misbehavior in office, and shall be punished by removal therefrom under the sentence of the court as a part of the punishment for the offense, and shall also be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3592; 1901, c. 270, s. 2; C. S. 4384.)

§ 14-231. Failing to make reports and discharge other duties.—If any state or county officer shall fail, neglect or refuse to make, file or publish any report, statement or other paper, or to deliver to his successor all books and other property belonging to his office, or to pay over or deliver to the proper person all moneys which come into his hands by virtue or color of his office, or to discharge any duty devolving upon him by virtue of his office and required of him by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3576; C. S. 4385.)

§ 14-232. Swearing falsely to official reports.—If any clerk, sheriff, register of deeds, county commissioner, county treasurer, justice of the peace, constable or other county officer shall willfully swear falsely to any report or statement required by law to be made or filed, concerning or touching the county, state or school revenue, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3605; Code, s. 731; 1874-5, c. 151, s. 4; 1876-7, c. 276, s. 4; C. S. 4386.)

§ 14-233. Making of false report by bank examiners; accepting bribes.—If any bank examiner shall knowingly and willfully make any false or fraudulent report of the condition of any bank, which shall have been examined by him, with the intent to aid or abet the officers, owners, or agents of such bank in continuing to operate an insolvent bank, or if any such examiner shall keep or accept any bribe or gratuity given for the purpose of inducing him not to file any report of examination of any bank made by him, or shall neglect to make an examination of any bank by reason of having received or accepted any bribe or gratuity, he shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state prison for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3324; 1903, c. 275, s. 24; 1921, c. 4, s. 79; C. S. 4387.)

§ 14-234. Director of public trust contracting for his own benefit.—If any person, appointed or elected a commissioner or director to discharge any trust wherein the state or any county, city or town may be in any manner interested, shall become an undertaker, or make any contract for his own benefit, under such authority, or be in any manner concerned or interested in making such contract, or in the profits thereof, either privately or openly, singly or jointly with another, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Provided, that this section shall not apply to public officials transacting business with banks or banking institutions in regular course of business: Provided further, that such undertaking or contracting shall be authorized by said governing board. (Rev., s. 3572; Code, s. 1011; R. C., c. 34, s. 38; 1825, c. 1269; 1826, c. 29; 1929, c. 19, s. 1; C. S. 4388.)

§ 14-235. Speculating in claims against towns, cities and the state.—If any clerk, sheriff, register of deeds, county treasurer or other county, city, town or state officer shall engage in the purchasing of any county, city, town or state claim, including teacher's salary voucher, at a less price than its full and true value or at any rate of discount thereon, or be interested in any speculation on any such claim, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, and shall be liable to removal from office at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3575; Code, s. 1009; 1868-9, c. 260; 1923, c. 136, s. 208; C. S. 4389.)

§ 14-236. Acting as agent for those furnishing supplies for schools and other state institutions.—If any member of any board of directors, board of managers, board of trustees of any of the educational, charitable, eleemosynary or penal institutions of the state, or any member of any board of education, or any county or district superintendent or examiner of teachers, or any trustee of any school or other institution supported in whole or in part from any of the public funds of the state, or any officer, agent, manager, teacher or employee of such boards, shall have any pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, proximately or remotely in supplying any goods, wares or merchandise of any nature or kind whatsoever for any of said institutions or schools; or if any of such officers, agents, managers, teachers or employees of such institution or school or state or county officer shall act as agent for any manufacturer, merchant, dealer, publisher or author for any article of merchandise to be used by any of said institutions or schools; or shall receive, directly or indirectly, any gift, emolument, reward or promise of reward for his influence in recommending or procuring the use of any manufactured article, goods, wares or merchandise of any nature or kind whatsoever by any of such institutions or schools, he shall be forthwith removed from his position in the public service, and shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and be imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3833; 1899, c. 732, s. 73; 1897, c. 543; C. S. 4390.)

§ 14-237. Buying school supplies from interested officer.—If any county board of education or school committee shall buy school supplies in which any member has a pecuniary interest, the members of such board shall be removed from their positions in the public service and shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3835; 1901, c. 4, s. 69; C. S. 4391.)

§ 14-238. Soliciting during school hours without permission of school head.—No person, agent, representative or salesman shall solicit or attempt to sell or explain any article of property or proposition to any teacher or pupil of any public school on the school grounds or during the school day without having first secured the written permission and consent of the superintendent, principal or person actually in charge of the school and responsible for it.

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1933, c. 220.)

§ 14-239. Allowing prisoners to escape; burden of proof.—If any person charged with a crime or sentenced by the court upon conviction of any offense, shall be legally committed to any sheriff, constable or jailer, or shall be arrested by any sheriff, deputy sheriff or coroner acting as sheriff, by virtue of any capias issuing on a bill of indictment, information or other criminal proceeding, and such sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable or jailer, willfully or negligently, shall suffer such person, so charged or sentenced and committed, to escape out of his custody, the sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable or jailer so offending, being thereof convicted, shall be removed from office, and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court before whom the trial may be had; and in all such cases it shall be sufficient, in support of the indictment against such sheriff or other officer, to prove that the person so charged or sentenced was committed to his custody, and it shall lie upon the defendant to show that such escape was not by his consent or negligence, but that he had used all legal means to prevent the same, and acted with proper care and diligence: Provided, that such removal of a sheriff shall not affect his duty or power as a collector of the public revenue, but he shall proceed on such duty and be accountable as if such conviction and removal had not been had. (Rev., s. 3577; Code, s. 1022; R. C., c. 34, s. 35; 1791, c. 343, s. 1; 1905, c. 350; C. S. 4393.)

§ 14-240. Solicitor to prosecute officer for escape.—It shall be the duty of solicitors, when they shall be informed or have knowledge of any felon, or person otherwise charged with any crime or offense against the state, having within their respective districts escaped out of the custody of any sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable or jailer, to take the necessary measures to prosecute such sheriff or other officer so offending. (Rev., s. 2822; Code, s. 1023; R. C., c. 34, s. 36; 1791, c. 343, s. 2; C. S. 4394.)

§ 14-241. Disposing of public documents or refusing to deliver them over to successor.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of each county, and every other person to whom the acts of the general assembly, supreme court reports or other public documents are transmitted or deposited for the use of the county or the state, to keep the same safely in their respective offices; and if any such person having the custody of such books and documents, for the uses aforesaid, shall negligently and willfully dispose of the same, by sale or otherwise, or refuse to deliver over the same to his successor in office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine or imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3598; Code, s. 1073; 1881, c. 151; C. S. 4395.)

§ 14-242. Failing to return process or making false return.—If any sheriff, constable or other officer, whether state or municipal, or any person who shall presume to act as any such officer, not being by law authorized so to do, refuse or neglect to return any precept, notice or process, to him tendered or delivered, which it is his duty to execute, or make a false return thereon, he shall forfeit and pay to anyone who will sue for the same one hundred dollars, and shall moreover be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3604; Code s. 1112; R. C., c. 34, s. 118; 1818, c. 980, s. 3; 1827, c. 20, s. 4; C. S. 4396.)

§ 14-243. Failing to surrender tax-list for inspection and correction.—If any sheriff or tax collector shall refuse or fail to surrender his tax-list for inspection or correction upon demand by the authorities imposing the tax, or their successors in office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned not more than five years, and fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3788; Code, s. 3823; 1870-1, c. 177, s. 2, C. S. 4397.

§ 14-244. Failing to file report of fines or penalties.—If any officer who is by law required to file any report or statement of fines or penalties with the county board of education shall fail so to do at or before the time fixed by law for the filing of such report, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3579; 1901, c. 4, s. 62; C. S. 4398.)

§ 14-245. Justices of the peace soliciting official business or patronage.—If any justice of the peace shall solicit official business, and/or patronage for his or her office, he or she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 58.)

§ 14-246. Failure of ex-justice of the peace to turn over books and papers.—If any justice of the peace, on expiration of his term of office, or if any personal representative of a deceased justice of the peace shall, after demand upon him by the clerk of the superior court, willfully fail and refuse to deliver to the clerk of the superior court all dockets, all law and other books, and all official papers which came into his hands by virtue or color of his office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3578; Code, ss. 828, 829; 1885, c. 402; C. S. 4399.)

§ 14-247. Private use of publicly owned vehicle.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, agent or employee of the State of North Carolina, or of any county or of any institution or agency of the State, to use for any private purpose whatsoever any motor vehicle of any type or description whatsoever belonging to the State, or to any county, or to any institution or agency of the State. (1925, c. 239, s. 1.)

§ 14-248. Obtaining repairs and supplies for private vehicle at expense of State.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, agent or employee to have any privately owned motor vehicle repaired at any garage belonging to the State or to any county, or any institution or agency of the State, or to use any tires, oils, gasoline or other accessories purchased by the State, or any county, or any institution or agency of the State, in or on any such private car. (1925, c. 239, s. 2.)

§ 14-249. Limitation of amount expended for vehicle.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, agent, employee or department of the State of North Carolina, or of any county, or of any institution or agency of the State, to expend from the public treasury an amount in excess of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) for any motor vehicle other than motor trucks; except upon the approval of the Governor and Council of State: Provided, that nothing in §§ 14-247 through 14-251 shall be construed to authorize the purchase or maintenance of an automobile at the expense of the State by any State officer unless he is now authorized by statute to do so. (1925, c. 239, s. 3.)

§ 14-250. Publicly owned vehicle to be marked—It shall be the duty of the executive head of every department of the State Government, and of any county, or of any institution or agency of the State, to have painted on every motor vehicle owned by the State, or by any county, or by any institution or agency of the State, a statement with letters of not less than three inches in height, that such car belongs to the State, or to some county, or institution or agency of the State, and that such car is "for official use only." Provided, however, that no automobile used by any officer or official in any county in the State for the purpose of transporting, apprehending or arresting persons charged with violations of the laws of the State of North Carolina, shall be required to be so lettered. (1925, c. 239, s. 4; 1929, c. 303, s. 1.)

§ 14-251. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of sections 14-247 to 14-250 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100), nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Nothing in §§ 14-247 through 14-251 shall apply to the purchase, use or up-keep or expense account of the car for the executive mansion and the Governor. (1925, c. 239, s. 5.)

§ 14-252. Five preceding sections applicable to cities and towns.—Sections 14-247 through 14-251 in every respect shall also apply to cities and incorporated towns. (1931, c. 31.)

Art. 32. Misconduct in Private Office.

§ 14-253. Failure of certain railroad officers to account with successors.—If the president and directors of any railroad company, and any person acting under them, shall, upon demand, fail or refuse to account with the president and directors elected or appointed to succeed them, and to transfer to them forthwith all the money, books, papers, choses in action, property and effects of every kind and description belonging to such company, they shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for not less than one nor more than five years, and be fined at the discretion of the court. All persons conspiring with any such president, directors or their agents to defeat, delay or hinder the execution of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished in like manner. The governor is hereby authorized, at the request of the president, directors and other officers of any railroad company, to make requisition upon the governor of any other state for the apprehension of any such president failing to comply with this section. (Rev., s. 3760; Code, ss. 2001, 2002; 1870-1, c. 72, ss. 1-3; C. S. 4400.)

§ 14-254. Malfeasance of corporation officers and agents.—If any president, director, cashier, teller, clerk or agent of any corporation shall embezzle, abstract or willfully misapply any of the moneys, funds or credits of the corporation, or shall, without authority from the directors, issue or put forth any certificate of deposit, draw any order or bill of exchange, make any acceptance, assign any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment or decree, or make any false entry in any book, report or statement of the corporation with the intent in either case to injure or defraud or to deceive any officer of the corporation, or if any person shall aid and abet in the doing of any of these things, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than four months nor more than fifteen years, and likewise fined, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3325; 1903, c. 275, s. 15; C. S. 4401.)

Art. 33. Prison Breach and Prisoners.

§ 14-255. Escape of hired prisoners from custody.—If any prisoner, who shall be removed from the prison of the respective counties, cities and towns under the law providing for the hiring out of prisoners by counties and towns, shall escape from the person or company having him in custody, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned at hard labor not more than thirty days, or fined not more than fifty dollars. (Rev., s. 3658; Code, s. 3455; 1876-7, c. 196, s. 4; C. S. 4403.)

§ 14-256. Prison breach and escape.—If any person shall break prison, being lawfully confined therein, or shall escape from the custody of any superintendent, guard or officer, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3657; Code, s. 1021; R. C., c. 34, s. 19; 1 Edw. II, st. 2d; 1909, c. 872; C. S. 4404.)

§ 14-257. Permitting escape of or maltreating hired convicts.—If any person charged in any way with the control or management of convicts, hired for service outside of the state's prison, shall negligently permit them to escape, or shall maltreat them, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; but this provision shall not be held to relieve any person from any criminal liability. (Rev., s. 3659; Code, s. 3450; 1881, c. 127, s. 2; C. S. 4405.)

§ 14-258. Conveying messages and weapons to or trading with convicts and other prisoners.—If any person shall convey to or from any convict any letters or oral messages, or shall convey to any convict or person imprisoned, charged with crime and awaiting trial any weapon or instrument by which to effect an escape, or that will aid him in an assault or insurrection, or shall trade with a convict for his clothing or stolen goods, or shall sell to him any article forbidden him by prison rules, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that when a murder, an assault or an escape is effected with the means furnished, the person convicted of furnishing the means shall be sentenced to not less than four years hard labor in the state's prison. (Rev., s. 3662; Code, s. 3441; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 12; 1911, c. 11; C. S. 4406.)

§ 14-259. Harboring or aiding escaped prisoners.—It shall be unlawful for any person knowing, or having reasonable cause to believe, that any other person has escaped from any prison, jail, reformatory, or from the criminal insane department of any state hospital, or from the custody of any peace officer who had such person in charge, or that such person is a convict or prisoner whose parole has been revoked, to conceal, hide, harbor, feed, clothe, or offer aid and comfort in any manner to any such person.

Every person who shall conceal, hide, harbor, feed, clothe, or offer aid and comfort to any other person in violation of this section shall be guilty of a felony, if such other person has been convicted of, or was in custody upon the charge of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not more than five years; and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, if such other person had been convicted of, or was in custody upon a charge of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished in the discretion of the court.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to members of the immediate family of such escapee. For the purposes of this section "immediate family" shall be defined to be the mother, father, brother, sister, wife, husband and child of said escapee. (1939, c. 72.)

§ 14-260. Injury to prisoner by jailer.—If the keeper of a jail shall do, or cause to be done, any wrong or injury to the prisoners committed to his custody, contrary to law, he shall not only pay treble damages to the person injured, but shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3661; Code, s. 3463; R. C., c. 87, s. 8; 1795, c. 433, s. 6; C. S. 4407.)

§ 14-261. Confining prisoners to improper apartments.—If the sheriff or jailer shall wantonly or unnecessarily confine those committed to his custody in any apartment, other than that provided and designated by law for persons of the description of the prisoner, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3660; Code, s. 3471; R. C., c. 87, s. 16; 1795, c. 433, s. 4; C. S. 4408.)

§ 14-262. Requiring female prisoners to work in chain-gang.—If any officer, either judicial, executive or ministerial, shall order or require the working of any female on the streets or roads in any group or chain-gang in this state, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3596; 1897, c. 270; C. S. 4409.)

§ 14-263. Classification and commutation of time for prisoners other than state prisoners.—The board of county commissioners, or such governing body as may have charge of prisoners in any county, city or town in the State of North Carolina, shall divide all prisoners into three classes, or grades, as follows:

In the first class shall be included all those prisoners who have given evidence that they will, or who it is believed will observe the rules and regulations and work diligently and are likely to maintain themselves by honest industry after their discharge. These shall be known as Grade A prisoners and shall receive a commutation of their sentences at the rate of one hundred and four days for each year served.

In the second class shall be included those prisoners who have not as yet given evidence that they can be trusted entirely, but are reasonably obedient to the rules and regulations. These shall be known as Class B prisoners and shall receive a commutation of their sentences of seventy-eight days for each year served.

In the third class shall be those prisoners who have demonstrated that they are incorrigible, have no respect for the rules and regulations and seriously interfere with the discipline and the effectiveness of the labor of the other prisoners. Such prisoners shall receive no commutation of their sentences.

All prisoners shall be admitted into Class B except where it is known by the superintendent of the prison that a prisoner is serving for a second offense. In such cases the superintendent may put the prisoner in Class C in his discretion.

Prisoners of Class A shall be known as honor prisoners and shall be worked in the discretion of the superintendent of the prison without guards. When in prison camps or in any other place of detention they may not be chained or under armed guards.

Prisoners in Class B shall be under guard and may or may not be chained in the discretion of the superintendent.

Prisoners in Class C shall wear chains during the day or night as in the opinion of the superintendent may be necessary.

Preference in assignment of work shall be given Class A prisoners.

The purpose of §§ 14-263 through 14-265 is to unify the regulations pertaining to county prisoners and to encourage industriousness among the prisoners. (1927, c. 178, s. 1; 1937, c. 88, s. 2.)

§ 14-264. Record to be kept; items of record.—The superintendent or other person having charge of prisoners shall keep a record showing, the name, age, date of sentence, length of sentence, crime for which convicted, home address, next of kin, and the conduct of each prisoner received. (1927, c. 178, s. 2.)

§ 14-265. Commutation of sentences for Sunday work.—All prisoners in the State's Prison, or in any county jail or county convict camp, who shall be assigned to regular work which requires the performance of the same, or substantially the same duties on Sundays as on other days of the week, shall be allowed a commutation of their sentences for each Sunday, or fractional part of a Sunday on which they shall be required to perform the duties of the task assigned to them. The commutation of sentence provided for in this section shall be in addition to all other commutations of sentence allowed such prisoners under existing statutes and laws of the State. (1931, c. 198, s. 1.)

Art. 34. Custodial Institutions.

§ 14-266. Persuading inmates to escape. — It shall be unlawful for any parent, guardian, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, or any person whatsoever to persuade or induce to leave, carry away, or accompany from any state institution, except with the permission of the superintendent or other person next in authority, any boy or girl, man or woman, who has been legally committed or admitted under suspended sentence to said institution, by juvenile, recorder's, superior, or any other court of competent jurisdiction. (1935, c. 307, s. 1; 1937, c. 189, s. 1.)

§ 14-267. Harboring fugitives.—It shall be unlawful for any person to harbor, conceal, or give succor to, any known fugitive from any institution whose inmates are committed by court or are admitted under suspended sentence. (1935, c. 307, s. 2; 1937, c. 189, s. 2.)

§ 14-268. Violation made misdemeanor. — Any person violating the provision of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 307, s. 3.)

SUBCHAPTER IX. OFFENSES AGAINST THE PUBLIC PEACE.

Art. 35. Offenses against the Public Peace.

§ 14-269. Carrying concealed weapons.—If any one, except when on his own premises, shall carry concealed about his person any bowie-knife, dirk, dagger, slung shot, loaded cane, brass, iron or metallic knuckles or razor or other deadly weapon of like kind, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. If any one, except on his own premises, shall carry concealed about his person any pistol or gun, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than two years, at the discretion of the court. Upon conviction or submission the deadly weapon with reference to which the defendant shall have been convicted shall be condemned and ordered confiscated and destroyed by the judge presiding at the trial. If any one, not being on his own lands, shall have about his person any such deadly weapon, such possession shall be prima facie evidence of the concealment thereof. This section shall not apply to the following persons: officers and soldiers of the United States army when in discharge of their official duties as such and acting under orders requiring them to carry arms or weapons, civil officers of the United States while in the discharge of their official duties, officers and soldiers of the militia and the state guard when called into actual service, officers of the state, or of any county, city, or town, charged with the execution of the laws of the state, when acting in the discharge of their official duties. (Rev., s. 3708; Code, s. 1005; 1917, c. 76; 1919, c. 197, s. 8; 1923, c. 57; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 30; 1929, cc. 51, 224; C. S. 4410.)

Local Modification.—Caswell: 1941, c. 90; Durham: 1923, c. 48; Franklin: 1923, c. 57, Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 30.

§ 14-270. Sending, accepting or bearing challenges to fight duels.—If any person shall send, accept or bear a challenge to fight a duel, though no death ensue, he, and all such as counsel, aid and abet him, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, moreover, be ineligible to any office of trust, honor or profit in the state, any pardon or reprieve notwithstanding. (Rev., s. 3628; Code, s. 1012; R. C., c. 34, s. 48; 1802, c. 608, s. 1; C. S. 4411.)

Local Modification.—Robeson: Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 270; Vance: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 497.

§ 14-272. Disturbing picnics, entertainments and other meetings.—If any person shall willfully interrupt or disturb any picnic, excursion party, school entertainment, political meeting, or any meeting or other organization whatsoever lawfully and peaceably held, either at, within or without the place where such picnic, excursion party, school entertainment, political meeting or other meeting or organization is held, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3704; 1897, c. 213; C. S. 4413.)

§ 14-273. Disturbing schools and scientific and temperance meetings· injuring property of schools and temperance societies.—If any person shall willfully interrupt or disturb any public or private school or temperance society or organization or any meeting lawfully and peacefully held for the purpose of literary and scientific improvement, or for the discussion of temperance or question of moral reform, either within or without the place where such meeting or school is held, or injure any school building, or deface any school furniture, apparatus or other school property, or property of any temperance society or organization, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3838; Code, s. 2592; 1885, c. 140; 1901, c. 4, s. 28; C. S. 4414.)

§ 14-274. Disturbing students at schools for women.—It shall be unlawful for any male person to willfully disturb, annoy or harass the students of any boarding school or college for women situated anywhere in North Carolina by rude conduct or by persisting unnecessary presence on or near the property of the school or college; or by the willful addressing or communicating orally or otherwise with said students while on school property, or while elsewhere when in charge of a teacher, officer or student of said school. The violation of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than five dollars ($5) nor more than fifty dollars ($50), or by imprisonment not to exceed thirty days. (1925, c. 189, s. 1.)

§ 14-275. Disturbing religious congregations.—If any person shall be intoxicated or shall be guilty of any rude and disorderly conduct at any place where people are accustomed to meet for divine worship, and while the people are there assembled for such worship, whether such worship should have begun or not, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3706; 1901, c. 738; C. S. 4415.)

§ 14-276. Detectives going armed in a body.—If any body of men composed of more than three persons, calling themselves detectives or claiming to be in the employ of any detective agency or known and designated as detectives, shall go armed, they shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3703; 1893, c. 191; C. S. 4416.)

§ 14-277. Impersonation of peace officers.—It shall be unlawful for any person other than duly authorized peace officers or officers of the court to represent to any person that they are duly authorized peace officers, and acting upon such representation to arrest any person, search any building, or in any way impersonate a peace officer or act in accordance with the authority delegated to duly authorized peace officers. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a private citizen in whose presence a felony has been committed from arresting such person or persons participating in the commission of said felony when such arrest is deemed necessary, or to prohibit any private citizen in whose presence an act, which would constitute a breach of the peace and for which an indictment would lie, is committed from arresting such person or persons committing said breach of the peace when such arrest is deemed necessary. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction may be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 229.)

SUBCHAPTER X. OFFENSES AGAINST THE PUBLIC SAFETY.

Art. 36. Offenses against the Public Safety.

§ 14-278. Malicious injury of property of railroads and other carriers; causing death or other physical injury thereby.—If any person shall willfully and maliciously put or place any matter or thing upon, over or near any railroad track; or shall willfully and maliciously destroy, injure or remove the road-bed, or any part thereof, or any rail, sill or other part of the fixture appurtenant to or constituting or supporting any portion of the track of such railroad; or shall willfully and maliciously do any other thing with intent to obstruct, stop, hinder, delay or displace the cars traveling on such road, or to stop, hinder or delay the passengers or others passing over the same; or shall wilfully and maliciously injure the road-bed or the fixtures aforesaid, or any part thereof, with any other intent whatsoever, such person so offending shall be guilty of a felony and shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars nor less than two hundred dollars, and be imprisoned in the state's prison or county jail not less than four months nor more than ten years, and shall be committed to jail till he find surety for his good behavior, for a space of time of not less than three nor more than seven years. If it shall happen that by reason of the commission of the offenses aforesaid, or any of them, any engine or car shall be displaced from the track, or shall be stopped, hindered or delayed, so that any one thereby be instantly killed, or so wounded or hurt as to die therefrom in twelve calendar months thereafter, or shall thereby be maimed or be disabled in the use of any limb or member, then, and in every such case, the party so offending, his counselors, aiders and abettors, on conviction, shall suffer death, if the person is killed, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than five nor more than sixty years if the person is maimed or disabled. If any person shall maliciously destroy or injure any plank-road, turnpike or canal, or any appurtenance or fixture belonging thereto or used therewith, or shall maliciously destroy or injure any lock, dam or sluice, the same being a part of any work erected or made for the purpose of navigation, or improving the navigation of any water, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall suffer the like punishment as in this section is provided for maliciously injuring a railroad. (Rev., s. 3754; Code, s. 1098; R. C., c. 34, ss. 99, 100; 1838, c. 38; 1879, c. 255, s. 2; 1911, c. 200; C. S. 4417.)

§ 14-279. Injuring without malice property of railroads and other carriers; causing death or other physical injury thereby. — If any person, unlawfully, and on purpose, but without malice, shall commit any of the offenses mentioned in § 14-278, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. If it shall happen that by reason of the commission of any such offense any person shall be instantly killed, or so wounded or hurt as to die therefrom in twelve calendar months thereafter, or shall thereby be maimed or disabled in the use of any limb or member, then, and in every such case, the party so offending, his counselors, aiders and abettors, shall be imprisoned not less than twelve months, and fined at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3755; Code, s. 1099; R. C., c. 34, s. 101; C. S. 4418.)

§ 14-280. Shooting or throwing at trains or passengers.—If any person shall willfully and unlawfully cast, throw or shoot any stone, rock, bullet, shot, pellet or other missile at, against, or into any railroad car, locomotive or train, or any person thereon, while such car or locomotive shall be in progress from one station to another, or while such car, locomotive or train shall be stopped for any purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment in the county jail or state's prison, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3763; Code, s. 1100; 1887, c. 19; 1876-7, c. 4; 1911, c. 179; C. S. 4419.)

§ 14-281. Operating trains and street cars while intoxicated.—Any train dispatcher, telegraph operator, engineer, fireman, flagman, brakeman, switchman, conductor, motorman, or other employee of any steam, street, suburban or interurban railway company, who shall be intoxicated while engaged in running or operating, or assisting in running or operating, any railway train, shifting-engine, or street or other electric car, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3758; Code, s. 1972; 1891, c. 114; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 38; 1907, c. 330; C. S. 4420.)

§ 14-282. Displaying false lights on seashore.—If any person shall make or display, or cause to be made or displayed, any false light or beacon on or near the seacoast, for the purpose of deceiving and misleading masters of vessels, and thereby putting them in danger of shipwreck, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3430; Code, s. 1024; R. C., c. 34, s. 58; 1831, c. 42; C. S. 4421.)

§ 14-283. Exploding dynamite cartridges and bombs.—If any person shall fire off or explode, or cause to be fired off or exploded, except for mechanical purposes in a legitimate business, any dynamite cartridge, bomb or other explosive of a like nature, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3794; 1887, c. 364, s. 53; C. S. 4423.)

§ 14-284. Keeping for sale or selling explosives without a license.—If any dealer or other person shall sell or keep for sale any dynamite cartridges, bombs or other combustibles of a like kind, without first having obtained from the board of commissioners of the county where such person or dealer resides a license for that purpose, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3817; 1887, c. 364, ss. 1, 4; C. S. 4425.)

§ 14-285. Failing to enclose marl beds.—If any person shall open any marl bed without surrounding it with a lawful fence, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days: Provided, this shall not apply to any person whose marl bed is situated inside his own inclosure. (Rev., s. 3796; 1887, cc. 235, 268; C. S. 4426.)

§ 14-286. Giving false fire alarms; molesting fire alarm system.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to wantonly and willfully give or cause to be given, or to advise, counsel, or aid and abet any one in giving a false alarm of fire, or to break the glass key protector, or to pull the slide, arm, or lever of any station or signal box of any municipal fire alarm system, except in case of fire, or in any way to willfully interfere with, damage, deface, molest, or injure any part or portion of the fire alarm system of any municipality. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 46; C. S. 4426(a).)

§ 14-287. Leaving unused well open and exposed.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, after discontinuing the use of any well, to leave said well open and exposed; said well, after the use of same has been discontinued, shall be carefully and securely filled: Provided, that this shall not apply to wells on farms that are protected by curbing or board walls. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 125; C. S. 4426(c).)

§ 14-288. Unlawful to pollute any bottles used for beverages.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation having custody for the purpose of sale, distribution or manufacture of any beverage bottle, to place, cause or permit to be placed therein turpentine, varnish, wood alcohol, bleaching water, bluing, kerosene, oils, or any unclean or foul substance, or other offensive material, or to send, ship, return and deliver or cause or permit to be sent, shipped, returned or delivered to any producer of beverages, any bottle used as a container for beverages, and containing any turpentine, varnish, wood alcohol, bleaching water, bluing, kerosene, oils, or any unclean or foul substance, or other offensive material. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined on the first offense, one dollar for each bottle so defiled, and for any subsequent offense not more than ten dollars for each bottle so defiled. (1929, c. 324, s. 1.)

SUBCHAPTER XI. GENERAL POLICE REGULATIONS.

Art. 37. Lotteries and Gaming.

§ 14-289. Advertising lotteries.—If any one, by writing or printing or by circular or letter or in any other way, advertise or publish an account of a lottery, whether within or without this state, stating how, when or where the same is to be or has been drawn, or what are the prizes therein or any of them, or the price of a ticket or any share or interest therein, or where or how it may be obtained, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3725; 1887, c. 211; C. S. 4427.)

§ 14-290. Dealing in lotteries.—If any person shall open, set on foot, carry on, promote, make or draw, publicly or privately, a lottery, by whatever name, style or title the same may be denominated or known; or if any person shall, by such way and means, expose or set to sale any house, real estate, goods, chattels, cash, written evidence of debt, certificates of claims or any other thing of value whatsoever, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding two thousand dollars or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any person who engages in disposing of any species of property whatsoever, including money and evidences of debt, or in any manner distributes gifts or prizes upon tickets, bottle crowns, bottle caps, seals on containers, other devices or certificates sold for that purpose, shall be held liable to prosecution under this section. Any person who shall have in his possession any tickets, certificates or orders used in the operation of any lottery shall be held liable under this section, and the mere possession of such tickets shall be prima facie evidence of the violation of this section. (Rev., s. 3726; Code, s. 1047; R. C., c. 34, s. 69; 1834, c. 19, s. 1; 1874-5, c. 96; 1933, c. 434; 1937, c. 157; C. S. 4428.)

§ 14-291. Selling lottery tickets and acting as agent for lotteries.—If any person shall sell, barter or otherwise dispose of any lottery ticket or order for any number or shares in any lottery, or shall in anywise be concerned in such lottery, by acting as agent in the state for or on behalf of any such lottery, to be drawn or paid either out of or within the state, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as provided for in § 14-290. (Rev., s. 3727; Code, s. 1048; R. C., c. 34, s. 70; 1834, c. 19, s. 2; C. S. 4429.)

§ 14-292. Gambling.—If any person play at any game of chance at which any money, property or other thing of value is bet, whether the same be in stake or not, both those who play and those who bet thereon shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3715; 1891, c. 29; C. S. 4430.)

§ 14-293. Allowing gambling in houses of public entertainment; duty of police officers; penalty.—If any keeper of an ordinary or other house of entertainment, or of a house wherein liquors are retailed, shall knowingly suffer any game, at which money or property, or anything of value, is bet, whether the same be in stake or not, to be played in any such house, or in any part of the premises occupied therewith; or shall furnish persons so playing or betting either on said premises or elsewhere with drink or other thing for their comfort or subsistence during the time of play, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars and be imprisoned not less than six months. Any person who shall be convicted under this section shall, upon such conviction, forfeit his license to do any of the businesses mentioned in this section, and shall be forever debarred from doing any of such businesses in this state. The court shall embody in its judgment that such person has forfeited his license, and no board of county commissioners, board of town commissioners or board of aldermen shall thereafter have power or authority to grant to such convicted person or his agent a license to do any of the businesses mentioned herein. It shall be the duty of every police officer of the cities, towns and villages of this state to make diligent inquiry and to exercise constant watchfulness to discover whether any of the offenses enumerated in this section are being committed, and to report once a week under oath to the mayor or other chief officer of his city, town or village, whether such offenses are being committed, and all the facts within his knowledge, or of which he has information relating thereto. If any such police officer shall know or have information that such offenses are being committed and shall fail or neglect to report the same to such mayor or other chief officer, together with all the information known to him, as to the person or persons committing the same, the time and place of the commission and the names of the witnesses thereto, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court, and shall forfeit his office. It shall be the duty of such mayor or other chief officer to require the report herein provided for, and to require that the same shall be verified by the oath of such policeman, and if it appear upon such report that any of the said offenses have been committed, it shall be the duty of such mayor or other chief officer to issue his warrant for the arrest of the offender. Any such mayor or other chief officer of any city, town or village who shall fail or neglect to require the reports herein mentioned, or shall fail or neglect to require of such police officer to verify the same upon oath, or who shall refuse or neglect, upon its appearing from such reports that there is probably cause to believe that any of the said offenses have been committed, to issue his warrant for the arrest of the offender, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person committing any of the offenses mentioned in this section shall be liable to a penalty of five hundred dollars, to be recovered by suit in the superior court in the county in which such offense may have been committed, one-half thereof to the use of the person bringing such suit and one-half to the school fund for the county. (Rev., s. 3716; Code, s. 1043; 1901, c. 753; R. C., c. 34, s. 76; 1799, c. 526; 1801, c. 581; 1831, c. 26; C. S. 4431.)

§ 14-294. Gambling with faro-banks and tables.—If any person shall open, establish, use or keep a faro-bank, or a faro-table, with the intent that games of chance may be played thereat, or shall play or bet thereat any money, property or other thing of value, whether the same be in stake or not, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined at least two hundred dollars and imprisoned not less than three months. (Rev., s. 3717; Code, s. 1044; R. C., c. 71; 1848, c. 34; 1856-7, c. 25; C. S. 4432.)

§ 14-295. Keeping gaming tables, illegal punchboards or slot machines, or betting thereat.—If any person shall establish, use or keep any gaming table (other than a faro-bank), by whatever name such table may be called, an illegal punch board or an illegal slot machine, at which games of chance shall be played, he shall on conviction thereof be fined not less than two hundred dollars and shall be imprisoned not less than thirty days; and every person who shall play thereat or thereat bet any money, property or other thing of value, whether the same be in stake or not, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten dollars. (Rev., s. 3718; Code, s. 1045; R. C., c. 34, s. 72; 1791, c. 336; 1798, c. 502, s. 2; 1931, c. 14, s. 2; C. S. 4433.)

§ 14-296. Illegal slot machines and punchboards defined.—An illegal slot machine or punchboard within the contemplation of §§ 14-295 through 14-298 is defined as one that shall not produce for or give to the person who places coin or money or the representative of either, the same return in market value each and every time such machine is operated by placing money or coin or the representative of either therein. (1931, c. 14, s. 1.)

§ 14-297. Allowing gaming tables, illegal punchboards or slot machines on premises. — If any person shall knowingly suffer to be opened, kept or used in his house or on any part of the premises occupied therewith, any of the gaming tables prohibited by §§ 14-289 through 14-300 or any illegal punch board or illegal slot machine, he shall forfeit and pay to any one who will sue therefor two hundred dollars, and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined and imprisoned. (Rev., s. 3719; Code s. 1046; R. C., c. 34, s. 73; 1798, c. 502, s. 3; 1800, c. 5, s. 2; 1931, c. 14, s. 3; C. S. 4434.)

§ 14-298. Gaming tables, illegal punchboards and slot machines to be destroyed by justices and police officers. — All justices of the peace, sheriffs, constables and officers of police are hereby authorized and directed, on information made to them on oath that any gaming table prohibited to be used by §§ 14-289 through 14-300, or any illegal punchboard or illegal slot machine is in the possession or use of any person within the limits of their jurisdiction, to destroy the same by every means in their power; and they shall call to their aid all the good citizens of the county, if necessary, to effect its destruction. (Rev., s. 3720; Code, s. 1049; R. C., c. 34, s. 74; 1791, c. 336; 1798, c. 502, s. 2; 1931, c. 14, s. 4; C. S. 4435.)

§ 14-299. Property exhibited by gamblers to be seized; disposition of same.—All moneys or other property or thing of value exhibited for the purpose of alluring persons to bet on any game shall be liable to be seized by any justice of the peace, or by any person acting under his warrant. Of the moneys or other property or thing which shall be so seized one-half shall belong to the person seizing them, and the other half shall go to the use of the poor. (Rev., s. 3722; Code, s. 1051; R. C., c. 34, s. 77; 1798, c. 502, s. 3; C. S. 4436.)

§ 14-300. Opposing destruction of gaming tables and seizure of property.—If any person shall oppose the destruction of any prohibited gaming table, or the seizure of any moneys, property or other thing staked on forbidden games, or shall take and carry away the same or any part thereof after seizure, he shall forfeit and pay to the person so opposed one thousand dollars, for the use of the state and the person so opposed, and shall, moreover, be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3723; Code, s. 1052; R. C., c. 34, s. 78; 1798, c. 502; s. 4; C. S. 4437.)

§ 14-301. Operation or possession of slot machine; separate offenses.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate, keep in his possession or in the possession of any other person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of being operated, any slot machine that shall not produce for or give to the person who places coin or money, or the representative of either, the same return in market value each and every time such machine is operated by placing money or coin or the representative of either therein. Each time said machine is operated as aforesaid shall constitute a separate offense. (1923, c. 138, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4437(a).)

§ 14-302. Punchboards, vending machines, and other gambling devices; separate offenses.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate or keep in his possession, or the possession of any other person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of being operated, any punchboard, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, by whatsoever name known or called, that shall not produce for or give to the person operating, playing or patronizing same, whether personally or through another, by paying money or other thing of value for the privilege of operating, playing or patronizing same, whether through himself or another, the same return in market value, each and every time such punchboard, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, by whatsoever name known or called, is operated, played or patronized by paying of money or other thing of value for the privilege thereof. Each time said punch-board, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, by whatsoever name known or called, is operated, played, or patronized by the paying of money or other thing of value therefor, shall constitute a separate violation of this section as to operation thereunder. (1923, c. 138, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 4437(b).)

§ 14-303. Violation of two preceding sections a misdemeanor.—A violation of any of the provisions of §§ 14-301, 14-302 shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or, in the discretion of the court, by both. (1923, c. 138, s. 5; C. S. 4437(c).)

§ 14-304. Manufacture, sale, etc., of slot machines and devices.—It shall be unlawful to manufacture, own, store, keep, possess, sell, rent, lease, let on shares, lend or give away, transport, or expose for sale or lease, or to offer to sell, rent, lease, let on shares, lend or give away, or to permit the operation of, or for any person to permit to be placed, maintained, used or kept in any room, space or building owned, leased or occupied by him or under his management or control, any slot machine or device. (1937, c. 196, s. 1.)

§ 14-305. Agreements with references to slot machines or devices made unlawful.—It shall be unlawful to make or permit to be made with any person any agreement with reference to any slot machines or device, pursuant to which the user thereof may become entitled to receive any money, credit, allowance, or anything of value or additional chance or right to use such machines or devices, or to receive any check, slug, token or memorandum entitling the holder to receive any money, credit, allowance or thing of value. (1937, c. 196, s. 2.)

§ 14-306. Slot machine or device defined.—Any machine, apparatus or device is a slot machine or device within the provisions of §§ 14-304 through 14-309, if it is one that is adapted, or may be readily converted into one that is adapted, for use in such a way that, as a result of the insertion of any piece of money or coin or other object, such machine or device is caused to operate or may be operated in such manner that the user may receive or become entitled to receive any piece of money, credit, allowance or thing of value, or any check, slug, token or memorandum, whether of value or otherwise, or which may be exchanged for any money, credit, allowance or any thing of value, or which may be given in trade, or the user may secure additional chances or rights to use such machine, apparatus or device; or in the playing of which the operator or user has a chance to make varying scores or tallies upon the outcome of which wagers might be made, irrespective of whether it may, apart from any element of chance or unpredictable outcome of such operation, also sell, deliver or present some merchandise, indication or weight, entertainment or other thing of value. This definition is intended to embrace all slot machines and similar devices except slot machines in which is kept any article to be purchased by depositing any coin or thing of value, and for which may be had any article of merchandise which makes the same return or returns of equal value each and every time it is operated, or any machine wherein may be seen any pictures or heard any music by depositing therein any coin or thing of value, or any slot weighing machine or any machine for making stencils by the use of contrivances operated by depositing in the machine any coin or thing of value, or any lock operated by slot wherein money or thing of value is to be deposited, where such slot machines make the same return or returns of equal value each and every time the same is operated and does not at any time it is operated offer the user or operator any additional money, credit, allowance, or thing of value, or check, slug, token or memorandum, whether of value or otherwise, which may be exchanged for money, credit, allowance or thing of value or which may be given in trade or by which the user may secure additional chances or rights to use such machine, apparatus, or device, or in the playing of which the operator does not have a chance to make varying scores or tallies. (1937, c. 196, s. 3.)

§ 14-307. Issuance of license prohibited.—There shall be no state, county, or municipal tax levied for the privilege of operating the machines or devices the operation of which is prohibited by §§ 14-304 through 14-309. (1937, c. 196, s. 4.)

§ 14-308. Declared a public nuisance.—An article or apparatus maintained or kept in violation of §§ 14-304 through 14-309 is a public nuisance. (1937, c. 196, s. 5.)

§ 14-309. Violation made misdemeanor. — Any person who violates any provision of §§ 14-304 through 14-309 is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 196, s. 6.)

Art. 38. Marathon Dances and Similar Endurance Contests.

§ 14-310. Dance marathon and walkathons prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to promote, advertise or conduct any marathon dance contests, walkathon contests and/or similar endurance contests, by whatever name called, of walking or dancing, and it shall be unlawful for any person to participate in any marathon dance contest, walkathon contest, and/or similar physical endurance contest by walking and dancing continuing or intended to continue for a period of more than eight consecutive hours, whether or not an admission is charged and/or a prize awarded, and it shall be unlawful for any person to participate in more than one such contest or performance within any period of forty-eight hours. (1935, c. 13, s. 1.)

§ 14-311. Penalty for violation.—Any persons violating the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by imprisonment in the county or municipal jail for not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days, or by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 13, s. 2.)

§ 14-312. Each day made separate offense.—Each and every day that any person, firm or corporation shall continue such a contest or engage in any such activities and/or each day's participation in such contest or advertisement of the same or do any act in violation of the provisions of this article shall be and constitute a distinct and separate offense. (1935, c. 13, s. 3.)

Art. 39. Protection of Minors.

§ 14-313. Selling cigarettes to minors.—If any person shall sell, give away or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, cigarettes, or tobacco in the form of cigarettes, or cut tobacco in any form or shape which may be used or intended to be used as a substitute for cigarettes, to any minor under the age of seventeen years; or if any person shall aid, assist or abet any other person in selling such articles to such minor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3804; 1891, c. 276; C. S. 4438.)

§ 14-314. Aiding minors in procuring cigarettes; duty of police officers.—If any person shall aid or assist any minor child under seventeen years old in obtaining the possession of cigarettes, or tobacco in any form used as a substitute therefor, by whatsoever name it may be called, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

It shall be the duty of every police officer, upon knowledge or information that any minor under the age of seventeen years is or has been smoking any cigarette, to inquire of any such minor the name of the person who sold or gave him such cigarette, or the substance from which it was made, or who aided and abetted in effecting such gift or sale. Upon receiving this information from any such minor, the officer shall forthwith cause a warrant to be issued for the person giving or selling, or aiding and abetting in the giving or selling of such cigarette or the substance out of which it was made, and have such person dealt with as the law directs. Any such minor who shall fail or refuse to give to any officer, upon inquiry, the name of the person selling or giving him such cigarette, or the substance out of which it was made, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3805; 1891, c. 276, s. 2; 1913, c. 185; C. S. 4439.)

§ 14-315. Selling or giving weapons to minors.—If any person shall knowingly sell, offer for sale, give or in any way dispose of to a minor any pistol or pistol cartridge, brass knucks, bowie-knife, dirk, loaded cane or sling-shot, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3832; 1893, c. 514; C. S. 4440.)

§ 14-316. Permitting young children to use dangerous firearms.—Any person, being the parent or guardian of, or standing in loco parentis to, any child under the age of twelve years, who shall knowingly permit such child to have the possession or custody of, or use in any manner whatever, any gun, pistol or other dangerous firearm, whether such firearm be loaded or unloaded, or any other person who shall knowingly furnish such child any such firearm, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1913, c. 32; C. S. 4441.)

§ 14-317. Permitting minors to enter barrooms, billiard rooms and bowling alleys.—If the keeper or owner of any barroom, billiard room or bowling alley shall allow any minor to enter or remain in such barroom, billiard room or bowling alley, where before such minor enters or remains in such barroom, billiard room or bowling alley, the owner or keeper thereof has been notified by the parents or guardian of such minor not to allow him to enter or remain in such barroom, billiard room or bowling alley, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3729; 1897, c. 278; C. S. 4442.)

§ 14-318. Exposing children to fire.—If any person shall leave any child of the age of seven years or less locked or otherwise confined in any dwelling, building or enclosure, and go away from such dwelling, building or enclosure without leaving some person of the age of discretion in charge of the same, so as to expose the child to danger by fire, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3795; 1893, c. 12; C. S. 4443.)

§ 14-319. Marrying females under fourteen years old.—If any person shall marry a female under the age of fourteen years, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3368; Code, s. 1083; R. C., c. 34, s. 46; 1820, c. 1041, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4444.)

§ 14-320. Separating child under six months old from mother.—It shall be unlawful for any person to separate or aid in separating any child under six months old from its mother for the purpose of placing such child in a foster home or institution, or with the intent to remove it from the state for such purpose, unless the consent in writing for such separation shall have been obtained from the clerk of the superior court and the county health officer of the county in which the mother resides, or of the county in which the child was born; and it shall be unlawful for any mother to surrender her child for such purpose without first having obtained such consent; provided, that in every instance the county superintendent of public welfare shall have made proper investigation of the condition and situation of said mother and child and shall make a written report of same to the clerk of court and the county health officer before they take action. Any person violating this section shall, upon conviction, be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisoned for one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 59; 1919, c. 240; 1939, c. 56; C. S. 4445.)

§ 14-321. Failing to pay minors for doing certain work.—Whenever any person, having a contract with any corporation, company or person for the manufacture or change of any raw material by the piece or pound, shall employ any minor to assist in the work upon the faith of and by color of such contract, with intent to cheat and defraud such minor, and, having secured the contract price, shall willfully fail to pay the minor when he shall have performed his part of the contract work, whether done by the day or by the job, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3428a; 1893, c. 309; C. S. 4446.)

Art. 40. Protection of the Family.

§ 14-322. Abandonment of family by husband.—If any husband shall willfully abandon his wife without providing adequate support for such wife, and the children which he may have begotten upon her, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the abandonment of children by the father shall constitute a continuing offense and shall not be barred by any statute of limitations until the youngest living child shall arrive at the age of eighteen years. (Rev., s. 3355; Code, s. 970; 1868-9, c. 209, s. 1; 1873-4, c. 176, s. 10; 1879, c. 92; 1925, c. 290; C. S. 4447.)

§ 14-323. Evidence that abandonment was willful.—If the fact of abandonment of and failure to provide adequate support for the wife and children shall be proved, or, while being with such wife, neglect by the husband to provide for the adequate support of such wife or children shall be proved, then the fact that such husband neglects applying himself to some honest calling for the support of himself and family, and is found sauntering about, endeavoring to maintain himself by gaming or other undue means, or is a common frequenter of drinking houses, or is a known common drunkard, shall be presumptive evidence that such abandonment and neglect is willful. (Rev., s. 3356; Code, s. 971; 1868-9, c. 209, s. 3; C. S. 4448.)

§ 14-324. Order to support from husband's property or earnings.—Upon any conviction for abandonment, any judge or any recorder having jurisdiction thereof may, in his discretion, make such order as in his judgment will best provide for the support, as far as may be necessary, of the deserted wife or children, or both, from the property or labor of the defendant. (1917, c. 259; C. S. 4449.)

§ 14-325. Failure of husband to provide adequate support for family.—If any husband, while living with his wife, shall willfully neglect to provide adequate support of such wife or the children which he has begotten upon her, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon conviction of any husband as herein provided, the court having jurisdiction thereof may in his discretion make such order as in his judgment will best provide for the support of such wife or children, and may commit the said husband to the common jail of the county, to be hired out by the county commissioners for such length of time as the court may deem proper, which said wage or salary shall be paid to the said wife or children, to be used toward their support. (Rev., s. 3357; Code, s. 972; 1868-9, c. 209, s. 2; 1873-4, c. 176, s. 11; 1879, c. 92; 1921, c. 103; C. S. 4450.)

§ 14-326. Abandonment of child by mother.—If any mother shall willfully abandon her child or children, whether legitimate or illegitimate, and under sixteen years of age, she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1931, c. 57, s. 1.)

Art. 41. Intoxicating Liquors.

§ 14-327. Adulteration of liquors.—If any person shall adulterate any spirituous, alcholic, vinous or malt liquors by mixing the same with any substance of whatever kind, except as provided in the following section, or if any person shall sell or offer to sell any spirituous, alcoholic, vinous or malt liquors, knowing the same to be thus adulterated, or shall import into this state any spirituous or intoxicating liquors, and sell or offer to sell such liquor, knowing the same to be adulterated, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3512; Code, s. 982; 1858-9, c. 57, ss. 1, 4; C. S. 4451.)

§ 14-328. Selling recipe for adulterating liquors.—If any person shall sell or offer for sale any recipe or formula whatever for adulterating any spirituous or alcoholic liquors, by mixing the same with any substance of whatever kind, except as is herein provided, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined or imprisoned as is provided in the preceding section: Provided, that this section and the two sections that immediately precede and follow it respectively shall not be so construed as to prevent druggists, physicians and persons engaged in the mechanical arts from adulterating liquors for medical and mechanical purposes. (Rev., s. 3513; Code, s. 984; 1858-9, c. 57, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 4452.)

§ 14-329. Manufacturing or selling poisonous liquors.—If any person shall manufacture, sell, or in any way deal out spirituous liquors, of any name or kind, to be used as a drink or beverage, and the same shall be found to contain any foreign properties or ingredients poisonous to the human system, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than five years, and may be fined in the discretion of the court. It shall be competent for any citizen, after making purchase of any spirituous liquor, to cause the same to be analyzed by some known competent chemist, and if upon such analysis it shall be found to contain any foreign poisonous matter, it shall be prima facie evidence against the party making such a sale. (Rev., s. 3522; Code, s. 983; 1873-4, c. 180, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4453.)

§ 14-330. Selling or giving away liquor near political speaking.—If any person shall sell or give away, either directly or indirectly, any spirituous liquors, wine or bitters containing alcohol, within two miles of any place at which political public speaking shall be advertised to take place, and does take place, during the day on which such speaking shall take place, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding twenty days. (Rev., s. 3528; Code, s. 1079; 1879, c. 212; C. S. 4454.)

§ 14-331. Giving intoxicants to unmarried minors under seventeen years old.—If any person shall give intoxicating drinks or liquors to any unmarried minor under the age of seventeen years; or if any person shall aid, assist or abet any other person in giving such drinks or liquors to such minor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court; but nothing in this section shall prevent any parent or other person standing in loco parentis from giving or administering any such drinks or liquors to his minor child for medicinal purposes, nor any physician from giving or administering such drinks or liquors to any minor patient under his care; nor shall this section apply to the giving or using of wine in the administration of the sacrament. (1915, c. 82; C. S. 4455.)

§ 14-332. Selling or giving intoxicants to unmarried minors by dealers; liability for exemplary damages.—If any dealer in intoxicating drinks or liquors sell, or in any manner part with for a compensation therefor, either directly or indirectly, or give away such drinks or liquors, to any unmarried person under the age of twenty-one years, knowing such person to be under the age of twenty-one years he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and such sale or giving away shall be prima facie evidence of such knowledge. Any person who keeps on hand intoxicating drinks or liquors for the purpose of sale or profit shall be considered a dealer within the meaning of this section.

The father, or if he be dead, the mother, guardian or employer of any minor to whom a sale or gift shall be made in violation of this section, shall have a right of action in a civil suit against the person so offending by such sale or gift, and upon proof of such illicit sale or gift shall recover from the party so offending such exemplary damages as a jury may assess: Provided, that such assessment shall not be less than twenty-five dollars. (Rev., ss. 3524, 3525; Code, ss. 1077, 1078; 1873-4, c. 68; 1881, c. 242; C. S. 4456.)

Art. 42. Public Drunkenness.

§ 14-333. Public drinking on railway passenger cars; copy of section to be posted.—Any person who shall publicly engage in the drinking of intoxicating liquors in the presence of passengers on any passenger car shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days. This section shall not apply to any smoking compartment or to any closet, dining or buffet car. It shall be the duty of all railway companies to have posted a copy of this section in all passenger coaches used for transporting passengers within the state. (1907, c. 455; C. S. 4457.)

§ 14-334. Public drunkenness and disorderliness.—It shall be unlawful for any person to be drunk and disorderly in any public place or on any public road or street in North Carolina; person or persons convicted of a violation hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 211; C. S. 4457(a).)

§ 14-335. Local: Public drunkenness.—If any person shall be found drunk or intoxicated on the public highway, or at any public place or meeting, in any county, township, city, town, village or other place herein named, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished as is provided in this section:

1. By a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, in the counties of Alamance, Ashe, Avery, Brunswick, Burke, Catawba, Cherokee, Clay, Cleveland, Dare, Davie, Duplin, Franklin, Gaston, Graham, Greene, Haywood, Henderson, Hyde, Johnston, Lincoln, Madison, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, Moore, Northampton, Orange, Pitt, Richmond, Rutherford, Scotland, Stanly, Union, Vance, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wilkes and Yadkin, in the townships of Fruitville and Poplar branch in Currituck county, and at Pungo in Beaufort county. (1907, cc. 305, 785, 900, 976; 1908, c. 113; 1909, c. 815; Pub. Loc. 1915, c. 790; Pub. Loc. 1917, cc. 447, 475; Pub. Loc. 1919, cc. 148, 200; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 5; 1929, c. 135; 1931, c. 219; 1935, c. 49, s. 1; 1935, c. 208; 1937, cc. 46, 96, 286, 329, 443; 1941, cc. 334, 336; C. S. 4458.)

2. From and after February 28, 1935, it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace in Cherokee, Jackson and Clay counties, or any mayor of any incorporated city or town in said counties, in imposing the prison sentence provided for in this section as amended, to sentence the defendant to thirty days in prison to be assigned to work on the highways of the state of North Carolina under the supervision of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, and in any case where any such defendant is so sentenced for as much as thirty days it shall be lawful for, and the duty of, the State Highway and Public Works Commission to receive and work such prisoner, as is now provided by law in case of sentences by judges of the superior court. (1935, c. 49, s. 4; 1939, c. 55.)

3. By a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, in Yancey county. (1909, c. 256; C. S. 4458.)

4. By a fine of not less than two dollars and fifty cents nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, in Buncombe county. (1909, c. 271; C. S. 4458.)

5. By a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars in Wake county. (1907, c. 908; C. S. 4458.)

6. By a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ten days, in the village of Kannapolis, or on the premises or within one mile of the Kannapolis cotton mills. (1909, c. 46, s. 2; C. S. 4458.)

7. By a fine, for the first offense, of not less than ten nor more than twenty dollars; for second and further offense, not less than twenty nor more than thirty dollars, or imprisoned for not more than twenty days, in Transylvania county. (Pub. Loc. 1919, c. 190; Rev., 3733; 1897, c. 57; 1899, cc. 87, 208, 608, 638; 1901, c. 445; 1903, cc. 116, 124, 523, 758; C. S. 4458.)

8. By a fine of fifteen dollars or imprisonment for ten days for the first offense; by a fine of twenty-five dollars or imprisonment for twenty days for the second offense; by a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days for the third and subsequent offenses, in the King high school district, Stokes county. (1933, c. 287.)

9. By a fine of not less than five dollars or more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, in the discretion of the court in Swain county. (1933, c. 10.)

10. By a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment not more than thirty days in Nash and Wilson counties. (1935, cc. 284, 350.)

11. In Guilford and Surry counties, by a fine, for the first offense, of not more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days; for the second offense within a period of twelve months by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not more than sixty days; and for the third offense within any twelve months' period, such third offense to be declared a misdemeanor, punishable as a misdemeanor, within the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 207; 1937, c. 203; 1941, cc. 82, 150.)

12. In Edgecombe county, by a fine, for the first offense, of not more than fifty dollars ($50.00), or imprisonment for not more than thirty days; for the second offense within a period of twelve months, by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00), or imprisonment for not more than sixty days; and for the third offense within any twelve months' period such offense is declared a misdemeanor, punishable as a misdemeanor within the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 95.)

13. In Jackson and Macon counties, any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished in the discretion of the court. Provided, that in the event the county commissioners of Jackson county abolish the recorder's court of said county, then, and in that event, the first sentence of this subsection shall not apply to Jackson county. (Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 17; Pub. Loc. 1931, c. 413.)

Art. 43. Vagrants and Tramps.

§ 14-336. Persons classed as vagrants.—If any person shall come within any of the following classes, he shall be deemed a vagrant, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days: Provided, however, that this limitation of punishment shall not be binding except in cases of a first offense, and in all other cases such person may be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court:

1. Persons wandering or strolling about in idleness who are able to work and have no property to support them.

2. Persons leading an idle, immoral or profligate life, who have no property to support them and who are able to work and do not work.

3. All persons able to work having no property to support them and who have not some visible and known means of a fair, honest and reputable livelihood.

4. Persons having a fixed abode who have no visible property to support them and who live by stealing or by trading in, bartering for or buying stolen property.

5. Professional gamblers living in idleness.

6. All able-bodied men having no other visible means of support who shall live in idleness upon the wages or earnings of their mother, wife or minor children, except of male children over eighteen years old.

7. Keepers and inmates of bawdy-houses, assignation houses, lewd and disorderly houses, and other places where illegal sexual intercourse is habitually carried on: Provided, that nothing here is intended or shall be construed as abolishing the crime of keeping a bawdy-house, or lessening the punishment by law for such crime. (Rev., s. 3740; 1905, c. 391; 1907, c. 1012, s. 1; 1913, c. 75; 1915, c. 1; C. S. 4459.)

§ 14-337. Police officers to furnish list of disorderly houses; inmates competent and compellable to testify.—It shall be the duty of the chief of police, marshal, constable or other chief ministerial officer of each city and town in this state to furnish every thirty days to the police justice, recorder, mayor or other trial officer of such city or town a list of the bawdy, assignation, lewd and disorderly houses and other places where illegal sexual intercourse is carried on, together with the names of the keepers and inmates of such houses and places, in such city or town; and it shall be the duty of such police justice, recorder, mayor or other trial officer, upon the filing of such list, to issue his warrant for the persons declared in subsection seven of § 14-336 to be vagrants, and to punish in accordance with the provisions of that section such of them as may be found guilty. In all trials under said subsection seven of § 14-336 any keeper or inmate of any of the houses or places named, or his employees, shall be competent and compellable to give evidence of the character and nature of such house or place and of the character and acts of the keepers and inmates thereof; but the person so testifying shall not be prosecuted or punished for the commission of any crime about which he shall have been required to testify.

If any chief of police, marshal, constable or other chief ministerial officer of any city or town shall fail to furnish the list of houses and places provided for in this section, or shall suppress the name of any person whom he is required herein to report, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1907, c. 1012, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 4460.)

§ 14-338. Tramp defined and punishment provided; certain persons excepted.—If any person shall go about from place to place begging or subsisting on charity, he shall be denominated a tramp, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days: Provided, that any person who shall furnish satisfactory evidence of good character shall be discharged without cost. Any act of begging or vagrancy by any person, unless a well-known object of charity, shall be evidence that the person committing the same is a tramp. This section shall not apply to any woman, to any minor under the age of fourteen years, or to any blind person. (Rev., s. 3735; Code, ss. 3828, 3829, 3831, 3833; 1897, c. 268; 1879, c. 198, ss. 1, 4, 6; C. S. 4461.)

§ 14-339. Trespassing and the carrying of dangerous weapons by tramps.—If any tramp shall enter any dwelling-house or kindle any fire on the land of another without the consent of the owner or occupant thereof, or shall kindle a fire on any highway, or shall be found carrying any firearm or other dangerous weapon, or shall threaten to do any injury to the person, or to the real or personal estate, of another, he shall be punished by imprisonment, at the discretion of the court, not to exceed twelve months. (Rev., s. 3736; Code, s. 3829; 1879, c. 198, s. 2; C. S. 4462.)

§ 14-340. Malicious injuries by tramps to persons and property.—If any tramp shall willfully and maliciously do any injury to the person, or to the real or personal estate, of another, he shall be punished by imprisonment, at the discretion of the court, not to exceed three years. (Rev., s. 3737; Code, s. 3830; 1879, c. 198, s. 3; C. S. 4463.)

§ 14-341. Arrest of tramps by persons who are not officers.—Any person, upon a view of any offense described in §§ 14-338 through 14-340, shall cause the offender to be arrested upon a warrant and taken before some justice of the peace, or he may apprehend the offender and take him before a justice of the peace, for examination, and, on his conviction, he shall be entitled to the same fee as a sheriff. (Rev., s. 3738; Code, s. 3832; 1879, c. 198, s. 5; C. S. 4464.)

Art. 44. Regulation of Sales.

§ 14-342. Selling or offering to sell meat of diseased animals.—If any person shall knowingly and willfully slaughter any diseased animal and sell or offer for sale any of the meat of such diseased animal for human consumption, or if any person knows that the meat offered for sale or sold for human consumption by him is that of a diseased animal, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3442; 1905, c. 303; C. S. 4465.)

§ 14-343. Unauthorized dealing in railroad tickets.—If any person shall sell or deal in tickets issued by any railroad company, unless he is a duly authorized agent of the railroad company, or shall refuse upon demand to exhibit his authority to sell or deal in such tickets, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3764; 1895, c. 83, s. 1; C. S. 4466.)

§ 14-344. Sale of athletic contest tickets in excess of printed price.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale any ticket of admission to any baseball, basketball, football game or other athletic contest of any kind in excess of the sale price written or printed on such ticket or tickets. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 180.)

§ 14-345. Sale of cotton at night under certain conditions.—If any person shall buy, sell, deliver or receive, for a price, or for any reward whatever, any cotton in the seed, or any unpacked lint cotton, brought or carried in a basket, hamper or sheet, or in any mode where the quantity is less than what is usually baled, or where the cotton is not baled, between the hours of sunset and sunrise, such person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3813; Code, s. 1006;

1873-4, c. 62; 1874-5, c. 70; 1905, c. 417; C. S. 4467.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg, Nash: C. S. 4467.

§ 14-346. Sale of convict-made goods prohibited.—Except as hereinafter provided, the sale anywhere within the state of North Carolina of any and all goods, wares and merchandise manufactured, produced or mined wholly or in part, by convicts or prisoners, except by convicts or prisoners on parole or probation, or in any penal and/or reformatory institutions is hereby prohibited and declared to be unlawful.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to sales or exchanges between the state penitentiary and other penal, charitable, educational and/or custodial institutions, maintained wholly or in part by the state, or its political subdivisions, for use in said institution or by the wards thereof; nor shall the provisions of this section apply to the sale of cotton, corn, grain or other processed or unprocessed agricultural products, including seed for growing purposes, or to the sale of stone, quarried by convict labor, or to the sale of coal or chert mined by convict labor, in any mine operated by the state: Provided that this section shall apply with equal force to sales to the state or any political subdivision thereof by any state penal or correctional institution, including the state highway: Provided further that the state of North Carolina shall have the right of manufacturing in any of its penal or correctional institutions products to be used exclusively by the state or any of its agencies.

This section shall apply equally to convict or prison-made goods, wares or merchandise, whether manufactured, produced or mined within or without the state of North Carolina.

Any person, firm or corporation selling, undertaking to sell, or offering for sale any such prison-made or convict-made goods, wares or merchandise, anywhere within the State, in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be subject to fine, or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. Each sale or offer to sell, in violation of the provisions of this section, shall constitute a separate offense. (1933, c. 146, ss. 1-4.)

Art. 45. Regulation of Employer and Employee.

§ 14-347. Enticing servant to leave master.—If any person shall entice, persuade and procure any servant by indenture, or any servant who shall have contracted in writing or orally to serve his employer, to leave unlawfully the service of his master or employer; or if any person shall knowingly and unlawfully harbor and detain, in his own service and from the service of his master or employer, any servant who shall unlawfully leave the service of such master or employer, then, in either case, such person and servant shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisoned not exceeding six months. (Rev., s. 3365; Code, ss. 3119, 3120; 1866, c. 58; 1866-7, c. 124; 1881, c. 303; C. S. 4469.)

§ 14-348. Local: Hiring servant who has unlawfully left employer.—If any person shall knowingly hire, employ, harbor or detain in his own service any servant, employee, tenant, or wage hand of any other person, who shall have contracted in writing, or orally, for a fixed period of time to serve his employer, and who shall have left the service of his employer in violation of his contract, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be civilly liable in damages to the party so aggrieved. This section shall apply to the following counties: Beaufort, Edgecombe, Person, Pitt, Washington, Warren, Vance, Pender, Halifax, Guilford, Granville, Hertford, Richmond, Wake, Wayne and Caswell. (Rev., s. 3374; 1901, c. 682; 1903, c. 365; 1907, c. 238, s. 2; 1907, c. 402; 1919, c. 274; C. S. 4470.)

§ 14-349. Enticing seamen from vessel.—If any person shall induce any seaman, in the employment of any domestic or foreign vessel, in any of the ports of North Carolina, to leave any such vessel before his term of service shall have expired, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3555; Code, s. 1108; 1879, c. 219, s. 1; 1881, c. 256, s. 1; C. S. 4471.)

§ 14-350. Secreting or harboring deserting seamen.—If any person shall secrete or harbor any seaman who has deserted from any domestic or foreign vessel, knowing that such seaman has deserted, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days; and if such seaman be found concealed or secreted by any person on his premises, such concealment and secretion shall be deemed prima facie evidence that such person knew that such seaman was a deserter. (Rev., s. 3556; Code, s. 1109; 1879, c. 219, s. 2; 1881, c. 256, s. 2; C. S. 4472.)

§ 14-351. Search warrants for deserting seamen.—If any credible witness shall complain, upon oath before any justice of the peace, that any person has concealed on his premises any seaman who has deserted from any such domestic or foreign vessel, it shall be lawful for such justice to grant a search warrant to be executed within the limits of his county to any proper officer, authorizing him to search for such seaman, and to arrest the person on whose premises he may be found; and the person on whose premises such seaman shall be found shall be adjudged to pay the costs of the search warrant, if on examination it shall appear that such seaman was secreted or concealed by such person; otherwise the costs shall be paid by the party making the complaint. (Rev., s. 3557; Code, s. 1110; 1881, c. 256, s. 3; C. S. 4473.)

§ 14-352. Appeal in cases of deserting seamen regulated.—In all cases arising under §§ 14-349 through 14-351, if any appeal is prayed by either party at the time of the trial, it shall be granted; but no appeal shall be granted by any justice at any time after the final hearing of the case. In case an appeal is prayed at the trial, it shall be the duty of the justice to proceed immediately to reduce to writing the testimony of any witness whose testimony is material (if such witness shall be master, officer or seaman on board of any vessel), in the presence of the adverse party, who may cross-question such witness, which testimony shall be subscribed by such witness and returned by the justice with the papers in the case; and on the hearing in the appellate court, the testimony so taken and reduced to writing by the justice shall be read, heard and accepted as the true and lawful testimony of such witness, as if such person were in person present to give evidence. For reducing such testimony to writing the justice shall receive the same fees as are allowed for taking depositions. (Rev., s. 3558; Code, s. 1111; 1881, c. 256, ss. 4, 5; C. S. 4474.)

§ 14-353. Influencing agents and servants in violating duties owed employers.—Any person who gives, offers or promises to an agent, employee or servant any gift or gratuity whatever with intent to influence his action in relation to his principal's, employer's or master's business; any agent, employee or servant who requests or accepts a gift or gratuity or a promise to make a gift or to do an act beneficial to himself, under an agreement or with an understanding that he shall act in any particular manner in relation to his principal's, employer's or master's business; any agent, employee or servant who, being authorized to procure materials, supplies or other articles either by purchase or contract for his principal, employer or master, or to employ service or labor for his principal, employer or master, receives, directly or indirectly, for himself or for another, a commission, discount or bonus from the person who makes such sale or contract, or furnishes such materials, supplies or other articles, or from a person who renders such service or labor; and any person who gives or offers such an agent, employee or servant such commission, discount or bonus, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1913, c. 190, s. 1; C. S. 4475.)

§ 14-354. Witness required to give self-criminating evidence; no suit or prosecution to be founded thereon.—No person shall be excused from attending, testifying or producing books, papers, contracts, agreements and other documents before any court, or in obedience to the subpœna of any court, having jurisdiction of the crime denounced in § 14-353, on the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or to subject him to a penalty or to a forfeiture; but no person shall be liable to any suit or prosecution, civil or criminal, for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before such court or in obedience to its subpœna or in any such case or proceeding: Provided, that no person so testifying or producing any such books, papers, contracts, agreements or other documents shall be exempted from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying. (1913, c. 190, s. 2; C. S. 4476.)

§ 14-355. Blacklisting employees.—If any person, agent, company or corporation, after having discharged any employee from his or its service, shall prevent or attempt to prevent, by word or writing of any kind, such discharged employee from obtaining employment with any other person, company or corporation, such person, agent or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars; and such person, agent, company or corporation shall be liable in penal damages to such discharged person, to be recovered by civil action. This section shall not be construed as prohibiting any person or agent of any company or corporation from furnishing in writing, upon request, any other person, company or corporation to whom such discharged person or employee has applied for employment, a truthful statement of the reason for such discharge. (1909, c. 858, s. 1; C. S. 4477.)

§ 14-356. Conspiring to blacklist employees.—It shall be unlawful for two or more persons to agree together to blacklist any discharged employee or to attempt, by words or writing or any other means whatever, to prevent such discharged employee, or any employee who may have voluntarily left the service of his employer, from obtaining employment with any other person or company. Persons violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1909, c. 858, s. 2; C. S. 4478.)

§ 14-357. Issuing nontransferable script to laborers.—If any person who employs laborers by the day, week or month shall issue in payment for the services of such laborers any ticket, certificate or other script bearing upon its face the word "nontransferable," or shall issue such ticket, certificate or other script in any form that would render it void by transfer from the person to whom issued, or shall refuse to pay to the person holding the same its face value, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each offense, or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3730; 1889, c. 280; 1891, cc. 46, 78, 167, 370, 456; 1895, c. 127; C. S. 4479.)

Art. 46. Regulation of Landlord and Tenant.

§ 14-358. Local: Violation of certain contracts between landlord and tenant.—If any tenant or cropper shall procure advances from his landlord to enable him to make a crop on the land rented by him, and then willfully abandon the same without good cause and before paying for such advances; or if any landlord shall contract with a tenant or cropper to furnish him advances to enable him to make a crop, and shall willfully fail or refuse, without good cause, to furnish such advances according to his agreement, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. Any person employing a tenant or cropper who has violated the provisions of this section, with knowledge of such violation, shall be liable to the landlord furnishing such advances for the amount thereof, and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. This section shall apply to the following counties only: Wayne, Lenoir, Greene, Johnston, Jones, Onslow, Craven, Cleveland, Sampson, Pitt, Duplin, Gates, Cumberland, Perquimans, Chowan, Robeson, Bladen, Nash, Harnett, Edgecombe, Hertford, Wilson, Rockingham, Pender, Currituck, Gaston, Stokes, Surry, Alamance, Northampton, Beaufort, Chatham, Tyrrell, Mecklenburg, Halifax, Caswell, Camden, Cabarrus, Columbus, Martin, Washington, Wake, Alexander, Montgomery, Pamlico, Rowan, Rutherford, Bertie, Vance, Warren, Lincoln, Randolph and Lee. (Rev., s. 3366; 1905, cc. 297, 383, 445, 820; 1907, c. 84, s. 1; 1907, c. 595, s. 1; 1907, cc. 8, 639, 719, 869; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 26; 1925, c. 285, s. 2; Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 211; Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 614; 1931, c. 136, s. 1; C. S. 4480.)

§ 14-359. Local: Tenant neglecting crop; landlord failing to make advances; harboring or employing delinquent tenant.—If any tenant or cropper shall procure advances from his landlord to enable him to make a crop on the land rented by him, and then willfully refuse to cultivate such crops or negligently or willfully abandon the same without good cause and before paying for such advances; or if any landlord who induces another to become tenant or cropper by agreeing to furnish him advances to enable him to make a crop, shall willfully fail or refuse without good cause to furnish such advances according to his agreement; or if any person shall entice, persuade or procure any tenant, lessee or cropper, who has made a contract agreeing to cultivate the land of another, to abandon or to refuse or fail to cultivate such land, or after notice shall harbor or detain on his own premises, or on the premises of another, any such tenant, lessee or cropper, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. Any person who employs a tenant or cropper who has violated the provisions of this section, with knowledge of such violation, shall be liable to the landlord furnishing such advances for the amount thereof. This section shall apply only to the following counties: Washington, Cabarrus, Alamance, Davidson, Harnett, Wake, Hyde, Anson, Hertford, Sampson, Franklin, Union, Richmond, Moore, Lincoln, Rowan, Rutherford, Halifax, Rockingham, Vance, Lee, Stokes, Granville, Randolph, Person and Stanly. (Rev., s. 3367; 1905, c. 299, ss. 1-7; 1907, c. 84, s. 2; 1907, c. 238, s. 1; 1907, c. 595, s. 2; 1907, cc. 543, 810; Ex. Sess. 1920, cc. 20, 26; 1923, c. 32; 1925, c. 285, s. 3; Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 614; 1929, c. 5, s. 1; 1931, c. 44; 1931, c. 136, s. 2; 1939, c. 95; C. S. 4481.)

Art. 47. Cruelty to Animals.

§ 14-360. Cruelty to animals; construction of section.—If any person shall willfully overdrive, overload, wound, injure, torture, torment, deprive of necessary sustenance, cruelly beat, needlessly mutilate or kill or cause or procure to be overdriven, overloaded, wounded, injured, tortured, tormented, deprived of necessary sustenance, cruelly beaten, needlessly mutilated or killed as aforesaid, any useful beast, fowl or animal, every such offender shall for every such offense be guilty of a misdemeanor. In this section, and in every law which may be enacted relating to animals, the words "animal" and "dumb animal" shall be held to include every living creature; the words "torture," "torment" or "cruelty" shall be held to include every act, omission or neglect whereby unjustifiable physical pain, suffering or death is caused or permitted; but such terms shall not be construed to prohibit lawful shooting of birds, deer and other game for human food. (Rev., s. 3299; Code, ss. 2482, 2490; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 34, s. 1; 1881, c. 368, ss. 1, 15; 1907, c. 42; C. S. 4483.)

§ 14-361. Instigating or promoting cruelty to animals.—If any person shall willfully set on foot, or instigate, or move to, carry on, or promote, or engage in, or do any act towards the furtherance of any act of cruelty to any animal, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3300; Code, s. 2487; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 368, s. 6; C. S. 4484.)

§ 14-362. Bear-baiting, cock-fighting and similar amusements.—If any person shall keep, or use, or in any way be connected with, or interested in the management of, or shall receive money for the admission of any person to, any place kept or used for the purpose of fighting, or baiting any bull, bear, dog, cock, or other animal; or if any person shall encourage, aid or assist therein, or shall permit or suffer any place to be so kept or used, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3301; Code, s. 2483; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 368, s. 2; C. S. 4485.)

§ 14-363. Conveying animals in a cruel manner.—If any person shall carry or cause to be carried in or upon any vehicle or other conveyance, any animal in a cruel or inhuman manner, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. Whenever an offender shall be taken into custody therefor by any officer, the officer may take charge of such vehicle or other conveyance and its contents, and deposit the same in some safe place of custody. The necessary expenses which may be incurred for taking charge of and keeping and sustaining the vehicle or other conveyance shall be a lien thereon, to be paid before the same can be lawfully reclaimed; or the said expenses, or any part thereof remaining unpaid, may be recovered by the person incurring the same of the owner of such animal in an action therefor. (Rev., s. 3302; Code, s. 2486; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 368, s. 5; C. S. 4486.)

Art. 48. Animal Diseases.

§ 14-364. Selling, using or exposing diseased animals.—If any person shall sell, offer for sale, use or expose, or cause or procure to be sold, offered for sale, used or exposed, any horse or other animal having the disease known as glanders or farcy, or any other contagious or infectious disease known by such person to be dangerous to the life, or which shall be diseased past recovery, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3295; Code, s. 2488; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 368, s. 7; C. S. 4487.)

Art. 49. Protection of Livestock Running at Large.

§ 14-365. Failing to show hide and ears of livestock killed while running at large.—If any person shall kill any neat cattle, sheep or hogs in the woods or range, and shall for two days fail to show the hide and ears to the nearest justice or to two freeholders, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(Rev., s. 3315; Code, s. 2318; R. C., c. 17, s. 2; 1901, c. 546; 1907, c. 821; C. S. 4493.)

Local Modification.—Tyrrell: C. S. 4493.

§ 14-366. Molesting or injuring livestock.—If any person shall unlawfully and on purpose drive any livestock, lawfully running at large in the range, from said range, or shall kill, maim or injure any livestock, lawfully running at large in the range or in the field or pasture of the owner, whether done with actual intent to injure the owner, or to drive the stock from the range, or with any other unlawful intent, every such person, his counselors, aiders, and abettors, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit any person from driving out of the range any stock unlawfully brought from other states or places. In any indictment under this section it shall not be necessary to name in the bill or prove on the trial the owner of the stock molested, maimed, killed or injured. (Rev., s. 3314; Code, s. 1002; 1885, c. 383; 1887, c. 368; 1895, c. 190; R. C., c. 34, s. 104; 1850, c. 94, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4494.)

Local Modification.—Graham, Haywood, Jackson, Swain, Transylvania: C. S. 4494.

§ 14-367. Altering the brands of and misbranding another's livestock.—If any person shall knowingly alter or deface the mark or brand of any other person's horse, mule, ass, neat cattle, sheep, goat, or hog, or shall knowingly mismark or brand any such beast that may be unbranded or unmarked, not properly his own, with intent to defraud any other person, the person so offending shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be punished as if convicted of larceny. (Rev., s. 3317; Code, s. 1001; R. C., c. 34, s. 57; 1797, c. 485, s. 2; C. S. 4495.)

§ 14-368. Placing poisonous shrubs and vegetables in public places.—If any person shall throw into or leave exposed in any public square, street, lane, alley or open lot in any city, town or village, or in any public road, any mockorange or other poisonous shrub, plant, tree or vegetable, he shall be liable in damages to any person injured thereby and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3318; 1887, c. 338; C. S. 4496.)

§ 14-369. Wounding, capturing or killing of homing pigeons prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons at any time or in any manner to hurt, pursue, take, capture, wound, maim, disfigure or kill any homing pigeon then and there owned by another person, or to trap the same by use of any pit, pitfall, scaffold, cage, snare, trap, net, baited hook or similar trapping device, or make use of any drug, poison, explosive or chemical for the purpose of injuring, capturing or killing any such homing pigeon. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 10.)

Art. 50. Protection of Letters, Telegrams, and Telephone Messages.

§ 14-370. Wrongfully obtaining or divulging knowledge of telephonic messages.—If any person wrongfully obtains, or attempts to obtain, any knowledge of a telephonic message by connivance with a clerk, operator, messenger or other employee of a telephone company, or, being such clerk, operator, messenger or employee, willfully divulges to any but the person for whom it was intended, the contents of a telephonic message or dispatch intrusted to him for transmission or delivery, or the nature thereof, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3848; 1903, c. 599; C. S. 4497.)

§ 14-371. Violating privacy of telegraphic messages; failure to transmit and deliver same promptly.—If any person wrongfully obtains, or attempts to obtain, any knowledge of a telegraphic message by connivance with a clerk, operator, messenger, or other employee of a telegraph company, or, being such clerk, operator, messenger, or other employee, willfully divulges to any but the person for whom it was intended, the contents of a telegraphic message or dispatch intrusted to him for transmission or delivery, or the nature thereof, or willfully refuse or neglect duly to transmit or deliver the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3846; 1889, c. 41, s. 1; C. S. 4498.)

§ 14-372. Unauthorized opening, reading or publishing of sealed letters and telegrams.—If any person shall willfully, and without authority, open or read, or cause to be opened or read, a sealed letter or telegram, or shall publish the whole or any portion of such letter or telegram, knowing it to have been opened or read without authority, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3728; 1889, c. 41, s. 2; C. S. 4499.)

Art. 51. Protection of the Game of Baseball.

§ 14-373. Bribery of baseball players, umpires, and officials.—If any person shall bribe or offer to bribe, any baseball player with the intent to influence his play, action or conduct in any baseball game, or if any person shall bribe or offer to bribe any umpire of a baseball game, with intent to influence his decision or bias his opinion or judgment, in relation to any baseball game, or if any person shall bribe or offer to bribe any manager, or other official of a baseball club, league, or association by whatsoever named called conducting said game of baseball, such person shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years. (1921, c. 23, s. 1; C. S. 4499(a).)

§ 14-374. Acceptance of bribes by baseball players, umpires, or officials.—If any baseball player shall accept, or agree to accept, a bribe offered for the purpose of influencing his play, action or conduct in any baseball game, or if any umpire of a baseball game shall accept or agree to accept a bribe offered for the purpose of influencing his decision or biasing his opinions, rulings or judgment, or if any manager of a baseball club, or club or league official shall accept or agree to accept any bribe offered for the purpose of inducing him to lose or cause to be lost any baseball game, as set forth in § 14-373 of this article, such baseball player, manager, official, or umpire shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, shall be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. (1921, c. 23, s. 2; C. S. 4499(b).)

§ 14-375. Completion of offenses set out in sections 14-373, 14-374.—To complete the offenses mentioned in §§ 14-373, 14-374, it shall not be necessary that the baseball player, manager, umpire, or official, shall, at the time, have been actually employed, selected, or appointed to perform their respective duties; it shall be sufficient if the bribe be offered, accepted or agreed to with the view of the probable employment, selection or appointment of the person to whom the bribe is offered or by whom it is accepted. Neither shall it be necessary that such baseball player, umpire or manager actually play or participate in a game or games concerning which said bribe is offered or accepted; it shall be sufficient if the bribe be given, offered, or accepted in view of his or their possibly participating therein. (1921, c. 23, s. 3; C. S. 4499(c).)

§ 14-376. "Bribe" defined.—By a "bribe" as used in this article, is meant any gift, emolument, money or thing of value, testimonial, privilege, appointment or personal advantage, or the promise of either, bestowed or promised for the purpose of influencing, directly or indirectly, any baseball player, manager, umpire, club or league official, to see which game an admission fee may be charged, or in which game of baseball any player, manager or umpire is paid any compensation for his services. Said bribe as defined in this article need not be direct; it may be such as is hidden under the semblance of a sale, bet, wager, payment of a debt, or in any other manner designed to cover the true intention of the parties. (1921, c. 23, s. 4; C. S. 4499(d).)

§ 14-377. Intentional losing of baseball game or aiding therein.—If any baseball player, manager or club official shall commit any willful act of omission or commission in playing or directing the playing of a baseball game with intent to cause the ball club with which he is affiliated to lose a baseball game; or if any umpire officiating in a baseball game, or league official, shall commit any willful act connected with his official duties for the purpose and with the intent to cause a baseball club to win or lose a baseball game which it would not otherwise have won or lost under the rules governing the playing of said game, he or they shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years. (1921, c. 23, s. 5; C. S. 4499(e).)

§ 14-378. Venue.—In all prosecutions under this article the venue may be laid in any county where the bribe herein referred to was given, offered or accepted, or in which the baseball game was played in relation to which the bribe was offered, given or accepted, or the acts referred to in § 14-377 committed. (1921, c. 23, s. 6; C. S. 4606(c).)

§ 14-379. Bonus or extra compensation.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit the giving or offering of any bonus or extra compensation to any manager or baseball player by any person to encourage such manager or player to a higher degree of skill, ability or diligence in the performance of his duties. (1921, c. 23, s. 7; C. S. 4499(f).)

§ 14-380. Application of article. — This article shall apply only to baseball league and club officials, umpires, managers and players who are officials of, or employed by, baseball clubs who are members of "The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues." (1921, c. 23, s. 7a; C. S. 4499(g).)

Art. 52. Miscellaneous Police Regulations.

§ 14-381. Desecration of state and national flag.—Any person who in any manner, for exhibition or display, shall place or cause to be placed any word, figure, mark, picture, design, drawing, or any advertisement of any nature upon any flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States or state flag or ensign of this state, or shall expose or cause to be exposed to public view any such flag, standard, color or ensign upon which shall have been printed, painted or otherwise placed, or to which shall be attached, appended, affixed or annexed, any word, figure, mark, picture, design or drawing or any advertisement of any nature, or who shall expose to public view, manufacture, sell, expose for sale, give away, or have in possession for sale or to give away, or for use for any purpose, any article or substance of merchandise, or a receptacle of merchandise or article or thing for carrying or transporting merchandise, upon which shall have been printed, painted, attached or otherwise placed a representation of any such flag, standard, color or ensign, to advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark or distinguish the article or substance upon which it is so placed, or who shall publicly mutilate, deface, defile, or defy, trample upon or cast contempt, either by words or act, upon any such flag, standard, color or ensign, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days. Any person violating this section shall also forfeit a penalty of fifty dollars for each offense, to be recovered with costs in a civil action or suit in any court having jurisdiction. Such action or suit may be brought by and in the name of any citizen of this state, and such penalty, when collected, less the costs and expenses of the action or suit, shall be paid one-half to the person suing and one-half to the school fund of the county in which suit was brought; and two or more penalties may be sued for and recovered in the same action or suit.

The words, flag, standard, color or ensign, as used in this section, shall include any flag, standard, color, ensign, or any picture or representation of any of them, made of any substance or represented on any substance, and of any size, evidently purporting to be a flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States of America, or a picture or a representation of any of them, upon which shall be shown the colors, the stars and the stripes, in any number of either thereof, or by which the person seeing the same, without deliberation, may believe it to represent the flag, colors, standard or ensign of the United States of America.

The possession by any person other than a public officer, as such, of a flag, standard, color, ensign, article, substance, or thing, on which there is anything made unlawful by this section, shall be presumptive evidence that the same is in violation of this section. (1917, c. 271; C. S. 4500.)

§ 14-382. Pollution of water or lands used for dairy purposes.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation owning lands adjoining the lands of any person, firm, or corporation which are or may be used for dairy purposes or for grazing milk cows, to dispose of or permit disposal of any animal, mineral, chemical, or vegetable refuse, sewage or other deleterious matter in such way as to pollute the water on the lands so used or which may be used for dairy purposes or for grazing milk cows, or to render unfit or unsafe for use the milk produced from cows feeding upon the grasses and herbage growing on such lands. This section shall not apply to incorporated towns maintaining a sewer system. Anyone violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned for not more than thirty days, or both, and each day that such pollution is committed or exists shall constitute a separate offense. (1919, c. 222; C. S. 4501.)

§ 14-383. Cutting timber on town watershed without disposing of boughs and debris; misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation owning lands or the standing timber on lands within four hundred feet of any watershed held or owned by any city or town, for the purpose of furnishing a city or town water supply, upon cutting or removing the timber or permitting the same cut or removed from lands so within four hundred feet of said watershed, or any part thereof, shall, within three months after cutting, or earlier upon written notice by said city or town, remove or cause to be burned under proper supervision all tree-tops, boughs, laps and other portions of timber not desired to be taken for commercial or other purposes, within four hundred feet of the boundary line of such part of such watershed as is held or owned by such town or city, so as to leave such space of four hundred feet immediately adjoining the boundary line of such watershed, so held or owned, free and clear of all such tree-tops, laps, boughs and other inflammable material caused by or left from cutting such standing timber, so as to prevent the spread of fire from such cutover area and the consequent damage to such watershed. Any such person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1913, c. 56; C. S. 4502.)

§ 14-384. Injuring notices and advertisements.—If any person shall wantonly or maliciously mutilate, deface, pull or tear down, destroy or otherwise damage any notice, sign or advertisement, unless immoral or obscene, whether put up by an officer of the law in performance of the duties of his office or by some other person for a lawful purpose, before the object for which such notice, sign or advertisement was posted shall have been accomplished, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding twenty-five dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days at the discretion of the court. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any person mutilating, defacing, pulling or tearing down, destroying or otherwise damaging notices, signs or advertisements put upon his own land or lands of which he may have charge or control, unless consent of such person to put up such notice, sign or advertisement shall have first been obtained, except those put up by an officer of the law in the performance of the duties of his office. (Rev., s. 3709; 1885, c. 302; C. S. 4503.)

§ 14-385. Defacing or destroying public notices and advertisements.—If any person shall willfully and unlawfully deface, tear down, remove or destroy any legal notice or advertisement authorized by law to be posted by any officer or other person, the same being actually posted at the time of such defacement, tearing down, removal or destruction, during the time for which such legal notice or advertisement shall be authorized by law to be posted, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3710; Code, s. 981; 1876-7, c. 215; C. S. 4504.)

§ 14-386. Erecting signals and notices in imitation of those of railroads.—No person, firm or corporation other than a railroad or street railway company shall, for advertisement or other purposes, erect and maintain on or near any highway any cross-arm post or other post or standard containing the words "Stop! Look! Listen!" or other such words or combinations of words in imitation of railroad signals or notices. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 230; C. S. 4505.)

§ 14-387. Operating automobile while intoxicated.—Any person who shall, while intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquors or bitters, morphine or other opiates, operate a motor vehicle upon any public highway or cartway or other road, over which the public has a right to travel, of any county or the streets of any city or town in this State, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars or imprisoned not less than thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court, and the judge shall upon conviction, deny said person or persons the right to drive a motor vehicle on any of the roads defined in this section for a period of not more than twelve months nor less than ninety days. (1919, c. 234; 1925, c. 283; 1927, c. 230, s. 1; C. S. 4506.)

Local Modification.—Gates: Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 41; Bertie: Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 27.

§ 14-388. Operation of motor vehicle by person under 16 years of age.—Any person who, being the owner, or in charge of any motor vehicle, authorizes or knowingly permits a person under the age of sixteen years to operate such motor vehicle along any public street or public highway in the state of North Carolina shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not in excess of the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00). The term "motor vehicle," as used in this section, shall be construed to mean those vehicles it is construed to mean in § 20-38. (1923, c. 202; C. S. 4506(a).)

§ 14-389. Sale of Jamaica ginger.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell the compound known as Jamaica ginger except upon the prescription of a duly licensed and regularly practicing physician; the person, firm, or corporation selling Jamaica ginger upon prescription shall keep a list of said prescriptions, and shall allow said list to be examined by any officer of the law, and no prescription shall ever be filled but once; it shall be unlawful for any physician to give a prescription for Jamaica ginger except to a person directly under his care, and then only in good faith for medicinal purposes only. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761; C. S. 4507.)

§ 14-390. Furnishing intoxicants, poisons or firearms to inmates of charitable and penal institutions.—If any person shall sell or give to any inmate of any charitable or penal institution any intoxicating drink or any narcotic, poison or poisonous substance, except upon the prescription of a physician, or shall give or sell to any such inmate any deadly weapon, or any cartridge or ammunition for firearms of any kind, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court; and if he be an officer or employee of any institution of the state, he shall be dismissed from his office. (Rev., s. 3517; 1899, c. 1, s. 52; C. S. 4508.)

§ 14-391. Usurious loans on household and kitchen furniture or assignments of wages.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall lend money in any manner whatsoever by note, chattel mortgage, conditional sale or otherwise, upon any article of household or kitchen furniture or upon any assignment or sale of wages, earned or to be earned, and shall take, receive, reserve or charge a greater rate of interest than six per cent, either before or after the interest may accrue, or who shall refuse to give receipts for payments on interest or principal of such loan, or who shall fail and refuse to surrender the note and security when the same is paid off or a new note and mortgage is given in renewal, unless such new mortgage shall state the amount still due by the old note or mortgage and that the new one is given as additional security, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and in addition thereto shall forfeit double the interest which has been theretofore paid. (1907, c. 110; 1927, c. 72; C. S. 4509.)

§ 14-392. Digging ginseng on another's land during certain months.—All persons shall be allowed to dig ginseng at any time of the year for the purpose of replanting the same. If any person dig ginseng, except on his own premises, or for the purpose of replanting the same, between the first day of April and the first day of September, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars for each day's or part of a day's digging, and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3502, 3714; Code, s. 1053; 1866-7, c. 60; 1905, c. 211; C. S. 4510.)

§ 14-393. Purchase of ginseng; register to be kept; details.—Every person, firm or corporation buying ginseng in any quantity shall keep a register, and shall keep therein a true and accurate record of each purchase, showing the amount of the ginseng, the name and residence of the person from whom purchased, the source from which obtained, and amount paid for the same and the date of the purchase. A failure to comply with the above requirements, or the making of a false entry in regard to the purchasing of such ginseng, shall be a misdemeanor, punishable in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 199; C. S. 4510(a).)

§ 14-394. Anonymous or threatening letters, mailing or transmitting.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, or any association of persons in this state, under whatever name styled, to write and transmit any letter, note, or writing, whether written, printed, or drawn, without signing his, her, their, or its true name thereto, threatening any person or persons, firm or corporation, or officers thereof with any personal injury or violence or destruction of property of such individuals, firms, or corporations, or using therein any language or threats of any kind or nature calculated to intimidate or place in fear any such person, firms or corporations, or officers thereof, as to their personal safety or the safety of their property, or using vulgar or obscene language, or using such language which if published would bring such persons into public contempt and disgrace, and any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 112; C. S. 4511(a).)

§ 14-395. Commercialization of American Legion emblem; wearing by non-members.—It shall be unlawful for any one not a member of the American Legion, an organization consisting of ex-members of the army, navy and marine corps, who served as members of such organizations in the recent world war, to wear upon his or her person the recognized emblem of the American Legion, or to use the said emblem for advertising purposes, or to commercialize the same in any way whatsoever; or to use the said emblem in display upon his or her property or place of business, or at any place whatsoever. Any one violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1923, c. 89; C. S. 4511(b).)

§ 14-396. (1917, c. 146, s. 10; C. S. 5658.)

Art. 53. Sale of Weapons.

§ 14-402. Sale of certain weapons without permit forbidden.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation in this state to sell, give away, or dispose of, or to purchase or receive, at any place within the state from any other place within or without the state, unless a license or permit therefor shall have first been obtained by such purchaser or receiver from the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such purchase, sale, or transfer is intended to be made, any pistol, so-called pump-gun, bowie knife, dirk, dagger or metallic knucks.

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to receive from any postmaster, postal clerk, employee in the parcel post department, rural mail carrier, express agent or employee, railroad agent or employee, within the state of North Carolina any pistol, so-called pump-gun, bowie knife, dirk, dagger or metalic knucks without having in his or their possession and without exhibiting at the time of the delivery of the same and to the person delivering the same, the permit from the clerk of the superior court as provided in section 14-403. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 197, s. 1; 1923, c. 106; C. S. 5106.)

§ 14-403. Permit issued by clerk of court; form of permit.—The clerks of the superior courts of any and all counties of this state are hereby authorized and directed to issue to any person, firm, or corporation in any such county a license or permit to purchase or receive any weapon mentioned in this article from any person, firm, or corporation offering to sell or dispose of the same, which said license or permit shall be in the following form, to wit:

North Carolina,

.....County.

I,....., clerk of the Superior Court of said county, do hereby certify that..... whose place of residence is..... Street, in ..... (or) in ..... Township.....County, North Carolina, having this day satisfied me as to his, her (or) their good moral character, and that the possession of one of the weapons described is necessary for self-defense or the protection of the home, a license or permit is therefore hereby given said ..... to purchase one pistol. (or if any other weapon is named strike out the word pistol).....from any person, firm or corporation authorized to dispose of the same.

This.....day of....., 19.....

Clerk Superior Court.

(1919, c. 197, s. 2; C. S. 5107.)

§ 14-404. Applicant must be of good moral character; weapon for defense of home; clerk's fee.—Before the clerk of the superior court shall issue any such license or permit he shall fully satisfy himself by affidavits, oral evidence, or otherwise, as to the good moral character of the applicant therefor, and that such person, firm, or corporation requires the possession of the weapon mentioned for protection of the home. If said clerk shall not be so fully satisfied, he shall refuse to issue said license or permit: Provided, that nothing in this article shall apply to officers authorized by law to carry firearms. The clerk shall charge for his services upon issuing such license or permit a fee of fifty cents. (1919, c. 197, s. 3; C. S. 5108.)

§ 14-405. Record of permits kept by clerk.—The clerk of the superior court shall keep a book, to be provided by the board of commissioners of each county, in which he shall keep a record of all licenses or permits issued under this article, including the name, date, place of residence, age, former place of residence, etc., of each such person, firm, or corporation to whom or which a license or permit is issued. (1919, c. 197, s. 4; C. S. 5109.)

§ 14-406. Dealer to keep record of sales.—Every dealer in pistols, pistol cartridges and other weapons mentioned in this article shall keep an accurate record of all sales thereof, including the name, place of residence, date of sale, etc., of each person, firm, or corporation to whom or which such sales are made, which record shall be open to the inspection of any duly constituted state, county or police officer, within this state. (1919, c. 197, s. 5; C. S. 5110.)

§ 14-407. Weapons to be listed for taxes.—During the period of listing taxes in each year the owner or person in possession or having the custody or care of any weapon mentioned in this article is required to list the same specifically, as is now required for listing personal property for taxes. Any person listing any such weapon for taxes shall be required to designate his place of residence, including local street address. (1919, c. 197, s. 6; C. S. 5111.)

§ 14-408. Violation of sections 14-406 or 14-407 a misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of §§ 14-406 or 14-407 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 197, s. 7; C. S. 5112.)

§ 14-409. Machine guns and other like weapons.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to manufacture, sell, give away, dispose of, use or possess machine guns, sub-machine guns, or other like weapons: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the following:

Banks, merchants, and recognized business establishments for use in their respective places of business, who shall first apply to and receive from the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said business is located, a permit to possess the said weapons for the purpose of defending the said business; officers and soldiers of the United States army, when in discharge of their official duties, officers and soldiers of the militia and the state guard when called into actual service, officers of the state, or of any county, city or town, charged with the execution of the laws of the state, when acting in the discharge of their official duties: Provided, further, that automatic shotguns and pistols or other automatic weapons that shoot less than sixteen shots shall not be construed to be or mean a machine gun or sub-machine gun under this act; and that any bona fide resident of this state who now owns a machine gun used in former wars, as a relic or souvenir, may retain and keep same as his or her property without violating the provisions of this section upon his reporting said ownership to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said person lives.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than five hundred ($500.00) dollars, or imprisoned for not less than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1933, c. 261, s. 1.)

§ 15-5. Fees allowed counsel assigned to defend in capital case. — Whenever an attorney is appointed by the judge to defend a person charged with a capital crime, he shall receive such fee for performing this service as the judge may allow; but the judge shall not allow any fee until he is satisfied that the defendant charged with the capital crime is not able to employ counsel. The fees so allowed by the judge shall be paid by the county in which the indictment was found. (1917, c. 247; 1937, c. 226; C. S. 4516.)

Local Modification.—Buncombe: 1941, c. 206; Franklin: 1941, c. 211; Wayne: 1941, c. 33.

§ 15-6. Imprisonment to be in county jail.—No person shall be imprisoned by any judge, court, justice of the peace, or other peace officer except in the common jail of the county, unless otherwise provided by law: Provided, that whenever the sheriff of any county shall be imprisoned, he may be imprisoned in the jail of any adjoining county. (Rev., s. 3151; Code, s. 1174; R. C., c. 35, s. 6; 1797, c. 474, s. 3; 1879, c. 12; C. S. 4517.)

§ 15-7. Post-mortem examinations directed.—In all cases of homicide, any officer prosecuting for the state may, at any time, direct a post-mortem examination of the deceased to be made by one or more physicians to be summoned for the purpose; and the physicians shall be paid a reasonable compensation for such examination, the amount to be determined by the court and taxed in the costs, and if not collected out of the defendant the same shall be paid by the county. (Rev., s. 3152; Code, s. 1214; R. C., c. 35, s. 49; C. S. 4518.)

§ 15-8. Stolen property returned to owner.—Upon the conviction of any felon for robbing or stealing any money, goods, chattels, or other estate of any description whatever, the person from whom such goods, money, chattels or other estate were robbed or stolen shall be entitled to restitution thereof; and the court may award restitution of the articles so robbed or stolen, and make all such orders and issue such writs of restitution or otherwise as may be necessary for that purpose. (Rev., s. 3153; Code, s. 1201; R. C., c. 35, s. 34; 21 Hen. VIII, c. 11; C. S. 4519.)

§ 15-9. Magistrate may associate another with him.—Any magistrate, to whom any complaint may be made, or before whom any prisoner may be brought, as by law provided, may associate with himself any other magistrate of the same county; and the powers and duties herein mentioned may be executed by the two magistrates so associated. (Rev., s. 3154; Code, s. 1159; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 28; C. S. 4520.)

§ 15-10. Speedy trial or discharge on commitment for felony.—When any person who has been committed for treason or felony, plainly and specially expressed in the warrant of commitment, upon his prayer in open court to be brought to his trial, shall not be indicted some time in the next term of the superior or criminal court ensuing such commitment, the judge of the court, upon notice in open court on the last day of the term, shall set at liberty such prisoner upon bail, unless it appear upon oath that the witnesses for the state could not be produced at the same term; and if such prisoner, upon his prayer as aforesaid, shall not be indicted and tried at the second term of the court, he shall be discharged from his imprisonment: Provided, the judge presiding may, in his discrecretion, refuse to discharge such person if the time between the first and second terms of the court be less than four months. (Rev., s. 3155; Code, s. 1658; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 33; 1913, c. 2; C. S. 4521.)

Art. 2. Record and Disposition of Seized, etc., Articles.

§ 15-11. Sheriffs, etc., to maintain register of personal property confiscated, seized or found.—Each sheriff, police department and constable in this state is hereby required to keep and maintain a book or register, and it shall be the duty of each sheriff, police department and constable to keep a record therein of all articles of personal property which may be seized or confiscated by him or it, or of which he or it may have become possessed in any way in the discharge of his duty. Said sheriffs, police departments and constables shall cause to be kept in said registers a description of such property, the name of the person from whom it was seized, if such name be known, the date and place of its seizure, and, where the article was not taken from the person of a suspect or prisoner, a brief recital of the place and circumstances concerning the possession thereof by such sheriff, police department, or constable. Such sheriff, police department and constable shall also keep in said register appropriate entries showing the manner, date, and to whom said articles are disposed of or delivered, and, if sold as hereinafter provided, a record showing the disposition of the proceeds arising from such sale. (1939, c. 195, s. 1.)

§ 15-12. Publication of notice of unclaimed property.—Unless otherwise provided herein, whenever such articles in the possession of any sheriff, police department or constable have remained unclaimed by the person who may be entitled thereto for a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after such seizure, confiscation, or receipt thereof in any other manner, by such sheriff, police department or constable, the said sheriff, police department or constable in whose possession said articles are may cause to be published one time in some newspaper published in said county a notice to the effect that such articles are in the custody of such officer or department, and requiring all persons who may have or claim any interest therein to make and establish such claim or interest not later than thirty (30) days from the date of the publication of such notice or in default thereof, such articles will be sold and disposed of. Such notice shall contain a brief description of the said articles and such other information as the said officer or department may consider necessary or advisable to reasonably inform the public as to the kind and nature of the article about which the notice relates. (1939, c. 195, s. 2.)

§ 15-13. Public sale thirty days after publication of notice.—If said articles shall remain unclaimed or satisfactory evidence of ownership thereof not be presented to the sheriff, police department or constable, as the case may be, for a period of thirty (30) days after the publication of the notice provided for in § 15-12, then the said sheriff, police department, or constable in whose custody such articles may be, is hereby authorized and empowered to sell the same at public auction for cash to the highest bidder, either at the courthouse door of the county, or at the police headquarters of the municipality in which the said articles of property are located, and at such sale to deliver the same to the purchaser or purchasers thereof. (1939, c. 195, s. 3.)

§ 15-14. Notice of sale.—Before any sale of said property is made under the provisions of this article, however, the said sheriff, police department, or constable making the same shall first advertise the sale by publishing a notice thereof in some newspaper published in the said county at least one time not less than ten days prior to the date of sale, and by posting a notice of the sale at the courthouse door and at three other public places in the said county. Said notice shall specify the time and place of sale, and contain a sufficient description of the articles of property to be sold. It shall not be required that the sale lay open for increase bids or objections, but it may be deemed closed when the purchaser at the sale pays the amount of the accepted bid. (1939, c. 195, s. 4.)

§ 15-15. Disbursement of proceeds of sale.—From the proceeds realized from the sale of said property, the sheriff, police department, constable or other officer making the same shall first pay the costs and expenses of the sale, and all other necessary expenses incident to a compliance with this article, and any balance then remaining from the proceeds of said sale shall be paid within thirty days after the sale to the treasurer of the county board of education of the county in which such sale is made, for the benefit of the fund for maintaining the free public schools of such county. (1939, c. 195, s. 5.)

§ 15-16. Non-liability of officers.—No sheriff, police department, constable, or other officer, shall be liable for any damages or claims on account of any such sale or disposition of such property, as provided in this article. (1939, c. 195, s. 6.)

§ 15-17. Construction of article.—This article shall not be construed to apply to the seizure and disposition of whiskey distilleries, game birds, and other property or articles which have been or may be seized, where the existing law now provides the method, manner, and extent of the disposition of such articles or of the proceeds derived from the sale thereof. (1939, c. 195, s. 7.)

Art. 3. Warrants.

§ 15-18. Who may issue warrant.—The following persons respectively have power to issue process for the apprehension of persons charged with any offense, and to execute the powers and duties conferred in this chapter, namely: The chief justice and the associate justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court, judges of criminal courts, presiding officers of inferior courts, justices of the peace, mayors of cities, or other chief officers of incorporated towns. (Rev., s. 3156; Code, s. 1132; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 1; C. S. 4522.)

§ 15-19. Complainant examined on oath.—Whenever complaint is made to any such magistrate that a criminal offense has been committed within this state, or without this state and within the United States, and that a person charged therewith is in this state, it shall be the duty of such magistrate to examine on oath the complainant and any witnesses who may be produced by him. (Rev., s. 3157; Code, s. 1133; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 2; C. S. 4523.)

§ 15-20. Warrant issued; contents.—If it shall appear from such examination that any criminal offense has been committed, the magistrate shall issue a proper warrant under his hand, with or without seal, reciting the accusation, and commanding the officer to whom it is directed forthwith to take the person accused of having committed the offense, and bring him before a magistrate, to be dealt with according to law. A justice of the peace or a chief officer of a city or town shall direct his warrant to the sheriff or other lawful officer of his county. (Rev., s. 3158; Code, s. 1134; 1901, c. 668; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 3; C. S. 4524.)

§ 15-21. Where warrant may be executed.—Warrants issued by any justice of the supreme court, or by any judge of the superior court, or of a criminal court, may be executed in any part of this state; warrants issued by a justice of the peace, or by the chief officer of any city or incorporated town, may be executed in any part of the county of such justice, or in which such city or town is situated, and on any river, bay or sound forming the boundary between that and some other county, and not elsewhere, unless indorsed as prescribed in § 15-22. (Rev., s. 3159; Code, s. 1135; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 4; C. S. 4525.)

§ 15-22. Warrant indorsed and served in another county.—If the person against whom any warrant is issued by a justice of the peace or chief officer of a city or town shall escape, or be in any other county out of the jurisdiction of such justice or chief officer, it shall be the duty of any justice of the peace, or any other magistrate within the county where such offender shall be, or shall be suspected to be, upon proof of the handwriting of the magistrate or chief officer issuing the warrant, to indorse his name on the same, and thereupon the person, or officer to whom the warrant was directed, may arrest the offender in that county: Provided, that an officer to whom a warrant charging the commission of a felony is directed, who is in the actual pursuit of a person known to him to be the one charged with the felony, may continue the pursuit without such indorsement. The justice of the peace or a chief officer of a city or town shall direct his warrant to the sheriff or other lawful officer of his county, and such warrant when so indorsed as herein prescribed shall authorize and compel the sheriff or other officer of any county in the state, in which such indorsement is made, to execute the same. (Rev., s. 3160; Code, s. 1136; 1917, c. 30; 1901, c. 668; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 5; C. S. 4526.)

§ 15-23. Magistrate not liable for indorsing warrant.—No magistrate shall be liable to any indictment, action for trespass or other action for having indorsed any warrant pursuant to the provisions of § 15-22, although it should afterwards appear that such warrant was illegally or improperly issued. (Rev., s. 3161; Code, s. 1137; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 6; C. S. 4527.)

§ 15-24. Before what magistrate a warrant returned.—Persons arrested under any warrant issued for any offense, where no provision is otherwise made, shall be brought before the magistrate who issued the warrant; or, if he be absent, or from any cause unable to try the case, before the nearest magistrate in the same county; and the warrant by virtue of which the arrest shall have been made, with a proper return indorsed thereon and signed by the officer or person making the arrest, shall be delivered to such magistrate. (Rev., s. 3162; Code, s. 1143; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 12; C. S. 4528.)

Art. 4. Search Warrants.

§ 15-25. In what cases issued, and where executed.—If any credible witness shall prove, upon oath, before any justice of the peace, or mayor of any city, or chief magistrate of any incorporated town, that there is a reasonable cause to suspect that any person has in his possession, or on his premises, any property stolen, or any and all personal property and all tickets, books, papers and documents used in connection with and operation of lotteries or any gaming or gambling, or any false or counterfeit coin resembling, or apparently intended to resemble, or pass for, any current coin of the United States, or of any other state, province or country, or any instrument, tool or engine whatsoever, adapted or intended for the counterfeiting of any such coin; or any false and counterfeit notes, bills or bonds of the United States, or of the state of North Carolina, or of any other state or country, or of any county, city or incorporated town; or any instrument, tool or engine whatsoever, adapted or intended for the counterfeiting of such note, bill or bond, it shall be lawful for such justice, mayor or chief magistrate of any incorporated town to grant a warrant, to be executed within the limits of his county or of the county in which such city or incorporated town is situated, to any proper officer, authorizing him to search for such property, and to seize the same, and to arrest the person having in possession or on whose premises may be found such stolen property, or any and all personal property and all tickets, books, papers and documents used in connection with and operation of lotteries or any gaming or gambling, counterfeit coin, counterfeit notes, bills or bonds, or the instruments, tools or engines for making the same, and to bring them before any magistrate of competent jurisdiction, to be dealt with according to law. (Rev., s. 3163; Code, s. 1171; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 38; 1941, c. 53; C. S. 4529.)

§ 15-26. Nature of warrant and procedure thereon.—Such search warrant shall describe the article to be searched for with reasonable certainty, and by whom the complaint is made, and in whose possession the article to be searched for is supposed to be; it shall be made returnable as other criminal process is by law required to be. and the proceedings thereupon shall be as required in other cases of criminal complaint. (Rev., s. 3164; Code, s. 1172; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 39; C. S. 4530.)

§ 15-27. Warrant issued without affidavit and examination of complainant or other person; evidence discovered thereunder incompetent. — Any officer who shall sign and issue or cause to be signed and issued a search warrant without first requiring the complainant or other person to sign an affidavit under oath and examining said person or complainant in regard thereto shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and no facts discovered by reason of the issuance of such illegal search warrant shall be competent as evidence in the trial of any action. (1937, c. 339, s. 1½.)

Art. 5. Peace Warrants.

§ 15-28. Officers authorized to issue peace warrants.—The following magistrates have power to cause to be kept all the laws made for the preservation of the public peace, and in execution of that power to require persons to give security to keep the peace, in the manner provided in this chapter, namely: The chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior courts, and of any special courts which may hereafter be created, the justices of the peace, the mayors or other chief officers of all cities and towns. (Rev., s. 3165; Code, s. 1216; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 1; C. S. 4531.)

§ 15-29. Complaint and examination. — Whenever complaint is made in writing, and upon oath, to any such magistrate that any person has threatened to commit any offense against the person or property of another, it shall be the duty of such magistrate to examine such complainant and any witnesses who may be produced on oath, to reduce such examination to writing, and to cause the same to be subscribed by the parties so examined. (Rev., s. 3166; Code, s. 1217; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 2; C. S. 4532.)

§ 15-30. Warrant issued.—If it shall appear from such examination that there is just reason to fear the commission of any such offense by the person complained of, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to issue a warrant under his hand, with or without a seal, reciting the complaint, and commanding the officer to whom it is directed forthwith to apprehend the person so complained of, and bring him before such magistrate or some other magistrate authorized to issue such warrant. (Rev., s. 3167; Code, s. 1218; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 3; C. S. 4533.)

§ 15-31. To whom warrant directed.—The warrant shall be directed to the sheriff, coroner or any constable, each of whom shall have power to execute the same within his county; and if no sheriff, coroner or constable can conveniently be found, the warrant may be directed to any person whatever, who shall have power to execute the same within the county in which it is issued. No justice of the peace, or mayor, or other chief officer of any city or town shall direct his warrant to any officer outside the county of said justice or chief officer. (Rev., s. 3169; Code, s. 1219; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 4; C. S. 4534.)

§ 15-32. Defendant recognized to keep the peace. —Whenever any person complained of on a peace warrant is brought before a justice of the peace, such person may be required to enter into a recognizance, payable to the state of North Carolina, in such sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars, as such justice shall direct, with one or more sufficient sureties, to appear before some justice of the peace within a period not exceeding six months, and not depart the court without leave, and in the meanwhile to keep the peace and be of good behavior towards all the people of the state, and particularly towards the person requiring such security. (Rev., s. 3170; Code, ss. 894, 1220; 1879, c. 92, s. 9; C. S. 4535.)

§ 15-33. Defendant discharged, or new recognizance required.—If the complainant does not appear, the party recognized shall be discharged, unless good cause be shown to the contrary. If the respective parties appear, the court shall hear their allegations and proofs, and may either discharge the recognizance taken or they may require a new recognizance, as the circumstances of the case may require, for such time as may appear necessary, not exceeding one year. (Rev., s. 3171; Code, s. 1226; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 12; C. S. 4536.)

§ 15-34. Defendant imprisoned for want of security.—If such recognizance is given, the party complained of shall be discharged; if such person fails to find such security, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to commit him to prison until he shall find the same, specifying in the mittimus the cause of commitment and the sum in which such security was required. (Rev., s. 3172; Code, s. 1221; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 6; C. S. 4537.)

§ 15-35. How discharged from imprisonment.—Any person committed for not finding sureties of the peace as above provided, may be discharged by any magistrate upon giving such security as was originally required of such person, or by a justice of the supreme court, or judge of the superior or criminal court, by giving such other security as may seem sufficient. (Rev., s. 3174; Code, 1222; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 7; C. S. 4538.)

§ 15-36. Defendant may appeal.—In all proceedings on peace warrants the defendant may appeal from the decision of the justice of the peace to the superior court by giving the bond required by the justice of the peace to keep the peace, in addition to the appeal bond, when the case shall be heard by the judge holding the court in the county. (Rev., s. 3173; 1901, c. 66; C. S. 4539.)

§ 15-37. Breach of peace in presence of court.—Every person who in the presence of any magistrate specified in the first section of this article, or in the presence of any court of record, shall make any affray, or threaten to kill or beat another, or to commit any offense against his person or property; and all persons who, in the presence of such magistrate or court, shall contend with hot and angry words, may be ordered by such magistrate or court, without any other proof, to give such security as above specified, and in case of failure so to do, may be committed as above provided. (Rev., s. 3168; Code, s. 1224; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 9; C. S. 4540.)

§ 15-38. Recognizance returned to superior court.—Every recognizance taken pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be transmitted by the magistrate taking the same to the next term of the superior court for the county in which the offense is charged to have been committed. (Rev., s. 3175; Code, s. 1223; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 8; C. S. 4541.)

Art. 6. Arrest.

§ 15-39. Persons present may arrest for breach of peace.—Every person present at any riot, rout, affray or other breach of the peace, shall endeavor to suppress and prevent the same, and, if necessary for that purpose, shall arrest the offenders. (Rev., s. 3176; Code, s. 1124; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 1; C. S. 4542.)

§ 15-40. Arrest for felony, without warrant.—Every person in whose presence a felony has been committed may arrest the person whom he knows or has reasonable ground to believe to be guilty of such offense, and it shall be the duty of every sheriff, coroner, constable or officer of the police, upon information, to assist in such arrest. (Rev., s. 3177; Code, s. 1129; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 6; C. S. 4543.)

§ 15-41. When officer may arrest without warrant.—Every sheriff, coroner, constable, officer of police, or other officer, entrusted with the care and preservation of the public peace, who shall know or have reasonable ground to believe that any felony has been committed, or that any dangerous wound has been given, and shall have reasonable ground to believe that any particular person is guilty, and shall apprehend that such person may escape if not immediately arrested, shall arrest him without warrant, and may summon all bystanders to aid in such arrest. (Rev., s. 3178; Code, s. 1126; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 3; C. S. 4544.)

§ 15-42. Sheriffs and deputies granted power to arrest felons anywhere in state.—When a felony is committed in any county in this State, and upon the commission of the felony, the person or persons charged therewith flees or flee the county, the sheriff of the county in which the crime was committed, and/or his bonded deputy or deputies, either with or without process, is hereby given authority to pursue the person or persons so charged, whether in sight or not, and apprehend and arrest him or them anywhere in the State. (1935, c. 204.)

§ 15-43. House broken open to prevent felony.—All persons are authorized to break open and enter a house to prevent a felony about to be committed therein. (Rev., s. 3179; Code, s. 1127; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 4; C. S. 4545.)

§ 15-44. When officer may break and enter houses.—If a felony or other infamous crime has been committed, or a dangerous wound has been given and there is reasonable ground to believe that the guilty person is concealed in a house, it shall be lawful for any sheriff, coroner, constable, or police officer, admittance having been demanded and denied, to break open the door and enter the house and arrest the person against whom there shall be such ground of belief. (Rev., s. 3180; Code, s. 1128; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 5; C. S. 4546.)

§ 15-45. Persons summoned to assist in arrest.—Every person summoned by a judge, justice, mayor, intendant, chief officer of any incorporated town, sheriff, coroner or constable, to aid in suppressing any riot, rout, unlawful assembly, affray or other breach of the peace, or to arrest the persons engaged in the commission of such offenses, or to prevent the commission of any felony or larceny which may be threatened or begun, shall do so. (Rev., s. 3181; Code, s. 1125; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 2; C. S. 4547.)

§ 15-46. Procedure on arrest without warrant.—Every person arrested without warrant shall be either immediately taken before some magistrate having jurisdiction to issue a warrant in the case, or else committed to the county prison, and, as soon as may be, taken before such magistrate, who, on proper proof, shall issue a warrant and thereon proceed to act as may be required by law. (Rev., s. 3182; Code, s. 1130; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 7; C. S. 4548.)

§ 15-47. Arresting officer to inform offender of charge, allow bail except in capital cases, and permit communication with counsel or friends.—Upon the arrest, detention, or deprivation of the liberties of any person by an officer in this state, with or without warrant, it shall be the duty of the officer making the arrest to immediately inform the person arrested of the charge against him, and it shall further be the duty of the officer making said arrest, except in capital cases, to have bail fixed in a reasonable sum, and the person so arrested shall be permitted to give bail bond; and it shall be the duty of the officer making the arrest to permit the person so arrested to communicate with counsel and friends immediately, and the right of such persons to communicate with counsel and friends shall not be denied.

Any officer who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 257, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 7. Fugitives from Justice.

§ 15-48. Outlawry for felony.—In all cases where any two justices of the peace, or any judge of the supreme, superior, or criminal courts shall, on written affidavit, filed and retained by such justice or judge, receive information that a felony has been committed by any person, and that such person flees from justice, conceals himself and evades arrest and service of the usual process of the law, the judge, or the two justices, being justices of the county wherein such person is supposed to lurk or conceal himself, are hereby empowered and required to issue proclamation against him reciting his name, if known, and thereby requiring him forthwith to surrender himself; and also, when issued by any judge, empowering and requiring the sheriff of any county in the state in which such fugitive shall be, and when issued by two justices, empowering and requiring the sheriff of the county of the justices, to take such power with him as he shall think fit and necessary for the going in search and pursuit of, and effectually apprehending, such fugitive from justice, which proclamation shall be published at the door of the courthouse of any county in which such fugitive is supposed to lurk or conceal himself, and at such other places as the judge or justices shall direct; and if any person against whom proclamation has been thus issued, continue to stay out, lurk and conceal himself, and do not immediately surrender himself, any citizen of the state may capture, arrest and bring him to justice, and in case of flight or resistance by him, after being called on and warned to surrender, may slay him without accusation or impeachment of any crime. (Rev., s. 3183; Code, s. 1131; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 1, s. 8; 1866, c. 62; C. S. 4549.)

§ 15-49. Fugitives from another state arrested.—Any justice of the supreme court, or any judge of the superior court or of any criminal court, or any justice of the peace, or mayor of any city, or chief magistrate of any incorporated town, on satisfactory information laid before him that any fugitive or other person in the state has committed, out of the state and within the United States, any offense which, by law of the state in which the offense was committed, is punishable either capitally or by imprisonment for one year or upwards in any state prison, has full power and authority, and is hereby required, to issue a warrant for such fugitive or other person and commit him to any jail within the state for the space of six months, unless sooner demanded by the public authorities of the state wherein the offense may have been committed, pursuant to the act of congress in that case made and provided. If no demand be made within that time the fugitive or other person shall be liberated, unless sufficient cause be shown to the contrary. (Rev., s. 3184; Code, s. 1165; 1895, c. 103; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 34; C. S. 4550.)

§ 15-50. Record kept, and copy sent to governor.—Every magistrate committing any person under section 15-49, shall keep a record of the whole proceedings before him, and immediately transmit a copy thereof to the governor for such action as he may deem fit therein under the law. (Rev., s. 3185; Code, s. 1166; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 35; C. S. 4551.)

§ 15-51. Duty of governor.—The governor shall immediately inform the governor of the state or territory in which the crime is alleged to have been committed, or the president of the United States, if it be alleged to have been committed within the District of Columbia, of the proceedings had in such case. (Rev., s. 3186; Code, s. 1167; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 36; C. S. 4552.)

§ 15-52. Person surrendered on order of governor.—Every sheriff or jailer in whose custody any person so committed shall be, upon the order of the governor, shall surrender him to the person named in such order. (Rev., s. 3187; Code, s. 1168; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 37; C. S. 4553.)

§ 15-53. Governor may employ agents, and offer rewards.—The governor, on information made to him of any person, whether the name of such person be known or unknown, having committed a felony or other infamous crime within the state, and of having fled out of the jurisdiction thereof, or who conceals himself within the state to avoid arrest, or who, having been convicted, has escaped and cannot otherwise be apprehended, may either employ a special agent, with a sufficient escort, to pursue and apprehend such fugitive, or issue his proclamation, and therein offer a reward, not exceeding four hundred dollars, according to the nature of the case, as in his opinion may be sufficient for the purpose, to be paid to him who shall apprehend and deliver the fugitive to such person and at such place as in the proclamation shall be directed. (Rev., s. 3188; Code, s. 1169; 1891, c. 421; R. C., c. 35, s. 4; 1800, c. 561; 1866, c. 28; 1868-9, c. 52; 1870-1, c. 15; 1871-2, c. 29; 1925, c. 275, s. 6; C. S. 4554.)

Local Modification.—Wake: C. S. 4555.

Art. 8. Extradition.

§ 15-55. Definitions.—Where appearing in this article the term "governor" includes any person performing the functions of governor by authority of the law of this state. The term "executive authority" includes the governor, and any person performing the functions of governor in a state other than this state. The term "state," referring to a state other than this state, includes any other state or territory, organized or unorganized, of the United States of America. (1937, c. 273, s. 1.)

§ 15-56. Duty of governor as to fugitives from justice of other states.—Subject to the provisions of this article, the provisions of the constitution of the United States controlling, and any and all acts of congress enacted in pursuance thereof, it is the duty of the governor of this state to have arrested and delivered up to the executive authority of any other state of the United States any person charged in that state with treason, felony or other crime, who has fled from justice and is found in this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 2.)

§ 15-57. Form of demand for extradition.—No demand for the extradition of a person charged with crime in another state shall be recognized by the governor unless in writing alleging, except in cases arising under section 15-60, that the accused was present in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the alleged crime, and that thereafter he fled from the state, and accompanied by a copy of an indictment found or by information supported by affidavit in the state having jurisdiction of the crime, or by a copy of an affidavit made before a magistrate there, together with a copy of any warrant which was issued thereupon; or by a copy of a judgment of conviction or of a sentence imposed in execution thereof, together with a statement by the executive authority of the demanding state that the person claimed has escaped from confinement or has broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole. The indictment, information, or affidavit made before the magistrate must substantially charge the person demanded with having committed a crime under the law of that state; and the copy of indictment, information, affidavit, judgment of conviction or sentence must be authenticated by the executive authority making the demand. (1937, c. 273, s. 3.)

§ 15-58. Governor may cause investigation to be made.—When a demand shall be made upon the governor of this state by the executive authority of another state for the surrender of a person so charged with crime, the governor may call upon the attorney general or any prosecuting officer in this state to investigate or assist in investigating the demand, and to report to him the situation and circumstances of the person so demanded, and whether he ought to be surrendered. (1937, c. 273, s. 4.)

§ 15-59. Extradition of persons imprisoned or awaiting trial in another state or who have left the demanding state under compulsion.—When it is desired to have returned to this state a person charged in this state with a crime, and such person is imprisoned or is held under criminal proceedings then pending against him in another state, the governor of this state may agree with the executive authority of such other state for the extradition of such person before the conclusion of such proceedings or his term of sentence in such other state, upon condition that such person be returned to such other state at the expense of this state as soon as the prosecution in this state is terminated.

The governor of this state may also surrender on demand of the executive authority of any other state any person in this state who is charged in the manner provided in section 15-77 with having violated the laws of the state whose executive authority is making the demand, even though such person left the demanding state involuntarily. (1937, c. 273, s. 5.)

§ 15-60. Extradition of persons not present in demanding state at time of commission of crime.—The governor of this state may also surrender, on demand of the executive authority of any other state, any person in this state charged in such other state in the manner provided in section 15-57 with committing an act in this state, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the state whose executive authority is making the demand, and the provisions of this article not otherwise inconsistent, shall apply to such cases, even though the accused was not in that state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom. (1937, c. 273, s. 6.)

§ 15-61. Issue of governor's warrant of arrest; its recitals.—If the governor decides that the demand should be complied with, he shall sign a warrant of arrest, which shall be sealed with the state seal, and be directed to any peace officer or other person whom he may think fit to entrust with the execution thereof. The warrant must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance. (1937, c. 273, s. 7.)

§ 15-62. Manner and place of execution of warrant.—Such warrant shall authorize the peace officer or other person to whom directed to arrest the accused at any time and any place where he may be found within the state, and to command the aid of all peace officers or other persons in the execution of the warrant, and to deliver the accused, subject to the provisions of this article to the duly authorized agent of the demanding state. (1937, c. 273, s. 8.)

§ 15-63. Authority of arresting officer.—Every such peace officer or other person empowered to make the arrest shall have the same authority, in arresting the accused, to command assistance therein as peace officers have by law in the execution of any criminal process directed to them, with like penalties against those who refuse their assistance. (1937, c. 273, s. 9.)

§ 15-64. Rights of accused person; application for writ of habeas corpus. — No person arrested upon such warrant shall be delivered over to the agent whom the executive authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court of record in this state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his surrender and of the crime with which he is charged, and that he has the right to demand and procure legal counsel; and if the prisoner or his counsel shall state that he or they desire to test the legality of his arrest, the judge of such court of record shall fix a reasonable time to be allowed him within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. When such writ is applied for, notice thereof, and of the time and place of hearing thereon, shall be given to the prosecuting officer of the county in which the arrest is made and in which the accused is in custody, and to the said agent of the demanding state. (1937, c. 273, s. 10.)

§ 15-65. Penalty for non-compliance with preceding section.—Any officer who shall deliver to the agent for extradition of the demanding state a person in his custody under the governor's warrant, in wilful disobedience to § 15-64, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or be imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (1937, c. 273, s. 11.)

§ 15-66. Confinement in jail when necessary.—The officer or person executing the governor's warrant of arrest, or the agent of the demanding state to whom the prisoner may have been delivered, may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or person having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or person being chargeable with the expense of keeping.

The officer or agent of a demanding state to whom a prisoner may have been delivered following extradition proceedings in another state, or to whom a prisoner may have been delivered after waiving extradition in such other state, and who is passing through this state with such a prisoner for the purpose of immediately returning such prisoner to the demanding state may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or agent having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or agent, however, being chargeable with the expense of keeping: Provided, however, that such officer or agent shall produce and show to the keeper of such jail satisfactory written evidence of the fact that he is actually transporting such prisoner to the demanding state after a requisition by the executive authority of such demanding state. Such prisoner shall not be entitled to demand a new requisition while in this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 12.)

§ 15-67. Arrest prior to requisition.—Whenever any person within this state shall be charged on the oath of any credible person before any judge or magistrate of this state with the commission of any crime in any other state and, except in cases arising under section 15-60, with having fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, or whenever complaint shall have been made before any judge or magistrate in this state, setting forth on the affidavit of any credible person in another state that a crime has been committed in such other state, and that the accused has been charged in such state with the commission of the crime, and, except in cases arising under § 15-60, has fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, and is believed to be in this state, the judge or magistrate shall issue a warrant directed to any peace officer commanding him to apprehend the person named therein, wherever he may be found in this state, and to bring him before the same or any other judge, magistrate or court who or which may be available in or convenient of access to the place where the arrest may be made, to answer the charge or complaint and affidavit, and a certified copy of the sworn charge or complaint and affidavit upon which the warrant is issued shall be attached to the warrant. (1937, c. 273, s. 13.)

§ 15-68. Arrest without a warrant.—The arrest of a person may be lawfully made also by any peace officer or a private person, without a warrant, upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of a state with a crime punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, but when so arrested the accused must be taken before a judge or magistrate with all practicable speed, and complaint must be made against him under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in § 15-67; and thereafter his answer shall be heard as if he had been arrested on a warrant. (1937, c. 273, s. 14.)

§ 15-69. Commitment to await requisition; bail.—If from the examination before the judge or magistrate it appears that the person held is the person charged with having committed the crime alleged and, except in cases arising under § 15-60, that he has fled from justice, the judge or magistrate must, by a warrant reciting the accusation, commit him to the county jail for such a time not exceeding thirty days and specified in the warrant, as will enable the arrest of the accused to be made under a warrant of the governor on a requisition of the executive authority of the state having jurisdiction of the offense, unless the accused give bail as provided in § 15-70, or until he shall be legally discharged. (1937, c. 273, s. 15.)

§ 15-70. Bail in certain cases; conditions of bond.—Unless the offense with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the state in which it was committed, a judge or magistrate in this state may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as he deems proper, conditioned for his appearance before him at a time specified in such bond, and for his surrender, to be arrested upon the warrant of the governor of this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 16.)

§ 15-71. Extension of time of commitment; adjournment.—If the accused is not arrested under warrant of the governor by the expiration of the time specified in the warrant or bond, a judge or magistrate may discharge him or may recommit him for a further period not to exceed sixty days, or a judge or magistrate may again take bail for his appearance and surrender, as provided in § 15-70, but within a period not to exceed sixty days after the date of such new bond. (1937, c. 273, s. 17.)

§ 15-72. Forfeiture of bail.—If the prisoner is admitted to bail and fails to appear and surrender himself according to the conditions of his bond, the judge, or magistrate by proper order, shall declare the bond forfeited and order his immediate arrest without warrant if he be within this state. Recovery may be had on such bond in the name of the state as in the case of other bonds given by the accused in criminal proceedings within this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 18.)

§ 15-73. Persons under criminal prosecution in this state at time of requisition.—If a criminal prosecution has been instituted against such person under the laws of this state and is still pending, the governor, in his discretion, either may surrender him on demand of the executive authority of another state or hold him until he has been tried and discharged or convicted and punished in this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 19.)

§ 15-74. Guilt or innocence of accused, when inquired into.—The guilt or innocence of the accused as to the crime of which he is charged may not be inquired into by the governor or in any proceeding after the demand for extradition accompanied by a charge of crime in legal form as above provided shall have been presented to the governor, except as it may be involved in identifying the person held as the person charged with the crime. (1937, c. 273, s. 20.)

§ 15-75. Governor may recall warrant or issue alias.—The governor may recall his warrant of arrest or may issue another warrant whenever he deems proper. (1937, c. 273, s. 21.)

§ 15-76. Fugitives from this state; duty of governors.—Whenever the governor of this state shall demand a person charged with crime or with escaping from confinement or breaking the terms of his bail, probation or parole in this state from the executive authority of any other state, or from the chief justice or an associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia authorized to receive such demand under the laws of the United States, he shall issue a warrant under the seal of this state, to some agent, commanding him to receive the person so charged if delivered to him and convey him to the proper officer of the county in this state in which the offense was committed. (1937, c. 273, s. 22.)

§ 15-77. Application for issuance of requisition; by whom made; contents.—I. When the return to this state of a person charged with crime in this state is required, the prosecuting attorney shall present to the governor his written application for a requisition for the return of the person charged, in which application shall be stated the name of the person so charged, the crime charged against him, the approximate time, place and circumstances of its commission, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the accused therein. at the time the application is made and certifying that, in the opinion of the said prosecuting attorney, the ends of justice require the arrest and return of the accused to this state for trial and that the proceeding is not instituted to enforce a private claim.

II. When the return to this state is required of a person who has been convicted of a crime in this state and has escaped from confinement or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed, the parole board, or the warden of the institution or sheriff of the county, from which escape was made, shall present to the governor a written application for a requisition for the return of such person, in which application shall be stated the name of the person, the crime of which he was convicted, the circumstances of his escape from confinement or of the breach of the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the person therein at the time application is made.

III. The application shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the indictment returned, or information and affidavit filed, or of the complaint made to the judge or magistrate, stating the offense with which the accused is charged, or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence. The prosecuting officer, parole board, warden or sheriff may also attach such further affidavits and other documents in duplicate as he shall deem proper to be submitted with such application. One copy of the application, with the action of the governor indicated by endorsement thereon, and one of the certified copies of the indictment, complaint, information and affidavits, or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state to remain of record in that office. The other copies of all papers shall be forwarded with the governor's requisition. (1937, c. 273, s. 23.)

§ 15-78. Costs and expenses.—When the crime shall be a felony, the expenses shall be paid out of the state treasury, on the certificate of the governor and warrant of the auditor; and in all other cases they shall be paid out of the county treasury in the county wherein the crime is alleged to have been committed. The expenses shall be the actual traveling and subsistence costs of the agent of the demanding state, together with such legal fees as were paid to the officers of the state on whose governor the requisition is made. In every case the officer entitled to these expenses shall itemize the same and verify them by his oath for presentation, either to the governor of the state, in proper cases, or to the board of county commissioners, in cases in which the county pays such expenses. (1937, c. 273, s. 24.)

§ 15-79. Immunity from service of process in certain civil actions.—A person brought into this state by, or after waiver of, extradition based on a criminal charge shall not be subject to service of personal process in civil actions arising out of the same facts as the criminal proceedings to answer which he is being or has been returned until he has been convicted in the criminal proceeding or, if acquitted until he has had reasonable opportunity to return to the state from which he was extradited. (1937, c. 273, s. 25.)

§ 15-80. Written waiver of extradition proceedings. — Any person arrested in this state charged with having committed any crime in another state or alleged to have escaped from confinement, or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole may waive the issuance and service of the warrant provided for in §§ 15-61 and 15-62 and all other procedure incidental to extradition proceedings, by executing or subscribing in the presence of a judge of any court of record within this state a writing which states that he consents to return to the demanding state: Provided, however, that before such waiver shall be executed or subscribed by such person it shall be the duty of such judge to inform such person of his rights to the issuance and service of a warrant of extradition and to obtain a writ of habeas corpus as provided for in § 15-64.

If and when such consent has been duly executed it shall forthwith be forwarded to the office of the governor of this state and filed therein. The judge shall direct the officer having such person in custody to deliver forthwith such person to the duly accredited agent or agents of the demanding state, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to such agent or agents a copy of such consent: Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit the rights of the accused person to return voluntarily and without formality to the demanding state, nor shall this waiver procedure be deemed to be an exclusive procedure or to limit the powers, rights or duties of the officers of the demanding state or of this state. (1937, c. 273, s. 25a.)

§ 15-81. Non-waiver by this state.—Nothing in this article contained shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by this state of its right, power or privilege to try such demanded person for crime committed within this state, or of its right, power or privilege to regain custody of such person by extradition proceedings or otherwise for the purpose of trial, sentence or punishment for any crime committed within this state, nor shall any proceedings had under this article which result in, or fail to result in, extradition be deemed a waiver by this state of any of its rights, privileges or jurisdiction in any way whatsoever. (1937, c. 273, s. 25b.)

§ 15-82. No right of asylum; no immunity from other criminal prosecution while in this state.—After a person has been brought back to this state by, or after waiver of extradition proceedings, he may be tried in this state for other crimes which he may be charged with having committed here as well as that specified in the requisition for his extradition. (1937, c. 273, s. 26.)

§ 15-83. Interpretation.—The provisions of this article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purposes to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1937, c. 273, s. 27.)

§ 15-84. Short title.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act. (1937, c. 273, s. 30.)

Art. 9. Preliminary Examination.

§ 15-85. Waiver of examination.—If any person arrested desires to waive examination and give bail, it is the duty of the officer making the arrest to take him before any magistrate of the county in which the offense is charged to have been committed, or before any judge of the supreme or superior court. (Rev., s. 3190; Code, ss. 1138, 1139; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, ss. 7, 8; C. S. 4557.)

§ 15-86. Procedure, when justice has not final jurisdiction.—In all cases where a justice of the peace has not final jurisdiction of the offense, he shall desist from any final determination of the action or complaint, and proceed as hereinafter provided. (Rev., s. 3191; Code, s. 896; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 7; 1879, c. 302, s. 2; C. S. 4558.)

§ 15-87. Duty of examining magistrate.—The magistrate before whom any such person shall be brought shall proceed, as soon as may be, to examine the complainant and the witnesses produced in support of the prosecution on oath, in the presence of the prisoner, in regard to the offense charged, and in regard to any other matters connected with such charge which such magistrate may deem pertinent. The defendant shall be allowed a reasonable time before the hearing begins in which to send for and advise with counsel. (Rev., s. 3192; Code, ss. 1144, 1145; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 13; C. S. 4559.)

§ 15-88. Testimony reduced to writing; right to counsel.—The evidence given by the several witnesses examined shall be reduced to writing by the magistrate, or under his direction, and shall be signed by the witnesses respectively. If desired by the person arrested, his counsel shall be present during the examination of the complainant and the witnesses on the part of the prosecution, and during the examination of the prisoner; and the prisoner or his counsel shall be allowed to cross-examine the complainant and the witnesses for the prosecution. (Rev., s. 3193; Code, ss. 1146, 1150; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, ss. 14, 19; C. S. 4560.)

§ 15-89. Prisoner examined; advised of rights.—The magistrate shall then proceed to examine the prisoner in relation to the offense charged. Such examination shall not be on oath; and before it is commenced, the prisoner shall be informed by the magistrate of the charge made against him, and that he is at liberty to refuse to answer any question that may be put to him, and that his refusal to answer shall not be used to his prejudice in any stage of the proceedings. (Rev., s. 3194; Code, ss. 1145, 1146; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, ss. 14, 15; C. S. 4561.)

§ 15-90. Exclusion of witnesses at examination.—The witnesses produced on the part either of the prisoner or of the prosecution shall not be present at the examination of the prisoner; and while any witness is under examination the magistrate may exclude from the place in which such examination is had all witnesses who have not been examined, and may cause the witnesses to be kept separate and prevented from conversing with each other until they shall have been examined. (Rev., s. 3195; Code, s. 1149; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 18; C. S. 4562.)

§ 15-91. Answers in writing, read to prisoner, signed by magistrate.—The answer of the prisoner to the several interrogatories shall be reduced to writing by the magistrate, or under his direction. They shall be read to the prisoner, who may correct or add to them; and when made conformable to what he declares is the truth, shall be certified and signed by the magistrate. (Rev., s. 3196; Code, s. 1147; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 16; C. S. 4563.)

§ 15-92. Witnesses for defendant examined.—After the examination of the prisoner is complete, his witnesses, if he have any, shall be sworn and examined, and he may have the assistance of counsel in such examination. (Rev., s. 3197; Code, s. 1148; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 17; C. S. 4564.)

§ 15-93. Examination of prisoner not required in misdemeanors.—Nothing contained in the preceding sections shall be construed to require any magistrate, before whom a prisoner charged with a misdemeanor shall be brought, to take the examination of such prisoner, except where such magistrate shall deem it material so to do, or where such examination shall be required by the prisoner. (Rev., s. 3198; Code, s. 1153; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 22; C. S. 4565.)

§ 15-94. When prisoner discharged.—If, upon examination of the whole matter, it shall appear to the magistrate either that no offense has been committed by any person or that there is no probable cause for charging the prisoner therewith, he shall discharge such prisoner. (Rev., s. 3199; Code, s. 1151; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 20; C. S. 4566.)

§ 15-95. When prisoner held to answer charge.—If it shall appear that an offense has been committed, and that there is probable cause to believe the prisoner to be guilty thereof, if the offense be bailable, and the prisoner offers sufficient bail, such bail shall be taken and the prisoner discharged; if no bail be offered, or the offense be not bailable, the prisoner shall be committed to prison. (Rev., s. 3202; Code, ss. 1152, 1156; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, ss. 21, 25; C. S. 4567.)

§ 15-96. Witnesses against prisoner recognized.—The magistrate shall bind by recognizances the prosecutor and all the material witnesses against such prisoner to appear and testify at the next term of the court having jurisdiction for the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed. (Rev., s. 3203; Code, s. 1152; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 21; C. S. 4568.)

§ 15-97. Witnesses required to give security for appearance.—Whenever the magistrate is satisfied by the proof that there is good reason to believe that any such witness will not fulfill the conditions of the recognizance unless security be required, he may order the witness to enter into a recognizance with such sureties as he shall deem meet for his appearance at such court. (Rev., s. 3204; Code, s. 1154; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 23; C. S. 4569.)

§ 15-98. Investigation in case of lynching.—Whenever the solicitor of any judicial district ascertains that the crime of lynching has been committed in any county in his judicial district, it is his duty to go to such county at the earliest possible moment, and at once institute proceedings for the investigation of the crime before the coroner of the county, some judge of the superior court, or justice of the peace, and for the apprehension of the offender. In the performance of this duty he shall cause to be issued subpœnas or other process to compel the attendance of witnesses and examine such witnesses on oath as to their knowledge or information touching the crime being investigated. In all cases where, upon preliminary investigation, it appears probable that any person is guilty of the crime charged, it shall be the duty of the coroner, judge or justice before whom the case is heard to bind such person, with good security, for his appearance at the next ensuing term of the superior or criminal court of some county adjoining the county in which the crime was committed for trial, and in default of bail to commit him to the jail of such adjoining county for safekeeping, and all necessary witnesses shall be recognized to appear at such term as witnesses for the state. (Rev., s. 3200; 1893, c. 461, s. 2; C. S. 4570.)

§ 15-99. Witnesses in lynching not privileged.—In all investigations before a justice of the peace, coroner, judge, grand jury, or courts and jury, on the trial of the cause, as authorized by § 15-98 or under existing law, no person shall be excused from testifying touching his knowledge or information in regard to the offense being investigated, upon the ground that his answer might tend to subject him to prosecution, pains or penalties, or that his evidence might tend to criminate himself; but no discovery made by such witness upon any such examination shall be used against him in any court or in any penal or criminal prosecution, and he shall, when so examined as a witness for the state, be altogether pardoned of any and all participation in any crime arising under the provisions of § 15-98, or under existing law, concerning which he is required to testify. (Rev., ss. 1638, 3201; 1893, c. 461, s. 5; C. S. 4571.)

§ 15-100. Proceedings certified to court; used as evidence.—All examinations and recognizances taken pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be certified by the magistrate taking the same to the court at which the witnesses are bound to appear, within twenty days after the taking of such examinations and recognizances: Provided, that any criminal case tried within twenty days before the sitting of criminal court shall be returned on Saturdays before the court convenes. The examinations taken and subscribed as herein prescribed may be used as evidence before the grand jury, and on the trial of the accused, provided he was present at the taking thereof and had an opportunity to hear the same and to cross-examine the disposing witness, if such witness be dead or so ill as not to be able to travel, or by procurement or connivance of the defendant has removed from the state, or is of unsound mind. (Rev., s. 3205; Code, s. 1157; 1913, c. 24; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 26; C. S. 4572.)

§ 15-101. Penalty for failing to return.—If any magistrate shall refuse or neglect to return to the proper court any such examination or recognizance by him taken, he may be compelled by rule of court forthwith to return the same, and in case of disobedience of such rule, may be proceeded against by attachment as for contempt of court as provided by law. (Rev., s. 3206; Code, s. 1158; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 27; C. S. 4573.)

Art. 10. Bail.

§ 15-102. Officers authorized to take bail, before imprisonment.—Officers before whom persons charged with crime, but who have not been committed to prison by an authorized magistrate, may be brought, have power to take bail as follows:

1. Any justice of the supreme court, or a judge of a superior court, in all cases.

2. Any justice of the peace or chief magistrate of any incorporated city or town, in all cases of misdemeanor, and in all cases of felony not capital. (Rev., s. 3209; Code, s. 1160; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 29; 1871-2, c. 37; C. S. 4574.)

§ 15-103. Officers authorized to take bail, after imprisonment.—Any justice of the supreme court or any judge of a superior court has power to bail persons committed to prison charged with crime in all cases; any justice of the peace or chief magistrate of any incorporated city or town has the same power in all cases where the punishment is not capital. (Rev., s. 3210; Code, s. 1161; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 30; C. S. 4575.)

§ 15-104. Recognizance filed with the clerk.—Whenever a prisoner is bailed by any officer under § 15-103, such officer shall immediately cause the recognizance taken by him to be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county to which the prisoner is recognized. (Rev., s. 3211; Code, s. 1162; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 31; C. S. 4576.)

§ 15-105. Bail allowed on preliminary examination.—If the offense charged in the warrant be not punishable with death, the magistrate may take from the person so arrested a recognizance with sufficient sureties for his appearance at the next term of the court having jurisdiction, to be held in the county where the offense is alleged to have been committed. (Rev., s. 3207; Code, s. 1139; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 8; 1871-2, c. 37, s. 1; C. S. 4577.)

§ 15-106. Duty of magistrate granting bail.—Any magistrate taking bail shall certify on the warrant the fact of his having let the defendant to bail, and shall deliver the same, together with the recognizance taken by him, to the officer or other person having charge of the prisoner, who shall deliver the same without unnecessary delay to the clerk of the court in which the prisoner has been recognized to appear. (Rev., s. 3212; Code, s. 1140; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 9; C. S. 4578.)

§ 15-107. Sheriff or deputy may take bail.—When any sheriff or his deputy arrests the body of any person, in consequence of the writ of capias issued to him by the clerk of a court of record on an indictment found, the sheriff or deputy, if the crime is bailable, shall recognize the offender, and take sufficient bail in the nature of a recognizance for his appearing at the next succeeding court of the county where he ought to answer, which recognizance shall be returned with the capias; and the sheriff shall in no case become bail himself.

No sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, jailer or assistant jailer or the wife of any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, jailer or assistant jailer shall in any case become bail for any prisoner for money or property; nor shall any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, jailer or assistant jailer, or their wives become bail as agents for any bonding company or professional bondsmen. Any violation of this paragraph shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine or by imprisonment in the discretion of the court, or by both such fine and imprisonment; provided that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to Caswell, Currituck, Dare, Granville, Greene, Hertford, Hyde, Lenoir, Martin, Moore, Nash, Pamlico, Perquimans, Person, Pitt, Rockingham, Stokes, Transylvania and Warren counties. (Rev., s. 3208; Code, s. 1180; R. C., c. 35, s. 11; 1797, c. 474, s. 4; 1939, c. 47; C. S. 4579.)

§ 15-108. Sheriff may take bail of prisoner in custody.—If any person for want of bail shall be lawfully committed to jail at any time before final judgment, the sheriff, or other officer having him in custody, may take sufficient justified bail and discharge him; and the bail bond shall be regarded, in every respect, as other bail bonds, and shall be returned and sued on in like manner; and the officer taking it shall make special return thereof, with the bond, at the first court which is held after it is taken. (Rev., s. 3228; Code, s. 1232; R. C., c. 11, s. 8; C. S. 4580.)

§ 15-109. Bail on continuance before a justice.—Upon the continuance of any criminal action returned before any justice of the peace for trial, in which the justice is authorized to take bail on a finding of probable cause or in which he has final jurisdiction, it is the duty of the justice of the peace to take bond for his appearance, payable to the state, on the same being tendered by the accused, with such surety as in his opinion will be sufficient to insure the appearance of the accused for trial at a time and place mentioned in the bond. (Rev., s. 3213; 1889, c. 133; C. S. 4581.)

Art. 11. Forfeiture of Bail.

§ 15-110. In recognizance to keep the peace.—Every person who shall have entered into a recognizance to keep the peace shall appear according to the obligation thereof; and if he fail to appear the court shall forfeit his recognizance and order it to be prosecuted, in the manner provided by law, unless reasonable excuse for his default be given. (Rev., s. 3214; Code, s. 1225; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 10; C. S. 4582.)

§ 15-111. When recognizance deemed broken.—No recognizance taken under this chapter shall be deemed to be broken except in the failure of the principal in such recognizance to appear and answer according to the obligation thereof, unless such principal be convicted of some offense amounting in judgment of law to a breach of such recognizance. (Rev., s. 3215; Code, s. 1227; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 12; C. S. 4583.)

§ 15-112. Recognizance prosecuted.—Whenever evidence of such conviction shall be produced in the court in which the recognizance is filed, it shall be the duty of such court to order the recognizance to be prosecuted, and the solicitor shall cause the proper proceedings to be thereupon taken. (Rev., s. 3216; Code, s. 1228; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 13; C. S. 4584.)

§ 15-113. Notice of judgment nisi before execution.—No execution shall issue upon a forfeited recognizance, or to collect a fine imposed nisi, until a notice has issued against the person who has forfeited his recognizance or upon whom the fine has been imposed, and his sureties. (Rev., s. 3217; Code, s. 1208; R. C., c. 35, s. 43; 1777, c. 115, s. 48; C. S. 4585.)

Local Modification.—Forsyth: 1935, c. 83.

§ 15-114. What notice must contain.—When any recognizance, acknowledged by a principal and sureties, shall be forfeited by two or more of the recognizors, the notice issued thereon shall be jointly against them all, designating which of them are principals and which sureties, and when they are bound in different sums, stating the amount forfeited by each one, and the clerk shall have no greater fee on such notice than is due when it is issued against one defendant. (Rev., s. 3218; Code, s. 1209; R. C., c. 35, s. 44; 1812, c. 836, s. 1; C. S. 4586.)

§ 15-115. Service of notice.—All notices issuing upon forfeited recognizances shall be executed by leaving a copy with each of the defendants, or at his present place of abode. And in case he cannot be found, and has no known place of abode, and the matter be returned, then a notice shall issue, and on the like return the same shall be deemed duly served. (Rev., s. 3219; Code, s. 1210; R. C., c. 35, s. 45; 1812, c. 836, s. 2; C. S. 4587.)

§ 15-116. Judges may remit forfeited recognizances.—The judges of the superior courts may hear and determine the petition of all persons who shall conceive they merit relief on their recognizances forfeited; and may lessen, or absolutely remit, the same, and do all and anything therein as they shall deem just and right and consistent with the welfare of the state and the persons praying such relief, as well before as after final judgment entered and execution awarded. (Rev., s. 3220; Code, s. 1205; R. C., c. 35, s. 38; 1788, c. 292, s. 1; C. S. 4588.)

§ 15-117. Money refunded by clerk.—The clerk of the superior court, on the remission of any forfeited recognizance which has been paid into his office, shall refund the same, or so much thereof as shall be remitted. (Rev., s. 3221; Code, s. 1206; R. C., c. 35, s. 39; 1795, c. 442, s. 1; C. S. 4589.)

§ 15-118. Money refunded by treasurer.—If the money has been paid to the county treasurer, he shall refund it to the person entitled, on his producing an attested copy of the record from the clerk of the court, certifying that such recognizance has been remitted or lessened, signed with his own proper name, with the seal of the court affixed thereto. (Rev., s. 3222; Code, s. 1207; R. C., c. 35, s. 40; 1795, c. 442, s. 2; C. S. 4590.)

§ 15-119. Forfeiture of bond before justice.—On the failure of the accused to appear at the time and place mentioned in any bond taken by any justice of the peace for a continuance of any cause pending before him, and answer the charge, or, having appeared, on his departing the court without leave thereof first had and obtained, it shall be the duty of the justice of the peace then presiding to enter judgment nisi against the principal and his sureties in the bond for the amount mentioned therein, if the sum does not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars; and immediately issue notice to the principal and the sureties in the bond, giving ten days time, specifying time and place, to appear and show cause, if any they have, why the judgment nisi shall not be made final. (Rev., s. 3223; 1889, c. 133, s. 2; C. S. 4591.)

§ 15-120. Judgment final, rendered and enforced.—If the defendant shall fail to appear and show satisfactory reasons for not complying with the provisions of the bond, it shall then be the duty of the justice of the peace to render a final judgment thereon for the amount of the same, and immediately make and transmit to the clerk of the superior court a transcript thereof, which shall be entered upon the judgment docket of the court, and the clerk shall issue execution on the final judgment against the principal and his sureties for the collection of the amount thereof as in other judgments in behalf of the state. (Rev., s. 3224; 1889, c. 133, s. 3; C. S. 4592.)

§ 15-121. Forfeiture over two hundred dollars before justice.—If the bond shall exceed the sum of two hundred dollars, and the accused shall fail to appear as therein provided to answer the charge, or, having appeared, shall depart the court without leave first had and obtained, it shall be the duty of the justice to have the accused called, and enter upon the bond that the defendant was called and failed to answer, and immediately return the original papers in the case, together with the bond, to the clerk of the court having jurisdiction to try such action, who shall immediately enter the case upon the criminal docket of his court and enter judgment nisi for the amount of the bond, and issue notice to the accused and his sureties to appear at the next term to show cause why the judgment should not be made final and proceeded in as other cases of forfeited bonds in behalf of the state in such court. The entry on the bond by the justice of the peace shall be prima facie evidence that the principal therein had been called and failed to answer. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent justices of the peace from remitting the penalty of the bond or the right of appeal from the justice of the peace to the superior court by the defendant or his surety. (Rev., s. 3225; 1889, c. 133, s. 4; C. S. 4593.)

§ 15-122. Right of bail to surrender principal.—The bail shall have liberty, at any time before execution awarded against him, to surrender to the court from which the process issued, or to the sheriff having such process to return, during the session, or in the recess of such court, the principal, in discharge of himself; and such bail shall, at any time before such execution awarded, have full power and authority to arrest the body of his principal, and secure him until he shall have an opportunity to surrender him to the sheriff or court as aforesaid; and the sheriff is hereby required to receive such surrender, and hold the body of the defendant in custody as if bail had never been given: Provided, that in criminal proceedings the surrender by the bail, after the recognizance has been forfeited, shall not have the effect to discharge the bail, but the forfeiture may be remitted in the manner provided for. (Rev., s. 3226; Code, s. 1230; R. C., c. 11, s. 5; 1777, c. 115, s. 20; 1848, c. 7; C. S. 4594.)

§ 15-123. New bail given upon surrender; liability of sheriff.—Any person surrendered in the manner specified in § 15-122, shall have liberty, at any time before final judgment against him, to give bail; and in case of such surrender, the sheriff shall take the bail bond or recognizance to the succeeding court; and in case the sheriff shall release such person without bail, or the bail returned be held insufficient, on exception taken, the same term to which such bail bond shall be returned, and allowed by the court, the sheriff, having due notice thereof in criminal cases, shall forfeit to the state the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered on motion in like manner as forfeitures for not returning process, and be subject to be indicted for misdemeanor in office; and it shall be the duty of the prosecuting officer to collect the forfeiture; and, in case of a release, the sheriff shall be liable for an escape, and may be prosecuted and punished as provided for in the chapter entitled Crimes and Punishments. (Rev., s. 3227; Code, s. 1231; R. C., c. 11, s. 6; 1827, c. 40; C. S. 4595.)

§ 15-124. Defenses open to bail.—Every matter which would entitle the principal to be discharged from arrest may be pleaded by the bail in exoneration of his liability. (Rev., s. 3229; Code, s. 1233; R. C., c. 11, s. 9; C. S. 4596.)

Art. 12. Commitment to Prison.

§ 15-125. Order of commitment.—Every commitment to prison of a person charged with crime shall state:

1. The name of the person charged.
2. The character of the offense with which he is charged.
3. The name and office of the magistrate committing him.
4. The manner in which he may be discharged; if upon giving recognizance or bail, the amount of the recognizance, the condition on the performance of which it shall be discharged, and the persons or magistrate before whom the bail may justify.
5. The court before which the prisoner shall be sent for trial. (Rev., s. 3230; Code, s. 1163; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 32; C. S. 4597.)

§ 15-126. Commitment to county jail.—All persons committed to prison before conviction shall be committed to the jail of the county in which the examination is had, or to that of the county in which the offense is charged to have been comitted: Provided, if the jails of these counties are unsafe, or injurious to the health of prisoners, the committing magistrate may commit to the jail of any other convenient county. And every sheriff or jailer to whose jail any person shall be committed by any court or magistrate of competent jurisdiction shall receive such prisoner and give a receipt for him, and be bound for his safe-keeping as prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 3231; Code, s. 1164; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 2, s. 33; C. S. 4598.)

§ 15-127. Commitment of witnesses.—If any witness required to enter into a recognizance, either with or without sureties, shall refuse to comply with such order, it shall be the duty of such magistrate to commit him to prison until he shall comply with such order, or be otherwise discharged according to law. (Rev., s. 3232; Code, s. 1155; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 3, s. 24; C. S. 4599.)

Art. 13. Venue.

§ 15-128. In case of lynching.—The superior court of any county which adjoins the county in which the crime of lynching shall be committed shall have full and complete jurisdiction over the crime and the offender to the same extent as if the crime had been committed in the bounds of such adjoining county; and whenever the solicitor of the district has information of the commission of such a crime, it shall be his duty to furnish such information to the grand juries of all adjoining counties to the one in which the crime was committed from time to time until the offenders are brought to justice. (Rev., s. 3233; 1893, c. 461, s. 4; C. S. 4600.)

§ 15-129. In offenses on waters dividing counties.—When any offense is committed on any water, or water-course, whether at high or low water, which water or water-course, or the sides or shores thereof, divides counties, such offense may be dealt with, inquired of, tried and determined, and punished at the discretion of the court, in either of the two counties which may be nearest to the place where the offense was committed. (Rev., s. 3234; Code, s. 1193; R. C., c. 35, s. 24; C. S. 4601.)

§ 15-130. Assault in one county, death in another.—In all cases of felonious homicide when the assault has been made in one county within the state, and the person assaulted dies in any other county thereof, the offender shall be indicted and punished for the crime in the county wherein the assault was made. (Rev., s. 3235; Code, s. 1196; R. C., c. 35, s. 27; 1831, c. 22, s. 1; C. S. 4602.)

§ 15-131. Assault in this state, death in another.—In all cases of felonious homicide, when the assault has been made within this state, and the person assaulted dies without the limits thereof, the offender shall be indicted and punished for the crime in the county where the assault was made, in the same manner, to all intents and purposes, as if the person assaulted had died within the limits of this state. (Rev., s. 3236; Code, s. 1197; R. C., c. 35, s. 28; 1831, c. 22, s. 2; C. S. 4603.)

§ 15-132. Person in this state injuring one in another.—If any person, being in this state, unlawfully and willfully puts in motion a force from the effect of which any person is injured while in another state, the person so setting such force in motion shall be guilty of the same offense in this state as he would be if the effect had taken place within this state. (Rev., s. 3237; 1895, c. 169; C. S. 4604.)

§ 15-133. In county where death occurs.—If a mortal wound is given or other violence or injury inflicted or poison is administered on the high seas or land, either within or without the limits of this state, by means whereof death ensues in any county thereof, the offense may be prosecuted and punished in the county where the death happens. (Rev., s. 3238; 1891, c. 68; C. S. 4605.)

§ 15-134. Improper venue met by plea in abatement; procedure. — Because the boundaries of many counties are either undetermined or unknown, by reason whereof high offenses go unpunished; therefore, for the more effectual prosecution of offenses committed on land near the boundaries of counties, in the prosecution of all offenses it shall be deemed and taken as true that the offense was committed in the county in which by the indictment it is alleged to have taken place, unless the defendant shall deny the same by plea in abatement, the truth whereof shall be duly verified on oath or otherwise both as to substance and fact, wherein shall be set forth the proper county in which the supposed offense, if any, was committed; whereupon the court may, on motion of the state, commit the defendant, who may enter into recognizance, as in other cases, to answer the offense in the county averred by his plea to be the proper county; and, on his prosecution in that county, it shall be deemed, conclusively, to be the proper county. But if the state, upon the plea aforesaid, will join issue, and the matter be found for the defendant, he shall be required to enter into recognizance as in other cases to answer the offense in the county averred by his plea to be the proper county, provided the offense be bailable; and, if not bailable, he shall be committed for trial in the county; and, if it be found for the state, the court in all offenses or misdemeanors shall proceed to pronounce judgment against the defendant, as upon conviction; and, in all cases of felony, the defendant shall be at liberty to plead to the indictment, and be tried on his plea of not guilty. (Rev., s. 3239; Code, s. 1194; R. C., c. 35, s. 25; C. S. 4606.)

§ 15-135. Removal of indictment with consent of defendant; pleas.—Whenever an indictment, charging the commission of a capital or other felony, is returned a true bill, the judge holding the court in which such indictment is found shall have the power, with the written consent of the defendant or defendants charged in said bill, to remove such indictment for trial to some adjacent county prior to the arraignment or plea of the defendant or defendants in such indictment, without the presence in person of the defendant or defendants, and upon such removal the pleas of the defendant or defendants may be entered in such adjacent county. (1921, c. 12, s. 1; C. S. 4606(a).)

§ 15-136. Jurisdiction of grand jury. — Upon the removal of any indictment under section 15-135, if it shall be found that there is any defect in such indictment, the grand jury of the county to which the same is removed for trial shall have as full and ample jurisdiction and power to find another indictment for the same offense as would the grand jury of the county from which the indictment was removed. (1921, c. 12, s. 2; C. S. 4606(b).)

Art. 14. Presentment.

§ 15-137. No arrest nor trial on presentment.—No person shall be arrested on a presentment of the grand jury, or put on trial before any court, but on indictment found by the grand jury, unless otherwise provided by law. (Rev., s. 3240; Code, s. 1175; R. C., c. 35, s. 6; 1797, c. 474, s. 3; 1879, c. 12; C. S. 4607.)

§ 15-138. Names of witnesses indorsed on presentment.—When a presentment shall be made of any offense by a grand jury, upon the knowledge of any of their body, or upon the testimony of witnesses, the names of such grand jurors and witnesses shall be indorsed thereon. (Rev., s. 3241; Code, s. 1176; R. C., c. 35, s. 7; 1797, c. 474, s. 2; C. S. 4608.)

§ 15-139. Subpœna for witnesses on presentment.—In issuing subpoenas for witnesses whose names are indorsed on presentments made by the grand jury, the clerk of the court shall name therein the first Tuesday of the term of court as the time for such witnesses to appear and give evidence. And no clerk shall issue a subpœna for any such witness to appear on Monday, except upon written order of the solicitor of the district. (1913, c. 168; C. S. 4609.)

Art. 15. Indictment.

§ 15-140. Waiver of bill of indictment.—No waiver of the finding and return into court of a bill of indictment in any criminal action shall be allowed in the superior courts of this state except in cases wherein the offense charged is a misdemeanor which does not include or contain the element of fraud, deceit or malice; nor shall such waiver be made in any such action except upon a plea of guilty, or a submission, or a plea of nolo contendere by the defendant in the same. No such waiver of a bill of indictment shall be allowed by the court unless by the consent of the defendant's counsel in such action, who shall be one either employed by the defendant to defend him in the action or one appointed by the court to examine into the defendant's case and report as to the same to the court; which service by an attorney so appointed by the court shall be rendered without fee or reward. (1907, c. 71; C. S. 4610.)

§ 15-141. Bills returned by foreman except in capital cases.—Grand juries shall return all bills of indictment in open court through their acting foreman, except in capital felonies, when it shall be necessary for the entire grand jury, or a majority of them, to return their bills of indictment in open court in a body. (Rev., s. 3242; 1889, c. 29; C. S. 4611.)

§ 15-142. Substance of judicial proceedings set forth.—In every indictment, information, or impeachment in which, by the common law, it may be necessary to set forth at length the judicial proceedings had in any case then or formerly pending in any court, civil or military, or before any justice of the peace, it is sufficient to set forth the substance only of the proceedings, or the substance of such part thereof as makes, or helps to make, the offense prosecuted. (Rev., s. 3243; Code, s. 1184; R. C., c. 35, s. 15; C. S. 4612.)

§ 15-143. Bill of particulars.—In all indictments when further information not required to be set out therein is desirable for the better defense of the accused, the court, upon motion, may, in its discretion, require the solicitor to furnish a bill of particulars of such matters. (Rev., s. 3244; C. S. 4613.)

§ 15-144. Essentials of bill for homicide.—In indictments for murder and manslaughter, it is not necessary to allege matter not required to be proved on the trial; but in the body of the indictment, after naming the person accused, and the county of his residence, the date of the offense, the averment "with force and arms," and the county of the alleged commission of the offense, as is now usual, it is sufficient in describing murder to allege that the accused person feloniously, willfully, and of his malice aforethought, did kill and murder (naming the person killed), and concluding as is now required by law; and it is sufficient in describing manslaughter to allege that the accused feloniously and willfully did kill and slay (naming the person killed), and concluding as aforesaid; and any bill of indictment containing the averments and allegations herein named shall be good and sufficient in law as an indictment for murder or manslaughter, as the case may be. (Rev., s. 3245; 1887, c. 58; C. S. 4614.)

§ 15-145. Form of bill for perjury.—In every indictment for willful and corrupt perjury it is sufficient to set forth the substance of the offense charged upon the defendant, and by what court, or before whom, the oath was taken (averring such court or person to have competent authority to administer the same), together with the proper averments to falsify the matter wherein the perjury is assigned, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any record or proceedings, either in law or equity, other than aforesaid, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed. In indictments for perjury the following form shall be sufficient, to wit:

The jurors for the state, on their oath, present, that A. B., of .....County, did unlawfully commit perjury upon the trial of an action in .....court, in .....County, wherein .....was plaintiff and.....was defendant, by falsely asserting, on oath (or solemn affirmation) (here set out the statement or statements alleged to be false), knowing the said statement, or statements, to be false, or being ignorant whether or not said statement was true. (Rev., ss. 3246, 3247; Code, s. 1185; R. C., c. 35, s. 16; 1842, c. 49, s. 1; 1889, c. 83; C. S. 4615.)

§ 15-146. Bill for subornation of perjury.—In every indictment for subornation of perjury, or for corrupt bargaining or contracting with others to commit willful and corrupt perjury, it is sufficient to set forth the substance of the offense charged upon the defendant, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration or any part of any record or proceedings, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed or was agreed or promised to be committed. (Rev., s. 3248; Code, s. 1186; R. C., c. 35, s. 17; 1842, c. 49; s. 2; C. S. 4616.)

§ 15-147. Former conviction alleged in bill for second offense.—In any indictment for an offense which, on the second conviction thereof, is punished with other or greater punishment than on the first conviction, it is sufficient to state that the offender was, at a certain time and place, convicted thereof, without otherwise describing the previous offense; and a transcript of the record of the first conviction, duly certified, shall, upon proof of the identity of the person of the offender, be sufficient evidence of the first conviction. (Rev., s. 3249; Code, s. 1187; R. C., c. 35, s. 18; C. S. 4617.)

§ 15-148. Manner of alleging joint ownership of property.—In any indictment wherein it is necessary to state the ownership of any property whatsoever, whether real or personal, which belongs to, or is in the possession of, more than one person, whether such persons be partners in trade, joint tenants or tenants in common, it is sufficient to name one of such persons, and to state such property to belong to the person so named, and another or others as the case may be; and whenever, in any such indictment, it is necessary to mention, for any purpose whatsoever, any partners, joint tenants or tenants in common, it is sufficient to describe them in the manner aforesaid; and this provision shall extend to all joint-stock companies and trustees. (Rev., s. 3250; Code, s. 1188; R. C., c. 35, s. 19; C. S. 4618.)

§ 15-149. Description in bill for larceny of money.—In every indictment in which it is necessary to make any averment as to the larceny of any money, or United States treasury note, or any note of any bank whatsoever, it is sufficient to describe such money, or treasury note, or bank note, simply as money, without specifying any particular coin, or treasury note, or bank note; and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained by proof of any amount of coin, or treasury note, or bank note, although the particular species of coin, of which such amount was composed, or the particular nature of the treasury note, or bank note, shall not be proven. (Rev., s. 3251; Code, s. 1190; 1876-7, c. 68; C. S. 4619.)

§ 15-150. Description in bill for embezzlement.—In indictments for embezzlement, except when the offense relates to a chattel, it is sufficient to allege the embezzlement to be of money, without specifying any particular coin or valuable security; and such allegation, so far as regards the description of the property, shall be sustained if the offender shall be proved to have embezzled any amount, although the particular species of coin or valuable security of which such amount was composed shall not be proved. (Rev., s. 3252; Code, s. 1020; 1871-2, c. 145, s. 2; C. S. 4620.)

§ 15-151. Intent to defraud; larceny and receiving.—In any case where an intent to defraud is required to constitute the offense of forgery, or any other offense whatever, it is sufficient to allege in the indictment an intent to defraud, without naming therein the particular person or body corporate intended to be defrauded; and on the trial of such indictment, it shall be sufficient, and shall not be deemed a variance, if there appear to be an intent to defraud the United States, or any state, county, city, town, or parish, or body corporate, or any public officer in his official capacity, or any copartnership or member thereof, or any particular person. The defendant may be charged in the same indictment in several counts with the separate offenses of receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen, and larceny. (Rev., s. 3253; Code, s. 1191; R. C., c. 35, ss. 21, 23; 1852, c. 87, s. 2; 1874-5, c. 62; C. S. 4621.)

§ 15-152. Separate counts; consolidation.—When there are several charges against any person for the same act or transaction or for two or more acts or transactions connected together, or for two or more transactions of the same class of crimes or offenses, which may be properly joined, instead of several indictments, the whole may be joined in one indictment in separate counts; and if two or more indictments are found in such cases, the court will order them to be consolidated: Provided, that in such consolidating cases the defendant shall be taxed the solicitor's full fee for the first count, and a half fee for only one subsequent count upon which conviction is had or plea of guilty entered: Provided, this section shall not be construed to reduce the punishment or penalty for such offense or offenses. (1917, c. 168; 1921, c. 100; C. S. 4622.)

§ 15-153. Bill or warrant not quashed for informality.—Every criminal proceeding by warrant, indictment, information, or impeachment is sufficient in form for all intents and purposes if it express the charge against the defendant in a plain, intelligible, and explicit manner; and the same shall not be quashed, nor the judgment thereon stayed, by reason of any informality or refinement, if in the bill or proceeding, sufficient matter appears to enable the court to proceed to judgment. (Rev., s. 3254; Code, s. 1183; R. C., c. 35, s. 14; 37 Hen. VIII, c. 8; 1784, c. 210, s. 2; 1811, c. 809; C. S. 4623.)

§ 15-154. No quashal for grand juror's failure to pay taxes or being party to suit.—No indictment shall be quashed nor shall judgment thereon be arrested by reason of the fact that any member of the grand jury finding such bills of indictment had not paid his taxes for the preceding year, or was a party to any suit pending and at issue. (1907, c. 36; C. S. 4624.)

§ 15-155. Defects which do not vitiate.—No judgment upon any indictment for felony or misdemeanor, whether after verdict, or by confession, or otherwise, shall be stayed or reversed for the want of the averment of any matter unnecessary to be proved, nor for omission of the words "as appears by the record," or of the words "with force and arms," nor for the insertion of the words "against the form of the statutes" instead of the words "against the form of the statute," or vice versa; nor for omission of the words "against the form of the statute" or "against the form of the statutes," nor for omitting to state the time at which the offense was committed in any case where time is not of the essence of the offense, nor for stating the time imperfectly, nor for stating the offense to have been committed on a day subsequent to the finding of the indictment, or on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened; nor for want of a proper and perfect venue, when the court shall appear by the indictment to have had jurisdiction of the offense. (Rev., s. 3255; Code, s. 1189; R. C., c. 35, s. 20; 7 Hen. VIII, c. 8; C. S. 4625.)

Art. 16. Trial before Justice.

§ 15-156. In cases of final jurisdiction.—When the justice is satisfied that he has jurisdiction, if no jury is asked for, he shall proceed to determine the case, and shall either acquit the accused or find him guilty, and sentence him to such punishment as the case may require, not to exceed in any case a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days. (Rev., s. 3256; Code, s. 897; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 8; C. S. 4626.)

§ 15-157. Trial by jury, if demanded.—If either the complainant or the accused shall ask for it, the justice shall allow a trial by jury, as is provided in civil actions before justices of the peace. (Rev., s. 3257; Code, s. 898; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 9; C. S. 4627.)

§ 15-158. What submitted to jury.—In case a trial by jury is had, the justice shall submit to the jury in each case simply the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused of the offense charged, and shall enter the verdict on his docket, and adjudge accordingly. (Rev., s. 3258; Code, s. 899; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 10; C. S. 4628.)

§ 15-159. Commitment after judgment. — The commitment to the county prison shall set forth—

1. The name of the guilty person.
2. The nature of the offense of which he is convicted and the date of the trial.
3. The period of his imprisonment.
4. It shall be directed to the sheriff of the county, or to the keeper of the county jail, and shall direct him to keep the prisoner for the time stated, or until discharged by law.
5. The name of the constable or other officer required to execute it.
6. It shall be signed by the justice and be dated. (Rev. s. 3259; Code, s. 1238; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 17; C. S. 4629.)

§ 15-160. Parties entitled to copy of papers; bar to indictment.—The justice shall give to either party on request, and on payment of his lawful fee, a copy of the complaint and of his finding and sentence. Such finding and sentence may be pleaded in bar of any indictment subsequently found for the same offense. (Rev., s. 3260; Code, ss. 902, 903; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, ss. 13, 14; C. S. 4630.)

§ 15-161. Justice to make return of cases to superior court.—It is the duty of each justice of the peace on or before Monday of every term of the superior court of his county, to furnish the clerk of the court with a list of the names and offenses of all parties tried and finally disposed of by such justice of the peace, together with the papers in each case, in all criminal actions, since the last term of the superior court. The clerk of the court shall hand a copy of such list to the solicitor and to the grand jury at each term of court; and no indictment shall be found against any party whose case has been so finally disposed of by any justice of the peace: Provided, that this section shall not be deemed to extend or enlarge or otherwise affect the jurisdiction of justices of the peace, except as provided by law. (Rev., s. 3261; Code, s. 906; 1869-70, c. 110; C. S. 4631.)

Art. 17. Trial in Superior Court.

§ 15-162. Prisoner standing mute, plea "not guilty" entered.—If any person, being arraigned upon or charged in any indictment for any crime, shall stand mute of malice or will not answer directly to the indictment, the court shall order the plea of "not guilty" to be entered on behalf of such person; and the plea so entered shall have the same force and effect as if such person had pleaded the same. (Rev., s. 3262; Code, s. 1198; R. C., c. 35, s. 29; R. S., c. 35, s. 16; C. S. 4632.)

§ 15-163. Peremptory challenges of jurors by defendant.—Every person on joint or several trial for his life may make a peremptory challenge of fourteen jurors and no more; and in all joint or several trials for crimes and misdemeanors, other than capital, every person on trial shall have the right of challenging peremptorily, and without showing cause, six jurors and no more. And to enable defendants to exercise this right, the clerk in all such trials shall read over the names of the jurors on the panel, in the presence and hearing of the defendants and their counsel, before the jury shall be impaneled to try the issue; and the judge or other presiding officer of the court shall decide all questions as to the competency of jurors. (Rev., s. 3263; Code, s. 1199; 1913, c. 31, s. 3; 1887, c. 53; R. C., c. 35, s. 32; 1871-2, c. 39; R. S., c. 35, ss. 19, 21; 1777, c. 115, s. 85; 1812, c. 833; 1801, c. 592, s. 1; 1826, c. 9; 22 Hen. VIII, c. 14, s. 6; 1935, c. 475, s. 2; C. S. 4633.)

§ 15-164. Peremptory challenges by the state.—In all capital cases the prosecuting officer on behalf of the state shall have the right to challenge peremptorily six jurors for each defendant, but shall not have the right to stand any jurors at the foot of the panel. The challenge must be made before the juror is tendered to the prisoner, and if he will challenge more than six jurors he shall assign for his challenge a cause certain; and in all other cases of a criminal nature a challenge of four jurors shall be allowed in behalf of the state for each defendant, and challenge also for a cause certain, and in all cases of challenge for cause certain the same shall be inquired of according to the custom of the court. (Rev., s. 3264; Code, s. 1200; 1913, c. 31, s. 4; 1907, c. 415; 1887, c. 53; R. C., c. 35, s. 33; 1827, c. 10; 33 Edw. I, c. 4; 1935, c. 475, s. 3; C. S. 4634.)

§ 15-165. Challenge to special venire same as to tales jurors.—In the trial of all criminal cases, where a special venire shall be ordered, the same causes of challenge to the jurors summoned on the special venire shall be allowed as exist to tales jurors. (Rev., s. 3265; 1887, c. 53; C. S. 4635.)

§ 15-166. Exclusion of bystanders in trials for rape.—In the trial of cases for rape and of assault with the intent to commit rape, the trial judge may, during the taking of the testimony of the prosecutrix, exclude from the court-room all persons except the officers of the court, the defendant and those engaged in the trial of the case; and upon the preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace of the offenses above named, that officer may adopt a like course. (1907, c. 21; C. S. 4636.)

§ 15-167. Term expiring during trial extended.—In case the term of a court shall expire while a trial for felony shall be in progress, and before judgment shall be given therein, the judge shall continue the term as long as in his opinion it shall be necessary for the purposes of the case; and he may in his discretion exercise the same power in the trial of any other cause under the same circumstances, except civil actions begun after Thursday of the last week. (Rev., s. 3266; Code, s. 1229; 1893, c. 226; C. C. P., s. 397; R. C., c. 31, s. 16; 1830, c. 22; C. S. 4637.)

§ 15-168. Justification as defense to libel.—Every defendant who is charged by indictment with the publication of a libel may prove on the trial for the same the truth of the facts alleged in the indictment; and if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the jury that the facts are true, the defendant shall be acquitted of the charge. (Rev., s. 3267; Code, s. 1195; R. C., c. 35, s. 26; C. S. 4638.)

§ 15-169. Conviction of assault, when included in charge.—On the trial of any person for rape, or any felony whatsoever, when the crime charged includes an assault against the person, it is lawful for the jury to acquit of the felony and to find a verdict of guilty of assault against the person indicted, if the evidence warrants such finding; and when such verdict is found the court shall have power to imprison the person so found guilty of an assault, for any term now allowed by law in cases of conviction when the indictment was originally for the assault of a like character. (Rev., s. 3268; 1885, c. 68; C. S. 4639.)

§ 15-170. Conviction for a less degree or an attempt.—Upon the trial of any indictment the prisoner may be convicted of the crime charged therein or of a less degree of the same crime, or of an attempt to commit the crime so charged, or of an attempt to commit a less degree of the same crime. (Rev., s. 3269; 1891, c. 205, s. 2; C. S. 4640.)

§ 15-171. Burglary in the first degree charged, verdict for second degree.—When the crime charged in the bill of indictment is burglary in the first degree the jury, upon the finding of facts sufficient to constitute burglary in the first degree as defined by statute, may elect to render a verdict of guilty of burglary in the second degree if they deem it proper so to do. The judge in his charge shall so instruct the jury. (Rev., s. 3270; 1889, c. 434, s. 3; 1941, c. 7, s. 1; C. S. 4641.)

§ 15-172. Verdict for murder in first or second degree.—Nothing contained in the statute law dividing murder into degrees shall be construed to require any alteration or modification of the existing form of indictment for murder, but the jury before whom the offender is tried shall determine in their verdict whether the crime is murder in the first or second degree. (Rev., s. 3271; 1893, c. 85, s. 3; C. S. 4642.)

§ 15-173. Demurrer to the evidence.—When on the trial of any criminal action in the superior court, or in any criminal court, the state has produced its evidence and rested its case, the defendant may move to dismiss the action or for judgment of nonsuit. If the motion is allowed, judgment shall be entered accordingly; and such judgment shall have the force and effect of a verdict of "not guilty" as to such defendant. If the motion is refused, the defendant may except; and if the defendant introduces no evidence, the case shall be submitted to the jury as in other cases, and the defendant shall have the benefit of his exception on appeal to the supreme court.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the defendant from introducing evidence after his motion for nonsuit has been overruled; and he may again move for judgment of nonsuit after all of the evidence in the case is concluded. If the motion is then refused, upon consideration of all of the evidence, the defendant may except; and, after the jury has rendered its verdict, he shall have the benefit of such latter exception on appeal to the supreme court. If defendant's motion for judgment of nonsuit be granted, or be sustained on appeal to the supreme court, it shall in all cases have the force and effect of a verdict of "not guilty." (1913, c. 73; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 32; C. S. 4643.)

§ 15-174. New trial to defendant.—The courts may grant new trials in criminal cases when the defendant is found guilty, under the same rules and regulations as in civil cases. (Rev., s. 3272; Code, s. 1202; R. C., c. 35, s. 35; 1815, c. 895; C. S. 4644.)

§ 15-175. Nol. pros. after two terms; when capias and subpœnas to issue.—A nolle prosequi "with leave" shall be entered in all criminal actions in which the indictment has been pending for two terms of court and the defendant has not been apprehended and in which a nolle prosequi has not been entered, unless the judge for good cause shown shall order otherwise. The clerk of the superior court shall issue a capias for the arrest of any defendant named in any criminal action in which a nolle prosequi has been entered when he has reasonable ground for believing that such defendant may be arrested or upon the application of the solicitor of the district. When any defendant shall be arrested it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue a subpœna for the witnesses for the state indorsed on the indictment. (Rev., s. 3273; 1905, c. 360, ss. 1, 3, 4; C. S. 4645.)

§ 15-176. Prisoner not to be tried in prison uniform.—It shall be unlawful for any sheriff, jailer or other officer to require any person imprisoned in jail to appear in any court for trial dressed in the uniform or dress of a prisoner or convict, or in any uniform or apparel other than ordinary civilian's dress, or with shaven or clipped head. And no person charged with a criminal offense shall be tried in any court while dressed in the uniform or dress of a prisoner or convict, or in any uniform or apparel other than ordinary civilian's dress, or with head shaven or clipped by or under the direction and requirement of any sheriff, jailer or other officer, unless the head was shaven or clipped while such person was serving a term of imprisonment for the commission of a crime.

Any sheriff, jailer or other officer who violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1915, c. 124; C. S. 4646.)

Art. 18. Appeal.

§ 15-177. Appeal from justice, trial de novo.—The accused may appeal from the sentence of the justice to the superior court of the county. On such appeal being prayed, the justice shall recognize both the prosecutor and the accused, and all the material witnesses, to appear at the next term of the court, in such sums as he shall think proper; and he may require the accused to give sureties for his appearance as aforesaid. In all cases of appeal, the trial shall be anew, without prejudice from the former proceedings. (Rev., s. 3274; Code, s. 900; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 11; 1879, c. 92, s. 10; C. S. 4647.)

§ 15-178. Justice to return papers and findings to superior court.—In every case in which an appeal shall be prayed the justice shall forthwith transmit to the clerk of the superior court of the county all papers in the case, together with a copy of the verdict, if any, of his determination of the facts if there shall have been no trial by jury, and of the sentence, in which shall be set forth all the facts found by him, as well as his finding of those which were alleged in the complaint and which were found by him not to be proved. (Rev., s. 3275; Code, s. 901; 1868-9, c. 178, subc. 4, s. 12; C. S. 4648.)

§ 15-179. When state may appeal.—An appeal to the supreme court may be taken by the state in the following cases, and no other. Where judgment has been given for the defendant—

1. Upon a special verdict.
2. Upon a demurrer.
3. Upon a motion to quash.
4. Upon arrest of judgment. (Rev., s. 3276; Code, s. 1237; C. S. 4649.)

§ 15-180. Appeal by defendant to supreme court.—In all cases of conviction in the superior court for any criminal offense, the defendant shall have the right to appeal, on giving adequate security to abide the sentence, judgment or decree of the supreme court; and the appeal shall be perfected and the case for the supreme court settled, as provided in civil actions. (Rev., s. 3277; Code, s. 1234; R. C., c. 4, s. 21; 1818, c. 962, s. 4; C. S. 4650.)

§ 15-181. Defendant may appeal without security for costs.—In all cases of conviction in the superior courts, the defendant shall have the right to appeal without giving security for costs, upon filing an affidavit that he is wholly unable to give security for the costs, and is advised by counsel that he has reasonable cause for the appeal prayed, and that the application is in good faith.

And where it shall appear to the presiding judge that a defendant who has been convicted of a capital felony, or having been tried upon a bill of indictment charging a capital felony, has been convicted of a less offense, and who has prayed an appeal to the supreme court from the sentence of death or other sentence pronounced against him upon such conviction, is unable to defray the cost of perfecting his appeal on account of his poverty, it shall be the duty of the county in which the alleged capital felony was committed, upon the order of such judge, to pay the necessary cost of obtaining a transcript of the proceedings had and the evidence offered on the trial from the court reporter for the use of the defendant and the necessary cost of preparing the requisite copies of the record and briefs which the defendant is required to file in the supreme court under the rules of said court.

The judge may fix the reasonable value of the services rendered in furnishing such transcript and preparing such copies of the record and briefs, and said copies of the record and briefs shall be prepared in the manner prescribed by the rules of the supreme court in pauper appeals. Provided, that this paragraph shall apply only to those cases in which counsel has been assigned by the court. (Rev., s. 3278; Code, s. 1235; 1869-70, c. 196, s. 1; 1933, c. 197; 1937, c. 330; C. S. 4651.)

§ 15-182. Appeal granted; bail for appearance.—The affidavit required in the preceding section may be filed at any time during the term or within ten days from the adjournment of the term either with the Judge or the clerk, and it shall be the duty of the Judge or the Clerk on filing the affidavit to grant the appeal without security for costs, and for any bailable offense the Judge shall require the defendant to enter into recognizance in a reasonable sum to make his appearance at the first term of the Superior Court to be held in the county and to further answer the charge preferred. (Rev., s. 3279; Code, s. 1236; 1869-70, c. 196, s. 2; 1929, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 4652.)

§ 15-183. Bail pending appeal.—When any person convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced by the court, shall appeal, the court shall allow such person to give bail pending appeal. (Rev., s. 3280; Code, s. 1181; R. C., c. 35, s. 12; 1850-1, c. 2; C. S. 4653.)

§ 15-184. Appeal not to vacate judgment; stay of execution.—In criminal cases an appeal to the supreme court shall not have the effect of vacating the judgment appealed from, but upon perfecting the appeal as now required by law, either by giving bond or in forma pauperis, there shall be a stay of execution during the pendency of the appeal. The clerk of the superior court shall, as soon as may be after execution is stayed, as provided in this section, notify the attorney-general thereof. Said notice shall give the name of defendant, the crime of which he was convicted, and, if the statutory time for perfecting the appeal has been extended by agreement, the time of such extension. If for any reason the defendant should wish to withdraw his appeal before the same is docketed in the supreme court, he may go, or be taken, before the clerk of the superior court in which he was convicted, and said clerk shall enter such withdrawal upon the record of the case, and notify the sheriff, who shall proceed forthwith to execute the sentence. (Rev., s. 3281; 1887, c. 191, s. 1; 1887, c. 192, s. 4; 1919, c. 5; C. S. 4654.)

§ 15-185. Judgment for fines docketed; lien and execution.—When the sentence in whole or in part directs the payment of a fine, the judgment shall be docketed by the clerk and be a lien on the real estate of the defendant in the same manner as judgments in civil actions, and executions thereon shall only be stayed, upon an appeal taken, by security being given in like manner as is required in civil cases. Should the judgment be affirmed upon appeal to the supreme court, the clerk of the superior court, on receipt of the certificate from the supreme court, shall issue execution on such judgment. (Rev., s. 3282; 1887, c. 191, s. 3; C. S. 4655.)

§ 15-186. Procedure upon receipt of certificate of supreme court.—The clerk of the superior court, in all cases where the judgment has been affirmed (except where the conviction is a capital felony), shall forthwith on receipt of the certificate of the opinion of the supreme court notify the sheriff, who shall proceed to execute the sentence which was appealed from. In criminal cases where the judgment is not affirmed the cases shall be placed upon the docket for trial at the first ensuing term of the court after the receipt of such certificate. (Rev., s. 3283; 1887, c. 192, s. 3; C. S. 4656.)

Art. 19. Execution.

§ 15-187. Death by administration of lethal gas.—Death by electrocution under sentence of law is hereby abolished and death by the administration of lethal gas substituted therefor. (1909, c. 443, s. 1; 1935, c. 294, s. 1; C. S. 4657.)

§ 15-188. Manner and place of execution.—The mode of executing a death sentence must in every case be by causing the convict or felon to inhale lethal gas of sufficient quantity to cause death, and the administration of such lethal gas must be continued until such convict or felon is dead; and when any person, convict or felon shall be sentenced by any court of the state having competent jurisdiction to be so executed, such punishment shall only be inflicted within a permanent death chamber which the superintendent of the state penitentiary is hereby authorized and directed to provide within the walls of the North Carolina penitentiary at Raleigh, North Carolina. The superintendent of the state penitentiary shall also cause to be provided, in conformity with this article and approved by the governor and council of state, the necessary appliances for the infliction of the punishment of death in accordance with the requirements of this article. 1909, c. 443, s. 2; 1935, c. 294, s. 2; C. S. 4658.)

§ 15-189. Sentence of death; prisoner taken to penitentiary.—Upon the sentence of death being pronounced against any person in the state of North Carolina convicted of a crime punishable by death it shall be the duty of the judge pronouncing such death sentence to make the same in writing, which shall be filed in the papers in the case against such convicted person, and a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted by the clerk of the superior court in which such sentence is pronounced to the warden of the state penitentiary at Raleigh, North Carolina, not more than twenty nor less than ten days before the time fixed in the judgment of the court for the execution of the sentence; and in all cases where there is no appeal from the sentence of death and in all cases where the sentence is pronounced against a prisoner convicted of the crime of rape it shall be the duty of the sheriff, together with at least one deputy, to convey to the penitentiary at Raleigh such condemned felon or convict forthwith upon the adjournment of the court in which the felon was tried, and deliver the convict or felon to the warden of the penitentiary: Provided, that in all cases where an appeal is taken from the death sentence by any person convicted of a crime punishable by death, except the crime of rape, such convicted felon or convict shall not be taken or conveyed to the penitentiary unless, in the judgment of the sheriff of the county in which the felon was tried and the solicitor prosecuting the felon, it shall be deemed necessary for the safety and safekeeping of the convicted person or felon during the pendency of the appeal. (1909, c. 443, s. 3; C. S. 4659.)

§ 15-190. A guard or guards or other person to be named and designated by the warden to execute sentence.—Some guard or guards or other reliable person or persons to be named and designated by the warden from time to time shall cause the person, convict or felon against whom the death sentence has been so pronounced to be asphyxiated as provided by this article and all amendments thereto. The asphyxiation shall be under the general supervision and contol of the warden of the penitentiary, who shall from time to time, in writing, name and designate the guard or guards or other reliable person or persons who shall cause the person, convict or felon against whom the death sentence has been pronounced to be asphyxiated as provided by this article and all amendments thereto. At such execution there shall be present the warden or deputy warden or some person designated by the warden in his stead; the surgeon or physician of the penitentiary and six respectable citizens, the counsel and any relatives of such person, convict or felon and a minister or ministers of the gospel may be present if they so desire, and the board of directors of the penitentiary may provide for and pay the fee for each execution not to exceed thirty-five dollars ($35.00). (1909, c. 443, s. 4; 1925, c. 123; 1935, c. 294, s. 3; C. S. 4660.)

§ 15-191. Pending sentences unaffected.—Nothing in §§ 15-187, 15-188, and 15-190 shall be construed to alter in any manner the execution of the sentence of death imposed on account of any crime or crimes committed before July 1, 1935. (1935, c. 294, s. 4.)

§ 15-192. Certificate filed with clerk. — The warden, together with the surgeon or physician of the penitentiary, shall certify the fact of the execution of the condemned person, convict or felon to the clerk of the superior court in which such sentence was pronounced, and the clerk shall file such certificate with the papers of the case and enter the same upon the records thereof. (1909, c. 443, s. 5; C. S. 4661.)

§ 15-193. Notice of reprieve or new trial.—Should the condemned person, convict or felon be granted a reprieve by the governor or obtain a writ of error, or a new trial be granted by the supreme court of the state of North Carolina, or should the execution of the sentence be stayed by any competent judicial tribunal or proceeding, notice of such reprieve, new trial, appeal, writ of error or stay of execution shall be served upon the warden or deputy warden of the penitentiary by the sheriff of Wake County, in case such condemned person is confined in the penitentiary, or upon any sheriff having the custody of any such condemned person, also upon the condemned person himself. (1909, c. 443, s. 6; C. S. 4662.)

§ 15-194. Judgment sustained on appeal, reprieve, time for execution.—In case of an appeal, should the Supreme Court find no error in the trial, or should the stay of execution granted by any competent judicial tribunal or proceeding, or reprieve by the Governor, have expired or terminated, such condemned person, convict or felon shall be executed, in the manner heretofore provided in this article, upon the third Friday after the filing of the opinion or order of the Supreme Court or other competent judicial tribunal as aforesaid, or, in case of a reprieve by the Governor, such condemned person, convict or felon shall be executed in the manner heretofore provided in this article upon the third Friday after the expiration or termination of such reprieve; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the Supreme Court, and of any other competent tribunal, as aforesaid, or the clerk thereof, to notify the warden of the penitentiary of the date of the filing of the opinion or order of such court or other judicial tribunal, and in case of a reprieve by the Governor, it shall be the duty of the Governor to give notice to the warden of the State Penitentiary of the date of the expiration of such reprieve. (1909, c. 443, s. 6; 1925, c. 55; C. S. 4663.)

§ 15-195. New trial granted, prisoner taken to place of trial.—Should a new trial be granted the condemned person, convict or felon against whom sentence of death has been pronounced, after he has been conveyed to the penitentiary, he shall be conveyed back to the place of trial by such guard or guards as the warden of the penitentiary shall direct, their expenses to be paid as is now provided by law for the conveyance of convicts to the penitentiary. (1909, c. 443, s. 7; C. S. 4664.)

§ 15-196. Disposition of body.—Upon application, written or verbal, of any relative as near as the degree of fourth cousin of the person executed, made at any time prior to the execution or on the morning thereof, the body, after execution, shall be prepared for burial under the supervision of the warden or deputy warden and shall be returned to the nearest railroad station of the relative or relatives asking for such body. In the event that no relative asks for the body of such executed person, convict or felon, the same shall be disposed of as other bodies of convicts dying in the penitentiary. (1909, c. 443, s. 9; 1925, c. 275, s. 6; C. S. 4665.)

Art. 20. Suspension of Sentence and Probation.

§ 15-197. Suspension of sentence and probation.—After conviction or plea of guilty or nolo contendere for any offense, except a crime punishable by death or life imprisonment, the judge of any court of record with criminal jurisdiction may suspend the imposition or the execution of a sentence and place the defendant on probation or may impose a fine and also place the defendant on probation. (1937, c. 132, s. 1.)

§ 15-198. Investigation by probation officer.—When directed by the court the probation officer shall fully investigate and report to the court in writing the circumstances of the offense and the criminal record, social history, and present condition of the defendant, including, whenever practicable, the findings of a physical and mental examination of the defendant. When the services of a probation officer are available to the court, no defendant charged with a felony, and, unless the court shall direct otherwise in individual cases, no other defendant shall be placed on probation or released under suspension of sentence until the report of such investigation shall have been presented to and considered by the court. (1937, c. 132, s. 2.)

§ 15-199. Conditions of probation.—The court shall determine and may impose, by order duly entered, and may at any time modify the conditions of probation and may include among them the following, or any other: That the probationer shall:

(a) Avoid injurious or vicious habits;

(b) Avoid persons or places of disreputable or harmful character;

(c) Report to the probation officer as directed;

(d) Permit the probation officer to visit at his home or elsewhere;

(e) Work faithfully at suitable employment as far as possible;

(f) Remain within a specified area;

(g) Pay a fine in one or several sums as directed by the court;

(h) Make reparation or restitution to the aggrieved party for the damage or loss caused by his offense, in an amount to be determined by the court;

(i) Support his dependents. (1937, c. 132, s. 3.)

§ 15-200. Termination of probation, arrest, subsequent disposition.—The period of probation or suspension of sentence shall not exceed a period of five years and shall be determined by the judge of the court and may be continued or extended, terminated or suspended by the court at any time, within the above limit. Upon the satisfactory fulfillment of the conditions of probation or suspension of sentence the court shall by order duly entered discharge the defendant. At any time during the period of probation or suspension of sentence, the court may issue a warrant and cause the defendant to be arrested for violating any of the conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. Any police officer, or other officer with power of arrest, upon the request of the probation officer, may arrest a probationer without a warrant. In case of an arrest without a warrant the arresting officer shall have a written statement signed by said probation officer setting forth that the probationer has, in his judgment, violated the conditions of probation; and said statement shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of said probationer in the county jail, or other appropriate place of detention, until said probationer shall be brought before the judge of the court. Such probation officer shall forthwith report such arrest and detention to the judge of the court, or in superior court cases to the judge holding the courts of the district, or the resident judge, or any judge commissioned at the time to hold court in said district, and submit in writing a report showing in what manner the probationer has violated probation. Upon such arrest, with or without warrant, the court shall cause the defendant to be brought before it in or out of term and may revoke the probation or suspension of sentence, and shall proceed to deal with the case as if there had been no probation or suspension of sentence. (1937, c. 132, s. 4; 1939, c. 373.)

§ 15-201. Establishment and organization of a state probation commission.—There is hereby established a state probation commission to be composed of five members, who shall be appointed by the governor and shall serve without a salary as members of such commission, but shall receive their actual traveling expenses while in the performance of their official duties. The first appointments shall be made within thirty days after March 13, 1937, and shall be made in such manner that the term of one member of the state probation commission shall expire each year. Their successors shall be appointed by the governor within thirty days thereafter for terms of five years each. All vacancies occurring among the members shall be filled as soon as practicable thereafter by the governor for the unexpired terms. This commission shall be deemed a "commission for special purpose" within the meaning of the language of section seven of Article XIV of the Constitution, and the membership thereof may be composed of persons holding other official positions in the state, if the governor shall so elect.

The state probation commission shall organize immediately after the appointment of the first members thereof, and elect a chairman from its members. Thereafter a chairman shall be elected annually between January fifteenth and January thirtieth of each year. (1937, c. 132, s. 5.)

§ 15-202. Duties and powers of the commission; meetings; appointment of director of probation; qualifications.—With respect to the administration of probation in the state, except cases within the jurisdiction of the juvenile courts, the state probation commission shall exercise general supervision; formulate policies; adopt general rules, not inconsistent with law, to regulate methods of procedure; and set standards for personnel. It shall meet at stated times to be fixed by it not less often than once every three months, and on call of its chairman, to consider any matters relating to probation in the state.

The state probation commission, with the approval of the governor, shall appoint a director of probation, who shall serve as its executive secretary, and shall receive a salary of not less than three thousand six hundred ($3,600.00) dollars nor more than four thousand five hundred ($4,500.00) dollars per annum and who shall give his entire time to the work. When the necessity of the service requires, it shall appoint one or more assistants and fix their salaries.

The person appointed as director of probation shall be qualified by education, training, experience and temperament for the duties of the office. (1937, c. 132, s. 6.)

§ 15-203. Duties of the director of probation; appointment of probation officers; reports.—The director of probation shall appoint, subject to the approval of the state probation commission, such probation officers as are required for service in the state and such clerical assistance as may be necessary: Provided, that before any persons other than the director of probation shall be appointed, the state probation commission shall make up and submit to the governor a budget covering its proposed organization and expenditures, and no fund shall be available to carry out the purpose of this article except to the extent that said budget is approved first by the state highway and public works commission, and then by the director of the budget.

The director of probation shall direct the work of the probation officers appointed under this article. He shall consult and coöperate with the courts and institutions in the development of methods and procedure in the administration of probation, and shall arrange conferences of probation officers and judges. He shall make an annual written report with statistical and other information to the probation commission and the governor. (1937, c. 132, s. 7.)

§ 15-204. Assignment and compensation and oath of probation officers.—Probation officers appointed under this article shall be assigned to serve in such courts or districts or otherwise as the director of probation may determine. They shall be paid annual salaries to be fixed by the probation commission, and shall also be paid traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties as probation officers when such expense accounts have been authorized and approved by the director of probation.

Each person appointed as a probation officer shall take an oath of office before the judge of the court or courts in which he is to serve, which oath shall be as follows:

"I, ..., do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; so help me God," and shall be noted of record by the clerk of the court. (1937, c. 132, s. 8.)

§ 15-205. Duties and powers of the probation officers.—A probation officer shall investigate all cases referred to him for investigation by the judges of the courts or by the director of probation, and shall report in writing thereon. He shall furnish to each person released on probation under his supervision a written statement of the conditions of probation and shall instruct him regarding the same. Such officer shall keep informed concerning the conduct and condition of each person on probation under his supervision by visiting, requiring reports, and in other ways, and shall report thereon in writing as often as the court or the director of probation may require. Such officer shall use all practicable and suitable methods, not inconsistent with the conditions imposed by the court, or the director of probation, to aid and encourage persons on probation to bring about improvement in their conduct and condition. Such officer shall keep detailed records of his work; shall make such reports in writing to the director of probation as he may require; and shall perform such other duties as the director of probation may require. A probation officer shall have, in the execution of his duties, the powers of arrest and, to the extent necessary for the performance of his duties, the same right to execute process as is now given, or that may hereafter be given by law, to the sheriffs of this state. (1937, c. 132, s. 9.)

§ 15-206. Co-operation with commissioner of parole and officials of local units.—It shall be the duty of the director of probation and the commissioner of parole to co-operate with each other to the end that the purposes of probation and parole may be more effectively carried out. When requested, each shall make available to the other case records in his possession, and in cases of emergency, where time and expense can be saved, shall provide investigation service.

It is hereby made the duty of every city, county, or state official or department to render all assistance and co-operation within his or its fundamental power which may further the objects of this article. The state probation commission, the director of probation, and the probation officers are authorized to seek the co-operation of such officials and departments, and especially of the county superintendents of public welfare and of the state board of charities and public welfare. (1937, c. 132, s. 10.)

§ 15-207. Records treated as privileged information.—All information and data obtained in the discharge of official duty by any probation officer shall be privileged information, shall not be receivable as evidence in any court, and shall not be disclosed directly or indirectly to any other than the judge or to others entitled under this article to receive reports, unless and until otherwise ordered by a judge of the court or the director of probation. (1937, c. 132, s. 11.)

§ 15-208. Payment of salaries and expenses.—All salaries and expenses necessary for carrying out the provisions of this article shall be fixed in accordance with the Executive Budget Act and the Personnel Act, and shall be paid by the state highway and public works commission out of the state highway funds, under direction of the director of the budget. (1937, c. 132, s. 12.)

§ 15-209. Accommodations for probation officers.—The county commissioners in each county in which a probation officer serves shall provide, in or near the courthouse, suitable office space for such officer. (1937, c. 132, s. 13.)

Chapter 16. Gaming Contracts and Futures.

Art. 1. Gaming Contracts.

Sec.
16-1. Gaming and betting contracts void.
16-2. Players and betters competent witnesses.

Art. 2. Contracts for "Futures."

16-3. Certain contracts as to "futures" void.
16-4. Entering into or aiding contract for "futures" misdemeanor.
16-5. Opening office for sales of "futures" misdemeanor.
16-6. Evidence in prosecutions under this article.

Art. 1. Gaming Contracts.

§ 16-1. Gaming and betting contracts void.—All wagers, bets or stakes made to depend upon any race, or upon any gaming by lot or chance, or upon any lot, chance, casualty or unknown or contingent event whatever, shall be unlawful; and all contracts, judgments, conveyances and assurances for and on account of any money or property, or thing in action, so wagered, bet or staked, or to repay, or to secure any money, or property, or thing in action, lent or advanced for the purpose of such wagering, betting, or staking as aforesaid, shall be void. (Rev., s. 1687; Code, ss. 2841, 2842; R. C., c. 51, ss. 1, 2; 1810, c. 796; C. S. 2142.)

§ 16-2. Players and betters competent witnesses. — No person shall be excused or incapacitated from confessing or testifying touching any money or property, or thing in action, so wagered, bet or staked, or lent for such purpose, by reason of his having won, played, bet or staked upon any game, lot or chance, casualty, or unknown or contingent event aforesaid; but the confession or testimony of such person shall not be used against him, in any criminal prosecution, on account of such betting, wagering or staking. (Rev., s. 1688; Code, s. 2843; R. C., c. 51, s. 3; C. S. 2143.)

Art. 2. Contracts for "Futures."

§ 16-3. Certain contracts as to "futures" void. — Every contract, whether in writing or not, whereby any person shall agree to sell and deliver any cotton, indian corn, wheat, rye, oats, tobacco, meal, lard, bacon, salt pork, salt fish, beef, cattle, sugar, coffee, stocks, bonds, and choses in action, at a place and at a time specified and agreed upon therein, to any other person, whether the person to whom such article is so agreed to be sold and delivered shall be a party to such contract or not, when, in fact, and notwithstanding the terms expressed of such contract, it is not intended by the parties thereto that the articles or things so agreed to be sold and delivered shall be actually delivered, or the value thereof paid, but it is intended and understood by them that money or other thing of value shall be paid to the one party by the other, or to a third party, the party to whom such payment of money or other thing of value shall be made to depend, and the amount of such money or other thing of value so to be paid to depend upon whether the market price or value of the article so agreed to be sold and delivered is greater or less at the time and place so specified than the price stipulated to be paid and received for the articles so to be sold and delivered, and every contract commonly called "futures" as to the several articles and things hereinbefore specified, or any of them, by whatever other name called, and every contract as to the said several articles and things, or any of them, whereby the parties thereto contemplate and intend no real transaction as to the article or thing agreed to be delivered, but only the payment of a sum of money or other thing of value, such payment and the amount thereof and the person to whom the same is to be paid to depend on whether or not the market price or value is greater or less than the price so agreed to be paid for the said article or thing at the time and place specified in such contract, shall be utterly null and void; and no action shall be maintained in any court to enforce any such contract, whether the same was made in or out of the state, or partly in and partly out of this state, and whether made by the parties thereto by themselves or by or through their agents, immediately or mediately; nor shall any party to any such contract, or any agent of any such party, directly or remotely connected with any such contract in any way whatever, have or maintain any action or cause of action on account of any money or other thing of value paid or advanced or hypothecated by him or them in connection with or on account of such contract and agency; nor shall the courts of this state have any jurisdiction to entertain any suit or action brought upon a judgment based upon any such contract. This section shall not be construed so as to apply to any person, firm or corporation, or his or their agents, engaged in the business of manufacturing or wholesale merchandising in the purchase and/or sale of the necessary commodities required in the ordinary course of their business; nor shall this section be construed so as to apply to any contract with respect to the purchase and/or sale for future delivery of any of the articles or things mentioned and referred to in this section, where such purchase and/or sale is made on any exchange on which any such article or things are regularly bought and sold, or contracts therefor regularly entered into, and the rules and regulations of such exchange are such that either party to such contract may require delivery thereof: Provided, such contract is made in accordance with such rules and regulations. (Rev., s. 1689; 1889, c. 221, s. 1; 1905, c. 538, s. 7; 1909, c. 853, s. 1; 1931, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2144.)

§ 16-4. Entering into or aiding contract for "futures" misdemeanor.—If any person shall become a party to any contract declared void in this article; or if any person shall be the agent, directly or indirectly, of any party in making or furthering or effectuating the same; or if any agent or officer of a corporation shall in any manner knowingly aid in making or furthering any such contract to which the corporation is a party, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

If any person shall, while in this state, consent to become a party to any such contract made in another state, and if any person shall, as agent of any person or corporation, become a party to any such contract made in another state, or in this state do any act or in any way aid in the making or furthering of any such contract so made in another state, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., ss. 3823, 3824; 1889, c. 221, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 2147.)

§ 16-5. Opening office for sales of "futures" misdemeanor.—If any person, corporation or other association of persons, either as principal or agent, shall establish or open an office or place of business in this state for the purpose of carrying on or engaging in making such contracts as are forbidden in this article, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction be fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3825; 1905, c. 538, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2148.)

§ 16-6. Evidence in prosecutions under this article.—No person shall be excused on any prosecution under the provisions of this article from testifying touching anything done by himself or others contrary to the provisions thereof, but no discovery made by the witness upon such examination shall be used against him in any penal or criminal prosecution, and he shall be altogether pardoned of the offense so done or participated in by him. In all such prosecutions proof that the defendant was a party to a contract, as agent or principal, to sell and deliver any article, thing or property specified or named in this article, or that he was the agent, directly or indirectly, of any party in making, furthering or effectuating the same, or that he was the agent or officer of any corporation or association or person in making, furthering or effectuating the same, and that the article, thing or property agreed to be sold and delivered was not actually delivered, and that settlement was made or agreed to be made upon the difference in value of said article, thing or property, shall constitute against such defendant prima facie evidence of guilt. Proof that any person, corporation or other association of persons, either as principal or agent, has established an office or place where are posted or published from information received the fluctuating prices of grain, cotton, provisions, stocks, bonds and other commodities, or of any one or more of the same, shall constitute prima facie evidence of being guilty of violating the provisions of this article. (Rev., s. 3826; 1905, ss. 3, 4, 5; C. S. 2149.)

§ 17-3. Who may prosecute writ.—Every person imprisoned or restrained of his liberty within this state, for any criminal or supposed criminal matter, or on any pretense whatsoever, except in cases specified in § 17-4, may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus, according to the provisions of this chapter, to inquire into the cause of such imprisonment or restraint, and, if illegal, to be delivered therefrom. (Rev., s. 1821; Code, s. 1623; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 1; C. S. 2205.)

§ 17-4. When application denied.—Application to prosecute the writ shall be denied in the following cases:

1. Where the persons are committed or detained by virtue of process issued by a court of the United States, or a judge thereof, in cases where such courts or judges have exclusive jurisdiction under the laws of the United States, or have acquired exclusive jurisdiction by the commencement of suits in such courts.

2. Where persons are committed or detained by virtue of the final order, judgment or decree of a competent tribunal of civil or criminal jurisdiction, or by virtue of an execution issued upon such final order, judgment or decree.

3. Where any person has willfully neglected, for the space of two whole terms after his imprisonment, to apply for the writ to the superior court of the county in which he may be imprisoned, such person shall not have a habeas corpus in vacation time for his enlargement.

4. Where no probable ground for relief is shown in the application. (Rev., s. 1822; Code, s. 1624; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 2; C. S. 2206.)

§ 17-5. By whom application is made.—Application for the writ may be made either by the party for whose relief it is intended or by any person in his behalf. (Rev., s. 1823; Code, s. 1625; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 3; C. S. 2207.)

§ 17-6. To judge of supreme or superior court; in writing.—Application for the writ shall be made in writing, signed by the applicant—

1. To any one of the justices of the supreme court.

2. To any one of the superior court judges, either at term time or in vacation. (Rev., s. 1824; Code, s. 1626; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 4; C. S. 2208.)

§ 17-7. Contents of application.—The application must state, in substance, as follows:

1. That the party, in whose behalf the writ is applied for, is imprisoned or restrained of his liberty, the place where, and the officer or person by whom he is imprisoned or restrained, naming both parties, if their names are known, or describing them if they are not known.

2. The cause or pretense of such imprisonment or restraint, according to the knowledge or belief of the applicant.

3. If the imprisonment is by virtue of any warrant or other process, a copy thereof shall be annexed, or it shall be made to appear that a copy thereof has been demanded and refused, or that for some sufficient reason a demand for such copy could not be made.

4. If the imprisonment or restraint is alleged to be illegal, the application must state in what the alleged illegality consists; and that the legality of the imprisonment or restraint has not been already adjudged, upon a prior writ of habeas corpus, to the knowledge or belief of the applicant.

5. The facts set forth in the application must be verified by the oath of the applicant, or by that of some other credible witness, which oath may be administered by any person authorized by law to take affidavits. (Rev., s. 1825; Code, s. 1627; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 5; C. S. 2209.)

§ 17-8. Issuance of writ without application.—When the supreme or superior court, or any judge of either, has evidence from any judicial proceeding before such court or judge that any person within this state is illegally imprisoned or restrained of his liberty, it is the duty of said court or judge to issue a writ of habeas corpus for his relief, although no application be made for such writ. (Rev., s. 1826; Code, s. 1632; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 10; C. S. 2210.)

Art. 3. Writ.

§ 17-9. Writ granted without delay.—Any court or judge empowered to grant the writ, to whom such applications may be presented, shall grant the writ without delay, unless it appear from the application itself or from the documents annexed that the person applying or for whose benefit it is intended is, by this chapter, prohibited from prosecuting the writ. (Rev., s. 1827; Code, s. 1628; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 6; C. S. 2211.)

§ 17-10. Penalty for refusal to grant.—If any judge authorized by this chapter to grant writs of habeas corpus refuses to grant such writ when legally applied for, every such judge shall forfeit to the party aggrieved two thousand five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1828; Code, s. 1631; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 9; C. S. 2212.)

§ 17-11. Sufficiency of writ; defects of form immaterial.—No writ of habeas corpus shall be disobeyed on account of any defect of form. It shall be sufficient—

1. If the person having the custody of the party imprisoned or restrained be designated either by his name of office, if he have any, or by his own name, or, if both such names be unknown or uncertain, he may be described by an assumed appellation, and any one who may be served with the writ shall be deemed the person to whom it is directed, although it may be directed to him by a wrong name, or description, or to another person.

2. If the person who is directed to be produced be designated by name, or if his name be uncertain or unknown, he may be described by an assumed appellation or in any other way, so as to designate the person intended. (Rev., s. 1829; Code, ss. 1629, 1630; 1868-9, c. 116, ss. 7, 8; C. S. 2213.)

§ 17-12. Service of writ.—The writ of habeas corpus may be served by any qualified elector of this state thereto authorized by the court or judge allowing the same. It may be served by delivering the writ, or a copy thereof, to the person to whom it is directed; or, if such person cannot be found, by leaving it, or a copy, at the jail, or other place in which the party for whose relief it is intended is confined, with some under officer or other person of proper age; or, if none such can be found, or if the person attempting to serve the writ be refused admittance, by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place on the outside, either of the dwelling-house of the party to whom the writ is directed or of the place where the party is confined for whose relief it is sued out. (Rev., s. 1833; Code, s. 1657; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 32; C. S. 2214.)

Art. 4. Return.

§ 17-13. When writ returnable. — Writs of habeas corpus may be made returnable at a certain time, or forthwith, as the case may require. If the writ be returnable at a certain time, such return shall be made and the party shall be produced at the time and place specified therein.

(Rev., s. 1830; Code, s. 1656; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 31; C. S. 2215.)

§ 17-14. Contents of return; verification.—The person or officer on whom the writ is served must make a return thereto in writing, and, except where such person is a sworn public officer and makes his return in his official capacity, it must be verified by his oath. The return must state plainly and unequivocally—

1. Whether he has or has not the party in his custody or under his power or restraint.

2. If he has the party in his custody or power, or under his restraint, the authority and the cause of such imprisonment or restraint, setting forth the same at large.

3. If the party is detained by virtue of any writ, warrant, or other written authority, a copy thereof shall be annexed to the return; and the original shall be produced and exhibited on the return of the writ to the court or judge before whom the same is returnable.

4. If the person or officer upon whom such writ is served has had the party in his power or custody, or under his restraint, at any time prior or subsequent to the date of the writ, but has transferred such custody or restraint to another, the return shall state particularly to whom, at what time, for what cause and by what authority such transfer took place. (Rev., s. 1831; Code, s. 1633; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 11; C. S. 2216.)

§ 17-15. Production of body if required.—If the writ requires it, the officer or person on whom the same has been served shall also produce the body of the party in his custody or power, according to the command of the writ, except in the case of the sickness of such party, as hereinafter provided. (Rev., s. 1832; Code, s. 1636; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 14; C. S. 2217.)

Art. 5. Enforcement of Writ.

§ 17-16. Attachment for failure to obey.—If the person or officer on whom any writ of habeas corpus has been duly served refuses or neglects to obey the same, by producing the body of the party named or described therein, and by making a full and explicit return thereto, within the time required, and no sufficient excuse is shown for such refusal or neglect, it is the duty of the court or judge before whom the writ has been made returnable, upon due proof of the service thereof, forthwith to issue an attachment against such person or officer, directed to the sheriff of any county within this state, and commanding him forthwith to apprehend such person or officer and bring him immediately before such court or judge. On being so brought such person or officer shall be committed to close custody in the jail of the county where such court or judge may be, without being allowed the liberties thereof, until such person or officer make return to such writ and comply with any order that may be made by such court or judge in relation to the party for whose relief the writ has been issued. (Rev., s. 1834; Code, s. 1637; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 15; C. S. 2218.)

§ 17-17. Liability of judge refusing attachment.—If any judge willfully refuses to grant the writ of attachment, as provided for in § 17-16, he shall be liable to impeachment, and moreover shall forfeit to the party aggrieved twenty-five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1835; Code, s. 1638; 1870-1, c. 221, s. 2; C. S. 2219.)

§ 17-18. Attachment against sheriff to be directed to coroner; procedure.— If a sheriff has neglected to return the writ agreeably to the command thereof, the attachment against him may be directed to the coroner or to any other person to be designated therein, who shall have power to execute the same, and such sheriff, upon being brought up, may be committed to the jail of any county other than his own. (Rev., s. 1836; Code, s. 1639; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 16; C. S. 2220.)

§ 17-19. Precept to bring up party detained.—The court or judge by whom any such attachment may be issued may also at the same time, or afterwards, direct a precept to any sheriff, coroner, or other person to be designated therein, commanding him to bring forthwith before such court or judge the party, wherever to be found, for whose benefit the writ of habeas corpus has been granted. (Rev., s. 1837, Code, s. 1640; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 17; C. S. 2221.)

§ 17-20. Liability of judge refusing precept.—If any judge refuses to grant the precept provided for in § 17-19, he shall be liable to impeachment, and moreover shall forfeit to the party aggrieved twenty-five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1838; Code s. 1641; 1870-1, c. 221, s. 3; C. S. 2222.)

§ 17-21. Liability of judge conniving at insufficient return.—If any judge grants the attachment, or the precept, and gives the officer or other person charged with the execution of the same verbal or written instructions not to execute the same, or to make any evasive or insufficient return, or any return other than that provided by law; or shall connive at the failing to make any return or any evasive or insufficient return, or any return other than that provided by law, he shall be liable to impeachment, and moreover shall forfeit to the party aggrieved twenty-five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1839; Code, s. 1642; 1870-1, c. 221, s. 4; C. S. 2223.)

§ 17-22. Power of county to aid service.—In the execution of any such attachment, precept or writ, the sheriff, coroner, or other person to whom it may be directed, may call to his aid the power of the county, as in other cases. (Rev., s. 1840; Code, s. 1643; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 18; C. S. 2224.)

§ 17-23. Obedience to order of discharge compelled.—Obedience to a judgment or order for the discharge of a prisoner or person restrained of his liberty, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, may be enforced by the court or judge by attachment in the same manner and with the same effect as for a neglect to make return to a writ of habeas corpus; and the person found guilty of such disobedience shall forfeit to the party aggrieved two thousand five hundred dollars, besides any special damages which such party may have sustained. (Rev., s. 1841; Code, s. 1649; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 24; C. S. 2225.)

§ 17-24. No civil liability for obedience.—No officer or other person shall be liable to any civil action for obeying a judgment or order of discharge upon writ of habeas corpus. (Rev., s. 1842; Code, s. 1650; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 25; C. S. 2226.)

§ 17-25. Recommittal after discharge; penalty.—If any person shall knowingly again imprison or detain one who has been set at large upon any writ of habeas corpus, for the same cause, other than by the legal process or order of the court wherein he is bound by recognizance to appear, or of any other court having jurisdiction in the case, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3581; Code, s. 1651; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 26; C. S. 2227.)

§ 17-26. Disobedience to writ or refusing copy of process; penalty.—If any person to whom a writ of habeas corpus is directed shall neglect or refuse to make due return thereto, or to bring the body of the party detained according to the command of the writ without delay, or shall not, within six hours after demand made therefor, deliver a copy of the commitment or cause of detainer, such person shall, upon conviction on indictment, be fined one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding twelve months, and if such person be an officer, shall moreover be removed from office. (Rev., s. 3597; Code, s. 1652; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 27; C. S. 2228.)

§ 17-27. Penalty for false return.—If any person shall make a false return to a writ of habeas corpus, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3582; Code, s. 1653; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 28; C. S. 2229.)

§ 17-28. Penalty for concealing party entitled to writ.—If any one having in his custody, or under his power, any party who, by law, would be entitled to a writ of habeas corpus, or for whose relief such writ shall have been issued, shall, with intent to elude the service of such writ, or to avoid the effect thereof, transfer the party to the custody, or put him under the power or control, of another, or shall conceal or change the place of his confinement, or shall knowingly aid or abet another in so doing, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3583; Code, ss. 1654, 1655; 1868-9, c. 116, ss. 29, 30; C. S. 2230.)

Art. 6. Proceedings and Judgment.

§ 17-29. Notice to interested parties.—When it appears from the return to the writ that the party named therein is in custody on any process, or by reason of any claim of right, under which any other person has an interest in continuing his imprisonment or restraint, no order shall be made for his discharge until it appears that the person so interested, or his attorney, if he have one, has had reasonable notice of the time and place at which such writ is returnable. (Rev., s. 1843; Code, s. 1634; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 12; 1870-1, c. 221, s. 1; C. S. 2231.)

§ 17-30. Notice to solicitor.—When it appears from the return that such party is detained upon any criminal accusation, the court or judge may, if he thinks proper, make no order for the discharge of such party until sufficient notice of the time and place at which the writ has been returned, or is made returnable, is given to the solicitor of the district in which the person prosecuting the writ is detained. (Rev., s. 1844; Code, s. 1635; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 13; C. S. 2232.)

§ 17-31. Subpœnas to witnesses.—Any party to a proceeding on a writ of habeas corpus may procure the attendance of witnesses at the hearing, by subpœna, to be issued by the clerk of any superior court, under the same rules, regulations and penalties prescribed by law in other cases. (Rev., s. 1845; Code, s. 1659; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 34; C. S. 2233.)

§ 17-32. Proceedings on return; facts examined; summary hearing of issues.—The court or judge before whom the party is brought on a writ of habeas corpus shall, immediately after the return thereof, examine into the facts contained in such return, and into the cause of the confinement or restraint of such party, whether the same has been upon commitment for any criminal or supposed criminal matter or not; and if issue be taken upon the material facts in the return, or other facts are alleged to show that the imprisonment or detention is illegal, or that the party imprisoned is entitled to his discharge, the court or judge shall proceed, in a summary way, to hear the allegations and proofs on both sides, and to do what to justice appertains in delivering, bailing or remanding such party. (Rev., s. 1846; Code, s. 1644; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 19; C. S. 2234.)

§ 17-33. When party discharged.—If no legal cause is shown for such imprisonment or restraint, or for the continuance thereof, the court or judge shall discharge the party from the custody or restraint under which he is held. But if it appears on the return to the writ that the party is in custody by virtue of civil process from any court legally constituted, or issued by any officer in the course of judicial proceedings before him, authorized by law, such party can be discharged only in one of the following cases:

1. Where the jurisdiction of such court or officer has been exceeded, either as to matter, place, sum or person.
2. Where, though the original imprisonment was lawful, yet by some act, omission or event, which has taken place afterwards, the party has become entitled to be discharged.
3. Where the process is defective in some matter of substance required by law, rendering such process void.
4. Where the process, though in proper form, has been issued in a case not allowed by law.
5. Where the person, having the custody of the party under such process, is not the person empowered by law to detain him.
6. Where the process is not authorized by any judgment, order or decree of any court, nor by any provision of law. (Rev., s. 1847; Code, s. 1645; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 20; C. S. 2235.)

§ 17-34. When party remanded.—It is the duty of the court or judge forthwith to remand the party, if it appears that he is detained in custody, either—

1. By virtue of process issued by any court or judge of the United States, in a case where such court or judge has exclusive jurisdiction.
2. By virtue of the final judgment or decree of any competent court of civil or criminal jurisdiction, or of any execution issued upon such judgment or decree.

3. For any contempt specially and plainly charged in the commitment by some court, officer or body having authority to commit for the contempt so charged.

4. That the time during which such party may be legally detained has not expired. (Rev., s. 1848; Code, s. 1646; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 21; C. S. 2236.)

§ 17-35. When the party bailed or remanded.—If it appears that the party has been legally committed for any criminal offense, or if it appears by the testimony offered with the return of the writ, or upon the hearing thereof, that the party is guilty of such an offense, although the commitment is irregular, the court or judge shall proceed to let such party to bail, if the case is bailable and good bail is offered; if not, the court or judge shall forthwith remand such party to the custody or place him under the restraint from which he was taken, if the person or officer, under whose custody or restraint he was, is legally entitled thereto; if not so entitled, the court or judge shall commit such party to the custody of the officer or person legally entitled thereto. Rev., s. 1849; Code, s. 1647; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 22; C. S. 2237.)

§ 17-36. Party held in execution not to be discharged.—When a writ of habeas corpus cum causa issues and the sheriff or other officer to whom it is directed returns upon the same that the prisoner is condemned, by judgment given against him, and held in custody by virtue of an execution issued against him, the prisoner shall not be let to bail but shall be presently remanded, where he shall remain until discharged in due course of law. (Rev., s. 1850; Code, s. 937; R. C., c. 31, s. 111; 2 Hen. V, c. 2; C. S. 2238.)

§ 17-37. When party ill, cause determined in his absence.—When, from the illness or infirmity of the person directed to be produced by a writ of habeas corpus, such person cannot, without danger, be brought before the court or judge where the writ is made returnable, the party in whose custody he is may state the fact in his return to the writ; and if the court or judge is satisfied of the truth of the allegation, and the return is otherwise sufficient, the court or judge shall proceed to decide on such return and to dispose of the matter in the same manner as if the body had been produced. (Rev., s. 1851; Code, s. 1648; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 23; C. S. 2239.)

§ 17-38. No second committal after discharged; penalty.—No person who has been set at large upon any writ of habeas corpus shall be again imprisoned or detained for the same cause by any person whatsoever other than by the legal order or process of the court wherein he shall be bound by recognizance to appear or of any other court having jurisdiction in the case, under the penalty of two thousand five hundred dollars to the party aggrieved thereby. (Rev., s. 1852; Code, s. 1651; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 26; C. S. 2240.)

Art. 7. Habeas Corpus for Custody of Children in Certain Cases.

§ 17-39. Custody as between parents in certain cases; modification of order.—When a contest shall arise on a writ of habeas corpus between any husband and wife, who are living in a state of separation, without being divorced, in respect to the custody of their children, the court or judge, on the return of such writ, may award the charge or custody of the child or children so brought before it either to the husband or to the wife, for such time, under such regulations and restrictions, and with such provisions and directions as will, in the opinion of such court or judge, best promote the interest and welfare of the children. At any time after the making of such orders the court or judge may, on good cause shown, annul, vary or modify the same; provided, that where the father is a non-resident of North Carolina and the custody of the child has been awarded, by an order of a court of this State, to the mother who is a resident of North Carolina, no motion on the part of such non-resident father may be heard or entertained by the court for a modification of the order of the court, unless such father has first shown under oath that, since the making of the original order, he has regularly contributed to the support of said child according to his means and according to the needs of the child, and, if said motion is heard and at said hearing such fact is not established to the satisfaction of the court, the motion for a modification of the order shall be denied, unless the court shall find that, at the time of said hearing the mother is not a fit and proper person to have the custody of said child. Provided, that the last two provisos shall only apply after the case has been reopened on time. (Rev., s. 1853; Code, s. 1661; 1858-9, c. 53; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 36; 1929, c. 270, s. 1; C. S. 2241.)

§ 17-40. Appeal to supreme court.—In all cases of habeas corpus, where a contest arises in respect to the custody of minor children, either party may appeal to the supreme court from the final judgment. (Rev., s. 1854; Code, s. 1662; 1858-9, c. 53, s. 2; C. S. 2242.)

Art. 8. Habeas Corpus Ad Testificandum.

§ 17-41. Authority to issue the writ.—Every court of record has power, upon the application of any party to any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, pending in such court, to issue a writ of habeas corpus, for the purpose of bringing before the said court any prisoner who may be detained in any jail or prison within the state, for any cause, except a prisoner under sentence for a capital felony, to be examined as a witness in such suit or proceeding in behalf of the party making the application.

Such writ of habeas corpus may be issued by any justice of the peace or clerk of the superior court, upon application as provided in this section, to bring any person confined in the jail or prison of the same county where such justice or clerk may reside, to be examined as a witness before such justice or clerk.

In cases where the testimony of any prisoner is needed in a proceeding before a justice of the peace, or a clerk, and such person is confined in a county in which such justice or clerk does not reside, application for habeas corpus to testify may be made to any judge of the supreme or superior court. (Rev., ss. 1855, 1856; Code, ss. 1663, 1664; 1868-9, c. 116, ss. 37, 38; C. S. 2243.)

§ 17-42. Contents of application.—The application for the writ shall be made by the party to the suit or proceeding in which the writ is required, or by his agent or attorney. It must be verified by the applicant, and shall state—

1. The title and nature of the suit or proceeding in regard to which the testimony of such prisoner is desired.

2. That the testimony of such prisoner is material and necessary to such party on the trial or hearing of such suit or proceeding, as he is advised by counsel and verily believes. (Rev., s. 1857; Code, s. 1665; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 39; C. S. 2244.)

§ 17-43. Service of writ.—The writ of habeas corpus to testify shall be served by the same person, and in like manner in all respects, and enforced by the court or officer issuing the same as prescribed in this chapter for the service and enforcement of the writ of habeas corpus cum causa. (Rev., s. 1858; Code, s. 1666; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 40; C. S. 2245.)

§ 17-44. Applicant to pay expenses and give bond to return.—The service of the writ shall not be complete, however, unless the applicant for the same tenders to the person in whose custody the prisoner may be, if such person is a sheriff, coroner, constable or marshal, the fees and expenses allowed by law for bringing such prisoner, nor unless he also gives bond, with sufficient security, to such sheriff, coroner, constable or marshal, as the case may be, conditioned that such applicant will pay the charges of carrying back such prisoner. (Rev., s. 1859; Code, s. 1667; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 41; C. S. 2246.)

§ 17-45. Duty of officer to whom writ delivered or on whom served. — It is the duty of the officer to whom the writ is delivered or upon whom it is served, whether such writ is directed to him or not, upon payment or tender of the charges allowed by law, and the delivery or tender of the bond herein prescribed, to obey and return such writ according to the exigency thereof upon pain, on refusal or neglect, to forfeit to the party on whose application the same has been issued the sum of five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1860; Code, s. 1668; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 42; C. S. 2247.)

§ 17-46. Prisoner to be remanded.—After having testified, the prisoner shall be remanded to the prison from which he was taken. (Rev., s. 1861; Code, s. 1669; 1868-9, c. 116, s. 43; C. S. 2248.)

§ 18-1. Definitions; application of article. — When used in this article—

(1) The word "liquor" or the phrase "intoxicating liquor" shall be construed to include alcohol, brandy, whisky, rum, gin, beer, ale, porter, and wine, and in addition thereto any spirituous, vinous, malt or fermented liquors, liquids, and compounds, whether medicated, proprietary, patented, or not, and by whatever name called, containing one-half of one per centum or more of alcohol by volume, which are fit for use for beverage purposes: Provided, that the foregoing definition shall not extend to dealcoholized wine nor to any beverage or liquid produced by the process of which beer, ale, porter, or wine is produced, if it contains less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume, and is otherwise denominated than as beer, ale, or porter, and is contained and sold in, or from, sealed and labeled bottles, casks, or containers, and is made in accordance with the regulations set forth in Title II of "The Volstead Act," an act of Congress enacted October twenty-eight, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and an act supplemental to the National Prohibition Act, "H. R. 7294," an act of Congress approved November twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

(2) The word "person" shall mean and include natural persons, associations, copartnerships, and corporations.

(3) This article shall not make unlawful any acts authorized or permitted by §§ 18-100 through 18-104, as amended, authorizing cultivation and manufacture of light domestic wines; by §§ 18-36 through 18-62, the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act of 1937 as amended; by §§ 18-63 through 18-92, the Beverage Control Act of 1939 as amended; and by §§ 18-94 through 18-99, the Fortified Wine Control Act of 1941. (1923, c. 1; s. 1; C. S. 3411(a).)

§ 18-2. Manufacture, sale, etc., forbidden; construction of law; nonbeverage liquor.—No person shall manufacture, sell, barter, transport, import, export, deliver, furnish, purchase, or possess any intoxicating liquor except as authorized in this article; and all the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed to the end that the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage may be prevented. Liquor for nonbeverage purposes and wine for sacramental purposes may be manufactured, purchased, sold, bartered, transported, imported, exported, delivered, furnished, and possessed, but only as provided by Title II of "The Volstead Act," act of congress enacted October twenty-eighth, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, an act supplemental to the National Prohibition Act, "H. R. 7294," an act of congress approved November twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one. (1923, c. 1, s. 1; C. S. 3411(b).)

§ 18-3. Advertisements, signs, and billboards.—It shall be unlawful to advertise, anywhere or by any means or method, liquor, or the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale or furnishing of the means, or where, how, from whom, or at what price the same may be obtained. No one shall permit any sign or billboard containing such advertisement to remain upon one's premises: Provided, the foregoing provision shall not prohibit newspaper, radio, billboard or other forms of advertising for sale of beer, lager beer, ale, porter, fruit juices and/or other light wines containing not more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol by weight. (1923, c. 1, s. 3; 1933, cc. 216, 229; C. S. 3411(c).)

§ 18-4. Advertising, etc., of utensils, etc., for use in manufacturing liquor.—It shall be unlawful to advertise, manufacture, sell, or possess for sale any utensil, contrivance, machine, preparation, compound, tablet, substance, formula, direction, or receipt advertised, designed, or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor. It shall be unlawful to have or possess any liquor or property designed for the manufacture of liquor intended for use in violating this article, or which has been so used, and no property rights shall exist in any such liquor or property. (1923, c. 1, s. 4; C. S. 3411(d).)

§ 18-5. Soliciting orders for liquor.—No person shall solicit or receive, nor knowingly permit his employee to solicit or receive, from any person any order for liquor or give any information of how liquor may be obtained in violation of this article. (1923, c. 1, s. 5; C. S. 3411(e).)

§ 18-6. Seizure of liquor or conveyance; arrests; sale of property.—When any officer of the law shall discover any person in the act of transporting, in violation of the law, intoxicating liquor in any wagon, buggy, automobile, water or air craft, or other vehicle, it shall be his duty to seize any and all intoxicating liquor found therein being transported contrary to law. Whenever intoxicating liquor transported or possessed illegally shall be seized by an officer he shall take possession of the vehicle and team or automobile, boat, air or water craft, or any other conveyance, and shall arrest any person in charge thereof. Such officer shall at once proceed against the person arrested under the provisions of this article in any court having competent jurisdiction; but the said vehicle or conveyance shall be returned to the owner upon execution by him of a good and valid bond, with sufficient sureties, in a sum double the value of the property, which said bond shall be approved by said officer and shall be conditioned to return said property to the custody of said officer on the day of trial to abide the judgment of the court. The court, upon the conviction of the person so arrested, shall order the liquor destroyed, and, unless the claimant can show that the property seized is his property, and that the same was used in transporting liquor without his knowledge and consent, with the right on the part of the claimant to have a jury pass upon his claim, shall order a sale by public auction of the property seized, and the officer making the sale, after deducting the expenses of keeping the property, the fee for the seizure, and the cost of the sale, shall pay all liens, according to their priorities, which are established, by intervention or otherwise at said hearing or in other proceeding brought for said purpose, as being bona fide and as having been created without the lienor having any notice that the carrying vehicle was being used for illegal transportation of liquor, and shall pay the balance of the proceeds to the treasurer or the proper officer in the county who receives fines and forfeitures, to be used for the school fund of the county. All liens against property sold under the provisions of this section shall be transferred from the property to the proceeds of the sale of the property. If, however, no one shall be found claiming the team, vehicle, water or air craft, or automobile, the taking of the same, with a description thereof, shall be advertised in some newspaper published in the city or county where taken, or, if there be no newspaper published in such city or county, in a newspaper having circulation in the county, once a week for two weeks and by handbills posted in three public places near the place of seizure, and if no claimant shall appear within ten days after the last publication of the advertisement, the property shall be sold, and the proceeds, after deducting the expenses and costs, shall be paid to the treasurer or proper officer in the county who receives fines and forfeitures, to be used for the school fund of the county: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize any officer to search any automobile or other vehicle or baggage of any person without a search warrant duly issued, except where the officer sees or has absolute personal knowledge that there is intoxicating liquor in such vehicle or baggage. (1923, c. 1, s. 6; C. S. 3411(f).)

§ 18-7. Use of seized property forbidden.—It shall be unlawful for any State, county, township or municipal officer to use or cause to be used for any purpose whatsoever any automobile or other article of personal property seized by said officer for the reason that the owner of said property or one in possession thereof at time of seizure has violated the terms of the State or Federal prohibition laws, or any other laws, until the respective rights of the owner, or person in possession at time of seizure, or mortgagee if one should intervene, are passed upon by the proper court, and final order is made as to proper disposition of said personal property so seized.

It shall be the duty of the officer seizing said automobile or other personal property to store same in a safe and suitable place, until final disposition is ordered.

Any officer or officers violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not to exceed fifty dollars or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days. (1927, c. 18.)

§ 18-8. Witnesses; self crimination; immunity.—No person shall be excused, on the ground that it may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, from attending and testifying, or producing books, papers, documents, and other evidence in obedience to a subpœna of any court in any suit or proceeding based upon or growing out of any alleged violation of this article, but no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing as to which, in obedience to a subpœna and under oath, he may so testify or produce evidence; but no person shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying. (1923, c. 1, s. 7; C. S. 3411(g).)

§ 18-9. Place of sale and delivery; place of prosecution.—In case of a sale of liquor where the delivery thereof was made by a common or other carrier, the sale and delivery shall be deemed to be made in the county wherein the delivery was made by such carrier or the consignee, his agent or employee, or in the county wherein the sale was made, or from which the shipment was made, and prosecution for such sale or delivery may be had in either county. (1923, c. 1, s. 8; C. S. 3411(h).)

§ 18-10. Uniting separate offenses in indictment, etc.; bill of particulars; trial.—In any affidavit, information, warrant, or indictment for the violation of this article, separate offenses may be united in separate counts, and the defendant may be tried on all at one trial, and the penalty for all offenses may be imposed. It shall not be necessary in any affidavit, information, warrant, or indictment to give the name of the purchaser or to include any defensive negative averments, but it shall be sufficient to state that the act complained of was then and there prohibited and unlawful; but this provision shall not be construed to preclude the trial court from directing the furnishing the defendant a bill of particulars when it deems it proper to do so. (1923, c. 1, s. 9; C. S. 3411(i).)

§ 18-11. Possession prima facie evidence of keeping for sale.—The possession of liquor by any person not legally permitted under this article to possess liquor shall be prima facie evidence that such liquor is kept for the purpose of being sold, bartered, exchanged, given away, furnished, or otherwise disposed of in violation of the provisions of this article. But it shall not be unlawful to possess liquor in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling only, provided such liquor is for use only for the personal consumption of the owner thereof, and his family residing in such dwelling, and of his bona fide guests when entertained by him therein. (1923, c. 1, s. 10; C. S. 3411(j).)

§ 18-12. Summons on citizens having interest in property.—In all cases wherein the property of any citizen is proceeded against or wherein a judgment affecting it might be rendered, and the citizen is not the one who in person violated the provisions of the law, summons must be issued in due form and served personally, if said person is to be found within the jurisdiction of the court. (1923, c. 1, s. 11; C. S. 3411(k).)

§ 18-13. Search warrants; disposal of liquor seized.—Upon the filing of a complaint under oath by a reputable citizen or information furnished under oath by an officer charged with the execution of the law, before a justice of the peace, recorder, mayor, or other officer authorized by the law to issue warrants, that he has reason to believe that any person has in his possession, at a place or places specified, liquor for the purpose of sale, a warrant shall be issued commanding the officer to whom it is directed to search the place or places described in such complaint or information; and if such liquor be found in any such place or places, to seize and take into his custody all such liquor, and to seize and take into his custody all glasses, bottles, jugs, pumps, bars, or other equipment used in the business of selling intoxicating liquor which may be found at such place or places, and to keep the same subject to the order of the court. The complaint or information shall describe the place or places to be searched with sufficient particularity to identify the same, and shall describe the intoxicating liquor or other property alleged to be used in carrying on the business of selling intoxicating liquor as particularly as practicable, and any description, however general, that will enable the officer executing the warrant to identify the property seized shall be deemed sufficient. All liquor seized under this section shall be held and shall upon the acquittal of the person so charged be returned to the established owner, and shall within ten days from conviction or default of appearance of such person be destroyed: Provided that any tax-paid liquor so seized shall within ten days be turned over to the board of county commissioners, which shall within ninety days from the receipt thereof turn it over to hospitals for medicinal purposes, or sell it to legalized alcoholic beverage control stores within the state of North Carolina, the proceeds of such sale being placed in the school fund of the county in which such seizure was made, or destroy it. (1923, c. 1, s. 12; 1939, c. 12; 1941, c. 310; C. S. 3411(l).)

of evidence.—When the solicitor of any judicial district has good reason to believe that liquor has been manufactured or sold contrary to law within a county in his district, and believes that any person has knowledge of the existence and establishment of any illicit distillery, or that any person has sold liquor illegally, then it is lawful for the solicitor to apply to the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the offense is supposed to have been committed to issue a subpœna for the person so having knowledge of said offense to appear before the next grand jury drawn for the county, there to testify upon oath what he may know touching the existence, establishment, and whereabouts of said distillery, or persons who have sold intoxicating liquor contrary to law, who shall give the names and personal description of the keepers thereof, and of any person who has sold liquor unlawfully; and such evidence, when so obtained, shall be considered and held in law as an information on oath upon which the grand jury shall make presentment, as provided by law in other cases. If any officer shall fail or refuse to use due diligence in the execution of the provisions of this section he shall be guilty of laches in office, and such failure be cause for removal from office. (1923, c. 1, s. 13; C. S. 3411(m).)

§ 18-15. Clubrooms and other places for keeping, etc., of liquor.—No corporation, club, association, or person shall directly or indirectly keep or maintain, alone or by association with others, or by any other means, or shall in any manner aid, assist, or abet others in keeping or maintaining a clubroom or other place where intoxicating liquor is received, kept, or stored for barter, sale, exchange, distribution, or division among the members of any such club or association or aggregation of persons, or to or among any other persons by any means whatever, or shall act as agents in ordering, procuring, buying, storing, or keeping intoxicating liquor for any such purpose. (1923, c. 1, s. 14; C. S. 3411(n).)

§ 18-16. Records of transportation companies; evidence.—All express companies, railroad companies, or other transportation companies doing business in this state are required hereby to keep a separate book in which shall be entered immediately upon receipt thereof the name of the person to whom liquor is shipped, the amount and kind received, and the date when received, the date when delivered, by whom delivered, and to whom delivered, after which record shall be a blank space, in which the consignee shall be required to sign his name, or, if he cannot write, shall make his mark in the presence of a witness, before such liquor is delivered to such consignee, and which book shall be open for inspection to any officer or citizen of the state, county, or municipality any time during business hours of the company, and such book shall constitute prima facie evidence of the facts therein and will be admissible in any of the courts of this state. Any express company, railroad company, or other transportation company, or any employee or agent of any express company, railroad company, or other transportation company violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1923, c. 1, s. 15; C. S. 3411(o).)

§ 18-17. Indictments; allegations of sale; circumstantial evidence.—In indictments for violating any provisions of this article it shall not be necessary to allege a sale to a particular person, and the violation of law may be proved by circumstantial evidence as well as by direct evidence. (1923, c. 1, s. 16; C. S. 3411(p).)

§ 18-18. Serving liquor with meals.—It is unlawful for any person to serve with meals, or otherwise, any liquor or intoxicating bitters, where any charge is made for such meal or service. (1923, c. 1, s. 17; C. S. 3411(q).)

§ 18-19. Sale by druggists or pharmacists. — It is unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist to sell, or otherwise dispose of for gain, any intoxicating liquor. (1923, c. 1, s. 18; C. S. 3411(r).)

§ 18-20. Grain alcohol for use in medicine or surgery; manufacture or sale of cider.—The provisions of this article shall not apply to grain alcohol, received by duly licensed physicians, druggists, dental surgeons, college, university, and state laboratories, and manufacturers of medicine, when intended to be used in compounding, mixing, or preserving medicines or medical preparations, or for surgical purposes, when obtained as hereinbefore provided: Provided, however, that nothing contained in this article shall prohibit the importation into the state of North Carolina and the delivery and possession in the state for use in industry, manufactures, and arts of any denatured alcohol or other denatured spirits which are compounded and made in accordance with the formulae prescribed by acts of Congress of the United States and regulations made under authority thereof by the Treasury Department of the United States and the commissioner of internal revenue thereof, and which are not now subject to internal revenue tax levied by the Government of the United States: Provided further, that this article shall not apply to wines and liquors required and used by hospitals or sanatoriums bona fide established and maintained for the treatment of patients addicted to the use of liquor, morphine, opium, cocaine, or other deleterious drugs, when the same are administered to patients actually in such hospitals or sanatoriums for treatment, and when the same are administered as an essential part of the particular system or method of treatment and exclusively by or under the direction of a duly licensed and registered physician of good moral character and standing: Provided, further, that this article shall not prohibit the manufacture or sale of cider or vinegar. (1923, c. 1, s. 19; C. S. 3411(s).)

§ 18-21. Wine for sacramental purposes. — It is lawful for any ordained minister of the gospel who is in charge of a church and at the head of a congregation in this state to receive in the space of ninety consecutive days a quantity of vinous liquor not greater than five gallons, for use in sacramental purposes only, and it shall be lawful for him to receive same in one or more packages or one or more receptacles. (1923, c. 1, s. 20; 1935, c. 114; C. S. 3411(t).)

§ 18-22. Sheriffs and police to search for and seize distilleries; confiscation; disposal of property. — It is the duty of the sheriff of each county in the state and of the police of each incorporated town or city in the state to search for and seize any distillery or apparatus used for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor in violation of the laws of North Carolina, and to deliver same, with any materials used for making such liquor found on the premises, to the board of county commissioners, who shall confiscate the same and shall cause the distillery to be cut up and destroyed, in their presence or in the presence of a committee of the board, and who may dispose of the material, including the copper or other material from the destroyed still or apparatus, in such manner as they may deem proper. (1923, c. 1, s. 21; C. S. 3411(u).)

§ 18-23. Destruction of liquor at distillery; persons arrested.—It is the duty of the sheriff and other officers mentioned in § 18-22 to seize and then and there destroy any and all liquor which may be found at any distillery for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor in violation of law, and to arrest and hold for trial all persons found on the premises engaged in distilling or aiding or abetting in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor. (1923, c. 1, s. 22; C. S. 3411(v).)

§ 18-24. Laches of officers; removal from office.—If any officer mentioned in §§ 18-22, 18-23, shall fail or refuse to use diligence in the execution of the provisions of such sections, after being informed of violation thereof, he shall be guilty of laches in office, and such failure shall be cause for removal therefrom. (1923, c. 1, s. 23; C. S. 3411(w).)

§ 18-25. Rewards for seizure of still.—For every distillery seized under this article the sheriff or other police officer shall receive such sum as the board of county commissioners of the county in which the seizure was made shall, in the discretion of such board, allow, which sum shall not be less than five dollars nor more than twenty dollars: Provided, that the commissioners shall not pay any amount if they are satisfied, after due investigation, that the seizure of the distillery was not bona fide made: Provided further, that when the sheriff of a county captures a distillery he shall receive the fee for his own use, regardless of whether he be on fees or salary. (1923, c. 1, s. 24; C. S. 3411(x).)

Local Modification.—Sheriff's fees for seizure of stills were prior to 1923 regulated by C. S. 3401, 3402, § 18-25, part of the Turlington Act, would seem to supersede C. S. 3401, 3402, since it sets a different fee, and 1933, c. 480 specifically repealed C. S. 3401, 3402, except in three counties. However, many local laws have been passed with reference to C. S. 3401, as well as to §§ 18-25 and 18-26. Citations to all of these laws which have been discovered are listed here, not as a statement of the present status of the law in any county, but merely as an aid in tracing down the fees in the counties named. These citations are: Alamance, Avery, Caswell, Chowan, Graham, Greene, Jackson, Northampton, Surry, Wilson, Yadkin: C. S. 3401, 3402; 1933, c. 480; Anson: 1937, c. 442; Burke: 1933, c. 136; Haywood, Lincoln, Pitt, Transylvania: C. S. 3909; Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 97; Pub. Loc. 1919, c. 30; Lenoir: 1933, c. 246; Moore: 1933, c. 246; 1935, c. 253; Nash: 1931, c. 91; Surry: 1925, c. 173; Union: Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 160; Warren: 1933, c. 230.

§ 18-26. Same—In certain counties.—The Board of Commissioners of the several counties in the State, hereinafter named, shall pay by way of reward to the sheriff or other officers in the various counties for the capture and destruction of stills used in the manufacture of spirituous liquors, the sum of twenty dollars ($20.00) and no more, upon the production of a certificate from the Clerk of the Superior Court or other court having final jurisdiction, that one or more operators of the still captured and destroyed were by the sheriff or other officer apprehended, captured and have been convicted and that no appeal has been taken from the judgment rendered, which said twenty dollars ($20.00) shall be in lieu of any and all other rewards authorized by law to be paid for the capture and destruction of stills to the sheriff or other officers in the counties hereinafter named.

This section shall apply to the following counties only: Alleghany, Ashe, Avery, Bladen, Buncombe, Caswell, Catawba, Chowan, Craven, Duplin, Forsyth, Beaufort, Hyde, Hoke, Lee, Lenoir, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, New Hanover, Onslow, Pamlico, Pender, Perquimans, Richmond, Rockingham, Sampson, Vance, Wake, Washington, Watauga, Wilkes, Wilson and Yancey. (1927, c. 42; Pub. Loc. 1933, c. 160.)

§ 18-27. Officers given power to compel evidence; effect of evidence; process; immunity to witnesses.—When any justice of the peace, magistrate, recorder, mayor of a town, or judge of the superior courts or supreme court shall have good reason to believe that any person within his jurisdiction has knowledge of the unlawful sale of liquor or the existence and establishment of any place where intoxicating liquor is sold or manufactured contrary to law, in any town or county within his jurisdiction, such person not being minded to make voluntary information thereof on oath, then it shall be lawful for such justice of the peace, magistrate, recorder, mayor, or judge to issue to the sheriff of the county or to any constable of the town or township in which such place where intoxicating liquor is sold or manufactured contrary to law is supposed to be, a subpœna, capias ad testificandum, or other summons in writing, commanding such person to appear immediately before such justice of the peace, magistrate, recorder, mayor, or judge, and give evidence on oath as to what he may know touching the existence, establishment, and whereabouts of such place where intoxicating liquor is sold or manufactured contrary to law, and the name and personal description of the keeper thereof, or person selling or manufacturing liquor. Such evidence, when obtained, shall be considered and held in law as an information under oath, and the justice, magistrate, recorder, mayor, or judge may thereupon proceed to seize and arrest such keeper or person selling, manufacturing, or having liquor contrary to law, and issue such process as is provided by law. No discovery made by the witness upon such examination shall be used against him in any penal or criminal prosecution, and he shall be altogether pardoned of the offense so done or participated in by him. (1923, c. 1, s. 25; C. S. 3411(y).)

§ 18-28. Distilling or manufacturing liquor; first offense misdemeanor.—It is unlawful for any person to distill, manufacture, or in any manner make, or for any person to aid, assist, or abet any such person in distilling, manufacturing, or in any manner making any spirituous or malt liquors or intoxicating bitters within the state of North Carolina. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall, for the first conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction or confession of guilt, punished in the discretion of the court; for the second or any subsequent conviction, said person or persons shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction or confession in open court shall be imprisoned in the state prison for not less than four months and not exceeding five years, in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 1, s. 26; C. S. 3411(z).)

§ 18-29. Misdemeanor; punishment; effect of previous punishment by federal court.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this article, except as otherwise specified in this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court: Provided, that no person shall be punished who has been previously punished for the same offense by a federal court. (1923, c. 1, s. 27; C. S. 3411(aa).)

§ 18-30. Laws repealed; local laws.—All laws in conflict with this article are hereby repealed, but nothing in this article shall operate to repeal any of the local acts of the general assembly of North Carolina prohibiting the manufacture or sale or other disposition of any liquor mentioned in this article, or any laws for the enforcement of the same, but all such acts shall continue in full force and effect and in concurrence herewith, and indictment or prosecution may be had either under this article or under any local act relating to the same subject. (1923, c. 1, s. 28; C. S. 3411(bb).)

Art. 2. Miscellaneous Regulations.

§ 18-31. Unlawful sale through agents.—If any person unlawfully and illegally procures and delivers any spirituous or malt liquors to another, he shall be deemed and held in law to be the agent of the person selling said spirituous and malt liquors, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (Rev., ss. 3526, 3534; 1905, c. 498, ss. 6, 7, 8; C. S. 3371.)

§ 18-32. Keeping liquor for sale; evidence.—It is unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation, by whatever name called, to have or keep in possession, for the purpose of sale, except as otherwise authorized by law, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, and proof of any one of the following facts shall constitute prima facie evidence of the violation of this section:

1. The possession of a license from the government of the United States to sell or manufacture intoxicating liquors; or

2. The possession of more than one gallon of spirituous liquors at any one time, whether in one or more places; or

3. The possession of more than three gallons of vinous liquors at any one time, whether in one or more places; or

4. The possession of more than five gallons of malt liquors at any one time, whether in one or more places; or

5. The delivery to such person, firm, association or corporation of more than five gallons of spirituous or vinous liquors, or more than twenty gallons of malt liquors within any four successive weeks, whether in one or more places; or

6. The possession of intoxicating liquors as samples to obtain orders thereon: Provided, that this section shall not prohibit any person from keeping in his possession wines and ciders in any quantity where such wines and ciders have been manufactured from grapes or fruit grown on the premises of the person in whose possession such wines and ciders may be. (1913, c. 44, s. 2; 1915, c. 97, s. 8; C. S. 3379.)

§ 18-33. Unlawful to handle draft connected with receipt for liquor.—It is unlawful for any bank incorporated under the laws of this state, or national bank, or any individual, firm or association, to present, collect or in any wise handle any draft, bill of exchange or order to pay money, to which draft, bill of exchange or order to pay money is attached a bill of lading, or order, or receipt for intoxicating liquors, or which draft is enclosed with, connected with, or in any way related to, directly or indirectly, any bill of lading, order, or receipt for intoxicating liquors. Provided, this section shall not apply to such instruments issued in connection with the sale or purchase of intoxicating liquors when such sale or purchase is not prohibited by the laws of this state. (1913, c. 44, s. 4; C. S. 3381.)

§ 18-34. Allowing distillery to be operated on land.—If any person shall knowingly permit or allow any distillery or other apparatus for the making or distilling of spirituous liquors to be set up for operation or to be operated on lands in his possession or control, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3533; 1905, c. 498, s. 2; C. S. 3407.)

§ 18-35. Federal license as evidence.—The possession of a license or the issuance to any person of a license to manufacture, rectify or sell, at wholesale or retail, spirituous liquors by the United States government or any officer thereof in any county, city or town where the manufacture, sale or rectification of spirituous liquors is forbidden by the laws of this state shall be prima facie evidence that the person having such license, or to whom the same was issued, is guilty of doing the act permitted by such license in violation of the laws of this state. On the trial of any person charged with the violation of any such laws, it shall be competent to prove that such a license is in the possession of or has been issued to such person, by the testimony of any witness who has personally examined the records of the government office where the official record of such licenses is kept. (Rev., s. 2060; 1905, c. 339, s. 5; 1907, c. 931; C. S. 3408.)

Art. 3. Alcoholic Beverage Control Act of 1937.

§ 18-36. Purposes of article.—The purpose and intent of this article is to establish a system of control of the sale of certain alcoholic beverages in North Carolina, and to provide the administrative features of the same, in such a manner as to insure, as far as possible, the proper administration of the sale of certain alcoholic beverages under a uniform system throughout the state. (1937, c. 49, s. 1.)

§ 18-37. State board of alcoholic control created; membership; compensation.—A state board of alcoholic control is hereby created, to consist of a chairman and two associate members. The members of said board shall be men well known for their character and ability and business acumen and success. The chairman of said board shall devote his whole time to his official duties and shall receive a salary of six thousand ($6,000.00) dollars per annum, payable monthly, together with necessary traveling expenses, and the two associate members of said board shall receive for the time actually engaged in their official duties, seven dollars ($7.00) per day and necessary traveling expenses. (1937, c. 49, s. 2, c. 411; 1939, c. 185, s. 5; 1941, c. 107, s. 5.)

§ 18-38. Members of board appointed by governor; terms of office.—The members of said state board shall be appointed by the governor, and the first appointees shall serve as follows:

The chairman shall serve for a period of three years from the date of his appointment and one associate member shall serve for a period of two years from the date of his appointment and the other associate member shall serve for a period of one year from the date of his appointment, and the subsequent appointments of all of the members of the said board shall be for a term of three years from the date of each appointment. (1937, c. 49, s. 3.)

§ 18-39. Powers and authority of board.—Said state board of alcoholic control shall have power and authority as follows, to wit:

(a) To see that all the laws relating to the sale and control of alcoholic beverages are observed and performed.

(b) To audit and examine the accounts, records, books and papers relating to the operation of county stores herein provided for, or to have the same audited.

(c) To approve or disapprove the prices at which the several county stores may sell alcoholic beverages and it shall be the duty of said board to require the store or stores in the several counties coming under the provisions of this article to fix and maintain uniform prices and to require sales to be made at such prices as shall promote temperate use of such beverages and as may facilitate policing.

(d) To remove any member, or members, of county boards whenever in the opinion of the state board, such member, or members, of the county board, or boards, may be unfit to serve thereon.

(e) To test any and all alcoholic beverages which may be sold, or proposed to be sold to the county stores, and to install and operate such apparatus, laboratories, or other means or instrumentalities, and employ to operate the same such experts, technicians, employees and laborers, as may be necessary to operate the same, in accordance with the opinion of the said board. In lieu of establishing and operating laboratories as above directed, the board may, with the approval of the governor and the commissioner of agriculture, arrange with the state chemist to furnish such information and advice, and to perform such analyses and other laboratory services as the board may consider necessary, or may, if they deem advisable, cause such tests to be made otherwise.

(f) To supervise purchasing by the county boards when said state board is of the opinion that it is advisable for it to exercise such power in order to carry into effect the purpose and intent of this article, with full power to disapprove any such purchase and at all times shall have the right to inspect all invoices, papers, books and records in the county stores or boards relating to purchases.

(g) To exercise the power to approve or disapprove in its discretion all regulations adopted by the several county stores for the operation of said stores and the enforcement of alcoholic beverage control laws which may be in violation of the terms or spirit of this article.

(h) To require that a sufficient amount shall be so allocated as to insure adequate enforcement and the amount shall, in no instance, be less than five per cent, nor more than ten per cent of the net profits arising from the sale of alcoholic beverages.

(i) To remove in case of violation of the terms or spirit of this article, officers employed, elected or appointed in the several counties where county stores may be operated.

(j) To approve or disapprove, in its discretion, the opening of county stores, except each county that may be entitled to operate stores for the sale of alcoholic beverages shall be entitled to operate at least one store for such purpose, at the county seat therein, or at such other place as may be selected by the said county board, provided that in the location of control stores in any county in which a majority of the votes have been cast for liquor control stores due consideration shall be given to communities or towns in which a majority of the votes were cast against control, but nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to abridge any of the provisions elsewhere contained relative to the opening, closing or locating such stores. As to all additional stores in each of said counties the same shall not be opened until and unless the opening of the same and the place of location thereof shall first be approved by the said state board, which at any time may withdraw its approval of the operation of any additional county store when the said store is not operated efficiently and in accordance with the alcoholic beverage control laws and all valid regulations prescribed therefor, or whenever, in the opinion of the said state board, the operation of any county store shall be inimical to the morals or welfare of the community in which it is operated or for such other cause, or causes, as may appear to said state board sufficient to warrant the closing of any county store.

(k) To require the use of a uniform accounting system in the operation of all county stores hereunder and to provide in said system for the keeping therein and the record of all such information as may, in the opinion of the said state board, be necessary or useful in its auditing of the affairs of the said county stores, as well as in the study of such problems and subjects as may be studied by said state board in the performance of its duties.

(l) To grant, to refuse to grant, or to revoke, permits for any person, firm or corporation to do business in North Carolina in selling alcoholic beverages to or for the use of any county store and to provide and to require that such information be furnished by such person, firm or corporation as a condition precedent to the granting of such permit, or permits, and to require the furnishing of such data and information as it may desire during the life of such permit, or permits, and for the purpose of determining whether such permit, or permits, shall be continued, revoked or regranted after expiration dates. No permit, however, shall be granted by said state board, to any person, firm or corporation when the said state board has reason sufficient unto itself to believe that such person, firm or corporation has furnished to it any false or inaccurate information or is not fully, frankly and honestly cooperating with the said state board and the several county boards in the observance and performance of all alcoholic beverage laws which may now or hereafter be in force in this state, or whenever the said board shall be of opinion that such permit ought not to be granted or continued for any cause.

(m) The said state board shall have all other powers which may be reasonably implied from the granting of express powers herein named, together with such other powers as may be incidental to, or convenient for, the carrying out and performance of the powers and duties herein given to said board.

(n) To permit the establishment of warehouses for the storage of alcoholic beverages within the state, the storage of alcoholic beverages in warehouses already established, and to prescribe rules and regulations for the storage of such beverages and the withdrawal of the same therefrom. Such warehousing or bailment of alcoholic beverages as may be made hereunder shall be for the convenience of delivery to alcoholic boards of control authorized to purchase the same and shall be under the strict supervision and subject to all of the rules and regulations of the state board of control relating thereto. (1937, c. 49, s. 4, cc. 237, 411.)

§ 18-40. Removal of member by governor; vacancy appointments.—The governor shall at all times have full power and authority to remove any and all members of the said state board, upon notice to such member or members, in his discretion, for any cause that appears to him to be sufficient, and to reappoint his successor or successors to the removed members, observing, however, the terms of office of each of them, as herein set forth, and whenever a vacancy shall occur for any cause then the appointment to fill such vacancy shall be for the unexpired portion of the term of the predecessor of each appointee. (1937, c. 49, s. 5.)

§ 18-41. County boards of alcoholic control.—In each county which may be permitted to engage in the sale of alcoholic beverages, there is hereby created a county board of alcoholic control, to consist of a chairman and two other members. The members of said board shall be well known for their character, ability and business acumen. The members of said board shall be selected in each respective county in a joint meeting of the board of county commissioners, the county board of health and the county board of education, and each member present shall have only one vote, notwithstanding the fact that there may be instances in which some members are members of another board.

The terms of office of the members of said county boards shall be as follows: The chairman, who shall be so designated by the appointing boards, shall serve for his first term a period of three years and one member shall serve for his first term a period of two years and the other member shall serve for a period of one year, all terms beginning with the date of their appointment and after the said term shall have expired their successors in office shall serve for a period of three years and shall be appointed in the same manner as herein provided in this section.

Any member of any of the county boards herein above referred to in this section may be removed at any time by such composite board consisting of the board of county commissioners, the board of education and the board of health, whenever such composite board may find by a majority vote of its entire membership such member or members unfit to serve thereon, each member having only one vote as above provided for the selection of such members of county boards. In the event any member of the county board shall be removed hereunder, his successor shall be selected to serve out the time for which such member was originally selected.

Upon the death or resignation of the chairman or any other member of the county board of alcoholic control, whether selected under the provisions of this article or under the provisions of chapter four hundred and eighteen or chapter four hundred and ninety-three of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, before the expiration of the term of office for which said chairman or member has been appointed, elected or selected, his successor to fill out such unexpired term shall be selected at a joint meeting of the board of county commissioners, the county board of health and the county board of education, which joint meeting shall be held within ten (10) days after such resignation or death, which meeting shall be called by the chairman or some other member of the county board of alcoholic control, by giving notice to each member of the time and place of holding such meeting. (1937, c. 49, s. 6, cc. 411, 431.)

Local Modification.—Bertie: 1937, c. 310; Dare: 1939, c. 168; Halifax: 1937, c. 302; Pasquotank: 1939, c. 131.

§ 18-42. Compensation for members of county boards.—The salaries of the members of the said county board shall be fixed by the joint meeting of the several boards that appoint them and shall be fixed with the view to securing the very best members available, with due regard to the fact that such salaries shall be adequate compensation, but shall not be large enough to make said positions unduly attractive or the objects of political aspirations. (1937, c. 49, s. 7.)

§ 18-43. Persons disqualified for membership on boards.—No person shall be appointed a member of either the state board or of any county board or employed thereby who shall be a stockholder in any brewery or the owner of any interest therein in any manner whatsoever, or interested therein directly or indirectly, or who is likewise interested in any distillery or other enterprise that produces, mixes, bottles or sells alcoholic beverages, or who is related to any person likewise interested or associated in business with any person likewise interested and neither of said boards shall employ any person who is interested in, directly or indirectly, or related to, any person interested in any firm, person or corporation permitted to sell alcoholic beverages in this state. (1937, c. 49, s. 8, c. 411.)

§ 18-44. Bonds required of members of county boards.—The several members of the county board shall give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, in the penal sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, and the said bond shall be payable to the state of North Carolina and to the county in which said board performs its duties, with some corporate surety, which surety shall be satisfactory to, and approved by, the county attorney of said county, and the chairman of the state board, and shall be deposited with the chairman of the state board. The state board for and on behalf of the state of North Carolina, and the county named in said bond, shall each be secured therein to the full amount of the penalty thereof and the recovery or payment of any sums due thereunder to either shall not diminish or affect the right of the other obligee in said bond to recover the full amount of the said penalties thereof, and the giving and the approval of such bond shall be a part of the qualification of said members and no member shall be entitled to exercise any of the functions or powers incident to his appointment until and unless the said bond shall have been given and approved as herein provided. The three joint boards referred to in § 18-41 shall be authorized to relieve any member of the county boards who does not handle any money or funds from furnishing such bond, and shall be further authorized to require bond in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000) of any member of the board handling money or funds in the event said joint boards deem it advisable to increase such bond. (1937, ch. 49, s. 9; 1939, c. 202.)

§ 18-45. Powers and duties of county boards.—The said county boards shall each have the following powers and duties:

(a) Control and jurisdiction over the importation, sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages within its respective county.

(b) Power to buy and to have in its possession and to sell alcoholic beverages within its county.

(c) Power and authority to adopt rules and regulations governing the operation of stores within its county and relating to the carrying out of the provisions and purposes of this article.

(d) To prescribe and regulate and direct the duties and services of all employees of said county board.

(e) To fix the hours for the opening and closing of stores operated by it. No store, however, shall be permitted to remain open between the hours of nine o'clock p. m. and nine o'clock a. m.

(f) To require any county stores to close on such days as it may designate, but all stores in any county operating under the provisions of this article shall remain closed on Sundays, election days, New Year's Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day.

(g) To import, transport, receive, purchase, sell and deliver and have in its possession for sale for present and future delivery alcoholic beverages.

(h) To purchase or lease property, furnish and equip buildings, rooms and accommodations as and when required for the storage and sale of alcoholic beverages and for distribution to all county stores within said county.

(i) To borrow money, guarantee the payment thereof and the interest thereon, in such manner as may be required or permitted by law, and to issue, sign, endorse and accept checks, promissory notes, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments and to do all such other and necessary things as may be required or may be convenient in the conduct of liquor stores in its county.

(j) To investigate and aid in the prosecution of violations of this article and other liquor laws, by whatever name called, and to seize alcoholic beverages in said county sold, kept, imported or transported illegally and to apply for confiscation thereof and to cooperate in the prosecution of offenders in any court in said county.

(k) To regulate and to prescribe rules and regulations that may be necessary or feasible for the obtaining of purity in all alcoholic beverages, including true statements of contents and the proper labeling thereof.

(l) To fix and maintain the prices of all alcoholic beverages sold by liquor stores in said county and to prescribe to whom the same may be sold.

The provisions of this article shall not apply to ethyl alcohol intended for use and/or used for the following purposes:

For scientific, chemical, mechanical, industrial, medicinal and culinary purposes.

For use by those authorized to procure the same tax free, as provided by the acts of congress and regulations promulgated thereunder.

In the manufacture of denatured alcohol produced and used as provided by the acts of congress and regulations promulgated thereunder.

In the manufacture of patented, patent, proprietary, medicinal, pharmaceutical, antiseptic, toilet, scientific, chemical, mechanical, and industrial preparations or products unfit for beverage purposes.

In the manufacture of flavoring extracts and syrups unfit for beverage purposes.

(m) To exercise the power to buy, purchase and sell and to fix the prices at which all alcoholic beverages may be purchased from it, but nothing herein contained shall give said board the power to purchase or sell or deal in alcoholic beverages which contain less than five per centum of alcohol by weight.

(n) To locate stores in its county and to provide for the management thereof and to appoint and employ at least one person for each store conducted by it, who shall be known as "manager" thereof. The duty of such manager shall be to conduct the said store under directions of the county board and to carry out the law applying thereto, and such manager shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such sum as may be fixed by said county board, with sufficient corporate surety and said surety, or sureties thereon, shall be approved by the said county board as a part of the qualifications of such manager for his appointment, and the said county board shall have the right to sue on said bond and to recover for all failures on the part of said manager faithfully to perform his duties as such manager, to the extent of any loss occasioned by such manager on his part, but as against the surety, or sureties, thereon, such aggregate recovery, or recoveries, shall not exceed the penalty of said bond.

(o) To expend for law enforcement a sum not less than five per cent nor more than ten per cent of the total profits to be determined by quarterly audits and in the expenditure of said funds shall employ one or more persons to be appointed by and directly responsible to the respective county boards. The persons so appointed shall, after taking the oath prescribed by law for the peace officers, have the same powers and authorities within their respective counties as other peace officers. And any person so appointed, or any other peace officer while in hot pursuit of anyone found to be violating the prohibition laws of this state, shall have the right to go into any other county of the state and arrest such offender therein so long as such hot pursuit of such person shall continue, and the common law of hot pursuit shall be applicable to said offenses and such officers. Any law enforcement officer appointed by such county boards and any other peace officer is hereby authorized, upon request of the sheriff or other lawful officer in any other county, to go into such other county and assist in suppressing a violation of the prohibition law therein, and while so acting shall have such powers as a peace officer as are granted to him in his own county and be entitled to all the protection provided for said officer while acting in his own county.

(p) To discontinue the operation of any store in its county whenever it shall appear to said board that the operation thereof is not sufficiently profitable to justify a continuance of its operation, or when, in its opinion, the operation of any store is inimical or hurtful to the morals or welfare of the community in which it is operated, or when said county board may be directed to close any store by the state board.

All the powers and duties herein conferred upon county boards, or required of them, shall be subject to the powers herein conferred upon the state board and whenever or wherever herein the state board has been given power to approve or disapprove anything in respect to county stores or county boards, then no power on the part of the county boards and no act of any county board shall be exercisable or valid until and unless the same has been approved by the state board. (1937, c. 49, s. 10, cc. 411, 431; 1939, c. 98.)

Local Modification.—Moore: 1937, c. 49, s. 10(p).

§ 18-46. No sales except during hours fixed by county boards; sales to minors, habitual drunkards, etc.; discretion of managers and employees; list of persons convicted of drunkenness, etc.; unlawful to buy for person prohibited.—No alcoholic beverage shall be sold knowingly by any county store or the manager thereof or any employee therein at any time other than within the opening and closing hours for said store, as fixed in the manner herein provided, and otherwise as prescribed by the said county board. No alcoholic beverage shall be sold knowingly to any minor, or to any person who has been convicted of public drunkenness or of driving any motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, or has been convicted of any crime wherein the court or judge shall find as a fact that such person committed said crime or aided and abetted in the commission thereof as a result of the influence of intoxicating liquors (within one year of any such conviction), or to any person known to be an habitual drunkard or who has within one year been confined in the inebriate ward of any state institution. The manager and employees of and in any county store may, in their discretion, refuse to sell alcoholic beverage to any individual applicant, and such power and the duty to exercise the same shall vest in and apply to such manager and employees, regardless of the failure of the county boards to make any regulations providing for the same, and in their discretion may refuse to sell more than four quarts at any one time in any one day to any person.

The various clerks of the superior court and of any inferior courts in counties coming under the provisions of this article shall furnish to the chairman of the control board of their county a list of all persons convicted of public drunkenness or convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated; and the state motor vehicle department shall furnish to the chairmen of all the control boards in this state a list of all persons whose driving licenses have been revoked for driving an automobile while intoxicated, or for the illegal use of whiskey.

It shall be unlawful for any person to buy any alcoholic beverage if he be within the class prohibited from purchasing same as set out in this section, and it shall further be unlawful for any person to buy any alcoholic beverage for any person who may be prohibited from purchasing for himself under any of the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 49, s. 11, c. 411.)

§ 18-47. Drinking upon premises prohibited; stores closed on Sundays, election days, etc.—No alcoholic beverage shall be drunk upon the premises of any county store or warehouse, or room or building occupied or used by any county board or any of its employees for the purpose of performing their duties in respect to alcoholic beverages, and such county boards, managers and employees shall not permit alcoholic beverages to be drunk upon said premises and all county stores shall be closed on Sundays and election days, and such other days as the state board may designate. (1937, c. 49, s. 12.)

§ 18-48. Possession illegal if taxes not paid; punishment and forfeiture for violations; possession in container without proper stamp, prima facie evidence.—It shall be unlawful for any firm, person or corporation to have in his or its possession any alcoholic beverages as defined herein upon which the taxes imposed by the laws of congress of the United States or by the laws of this state, have not been paid and any person convicted of the violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court and the alcoholic beverage shall be seized and forfeited, together with any vehicle, vessel, aeroplane or other equipment used in the transportation and to carry the said alcoholic beverages, and the procedure pointed out in § 18-6 for the seizure, arrest, confiscation and sale of such vehicle, vessel, aeroplane or other means of transportation shall be used and the provisions of said § 18-6 are hereby declared to be in full force and effect in any of the counties of the state which shall operate under the provisions of this article, and the possession of such alcoholic beverages in a container which does not bear either a revenue stamp of the federal government or a stamp of any of the county boards of the state of North Carolina shall constitute prima facie evidence of the violation of this section. (1937, c. 49, s. 13.)

§ 18-49. Transportation, not in excess of one gallon, authorized; transportation in course of delivery to stores.—It shall not be unlawful for any person to transport a quantity of alcoholic beverages not in excess of one gallon from a county in North Carolina coming under the provisions of this article to or through another county in North Carolina not coming under the provisions of this article: Provided, said alcoholic beverages are not being transported for the purposes of sale, and provided further that the cap or seal on the container or containers of said alcoholic beverages has not been opened or broken. Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent the transportation through any county not coming under the provisions of this article, of alcoholic beverages in actual course of delivery to any alcoholic beverage control board established in any county coming under the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 49, s. 14.)

§ 18-50. Possession for sale and sales of illicit liquors; sales of liquors purchased from stores.—The possession for sale, or sales, of illicit liquors, or the sale of any liquors purchased from the county stores, is hereby prohibited and a violation of this section shall constitute a crime and shall be punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 49, s. 15.)

§ 18-51. Drinking or offering drinks on premises of stores, and public roads or streets; drunkenness, etc., at athletic contests or other public places.—It shall be unlawful for any person to drink alcoholic beverages or to offer a drink to another person, or persons, whether accepted or not, at the place where the same is purchased from the county store, or the premises thereof, or upon any premises used or occupied by county boards for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article, or on any public road or street, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to be or become intoxicated or to make any public display of any intoxicating beverages at any athletic contest or other public place in North Carolina. The violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not exceeding fifty ($50.00) dollars or imprisoned for not more than thirty days in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 49, s. 16, c. 411.)

§ 18-52. Advertising permitted in newspapers, magazines and periodicals.—It shall be lawful for newspapers, magazines and periodicals to accept and publish advertisements relating to wines, beers and other alcoholic beverages permitted to be sold and distributed under the laws of North Carolina. (1935, c. 465.)

§ 18-53. Advertising by county A. B. C. stores and on billboards prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any county store to advertise anywhere, or by any means or method, alcoholic beverages which it has for sale and it shall not advertise or post its prices, other than in the store, or stores, which it operates, and in such stores it shall only state the brands or kinds of beverages and the price of each kind and such price list shall only be posted for public view in said store.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or set up, or permit to be set up, any sign or bill-board, or other device, containing any advertisement of alcoholic beverages as defined herein on his premises, and if the same shall be set up by any other person, then such owner or lessee of such premises shall not permit the same to remain thereon.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to display, or permit to be displayed, upon any billboard, signboard, or any other similar advertising medium, any advertisement of any alcoholic beverages or any spirituous liquors as defined herein. (1937, c. 49, s. 17; 1937, c. 398.)

§ 18-54. Advertising by radio broadcasts prohibited.—No firm, person or corporation in this state shall broadcast, or permit to be broadcast, any statement, speech, or any other message by whatsoever name called, over any radio broadcasting system doing business in this state, when such advertising matter tends to advertise alcoholic beverages as defined herein and the broadcast thereof originates in this state. (1937, c. 49, s. 18.)

§ 18-55. Additional regulations as to advertising.—The several county boards by and with the consent and approval of the state board, shall have power to make such other rules and regulations as will prevent and tend to prevent advertisement of alcoholic beverages otherwise than is expressly prohibited herein and to publish such rules and regulations and to take effective measures to enforce the same. (1937, c. 49, s. 19.)

§ 18-56. Salaries and expenses paid from proceeds of sales.—All salaries and expenses incurred under the provisions of this article except those provided for in § 18-37 shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sales of the alcoholic beverages referred to in this article. All salaries and expenses of county boards and their employees shall be paid out of the receipts for their sales as operating expenses. (1937, c. 49, s. 20.)

§ 18-57. Net profits to be paid into general fund of the various counties.—After deducting the amount required to be expended for enforcement as herein provided and retaining sufficient and proper working capital, the amount to be determined by the board, and except as hereinbefore provided in chapters four hundred ninety-three and four hundred eighteen of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, the entire net profits derived from any stores shall be paid quarterly to the general fund of each respective county wherein county stores are operated. (1937, c. 49, s. 21; c. 411.)

Local Modification.—Brunswick: 1937, c. 269; Cumberland: 1941, c. 48; Franklin: 1937, c. 250, s. 2; New Hanover: 1941, c. 135.

§ 18-58. Transportation into state; and purchases, other than from stores, prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, to purchase in, or to bring in this state, any alcoholic beverage from any source, except from a county store operated in accordance with this article, except a person may purchase legally outside of this state and bring into the same for his own personal use not more than one gallon of such alcoholic beverage. A violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 49, s. 22.)

§ 18-59. Violations by member or employee of boards, cause for removal and punishable as misdemeanor.—A violation of any of the provisions of this article by any person, firm or corporation, and the violation of any provision of this article, or any regulation adopted by any county board or by the state board, by any member of the state board, or any member of any county board, or any employee of either of said boards, shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and in addition thereto shall constitute sufficient cause for the removal of such person from either of said boards, or from his employment under either of said boards and in addition to the powers of the state board to remove any of its employees or any member of any county board and the power of any county board to remove any of its employees from such employment, the court in which the said conviction is had shall have the power upon such conviction and as a part of its judgment thereon to remove such person from either of said boards or from the employment of either. (1937, c. 49, s. 23.)

§ 18-60. Definition of "alcoholic beverage."—The term "alcoholic beverage", as used in this article, is hereby defined to be and to mean alcoholic beverages of any and all kinds which shall contain more than fourteen per centum of alcohol by volume, and this article is not intended to apply to, or regulate, the possession, sale, manufacture or transportation of beer, wines or ales containing a lower alcoholic content than above specified, and whenever the term alcoholic beverages is used in this article, it shall be construed as defined in this section. (1937, c. 49, s. 24, c. 411; 1941, c. 339, s. 3.)

§ 18-61. County elections as to liquor control stores; application of Turlington Act; time of elections.—No county liquor store shall be established, maintained or operated in this state, in any county thereof, until and unless there shall have been held in such county an election, under the same rules and regulations which apply to elections for members of the general assembly, and at said election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such county the question of setting up and operating in such county a liquor store, or stores, as herein provided, and those favoring the setting up and operation of liquor stores in such county shall mark in the voting square to the left of the words, "for county liquor control stores" printed on the ballot, and those opposed to setting up and operating liquor stores in such county shall mark in the voting square to the left of the words, "against county liquor control stores," printed on the same ballot, and if a majority of the votes cast in such election shall be for county liquor stores, then a liquor store, or liquor stores, may be set up and operated in such county as herein provided, and if a majority of the votes cast at said election shall be against county liquor stores, then no liquor stores shall be set up or operated in said county under the provisions of this article.

Such election shall be called in such county by the board of elections of such county only upon the written request of the board of county commissioners therein, or upon a petition to said board of elections signed by at least fifteen per centum of the registered voters in said county that voted in the last election for governor. In calling for such special liquor election the county board of elections shall give at least twenty days public notice of same prior to the opening of the registration books, and the registration books shall remain open for the same period of time before such special liquor election as is required by law for them to remain open for a regular election. A new registration of voters for such special liquor election is not required and all qualified electors who are properly registered prior to the registration for the special election, as well as those electors who register in said special liquor election, shall be entitled to vote in said election.

If any county while operating any such control store under the provisions of chapter four hundred ninety-three or four hundred eighteen of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or under the terms of this article shall hereafter under the provisions of this article hold an election and at such election a majority of the votes shall be cast "against county liquor control stores," then the county control board in such county shall within three (3) months from the canvassing of such vote and the declaration of the result thereof, close said stores and shall thereafter cease to operate the same. During this period of time, the county control board shall dispose of all alcoholic beverages on hand, all fixtures and all other property in the hands and under the control of the county control board and convert the same into money and shall, after making a true and faithful accounting, turn all money in its hands over to the general fund of the county. Thereafter, chapter one of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred twenty-three [§ 18-1 et seq.], being commonly known as the Turlington Act, shall be in full force and effect in such county, until and unless another election is held under the provisions of this aticle, in which a majority of the votes shall be cast "for county liquor control stores," except as modified by this article or any acts amendatory hereof.

No election under this section shall be held on the day of any biennial election for county officers, or within sixty days of such an election, and the date of such elections under this section shall be fixed by the board of elections of the county wherein the same is held.

No other election shall be called and held in any of the counties in the state under the provisions of this article within three years from the holding of the last election under this article. In any county in which an election was held either under the provisions of chapter four hundred ninety-three or chapter four hundred eighteen of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, an election may be called under the provisions of this article, provided no such election shall be called within three years of the holding of the last election. (1937, c. 49, s. 25, c. 431.)

§ 18-62. Elections in counties now operating stores, not required for continued operation.—Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to require counties in which liquor stores have been established under chapters four hundred eighteen or four hundred ninety-three of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five to have any further election in order to enable such counties to establish liquor stores, and as to such counties in which liquor stores are now being operated under chapters four hundred eighteen or four hundred ninety-three of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, such stores shall from February 22, 1937 be operated under the terms of this article. (1937, c. 49, s. 26.)

Local Modification.—Moore: 1937, c. 49, s. 26.

Art. 4. Beverage Control Act of 1939.

§ 18-63. Title.—This article shall be known as the Beverage Control Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine. (1939, c. 158, s. 500.)

Local Modification.—The following laws are amendments to or modifications of 1933, c. 216, of which the Beverage Control Act of 1939 is a successor: Alamance (Elon College, Sylvan High School, and Cane Creek Church): 1933, cc. 381, 417; Bladen (Frenches Creek Township): 1933, c. 475; Buncombe (Ridgecrest, Montreat, town of Weaverville): 1933, c. 396; Caswell (village of Yanceyville and Pelham M. E. Church, South): 1933, cc. 472, 508; Dare (Stumpy Point voting precinct): 1933, c. 455; Guilford (Guilford College and Oak Ridge Military Institute): 1933, cc. 369, 370, 406; Harnett (Campbell College): 1933, c. 398; Madison (Mars Hill College): 1933, c. 396; Mecklenburg (Davidson College): 1933, c. 313; Mitchell (town of Bakersville): 1933, c. 416; Moore (Quaker Children's Home): 1933, c. 454; Randolph (village of Worthville): 1933, c. 512; Sampson (Pineland Junior College): 1933, c. 358; Union (Wingate Junior College): 1933, c. 454; Wake (Wake Forest College): 1933, c. 564; Warren (village of Macon): 1933, c. 395.

§ 18-64. Definitions.—The term "beverages" as used in this article shall include:

(a) Beer, lager beer, ale, porter, and other brewed or fermented beverages containing one-half of one per cent (1%) of alcohol by volume but not more than five per cent (5%) of alcohol by weight as authorized by the laws of the United States of America.

(b) Unfortified wines, as used in this article, shall mean wine of an alcoholic content produced only by natural fermentation or by the addition of pure cane, beet, or dextrose sugar and having an alcoholic content of not less than five per centum (5%) and not more than fourteen per centum (14%) of absolute alcohol, the per centum of alcohol to be reckoned by volume.

The term "person" used in this article shall mean any individual, firm, partnership, association, corporation, or other groups or combination acting as a unit.

The term "sale" as used in this article shall include any transfer, trade, exchange or barter in any manner or by any means whatsoever, for a consideration. (1939, c. 158, s. 501; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-65. Regulations; statement required on container; application of other law.—The beverages enumerated in § 18-64 may be manufactured, transported, or sold in this state in the manner and under the regulations hereinafter set out: Provided, however, that, except as otherwise provided by law, no wines shall be transported or sold in this state unless there be firmly fastened or impressed on the barrel, bottle, or other container in which the same may be a written statement showing that the same are not fortified and that the alcoholic content thereof reckoned by volume, is not more than fourteen per cent.

The possession, transportation, or sale of wines defined in § 18-64, subsection (b) without such statement, and any misrepresentation made in any such statement, shall constitute a misdemeanor and be punished as provided in § 18-91. Except as otherwise provided by law, the manufacture, possession, transportation or sale of wines other than those defined in § 18-64, subsection (b), including fortified wines, shall be subject to all the provisions of chapter one of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, commonly called the Turlington Act, as amended and supplemented, codified as § 18-1 et seq. (1939, c. 158, s. 502; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-66. Transportation. — The beverages enumerated in § 18-64 may be transported into, out of or between points in this state by railroad companies, express companies or by steamboat companies engaged in public service as common carriers and having regularly established schedules of service upon condition that such companies shall keep accurate records of the character and volume of such shipments, the character and number of packages or containers, shall keep records open at all times for inspection by the commissioner of revenue of this state or his authorized agent, and upon condition that such common carrier shall make report of all shipments of such beverages into, out of or between points in this state at such times and in such detail and form as may be required by the commissioner of revenue.

The beverages enumerated in § 18-64 may be transported into, out of or between points in this state over the public highways of this state by motor vehicles upon condition that every person intending to make such use of the highways of this state shall as a prerequisite thereto register such intention with the commissioner of revenue in advance of such transportation, with notice of the kind and character of such products to be transported and the license and motor number of each motor vehicle intended to be used in such transportation. Upon the filing of such information, together with an agreement to comply with the provisions of this article, the commissioner of revenue shall without charge therefor issue a numbered certificate to each such owner or operator for each motor vehicle intended to be used for such transportation, which numbered certificate shall be prominently displayed on the motor vehicle used in transporting the products named in § 18-64. Every person transporting such products over any of the public highways of this state shall during the entire time he is so engaged have in his possession an invoice or bill of sale or other record evidence, showing the true name and address of the person from whom he has received such beverages, the character and contents of containers, the number of bottles, cases or gallons of such shipment, the true name and address of every person to whom deliveries are to be made. The person transporting such beverages shall, at the request of any representative of the commissioner of revenue, produce and offer for inspection said invoice or bill of sale or record evidence. If said person fails to produce invoice or bill of sale or record evidence, or if when produced, it fails to clearly and accurately disclose said information, the same shall be prima facie evidence of the violation of this article. Every person engaged in transporting such beverages over the public highways of this state shall keep accurate records of the character and volume of such shipments, the character and number of packages or containers, shall keep records open at all times for inspection by the commissioner of revenue of this state, or his authorized agent, and upon condition that such person shall make report of all shipments of such beverages into, out of or between points in this state at such times and in such detail and form as may be required by the commissioner of revenue.

The purchase, transportation and possession of beverages enumerated in § 18-64 by individuals for their own use is permitted without restriction or regulation. The provisions of this section as to transportation of beverages enumerated in § 18-64 by motor vehicles over the public highways of this state shall in like manner apply to the owner or operator of any boat using the waters of the state for such transportation, and all of the provisions of this section with respect to permit for such transportation and reports to the commissioner of revenue by the operators of motor vehicles on public highways shall in like manner apply to the owner or operator of any boat using the waters of this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 503.)

§ 18-67. Manufacture.—The brewing or manufacture of beverages for sale enumerated in section 18-64 shall be permitted in this state upon the payment of an annual license tax to the commissioner of revenue in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for a period ending on the next succeeding thirtieth day of April and annually thereafter. Persons licensed under this section may sell such beverages in barrels, bottles, or other closed containers only to persons licensed under the provisions of this article for resale, and no other license tax shall be levied upon the business taxed in this section. The sale of malt, hops, and other ingredients used in the manufacture of beverages for sale enumerated in § 18-64 is hereby permitted and allowed: Provided, that any person engaged in the business of manufacturing in this state the wines described in § 18-64, subsection (b) shall be required to pay the following tax based on the number of gallons manufactured:

Where not more than one hundred gallons are manufactured for sale	$ 5.00
Where one hundred gallons and not more than two hundred gallons are manufactured for sale	10.00
Where two hundred gallons and not more than five hundred gallons are manufactured for sale	25.00
Where five hundred gallons and not more than one thousand gallons are manufactured for sale	50.00
Where one thousand gallons and not more than two thousand five hundred gallons are manufactured for sale	200.00
Where two thousand five hundred gallons or more are manufactured for sale	250.00

Nothing in this article shall be construed to impose any tax upon any resident citizen of this state who makes native wines for the use of himself, his family and guests from fruits, grapes and berries cultivated or grown wild upon his own land. (1939, c. 158, s. 504.)

§ 18-68. Bottler's license.—Any person who shall engage in the business of receiving shipments of the beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a) in barrels or other containers, and bottling the same for sale to others for resale, shall pay an annual license tax of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00); and any person who shall engage in the business of bottling the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b), shall pay an annual license tax of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00): Provided, however, that any person engaged in the business of bottling the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (a) and also the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b), or either, shall pay an annual license tax of four hundred dollars ($400.00). No other license tax shall be levied upon the businesses taxed in this section, but licensees under this section shall be liable for the payment of the taxes imposed by § 18-81 in the manner therein set forth. (1939, c. 158, s. 505; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-69. Wholesaler's license.—License to sell at wholesale, which shall authorize licensees to sell beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (a) in barrels, bottles, or other containers, in quantities of not less than one case or container to a customer, shall be issued as a state-wide license by the commissioner of revenue. The annual license under this section shall be one hundred and fifty dollars ($150.00) and shall expire on the next succeeding thirtieth day of April. The license issued under this section shall be revocable at any time by the commissioner of revenue for failure to comply with any of the conditions of this article with respect to the character of records required to be kept, reports to be made or payment of other taxes hereinafter set out.

Licensees to sell at wholesale the beverages described in section 18-64, subsection (b) shall pay an annual license tax of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00): Provided, that a licensee to sell at wholesale the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (a) and the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b) shall pay an annual license tax of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00).

If any wholesaler maintains more than one place of business or storage warehouse from which orders are received or beverages are distributed a separate license shall be paid for each separate place of business or warehouse.

The owner or operator of every distributing warehouse selling, distributing or supplying to retail stores beverages enumerated in § 18-64 shall be deemed a wholesale distributor within the meaning of this article and shall be liable for the tax imposed in this section and shall comply with the conditions imposed in this article upon wholesale distributors of beverages with respect to payment of taxes levied in this article and bond for the payment of such taxes.

No county shall levy a tax on any business under the provisions of this section, nor shall any city or town, in which any person, firm, corporation or association taxed hereunder has its principal place of business levy and collect more than one-fourth of the state tax levied under this section; nor shall any tax be levied or collected by any county, city or town on account of delivery of the products, beverages or articles enumerated in § 18-64. (1939, c. 158, s. 506; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-70. Sales on railroad trains.—The sale of beverages enumerated in § 18-64 shall be permitted on railroad trains in this state to be sold only in dining cars, buffet cars, Pullman cars, or club cars, and for consumption on such cars upon payment to the commissioner of revenue of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each railroad system over which such cars are operated in this state for an annual state-wide license expiring on the next succeeding thirtieth day of April. No other license shall be levied upon licensees under this section, but every licensee under this section shall make a report to the commissioner of revenue on or before the tenth day of each calendar month covering sales for the previous month and payment of the tax on such sales at the rate of tax levied in this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 507.)

§ 18-71. Salesman's license.—License for salesmen, which shall authorize the licensee to offer for sale within the state or solicit orders for the sale of within the state beverages enumerated in this article, shall be issued by the commissioner of revenue upon the payment of an annual license tax of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) to the commissioner of revenue, such license to expire on the next succeeding thirtieth day of April. License to salesmen shall be issued only upon the recommendation of the vendor whom they represent, and no other license tax shall be levied under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 508.)

§ 18-72. Character of license.—License issued under authority of § 18-64, subsection (a) shall be of two kinds:

(1) "On premises" license which shall be issued for bona fide restaurants, cafes, cafeterias, hotels, lunch stands, drug stores, filling stations, grocery stores, cold drink stands, tea rooms, or incorporated or chartered clubs. Such license shall authorize the licensee to sell at retail beverages for consumption on the premises designated in the license, and to sell the beverages in original packages for consumption off the premises.

(2) "Off premises" license which shall authorize the licensee to sell at retail beverages for consumption only off the premises designated in the license, and only in the immediate container in which the beverages was received by the licensee.

In a municipality the governing board of such municipality shall determine whether an applicant for license is entitled to a "premises" license under the terms of this article, and outside of municipalities such determination shall be by the board of commissioners of the county. (1939, c. 158, s. 509.)

§ 18-73. Retail license issued for sale of wines.—License issued under authority of section 18-64, subsection (b) shall be of two kinds:

1. "On premises" licenses shall be issued to bona fide hotels, cafeterias, cafes and restaurants and shall authorize the licensees to sell at retail for consumption on the premises designated in the license; provided no such license shall be issued except to hotels, cafeterias, cafes and restaurants where prepared food is customarily sold and to such only as are licensed under the provisions of § 105-62 and which, at the time of the application for such license, have been given a grade A or B rating by the state department of health.

2. "Off premises" license shall authorize the licensee to sell said beverages at retail for consumption off the premises designated in the license, and all such sales shall be made in the immediate container in which the beverage was purchased by the licensee, and every such container shall have the tax stamp displayed thereon, as provided in § 18-81. (1939, c. 158, s. 509½; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-74. Amount of retail license tax.—The license tax to sell at retail under § 18-64, subsection (a) for municipalities shall be:

(1) For "on premises" license, fifteen dollars ($15.00).

(2) For "off premises" license, ten dollars ($10.00).

The license tax to sell at retail under section 18-64, subsection (b), or both, shall be:

(1) For "on premises" license, fifteen dollars ($15.00).

(2) For "off premises" license, ten dollars ($10.00).

The rate of license tax levied in this section shall be for the first license issued to one person and for each additional license issued to one person an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) of the base tax, such increase to apply progressively for each additional license issued to one person. (1939, c. 158, s. 510.)

§ 18-75. Who may sell at retail.—Every person making application for license to sell at retail beverages enumerated in § 18-64, if the place where such sale is to be made is within a municipality, shall make application first to the governing board of such municipality, and the application shall contain:

(1) Name and residence of the applicant and the length of his residence within the state of North Carolina.

(2) The particular place for which the license is desired, designating the same by a street and number, if practicable; if not, by such other apt description as definitely locates it.

(3) The name of the owner of the premises upon which the business licensed is to be carried on.

(4) That the applicant intends to carry on the business authorized by the license for himself or under his immediate supervision and direction.

(5) A statement that the applicant is a citizen and resident of North Carolina and not less than twenty-one years of age; that he has never been convicted of a felony or other crime involving moral turpitude; and that he has not, within the last two years prior to the filing of the application, been adjudged guilty of violating the prohibition laws, either state or federal. The application must be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner made before a notary public or other person duly authorized by law to administer oaths. If it appears from the statement of the applicant or otherwise that he has at any time been convicted of a felony or other crime involving moral turpitude, or that he has, within the two years prior to the filing of the application, been adjudged guilty of violating the prohibition laws, either state or federal, or that he has within two years prior to the filing of the application completed a sentence for violation of the prohibition laws, such license shall not be granted. If it appears that any false statement is knowingly made in any part of the application and license is received thereon, the license shall be revoked and the applicant subjected to the penalty provided by law for misdemeanors. Before issuing a license, the governing body of the municipality shall be satisfied that the statements required by subsections (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) of this section are true.

Neither the state nor any county or city shall issue a license under this article to any person, or firm, or corporation who has not been a bona fide resident of North Carolina for one year. No resident of the state shall obtain a license under this article and employ or receive aid from a nonresident for the purpose of defeating this requirement. Any person violating this paragraph shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned not more than thirty days or fined not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 511.)

§ 18-76. County license to sell at retail.—License to sell at retail shall be issued by the board of commissioners of the county, and application for such license shall be made in the same manner and contain the same information set out in § 18-75 with respect to municipal license. If the application is for license to sell within a municipality, the application must also show that license has been granted the applicant by the governing board of such municipality. The granting of a license by the governing board of a municipality shall determine the right of an applicant to receive a county license upon compliance with the conditions of this article.

If the application is for license to sell outside of a municipality within the county, the application shall also show the distance to the nearest church or public or private school from the place at which the applicant purposes to sell at retail. No license shall be granted to sell within three hundred feet of any public or private school buildings or church building outside of incorporated cities and towns: Provided, the restriction set forth in this sentence shall not apply to unincorporated towns and villages having police protection.

The clerk of the board of commissioners of each county shall make prompt report to the commissioner of revenue of each license granted by the board of commissioners of such county. The county license fee shall be fixed at twenty-five dollars ($25.00), for the sale of beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (a), and twenty-five dollars ($25.00), for the sale of beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b) and the same shall be placed in the county treasury, for the use of the county. (1939, c. 158, s. 512; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

Local Modification.—Anson: 1941, c. 331; Currituck (Poplar Branch Township): 1937, c. 390.

§ 18-77. Issuance of license mandatory; sales during religious services.—It shall be mandatory that the governing body of a municipality or county issue license to any person applying for the same when such person shall have complied with requirements of this article: Provided, no person shall dispense beverages herein authorized to be sold, within fifty feet of a church building in an incorporated city or town, or in a city or town having police protection whether incorporated or not, while religious services are being held in such church, or within three hundred feet of a church building outside the incorporate limits of a city or town while church services are in progress: And provided further that this section shall not apply in any territory where the sale of wine and/or beer prohibited by special legislative act. And provided further, that such governing bodies in the counties of Watauga, Ashe, Jackson, Haywood, Duplin, Alexander, Robeson, McDowell, Yadkin, Wilkes, Sampson, Greene, Montgomery, Transylvania, Randolph, Chatham, Alamance, Clay, Madison, Pender, Avery, Nash, Granville and the Town of Aulander, or any municipality therein shall be authorized in their discretion to decline to issue the "on premises" licenses provided for in subsection one of § 18-73. The governing bodies in the counties of Watauga, Ashe, Jackson, Haywood, Duplin, Alexander, Robeson, McDowell, Yadkin, Wilkes, Sampson, Greene, Montgomery, Transylvania, Randolph, Chatham, Alamance, Clay, Madison, Pender, Avery, Nash, Granville and the town of Aulander or municipalities therein, shall be authorized to prohibit the sale of beer and/or wine between the hours of 12:01 A. M. on Sundays and midnight Sunday night. (1939, c. 158, s. 513; 1939, c. 405.)

§ 18-78. Revocation of license.—If any licensee violates any of the provisions of this article or any rules and regulations under authority of this article or fails to superintend in person or through a manager, the business for which the license was issued, or allows the premises with respect to which the license was issued to be used for any unlawful, disorderly, or immoral purposes, or knowingly employs in the sale or distribution of beverages any person who has been convicted of a felony involving moral turpitude or adjudged guilty of violating the prohibition laws within two years or otherwise fails to carry out in good faith the purposes of this article, the license of any such person may be revoked by the governing board of the municipality or by the board of county commissioners after the licensee has been given an opportunity to be heard in his defense. Whenever any person, being duly licensed under this article, shall be convicted of the violation of any of the prohibition laws on the premises herein licensed, it shall be the duty of the court to revoke said license. Whenever any license which has been issued by any municipality, any board of county commissioners, or by the commissioner of revenue has been revoked, it shall be unlawful to reissue said license for said premises to any person for a term of six months after the revocation of said license. (1939, c. 158, s. 514.)

§ 18-79. State license.—Every person who intends to engage in the business of retail sale of the beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a) shall also apply for and procure a state license from the commissioner of revenue.

For the first license issued to each licensee five dollars ($5.00), and for each additional license issued to one person an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) of the five dollars base tax shall be charged. That is to say, that for the second license issued the tax shall be five dollars and fifty cents ($5.50) annually, for third license six dollars ($6.00) annually, and an additional fifty cents (50c.) per annum for each additional license issued to such person. (1939, c. 158, s. 515.)

§ 18-80. State license to sell wine at retail.—Every person who intends to engage in the business of selling wines as defined in § 18-64, subsection (b) shall procure a state license for such business which license shall in all cases be issued under the same restrictions, rules and regulations as set out in this article for the issuance of license for the sale of beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (a) and for which license the following schedule of taxes is hereby levied:

(1) For "on premises" license twenty-five dollars $25.00
(2) For "off premises" license five dollars 5.00

Such retail license shall authorize the sale of the beverages described in this section only on the premises described in the license, and if the same person operates more than one place at which said beverages are sold at retail, he shall obtain a license for each such place and pay therefor the license tax provided in this section.

If the license issued to any person by any municipality or county to sell the beverages referred to in this article shall be revoked by the proper officers of such municipality or county, or by any court, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to revoke the state license of such licensee; and in such event, the licensee shall not be entitled to a refund of any part of the license tax paid.

It shall be unlawful for any wholesale licensee to make any sale or delivery of the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b) to any person except persons who have been licensed to sell such beverages at retail, as prescribed in this article.

It shall be unlawful for any retail licensee to purchase any of the beverages described in § 18-64, subsection (b) from any person except wholesale licensees maintaining a place of business within this state and duly licensed under the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 516; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-81. Additional tax.—(a) In addition to the license taxes herein levied, a tax is hereby levied upon the sale of beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a) of three dollars and seventy-five cents ($3.75) per barrel of thirty-one gallons, or the equivalent of such tax in containers of more or less than thirty-one gallons, and in bottles or other containers of not more than twelve ounces, a tax of one and one-quarter cents per bottle or container: Provided fruit cider of alcoholic content not exceeding that provided in this article may be sold in bottles or other containers of not more than six ounces at a tax of five-eighths of a cent per bottle or container.

(b) The payment of the tax imposed by the preceding subsection shall be evidenced as to containers of not more than six ounces by the affixing of crowns or lids to such containers in which beverages are placed, received, stored, shipped, or handled, and upon which the tax has been paid at the rate of five-eighths of a cent per bottle or container. And the payment of the tax imposed by the preceding subsection shall be evidenced as to containers of more than six ounces and not more than twelve ounces by the affixing of crowns or lids to such containers in which beverages are placed, received, stored, shipped, or handled, and upon which a tax has been paid of one and one-quarter cents per bottle or container.

(c) Except as may be otherwise provided herein, each manufacturer or bottler manufacturing, selling or delivering beverages in this state shall, within twenty-four hours after the beverages are placed in original containers or bottles, and prior to delivery of any container of beverages to any wholesaler, distributor, retailer, jobber, or any other person whatsoever in this state, affix the proper crown or lid to each container.

(d) Except as may be otherwise provided herein, and unless such crowns or lids have been previously affixed, such crowns or lids shall be affixed as herein provided by each distributor or wholesaler in this state within twenty-four hours after such beverages come into the possession of such wholesaler and prior to the delivery of any container thereof to any retailer or other person in this state.

(e) The commissioner of revenue shall prescribe, prepare, furnish and sell the crowns or lids provided for in this section under rules and regulations prescribed by him, and all such crowns and lids shall carry the following words: "N. C. Tax Paid," and shall be so designed as to enable the manufacturer or bottler to place his brand or trade mark thereon, and they shall be purchased by the manufacturer or bottler or other person after the payment of the tax imposed by this article, only from such persons, firms or corporations as may be designated as manufacturers of such crowns and lids by the commissioner of revenue. The commissioner of revenue is authorized to enter into contracts on behalf of the state with one or more manufacturers for the manufacture, sale and distribution of such crowns or lids and shall require of such persons, firms and corporations so manufacturing, selling and distributing such crowns or lids a bond or bonds with a company authorized to do business in this state as surety payable to the state of North Carolina in such penalty and upon such conditions as in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue will adequately protect the state. The crowns and lids shall be manufactured, sold and distributed at the cost of the taxpayer. No manufacturer or bottler will be allowed to purchase the crowns or lids prescribed by this section unless such bottler or manufacturer has a valid permit from the federal government and the state of North Carolina, or the state in which such manufacturer or bottler is located, to manufacture, bottle, or sell the beverages herein described. The crowns and lids shall be sold by the commissioner of revenue at a discount of two per cent (2%) as sole compensation for North Carolina tax-paid crown and lid losses sustained in the process of production of malt beverages. No compensation or refund shall be made for tax-paid malt beverages given as free goods, or advertising, and losses, sustained by spoilage and breakage incident to the sale and distribution of malt beverages.

(f) At the time of delivering beverages to any person, firm or corporation in this state, each manufacturer or bottler shall make a true duplicate invoice showing the date of delivery, the amount and value of each shipment of beverages delivered, and the name of the purchaser to whom the delivery is made, and shall retain the same for a period of two years, subject to the use and inspection of the commissioner of revenue or his agents.

(g) Persons operating boats, dining cars, buffet cars or club cars upon or in which beverages are sold shall not be required to evidence the payment of the tax herein provided for by affixing crowns or lids as herein provided, but instead shall keep such records of the sales of such beverages in this state as the commissioner of revenue shall prescribe and shall submit monthly reports of such sales to the commissioner of revenue upon a form prescribed therefor by the commissioner of revenue, and shall pay the tax levied under this article at the time such reports are filed.

(h) It is the intent and purpose of this section to require all manufacturers and bottlers and other persons, except as herein provided, to affix the crowns or lids provided for herein to all original containers in which beverages are normally placed, prepared for market, received, sold or handled, before such beverages are sold, offered for sale, or held for sale within this state.

(i) Any person, firm or corporation, except as herein provided, who shall sell the beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a) to wholesalers, retailers, or consumers which do not have affixed thereto the crowns or lids required by this section, or who shall purchase, receive, transport, store, or possess any beverage in containers to which the crowns or lids required herein are not affixed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, and, in addition thereto, such person shall be liable for double the amount of the tax due under this article and the commissioner of revenue shall have authority to assess said tax and penalty and cause the same to be collected in the same manner provided for the collection of other taxes levied in this article.

(j) Manufacturers, bottlers, or vendors of beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a), from without this state, shall affix the crowns or lids to original containers of such beverages to be sold, offered for sale, held for sale, delivered or transported for delivery in this state.
